REPUBLIC OF KENYA

THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

Second Parliament—Second Session—First Day

(Second Parliament established by Proclamation)

(Legal Notice No. 7 of 23rd January 1970)

STATE OPENING OF NEW SESSION

Tuesday, 23rd February 1971

STATE OPENING OF NEW SESSION

The National Assembly met at fifty minutes past Two o'clock at Parliament Buildings on Tuesday, 23rd February 1971, it being the first day of the new (Second) Session.

ARRIVAL OF HIS EXCELLENCY THE PRESIDENT

(His Excellency the President (Mr. Kenyatta) escorted by the Speaker and accompanied by the Mace of the National Assembly entered the Chamber at fifty-five minutes past Two o'clock.

[His Excellency the President (Mr. Kenyatta) took the Chair]

(The Mace of the National Assembly was placed on the Table)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Your Excellency, may I now call upon the Spiritual leaders to bless our proceedings.

PRAYERS

(Prayers were then said by the following: Bishop John Njenga; Sheikh Abdallah Saleh Al-Farsy; Senior Chief Lepyapui Yakaine; Rt. Rev. C. Kiongo)

COMMUNICATION FROM THE CHAIR

WELCOME TO THE PRESIDENT

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Your Excellency, today as we witness the inauguration of the Second Session of the Second independent Parliament of this Sovereign Republic of Kenya, we are keenly conscious of Your Excellency's wise words of advice which on similar occasions in the past you have graciously given for the benefit of the Members of this House. I am confident, therefore, that I speak on behalf of every hon. Member here when I say that during the past year we have tried our best to heed and put into practice that advice.

While on its part the Chair has at all times required strict compliance with the rules of this House, I am glad to say that the hon. Members, on their part, have always endeavoured to exercise their constitutional obligations through constructive criticism, avoiding, as far as possible, mere parochial attitudes even though on some very rare occasions their criticism might have sounded unusually robust. But even then, Sir, their vigour has invariably been matched by their keen concern for the preservation of democracy and parliamentary dignity and their commitment to the welfare of our country.

Membership of this House, Your Excellency, is the free expression of the citizens' assertion of their right to determine who shall guide their affairs, without which expression no people could claim to be truly free. At the same time, we are fully aware that without disciplined political co-operation on the part of everyone there can be no real achievement of those social and economic goals for which we all strive. In such a situation the National Assembly could easily cease to be a fortress of national unity and turn into a political Tower of Babel, the result of which would be the destruction of all the progress which, under your fatherly guidance, our country has made and continues to make. Throughout the Republic, your leadership and inspiration have released potential energies for that progress and created a sense of hope which this House fully shares.

[The Speaker]

Your Excellency, as we now re-dedicate ourselves to our task, we once again pledge our continuing loyalty to you and to the nation, being fully aware of the supreme trust that has been bestowed upon us.

It is therefore my very great privilege and honour, on behalf of all hon. Members of this House, to welcome Your Excellency and humbly request you to address them.

PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

His Excellency the President (Mr. Kenyatta): Mr. Speaker, hon. Members of the National Assembly, during the early phases of Kenya's independence, it was customary for me to use this occasion for giving an outline of national policies and progress. Over the years, however, this Parliament has become more business-like and more professional. In future, I shall restrict any general reviews of public affairs to the important ceremonies which we hold each year on Madaraka Day and on Jamhuri Day.

I wish to emphasize now, both as Head of State and as a Member of this House, that we have entered a new phase of nation-building. During the first seven years of our life as an independent State, all vital foundations were firmly laid. Now we have to keep pace with the structures and opportunities which have emerged as symbols of national advancement, and with all the attendant services and duties which increasingly amount to social justice for our people.

There was a time when the sparkle of politics and the inspiration of progress were needed to set a new National Assembly into steady motion. The situation now has changed. The time has passed when Honourable Members could feel that they were here for reasons of personal enjoyment, or to promote tribal or sectional interests, or to harass the Government. Those who are privileged to sit in this House, by the authority of the people, have had time to learn their trade. And that trade, Mr. Speaker, is hard and dedicated work.

I expect this Parliament to bring a mature and national outlook to bear on its duties, as applied to the passage of legislation and the control of public finances. Many proper opportunities exist, during any session, for debates of a far-reaching kind on all aspects of public affairs. This National Assembly, however, like the Public Service, is an instrument of the State. I have said, again and again, that the Republic is the people. It is your responsibility to serve the people by doing the job for which you are paid.

This is going to mean unremitting work, on detailed provisions and laws which must affect human well-being in all parts of our Republic.

I shall now outline to the House the principal features or elements of legislation which my Government will bring forward. By this I imply that the atmosphere and motive of this Parliament must become increasingly like that of any other business meeting.

There is no deliberate allotment of priority in the arrangement of the measures I shall mention, since all needs and responsibilities are links in the same chain of human progress.

It will be obvious to the House that some of the intentions outlined will require fresh legislation, while others will be pursued through amendments to existing law.

We shall endeavour to ease the process of consolidation and registration of land so as to ensure that this work keeps pace with targets set in the Development Plan. In addition, there will be a general debate on Sessional Paper No. 6 of 1970, which outlined the policy of my Government on this whole matter.

My Government intends to simplify the process by which our own people can play a fuller part within the Mining Industry. We must and shall offer greater encouragement for overseas investors to embark on prospecting and developing mineral resources, all of which is generally a high capital enterprise undertaken at some commercial risk.

All services of wildlife conservation and management in the Republic are to be streamlined by merging the Game Department and the Kenya National Parks into one new Government Department. We shall move to control the pollution in rivers and lakes, not only in the immediate interests of public health but also as a means of preserving the environment for posterity.

The collection of shells and corals at the Coast is to be strictly controlled in order to conserve the resources and natural beauty of Kenya's beaches.

The many regional or local laws affecting the regulation of hotels are to be repealed, and replaced by a single law applicable throughout Kenya. At the same time new minimum hygienic standards in food servicing and processing will be enforced.

From the land and natural resources, let me now turn to other fields of development.

Fresh provisions will be introduced for the better planning of our rapidly growing industrial sector. These will deal with the allocation of resources in relation to markets, and will embody steps to avoid uneconomic competition between manufacturers. A new Workers' Investment Trust will be established to give the workers some greater participation in national industrial development.

Measures coming forward will provide that, in due time, a national wages policy may be implemented through the Industrial Court. To this end, it will also be required that the Industrial Court must be consulted before any Regulation of Wages Order is made.

As an impulse to industrial progress, approval will be sought for guarantees in support of a World Bank loan to carry out the Kamburu Project, as the next major phase of hydro-electric development on the Tana River. This project will not only permit a large expansion of normal supplies, but will also provide power for implementing the rural electricity scheme.

In pursuit of urgent purposes outlined in the Development Plan, my Government will seek an increase in the limits of borrowing through the Central Bank, and will also require greater borrowing powers in respect of short-term loans.

While on the subject of finance, exchange control laws will be strengthened, by means of an exercise designed, for the benefit of the public, to simplify the wording of some main provisions. It is also intended to introduce greater control over the stock exchange and the licensing of stock-brokers. The House must then deal with provisions for implementing the agreement between the European Economic Community and the East African Community.

My Government has already announced the intended elevation of Nyeri, Embu, Kakamega and Meru to the status of Municipal Councils. This, in due time, will require by-elections to provide for extra representatives. Powers lying between those enjoyed by a county council and a municipal council will then be allotted to the township authorities of Kericho, Nanyuki, Thomson's Falls, Machakos, Kisii, Malindi and Murang'a.

Parliament will be advised of steps taken to abolish country-wide area councils, and to replace these bodies with new local councils following the necessary elections.

Laws affecting education will be brought up to date, and will provide for the formal establishment of District Education Boards. My Government's views will be made clear on a past provision requiring the Minister to accept without amendment, any recommendations of the Teachers Service Remuneration Committee.

Kenyatta College must be formally established as a constituent college of the University of Nairobi, and measures affecting higher education loans will be debated also.

Many more detailed but still important items of business will be placed before the National Assembly.

Mr. Speaker, this whole programme of work points to my earlier description of the National Assembly as being business-like and professional. The purpose of this House is not to offer excitement, or to glory in newspaper headlines, or to find an outlet for arrogance and intrigue. All Honourable Members here are servants of the people, with high responsibilities to the nation. I expect them to justify the trust that has been placed in their dedication and maturity. These are the attributes which, through democratic process, will be judged by the people in due time.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, let me say this. We have proved to ourselves, and to the world, all that a young country can achieve on the foundations of stability, unity and hard work. Kenya has won an honoured place within the whole community of nations. All development now must proceed more rapidly to satisfy so many human needs and aspirations. The role of this Parliament is critical. The House is not only an instrument of the State, but must serve as a bridge between Government and people. I call upon you all to set the example of greater effort, and to be guided by the living spirit of our motto:

H A R A M B E E !

PRAYERSNOTICES OF MOTIONS*REVIVAL OF MEMBERSHIP OF STANDING AND SELECT COMMITTEES

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

THAT, this House directs that the membership of all the Standing and Select Committees of the House existing before the prorogation of the National Assembly remains unaltered and that these Committees continue to serve the House until otherwise ordered.

THANKS FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker Sir, I beg to move:—

THAT, the thanks of the House be recorded for the exposition of public policy contained in His Excellency's Presidential address from the Chair on 23rd February 1971.

UTILIZATION OF LOANS FOR LIVESTOCK DEVELOPMENT

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

THAT, noting that Kenya Government—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order, Mr. Seroney! Would you resume your seat?

I do not know whether you can do that unless your Motion has been balloted for.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I gave notice of this Motion within seven days of the Paper being laid. I believe I was advised by those who had been doing this type of thing that this does not go for balloting before the Sessional Committee.

This is not a Private Member's Motion. This, actually, is reviving a Motion given notice of last Session.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Last session— Is that so?

Mr. Seroney: Yes.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): All right.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move:—

THAT, noting that Kenya Government had during September 1968 signed two Agreements with the Swedish Government and the International Development Association to borrow the total of K£2,785,714 for the financing of the Livestock Development Project as indicated in the Reports No. 17 and 17A, laid on the Table of this House on Tuesday the 15th December 1970, this House requests the Government to give a detailed breakdown of how and where these loans will be utilized.

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS*Question No. 27 (1244)MAN SHOT AT LUKHOLIS: SOUTH TESO

Mr. Ebu asked the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs if he could tell the House whether—

(a) he was aware that in March last year a man was shot in the chest with a gun at Lukholis in South Teso Location of Busia District;

(b) what action, if any, the police had taken to apprehend the culprit and bring him before a court of law.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I am aware of the incident referred to by the Hon. Member, the circumstances of which are as follows:—

On the night of 21st March 1970, when Mr. Murunga Omita was outside his house, he was shot at by an unknown person. He was first treated at Bungoma and then moved to Kakamega Hospital where he was operated on and a bullet removed from his shoulder. He has since recovered.

Police investigations have been carried out and a man has been arrested and convicted to four years' imprisonment for assault and causing grievous bodily harm.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, could we know whether it is true that the gun from which the bullet was fired was made locally; and if so, where it originated from?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, a bullet was removed from the man's chest. The details of the gun and so forth— We know that the individual who was arrested was found guilty of causing actual bodily harm and has now been imprisoned.

An hon. Member: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, let us have more questions rather than points of order.

Mr. Tsuma: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, could we be told the name of the person who shot that man, who is now imprisoned?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the person who was arrested was Mr. Omute.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply to the supplementary question which was asked by one of the hon. Members, who said he understood that the bullet and the gun were made locally, could we know from which factory they were made since the Assistant Minister has not told us?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to inform the hon. Member that the question of a home-made gun or imported gun is not one that we are dealing with. The question was not that the gun was home-made—I do not know anything about home-made guns.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I have already pointed out that I do not want us to waste time on points of order.

Mr. Karungaru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from one of the replies given by the Assistant Minister, does he want to tell this House that guns which are in this country are not known. If they are not known, are we really then, on the point of security, secure?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member himself, looks very secure and everybody else is secure. Had it not been that from our investigation of the bullet we were able to trace the person who did the shooting we would not have succeeded. We would not have been able to do anything without knowing where the bullet came from.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, where he said that the criminal was imprisoned for four years, is it not true that this man was taken to the court, tried and then imprisoned for four years? Before that trial, did the court not ask to be shown the gun, and perhaps the bullet, which this man used?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, when one is sent to the court, it is up to those in court to ask for the gun or not to ask for it.

Personally, I may as well say I felt that the sentence was not severe enough, but the judge felt that four years was enough.

Before any judgment is reached, every stone is turned over for any helpful evidence; no stone is left unturned.

Mr. Jilo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is a very serious matter and since an unregistered gun has been used to kill an innocent person in Kenya can the Assistant Minister tell this House very, very clearly where this gun was manufactured, who manufactured it and where it is now?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, if the hon. Member speaks so authoritatively on the issue of this gun being unregistered, I will be most pleased to know how he has come to know that the gun was unregistered.

Mr. ole Leken: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, I am seeking your guidance here. In view of the fact that guns are being used to raid our banks and to rob property in this country, I think the issue concerned here is very important. I also think the House would like to know the source and the calibre of the gun; these details have not been disclosed so far.

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, I have already told the House that it is from the bullet which was removed from this individual that we carried out exercise of investigation to know who shot the particular individual. This is how we managed to get the gun. So, when the Members talk of this gun being unregistered, this, that and the other, they are only talking without the knowledge of how the guns are handled and of how we manage to trace criminals.

*Question No. 32 (1249)PROMOTION OF CHIEFS

Mr. Mbori asked the Minister of State, President's Office if he would tell the House—

(a) how many chiefs, throughout the Republic, had been promoted to District Officer, District Commissioner, Provincial Commissioner and Permanent Secretary status;

(b) how many chiefs came from South Nyanza; and

(c) when the last promotion in the fore-named groups was done.

The Assistant Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Munyi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) Promotion of chiefs has been going on since there are chiefs in practically all parts of Kenya.

(b) The place where one comes from or where one was born is not a criterion in judging promotion of officers in Government. There is, therefore, no record which is kept to indicate this. It is, therefore, not possible to say how many such chiefs were from South Nyanza.

(c) Promotion of chiefs in any part of Kenya goes on all the time. It depends on one having the required qualifications and the existence of vacant posts. Chiefs are considered for promotion like any other citizen.

Mr. Mbori: Mr. Speaker, Sir, my question is very specific. Would the Assistant Minister answer the question as it stands, which asks how many chiefs have been promoted to the status of district officer, district commissioner, provincial commissioner and also those who have been lucky enough to be in Permanent Secretary status? Can he tell us?

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it would be a very expensive task to go through the records of Permanent Secretaries. However, to be more specific, I have a list of names of officers who were once chiefs and who have since gone up the scale. This is not to say that the list is complete. Examples are:

Mr. W. Opiyo is now a District Officer; Mr. Okech, was once a chief but is now a District Commissioner; Mr. Nakisa was once a chief and is now a District Officer. I also have Mr. Akibaya who is the Deputy Provincial Commissioner in Nyanza Province and who had been acting as a Provincial Commissioner a few weeks ago; Mr. C. K. Koinange, the Provincial Commissioner for Central Province; Mr. Makonde, now a District Commissioner; Mr. Mwenesi was an under-Secretary but has already retired—and the hon. Member knows him very well. Mr. Speaker, we have Mr. Babu who is now the District Commissioner for Wajir and who was once a chief, and finally we have Mr. Makanga who is a District Officer. Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that the district officers are the people who are particularly dealing with the public and, therefore, we need people who have experience in administration to hold such posts, will the Assistant Minister tell us whether the Ministry is going to undertake to lay more emphasis on the promotion of chiefs to district officers rather than having the students from the universities who do not know how to deal with the public and who, in most cases, put themselves above the people?

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the points which have been raised by the hon. Member are quite good and they have been fully noted.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, arising from that fairly satisfactory answer given by the Assistant Minister, would he tell this House what are the qualities required for a chief to be promoted to a district officer or a district commissioner?

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the qualities required are merit and ability to do an excellent job.

Mr. Abubakar-Madhbuti: Does the Assistant Minister agree with me that he has forgotten to mention the name of Chief Kitonga who has been promoted to a Member of this House?

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is very good. We have hon. Chief Kitonga here. He was once a chief but is now a Member of Parliament.

Mr. Kitonga: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

An hon. Member: Speak up.

Mr. Kitonga: Could the Assistant Minister tell the House, without joking, how many chiefs especially from last year, have been promoted to district assistants because this was not done by the Government at all? I am ex-chief Kitonga—I am an elected, not an appointed Member.

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have already given the names of the officers concerned, but I would like to add that in this hon. House we have hon. Khaoya, the Assistant Minister in the Ministry of Agriculture, Mr. Choge, and others who were formerly chiefs.

Question No. 10 (1186)

MARSABIT RANGE SCHEME

Mr. Kholkholle asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House—

(a) why the Range Scheme had not yet started in Marsabit District; and

(b) when it would start.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Range Scheme in Marsabit District has not yet been started because:—

(a) The Range Management Divisions of Land Use Survey and the Planning Section is presently working in Marsabit District. When its work is completed, its report will be examined by the Ministry for its applicability.

(b) As soon as the study of the report and its implications have been completed by Government the scheme referred to will be started.

Mr. Kholkholle: Mr. Speaker, I think it is a very long time since this 1 million acres of land for Range Scheme was allocated within Marsabit District. I think it was allocated in 1968. I would like the Minister to tell the House how long it will take for this scheme to start? How long? Will he tell the House how long?

An hon. Member: A particular date.

Mr. Wanjigi: I wish, Mr. Speaker, I could place a time on that. But, as the hon. Member has just mentioned, this involves not less than a million acres worth of land and the exercise involved is a very long one indeed. I think that the fact that the team is actually already working in Marsabit should be good proof that we do mean business.

Mr. Umuro: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister tell the House what the work of Range Management Officer is, and why what has been reported to the Ministry cannot be implemented? The report of this Range Management Officer was finished in 1969 but the work has not started. He said that he had reported to the Ministry, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Wanjigi: The work of any Range Management Officer in Marsabit or any other place, Mr. Speaker, is to advise Government; but it does not mean that everything he advises is accepted.

Question No. 22 (1229)

REDUCTION OF OVERHEADS BY KENYA
CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERIES

Mr. Mulwa asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House—

- (a) what steps the Kenya Co-operative Creameries was taking to reduce the overheads incurred in conditioning milk with a view to making it cheaper to the consumer;
- (b) how much it costs the Kenya Co-operative Creameries per month in terms of foreign currency for the hire of machines from Sweden to process milk;
- (c) whether it was possible for the Kenya Co-operative Creameries to use cheaper material than the tetrapak they are using now for packing milk with a view to reducing costs.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Kenya Co-operative Creameries tries to keep all its running costs to the minimum bearing in mind the price of milk to the consumer, and also the producer who is the dairy farmer who supplies the Kenya Co-operative Creameries with milk. I am afraid, therefore, that the Kenya Co-operative Creameries, at the moment, is not willing to do anything likely to hit the farmer whose interests the Kenya Co-operative Creameries rates as high as those of the consumer.

(b) The answer to the second part of the question does not, therefore, arise because the Kenya Co-operative Creameries uses processing machines owned by a local company known as Tetrapak Kenya Limited.

(c) Mr. Speaker, Sir, tetrapak, as far as expert opinion goes, is the cheapest material for packing milk, but this matter is all the time kept under review.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister care to tell us the time when the Kenya Co-operative Creameries started using these machines which are owned by a local company here? When?

Mr. Wanjigi: I think it was in 1968, Mr. Speaker, but I will have to check that.

Mrs. Onyango: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister aware that this tetrapak package which is being used is making the consumers lose the proper measure of milk because of leakage?

Mr. Wanjigi: No, I think the hon. Grace Onyango knows very well that we do take cognisance of the fact that some packages do leak but this is taken quite seriously by the Kenya Co-operative Creameries.

Mr. Owala-Orwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Assistant Minister assure us that a lot of the material used for the manufacturing of tetrapak are not imported, because for the time being it is believed it is imported and therefore it amounts to robbing Kenya material which was used for making bottles and as such we are not creating jobs for our own people by not using our own materials?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the paper industry as at present has to import most, if not all, of its paper requirements; but, obviously, as soon as we get factories like the proposed Broderick Falls Paper Factory working the situation will change drastically.

Question No. 1 (1127)

ISSUE OF IDENTITY CARDS IN BARINGO NORTH

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Labour if he would tell the House—

- (a) whether he was aware that there were so many people in Baringo North constituency and other parts of this Republic who were not registered as job-seekers as a result of having no identity cards (vipande);
- (b) what the Minister was doing about such people who want to be registered as job-seekers along with others so that they could be considered when interviews take place;
- (c) whether the Minister could agree to send a labour officer to Kabarnet to issue identity cards as soon as possible.

The Assistant Minister for Labour (Mr. Kibisu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) No. Possession of an identity card was not regarded as an essential requirement for the purpose of registration of job-seekers. Whether one had an identity card or not, and providing they presented themselves for registration, a card was issued to them.

[The Assistant Minister for Labour]

(b) They should go to their nearest Labour Office and they will be registered in the normal manner.

(c) This is already being done by the Molo Labour Officer.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that reply given by the Assistant Minister, that these people should present themselves and they will be registered without identity cards, is he assuring the House that even if they go today they will be registered?

Mr. Kibisu: Yes, Sir.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the reply of the Assistant Minister, supposing at the moment a job-seeker went to a firm and was not in possession of an identity card and there is a vacancy for that particular job-seeker, can he be employed without one?

Mr. Kibisu: Providing the job-seeker measures up to the required standards, the answer is yes.

Mr. Nyaga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the first reply, in part (a) the Assistant Minister has just said that lack of an identity card could not prevent one from being registered. As I know, it happened in many places where those school-leavers who did not have identity cards were not given an opportunity to register themselves. What is the Minister going to do about them because I know they are there, they are everywhere in the country and many are not registered?

Mr. Kibisu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, registration in this respect is in two ways: one, is to be normally registered and be given or be issued with an identity card. The other one is the registration exercise for the purpose of the Tripartite Agreement which has now expired. The hon. Member should be assured that those who have left school subsequent to the registration of work-seekers and those who have come to the labour market need not be in possession of a job-seeker's card in order to be considered for employment. They can, and will be considered for employment without the job-seeker's card.

Mr. Jilo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister aware that there have been cases—in most of these places where job-seekers were registered—of people who have registered as job-seekers and when they lose their cards and go back the following day they find that their names are not even in the register and there is no record? It has been impossible for these people to get jobs because whenever they are called they are told that they have not been registered as job-seekers. Is the Assistant Minister aware of this?

Mr. Kibisu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the records exist because the card which was used for this purpose had a counterfoil, which remains in our archives, so, even if a job-seeker lost his card, that did not prevent him from being employed.

AMENDMENT OF LABOUR LAWS

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Minister for Labour if he would tell the House whether, in view of the frequent unjustifiable dismissals of employees by employers which is possible owing to the existing labour laws, the Minister would agree to seek an alteration of these laws so as to permit dismissals and resignations only with the approval of a Labour Officer.

The Assistant Minister for Labour (Mr. Kibisu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Yes, my Ministry accepts that the Employment Act is due for amendment and it is therefore intended, soon, to take the necessary action accordingly. Among other matters concerning employment to be carefully examined will be the question of dismissal without good and reasonable grounds. However, I would like to point out that there are bad employees as well as bad employers and the restraint on the part of the latter is aggravated by the abundant supply of labour as a result of our current unemployment situation.

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister tell us at what stage this legislation is, whether it is just about to be brought to Parliament or it is still being considered in the Ministry?

Mr. Kibisu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the process by which we bring about these amendments is well advanced, and with the advice of those responsible for drafting laws, a draft legislation will be brought to this House during this Session.

Mr. Ogalo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister assure the House that the Bill will be back-dated so that it can be made effective as from 1970 in order to cover those who are now suffering?

Mr. Kibisu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the draft legislation we have in mind cannot be expressed in quantitative terms and, therefore, it will not be back-dated.

Question No. 26 (1243)

ISSUE OF LAND TITLE-DEEDS IN BUSIA

Mr. Ebu asked the Minister for Lands and Settlement if he would tell the House whether he was aware that land registration in some parts of Busia had been completed in 1968; why had the issuing of land title-deeds not been effected in South Teso and parts of Marachi and Bukhayo.

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. What I am aware of is that in South Teso, land adjudication is still in progress. Hence, no complete adjudication registers have yet been submitted to the Land Registrar for the area. Therefore, it has not yet been possible for land registration to take place and for any person to be issued with a title-deed.

In Marachi, five schemes comprising a total of 6,480 titles have so far been registered and 384 land certificates have so far been issued upon payment of the requisite fee.

As regards Bukhayo, two schemes comprising a total of 1,370 titles have been registered and a total of 45 land certificates have also been issued.

The reason why more land certificates have not been issued in Marachi and Bukhayo is that the local people whose names appear on the Land Register have, so far, neither applied to receive them nor expressed willingness to pay the requisite fee of Sh. 5 only and also clear any outstanding adjudication fees which they are liable to pay before certificates can be issued to them.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, as far as we are concerned in that area, I know that South Teso registration of land was completed in 1968. Now, I want to know from the Assistant Minister whether what he is telling us is true or whether what I am telling the House is not true, and if, Sir, the Assistant Minister is right in what he says—that registration has not been completed since 1968—can he tell us what is holding up registration in South Teso?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am only responsible for what I am saying; what the hon. Member is saying, I am not responsible for.

Mr. Cheptai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Assistant Minister's reply has not gone far enough. Could he tell the House, in his answer, when the people of Bukhayo were to have their land registered and given title-deeds; if their land has been registered and they have not been given these land certificates, does the Assistant Minister not see that this will be a robbery on the people, whereas they live in this same area?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, my Ministry is not doing any robbery; what we are actually doing is to assist people to get their title-deeds. However, they have to pay the requisite fee that I have mentioned, and it is only Sh. 5.

Mr. Masibayi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is he aware that Bukhayo Location comprises of nine sub-locations and out of these nine sub-locations only two have been allowed for land registration and the remaining seven have not been allowed? Can he tell us why these seven have not been considered together with the rest of the location?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, what I am aware of is what I have said: that in Bukhayo, two schemes comprising a total of 1,370 titles have been registered, and only 45 titles have been issued.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, arising from one of the answers given by the Assistant Minister—when he says he is not responsible for what I have said in connexion with the registration, does he mean to tell this House that he is not responsible for the failures of his Ministry?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, I am responsible for whatever happens in my Ministry, but whatever the hon. Member does is not my responsibility.

Question No. 36 (1253)

GREATER POWERS FOR LABOUR OFFICERS

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Minister for Labour is he would tell the House—

- (a) why was it that on many occasions when employers dismissed employees without any notice or any payment in place thereof the labour officers to whom these matters were reported were unable to take such action as would ensure that labour laws of this country were respected by the employers; and
- (b) whether he would consider seeking from this hon. House such authority (if necessary) as would enable the labour officers to be able to prosecute such employers who failed to obey their reasonable and lawful orders.

The Assistant Minister for Labour (Mr. Kibisu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Before I reply to this question, Sir, I want to seek your guidance here; also, I want to inform the House that since the question was asked last September there have been developments and, therefore, there is a slight change to the actual reply issued which appears in part (b). I will be informing the House as I reply.

(a) Whenever bona fide cases of wrongful dismissal or non-payment of wages to employees by their employers are reported to the officers of my Ministry appropriate action is taken. In most cases satisfactory settlement is reached without resort to prosecution before a court.

However, there are occasions when complaints are made, by employees, which cannot be supported because of breach of condition of employment on their part; on others you find that it is the employer to blame; it is, therefore, difficult to generalize. If the hon. questioner, the hon. Member for Parklands, has specific cases in mind, he should let us have them for the necessary action to be taken.

(b) This is where the change appears, Mr. Speaker. My Ministry already has the necessary legal powers.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, instead of the hon. Assistant Minister asking the hon. questioner to give specific cases, why does the Ministry not take action by referring this matter to the labour officers, who are already charged with this responsibility, and collect whatever information the labour officers have?

Mr. Kibisu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, my offices do not go round the country hunting for problems. If any employee is affected, if he thinks he is aggrieved as a result of being discharged, it is up to that employee to come forward to my Ministry and report his problems. In most cases—nearly in all cases where justification exists—appropriate action has been taken. The hon. Member for Parklands as well as the hon. Waruru Kanja have a duty to educate the workers to make a habit of going to the Labour Ministry for the settlement of their problems.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in some cases, when an employee has been wrongfully dismissed, he goes before the labour officer and reports the matter. In certain cases, these fellows are chased away by the labour officers, and no attention is given. Even if the employer was asked to appear before the labour officer, the African employee who has been wrongfully dismissed is not allowed to get into the room, so as to hear what goes on between the labour officer and the employer.

What is the Ministry doing in such a particular case?

Mr. Kibisu: Mr. Speaker, that is a very serious allegation, and the hon. Member for Mumias is cordially invited to present me with an actual case in sight.

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, whereas the Assistant Minister is wrong in saying that the labour officers should not go round and conduct investigations whereas the Regulations of Employment Act provide that they can go and make inquiries, I would like to know whether the problem is not that the Ministry is understaffed as far as labour officers are concerned, and as a result the officials there have to be seen in the Ministry and they are not able to go out and investigate.

Mr. Kibisu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are not understaffed in the Ministry of Labour. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say this: hon. Members seem to think that industrial relations is a matter for the labour officer sitting in an office; it is a matter between employer and employee, and the duty lies on either of those parties to draw our attention to the existence of a dispute between them. Additionally, effective unions are organized in this country; and they, too, have a responsibility to draw such matters to our attention.

Mr. ole Marima: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that the Assistant Minister admits that there is no shortage of staff in his Ministry, why do we not have labour officers in every district?

Mr. Kibisu: The fact that we do not have labour officers in every district does not spell shortage of staff in my Ministry. I have said it before, Mr. Speaker, and I would like to reiterate that labour offices are not established until there is enough employment population to be able to justify the services of that officer. The districts which do not have enough working class, industries and things like that, will not expect to have a labour officer of their own, but they will be served by the nearest labour officer geographically situated.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the hon. Assistant Minister has invited us to send to him any specific cases we have regarding this matter, and remembering that in the last Session the same Assistant Minister invited us to send matters in connexion with another question to him to deal with, of which I took the trouble of doing and received a reply in a letter signed by a petty officer from his Ministry, would he tell us whether he is going to give us the same treatment if we take the trouble to give him specific cases, or he is going to take action?

Mr. Kibisu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member for Makueni admits that we have taken action. What he is actually disagreeing with is the type of action we have taken.

Mr. Mulwa: No, you never did anything.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, is the Assistant Minister aware of the fact that throughout the country most of the employers do dismiss their employees without sufficient notice, and even when one queries it nothing is done because, whatever you do, whether you go to see the Minister or the President, they are already in their pockets. These employers, particularly the Asians, say that they have already pocketed the big people in Government and, therefore, the employees are being frustrated throughout the country? Is he aware of that?

Mr. Kibisu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, why has the hon. Member for Kitale West not been able to go into the nearest labour office and report the cases which have come to his attention?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, let me say this as a comment in reply to what the hon. Member has said: the Ministry of Labour, Government or this hon. House cannot force any employer to keep an employee if he is not measuring up to standard. What we can do is to continue to protect the employees within the established conditions of work. If hon. Members have cases of a deliberate breach of these conditions of service my Ministry will be only too delighted to deal with them as we have done for the hon. Member for Makueni.

Mr. Mulwa: You never did anything.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question. Mr. Mutua?

Mr. Muthamia: On a point of order. The hon. Member who is supposed to ask this question is in the House but he is unable to speak because he is sick. He has asked me to ask it on his behalf.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You will ask it later.

Question No. 30 (1247)

EXPENDITURE ON ROAD DEVELOPMENT

Mr. Muturia asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House how much money would be spent on road development in all provinces since the Minister had publicly announced that Government would use KSh. 12,000,000 for roads in Western Province.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Subject to funds being available, the Government plans to spend £53 million during the Development Plan period of 1969/74 throughout the country.

Mr. Muturia: Could he repeat that?

Mr. Keen: I said that subject to funds being available Government plans to spend £53 million on road development throughout the country during the current Development Plan period, 1969/74.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that was not my question. Sir, I am not interested in knowing how much Government is going to spend during the current Development Plan period.

My question was, the Minister announced KSh. 12 million for road development in Western Province. Could he tell the House how much he is going to spend in every province in Kenya?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know whether the hon. questioner can read and write. The question before the House is: "Could the Minister tell the House . . .", if I may quote—

Mr. Muturia: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Assistant Minister says: "I do not think the hon. Member can write or read." What does he mean by that?

Mr. Keen: I did not intend to be offensive to the hon. Member, but if I understand his question clearly, it is written in clear language here, Mr. Speaker, and if I may quote: "Could the Minister tell the House how much money will be spent on road development in all the provinces?"

Had he asked the question: "Could the Minister give a breakdown as to how much money Government is going to spend in each province" I would have answered it. I have the information with me. If he wants the breakdown as far as the provinces are concerned, then I beg to reply.

Central Province, £9 million for 1,850 kilometres of road. Nyanza Province, £8 million for 970 kilometres of road. Eastern/North Eastern provinces £10.5 million for 960 kilometres of road. Rift Valley Province, £13.5 million for 1,500 kilometres. Western Province, £6 million for 500 kilometres. Coast Province, £6 million for 333 kilometres of road.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, now the Assistant Minister has understood my question. Was the Assistant Minister, Mr. Speaker—

Mr. Munyasia: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, I do not want to prevent the hon. Member from asking his question, but, Mr. Speaker, from time to time you have ruled out that there are no regulations governing how hon. Members should dress. But, Sir, in your opinion, as the Leader of the National House, do you think hon. Muturia is well dressed? Is it right for him to come here like a fisherman?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order! I am afraid I cannot see Mr. Muturia's collar. Will you ask your question, Mr. Muturia?

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. Is it in order for hon. Muturia to try to hide the truth from you by standing up with a paper to shield his dress so that you do not see how he looks at his neck? Would you order him to remove the paper so that you can make a judgment?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No! That means he is repentant.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, the thing I wanted was the breakdown. Would the Assistant Minister for Works—in fact that is why I asked this question—tell this House why he has mentioned Eastern Province and North-Eastern Province together for K£5 million while each of the provinces is getting, say, K£13 million? Mr. Speaker, Sir, you know that North-Eastern Province is one of the largest provinces and has the worst roads.

An hon. Member: Why?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the hon. Member repeat his question because there was a lot of commotion and therefore I could not hear it well? Would he repeat his question please?

Mr. Muturia: Yes, Sir. I hope the Minister will listen properly this time. Mr. Speaker, Sir, my question is: Would the Assistant Minister tell this House why he should combine two provinces together; namely, Eastern Province and North-Eastern Province for K£5 million while some other single provinces are given K£12 million to K£15 million and yet, you know Sir, that, Eastern and North-Eastern provinces have the worst roads in Kenya?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I appreciate the sentiments expressed by the hon. Member, but we have a system of working in our Ministry. We do not follow the existing provincial boundaries in allocating our funds. Therefore, the reason why the Eastern and North-Eastern provinces have been allocated the K£10 million and amalgamated into one unit is just because of the system we follow in our Ministry. This does not indicate, however, that they will not be considered during the next Development Plan that may probably come between 1974 and 1978.

Mr. Kadir: Mr. Speaker, Sir, although these provinces have been amalgamated into one unit according to the Ministry's system, why have those areas which were developed during the colonial time been allocated more money instead of allocating the money to these two provinces because they were forgotten during the colonial time?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is all right to say that some areas were developed during the colonial time while others were not. However, we cannot go out to spend money in some areas where the volume of traffic or the economic output does not justify the expenditure. It would be a waste of Government funds.

Mr. Kadir: On a point of order.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Mr. Kadir, let us first of all hear what the Minister has to say before you stand on a point of order.

Mr. Keen: Why do not you pay attention first? However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have already said that it is all very well to say that some areas need to be developed. The Government agrees entirely that there is need to develop some of these areas that were left behind during the colonial days. However, at the same time, some factors have to be taken into consideration. These include: the volume of traffic, the economic justification, industrial development, political growth and other factors. We do not just plan for a road to go though nowhere to the North Pole or South Pole just because we want to develop some of these areas.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Arising from the Minister's reply, where he says that the roads are planned where there is industrial development and political growth, would he tell us whether that is the reason why there is no factory in the North-Eastern Province? Also, Sir, if there is no political growth in the area, who brought us to this House, was it he, himself?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member—Mr. Araru—should be grateful to the Government because of the existing road—now under construction—from Nairobi to Addis Ababa. The Government is spending a lot of money through the wilderness where the hon. Member comes from.

An hon. Member: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker Sir?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, let us not have points of order.

Mr. Koigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, does the Assistant Minister agree with me that although this Parliament has given money for the construction of roads there is nothing being done in the whole country? We see surveyors but no roads are being constructed.

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know how I could reply to that question because the hon. Mr. Koigi, himself, has travelled all over the country. He has eyes and he sees our bulldozers and other machines, he sees our surveyors and, in fact, he sees the Ministry of Works at work!

Mr. Muthamia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the answer given by the Assistant Minister, can he tell the House whether the tea-roads have been included in his reply; those in the existing Development Plan?

Mr. Keen: As far as I know, Sir, the K£53 million is the total money that will be spent during the current Development Plan. I think the money will cover the tea projects as well.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 16 (1215)

RE-INTRODUCTION OF AFFILIATION ACT

Mr. Mulwa asked the Attorney-General if he would tell the House whether, since after the repeal of the Affiliation Act the illegitimate children had proved a big burden to the parents of school girls who become pregnant while in school and before they are in a position to support themselves or their children, and in view of the fact that the situation is becoming worse, as a matter of urgency he would re-introduce the Affiliation Act, this time designed to protect school girls only.

The Attorney-General (Mr. Njonjo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Sir, when the Bill to repeal the Affiliation Act was being debated in this House, in 1969, I said that I moved that Repeal Bill with a heavy heart. I, myself, was not convinced that we did the right thing, but then I happened to be the only person.

Hon. Members: Question!

The Attorney-General (Mr. Njonjo): What shall I say? Shall I say that we were a minority. Now, I do not believe, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that having repealed the legislation this House can again be asked to re-introduce the same provisions of law. My reaction to the issue is that if it is school girls who are getting pregnant. I think the parents of those children should tell them not to get pregnant. However, if it is the women who are getting pregnant, then, all I can say on my part—not from experience—is that instead of re-introducing the legislation as suggested by my learned hon. friend, it is time the women in Kenya were careful and not fooled around with men. However, if they have to, they should practise the use of contraceptives.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since I am concerned with school girls and my learned friend has suggested that parents should tell these girls not to become pregnant, would he agree with me that one of the ways which a parent can use to tell their daughters not to get pregnant is to introduce legislation making contraceptives free all over as is the case in Sweden, so that these girls can get them without going to the doctors?

Hon. Members: No! No!

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think I would be the last person to make any comment to that suggestion because— My reply, Sir, and I speak quite seriously, is that I believe why this legislation was repealed was because it was being exploited by women. I happen to know, from court records, of a woman who was getting affiliation fees from no less than five men, unbeknown to each other, and for one child.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Mr. Njonjo: We also know—this will surprise the hon. lady—that there was an African who was paying this affiliation allowance thinking that the child was his while, in fact, the child belonged to a European. He kept on paying for five years! Now, I think that the responsibility is squarely upon the women to be careful and not be lured astray by men.

An hon. Member: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! No. I have already called upon Mrs. Onyango to ask a question.

Mrs. Onyango: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to ask only one question although I have two questions which I would have liked to ask. I want to find out whether this lady who was getting allowances from five African men and yet the child belonged to a Mzungu—when she was proving that this child belonged to these five people, was there nobody who could prove who the owner of the child was?

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can we know why this woman who had gone to the court five times and given false evidence was not prosecuted for perjury?

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not say that this woman went to court. I happen to know that there are quite a number of people today, perhaps in this House, who are paying this money because—and let us be quite clear on this—if a man is married he does not want his wife to know that perhaps, that he is involved with another woman.

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, my learned friend, in his reply, said that he knows this after seeing court records, and surely that must have been so because evidence was given in court unless he is now amending his answer.

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I choose my words, and I am quite careful when doing so. This can be checked from the HANSARD. The woman whom I referred to, as having been being paid this money did not go to court because there were five men who were involved.

Hon. Members: How did they agree?

Mr. Njonjo: By consent because she will go to one person who will think that he is responsible and he agrees to pay because he does not want to go to court. A second person, when approached by the same woman, because he does not want to go to court, agrees to pay.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Attorney-General agree to consider the question as it is and accept my suggestion as a person with experience and one who happens to be parent of 13 children? Mr. Speaker, Sir, I believe that the last Act was drafted by people who had no experience, but now we have our own lawyers and we have people who happen to be the fathers of many children, like myself—and therefore, will the Attorney-General agree to re-introduce the Affiliation Act—will you excuse me—and ask people like myself with many children to help him in drafting such an Act?

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, of course, I must bow to the experience of the hon. Member. However, I personally will not re-introduce the legislation. If the hon. Member can think of a lawyer among the hon. Members of the House who wants to introduce a Private Member's Bill, by all means let him do it.

Mr. Mwamzandi: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Attorney-General has made a serious allegation here. We know all the women who instituted affiliation cases against men did so in a genuine way, but here the Attorney-General is generalizing when he says that there was one woman who instituted a case against one man when the child belonged to another man. Now this to my opinion is what may worry all women because there is not even a single woman who instituted such a case against a man. To clear this allegation, am I in order to ask the Attorney-General to make it clear who this woman was because, unless he does so, all the other women are going to be demoralized?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is not necessary.

Question No. 2 (1171)

LOAN FOR BUYING A SAW-MILL

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Commerce and Industry if he would tell the House—

- (a) whether he was aware that there was a group of people (Pitsawyers) from Katimok Forest in Baringo-North Constituency in Baringo District who applied for a loan of KSh. 200,000 for buying a saw mill but had not been given it up to now; and
- (b) if the policy of the Government was to develop the rural areas, why then these people had not been given the loan.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this question was asked in August last year and I hope the questioner will agree with me that it is now out of date because the group he is referring to has already received the loan.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I entirely agree with him and I am very satisfied because this group has already received the loan.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): In such a case, I think it would help if the questioner would let us know in time so that we do not have to waste time on asking unnecessary questions.

*Question No. 17 (1218)*STONE-LAYING CEREMONY IN MUMIAS: PUBLICITY

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, before I ask this question, I would like to add one or two words in the last two lines, so that it reads as follows:—

“Could the Minister tell this House why the stone-laying ceremony conducted by the Archbishop F. H. Olang' at Lubinu Parish in Mumias Division on 23rd July 1970—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! What are you doing, Mr. O'Washika? You seem to be asking a different question. You can only go by what we have here.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am only adding the words which have been omitted, that is, “Lubinu Parish in Mumias Division”.

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Information and Broadcasting if he would tell the House why the stone-laying ceremony conducted by the Archbishop F. H. Olang' in Mumias on 23rd July 1970, was not publicized.

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Kase): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think you will excuse me because I did not hear the correction; however, I beg to reply. Had any request been made to my staff at Kakamega to cover the ceremony in question, I am sure that would have been done.

On 22nd July 1970—to prove this, Mr. Speaker—the same Archbishop did perform a ceremony of a similar nature at St. Pauls Church, Kasoko in Bungoma District and coverage was given. It is, therefore, the duty of everyone who wants to be covered by my men to approach them in good time.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister aware that for this particular ceremony a fee was paid by me personally to his Ministry and also that a person was sent to Kakamega to go and inform the Ministry that the ceremony was taking place on 23rd of July 1970? It is not a question that I did not make a request.

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, Sir, every person in Kenya who goes to the Voice of Kenya and he says that he is going to hold a meeting has to make a request to the information officer responsible for that area, however, merely announcing that you have a function at a particular place is not a request to our Ministry that you want to be covered.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know whether I was understood. In this particular case, I am telling my friend, a fee was paid and a person was sent to Kakamega to go and inform them that the ceremony was taking place on 23rd of July 1970, but it was not a question of just announcing it in the Press.

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if I understand the hon. Member properly, and you will help me in this, I understand from what he is asking that money was sent to our information office in Kakamega so that it could be announced that a stone was going to be laid by Archbishop Olang'. This was similarly transmitted to the Voice of Kenya and it was announced over the Radio. That was done, but what was not done by the person concerned was to make a request to the information officer asking him to go and cover the event. What happened is that a person has given revenue to the Commercial Department of the Voice of Kenya, but he did not make a request to the Kenya News Agency.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I fail to understand whether the Assistant Minister is telling us that when you pay a fee for any announcement in the Information Department your announcement is not going to be publicized?

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish the hon. Member would repeat his question.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the question, as put by the questioner, indicates that he paid fees for this occasion to be publicized, now, I am asking the Assistant Minister to tell us whether, if any fee is paid to his department to announce or publicize any occasion, this, in itself, is not enough to have such an occasion covered?

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, Sir, when the money was paid, the announcement was carried over the Voice of Kenya that Archbishop F. H. Olang' was going to lay a foundation stone somewhere in Busia District. That was done and if it was not done, then, I would ask the hon. Member to bring me the facts and I will have the money refunded to him. However, as I said earlier on, Mr. Speaker, that having been announced, if he wanted public coverage, again, on the actual ceremony itself, he needed to approach our staff so that he had coverage on Television, Radio or the Press.

Mr. Amayo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, am I being made to understand that the duty of the Ministry of Information is to receive the news but not to collect it and that they are always to sit in the office and receive the news and not to collect it? Tell us.

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, Sir, my Ministry has a duty to collect news from every part of Kenya and similarly, any gentleman or gentlewoman in Kenya, who has news, can send it to the Kenya News Agency so that we can receive it. That means it is a two-way traffic. You can either bring it to our office or we can come and look for it.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in this particular matter, I am seeking your guidance. In this case, it is true the announcement was made over the Voice of Kenya and on top of the announcement, a padre called Obatha, from the Lubinu Parish went to Kakamega to ask the information office staff to send somebody to Lubinu Parish on the morning of 23rd so that the Archbishop should be covered. I am sure this padre went to Kakamega and I can swear an oath for this.

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do understand from the hon. Member now, that a man was sent to Kakamega to see an information officer, who was to cover this event, plus the fee to announce it over the Voice of Kenya. I wish to say, Mr. Speaker, that we do not have in our records a request having been made to this effect. I want to make it very clear, Mr. Speaker, that for every request that is made in every province, there is a diary where the name of the man making the request is recorded, which information officer will go and the person is told on the spot whether he will get a person to cover the event or not and these records are sent to my office and we look at them. Looking through, Mr. Speaker, we have not seen that record. If he can give me the name of that particular officer, who was told but deliberately did not put it on the diary, I will take action against that man.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question. Mr. Mbori has withdrawn his question therefore, we go to Mr. O'Washika's question.

Question No. 18 (1224)

EDUCATION FOR DESTITUTE CHILDREN

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Education to tell the House what the Government plans were to provide education for destitute children.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Government has always considered remission of fees in primary schools or award of bursaries in secondary and university institutions as a fair way of assisting poor and destitute children. This practice has been in force and with the increased rate of remissions during the current Development Plan. Government hopes to assist a larger number of bright children of poor or destitute backgrounds.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the reply by the Minister for Education, in the case of a mother who having lost a husband has children who have attended nursery school with great difficulties, and when they go to primary schools has no money to pay for their fees, has the Ministry of Education any plans for these types of children who have no father and whose mother cannot afford to pay fees for their education?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the system that my office follows is that a particular parent who considers himself or herself destitute or poor, goes to the local people, the local sub-chief, and then they discuss with the teachers of the school they want their children to be sent to and they see whether they fall within the percentage of remission in the particular school they want. This is done all over the country and there is no need for the parents to come to my office because this work is done locally with the assistance of the Assistant Education Officers who are all over the country-side.

Mr. Jilo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Minister aware that last year he made such a statement here on this same issue. He told the Members of this House to go to his office to seek clarification? Is he also aware that just now, there are so many destitute children who have applied for remission and have never been replied to by his Ministry?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think my friends, the hon. Members do not understand the procedure. We have three divisions of our institutions. If you are talking about destitute children in our primary schools, this is a different story and one should go and see the local Education Officer or the Assistant Education Officer, see also the sub-chiefs and present your case to them that certain children or a few children are poor. Then, these children will go to the schools they want to be considered for and see whether the percentage of remission in that area has been exhausted or not.

I know, in some cases, Mr. Speaker, Sir, some children who are not really poor, have been recommended by people sympathizing with their friends to make use of the remission that we give. That is one category, Mr. Speaker. The other category is the secondary schools. Now, unless there is a specific case which is brought to us, we just cannot discuss the whole of the three systems. It is impossible.

Rev. Kalume: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply, since Kenya has been dry for the last two years, many parents in some areas cannot afford school fees at all, could he consider to remit more children in those areas because 5 per cent is not enough? There are certain areas in the Coast Province where parents want to educate their children but they cannot get the school fees because of the long drought. Could he consider increasing the percentage of remission in those areas?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I agree that most areas of Kenya have been very dry and some are still dry, but the money I have was planned for a number of school children in the country and unless I get extra money, because of the drought, I cannot consider even increasing numbers for remission.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We go back to Mr. Mutua's question.

Question No. 23 (1240)

BREAKDOWN OF NITHI AREA COUNCIL TRACTOR

Mr. Muthua, on behalf of Mr. Mutua, asked the Minister for Works to tell the House whether he was aware that the Nithi Area Council road tractor had broken down and was lying idle at Kabui in lower Mwimbi Location of Nithi Division and that the roads to the markets and Health Centres were impassable.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. No Sir, I am not aware. I think for the benefit of the hon. Member, my Ministry has never taken over roads and equipment from area councils. If the broken tractor is still lying there, it is still being considered the property of the Meru Area Council.

Mr. Muthamia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, since the area council is not paying the road workers in Meru District, and the Central Government, which is his Ministry is paying those people, what are they going to do and what is going to happen to those tractors which are lying idle there?

Mr. Keen: It should be or it is the sole responsibility of the Meru Area Council and the Ministry of Local Government to sort out their own affairs. It is not our problem.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much Mr. Speaker, Sir. Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, when he said that this is the responsibility of the Meru Area Council and the Ministry of Local Government, is the Assistant Minister denying the responsibility of roads which are under his Ministry?

Mr. Keen: The major responsibility of roads under our Ministry has been already stated clearly before. These are all classified roads which were formerly under county councils and not area councils. There is a difference between the two.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next Order.

MOTION

REVIVAL OF MEMBERSHIP OF STANDING AND SELECT COMMITTEES

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

THAT this House directs that the membership of all the Standing and Select Committees of the House existing before the prorogation of the National Assembly remains unaltered and that those Committees continue to serve the House until otherwise ordered.

Mr Speaker, Sir, in the interest of the House and in order to facilitate the proceedings of the House this is necessary so that the Sessional Committees consisting of the original Members can sit and then propose the new membership of all the committees which will come to the House and with the consent of the House, then, the new committees will function.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it will be difficult if we cannot have any committees at the moment because we will have to sit again and reconstitute the new committees. Mr. Speaker, what I am asking the House is to agree that the committees which existed before the prorogation of the House should function so that the Sessional Committee can meet and propose things which will then be brought to this House immediately, possibly tomorrow or the day after tomorrow.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I beg to move.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): seconded.

Mr. Mwamzandi: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Sir, it is quite true that we must have a Sessional Committee in existence in order to have the proceedings of the House going smoothly. However, to my observation, Sir, this Motion does not only need the existence of the Sessional Committee alone. It needs the existence of the Select Committees which were in existence at that time. Some of these committees never met even for a single day. For example, the Public Finance Committee never met in the last Parliament, for the whole of the last year.

Another thing, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is not very difficult for the Leader of Government Business to bring before this House now—with preparation from yesterday—names for the recommendation of this House to the Sessional Committee. Here, it is said, "until otherwise ordered". We do not know when this order will be made; whether it will be in the next two days, as he has just now promised, or whether it is just a word because the words "two days" have not been put in the Motion. It could even take longer time. Some of the Members who were in the Sessional Committee were very lazy and not keen enough in attending the Sessional Committee meetings.

The Leader of Government Business should have, in advance, selected those Members who are prepared to serve Parliament in the Sessional Committee and every other committee just before the House met, so that we could recommend them immediately.

Here, the Vice-President has failed to tell us which are these committees he has referred to because immediately the House is prorogued, all committees die and we do not expect them to exist. Here, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are not sure now how long it will be before the Vice-President is going to bring in the Motion for the Select Committee. However, I am agreeing with this Motion taking into account that the Leader of Government Business will bring the Motion for the Select Committee and every other committee this week and not "until ordered" which might be six or seven months from now. So, with these few remarks, I beg to support expecting the Vice-President to bring a Motion for every Select Committee immediately.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Seroney: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I start by congratulating the Leader of Government Business for taking this step to get a Sessional Committee appointed at the outset in order to avoid some of the difficulties which we experienced during the last session. Our Standing Orders, Mr. Speaker, provide that a Sessional Committee should be appointed at the beginning of each Session. This is important because there are many things which cannot be done except by or on behalf of a Sessional Committee. For example, last time when the Government attempted to limit debate on the Presidential Speech, it was pointed out that it could not be done on behalf of a Sessional Committee. One of the reasons why we have not started debating on the President's Speech today, I believe, was because the time could not have been limited because there was no Sessional Committee. I therefore think it is a good thing to appoint a Sessional Committee now so that it can meet as soon as possible and the orderly proceedings of this House can take place without unnecessary delay. One of the things which the Sessional Committee has to do is to select Motions for Private Members' day. Hon. Members will recollect that we Back-benchers lost four Fridays during the last Session. This time we are determined not to lose a single one. So, Mr. Speaker, I accept the intention of the Leader of Government Business. It appears that the wording in this Motion has been followed regularly over several years now. However, I am unhappy about this Motion because I think it is inconsistent with the spirit of our Standing Orders. The Motion says that the committees should remain unaltered and that they continue to serve until otherwise ordered by the House. Well, that is all very well but our Standing Orders require a Sessional Committee to be appointed at the beginning of every Session and we should not get into the habit of saying that all the previous committees are revived and they continue and we accept that as a matter of course.

So, Mr. Speaker, while keeping the results intended intact I would like to propose an amendment which will achieve just the same thing which the Mover of the Motion intended but with due respect to our Standing Orders. I therefore, beg to move, Mr. Speaker, that all the words after "this House" be deleted and that there be substituted in place thereof the following words:—

"Resolves that all Members who served in the Sessional Committee and other Select Committees as at the last prorogation of the National Assembly be and are hereby nominated to serve in the same committees until the House otherwise orders."

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would urge the Leader of Government Business not to wait too long before proposing to this House fresh names for a new Sessional Committee. However, in view of the fact that we do require a Sessional Committee urgently, I hope the House will accept the intentions of the Leader of Government Business and trust that within a few weeks he will come up with the actual names for a fresh Sessional Committee.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, with these few remarks, I beg to move.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Who is seconding the amendment?

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I stand to second the amendment by my hon. friend here. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we all know that this House cannot sit and continue to do its functions unless we have a Sessional Committee. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the Motion as moved by the Leader of Government Business has come at the proper time. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I say so because if we sit idle without a Sessional Committee, it does not serve the House any useful purpose. How will the House continue without the committee which directs the business of this House? Therefore, Sir, I think it is right and proper that hon. Members who sat in various committees remain nominated, not elected, and do so for the time being. Mr. Speaker, this is because if we say they remain as elected, we do not know at what stage the other proposal will be brought in. Therefore, Sir, I think the Mover of the Amendment was right to say they remain as nominees without any alterations, until the proper election of Members who sat in various committees comes into force.

Now, Sir, we have seen that some of the hon. Members here have been selected to serve in various committees for about a year but only to find that some of these committees do not function. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is useless to select a committee which does not sit. There is no point at all in having such a committee. Some of these committees were very useful during the last Parliament. Therefore, Sir, I hope that when the Leader of Government Business proposes the names to such committees they should see to it that these committees do their work right from the start but not to be committees by mere names—a committee to deal with finance; Select Committee on unemployment and so on.

Therefore, Sir, I think the amendment will serve a useful purpose for the time being so that we get the Sessional Committee going. With these few remarks, Sir, I beg to support the amendment.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I will propose the question of the amendment. Now, the amendment and the original Motion are substantially the same and therefore, I do not propose to go through all the stages, but I will propose the amendment as moved.

The Minister for Works (Mr. Nyamweya): Mr. Speaker, I do not see very much difference between what was moved by the Leader of Government Business and what the hon. Member for Tinderet has amended. However, I think he has advanced one vital point, and that is: due respect to be given to the Standing Orders of this House. It is true that at the end of every Session, all the standing and Select Committees of this House come to an end and cease to operate or to be of any service to the House. The Standing Orders do require that they should be formal establishments of these committees. I think this point is taken into account if we concede that the hon. Member for Tinderet has given due respect to the Standing Orders. I do not think the Leader of Government Business or Government on its side has any strong views in relation to the amendment. I think the amendment is commendable to the House and should be approved without any further debate on the matter.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order. Mr. Speaker, in view of the reply by the Minister from this side of the House, and in view of the views so far expressed, is it not time for us to call upon the Mover to reply?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Not quite, because we are dealing with an amendment. So, since it seems Government has accepted the amendment, all I can do is to put the question of the amendment. So, I will put the question.

(Question of the amendment put and agreed to)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): So, the Motion now reads as I have already read.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, I beg to move that the Mover be called upon to reply.

(Question that the Mover be now called upon to reply put and agreed to)

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I thank the House. This is the beginning of a new Session and we have conceded on a very genuine amendment and I hope this is going to be the spirit in which this House will be working. Mr. Speaker, Sir, as our President referred yesterday, we are grown-ups and we should criticize things, of course, knowing we are mature and that we have been entrusted with the views of the wananchi. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, without labouring too much on this issue, I would like to remind the House that the committees in question are as follow:—

Sessional Committee, Speaker's Committee,

Committee of Privileges, Estimates Committee, Library Committee, Catering Committee, Select Committee on Stock Theft, Select Committee on Standing Orders.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to remind hon. Members that the fault is not Government's. If a committee has been established, it is up to the chairman of that particular committee to convene the committee and carry on business. Mr. Speaker, I did refer to this point last year that the Estimates Committee is a very important Committee and that, therefore, those selected to serve on this Committee should make use of this committee so that we do not have complaints about what is being spent by various Ministries. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I once again appeal to hon. Members, particularly those who serve on these committees to make sure they make use of these committees and air their views in these committees so that the debate in this House may proceed without any difficulties. Again, the reason why I brought this Motion is, of course, because of the coming Government business. The hon. Member for Tinderet indicated that we will have to decide the number of proposed procedural Motions or any Motions and this will have to be backed by the decision of the Sessional Committee. Therefore, after the House has passed this Motion, I expect the hon. Members of the Sessional Committee to meet tonight so that we can propose the business for the coming days. I assure the hon. Members that we will not delay in proposing the new Members of these Committees for the House to approve.

With these few remarks, I beg to move.

(Question put and agreed to)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next Order.

BILLS

First Readings

THE FISH INDUSTRY (AMENDMENT) BILL

THE LANDLORD AND TENANT (SHOPS, HOTELS AND CATERING ESTABLISHMENTS) (AMENDMENT) BILL

THE COFFEE (AMENDMENT) BILL

THE ASIAN OFFICERS' FAMILY PENSIONS (AMENDMENT) BILL

THE CUSTOMS TARIFF (AMENDMENT) BILL

(Orders for First Readings read—Read the First Time)

Mr. Migire: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, could I seek for your guidance in this case. Yesterday, His Excellency, the President of the Republic of Kenya addressed this House, and it is the intention of some of us in this House to comment on few points which the President mentioned in his general Address to this House. Now, could I know from you, Mr. Speaker, when we are going to be given time to address this House on the Presidential Address because we have a lot of things to say on his Address?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Perhaps you could have allowed Mr. Anyieni to sort out what we were doing here and then raise that. However, nobody has denied you the opportunity of discussing the Presidential Address. What happens is that, at the beginning of the Session Members usually, do not want to plunge into debate on that very general discussion. They like to have some time to read the Speech and prepare themselves. That is why we have taken this business to allow the Members to do that. We will still be coming back to that and it will be, in fact, left to you to decide for how long you want to discuss the Speech.

I understand it is not the intention of Government, for the time being, to proceed with Orders No. 8 and No. 12. We will, therefore, go to the next Order.

Second Readings(With leave of the House)

THE FISH INDUSTRY (AMENDMENT) BILL

Mr. Seroney: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Mr. Seroney. I think I know what you mean.

We cannot take two stages of a Bill without the leave of the House, so we have to ask for that leave in order to take the Fish Industry (Amendment) Bill—Second Reading.

Do we have leave of the House?

Mr. Seroney: No.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Seroney objects and therefore, we do not have the leave of the House.

I think, Mr. Seroney, you will need some support— You need a number of Members to support you in your objection.

(A number of hon. Members stood in their places)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): He has already had the requisite number of Members objecting.

Next Order.

THE LANDLORD AND TENANT (SHOPS, HOTELS AND CATERING ESTABLISHMENTS) (AMENDMENT) BILL

Mr. Munyasia: I object.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Munyasia, you object. But you are all alone.

(A number of hon. Members stood in their places)

The Minister of Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, in a situation like this where some of these Bills are just but a page and some of them have been staying with us for such a long time, could the House not be entitled to be told the reason for Members taking the attitude they have taken in objecting to two stages of a Bill being taken on the same day? Are we entitled to find the reason why they are objecting to this?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, our Standing Orders are quite clear. If a Member objects and, in fact, Mr. Seroney explained why he was objecting to the first one. If he objects and he has the support of two other Members, or, I agree with him, that is all that is required. However, in this case, I play no part at all. It is obvious that the Members do not want to take the second stage.

The following Order No. 15 applies to something that has been withdrawn. Therefore, we will go to the next Order.

THE COFFEE (AMENDMENT) BILL

Mr. Cheserek: I object.

(A number of hon. Members stood in their places)

Mr. Mwithaga: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, what will be the position of the House when Members are objecting to all the Bills as they appear on the Order Paper, will the House have to adjourn?

Hon. Members: Yes.

Mr. Mwithaga: Okay, Mr. Speaker, Sir, am I, therefore, not in order to find out from the Chair whether any Member standing to object to the Second Reading and thus rendering the House jobless, should be able to explain?

Hon. Members: No, no.

Mr. Mwithaga: Where are you going?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, it is not necessary. Next Order.

THE ASIAN OFFICERS' FAMILY PENSIONS (AMENDMENT) BILL

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Any objection?

Mr. Jilo: I object.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next Order.

THE CUSTOMS TARIFF (AMENDMENT) BILL

Hon. Members: No, no.

(Leave of the House for Second Readings refused)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Now, Order No. 19 does not apply.

The Minister of Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. I am instructed by the Leader of Government Business to inform members of the Sessional Committee that the Committee will meet immediately we adjourn this House today.

ADJOURNMENT

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Hon. Members, there being no other Business for us today, the House is now adjourned until tomorrow, Thursday, 25th February, at 2.30 p.m.

*The House rose at twenty minutes

PURCHASE OF PROPERTIES FROM NON-CITIZENS BY AFRICANS

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

THAT in view of the fact that Africans who are anxious to get into business are finding it extremely difficult to negotiate with non-citizens served with quit notices, to purchase their properties, because of raising the value of such properties with the intention of exploiting the Kenya citizens by demanding good-will money, this House urges the Government to take appropriate steps to stop the racket forthwith.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

DIVISION OF MERU DISTRICT INTO THREE DISTRICTS

Mr. Muthamia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

THAT in view of the fact that the Meru Administrative District covers an area of roughly 4,000 square miles with a population of over 590,000 people who are evenly distributed throughout the district, and in view of the administrative, developmental and sociological problems that afflict the area as a result of inadequate facilities and means to traverse long distances for the purpose of communicating with the District Headquarters in addition to the diversity of interests and needs that exist throughout the district, this House urges the Government—

- (a) as a matter of urgency, to initiate measures to divide Meru District into three districts which will consist of North, Central and South Meru; and
- (b) to establish a commission to investigate and recommend the boundaries of the three districts after consulting the Meru Njuri Nceke and Meru people as a whole.

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 19 (1225)

DEPORTATION OF EUROPEANS AND ASIANS

Mr. O'Washika asked the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs if he would tell the House how many Europeans and Asians had been deported from the country since 1963.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Since the attainment of independence on 12th December 1963, until the beginning of September 1970, a total number of 136 aliens have been deported and sent away from Kenya. Of this, 85 are British subjects—32 of whom are of European origin and 53 of Asian origin—and 51 of other nationalities. They have been deported after serving sentences on criminal convictions and also being declared persona non grata by the Government on security grounds.

In order to enlighten the hon. Member, I will give him the following breakdown:—

Those who were deported after serving criminal sentences were 66.

Those who were declared persona non grata were 70, and the total comes to 136.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply where he says that the others are of other nationalities, can he also give a breakdown of these other nationalities?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not go into details of that because here, the problem of our country is mostly with those people of British nationality, and as you can see from the figures I have given, these are higher than the rest. The others are people who are not members of the Commonwealth, those who come from countries like the United States of America, Greece or any other part of the world—just imagine of any other country.

Mr. Gatuguta: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that there are a lot of bad Asians and Europeans who abuse Africans and look down upon them today, will the Ministry take more positive action to deport more of these fellows from this country?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, from the reply which I have given, the hon. Members will agree with me that the Government is not sitting put; it is doing something; but at the same time, Mr. Speaker, we are also exercising patience and tolerance towards those who are not seeing the light, and when they do not see the light completely that is the time we ask them to leave this beautiful, wonderful weather of ours to go to the cold places where they came from.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and in view of the fact that the British Government has just made a statement that they are going to introduce a new law restricting Asians—particularly from East Africa—from entering into Britain, would the Minister consider, as a matter of mercy, deporting citizens of Asian origin so that they can enter Britain before this law comes into force?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we do not just deport people for the sake of it. Mr. Speaker, we take into consideration the question—

An hon. Member: For the sake of mercy!

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am coming to the question of mercy.

We do not deport people for the sake of it. We deport them on reasonable grounds; and one of them, which is a very, very important one is security. Now, we cannot enter into an exercise of deporting everybody just for mercy's sake because the Bill is coming up in Britain.

For the information of the hon. Member, we are an independent country and whether that Bill comes up or not, once we decide to deport a Mr. Smith or Patel we shall put him on the plane and it is up to him to know where to go. But, so long as he is a British citizen we shall send him back there; likewise, any Kenyan in Britain will be sent back to Kenya regardless of any law on immigration operating in Kenya.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and in view of the fact that some of the Asians—and here I will be specific—who belong to the Aga Khan Community claim to be first-class citizens in this country, could the Assistant Minister tell this House how many members of this Aga Khan Community have so far been deported from this country?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the hon. Member will agree with me that when we talk of Asians and Europeans, the Aga Khan Community is also included as it is in the Asian group. But, if he wants a breakdown of that I think I will require notice of that question. However, if some members of this community are very cheeky and they are citizens of this country, what we do some time is to detain them.

MEDICAL EXAMINATION OF REMAND PRISONERS

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs if he would tell the House the reason why it was that, when remand prisoners were examined by a doctor for injuries, age and mental condition they were not informed that such examination had a bearing on their impending trial so that if need be they could make complaints of maltreatment by police or any other authorities.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Medical examination carried out on a remand prisoner is intended to produce an objective report on the health of the prisoner—the emphasis is on the word “objective”. Therefore, the question does not arise of relating such examination to any impending trial, or informing the prisoner so.

In fact, anyway, the prisoners are intelligent enough to realize that the medical examination is related to possible court proceedings, and make complaints to an examining doctor whenever they feel so disposed. As the hon. Member knows, if a prisoner complains of maltreatment the court normally orders an inquiry.

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, which is contradictory, is the Assistant Minister denying that when a man is charged with, say, murder, he is examined so that if any injuries are found, that would also influence the court to know whether there was a fight, and therefore it is relevant to the proceedings and it is important that he should be told why he is being examined?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have said that the prisoners—and most of these chaps are intelligent enough to know—know the purpose of this examination. When we arrest somebody and send him to one of our remand homes, it is natural that this particular individual should be examined. Why, Mr. Speaker? It is because this particular individual may be having some serious acute disease and just throwing him into the cell would be very unfair. Instead, we should subject him to a medical examination, so that the doctor can recommend any immediate treatment if he is suffering from a disease. At the same time, Mr. Speaker, if this particular individual has been beaten up—In most cases we have heard some people claiming that the policemen have beaten them up in the course of arresting them. This provides a chance for that individual to complain to the doctor and tell him he was beaten up on point X by the police and the doctor will make note of that. Also, when he gets to the court, he can also raise that complaint.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not sure whether I am really following the answer given by the hon. Assistant Minister. But the way I understand the question is this: Why can the Government not inform a prisoner that whatever results they get from the examination by the doctor may be used against him, or may be used for him; in his favour? The question is, “Why?” The Assistant Minister should not beat about the bush.

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have already replied to the question. I said the reason is because the prisoners are intelligent enough.

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, which is very inadequate, does he not notice that the question is about injuries, age and mental condition? What has that to do with the prisoner's health previously?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if you are injured you are not healthy.

An hon. Member: It is about age.

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I thought he said health.

But, Mr. Speaker, the mental condition is one of the examinations that one has to consider. The doctor has to find out whether this man is normal and fit to be kept together with the other prisoners. If it is a mental case, Mr. Speaker, then the doctor will recommend him to go to Mathare Hospital to stay with the other mentally handicapped people: he cannot be kept with the other normal men when he is mentally deranged. He may kick other prisoners, or probably choke them. Therefore, we have to put him in a different place and that is why the examination is important.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and taking for granted that this particular person is innocent until he is proved guilty, is he not entitled to a free medical examination, in which case he should be allowed to choose his doctor if he requires to be examined?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have tried to explain that stage one, one is arrested; stage two, he is to be remanded and then the doctor has to check him to find whether he is healthy or in sound condition. Now, when the hon. Member refers to the question of this man having a choice of doctor, this is a different thing, Mr. Speaker. If he is not satisfied with the present doctor he can ask for his private doctor and this can be looked into.

EXPATRIATES EMPLOYED BY THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Cheboiwo not in? Let us go to the next question.

Mr. Saina.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, before I ask my question I would like to make some corrections. Insert the word "Not" after the word "Are" at the beginning of the second line.

Question No. 48 (1267)

AGRICULTURAL FINANCE CORPORATION LOANS

Mr. arap Saina asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House whether, in view of the fact that the Agricultural Finance Corporation Development Loan Funds are not available at the moment and some farmers who had applied for these development loans had deposited 40 per cent of the money as required by the Agricultural Finance Corporation before any loan can be granted, the Minister could tell the House—

- (a) when Agricultural Finance Corporation loans would be available;
- (b) whether the 40 per cent deposit from farmers is earning interest; and
- (c) whether the interest earned by the farmers' money is the same as the Agricultural Finance Corporation money earns from the farmers.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. It is true to say that Agricultural Finance Corporation large-scale loans are very limited now. However, Government is doing all it can to bring back the position to normal as soon as possible.

The answer to part (b) is "Yes", but to part (c) of the question, the answer is "No".

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, does he realize that there are so many African farmers who have sold their pieces of land and property and thus rendered homeless, and therefore they have no other alternative but to await for the Agricultural Finance Corporation loan? Could the Assistant Minister tell us what immediate action he is going to take to help these people?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is no question of immediate action in the sense that this involves very protracted negotiations, and if these do not succeed, it means we will not continue with that programme.

Mr. Murgor: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, can he tell this House the reason why the interest earned by the farmers' money is not the same, or cannot be the same, with the interest the Agricultural Finance Corporation money earns? What is the reason for that?

Mr. Wanjigi: It is very simple, Mr. Speaker, Sir. The money that the Agricultural Finance Corporation holds from the farmers is not being invested in any way at all. It is a deposit against the purchase of land and, therefore, as far as the Agricultural Finance Corporation is concerned, it is idle money. The money that is lent to the farmers is for development and is so utilized.

Mr. Kahengeri: Arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, did he say that the funds are limited or did he say that they are exhausted; because we are told that there are no loans and therefore no applications are being considered? Is it because there is no money at all or is it that there is only money for a few people?

Mr. Wanjigi: I think I answered that question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ole Leken: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, we have learnt that in other areas where adjudication is being carried on loans are not going to be given to people until they hold title-deeds; now, what prevents those who hold these title-deeds from being given those loans?

Mr. Wanjigi: There is no reason why somebody who has a title-deed cannot get a development loan unless, of course, the proposals submitted by him are not convincing.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Assistant Minister and his Minister not reconsider giving back the deposited money that has already been paid by the farmers to Agricultural Finance Corporation instead of leaving it lying idle, as he put it, so that the farmers can make use of the money they initially deposited with the Agricultural Finance Corporation?

Mr. Wanjigi: I think that is a good question, Mr. Speaker. I want to explain that anybody who wants his deposit refunded back is very welcome to put his request to us.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since some farmers have deposited 40 per cent of the money required for land purchase, and realizing that they deposited this money with the knowledge that a particular farm had been advertised, will the Assistant Minister tell this House what steps he is going to take to ask the divisional land boards concerned to hold the farms which have been applied for by these farmers until such time that the Agricultural Finance Corporation money is available?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the hon. Member knows very well that we cannot hold somebody's property against his own wishes. If he wants to sell the farm to somebody else, there is no way by which we can prevent him from doing so.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question, Mr. O'Washika.

Question No. 20 (1226)

PROVINCIAL LABOUR OFFICER, KAKAMEGA

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Labour if he would tell the House why a Provincial Labour Officer has not been posted to Kakamega.

The Minister for Labour (Mr. Mwendwa): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Due consideration is being given to the establishment of a proper office at Kakamega. Delay has been occasioned by the lack of both office and staff accommodation. Additionally, Mr. Speaker, it is intended to maintain the Bungoma Labour Office, but this will be manned by a junior officer who in turn will be reporting to his senior officer at Kakamega.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of that bad reply from the hon. Minister, is he aware that Kakamega is the headquarters of Western Province and if he is, why does he not tell the House specifically when this particular headquarters will be constructed? In fact, Bungoma is a mere district.

Mr. Mwendwa: If the hon. Member was listening, Mr. Speaker, I said we have not posted a labour officer in Kakamega because there is no house for him to sleep in and there is no office for the staff. My Ministry is not actually in charge of building these offices at all; this is a different Ministry, and although I am not blaming that Ministry, when we get accommodation we will definitely post a man there. We cannot post a man there to go and sleep in the air or on a tree.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Does the Minister not agree that the population supposed to be served by this officer is suffering just because of lack of accommodation?

Mr. Mwendwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am aware that there are quite a number of problems which my officer can deal with at Kakamega if he is there, but I am in difficulties because I do not want to post a man there just to find that he has no house. There is nobody who is more anxious to post a man in Kakamega than my Ministry. As soon as accommodation is available, we will definitely post a man there. If the hon. Member can promise this House that if I send somebody to Kakamega tomorrow he is going to find accommodation for him, I will definitely do so.

Mr. Boy: Arising from the Minister's reply, since he realizes that there is a need to post a labour officer to that town, has he made any attempts so far to tell the Ministry of his colleague to put up buildings for accommodation so that he can post his labour officer there? Has he made any attempt?

Mr. Mwendwa: Yes, Sir, this has been done.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question, Mr. Cheboiwo.

Mr. Muturia.

Mr. O'Washika: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am rising to seek your guidance. The Minister has told the House that there are no houses available in Kakamega. In fact, Mr. Speaker, there are plenty of empty houses in a place called Rost Man. Why can't this particular officer be accommodated at Rost Man?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You cannot ask any more questions on this now.

Mr. Muturia. Mr. Kivuitu, then.

Question No. 37 (1254)

HOUSING FOR PARKLANDS WORKERS

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Minister for Housing if he would tell the House whether he considers the workers and ordinary residents, who are in the majority, of Parklands Constituency to be adequately housed.

An hon. Member: The Minister is not around.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Ministry of Housing?

The Assistant Minister for Housing (Mr. Bomett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, the answer is, "no".

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, why has the rectification of the position not been taken up by the Government?

Mr. Bomett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have, in fact, tackled this problem, although we do not tackle it on a constituency basis, but instead we face it as a problem that is facing the entire City of Nairobi. We have, for example, Mr. Speaker, Sir, a big programme going on an Aerodrom Road involving a housing scheme. We have also the Kibera Housing Scheme which is being done on a self-help basis, fully financed by the Government. We are planning a big extension in the Eastlands area where a lot of lower-income rent houses are going to be constructed. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are facing the problem; however, the only limiting factor as far as we are concerned is finance, but we have shown we are very much aware of the needs of the people.

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, which does not seem to be a written reply, considering that people living in a constituency like Parklands have to reside near there so that they can serve their employers adequately instead of travelling great distances if, for instance, they are staying in Kibera and other places he has mentioned, why has the Government never considered the possibility of putting up an estate around there for those workers who are there? How does the Government expect people to travel from Embakasi to go and start working before seven o'clock before the bwana goes to his work?

Mr. Bomett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if what the hon. Member has in mind is the accommodation for house workers and servants; it is the belief of my Ministry that landlords are duty-bound to provide accommodation—houses—for their servants since they are required every time to work in their houses. However, if it is for the other type of employees working in factories and things like that, we are tackling that problem as it affects the whole City. However, as I have said, I do appeal to the landlords to make sure that they have living quarters—when I say living quarters, I mean proper quarters—for their servants.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Assistant Minister has just said that employers are duty-bound to provide housing for their employees. Now, the question is: if the employers feel that they are not duty-bound, is our Government not duty-bound to provide houses for all citizens of this country, and also those living in that particular area with proper accommodation?

Mr. Bomett: I think, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is important that we speak the same language because I did not say that the employers are duty-bound to provide houses for all their employees; I was talking about servants who work in their houses as the hon. Member who raised this question put it. However, as far as the need for uses in this City of Nairobi is concerned, I have said that schemes are afoot, such as the one we see in our Aerodrom Road where houses are being built to meet the needs of those people whose salaries are not big enough. The same thing, Mr. Speaker, Sir, goes with those houses at Kibera, Moi Estate, Otiende Estate and many others. In fact, I have said that there is a big extension which is going to cover all the area around Mathare and all the other areas in the Eastlands. Therefore, we are very much aware of the situation, but the only limitation, as far as we are concerned, is finance.

Mr. Karungaru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is he trying to tell this House, or to create a feeling in this House, that these people, who are supposed to be housed, should only be housed in Eastlands or Kibera and Parklands area is reserved for a certain class of people but not for the indigenous people?

Mr. Bomett: It is far from that, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Question No. 45 (1262)

REPAIR OF ROADS IN KITUI EAST

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House whether the Government is aware of the fact that Eastern Kitui needs their own grader, one D. 4 tractor and one lorry permanently for repairing roads in the area.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Roads in Kitui East will certainly require more than one lorry, one tractor and one grader if they are to be maintained properly. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the problem is being faced all over the country. My Ministry is short of equipment and plant and that is why we have recently negotiated a loan of 12 million dollars to enable us to purchase enough equipment to be spread all over the country. For the moment, I do not see any justification whatsoever, or importance, why Kitui East should have special preference over the rest of Kenya. If a bulldozer or a caterpillar D. 4 is going to be stationed permanently in Kitui East, I do not see the reason why one machine of that kind should not be stationed in Kajiado North.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister not aware that even the Minister, himself, visited my constituency last month and witnessed that Kitui East has been neglected for a long time? In Kitui East there are a lot of impassable roads which do not even permit the Government officials' vehicles or the public vehicles to travel throughout that area. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Assistant Minister assure us that those areas which have been neglected will be given priority?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Chief Kitonga is asking for the moon because if there is any constituency that has been given more preference for the last 12 months, that is the hon. Member's Constituency, which is Kitui East. It was visited by one Assistant Minister from the Ministry of Works and my Minister just a month ago. We have done everything possible we can to help the hon. Member in developing roads in Kitui East—we cannot do more than we have done so far.

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, since he said that his Minister and one Assistant Minister from the same Ministry visited Kitui East, is he not aware that it is not a question of visiting but of what they are doing to develop the roads? This is what makes the hon. Member complain in this House. This is the question.

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we do not simply visit—that is myself, my Minister or another Minister—just to look around. We visit and give orders for work to be done.

Question No. 46 (1263)

HARAMBEE DAY IN ENDAU—KITUI EAST

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House whether the Government was aware that Endau people in Kitui East would like a Harambee day to be organized by the Administration in order to raise the money for finishing their health centre as had been done in other places.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The answer is "no". We are not aware of the hon. Chief's desire to have a Harambee day. Even if we were aware, Sir, I do not see how the Ministry of Health has anything to do with their desires.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister tell the House—perhaps he might not be experienced—why, in fact, his Ministry does not give the wananchi the necessary push since he knows that they have already started the health centre? Does he know that it is his Ministry's duty to give the push? If he does not understand what I mean, I appeal to his Ministry to give the necessary encouragement. Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not see what type of push the hon. Chief wants us to undertake. However, if there is any push to be undertaken at all, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is his big weight to initiate the push and not the Ministry of Health.

Question No. 50 (1270)

TAKE-OVER OF DISPENSARIES IN NORTH MUGIRANGO

Mr. Marita asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House when the Ministry was going to take over Nyamusi, Ibara and Entono Dispensaries in North Mugirango Location.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. At present there are no arrangements for the Ministry of Health to take over any new dispensaries or health centres until the staffing position improves.

Mr. Marita: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister tell the House when the position of staffing is going to improve? Also, Mr. Speaker, Sir, although these dispensaries in question were built and completed four years back they have not started to work; so will the Ministry consider it necessary to establish a Mobile Unit which will supply medicine to these people who are now suffering?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am surprised that the hon. Member is asking this question because during the recess I spent a considerable time with him touring the same health centres and we had a good discussion with him and I thought he had appreciated the discussion. However, now, it seems as if we had never talked about anything with him. Sir, as for the Mobile Unit, I think the arrangements are as we had arranged when we were with him in Kisii last month.

Mr. Muregi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of that reply from the Assistant Minister, where the hon. Member alleges that these dispensaries were built four years back, is it that the Ministry did not know that there were dispensaries being built four years back and as a result it has not been possible to have them opened up to now?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we did not know that they were being built. In fact, Sir, we were not consulted when they were being built so as to give them a guarantee that we would provide them with staff.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 54 (1278)

GOVERNMENT ASSISTANCE: KINYANGI SELF-HELP DISPENSARY

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House whether—

- (a) he could consider staffing and supplying medicine to Kinyangi Self-help Dispensary in Kinyangi Location which was built and completed by wananchi in Harambee spirit about one and a half years ago; and

- (b) he could fulfil a promise made to wananchi by the former Minister for Health in 1968, where he committed the Government to providing materials worth Sh. 20,000 for the construction of a maternity ward in the Kinyangi Self-help Dispensary.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) The opening of the Kinyangi Dispensary will be considered along with other dispensaries which have been built on a self-help basis.

(b) The Minister is unaware of the alleged promise and cannot, therefore, assist the hon. Member. In other words, Sir, the former Minister did not leave any promise on record anywhere that he had promised to give the money. Therefore, we are not aware of it.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that the Minister who visited the centre promised a gathering of people numbering 10,000, would the Assistant Minister tell me that this is not defaming Government Ministers?

Mr. Jahazi: The former Minister, Mr. Speaker, Sir, might have made a promise either personally or as a Minister, but as I have said, the present administration, which includes me and my Minister, has no record anywhere to show what promises the former Minister made on behalf of the Ministry. So I cannot say that the promise was made or was not made.

Mr. Karungaru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that reply, would the Minister appreciate that his Ministry is not declining its responsibility in that it is not capable of fulfilling what a former Minister had promised to fulfil, and that it is a high time the Ministry changed the system of forgetting promises made by its former Ministers? Also, Sir, it is now high time they fulfilled their promises.

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have no system of forgetting anything. If, Sir, the former Minister, perhaps through his personal friendship with the then Member of that area—I do not think hon. Wachira was a Member when the former Minister was a Member—as far as I and my Minister are concerned there is no such promise. As for the promises which the Ministry of Health gave wananchi elsewhere, we are fulfilling them.

Mr. Gatuguta: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think this is a very serious matter. There is a way in which the Government can use to determine whether the Minister made a statement or not. There is the Special Branch and other Government administrative officials. So, if a Minister of the Kenya Government made some promises and another Minister comes in to say that no promise was made because they have no record, such a situation creates confusion in the country; therefore, can the Minister assure us that once a Minister makes a promise, that promise will be fulfilled? Can he assure us that he is going to check from the machinery which already exists in the Government whether the Minister made the promise or not?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, before we decided to answer this question, we checked to dig out all the promises made by the former administration and we are satisfied that no promise was made by the Ministry of Health that Sh. 20,000 would be given to this area.

In any case, Sir, the policy of giving money to any individual project was discontinued as soon as we went in. So, even if that promise was made, it has been overtaken by events.

Mr. Nthenge: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, since we have now been told of two contradicting statements by two Members, one being a Minister and the other being a Back-bencher; could we know who, is right of the two.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Either case could be right. Next question.

Question No. 49 (1269)

PROMOTION OF TEACHERS IN THE COUNTRY

Mr. Marita asked the Minister for Education if he would tell the House—

- (a) the number of teachers who have been given merit promotion from 1963 to 1970 in all teaching grades in the Republic; and
- (b) the breakdown of the promoted teachers in provinces.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Mbai): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give the following reply. (a) It is not possible to provide details of teachers and tutors promoted on special merit during the years 1963 to 1967 since no records were kept and the teachers were not all in one register. However, since the establishment of the Teachers' Service Commission, information is available on this matter as given below for the period 1968 to 1970.

(b) The total number of teachers promoted in all grades is 150 during this period. Promotions by provinces are: Nairobi, 32; Coast, 9; Eastern, 34; North-Eastern, 0; Central, 24; Rift Valley, 26; Nyanza, 13 and Western, 12. The total is therefore, Sir, 150.

Mr. Marita: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, would he tell us the criteria which was used to promote these teachers who got this kind of promotion?

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, these teachers are promoted on special merit considering the experience the teacher has in the teaching profession and also the definite ability he possesses in this field. Therefore, Sir, after considering the two, a teacher is recommended for promotion and is then promoted.

Mr. Ziro: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I, myself, was personally a teacher. We have one teacher in Kilifi District, known as Mr. Kombe, who even taught hon. Ngala. That teacher has never been promoted since 1933. He can even lecture in a university. Why has this teacher, or the teachers who have been teaching efficiently in the district not been promoted since that time?

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have a procedure which we follow in considering teachers for promotion. The teacher himself must apply for promotion to the Chief Inspector of Schools, Inspectorate Section through his headmaster and the district education officer. When his application comes to our headquarters, it is then considered and examined to see whether he really deserves this special consideration.

If this teacher has been teaching all this time, he should have applied and I am sure our officers in the field would have given him the special consideration, if he deserved it, of course.

Mr. Ogero: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since there is provision for promoting teachers on merit, and there is another provision which has been introduced to promote teachers after they have studied hard, and observing that in so doing this has cost the parents a lot of money in that these teachers do their own studies rather than teaching the children during that time, would the Assistant Minister consider abolishing this provision of promoting the teachers by studies and instead promote them on merit alone so that they may spend more time in teaching?

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, no, Sir. The Ministry cannot consider abolishing the method of teachers studying on their own and getting promotion through academic reasons or achievements.

I do not agree with the allegation that the parents lose by way of teachers concentrating on their lessons and therefore, neglecting teaching the children. That is not correct. We have our field officers, the supervisors of schools, who keep on visiting schools and checking on the performance of teachers. I am sure if any is found neglecting his work he will be dealt with accordingly. In any case this does not happen. Therefore, Mr.

Speaker, we would rather like to give the teachers the freedom of studying and gaining higher grades through their own efforts. For those who deserve special consideration, but for some reason or the other, maybe, they cannot achieve this academic qualification to be considered for promotion, they also have the chance of being considered in this way.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us now go back to Mr. arap Cheboiwo's question.

Question No. 4 (1180)

EXPATRIATES EMPLOYED IN THE MINISTRY OF AGRICULTURE

Mr. Komen, on behalf of Mr. arap Cheboiwo, asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House—

- (a) whether it was true that there were still many expatriates employed in the Ministry;
- (b) the divisions in which those expatriates were working and how many they were; and
- (c) when they would finish their contracts so that the Africans could be offered those jobs.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. It is not true that there are many expatriates in my Ministry. There are only 170 specialists in the Ministry, found mainly in the technical field, where they will be retained for as long as their services are required by the State.

In view of what I have said above, I consider that (b) and (c) are redundant.

Mr. Komen: Arising from that answer from the Assistant Minister, and since the number is actually too high and yet we have qualified Africans who can take over these posts—they are qualified because they know the country better than some of these expatriates who were trained outside this country—is it not high time the Ministry employed Africans to occupy these posts so that they can do this work?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know whether I understood the question very well, but I would say it is not so much the question of one knowing the country only. If you want an engineer to deal with water he has to be qualified in hydrology, and the like. These are the fields that we call "technical fields", and most of the officers I have mentioned fall in that category.

Mr. Koigi: Can the Assistant Minister give us an analysis of the specific qualifications of these expatriates who are in the Ministry?

Mr. Wanjigi: I think, Mr. Speaker, that cannot be a serious question. I will have to take the whole time of the House to describe the specific qualifications of all these officers.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I think what Mr. Wanjigi means is this: to go through the qualifications of 170 people will take the whole afternoon.

Mr. Koigi: Mr. Speaker, we have been given that many times— You see—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order, that is out of order.

Mr. arap Chumo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, what is the Ministry doing to accelerate the training of Africans in these fields so that they can take over as soon as possible? What actually is the Ministry doing?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, I think the House ought to know that we have a very extensive training programme in all fields of agriculture, but it does take a very long time to have some of these people come out from the training institutions, that is, to qualify.

Mr. Kadir: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister tell the House what technicalities are required for a man to be in charge of buying animals as the Europeans are doing in the Ministry now?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sure that hon. Kadir from Isiolo knows very well that one of the most tricky things is to deal with the cattle traders in that area. If you are not good at that you lose a lot of money, not only for Government but for the country also.

Mr. Lenayiarra: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that answer, will the Assistant Minister inform the House why it is necessary to have a foreigner as the head of the Livestock Marketing Division and his deputy a foreigner also? What is difficult in buying and selling cattle? Can Africans not buy and sell them?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, I have just said that this is more of a financial problem. As far as we are concerned this is a programme that involves more than £1 million and we cannot just give it to somebody who has not dealt with livestock marketing before.

BOYS AND GIRLS EMPLOYED DURING 1968/70

Mr. Komen, on behalf of Mr. arap Cheboiwo, asked the Minister for Labour if he would tell the House—

- (a) how many boys and girls were employed in different fields between 1968 and June 1970 in the Republic;

- (b) what was the total number of those who had served or completed their contracts of two years and were still unemployed; and

- (c) what arrangements he had in mind to encourage more to be employed from such places as Baringo, Turkana, Masai, Samburu and so on.

The Minister for Labour (Mr. Mwendwa): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. My Ministry could not get the answer for (a) because it is confusing. Mr. Speaker, since it is not the duty of my officers to guess what the Member was talking about we failed to understand whether he meant school-leavers or those employed through a labour exchange. So we could not get any answer at all. Mr. Speaker, even if we were to guess what he meant this could require a complete team of officers to make a research to get the number of girls and boys employed in 1968, 1969 and 1970 in all fields. This is a complicated question, Mr. Speaker.

(b) I do not know what the Member means—it is difficult to understand the meaning because the question asks, "What is the total number of those who have served or completed their contracts of two years and are still unemployed?"

We could not understand what he meant. Since it is not our duty to guess what he meant, I have no answer to that.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have an answer to part (c) of the question. My Ministry does not take a particular district and make arrangements for that particular district alone. We have a method which is followed throughout the country. Therefore, the arrangement we have in Kiambu and Murang'a areas of employing people is the same as the one we have in Samburu, Masailand, Turkana and Baringo areas. When the students leave school, they go through the same system before getting employment.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Minister tell us what he cannot exactly understand about the people who are being asked about in part (b) of the question because they are the people who are unemployed and yet they had worked for two years before? Secondly, he says that he cannot know the people who have been employed in Marsabit, Masailand and the other places mentioned by the questioner; why does he not find out from the labour offices in the relevant places?

An hon. Member: We have no labour offices there.

Another hon. Member: Say you have nothing to add.

Mr. Mwendwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know whether the hon. Member knows what he is trying to ask me. What actually confuses us is that this gentleman is talking about people who served and who are still unemployed. If he is asking us to tell him the number of people who are working on temporary terms in different companies and who are, therefore, not permanent, perhaps, I could understand that; but not those who are on contract and still unemployed. I do not understand that English.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, do you not agree—I have been trying to understand the question, Sir,—with me that this question is beyond any comprehension at all and that the hon. Minister should be excused from struggling in endeavour to understand it?

Mr. ole Marima: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is more or less true that the Minister cannot understand the question which he has been asked, but it is also true that we cannot follow what his answers are. Kiambu and Nairobi, for instance, cannot be compared to the Turkana District or Samburu District where there are no labour officers. Therefore, when we ask for arrangements which are being made so that people in these areas may have equal chances of being employed, we know what we are talking about. We have no labour officers.

Mr. Komen: In pursuance to what the Minister has told us, Mr. Speaker and since there is no labour officer in such places as Baringo, as mentioned here, could the Minister tell us specifically what are the numbers of girls and boys who have been employed from Baringo through the Ministry of Labour? Those whom he knows, because he is telling us now—

An hon. Member: Answer the question.

Mr. Mwendwa: I said from the beginning that this needs research. If I was asked about those who have been employed through the Labour Exchange, then I could get the figures. However, the questioner asks about the number throughout the country, in all fields. My officers need six months to get the answer to this question.

An hon. Member: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No we are not going to waste time on points of order.

Mr. Muturia.

LAND CEILING IN THE COUNTRY

Mr. Muthamia, on behalf of Mr. Muturia, asked the Minister for Lands and Settlement to tell the House whether he would consider reducing, by 20 per cent, all the farms over 5,000 acres so as to enable both landless and squatters to have a piece of land and as a result solve the Government problem of providing these landless people with their own land to live on and enjoy life.

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Legally, it is not possible for the Government to deprive all owners of farms exceeding 5,000 acres in size of 20 per cent of their land without payment of full compensation. Therefore, the suggestion that such agricultural units should be reduced by 20 per cent is not a realistic one.

Secondly, I am sure the hon. Member knows that most farms which exceed 5,000 acres in extent are either plantations or ranches and are, therefore, by no means ideal for the settlement of landless people who wish to have agricultural land on which they may grow crops. Mixed farms of 5,000 acres or more are very few indeed and buying 20 per cent of all such farms would, in fact, secure very little land.

Thirdly, if areas of 1,000 acres and more were to be bought at widely distributed places throughout the country, the Government would be faced with an impossible administrative problem in trying to provide services and amenities which would make settlement on the land satisfactory to the people.

The Government is, instead pursuing a far more sensible approach by buying out complete agricultural properties, suitably grouped together, in areas where it is known that the agricultural potential is high and the people to whom the land is allocated will be able to make a reasonable living and at the same time enjoy social, health and other amenities.

Mr. Muthamia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Assistant Minister tell this House what plans he has for settling these squatters, or landless people, in the country, since he has refused the idea of land ceiling?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is generally known that my Ministry is embarking on purchasing farms for conventional settlement and also for squatter settlement.

Mr. Marete: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, and since we believe in African Socialism and do not believe in capitalism, can the Assistant Minister let us know exactly why there are people living in camps like prisoners—and the Government is always ready to admit that there are landless people—whereas we have some who have hundreds and thousands of acres or some square miles of land? Can he not reduce the size of these farms and provide these landless people with land if we believe in socialism and not capitalism?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: It is up to the Member, Mr. Speaker, to believe in what "ism" he likes but the Government has her own policy of African Socialism. At the same time, as I have said before, we are busy settling people. Again, we have to consider whether you need land for ranching because if you need land for ranching you need more than 5,000 acres. You cannot compare land for ranching purposes with land for growing miraa.

PERMANENT POST OFFICE MAUA, NYAMBENE

Mr. Muthamia, on behalf of Mr. Muturia asked the Minister for Power and Communications if he would tell the House—

(a) when he is going to build a permanent Post Office in Maua, which is Nyambene Division Headquarters;

(b) he would also tell the House when he is going to install telephone facilities in Maua Divisional Headquarters.

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) An investigation study was carried out in August last year by the Posts and Telecommunications authority with a view to supplying postal and telephone services in Maua and the surrounding areas. It was found that the demand for postal services is relatively low. In particular, the Maua sub-post office, which has been in operation since 1964, is still being subsidized, and the accounts for the last Financial Year show that the average monthly revenue was Sh. 120 while the expenditure at the same time was Sh. 340 per month.

As can be seen from the above facts there is not sufficient justification for the immediate consideration of building an expensive full post office. However, it is the policy of my Ministry to support and extend the postal services into the rural areas, and as such we will continue subsidizing them until a positive change is achieved.

(b) As regards telephone facilities in Maua, I wish to inform the House that the necessary investigations have been completed and plans are now underway to provide this facility during the 1971/72 Financial Year.

Mr. Muthamia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, while thanking the Minister for the answer to part (b) of the question, would he tell us what his Ministry is doing to encourage the people, or residents of that area, so they will use the postal agency which is there at the moment so they can be given a permanent post office?

Mr. Ngala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Ministry is now advising the hon. Member to do that job because it is his job to encourage and urge his people to make use of these postal services so that they can come to the grade where it will warrant a full post office. It is his job.

Question No. 3 (1179)

GOVERNMENT SCHOLARSHIPS—1967/69

Mr. Komen, on behalf of Mr. arap Cheboiwo, asked the Minister for Education if he would tell the House—

(a) how many students Government gave scholarships from 1967 to September 1969 to study abroad; and

(b) if he would give a breakdown to show how many came from each province.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Between 1967 and 1969, 553 Kenya students were sponsored by Government to study overseas.

The Government spent well over £200,000 on these students, over and above the money spent by the host government in the way of scholarships to students.

As I have on several occasions stated in this House, the selection of students is based entirely on academic merit and citizenship. No provincial or district breakdown is therefore possible.

The students were sent to well over 36 countries in Europe, Asia, America and Africa. As it would be unfair to omit any particular country, I have deemed it prudent not to give a list of these 36 countries.

Mr. Komen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer by the Minister, and according to where he mentioned that he does not give the breakdown according to provinces, since we did not ask for a tribal breakdown, is it not really in order for the Minister to give names or a few from Rift Valley because I do not know even of one student who has been given a bursary by the Ministry at the moment?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have said many times here that when a student applies, he may be from Rift Valley but may be residing with his father, brother or mother in Nairobi. We take the student from Nairobi when, in actual fact, he comes from Rift Valley. We find it very difficult to go back and ask them to tell us their home areas and where they applied from. This is practically impossible.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Minister not agree with me that when a student applies for a bursary he is always given forms to fill in and these forms stipulate the name of the student, his district and tribe? If that is so, is it not quite easy for the Minister to tell the House where these students come from, those who were awarded these bursaries.

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we ask them to tell us the names of their parents and where they reside but we do not ask them where they work.

Now, if the hon. Members wanted to know the places where the parents reside and where they come from we can give names of the parents' homes of origin but not of the students.

Mrs. Onyango: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Minister tell this House how many females have been offered scholarships for education abroad?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the gracious lady repeat her question, Sir.

Mrs. Onyango: How many women and girls have been offered scholarships for education abroad.

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the question of women—this is another question and I do not have figures classified in accordance with sex.

PROCEDURAL MOTIONS

LIMITATION OF DEBATE: PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS DEBATE

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

THAT, the debate on the Motion of Presidential Address be limited to a maximum of Seven Days with not more than ten minutes for each hon. Member speaking excluding the Mover in reply.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is merely a procedural Motion and I think we did the same thing during the last Session. I suggest this because we reckoned, when discussing this matter during the Sessional Committee, that if each hon. Member spends ten minutes speaking more than 100 hon. Members will be able to speak.

Therefore, this is a fair suggestion, and I would also urge the hon. Members to be precise when they stress their points of view during discussions, particularly on the Presidential Speech.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I do not have much to say other than to request the hon. Members to accept and approve this Motion.

I beg to Move.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku) seconded.

(Question proposed)

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to support the Motion, but I would like to make a few observations.

One of them is that I hope that the Leader of Government Business will tell the Ministers that the President mainly spoke on the Government's side and they should not interrupt very much when the Back-benchers are trying to make their points because that is the only way they can give their views on the speech.

At the same time I would also like to ask the Leader of Government Business to tell the Ministers, also, not to try and grab the time when we are discussing this subject because they have other places to go and where they can air their views. They do meet the President in other quarters, in the Cabinet and so on, and they can give their comments there.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I feel this is a chance for the Back-benchers to be able to air their views because the President spoke to this House, and he rarely does so and therefore we want to be able to comment and also give him our views. Mr. Speaker, it would be wrong if most of the time is given to the Government side.

Mr. Speaker, I feel it is very important that we, in the Back Benches and, as a part of the Government who normally do not have many chances of meeting the President as the Government should be given the chance to air our opinions.

The other thing I would like to mention here is that hon. Members speaking should always try and not hammer the points hammered by the former speakers but rather let two or three hon. Members specialize on one point and the other hon. Members specialize on the other points so that we do not have too much repetition but each point is covered.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

Mr. Kahengeri: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I rise to support the Motion, and I would like to start by saying it is very important that we have a limited time to speak in this House. Mr.

[Mr. Kahengeri]

Speaker, Sir, in front of us, there is a great volume of work that we have to do within this limited time. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is for the benefit of the country and the people who elected us to represent them in this House if we can have a reasonable volume of work discharged within our time. This is why we did a lot of business during the last Session.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, without wasting time, I beg to support.

Mr. Kivuitu: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move that the question be now put.

(Question that the Mover be now called upon to reply, put and agreed to)

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to thank the House, particularly the last speakers who spoke on matters which they felt that Government ought to take note of; one being that hon. Members should be given an opportunity to air their views. Mr. Speaker, this is accepted and I am sure that very few Ministers and Assistant Ministers will speak so that the opportunity may be given to Back-benchers in order to air their views.

With these very few remarks, Sir, I beg to move.

(Question put and agreed to)

LIMITATION OF DEBATE: PRIVATE MEMBERS' MOTIONS

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move:—

THAT the debate on Private Members' Motions should be limited in the following manner:—

A maximum of one and a half hours with not more than 20 minutes for the Mover, 20 minutes for the Government official responder and 10 minutes for each other Member speaking, and that 10 minutes before the time for expiry the Mover be called upon to reply.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, again, this is a procedural Motion. It is not a new thing because this is what we have been doing previously. However, Mr. Speaker, this being a new Session, after the House being prorogued, and now we are sitting again, these things have to be brought into light again. Therefore, Sir, I do not have much to say on this, other than to request the House to approve the Motion.

With these few remarks, Sir, I beg to move.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): seconded.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I would like to start by thanking the Mover of the Motion—the Vice-President. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to state today, in this new Session of the Second Parliament, that we are experiencing a lot of difficulties in our area at the moment as a result of drought. Mr. Speaker, we are here to bring the news to our Government about this drought. Mr. Speaker, this drought is making our people suffer a great deal and it is still going on and very severely too. Mr. Speaker, you hear about people and animals dying—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order, Mr. Araru. What we are doing here is that we are deciding on the limitation of time—how much time we shall allow for the general debate. It is in that debate where you can bring in what you are bringing in now. However, just now, we are dealing with the timing.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, I thought we were allowed to do this when you proposed the question. However, Mr. Speaker, I quite agree with the Mover on 20 minutes for the Mover and the 10 minutes for each Member speaking as was put in the Motion. Mr. Speaker, I appeal to the Mover of the Motion to give more time to the Back-benchers as he stated. If this assurance could be given by all the Members of the Front Bench, then we would have no difficulty in supporting the Motion.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, while supporting the Motion, I would like to make two points. This Motion relates to Private Members' Motions, which in the past, have taken place on Fridays. I sincerely hope that very soon we shall be able to alter the time because I do not think it is fair for Back-benchers to be given the very last day of the week when everybody is very busy running home. I sincerely hope it will be possible to alter this state of affairs so that we may have Wednesday as the Private Members' Day.

Secondly, Mr. Speaker, it is good to have a Private Members' Day, but it is a bit discouraging because very often the Government does not act on the Motions passed within this period. I hope they will not force us to appoint a Select Committee to inquire into the implementation or otherwise of the previous Motions. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I hope they will bear this in mind, and with these few remarks I support the Motion.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not intend to speak on this Motion, but I cannot see myself letting the hon. Member get away with what he has just said:

namely, that there should be a change in the usual manner of having the Private Members' Day on Fridays and have it on Wednesdays. The reason he gave is that Friday is the last day in our weekly Sittings and many hon. Members run away. Mr. Speaker, this is a very absurd thing because hon. Members are paid to be here, be it Fridays, Wednesdays, Tuesdays, Thursdays or whatever day it is. We should all be here and do our job and not rob the public of their money and then run away earlier on Fridays when we are paid for the full day. I am of the opinion, Sir, that that was a very flimsy excuse or reason for trying to switch from Friday to Wednesday. I am of the opinion, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that we should do everything here as we are told and earn our living justly and not run away earlier on Fridays before we do our full job because if we did this we would be robbing the public in broad day-light.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No! Order! I think we had better get this straight. The question of the day when Private Members' Motions come up is not really directly relevant here. It is quite a different issue, and, in fact, it is only something that can be done during the review of the Standing Orders. It is not something that can be discussed here. So, the quarrel is really uncalled for here, Mr. Shikuku.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support the Motion as it stands.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Now, as there is no other Member who wishes to speak I will put the question.

(Question that the Mover be called upon to reply put and agreed to)

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, once again I would like to thank the hon. Members for accepting this Motion.

While agreeing with the hon. Member for Butere, the Assistant Minister in the Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs, I feel that it is vital that hon. Members ought to be present all the time and devote their energies into studying what goes on in the House, and also be the watch-dogs of what goes on in the House. I also feel that it might be a good idea to substitute Wednesday as a Private Members' day with Friday. This, again, will be up to the hon. Members to make suggestions to this effect to the appropriate Committees when they are established.

With these few remarks I beg to move.

(Question put and agreed to)

LIMITATION OF DEBATE: MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT INTO RECESS

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

THAT, the debate on any Motion for the Adjournment of the House to a day other than the next normal Sitting Day shall be limited to a maximum of two hours with not more than five minutes for each Member speaking. Provided that, when the period of recess proposed by any such Motion does not exceed nine days, the debate shall be limited to a maximum of thirty minutes and shall be strictly confined to the question of the Adjournment.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is merely what we had before. It merely guides the House on how to handle a Motion for the Adjournment. It means that if it is a question of adjourning the House for more than two hours or so, the procedure to be followed is set. Therefore, there is no difficulty in this one, nor is there any amendment to the previous procedures.

Therefore, with these few remarks, I beg to move.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): seconded.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Now, as there is no Member who wishes to speak I will put the question.

(Question that the Mover be now called upon to reply put and agreed to)

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, since no hon. Member rose to speak I have nothing to add to what I stated before.

Again, I would like to thank the hon. Members for approving this unanimously.

With these few remarks, I beg to move.

(Question put and agreed to)

MOTION

THANKS FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

(First Day)

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

[The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs]

THAT, the thanks of this House be recorded for the exposition of public policy contained in His Excellency's Presidential Address from the Chair on 23rd February 1971.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, once again His Excellency the President in his Presidential Address stressed the need for unity in order to achieve those social and economic principles for which we all have to strive. While His Excellency the President was addressing this House he mentioned very many important points which will be experienced by the country between now and the next Session.

All of us should be very thankful to His Excellency the President for the way he has handled the affairs of our Republic and for the way he has promoted unity and a sense of security amongst our people. He has always stated in his speeches that if we are divided we shall fall and if we are united we shall stand. I wish to echo the same feelings, the same views to the hon. Members in this House: that they should not be shaken by external winds, nor should they be taken away by trivial differences. We have started well, and therefore, I would like to appeal to the hon. Members at this juncture to preach unity, since they are national leaders in our Republic. Tribal differences will not really help.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) left the Chair]

[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki) took the Chair]

I hope that we can settle these problems by showing that we hon. Members are united and loyal to our President and the Government.

I would like to thank the hon. Members for having worked very hard during the recess and for helping their constituents. There was nothing of great concern that was seen or heard that could destroy the image of the Government. If the hon. Members will continue to be united and work for the betterment of our people, Kenya will be a better place to live in. We should set an example to the wananchi. What we say, how we behave and how we move about is always watched by our people. We should demonstrate that we are above trivial matters, we are above petty problems and we are capable of dealing with the national problems.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, you have all along mentioned that this House is the supreme authority—Parliament. Therefore, since this Parliament is the supreme authority we should ensure we do not sink to a level where our people will wonder whether hon. Members are really setting a good example to the wananchi.

I am sure that the hon. Members will heed His Excellency the President's call for unity, which he himself has stressed from time to time at public meetings and at all the public functions he performs. I would like to appeal again, to the hon. Members here, not only—when I am speaking I am speaking for all—Ministers, Assistant Ministers and Members of Parliament. The best way to handle our problems in the Republic is not to be guided by rumours. Some people will die on the road believing in rumours.

An hon. Member: Where do rumours come from?

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): It should not come from you because you are more knowledgeable; you know how to handle the people and you know what to tell the people. However, if an hon. Member hears rumours and he then tells the ordinary man, "I also hear rumours." Where, or to whom can the ordinary man rely on to clear such rumours?

I wish to emphasize one point. The Government does not object to criticisms—genuine criticisms—which would put right certain things because this is a democratic country. However, I believe that criticisms which are uncalled for, or criticisms which do not really show that they are genuine criticisms, should not really be expressed in this House. I hope the hon. Members, having learned quite a lot during the past 12 or 14 months, are now knowledgeable and they are experts on the running of the affairs in this House. I congratulate them for having learned the procedure of this House within a very short time.

I have not much to say other than to thank the hon. Members—As I have said before, we should be united, loyal to our President and the Government and work for the nation building so that our country can see more and move forward in peace and prosperity.

With these few remarks, I beg to move.

The Minister for Labour (Mr. Mwendwa): Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. I take this time also to join my colleague, the Vice-President, in thanking the President for the way he has handled independent Kenya since we became independent up to this time.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have seen countries getting independence and we have seen countries collapsing; some through coups and other inability to balance their payments. Others are in the red all year round—year after year— Are we not grateful to the President for the way he has handled this country? Up to now Kenya is one of the two countries in Africa which are never in the red—Kenya and the Ivory Coast. The others are perpetually in the red. Kenya and Ivory Coast, these two countries are the only countries which are never in the red. This is because the man we call Mzee Kenyatta, is full of wisdom. He has tried his level best to lead this country. He has often advised us here, in this Chamber, and also outside the Chamber, and if we follow his advice I am quite sure that Kenya will stand as a good example of a country led by mature politicians, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

However, we would be wrong if we did not warn ourselves and question ourselves as to whether we are really helping our President in all the fields to maintain the stability he is trying to build. It is we in this Chamber, it is the civil servants at the top, who can easily spoil the good work the President has done for this country. When an individual fails to realize that he is a Kenyan—and that his stomach feels the same with somebody else's stomach when it is hungry, and that school children from a tribe which is not his, when they do not go to school would feel the same as his own; that a loan which is needed for a trading business is just important when it goes to a man who is not from his tribe, someone, else, to develop the country—when we forget these things, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we are destroying the very stability which the President is trying to build.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if every hon. Member would remember what is said in our National Anthem, I do not know what it says in English, but in Kiswahili it says: "Haki ndio ngao na mlinzi."

When justice is followed, then you have the proper protection. But if there is no justice in anything you do— You may have guns, you may have ammunition, you may have bombs, but a human being is queer. When he is troubled he is never afraid of a bomb; he is never afraid of any ammunition. Have we not seen America fighting with a small country which is determined to fight? This is because they feel they are dissatisfied. It is not only America: we have seen a big country like Russia and so on fighting with a small country like Israel where people are determined to die.

I say this because the strongest weapon we can build Kenya with is nothing but "love". There is no other weapon. If we use this equipment,

"love", which our President has tried to use himself, although we do not give him the full support because of kichinichini all over the place, in giving loans and doing all funny little things — If when in my office, I am trying to give people employment, I only look after the people from my tribe because I think that they are the ones who tend well in Kenya— This is destroying the country which Mzee has worked for all these good years to build.

Thank God! I am standing here to thank him and I appeal to you, gentlemen, to help this good old man by using the equipment called "love"; by refusing to be called a Kamba, Kikuyu, Kalenjin or Luo and insisting on being called Kenyan—

An hon. Member: Are you serious?

The Minister for Labour (Mr. Mwendwa): I am very serious, and God knows that I am serious. You can check my deeds, I mean exactly what I say. To me a Kikuyu, a Kamba or a Luo are equal. If you like you can check. This is the appeal I am making to you hon. Members in this honourable House. Let us help Mzee by showing love in everything we do.

Our civil servants, too, can do a lot of damage to this country by doing kichinichini— putting their fellow men to be chairmen of this and that—which Mzee does not know. And by so doing, he is not helping Mzee. In fact, he is the biggest enemy of the very man we are now helping called Kenyatta.

Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Migire: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for allowing me to address the National Assembly on the Presidential Address this afternoon.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, what I would like to say is that it is always easy to say that we can be united; but, we cannot. We cannot have unity unless we are prepared to work for it. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think it is my duty as a representative for Mbita Constituency to tell the Government some of the mistakes which I think the Government has been making in this country.

The first thing to begin with, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is that the President has not told us, in his Speech, why the school fees have been increased in this country. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have to help the members of the public. It is the duty of the Government to assist members of the public. We know that our people are poor and we know that we have people at home who are not working and who have not worked for the last 10 years. However, when we began the year we were told that a small child who is beginning school in Std. I will pay over Sh. 77 as well as the child who is in Std. VII. They will be paying the same thing. Now, what a situation is this? Are we now helping the public or are we delaying them?

However, at the same time, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we expect the Minister for Education to give us a plan on what his Ministry is intending to do about the free education which Kanu had promised this country some years ago. This is because nothing has been done up to now. How do you expect us to work as a bridge between the people and the Government in this country, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir? We must be specific and state the facts. Now, how do you expect co-operation from the Members of Parliament, and even from the members of public, if we are not doing anything good for this country?

We know that we, Africans, marry many wives and this is our custom; we have the right to do it. We have many children as a result of many wives. Now, what are we going to do with our children? Are we going to let them stay at home without sending them to school? The Government is increasing the school fees and at the same time the Government has not even told us how it is going to maintain the schools. However, here we are told that there is a plan for working out the educational policy. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am asking the Minister for Education to come forward clearly and tell us what his plans are because, in fact, the public is complaining. The public is saying that the Colonial Government was a little bit better because the school fees were low and now our own Government has increased everything.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it was last year when we began this Parliament. When we began the Parliament, I appealed to the President that we were not satisfied with the appointment of the Ministers. We have several districts in this country. There are about eight or ten districts without a single Minister, and yet you find that there is one district which, perhaps, has about five Ministers. Why is it being done like that? And this district, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir—

An hon. Member: Because they contribute more money.

Mr. Migure: Also they contribute kodi. And one district with several Ministers who earn money for these districts; how do you expect unity and co-operation from other districts? For example, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I come from South Nyanza District, another person comes from Narok District and another one from Nyeri District, and each one of us would like to have a representative in the policy-making body of this country. If you told him that he had no right to have a Minister, then, how can you expect co-operation from that person, Sir? Do you want to tell me that when we were fighting for political independence in this country people from Nyeri District had no freedom fighters to fight for this country? Is this what the Government is telling us?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we want the President to review his Cabinet and, if possible, reshuffle his Cabinet this month so that other districts which are not represented can also be represented. We cannot have a Government which is telling us things which are not practical at all. We are asking the President to tell us because he has not even told us in his Presidential Address to this House why some other districts are not being represented in the Cabinet. I hope that the Government is going to take note of this.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is no need for pretending that things are right when they are not right. I would like to say that because of this unfair distribution of representation in the country, this is an invitation to revolution which has been happening in other countries. This thing can also happen in Kenya. Therefore, when you talk of revolutions, people think that Kenya is perfectly clear and everything is all right and there can be no revolution in this country. But, I am warning the Government that unless there is a fair distribution of representation in this country, there will be no co-operation at all even from the members of the public. They will always be singing and singing, and what they say is quite different. Therefore, I think that Mzee has done his level best and that is what I appreciate. However, he has to do more. He has to give us also Ministries. Why should some districts have more Ministers?

Now, the other thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is about the employment of teachers. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is quite unfortunate because I do not see how somebody can be brought from Central Province or from Kajiado to go and teach a Standard I child in South Nyanza District; or how somebody can be brought from Homa Bay to go and teach a Masai child who is in Standard I or who has just gone to school. How do you expect such a teacher to be able to teach such a child?

Mr. Mutiso: This is very serious.

Mr. Migure: This is very serious, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. We know that for secondary school teachers this is all right because they are on a national basis. However, you cannot expect my son, who is only five years of age, to be taught by somebody else who is coming from another district and who does not even speak the same language with my child. Is the Government telling us that we do not have enough teachers in Kajiado or in Nyeri who can teach children in Kajiado and Nyeri who are beginning school? We do not want this question of importation of teachers, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. We do not want it, and we object to it in toto. I think something is going to be done and it does not matter whether somebody is thinking that he is doing it because he is in authority. But, I say that if I am wrong, one of these days history will put me right. However, I say that it is wrong because you are discouraging our children from going to school and we are complaining a lot. Why should we import some teachers to come and teach us? You take them to secondary schools. And, moreover, they are not even qualified. They are not trained teachers. We do not want a Kenya whereby the Government is doing things to create employment for other people and yet we have Standard VIII pupils in South Nyanza District, in Kajiado and in Kirinyaga who are looking for employment. We want to utilize these boys and we do not want somebody to bring us teachers who cannot even talk to Standard I boy because he does not know the vernacular language. We are not English people so that my child can be taught English language first; we are Africans. We want our children to start with their mother tongues because I must be proud of my mother tongue. Therefore, in this case, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we are asking the Minister to review the policy. They must review the policy.

Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I come to the question of our foreign policy. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I appreciate what His Excellency's Government has done about Uganda. However, we want the Government to tell us whether they have recognized Uganda or not because they have not told us anything. I appreciate the fact that Mzee has never interfered with anybody because I do not think that it is the duty of Kenya to interfere with other countries' affairs. It is up to the Uganda people to decide who is going to be their President; it is not up to us here in Kenya to go there and decide for them. If we think that our Government is not doing well, then, the people in Kenya have the right to stage a revolution. There is nothing wrong. Therefore, in this case, we want the Government to tell us frankly, whether they have recognized Amin or they have not recognized him because we regard Amin as one of the best African revolutionists in Africa. Therefore, we want the Government to tell us what they are thinking about Amin.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the other thing which I would like to state—

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member had better say that he recognizes Amin as one of the best African revolutionist rather than saying "we" because some of us may not be recognizing him.

An hon. Member: Why? Why?

Mr. Migure: The other thing which I would like to say is that the people who are getting citizenship, we do not want people like Bolton to apply today and then they get it tomorrow. The Minister for Home Affairs must revoke this, and if he does not do it we shall investigate the matter.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to speak on the Presidential Address. First of all, I would like to thank the Father of our nation for giving us his Speech which was quite reasonable and one which laid emphasis on development.

However, Sir, I was quite surprised when I was listening to his Speech— I was listening very carefully but I never heard anything about the drought which has hit our people in northern Kenya, including many other parts of Kenya.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, let us speak the truth—that is what I say every day in this House—Kenya must enjoy the same equality, all parts of Kenya. We should not live in this City enjoying having water—clean water—sprayed on the grass and, gardens whereas some human beings are dying in another corner of the county. In this very House, Sir, I see somebody spraying water on the grass! I feel as if I would cry when I see this water being sprayed on the grass!

I tell you, my colleagues, if today you drive from Isiolo to parts of North Horr or parts of Moyale, in a place called Galgalu, I tell you, you will pray a hundred times to God, and say, "God, bring us water!", about a hundred times. What we would like to be told by the Kenya Government—it is a Republic and we are seven years old—why in some parts of the country our people are dying because of lack of water. We have a lot of water from Mount Kenya and all the water from the Tana River is just pouring into the sea without anybody thinking what could be done with such water.

[Mr. Araru]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, when we came here on 17th or 20th January, I and some other Members of the North-Eastern Province cried to the Government and gave a picture of the situation there. However, somebody sitting here in Harambee House, who is enjoying his life, who has never been out of Nairobi, denied this and said there were no difficulties and that there were no people dying there; he cannot even recognize a drought. However, what happened— After only two weeks, after people had died and the animals were almost finished, Government then came out saying, "Oh, yes, there is a drought, Red Cross and everybody, offer something!" What is this— Is this how we guard our people? Do we guard people when they are dead or when they are alive? What is the use if people have already died and that is when you come to help? They have already died and even if you bring a hundred times that amount of maize, rice or ghee, they cannot come back to life again. What is the use of that now?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, there are some people— as one of the Ministers of this Republic said here today—sitting in some of these offices here who are the enemies of political leaders of this country. Let us remind them that if it were not for our politics, they would not be enjoying what they enjoy now in the offices especially, when it is we ourselves, who are making laws for them. When we give these laws to them, they enjoy life under these laws and enforce them and sometimes when we make these laws, they never enforce them as we make them; they change them in the way they like. Whatever we say, somebody will always deny it; they cannot say it is the truth. This is what happened last year: when Western Province Members of Parliament cried for maize, somebody told us, "Oh, there is plenty of maize everywhere", and some hundreds of bags were even photographed in the newspapers. After only one week, there was no maize and the Government came out to admit they were importing maize from other countries. That is what we were told.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, let us tell these people not to forget that they are merely employed. We have brought about their promotion; we have made them what they are, to deal with the offices. These days they are trying to have political arguments with us in the newspapers; in fact, these days they have become just like politicians. This is what we say: if anything happens here, as in other countries—one of my colleagues said, even revolutions which are occurring in Africa are mostly brought about by civil servants. They are cooking up a revolution in this country because they know everything. They say, "Why, the Minister did this, and I will do it also; somebody did this and I will do it also: that is why I am here." However, let me tell them this: Mzee spent 11 years in Lodwar and he nearly died there. Did any civil servant go to Lodwar? Did anybody send them to prison? Let them tell us whether any of them struggled for Uhuru, if any of them has any certificate. There are so many politicians today, when at least an African should be free like an African in an independent country but some of the leaders who even fought for Mzee are today in prison because of political affairs. How many civil servants were sent to prison for political reasons?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, we want respect; let us respect each other. Let us not say, "Well, because somebody has done this, I will do it also"; just because somebody else did it. If somebody does something bad, you should pray God and say, "Let God help me not to do as he did." Leave him alone. You should not spoil your country because you happen to be in that position. You have to watch the public; you have to guard against involving yourself in politics.

When a Minister goes there— Everyday, these days we find civil servants complaining about us through the newspapers of this country, that Members of Parliament have a big salary which is not taxed. They went so far on our salaries just because our salaries as politicians were shown in the newspapers. Let the Government come out with everybody's salary in the newspapers and then we will know how much everyone of them gets. Some of them have even built houses— Yes! Some Permanent Secretaries in this country have built some beautiful houses or bought all the colonialists' houses in Milimani, and when a Minister goes to them, because he is a politician and not a civil servant, he is told, "Sir, welcome, Sir, there is a very nice house I have found for you in Milimani here", then the Minister says, "Thank you very much." He just goes in because he is tired because he might just have come from the campaign whereas that house belongs to the Permanent Secretary himself, he is—

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker. I would hate to interrupt the hon. Member but it will be very interesting, Sir, to know whether there are civil servants or Permanent Secretaries who own buildings and rent them to Ministers; could we be told?

Hon. Members: Shame! Shame!

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order!

Mr. Araru: You should not interrupt me. Let the Front Bench give us our chance. This is our time, we Back-benchers. Even the hon. Vice-President agreed on this, and told our Member for Butere, who has now been twice elected, to listen to me carefully. I have only been elected once and, therefore, he is more senior than I am, and he should give me time.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I am saying this quite clearly: let the Government today publish everybody's salary since our salary was attacked and we only ask this: what sort of life do we expect when we are in this House? We have no pensions, no leave, we do not have house allowances, we have no security and we have no chance of being involved in corruption, by which most of the people of this country become rich and particularly civil servants.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, what then do we have? The Government has not come out to say anything about this. Even so, this Bill was not brought here by Members; it was not a Private Members' Bill. It was a Government Bill brought to this House because the Government realized what Members need. However, we were surprised when we saw that this affair was criticized by civil servants. Nobody from the Government came out to comment on it and explain to them; it was a shame, particularly when this House was prorogued. If this House was meeting, we could have dealt with them, just as I am doing now.

I am appealing to the Government to publish everybody's salary, every chairman in this country, all civil servants, including Permanent Secretaries; all their allowances, everything they get should be published so that the public can see it.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, because of these reasons, I want to say that quite clearly; we have to get our own share and our money, particularly we, Members of Parliament who belong to the wananchi. Everywhere I go in Kenya, I meet Moyale people or any other person who knows me, they come to me and say, "Hon. Araru, I have no food." Then I put my hands in my pocket, what I have there I give to him. We are told by our Mzee, that any leader who has not done anything for himself, whoever he may be is not a leader. Everybody, and particularly the civil servants, are aware of this. We are building Harambee hospitals, Harambee secondary schools, Harambee primary schools and Harambee nursery schools for their families, Mr. Deputy Speaker. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, these people are just here blaming us.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, with those few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Wabuge: Thank you very much, Mr.

Deputy Speaker, for giving me this chance. In the first place, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to thank His Excellency the President for his Speech and having said that, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to make a few remarks.

First of all, about unity, Mr. Deputy Speaker. This question of unity has been preached now and again in this country but it has never been put into practice. How can one go on preaching unity when the ruling party is not functioning at all? How can one expect us to unite when Kanu is not operating? You can only tell people to unite under one political party. But, here we are being asked to unite just in a vacuum. Under what? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as far as I know, in this country, anyone who preaches unity is just having day dreams because any moment something could happen and when something happens, it will take years to get everybody in this country to come together. This is because we have a party known as Kanu but it is not functioning. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, anyone who wants unity in this country, the first step he must take is to organize the party. Let him organize the party and let the party have more say in the affairs of the country, not leave it to the civil servants or to provincial commissioners who are now becoming small kings in the provinces; not to leave it to the district commissioners who are now becoming small lords in the districts. How can you expect unity to come about in such a situation? How can you expect unity to come about, Mr. Deputy Speaker? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this is done purposely. It is done purposely because some of the people who feel that they are going to be next president of this country are afraid that when there is a very strong and organized party, they may not have that position at all. Therefore, what they want is to disorganize the party advising Mzee Kenyatta that "Oh! Mzee this is what we want and this is what we want", so that, one time, possibly they will use their money to buy people's votes. But, to their regret they will shed crocodile tears without having anything at all, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, people talk of unity. How can you expect to have unity when someone is sitting on your head telling you that "Let me stay here and let us walk. By you letting me sit on you, it means unity." How can you expect that, Mr. Deputy Speaker? You will go on preaching about unity but he who is being sat on will one day say, "No, I am tired." You will fall down. Where will you be? Possibly you will break your neck. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, anyone who wants unity in this country must first of all organize the party and secondly he must be above tribalism. This is because—and I will say it here, Mr. Deputy Speaker—the President we have is a man who is above tribalism. But, the trouble is this: the people around Mzee or the so-called “Inner Cabinet” are the ones who are letting this country down. Some of them, Mr. Deputy Speaker, behave as if they were private secretaries to Mzee. We have Mr. Mathu as the President’s Private Secretary. When Mzee is in Mombasa, let them tour my constituency. Let them come and see what people want but not that every time wherever Mzee is, they are there. Wherever Mzee is they are there, Mr. Deputy Speaker. What are they looking for when the country is waiting to see them? If you ask a person in the village, “Who is the Minister for Administration?” They will not tell you who he is, Mr. Deputy Speaker, because they have never seen him. They cannot tell you who he is, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, the first thing is that we must have a proper organization of the party and tribalism should be done away with. People talk of a certain tribe and I sympathize with that tribe. This is because a small clique in that tribe are the people who are causing all the trouble and as somebody said, when you have one rotten potato in a basket it spoils the whole lot. I feel this is very serious, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as far as Foreign Affairs is concerned I want to say this: people speak about recognizing Uganda. I do not think we can recognize Uganda because we have no diplomatic relations with that country. What I want to say here is this: the East African Community is not Mzee, is not Nyerere or for that matter Amin or Obote but it is the people of East Africa. Therefore, whoever goes away, it does not mean that that will be the end of East African Community. If anyone feels the East African Community is there because he is there and the moment he goes then it breaks up, then I must say that it was a false marriage and as such, it should go. The sooner it goes the better. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, when we want unity in this country it must not be the unity of Wabuge because he is the President. No, it is unity of East Africa because the people in the village are the ones who want that unity.

An hon. Member: You are experienced. You have been a President.

Mr. Wabuge: And soon or later I am going to be.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, let the East African Community be there. Whether Dr. Obote is not there or not, the Community must be there. If anyone says that we do not want to have the East African Community because Dr. Obote is not there, then we tell him, “Well, that was the reason why our fellows were being sacked in Uganda.” If that is the reason, then the sooner we break the better and we know where we are. At some time, the people of East Africa themselves, who have the genuine unity of East Africa will form a good and proper East African Community.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I want to say something here about our Government. As far as the local man is concerned or the people in the village are concerned, they say our Government is full of lies. Every time there is a statement, “Oh, there will be free education, free medicine, remission of school fees or bursaries”, but this is never implemented. The other time Government said that people will only pay Sh. 24 in form of graduated personal tax. Now, where is it? It is going up and up. Now, people ask us, “What is this?” How do you expect me, as a Member of the area to answer such a question? The Government tells me that I must explain to people but when I explain to people the truth, they say Wabuge is not supporting Kanu, Wabuge is not supporting Government. If I do not support Kanu, if I do not support the Government, where am I? Am I not in Kenya? I am in Kenya, we have one party, we have one Government and we have one country and therefore, automatically, I support. But, I am criticizing what goes wrong. I have told the people leading the Government they are not angels. They are human beings and are subject to making mistakes and as such, they are subject to correction. They should accept these corrections when they are put to them.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I happen to represent an area which is full of poor people. You will find that a family has about five or ten children who are supposed to go to school but because of school fees, these children are not getting education at all. Now, my question is this, does Government really want to educate the children of this country who will be the future leaders of this country? If so, why can Government not devise ways and means whereby all these children who come from poor families get education? They can get education if Government has no money for free education for all in the way of giving remissions and bursaries. If that is done, then everyone will see that the country or the Government has the sympathy of the people of this country.

Also, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir—

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my time is up and with these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Karungaru: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker. I will also like to speak on this very important Motion regarding the Presidential Speech. Sir, it is true that there are a lot of things to be put right and I think it is also true that a lot of other things have already been put right. However, Sir, we are, now, like people who are hunting for game but do not know where this game is. Sir, some of us have already noted what is wrong in the whole of Africa and, indeed, Kenya is not in isolation. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it appears that the members of the Civil Service do not pay attention to whatever the politicians advise them to do. The duties of the members of the Civil Service are well known and the duties of politicians are well known. Now, you find a Minister is responsible for policy making and it is a duty of the civil servants to implement that particular policy. But what do we see, Sir? What we see is that it appears as if there was a gentlemen's agreement which was reached between members of the Civil Service and the colonial masters who left this country.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this appears to be so because whatever the political Government's policy may be it is not possible for the civil servants to implement that policy. I fail to understand why this happens. Sir, the new colonial imperialists are having possible ways of coming back to re-colonize Africa through the use of simple methods over civil servants. If not civil servant— You know, Sir, when the members of the public get annoyed, what happens is that there is always the truth of finding the scapegoat. Many times, the politicians who are absolutely independent are subjected to being the scapegoats and in many cases, they end up in detention camps under a Government which has no valid mandate to take over from a political Government. This must be corrected and be corrected in time. A situation like this, gentlemen, is not a situation that we can all laugh at. It is a bitter situation and it must be arrested and arrested in time.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, many times we have seen members of the public being arrested without any reason whatsoever. They are arrested under the pretext that they have committed the crime of being drunk and disorderly. Sir, if somebody is really accused of such a serious crime and no doctor has been consulted, this is really a method of creating anarchy in the country because what is aimed at is that we make the members of the public annoyed, as a result of which they will be annoyed and they will have no confidence in the Government. A situation like this one of arresting people wholesale under the pretext that they are drunk and disorderly should be stopped and be stopped in time.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, history teaches us that it repeats itself. We do not want this country to continue with rumour mongers because there are some if not a section of the people, who are capable of creating rumours which are unfounded only to find that if you try to follow up the paths of where some of these rumours have come from, you just do not find the source. In most cases, these rumours come only when the House is expected to meet. This—and I am saying it during the day—must be checked and checked thoroughly. Anyone found doing that, please, this man is worth being put where others are not put and where others should not be put, because this is not a lover of this country. He is a person who is creating hatred in this country in order that this country may enter into chaos. Gentlemen, we are all politicians. When there is any chaos in a country, the first person to become a victim is a politician. I, therefore, warn those concerned, if they are politicians, to stop preaching their gospel because their gospels have no philosophy whatsoever, and this must be arrested. I will call upon the Government to work through, tooth and nail, and make sure that whoever is concerned is brought before justice so that justice may prevail.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, time and again, when we speak in this House we are told, "Oh, some of these fellows are controversial." We can be controversial because if whatever we say today is not given a hearing, it does not mean that tomorrow we will not say what we are saying today. It will be repetition of what we are saying and that will be psychologically accepted. We want to make sure that whatever we say in this House has a place for implementation.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, we have so many people in this country who are unemployed and who are going with empty bellies but the foreigners and other people are not suffering the same. It is a great shame for us to continue importing goods which we are also producing in this country. It is a great shame and we only end up in finding that our people have no employment. Are we really being sincere? Many people talk about Mr. Enoch Powell when he says that he does not welcome new foreigners like the Asians and the rest to go to Great Britain. I think Mr. Enoch Powell speaks the mind of the people of Great Britain. He speaks about the English national language. Now, I am speaking the language of Kenyans; I am not going to speak the language of foreigners because I have not been employed for that. I have been employed to speak and protect our own nationals because if our nationals have no confidence in us these foreigners will not come and help us at all. It is only we ourselves who will struggle with our own problems and these people will be sitting on the fence just laughing and saying, "Look at these demagogues; they are defeating themselves." Sir, we must be careful. We do understand that this state of tribalism is going on in the country. But, Sir, if we have never heard of a person who has been arrested by the Government for promoting tribalism, who can believe that this kind of a thing is going on? It appears that this kind of philosophy has been—by nature—accepted. If it has been accepted—this is what I have to say—then, there is no reason why we should invite it in a form of spreading the gospel of tribalism. Let it disappear on its own route because no one is interested in uprooting it.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, we hear that there are members who are championing the idea of how it can be arrested but they have not told us how we can arrest it because many, many of these people who are saying so may be promoters of the same. These people might be the promoters of the same thing. It is easy for us to say that situation can be arrested, but we shall not be able to provide a method or a formula on how it can be eliminated. If it is to be eliminated, then all the jobs should be distributed to people through the Ministry of Labour. At the same time there should be no personnel officer in any firm or any company allowed to recruit without the consent of the Ministry of Labour or we may ask the assistance of the Special Branch if it is not possible to get the help of Criminal Investigation Department so that we can make sure that jobs are offered to people on merit, but not on favouritism. If we are not going to do that, but we pretend that we do not know that this kind of thing is existing, then we shall only be cheating the nation. In that case, we shall not be sincere to our people.

With these few remarks, I beg to support the Presidential Speech.

Mr. Lenayiarra: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I rise to support the Motion and at the same time thank His Excellency, the President for his wonderful Presidential Speech which was delivered in this House last Tuesday.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have a very serious problem in our country right now which needs very serious and full attention of the Ministry concerned. This problem is as a result of drought. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, very many parts of the country have missed rain for almost a year up to this time or even more. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, in these parts, for instance, in Samburu District and other parts in the country we have livestock as the only means of livelihood of the people. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, these cattle have now died. In Samburu District today two-thirds of our cattle have died and we do not have anything else. The surviving cattle, Mr. Deputy Speaker, are so thin and weak that they cannot produce milk or meat and there is nobody who would like to buy them if we were to sell them.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, therefore, as a result of that now the bigger part of our population, let us say 75 per cent of our people, have to get food from somewhere else so that they can survive. I am very sorry to say, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that the necessary co-operation or assistance from the Government has not been forthcoming as it should. I have tried to make several appointments with the authority. I have seen the Provincial Commissioner in his office several times and I have come to Nairobi here to see the Permanent Secretary trying to explain to him about this problem. However, I am very sorry to say, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, very little has been done so far. I say it is very little, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, because today the allocation of maize or posho which is given to Samburu District is only 300 bags to feed over 50,000 people for a month. This is too little, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have seen very many droughts, in the past, but I have not seen such a negative attitude from the Government. What is the Minister doing? I have not seen him moving around to see what is happening. Why is it that when we report this matter to the people concerned, that is, the provincial commissioners, or the permanent secretary we are taken lightly? Why does the Government want to pretend there is nothing wrong in the country or as if people are not dying? What can save people from dying if they have no food to eat? People are dying. Cattle have died and now people are dying. What is the Government doing to help people because I have seen people dying in Samburu?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I take this opportunity here to make one more appeal to the Government and to the Minister who is here so that he can know that people are dying of hunger. There is a very big famine in the country and especially in Samburu District. In this area there is no water in some parts. Although this is the case, I have not seen anybody trying to provide water in these parts.

[Mr. Lenayiarra]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if this Government is interested in my people in that part of the country, that is, people who are living in the Northern Frontier District, in Samburu District, Turkana it should make arrangements right now to provide them with food. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I happen to have met some of the representatives of some of the voluntary organizations here, like the Red Cross, the Freedom from Hunger and others and I have learnt that they are complaining of the same attitude of the Government.

The Government is not prepared to tell these organizations that people are suffering and ask them what should be done to remedy the situation or from where they will get money to help the people. Mr. Deputy Speaker, is this not really surprising? Is it because people who are in authority are earning salaries here and they are rich people and very well-off people? Then, if that is the case, should they not know that other people's lives are dependent on what the administration does?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am sure that His Excellency the President does not know that this thing is happening. I think this is the reason why he did not mention it in his Presidential Address because this is a serious problem and it is affecting more than half of the country, that is, half of Kenya. I leave this to the Minister, Sir—the hon. Koinange—who is seated here so that he can go and think of what he can do to try to save the lives of people who are dying.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have another point which I would like to mention and which also was mentioned by His Excellency in his Presidential Address. This is about the introduction of the Educational Boards on district level. This is most welcome, Mr. Deputy Speaker, because it is important that we should have a say—that is the local authorities—in the running of schools. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is one thing which took place and it was mentioned by one hon. Member here. This is about the increase of school fees. In my own district last year a day scholar paid only Sh. 50. This year they are required to pay Sh. 72. This is an increase of Sh. 22. Last year, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, a border paid Sh. 90, but this year the amount was doubled. A border today pays Sh. 180. Now this means that a child who goes to a boarding school this year is required to pay Sh. 272 while last year they paid Sh. 140. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we are having these difficulties which I have just explained before, that is, drought, the fact that people have no healthy cattle now which they can sell. Then how can we afford to pay these fees? I made a special journey from home to come and see the Minister in Nairobi here and he said that it was agreed that the school fees should be standardized throughout the country. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, with whom did he agree? That is the question. With whom did he agree to do that? When the schools were under the county councils, the local people used to say that the people in these county councils' areas can pay so much as school fees. Now when the schools have been taken over, how did the Minister come to a conclusion that all school fees should be doubled? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I also appeal to him to reconsider his stand because this is going to discourage children from going to school in my part of the country. I am sure, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, at the moment they have not asked for school fees because of the drought but as soon as they ask for the school fees I know that all the children—all the Samburu children—will leave school. It is because they have no money. I am sure, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if the fees are reduced to the amount which they used to pay in the past, they would try. However, we have reached a point of asking the Government to give free education in that part of the country because we do not know when the rains will come and at the same time we do not know how many head of cattle will be alive when the rains come. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that is another very important point which the Minister for Education should take very seriously and therefore, we look forward to hearing from him soon.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, another important thing which was mentioned by the President was the—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! Your time is up.

Mr. Ayah: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to spend a few minutes, first of all thanking the President for what I think was an excellent exposition of the public policy. However, as we start 1971, I would like to express some hopes.

Hon. Members in the last Session and today have shown a great concern for the future of our country, and I would like to express some hopes that as we start this Session for 1971, we shall translate these desires and hopes into action. Therefore, the first thing I would like to say, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is that when Members of this House, Back-benchers or Ministers, stand up in this House and say that either they want unity or they do not want unity or there is no unity, we are the first hypocrites. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have heard it sung in the most musical manner possible at every Parliamentary Group

[Mr. Ayah]

Meeting “Kanu yajenga nchi.” These hon. gentlemen, whenever the President meets with us—

An hon. Member: And ladies as well.

Mr. Ayah: Yes, and ladies sometimes. When the President meets with us, after we have had our discussions, somebody always stands up and begins singing in the most musical manner “Kanu yajenga nchi”, and yet we are prepared to say that Kanu is not functioning, the Government is not doing this and the Government is not doing that. This, Sir, would only mean that the Members of this House are not taking themselves seriously. We cannot have it both ways. We cannot stand up and sing “Kanu yajenga nchi” and at the same time say “There is no Kanu, Kanu is weak or the Government is not doing this or that.” I am saying this because I have never sat down or stood up and sang “Kanu yajenga nchi” because I do not believe Kanu is building the nchi.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Mr. Ayah: I am not prepared, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, in any sense at all to be hypocritical. I would like us to start from now onwards facing the facts as they are. The facts as they are, in my opinion, Sir, are these: there is tremendous amount of tribalism in this country. If anybody says that there is no tribalism, he is deceiving himself and the truth is not within him. There is plenty of it.

Now, the second fact is this: that because of tribalism, there is maximum amount of nepotism in this country and it is no good any hon. Member standing up and saying “substantiate this, substantiate that” because we all know that the complaints that every member of the public is bringing to us is that he cannot get a job unless he has a letter from somebody. Now, if it was not because of nepotism, there would not be any necessity whatsoever of members of the public coming up into the Parliament Buildings and demanding letters from hon. Members which can help them in looking for jobs. That is why I say that the second fact arising from tribalism, nepotism is very, very rampant.

Now, the other dangerous thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, which I would like to speak about at reasonable length is the question of foreign control of business and commerce in this country. The President, the Cabinet, Members of this hon. House have expressed themselves as saying that they do not want the foreigners to continue dominating business in this country. Now, what are the facts? What are we doing about it?

Mr. Karungaru: Nothing!

Mr. Ayah: Now, it is my conviction, Sir, that if we examined the statistics that are being thrown around from the Ministry of Finance and Economic Planning, we would find that these so-called Development Plans, all these growth rates, and all these other things, they reflect nothing but greater control by the foreigners of our economy. If anybody wants to challenge me on that I would like to argue with him because I know that ever since independence—for the first two or three years—the foreigners were rather scared. They said “We do not know what is going to happen” but now foreigners fill the papers in the world and stand up on table-tops and say that Kenya is a wonderful country. My personal view, I might declare, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is that I hate foreigners by nature. Now, when I hear them standing and saying that we are a wonderful country, I know there is something wrong. What is wrong is the fact that they know they have never had it better anywhere else in the world. People are coming here from Britain, India and God knows where because they are unable to live at a higher standard of living in their own countries. Therefore, let us not be cheated that they are here because they like us. They do not. No foreigner likes us. They are investing here on purely economic grounds because they know that they get better returns here than they would get in their own countries. It is no good anybody saying that they like us in any way or anything like that. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like the Minister for Commerce and Industry—him being here—together with the Ministry of Finance and Economic Planning to set some kind of standard by which we are going to reverse this kind of trend. Otherwise we shall continue to make speech after speech in this Assembly, and even in public rallies complaining about this or that. The first step we should take is to reverse this trend and advise institutions like the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation not to involve themselves in purchasing existing businesses which, in any case, are foreign owned. The part ownership is the wrong thing because we get advice from the very people we would like to replace. They tell us “All right, I have a business here, take 50 per cent and I will remain with 50 per cent. It is all right if you get me the chairman.” They know that the chairman was educated in America, like me, or England and therefore he can always invite him to a cocktail party and they can discuss these things with him without any trouble.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Now, the other thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, and I want to refer this point to a specific Ministry, the Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife. I noticed the other day when my hon. friend, the Member for Butere, made some remarks about hotels in Mombasa all these foreigners were up in arms. As I said earlier, whenever you hear them praising you, know that something is wrong and whenever you hear them not praising you, sleep comfortably knowing that you have done something good.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear! Very good!

Mr. Ayah: The Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife must be re-organized, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, and because of protocol and politeness in this House, I would not like to say this very strongly. However, had I not been a Member of this House, had I not been trying to live up to the standards of decency in this House, I would have recommended the sacking of the hon. Jan Mohamed, the Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife. I think he needs to be sacked.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Mr. Ayah: However, because of politeness, I would not emphasize the point.

An hon. Member: But you have done it!

Mr. Ayah: I would like, Sir, the Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife to think in terms of Kenya as an African country and of Kenya as a whole. It is no good having these hotels in and around Nairobi, it is no good having the Europeans and the Asians telling the Ministry where it is good for us to build hotels and where it is good for us to take tourists. We want them everywhere, particularly, Sir, we want them in Kisumu. As my provincial commissioner said the other day, we have excellent facilities there which only need to be developed. However, how shall we ever do it when the whole industry is controlled by Europeans. I have found people resigning from the Civil Service, Europeans resigning from their jobs to start up very small businesses as tourist organizations and within two years you find them driving in Jaguars.

Finally, Sir, the third point, I would like to express another hope that as we go into 1971 we shall have an opportunity to discuss the question of people being detained. I express this hope in all humility because I think, Sir, that there is something to be gained in any country for having nobody being detained in any detention camp. I remember in 1961, I think it was, when I was a student and when the hon. Minister of State in the President's Office was then in Ghana, members of Kanu were going to a conference in London and the British people did not want him to join the conference. I remember Mr. Odinga saying that if Mr. Koinange was not going to be allowed in, he himself would probably leave the conference. Now, I would like to appeal to the Minister of State in the President's Office to consider this issue.

Now I want to appeal to the Minister of State, to remember that and advise the President that there is an old man rotting in jail, that whatever has happened in the past let us forgive and forget. Unless this thing be general, it is no good forgiving and forgetting one case and not the other. By saying so I must also express myself as being very thankful that the President has so far released a lot of people who were detained.

However, let me appeal to him again, particularly through the Minister of State, that we would like all the people who were detained, particularly those of them who are old men—the Minister of State will understand what I am saying because he is near that age—to be released and taken home to be good citizens.

With those few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to support.

Mr. Gatuguta: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, first of all I would like to express my thanks to the President for his excellent exposition of public policies. He made certain references to certain matters which I think are very important for us to consider and to have very serious concern for immediate action to be taken.

The first one is the question of establishing local councils instead of the present area councils. This, Sir, is very important indeed because the present area councils are set up on a constituency basis and they are not in touch with the people. The old local councils which used to deal with the local problems were more useful than the present area councils.

The other thing which he mentioned, and which I thought was very important was the question of establishing district education boards. This, Sir, is very important because education is the key to the progress of this country and it is very important that the people themselves take part in whatever is being done. They must be involved in the educational planning and in whatever happens in matters of education. Therefore, I think the Ministry of Education should take immediate steps to organize this aspect of education.

Before I leave this question of education I want to add one or two things which have already been mentioned by other people. This question of raising the school fees is very serious indeed. I think we look ridiculous all the time. We have told the country in the Kanu manifesto and we have passed a Motion in this House that the country needs free education. Instead of moving towards that progressively we are moving backwards by increasing the school fees. I do not know whether the people in the Ministry of Education who plan this matter have any idea of the problems that the people are facing. I do not know whether they have any idea of what the feelings of the people in the country-side are.

The people are suddenly told that the school fees have been increased. Do they consider how many poor parents in the rural areas especially, or even in the towns, who want their children to get education, have no means of educating those children? There are thousands of them. Why do they not think about the children who cannot go to school now? There are thousands of them in the villages, and they have a right to have education like anybody else. It is the responsibility of the State to provide opportunities to these types of children to have education also instead of increasing the fees all the time knowing very well that only the rich will be able to educate their children.

We, as the representatives of the people, are being faced with great difficulties now because the poor parents come to us all the time asking, "Where am I going to get fees for my child?" This is very serious. I want this to be reconsidered, and I think Government must take a serious view of this as some Members have already said about it.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) took the Chair]

The other thing I would like to say is that I think there is something wrong somewhere within our Government system. The policy of this Government is very clear indeed. The Head of State, President Mzee Jomo Kenyatta, has made the policy very clear. Whether it is the question of moving towards economic independence or whether it is the question of Africanization in any field, the policy is very clear. But there is something wrong with the implementation of it somewhere. The Government departments and Ministries are not implementing the policies effectively and efficiently as should be done. Surely, we are not going to expect the President to go and implement these matters in the Ministries, but it is up to the Ministries to implement them.

In the Five-year Development Plan we were told, and the country agreed, that emphasis would be laid on rural development. But what is being done in the rural areas? Regarding the question of housing, the Ministry for Housing is concentrating on building houses in towns like Nairobi, Mombasa and others. If a man in Kiambu asks for a loan to build a house he will hardly get it. Why are we not providing money to the people in the rural areas to improve their living by building good houses? Why are we only concentrating on the towns?

What about the water supply in the rural areas? There are certain areas where people travel for 10 miles to get water. What is being done about this matter? It is up to the Ministry concerned to do these things. Government has said that this would be done, but why is it not being done now?

There are contradictory statements made. The President has said that the people must embark on self-help projects. They must work hard and build health centres, schools and work on their shambas. He has said all these things, but when we want to do so we are told, "No, you cannot put up more health centres because Government has no money. You cannot build more Harambee Schools because Government has no more money." This is very funny indeed. Even during this afternoon one Minister told us that no more health centres will be taken over by Government.

All these contradictions must certainly cease. Something must be done. Why should a Minister of Government say this today and another one say that tomorrow? There is no co-ordination of what is going on. We want these things to be done, Mr. Speaker.

I remember one day the President of this Republic made a statement—I think it was during Kenyatta Day—that there was land for everybody who was a genuine landless person. He said that. Why is the Ministry concerned not giving land to the people? We have a lot of landless people, particularly those who are living in the Emergency villages.

I request the Minister for Lands and Settlement to pay particular attention to my constituency, where I have about 10,000 landless people in the Emergency villages. I am not talking of any ordinary landless men, but I am talking of those people who are living in the Emergency villages. They were put there by the Colonial Government, but we are now free. So I think our Government should do something about it.

Before I conclude, Sir, I would like to say something about unity. I think that every thinking person and every realistic person in this country will know that the need for unity is more important today than ever before because of what is happening in the neighbouring countries. We have seen military coups d'etat taking place in areas not very far from us, and recently we saw a military coup d'etat next door. Therefore, this is a very great lesson to us now that we must be united to avoid that kind of thing which is happening in other places.

We are lucky because of the leadership we have today. This leadership can be compared with any level in the world. That is why we are stable, secure and that is why we have freedom to talk the way we want to here. However, if we have no unity, and that leadership will not be there tomorrow, what will happen? There will be trouble. There will be chaos and tribal fighting. The only thing to guard against such a thing is unity. I will tell you that nobody should deceive himself. If there is going to be any trouble in this country, everybody is going to suffer and particularly the representatives who have been elected by the people. Therefore, the leaders of this country, the Members of Parliament and the others, should be more concerned about unity than anything else.

Who will benefit from any trouble which may come here? We want sincere unity. This country belongs to all of us. It does not belong to one person or to one section of the community but to all of us. Therefore, gentlemen, hon. Members, let us sit down— Sorry, I am using the words “hon. Members”.

Sir, I have not finished.

What I am saying is that we leaders should get together and instead of trying to create tribal feelings among the people we lead, let us try to show them the way towards unity. At the same time, where tribalism exists in whichever Ministry it is, it must be fought. It must be fought by everybody and by all means. It is there, as some Members have said and it is the duty of the leaders themselves to point out specific cases of tribalism so that we can finish up this kind of tribalism and work towards unity.

It is at this time when we have the leadership that is recognized and respected by everybody that we must make use of the opportunity to build our country. We should use this opportunity because it may not be easy to do it later on. Once we have a strong foundation, it is not going to be possible for anybody at all to be able to shake the existing stronghold of our nation.

The other thing I want to mention is the question of taxation.

Mr. Mwamzandi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I must first of all congratulate His Excellency the President for the able Speech he gave. I would also like to take this opportunity to congratulate him again for the way he is running this country.

In my opinion, he is running the country in a very fair manner where if we were capable of following his leadership, there would be no trouble in this country.

Mr. Speaker, there are reasons why we fought for independence. We fought for independence because we had no land. All the land was in the hands of the Europeans, the Asians and the Arabs. So, we had to fight for independence.

We fought for Uhuru, Mr. Speaker, because we were every time being arrested by the police and there was no place for us to take our complaints. We had to fight for independence because no loans were available except to Asians, Europeans and Arabs.

Whenever a European came to Kenya, you could see him driving a motor-car within a few days when we were walking on foot all the time. So, we had to fight for independence.

The question here, Mr. Speaker, is: have we got rid of all these difficulties? The answer is “No”, but why? Instead of getting rid of these Europeans, we have created a class of a few Europeans in Kenya—black Europeans. Mr. Speaker, we have removed the colonialists and we have now, in Kenya, black colonialists.

We always talk of unity here and it has been said here that people should be united. We are trying to unite our people. We are trying to explain the truth to our people but we fail to convince them because of what is happening in this country. I said earlier on that the President is a fair man and he does not know what is happening in the field. However, these people in the field— We complain that we do not get loans and that Kikuyu people get loans. It is, therefore, upon the people in the field to convince us that these people qualify for loans. However, instead of doing this, you will see a Kikuyu man telling us, “Do you not know that we fought for independence and some of us have been in detention for so long?” Is that an answer for one to give? One hon. Member rightly put it some time back—the hon. Koigi. So when we hear this, we know—

Mr. Koigi: It is true that a man like me fought for independence.

Mr. Mwamzandi: Mr. Speaker, it is from such hon. Members that if we could get a proper explanation then we could explain this to the public. If we could get such an hon. Member here saying such sort of a thing, does that not create hatred between the African themselves? However, he comes here to tell the public, “Do you not know that I fought for independence?”

[Mr. Mwamzandi]

We do not need that. We must remove such things if we want unity in this country.

Mr. Speaker, we must distribute the loans evenly. Every tribe should get loans, not necessarily in the Coast Province— We see a certain section of the community which is really enjoying the freedom of this country when the others are in difficulties. I said, in the last Parliament, that Salim Road—the so-called Salim Road—where we had so many Asians, it is surprising, when we go there today, we see people from up-country only.

If we do not have money, and we ask for money to develop our area, it is upon the officers in the field to consider us. Some of the conditions of getting loans must be waived for those backward people. It is exactly in this way, Mr. Speaker, that we are creating hatred if we do not listen to others who speak the truth. We must accept the truth whether it is bitter or not. We must accept the truth.

Mr. Speaker, I was saying that it is upon the officers in the field to waive some of these difficulties for those people who are in difficulties and those people who are not educated so that they could now feel that they are independent.

Mr. Speaker, we fought for independence because in some of the areas where independence was being fought for had no water. Up to now, we have still no water in some of these places. Funny enough, water has been piped from Mzima Springs. I thought it was going through my constituency to serve my voters when I realized that it was going to Jardini and Two Fishes Hotels—those European hotels—so that when the tourists come to this country, they enjoy their stay without difficulties when the electors of this Government are today dying for lack of water. I do not know what is happening.

It is, however, upon the Minister for Agriculture to realize that it is the Mwafrika who needs water and not the person who comes from Europe for his holiday or honeymoon. We are the voters and the tax-payers and we should, therefore, have these facilities.

We have heard that the Samburu people are dying from lack of water. There is no water at Moyale. In fact, in the hinterland of Kwale District, water passes through from Mzima Springs to Mariakani and to other parts of the district.

An hon. Member: Break the pipes!

Mr. Mwamzandi: I think that is the best method—breaking the pipe. Water passes through that area but the people of that area do not get water. Their cattle are dying. Would you really convince that person that he is independent today when he is suffering as he was under the colonialists?

Again, Mr. Speaker, we fought for our independence and some of the leaders were told that there would be no taxation. This is a wrong advice to be told that there was no taxation. The President, boldly enough announced that those who were paying the tax of Sh. 24 were not going to pay this tax last year. This became opposite because all of them were asked to pay Sh. 48. It was in the Presidential Address here where he said that he was going to make a policy statement at public rallies. I think it is provided in our Standing Orders that we cannot question what the President says in a public rally. We feel he should speak here about any public policy so that we have a chance to debate and see what is happening.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it was even said that there will be free education. It has been well expressed here by some hon. Members that instead of there being free education, a child in Standard I pays over Sh. 70. We know the standard of our people that some do not have even chakula at this time. How can they educate our people?

I think it is upon our Government and the Minister for Education to see that free education is introduced in this country. I thought the Minister for Education was going to be very active because, immediately he was appointed he went to the Press and we saw in the East African Standard an article entitled "Free Education Soon". Now, he was confused by his philosophy and he has kept quiet. Instead of having that free education he has increased the school fees.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, with these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I stand to give my thanks in appreciation of the Presidential Speech. Mainly, Sir, I will deal with paragraph four where the President emphasized so much on our duties as Parliamentarians and the duties of this Parliament. Sir, many speakers have spoken on various subjects but although we talk about tribalism and we try to criticize it, we should also be mature and more specific. I hate, as a person, Sir, to challenge the whole tribe or to generalize the whole tribe as bad. That is one of the things that hon. Members should not do. Let us be fair. There are some people whom we know do dance around the President wherever he goes. Now, is it (Inaudible).
..... by the whole Kikuyu? If Koinange is bad, say

[Mr. Munyasia]

Koinange is bad and call him by name instead of saying that all Kikuyus are bad. This is inviting trouble to those who are innocent. So, we must single out those who are bad and follow Mzee inch to inch. (Inaudible).
 you know them, Sir, and why should he tell us it is the whole of Kikuyu tribe? You know who go to Mombasa, we have Mungai, Njonjo and Koinange. Why say that all Kikuyu are bad?

The Muslims say that where there is fire there is smoke. There is fire and you can see the smoke. That is the smoke, we begin with the smoke. Where there is smoke there is fire. There we have seen the smoke and there is fire.

If I go further, Sir, we must know and we must be told by this Government because Government started the fire. There is one newspaper, Sir, which is known as "Guardian" which (Inaudible).

Sir, if you look at this paper, there is the picture of His Excellency the President. Does this mean that Government does not know this paper which was put inside our pigeon-holes, and it is indicating who will be the successors of this country after Mzee? This paper is trying to show how powerful and how weak some of our leaders are in this Government. Moi is a weak Minister, Koinange, because of his age is ruled out, Njonjo is out because he is not popular, Mungai, being a Cabinet Minister and being in the inner Cabinet Minister—

Mr. Mwamzandi: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. My point of order is this. Could we understand that the hon. Member will lay it on the Table?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Yes, Mr. Munyasia, if you would not take too much time, (Inaudible).
 Just lay the paper on the Table.

Mr. Munyasia: Now, the only two gentlemen who are remaining and who are now the big bulls fighting for the succession of the President are hon. Mungai and hon. Mwai Kibaki but because hon. Mwai Kibaki comes from Nyeri, he is not near to the succession.

(The hon. Munyasia laid the paper on the Table)

Now, Sir, if such papers are circulated, they will be trying to incite trouble. Government should be pressured by this Parliament to make a thorough check. How do these papers appear in our pigeon-holes? How do they come here?

Does it mean that Government does not know about this paper? Is that why we are told that there are two changes coming? Is that the intention of that paper? If it is the intention of that paper we must be told. Mr. Speaker, Sir, whoever deceives himself that he will succeed this country by the way of dodging, he will have it. The Head of State must be elected by popular vote of the entire Republic as it is with the President of Kenya. But, kichinichini will never survive in this country.

The other point is about water development in the rural areas. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is disappointing, Sir, to learn that there is an allocation of Sh. 53 million throughout the Republic but recently we have seen that Government is not taking the initiative to see the poor areas which have been mentioned by hon. Gatuguta, hon. Wabuge and many other speakers. The Government has not yet seen or has not attended to them. Embu was given Sh. 10 million. What a project where water is flowing in streams whereas the poor man down in Turkana, Samburu, Kitui, Masai, Makueni, Kwale lack water. Now, is this the policy of Kanu where they say unite and be good boys to the state. When we say "correct this" we are told this man is not a good boy because he is challenging Government. Is that a challenge, Mr. Speaker, Sir. We are told here that our duty as Parliamentarians is to serve the people by doing the job for which you are—I cancel the word at the end—you are paid. The job that you are elected for should not be paid for. I was not elected here to be paid for. I was elected here to be a thorough representative of the people who elected me and to air their grievances, not for payment. Whether there is salary or no salary—say that there is no salary today we will still serve our people.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are prepared for all this whether we die for the right of this nation or not. We have been very realistic but we must be more realistic and more mature. When the people say that Turkana is in trouble Government must visit there.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, when I was in bed at the Aga Khan Hospital I read that the Turkana and Samburu people and also people in Moyale were dying. The Permanent Secretary in the President's Office said that people were not dying whereas he never went there. It was only hearsay. Sir, does Government not know today that there is trouble? Mr. Speaker, Sir, this has gone to the extent of affecting many areas in the Republic, such as Ukambani, Masailand, Samburu, Turkana and North-Eastern Kenya. Mr. Speaker, Sir, what is Government doing about this drought? I am asking this because cattle, which most of the people in these areas depend on, are lacking food. The cattle feed on grass and there is no more grass in these areas, and immediately they miss grass, they become weak, thin and eventually die. What follows then? People also begin living without food or meat and eventually, they also die. Now, Sir, is the Government going to wait until they see these people chewing all the dead bodies lying everywhere and then they might realize that there is a drought? Mr. Speaker, I think it is high time Government takes immediate steps and sees to it that it establishes complete famine relief measures and not anything like deduction of prices. We want complete famine relief measures throughout the areas which are mainly affected by the drought. Therefore, Sir, the Minister in the President's Office should travel to these areas to see for himself what the situation is and, Sir, I challenge him to do so. Now, during the sixty-six days of the prorogation of Parliament, can the hon. Minister, whom I highly respect, tell us whether or not he has visited any place in the entire Republic?

An hon. Member: He has not!

Mr. Munyasia: Why is it that he has been going to Mombasa all the time and spending all his time there? Even the Samburu would like to see Mr. Koinange, as one person said, "I have come. (Inaudible). We must be more realistic. Sir. It must be a special visit so that these people may realize that they are cared for. However, if you sit here the whole day, then brothers, when this thing gets worse, we shall know what to do and that is wrong. Now, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Your time is up, Mr. Munyasia.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to join my hon. colleagues who have spoken in thanking His Excellency the President for the speech he made when he opened this House for the new Session. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think it is only fair that some of us should be given an opportunity at a stage like this to answer a few questions that have been asked by hon. Members, if those questions raised concern in our individual Ministries. I think this is the reason why this debate would be useful to hon. Members if such opportunities are given to us. Mr. Speaker, I would like—

Mr. Mwithaga: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. I stand to seek your guidance here. This is the first day to debate the President's Speech and this is going to last seven days. Is it really advisable for a Minister to stand to reply when there will be debate and speeches about his Ministry for seven days? Will he have the chance to speak again and reply?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, there is nothing wrong with a Minister wanting to speak at this stage. He has every right like any other hon. Member. Of course, the disadvantage is that if other points are raised which touch on his work, he will have no opportunity of replying to those. However, if a Minister indicates that he wants to speak and catches my eye, I will allow him to do so.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member should have known by now that there are two Assistant Ministers in my Ministry, and we are going to space ourselves in such a manner that we shall be able to cover whatever points will be raised concerning our Ministry in the debate for the seven days. Mr. Speaker, I think there are a few points that I should—

An hon. Member: The Assistant Ministers should speak first.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): It is not necessary that they should speak first, Mr. Speaker. It does not matter at what stage they speak because whatever they say is the Government policy just as much as what I am going to say.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, first of all, I would like to support the hon. Araru and the Member for Samburu West, the hon. Lenayiara, that the drought in their areas should be considered very seriously. What I would like to ask hon. Members is to join me in my suggestion. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am saying this because I have a great deal of water in my constituency in Lake Victoria which is worrying my people there. I would like hon. Members to revive what Mr. Howard-Williams used to say in the Legislative Council about piping Lake Victoria water to those dry areas. They should come together with me so that we formulate a Paper and give it to the Ministry of Economic Planning so that they may see to it that instead of the water in Lake Victoria worrying my people, it could go to them and help them during the dry season. I am serious about this and I am inviting them to consider my proposal and they should join me so that we may put our thoughts together. This is all I am saying.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the other point which I would like to touch on, unfortunately the hon. Member for Kisumu Rural who raised it is not here in connexion with investments. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is true there are praises going around all over the world that Kenya is a stable country, and there is no doubt about this. Kenya is stable, but those who can come to Kenya are only investors and I would like hon. Members to mark this. There is nobody who is going to come here to do simply petty trading. We cannot license him and we are not going to license him. However, all the investors who come in—and hon. Members have asked repeatedly about this in this House that they need rural industrialization—are welcome. Mr. Speaker, any investor making inquiries on where to invest, we welcome him and we will explain to him where he should invest. If he is willing to come and invest in the areas we propose to him we shall welcome him and give him all the possible facilities. There is another point which probably hon. Members do not know, but it is happening. This was raised by the Member for Kisumu Rural and this is: Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation participation in existing companies. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform the House that it is the Government policy for the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation not to participate in the existing companies which are doing well. It is only for very extreme reasons that we allow the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation to participate in any existing companies and even then, such particular companies must be away from Nairobi in the rural areas. This gives such a company a bit of incentive, it gives that company a bit of confidence, and therefore, we allow the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation to participate in such companies. Otherwise, the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation does not participate in any existing companies which are doing well. We stopped this since—I might say—the beginning of last year.

Mr. Speaker, I would also like to inform hon. Members that with the unfortunate trouble in Uganda, the East African Common Market is still doing very well. Our trade with the partner states in the Community has not been interfered with at all, and if anything has happened, it has grown a bit better. This is just information to the House that our trade has not at all been affected by the unfortunate incident of the coup that happened in Uganda. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I represent Kenya on the Common Market Council, and although we have not met, the normal business of trade between Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania is progressing very well.

The hon. Member for Kwale East spoke at length about loans to the Coast people. I sympathize with the hon. Member, but I do not think it is fair to suggest to this Government that Government should take public money collected from everybody in the country and give it to the Coast people in order to force them to go into business. I think that would be very unfair suggestion. Mr. Speaker, I would advise him as I have advised his colleagues before that they need to educate their people. We have loans and, in fact, we borrow money to give to those areas which we think we should assist. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the trouble at the Coast is that nobody wants to get rich for fear of being bewitched.

They need to educate their people. This is true. Unfortunately, the hon. Member is not here to challenge this one. He needs to educate the people at the Coast. What happens is that if a man from the Coast has a shop people fear to go to his shop lest they make him rich. The record shows that the people have not even approached us for loans even if they are capable of doing so, except a few people, Members of Parliament who are trying to move away from this particular witchcraft cloud. However, I think they should educate their people because we are prepared to help them, but not to the extent of giving them loans and forfeiting them in spite of the fact that they come from public funds. Mr. Speaker, I think that is a point which Members of Parliament from the Coast should take very seriously. We are not going to do that. No Government would do that and this Parliament will not allow it either—giving loans to those people who are sitting down—lest we lose that money.

The last point which I wanted to inform the hon. Members about is concerned with the document that has been laid on this Table by the hon. Member from Kitui West. It is a document that has caused a lot of rumours in the country; but I think it should be regarded for what it is worth. Looking at that paper, it will be seen that the heading has a statement. Having been in the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting I know that a question mark was left out of that statement purposely so that the paper can be sold; otherwise if that statement in black thick prints had a question mark, which it is intended to have, that statement would have been regarded otherwise. The writer of that paper, Mr. John Fairhall is a simple journalist who is putting on paper his own views just in the same way as you and I would put our views on paper. Therefore, this cannot be regarded by the Government as a serious thing at all—for us to be accused. Whoever is putting them in the pigeon-holes, being photostated does not know journalism—so I think. Those of us who have been in the field of journalism for some time only regard that document for what it is worth. I can assure the House that the Government has regarded that document for what is worth—the face value of it.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support the Motion.

Mr. Ogero: Thank you very much for giving me this opportunity to make a few observations.

While everybody in this House appreciates the President's Speech as having been very nice, I would like to say that if every hon. Member of this House and the civil servants co-operate and behave like the head of this Government, the hon. Mzee Jomo Kenyatta, I think Kenya could be a country that is worth living in, as the Vice-President and the Minister for Home Affairs said.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to say that Harambee projects are causing a lot of chaos or a lot of problems in the Republic of Kenya. I can recall that in 1962, during the colonial régime, the people of Nyanza wanted to begin Harambee projects but the then régime did not allow us to begin these projects. I can now understand why this happened: the then Government did not want to see something started and then fail or fall afterwards. That is the reason why the then Government did not allow such kinds of projects to be started. However, our Mzee has encouraged us to begin as many projects as we can. However, in the end we have not been told where we are heading to: how we shall have these projects taken over or how we shall have them working. However, we have seen that these projects must be registered before they can be started, for example, every project has to be registered with the community development officers. This is done through a Kenya Government office, and the people concerned know full well that when a project is registered it has to grow and it has to be there and render services to the people. However, in the end you will find that a project is started and shortly afterwards, it dies out. What is the intention of beginning a project and then see it not working or rendering services to the wananchi? I think the Government should come out with proper plans on how to direct these Harambee projects. It was in 1963 when these Harambee projects were started and every district and every community started as many projects as they could according to their needs. In the final analysis we find that these projects, for example, schools, dispensaries, water projects are not working. I would like to suggest to the Government with regard to Harambee secondary schools, that it should take measures and see that equipment is taken to these schools and teachers provided, leaving aside the labour for the maintenance of school buildings to be provided by the community concerned. I know that these schools are falling off because they are not able to pay teachers' salaries and are also not able to buy school equipment and more especially some modern books which can be used in these schools. If this is then the position, the Government should look forward and take over these unfinished schools and see to it that they are eventually finished so that the people's spirit of Harambee is not killed.

I would like to come to the side of unity. Unity cannot be brought about by one person alone. I would like to support the hon. Wabuge who said that provincial commissioners and district commissioners are becoming kings in their areas. These people are sometimes misusing the laws of this country. The laws are made by this hon. House but when these laws are sent out they are misused by those who are allowed to implement them. If I may give an example, on 22nd an acting district commissioner in Kisii using his Administrative Police arrested the clerk to the county council, in spite of the fact that the police are there, the Criminal Investigation Department men are there and the men of the Special Branch are there. Nevertheless, the district commissioner found it fit to arrest the clerk to the county council, a person who controls the county council or the county for that matter where the district commissioner also works. This man is not the district commissioner's junior boy; this man is not a small man but he is just a big man—a responsible man—just as responsible as the district commissioner is. Therefore, when this person was arrested we wanted to find out the cause for his arrest. This particular acting district commissioner did not want to see the Members of Parliament from that area, who wanted to know why the clerk to the county council had been arrested. That means that this man does not recognize the Members of Parliament but thinks that he is the king of that district. I do not know whether he demands our co-operation when he does not co-operate with us. Eventually, this man who was unco-operative told us that he could see us the following day. The following day, we went to him to find out why the clerk to the county council had been arrested. He went on to say that he was not prepared to see us until twelve noon when he could be free. All that time we waited for him so that he could give us time to ask him the reason why the clerk to the county council had been arrested. Who says that clerks to county councils, municipalities or a city council like this are small boys or are office messengers of district commissioners?

Mr. Nthenge: Even small boys have not to be arrested in that manner.

Mr. Ogero: Eventually, this man never allowed us to see him; and so we had to go away and seek the guidance of the provincial commissioner who was not there then. However, the deputy provincial commissioner allowed us to see him. He also wondered why the clerk to the county council had been arrested. If the provincial commissioner could wonder, who had given the district commissioner permission to arrest the clerk to the county council?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I understand that no person should be arrested unless the Attorney-General's consent has been given. Now, who gave the acting district commissioner, Kisii the consent to arrest the Clerk to the Kisii County Council? This shows that this man was acting on his own. He had taken the law into his own hands and was acting contrary to the laws of this country. That is why I do support the hon. Wabuge's statement that these people are becoming autonomous and that they are becoming people who do not want to see other people who are working in the same field or even the people who are higher in ranks than they are. Some officials do not even wish to see politicians but they want to see some higher officials. Or they claim not to see the Members of Parliament, but if someone is a Minister then he has to be seen. This has happened elsewhere, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that unless one is a Minister he cannot see someone. Now, how many people would be Ministers in this House?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is where we cannot cooperate and unite. People are asking for unity but unity cannot come about because of some people who do not regard others as people.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, if I come to the—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I am sorry, your time is finished.

Mr. Mwithaga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I welcome the President's Speech because there is nothing much one can say about that one. It is self-explanatory and has been understood.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I begin with supporting the Governor of the Central Bank of Kenya who just the other day—in his official capacity as Governor of the Central Bank—exposed the position of the banks, financially, in this country. He accused those banks of refusing to support the African people with loans so as to enter the economic fields like any other.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, while supporting him, I would like to say that the problem is one. Some banks have political managers. I say so because they will always look at the person to whom they would want to lend money. They would like to look for some tribes to whom they want to lend money, and not the other tribes. They are using this intrigue, Mr. Speaker, and this is a matter that I can prove. I am sure that if there is any Government worth its salt, they know about it.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, if they are doing this in our country and it is known, why are they being allowed to continue to do these things? How will the people benefit if a person is a manager of a given bank and he continues to frustrate some and support others? What is his interest? Mr. Speaker, Sir, the loaning system of money from banks must be based on merit—actual merit—and not by trying to use intrigues which are tantamount to political interest.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, banks like Barclays Bank and Standard Bank; during the colonial times, the Standard Bank was known as the Standard Bank of South Africa. Mr. Speaker, Sir, how it became the Standard Bank of Kenya, I do not know. The Headquarters of the Standard Bank is in South Africa and yet here we say that we are against the South African Government, we are hot with the Prime Minister of Britain, Mr. Heath who is selling arms to South Africa. Yet we have allowed a bank whose mother bank is in South Africa to continue its operation here. We also have the Old Mutual whose mother is in South Africa. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have them here and they are all over and yet here we say we are anti-Heath because he is supporting South Africa. We are doing the same by allowing these bodies whose finances are from South Africa to be here. The South Africa Government is right in saying that they have penetrated certain governments in Africa and they are not worried by them. The only thing they are going to do is to work for the overthrow of other governments. I have heard Radio Johannesburg saying this. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we must be very careful. We are just sitting here talking politics and we do not know that is happening.

Mr. Speaker, we see these coups like the one in Uganda.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we must be very careful. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we sit here talking about the Uganda coup. It is absolutely a foreign coup organized jointly by Heath, Powell and Vorster. Mr. Speaker, Sir, let anybody challenge me on this one. Why have they conspired to do that? They are now planning coups d'etat in Tanzania and Zambia. It is known, Mr. Speaker.

An hon. Member: How do you know that?

Mr. Mwithaga: From those countries where do they go? They will come here and we are sitting here laughing as politicians.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to say this, if we want to curtail this kind of thing, we must not sacrifice the future political life of this country on the altar of economic interest and investment. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we cannot do this. We are nationalists and whether alive or dead we shall remain in the books of history as having died as nationalists. But, we must never sacrifice the youth of Africa on the altar of economic investment and economic interest.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, why I say this it is because Ghana's government was overthrown and Nkrumah was overthrown. They were saying that well, Ghana is dead, then Nigeria is wonderful. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I was in a London hotel when the coup in Nigeria took place. Mr. Wilson by then was attending a conference in Nigeria and when he was told by the British Intelligence Group that there was going to be a coup in Nigeria and he knew about it then during the conference he flew back home on a business mission. However, in two day's time, Nigeria was on fire. Mr. Speaker, these are facts.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, let us be very careful. The other thing is how do we satisfy our people so that they may continue to support the Government of this country and the ruling Party against the foreign intrigue and against the foreign invasion? We must provide a situation which will ensure peace.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, when I tried to move a Motion on Adjournment trying to establish or asking for the establishment of a brigade—the national builders' brigade—the Assistant Minister for Labour, Mr. Kibisu, tried to block that Motion and he succeeded and yet he is the Assistant Minister for Labour! Thousands of school-leavers who have not had jobs since 1967 and cannot be employed hitherto with Cambridge School Certificates in their hands are being added to the other lot of those who are leaving school today; they are on the streets now. They go on looking for jobs all over and they are told, "Hakuna kazi", "No Admission", "Strictly Private" and all these kinds of warnings. They cannot get jobs and they are lost. When one wants a job he is asked, "What is your training?"

Mr. Speaker, Sir, is it the fault of that youth not to have been trained in a given skill so as to be asked what skill he has and yet he has just left school? Mr. Speaker, Sir, we must be very careful and I call again upon the Government to create either a department or a Ministry which will look into the affairs of our youth of this country. Mr. Speaker, Sir, they are now on the increase; the older age is the lesser, the youth is the greater number. And let these old gentlemen remember this, if you create a foundation which will jeopardize the welfare of those youths—you own children—you are not worth living. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is no good becoming a parent if you will not be able to take care of your children. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is a painful affair when I see in my own Constituency thousands and thousands of youths coming to me asking for employment. Where do I have the jobs? I am just a simple Back-bencher. Where do I have those jobs that they want? Which is my company where I will put these young people? My work is to represent them; my work is to appeal to the Government on their behalf. Mr. Speaker, Sir, they must be considered seriously; the youth brigades.

The other day I saw the National Youth Service had a lot of money from the United States. Now, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the National Youth Service is not an employing body but it is just a training organization. I want a training and employing body and that is the national builders' brigade. I have said this since 1967 and I will continue saying so. Why has the Government not invited myself to tell them exactly how to go about these things? They have kept mum. When I said this the first time, they called me "communist". I say it now, if you want to call me another communist, go ahead and do so. However, the situation, Mr. Speaker, in the future, we will be the judge. It is painful and they know it. They are representatives of constituencies. Hon. Koinange knows how many people—youths—come from his constituency and cannot find jobs; the hon. Nyamweya knows this too. Therefore, when they sit in that Cabinet, they must know that Oliver Cromwell made history by sending dogs and men to Parliament. "For seven years you have been here and for seven long years you have done nothing", and he chased all of them away, and called them maids and empty bottles. They know history, I am not teaching them.

Mr. Speaker, these are tangible facts; they must be taken seriously otherwise one day they will say that this—on a board outside—House is for rent without furniture. Mr. Speaker, we have to be very careful.

While I say this, I would also like the question of our culture and the question of whole youth organization and guidance to be considered. Mr. Speaker, I call for the creation of a department of national guidance. Why there are all these rumours in this country, Sir, of this and that, is because there is no department; there is no Ministry that handles national guidance. Mr. Speaker, our radio—Every person now in Kenya listens to Radio Tanzania because of commentaries. Mr. Speaker, they enjoy them and they are also listening to Radio South Africa from Johannesburg. Go and find out and you will agree with me. Why are they not interested in the Voice of Kenya; why? This is the question for any government to ask. You have the Voice of Kenya; why do the people not want to listen to it?

Mr. Speaker, we must have a department of youth and national guidance. It does not matter how much it will cost the Government, but for the sake of the future stability in this country, we must create that kind of thing, so that the youth is guided in the proper channels, through the public media and papers, and the Government will have to establish its own paper. The East African Standard— I would like to be challenged, who are the owners of the East African Standard who speak for Kenya— Rhodesia.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad to get this chance to say a few words. First of all, I would like to say that Mzee Jomo Kenyatta has been a leader of this country for very, very many years with very few mistakes. He has had all the sacrifices that a person needs to have, in order to be acceptable. However, what is wrong — What is wrong is the clique around him. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is something I am going to say, when I get the chance to tackle it when the President is sitting with some of his clique because some of these people have become masters of Kenya. They do not want anybody else to get near him, and it is known. It is a fact that if you hear one thing too often, you tend to think there is some truth in it.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, what I feel is necessary is a reshuffle in the Cabinet and in his company. Mr. President is the President of everybody in Kenya, no matter who he is, and there should be access for all leaders to the President of this country and not a few people, to go round and tell the people who will take care of telephones. If you— Now, Mr. Speaker, the point I was making first is that we accept that this country could be led very well under the guidance of Mzee Jomo Kenyatta. Unfortunately, you cannot run an army with only one askari; there must be a lot of officers that you give orders to. The Mzee has given all the work in the country to various Ministers, and these are his advisers. But, it has now developed that there tends to be a link that if you try to get an appointment with him you will be told he is not available. But, it is not he who refuses. There is a group of people who do not want the President to be reached. In fact they have already, in my opinion, told him that the other people do not like his leadership which is incorrect. Some of them—I challenge—are only good to the President for their own good. They are opportunists, I dare say. What have they ever sacrificed? Some of us, even myself have demanded his release and many other things and they do not go near him, Mr. Speaker. The fact that you go near him while he is in power does not mean love. You might be an opportunist. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I feel that the necessary thing is for the President to be reached by all leaders so that he can weigh up all the points of view but not stick to a few people who do not want him to hear anybody else.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the public in the Republic has nobody else other than their own leaders whom they have elected and these are the people who are supposed to convey the goods to the President and nobody else. If they are denied that right of reaching him, what happens? We get into the mess we are in. There is a great frustration and I will advise hon. Members, Mr. Speaker, on what to do if they want to know what is happening in the country. They should just go and buy a second-hand kabuti, remove their good shoes and put on shoes with rangi or walk bare-footed and mix with the public. There is a great frustration, Mr. Speaker. What is going to happen when the throats of everybody who are well-to-do and well dressed like myself and all hon. Members are cut? There will not be any exception. The few people who are causing the mistakes will cause all of us inconveniences. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am proposing this because I have no other home and I do not intend to have any other home, I do not want to have money elsewhere. We understand that some of them have even money elsewhere because they are waiting to go there. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is our duty, it is the duty of this House and the Government to bother about the lowest person in this country. No matter where he is, he must get education and his other essentials, whatever sacrifices should be made. Now, what is happening? The worst thing is that the rich, the influential or the top people are destroying this country. The very rich people have influence mainly over our Ministers and our Members of Parliament. And now, what happens: if you criticize a small thing about those foreigners investing here you will find that the man who should support you is the one to oppose you. He has become their advocate. That is wrong and it must change and the earlier it changes the better.

[Mr. Nthenge]

I would like to mention something about planning in this country, Mr. Speaker. It is good to talk but we must have a ten-year plan geared towards something. Now, the hon. Member who has just finished his speech has asked what we are doing about the youth. The more people we have unemployed and frustrated the less stable we become. We become very unstable and anything can happen at any time. I am saying this with great sorrow because I have nowhere else to go. I have ten children in this country and even if I go I will be wasting time. I have here all my relatives and the people of Kenya whom I love. I hope this thing is corrected. It is high time we had more meetings of the leaders, Mr. Speaker. I hope the President gets the point of what I am saying. I want more meetings of the leaders to find what should be done because something should be done soon. This is because Mzee Kenyatta will have wasted all his time to build what he has built if within a short time his successors will mess up all the things. All the work that he has tried in 55 years will be wasted like nobody's business because a lot of us are being pocketed.

Another thing is that people have a right to elect their leaders. Now, there is a rumour circulating— There is a Swahili saying which goes, Palipo na moshi pana moto or wherever you see smoke there must be something. Rumour has it that some people are going to Mzee Kenyatta telling him, "Influence the people to accept me." That is wrong, Mr. Speaker.

ADJOURNMENT

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is now time for the interruption of business.

The House is therefore adjourned until tomorrow, Friday, 26th February, at 9 o'clock.

The House rose at thirty minutes past Six o'clock.

Friday, 26th February 1971

The House met at Nine o'clock.

PRAYERS

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 6 (1182)

IMPROVEMENT OF BARWESSA—KINYACH ROAD

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Works to tell the House whether—

(a) the Minister was aware of the fact that the road from Barwessa to Kinyach through Kuikui in Baringo North Constituency was impassable to all traffic including even Land-Rovers; and

(b) his Ministry would, as a matter of urgency, improve this road.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I regret that I am not aware that the section of the road from Barwessa to Kinyach is impassable.

(b) My Ministry will carry out the repairs as soon as the resources at our disposal allow.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the Assistant Minister has said that he is not aware, could he make any effort to see that this road is repaired because it is true that it is impassable.

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have already said that as soon as our resources allow, we will carry out the repairs. Furthermore, the hon. Member representing the area—if that is the area of the hon. Member—should know that we have a Provincial Engineer in Nakuru and we have a Road Superintendent in Eldoret, whom he could always contact in case something involving a major repair of a road is required.

Mr. Murgor: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Assistant Minister has answered that he is not aware; can he now tell this House whether, since this question was brought to this House, anybody has ever gone there to check, on that road, and if not, why?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not able to tell the House just off-hand.

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the reply by the Assistant Ministry's reply, when he said that the Member of Parliament of the area should go and see the Road Superintendent at Eldoret, would it not be better for his Ministry itself to take up a matter like this? Is it not the responsibility of his Ministry to tell that Road Superintendent to check on the conditions of that road and then report to the Assistant Minister so that he can give a clear answer?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is a question of responsibility. This is a very small matter which could easily be discussed between the hon. Members and the provincial engineers of their respective sections. There will be no problem at all, and all that you need to do is to pick up a phone, telephone the provincial engineer and tell him that the road from Barwessa to Kinyach is impassable and ask him whether something could be done about it. I am sure he could always make it his duty to do so. I do not really think this is a question that needs to be brought to the House.

However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will undertake to investigate and ask the provincial engineer to carry out these repairs, if necessary.

Question No. 21 (1227)

PROVINCIAL ENGINEER FOR KAKAMEGA

Mr. Ebu on behalf of Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Works to tell the House when he would post a provincial engineer to Kakamega.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The present arrangement is that Ministry of Works activities in Western Province are supervised by my Provincial Engineer in Kisumu. My Ministry has a very large depot in Kisumu from which it is very convenient to carry out all my Ministry's operations in the Western Province. It would cost the Government a lot of money to build a similar depot in Kakamega in order to establish another provincial engineer's organization there. The distance from Kisumu to Kakamega is so short that it would not be justified to invest large sums of money to put up such a depot in Kakamega. My Ministry has a small sub-depot in Kakamega which is manned by fairly senior officers who look after the day-to-day maintenance operations in the Western Province under the general direction of the Provincial Engineer in Kisumu.

The hon. Member will no doubt appreciate the fact that my Ministry is very short of engineers and it is desirable, therefore, to utilize what manpower resources I have in my Ministry as economically as possible. I would like to state, with confidence, that my Ministry's operations in Western Province are being looked after with the present arrangement as well as possible and there would be little, if any, difference if my Ministry were to post a provincial engineer at Kakamega.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to know, from the Assistant Minister, whether he agrees with me that because we do not have a provincial engineer there, that is why the roads are in a terrible situation? Does he agree with me or not?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not agree for one moment because at the present moment large sums of money are being expended for construction there; this construction work is to a tune of £600,000. I cannot, however, say that all roads in Western Province are perfect; some, of course, need repairs and culverts, but this work is being carried out under our present Development of 1969/74 and the posting of a provincial engineer to Kakamega would not make any difference whatsoever.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister not agree with me that the fact that where there is a province which is capable of holding its own staff, it is imperative that the Ministry should post a provincial engineer to the headquarters of that particular province so that the provincial plans, as far as the roads and whatever is concerned with that particular office is carried out without any interference from or sharing with another province?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, these plans and organizations, and so on, could be effectively carried out by Kisumu. It is only 22 miles from Kisumu to Kakamega, a relatively short distance; and, furthermore, to construct a new provincial engineer's headquarters in Kakamega would cost the Government anything to the tune of about £150,000 and that money could well be spent on road maintenance rather than building a new provincial headquarters when we have one adjacent next door.

Question No. 38 (1255)

MEDICAL TREATMENT: PRIVATE HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Minister for Health to tell the House whether he would consider introducing a scheme whereby private hospital employees would receive cheap treatment in their respective employer hospitals so as to avoid the ridiculous situation of such sick employees being taken from the nearest place of treatment to some other distant hospitals.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Minister has no such scheme under consideration.

It is not very clear which private hospitals the hon. Member is referring to. Some private hospitals have general beds offering basic hospital services, e.g. most of the church hospitals. There should be no difficulty about the treatment of the hospital employees who are not contributors to the National Hospital Insurance Fund in such beds.

Other hospitals have amenity beds only and there would be no justification for expecting these hospitals to treat junior members of their staff, who are not contributors to the National Hospital Insurance Fund, in these amenity beds. Any member of the staff who are anxious to make use of the amenity beds in their "employer hospitals" could do so by becoming voluntary contributors to the National Hospital Insurance Fund.

Apart from the National Hospital Insurance Fund the Ministry does not have a scheme which could cater for the hon. Member's difficulty.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and considering that I personally did see some reports on incidents in the hospital known as the M.P. Shah Social Service League Hospital in Parklands, where two employees were sick and had to be taken to Kenyatta National Hospital because they could not be treated there due to the high prices they had to pay to be treated there, would the Assistant Minister consider a better way to deal with such situations instead of the present one whereby patients were removed from that hospital when they were very sick and taken to Kenyatta National Hospital? What arrangements could be made, like an agreement between hospitals and Government, so that these sick people can be looked after well?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is the first time I have heard of this particular hospital being referred to. However, apart from condemning such attitudes of an employer who would check out an employee when he is sick and particularly, like this case, when the employer happens to be working in a hospital, I think it is very bad indeed. As I said, we do not have any scheme now to force employers, whether in hospitals or elsewhere, to treat their employees. Our hospitals are open and if such cruel employers throw away their people like that we will receive them in our own hospitals as we receive all other wananchi.

But I would say that if the management of this particular hospital is treating their employees like that it is a very sad act indeed. I think it is inhuman and I feel that immediate arrangements should be made by all these hospitals to see that they provide facilities for their subordinate staff when they fall sick.

Mr. Kanja: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. The Assistant Minister, has admitted those types of hospital employers are cruel to their African employees. Now having admitted that, is Government—our African Government—not duty-bound to give a directive, as a Government, to ensure that those people who work in hospitals are treated where they work so that there is no need to have them transported to other hospitals since they might even die on the way before they can reach our doctors? Why do we have to be dictated to by those rich tycoons who run those hospitals, yet we are the Government and the rulers?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I see no dictatorship in that. It is our duty to provide medical facilities for all wananchi as a Government. We are doing this. Apart from the employer/employee relations we, as a Government, have not actually shirked our responsibilities of treating the people these hospitals are throwing out; but I do think the idea which the hon. Member is advancing is worth considering and looking into.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since it is clearly stated in the Kanu Manifesto that Kenya will work towards establishing a free socialist state, would the Assistant Minister not agree with me that by allowing these private hospitals to function in this country and charge large sums of money to patients we are really working backwards from our Kanu policy? When will this policy of socialism be really practicable in this country?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think it is being practised. If it is the general question on it, I think as the Ministry of Health our concern is on health matters and not the policy of how the whole idea of African Socialism in the Sessional Paper No. 10 is being implemented.

Question No. 51 (1271)

CONSTRUCTION OF NYAMIRA DISTRICT
HOSPITAL

Mr. Marita asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House when he will start the construction of Nyamira District Hospital.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The 1971-74 Development Plan shows that another Hospital will be built in Kisii and if it is the wish of the people to have this hospital built in Nyamira the matter should go to the District Development Committee so that the question of the site is decided.

At this juncture, Mr. Speaker, I would like to tell the hon. Member that this question has now been decided. It was not entirely for the Ministry of Health to decide; it was for the Members of Kisii and the people of Kisii themselves to choose a central place in Kisii to build this hospital. Now Nyamira has been decided on and our surveyors have been there to survey the site. When I was in Kisii with the hon. Member I gave an assurance that we are going to build this hospital. Since the survey team is almost completing the site survey, the next stage will be for the drawings to be submitted to our Ministry by the people from the Ministry of Works and then we shall start the building of the hospital.

It is no longer doubtful that we will have a hospital at Nyamira. The process has already started.

Mr. Marita: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, will he assure this House that the money allocated for this hospital will be used during this Financial Year? It has been the usual practice of Government to return the money to the Treasury.

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to assure the hon. Member that Nyamira Hospital will be built on the site we agreed on and it will be a 200-bed hospital. So the question of returning money to the Treasury, I think, should not be the Member's concern.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, can we know whether, within the planned period, the hospital that has been mentioned will be put up and will be opened immediately in view of the fact that there are certain places where hospitals have been built and have stayed unopened for over two years? Will the hospital that he envisages be opened immediately or will they just build houses there and then call them a hospital?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Ministry of Health does not call houses hospitals unless they are really functioning. So, those that are not opened as you say—we do not know them but if there are houses there they are not hospitals. Nyamira Hospital will be a hospital, opened and treating people.

Question No. 47 (1264)

PAYMENT OF SALARIES TO KITUI DISTRICT
TEACHERS

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Education if he would tell the House—

(a) why teachers in Kitui District, and in particular Kitui East, were not paid their salaries at the school they taught; and

(b) why they had to gather around the divisional centre, which is far away from their schools for their payments.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Mbai): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give the following reply. (a) It is not practicable to pay teachers' salaries at the schools due to the shortage of administrative personnel and for security reasons. There are over 200 schools in Kitui District and they are far from each other. If teachers were to be paid at these schools quite a number of them would have to wait for a considerable period before receiving their salaries and this is obviously undesirable.

(b) Only those teachers who have chosen to receive their salaries in cash are asked to gather around the divisional centre. The problems they face will be eliminated as and when they open bank accounts and have their salaries paid through the banks.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister agree with me that what he said is not true? Since other Government officials' salaries are sent to where they work, would the Assistant Minister speak the truth and agree with me that this is an anomaly? If that is the case, why should the teachers not be paid in the same way, being employees in the same Government?

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not agree with what the Member is suggesting here. For instance, I know, Mr. Speaker, that all staff of the Ministry of Agriculture gather at the divisional headquarters in their divisions to get their salaries there. It is only the chiefs and the administrative staff who get their salaries at the chiefs' camps.

Mr. Speaker: I have already indicated to the hon. Member in this House that we have about 200 schools in the district. If the paying officers have to travel to each school and pay the teachers it will take quite a long time. Some of the teachers will have to wait for a long time before they get their salaries.

In addition, Mr. Speaker, the paying officer has to be accompanied by a security guard to safeguard the money. I am sure the hon. Member would not like to hear that teachers' salaries have been snatched in the bush.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No point of order.

Mr. Munyasia: Can the hon. Assistant Minister who is answering the question deny, or refute, the allegation that the truth is that this arrangement is made because there are some people who have some interest in the teachers being paid very late in the evening so that their friends may spend the money with them in bars? Is this not the reason why there is this arrangement?

Mr. Mbai: That is a ridiculous suggestion, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I do not think— Teachers are grown-up people even if they are paid late in the evening. Each one is responsible for safeguarding his money. If someone is paid, say near a hotel or a bar, he should be careful not to use his money in that hotel or bar. Therefore, it is not true that this is an arrangement between, say, the bar owners or hotel owners or somebody else and the paying officers so that the teachers can be paid in a place where they are likely to spend their money. This is not correct, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from those replies given by the Assistant Minister, would he consider, or would his Ministry consider paying travelling allowance to the teachers when they are going to get their salaries because some of them have to travel long distances and therefore part of their salary is spent on the journey to and from the headquarters?

Therefore, would he consider introducing something like, say, travelling allowance.

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we cannot consider doing that. What we would advise the teachers to do is to choose their salaries to be paid through the bank and this burden will be eliminated.

Mr. Kitonga: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister in order in saying that there are so many schools in Kitui District and, therefore, it is impossible for the Government to go to every school paying teachers whereas he knows that in some places, like my place, Kitui East, there are five locations and, therefore, the Government staff paying the salaries can go to each location? This would mean that one school in every location would be the centre paying for that location, and therefore the Government staff paying the salaries would tour only five locations and this could be done in one hour. Why should the Assistant Minister take—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Kitonga, will you sit down please!

Rev. Kalume: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is the Assistant Minister aware that there are certain areas in our Republic where schools are in such remote areas that travelling from the school, to the divisional headquarters would take a teacher at least three days to walk there and back and, therefore, for that reason that school would be closed until the teacher comes back to the school?

If he does realize that, what is he going to do in order to eliminate these difficulties because the children from those areas do not get education while the teacher is not there?

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I quite sympathize with the point raised by the hon. Member; but as I indicated in my earlier reply, we have a difficulty of administrative personnel who are supposed to be involved in the arrangement of paying the teachers. Therefore, when we overcome this difficulty, we shall be able to reach the teachers, if not to their schools as far as to their locational headquarters. However, this will be looked into. I can assure the hon. Members that we are not satisfied with the present arrangements, but because of the present circumstances we cannot avoid operating the way we are doing; but this will be looked into.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No more on that. We will move on to Questions by Private Notice.

QUESTIONS BY PRIVATE NOTICE

RECOGNITION OF UGANDA'S NEW REGIME AND FUTURE OF THE EAST AFRICAN COMMUNITY

Mr. ole Leken: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Foreign Affairs the following Question by Private Notice:—

In view of the recent events in Uganda which led to the overthrow of Dr. Milton Obote's Government by General Idi Amin's Army:—

- (a) What is the Government stand so far as the recognition of the new régime is concerned?
- (b) What is the future of the East African Community?

The Minister for Foreign Affairs (Dr. Mungai): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. However, in reply to this question I would like to point out that this is a delicate matter affecting our region and, therefore, we cannot afford to use any inflammatory and emotional statements which could cause us embarrassment or cause any difficult conditions in our neighbouring countries. Therefore, I hope the Members will exercise restraint and good judgment in pursuing this matter.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the people of Uganda will have to determine and recognize the kind of Government that they want, and that is the Government that we shall have to recognize. We cannot interfere with matters of another State, neither would we let anybody else interfere with matters of our own State.

In pursuing this question, in the past, the Kenya Government policy on recognition has always been consistent and is based on objective criteria. It is not the practice of the Kenya Government to make any formal statements on recognition of new Governments; as our policy is to recognize States and not régimes. Kenya Government is always prepared to conduct normal inter-state business with any Government of a State provided that the following conditions are fulfilled:—

1. Such a Government must be in effective control over most of her states in that territory and this control must seem likely to continue.
2. There must be a general acceptance of the people of that country of the new order.
3. Such a Government must display the ability and willingness to discharge its international obligations and honour those obligations entered into by the previous Government.

It is on these bases that Kenya Government coolly and dispassionately assesses any changes in the régime of a state before extending recognition to it. Consequently, the Government of Kenya, like indeed most other governments in the world, are still studying these conditions in Uganda, and once the Uganda people accept the Government, Kenya has no option except to accept that Government and recognize it.

As to the second part, we still have to see the matters affecting the Community but, as for now, the common services are still running normally; the Railways are serving Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania without any problems; the Airways are serving Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania without any problems; Customs are functioning as normal; other communications like the Post Office and telephones are functioning quite normally; trade is going on as usual—it is not being affected—and indeed the normal movement of the people is still going on. We will have to wait and see what happens about the Community in the future. I hope nobody will do anything to disrupt the smooth functioning of the Community.

We have had other countries that have gone through the same thing and Kenya has been very consistent in its policy towards recognition of such states.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ole Leken: While agreeing with the Minister that it is not our duty, as a sovereign State, to interfere with internal affairs of Uganda, nor do we want anybody to interfere with our internal affairs, does the Minister want to tell me that this is only a mere silent recognition because recognition is not interference?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, as I have said, in Africa there have been several other countries that have gone through the same things. We have had a country like Ghana; we continue conducting business with the Republic of Ghana as we were doing before that happened. This has also happened in other countries like Nigeria and we did exactly the same without shouting one way or the other, and we have never shouted one way or the other, but we continue doing the normal business with any country or régime or government that is in control.

There have been numerous countries like these. For example, one of our neighbours, Somalia; another neighbour, Sudan; we have never said that we recognize this or that. Some countries, like the United Kingdom, do put up statements saying that they recognize So-and-so. We do not have to do the same. We make judgment otherwise and we continue doing business otherwise.

Mr. Koigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Minister agree with me that when Uganda is touched by a régime which we think—the new one—was planted by the white people that we in Kenya are also touched because Uganda is a member of the East African Community?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): First of all, I must apologize for the loss of my voice.

May I remind, Mr. Koigi that I think we should follow the advice of the Minister. We should not prejudge the issue by introducing matters like alleging that the régime has been planted by somebody there—Order! Will you sit down?

You can ask questions about our relations without introducing other matters like that.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply, where he said that one of the criteria they use is whether the government—a particular government—has the control over the majority of the country; I would like to ask the Minister whether the Government of Kenya uses different criteria in the sense that, for instance, the South African Government has the control—Is the Minister saying that the manner of control does not matter? For instance, the South African Government has major control over its country because of the force they use; would the manner of the control matter in our attitude towards certain governments?

Dr. Mungai: The two issues are very different and we are not going to be confused here. We reject one because of its racialist policies. They may have control over South Africa but they have something added on to that. They are a racialist oppressive régime which we do not accept. The other one is very different from that.

Mr. Masibayi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the reply by the Minister, would he tell us how long the Kenya Government is going to take to find out the three points which he has mentioned to us; whether the Uganda Government—now the Amin government—is going to have the control of the three points so that the Kenya Government would recognize it?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think if the hon. Member will just wait, he will see. I have also explained very clearly that business is going on as usual and it is quite normal between the two states.

Mr. ole Leken: Mr. Speaker, Sir, on the understanding that the supreme authority of the East African Community are the three Heads of the sister states, now, if the Uganda Government—the present military Government—does not want to sit with the Tanzania Government on the same bench or table to discuss the matters of the Community, what steps will the Kenya Government take?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, Kenya Government cannot dictate to another government as what they should do or what they should not do. Kenya Government cannot dictate to the President of the Republic of Tanzania and tell him that he has to sit with another Head of State. It is up to him to decide whether he is going to sit with the other Head of State or not. Therefore, this question does not belong to this House at this particular time.

Mr. Araru: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Arising from the answer by the Minister, where he said that the business of the East African Community is going on normally, could it be explained clearly why the meeting of the Charter Air which was to be held on the 4th and 5th February 1971 at Mombasa was cancelled? This was because of the Uganda régime. Therefore, if it is true that all business of the East African Community is going on normally, as the Minister says, then why was that meeting cancelled?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am advised by the Minister for Power and Communications who knows very well about these meetings, that this meeting will be held later. This is not the first time that meetings of the East African Community have been postponed. Many times in the past there have been postponements and later on they have been held. This is nothing unusual.

Mr. Araru: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! No, I do not want to spend time on that.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think for the first time the Minister for Foreign Affairs has answered the questions in this House in the right manner. Here, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the congratulations should go to His Excellency the President for having maintained the situation as it is up to this moment.

Arising from the Minister's reply, and in view of the fact that he has stated that the services of the East African Community are going on in the normal manner, is he aware of the fact that, right now, the East African Railways Corporation has no chairman; and also that, the Ugandan who was heading the East African Airways is now a Minister in the present Uganda Government, and therefore the services of this Corporation are not being carried out normally because of withdrawal of representatives from Uganda who were appointed by the previous Uganda Government? Is the Minister going to use his good offices to persuade the Tanzania Government to accept sitting together, and on the same table, with General Amin so that the services of the East African Community would be maintained?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, let us not confuse the workings of the East African Community and the personnel, some of whom may not be there.

I am quite aware that the Director-General of the East African Airways Corporation has taken another job. However, there is someone who is right now, acting. In fact, the Board of the East African Airways Corporation met yesterday and it is functioning. The airlines are functioning—the planes are flying between Dar es Salaam, Entebbe and Nairobi as usual and these are services. Whether there is one person missing, whether there is a pilot missing or a mere hostess missing the services are still continuing.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the second part of the question—I think I have answered that and I am not going to repeat what I said before about the three Heads sitting together. However, as far as Kenya is concerned, we would like to do everything possible to make sure that there is stability in this region of Eastern part of Africa, to make sure that there is peace and to make sure that we all prosper and progress together as East Africa, not only as Kenyans. We would not be happy to see one country suffering or another country remaining behind; together, we must forge ahead.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Minister not agree with me that the comparison he is trying to give to this House of various governments like the Ghana Government, Somalia Government and others where coups have taken place is totally different from the position of the Uganda Government in that we are in one Community—the East African Community—and we have no diplomatic representative in Uganda? That being the case, Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Minister not agree with me, also, that the fact that Kenya has kept silent on voicing its views on the issue in Uganda means that they accept the change of Government by military means, and therefore, they have recognized the Uganda Government?

Dr. Mungai: Once again let me make it very clear that Kenya prefers a change of Government by the ballot box any time. Secondly—I have made this position very clear—if a régime changes in whatever manner it does, Kenya cannot send in troops to force that régime to do otherwise. So, there is nothing that we can do; we cannot interfere with internal matters of other people. However, once a fact comes to be a fact it has to be accepted as a fact.

Mr. Gatuguta: Mr. Speaker, Sir, while appreciating all that the Minister has said, and arising from all that he has said and bearing in mind what we have read in the newspapers, that Amin has sent a delegation to the Addis Ababa Conference of Organization of African Unity and so has Dr. Obote, what is going to be the stand of Kenya at the Addis Ababa Organization of African Unity Conference? Is Kenya going to support the Amin delegation or Dr. Obote's delegation?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, Kenya Government does not function on reports from the newspapers. One could now travel to Addis Ababa from any part of the country and that does not necessarily mean that he is going to the Organization of African Unity Conference. One will have to have credentials in order to enter into the conference hall of the Organization of African Unity. So we just have to wait and see who has the credentials and then take our stand at that particular time.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We must now go on. Mr. Mutiso's Question by Private Notice.

SETTLEMENT OF RESIDENTS OF YATTA GAME RESERVE

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Tourism and Wildlife the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Will the Minister stop the use of £4,000 given to Masaku County Council for the purpose of creating a Game Reserve in Yatta around Kindaruma area, until such time that the Masaku County Council and the Central Government have found an alternative settlement for 400 citizens who are there now?

[Mr. Mutiso]

(b) Since these citizens deserve compensation, can the Minister tell the House who is responsible for payment of this compensation?

The Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife (Mr. Jan Mohamed): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) The £4,000 which was granted to the Masaku County Council by the Government for the establishment of Kindaruma Game Reserve was to be spent on major development works including fencing, roads, water supply. However, operations of this magnitude cannot be commenced before the fulfilment of such legal requirements as setting apart the land required, which cannot be finalized before the resettlement of any genuine landless people.

I wish to assure the hon. Member that his concern and interests are already safeguarded by this strict formal requirement. The question is whether the present settlers, who incidentally number much less than 400 according to the Masaku County Council report, are genuine landless wananchi. This will have to be ascertained carefully at the appropriate stage in future by the competent authorities of the Government.

(b) I am advised by the Chairman of that particular county council that according to a report of the committee of that council which visited this particular area some time last year, the then existing settlers were residing in cattle bomas and none of them possessed any form of fixed assets which could justify any form of compensation. However, since the existing Standing Orders of this House require that a reply be given within 48 hours, and since investigations are still going on, I would like to make it quite clear right from the start that I cannot commit myself and say any of the settlers in the area will be eligible for compensation. Nevertheless, if after consultation with the Minister for Lands and Settlement and the Provincial Administration it is established that there are cases that deserve compensation, Government will assess such cases.

Mr. Mutiso: Arising from that reply from the Assistant Minister, would he take note of the fact that the County Council of Masaku passed a resolution to set aside this area as a game reserve without first of all investigating whether there are people and whether people in that area had carried out certain developments? Mr. Speaker, Sir, bearing in mind the fact that since Yatta was opened for settlement it is more than 25 years ago, and that people have moved there and have built cattle dips and schools, and have also established markets—all these things taking place with the knowledge of the County Council of Masaku—would the Assistant Minister not consider it necessary, first of all, to have these things solved before the area is set aside or before any money is spent for game operation as he has just said, if at all the County Council of Masaku decides to remove these people at this particular time?

Mr. Jan Mohamed: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is not true. Enough consultations have been carried out and the hon. Member himself has been consulted. The hon. Member in question has met with the chairman of this particular county council. The hon. Member's cattle boma is outside the proposed area. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are speaking—

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister not confusing the House by saying "my cattle boma" or I have even some personal interest in that particular place? I said that there are cattle dips, markets and homes of, in fact, over 400 people. I do not want him to bring in the question my personal boma which is not, after all, in the area.

Mr. Jan Mohamed: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is the whole matter. I think there is no point of order here because the hon. Member is trying, perhaps, to mislead this House. It is not the whole of Yatta area that we are talking about; it is just a small area of 50 square miles. Indeed, a committee of Masaku County Council has visited that area and have met with the people. As I have already said, the number of people in that particular place of 50 square miles is much less than 400. They do not have permanent family establishments; all they have are cattle bomas.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is another adjacent area near the settlement called Ndalani. If the time comes and if some of the settlers have to be resettled, this area is available. As I have already said, the matter is being investigated and proper care will be taken for those who might be displaced.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the hon. Assistant Minister tell this House very clearly, since he does not live at Yatta, who we have to believe, the hon. Member who represents Yatta Constituency or a Minister who is only briefed by people from Machakos in writing, since he himself, does not live in Yatta?

Mr. Jan Mohamed: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member should know that I also lived in Machakos and I know the area well. However, any statement made by a Minister in this Government should be taken as authentic because enough investigations are always carried out first. What I am saying in this House is true.

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, can he tell us the exact population of the area since he has denied that the population of the residents number 400? Can he tell us whether he has carried out his private census or what is the real number of people?

Mr. Jan Mohamed: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is what I precisely said: a notice of a question by Private Notice allows only 48 hours. However, I have said that no action will be taken until complete investigations have been carried out and these facts are established. As I have said, nothing will be done until the Minister for Lands and Settlement and the Provincial Administration are satisfied about going ahead with this scheme.

Mr. ole Marima: Mr. Speaker, Sir, while accepting that what the County Council of Masaku intends to do in this area is to bring profit for the people of Machakos, could the Assistant Minister assure us the people who will be affected by that transfer which is intended to protect that place for animals will have superior facilities in their resettlement area than those which we are giving the animals?

Mr. Jan Mohamed: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this will be carefully considered by the Provincial Administration, the Minister for Lands and Settlement and my Ministry.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We must go on now.

BOYCOTT OF LECTURES BY NAIROBI UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I understand that the Minister is not ready today with the reply of the next question; but it will be put on the Order Paper again next week.

(Question deferred to another day)

NOTICES OF MOTIONS FOR THE
ADJOURNMENT

HOUSING FOR RESIDENTS OF PARKLANDS
CONSTITUENCY

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I have received a Written Notice from Mr. Kivuitu of his intention to raise on a Motion for the Adjournment a matter contained in the reply received to Question No. 37 (1254) concerning housing for the residents of Parklands Constituency.

I shall, therefore, call for the Motion for the Adjournment at the time of interruption of business on Tuesday, 2nd March 1971.

ALLOCATION OF AGRICULTURAL FINANCE CORPORATION LOANS TO FARMERS

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I have also received a Written Notice from Mr. Mwangale of his intention to raise, on a Motion for the Adjournment, a matter contained in the reply received to Question No. 48 (1267) concerning the Agricultural Finance Corporation Development Loan Funds allocation to Farmers. I shall call for the Motion for the Adjournment at the time of interruption of business on Wednesday, 3rd March 1971.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, a rather serious matter has been drawn to my attention and I am hoping to get some guidance from you, Sir, and this concerns the drought situation in the country. Mr. Speaker, my attention has been drawn to the fact that the two Nganyi brothers in Bunyore are prepared to bring rain throughout Kenya. Would it be in order to ask the Minister for Agriculture to have an immediate meeting with these two brothers so that we may have rain throughout Kenya?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): There is no use bringing up such an issue. Next Order.

MOTION

IMPROVEMENT OF ROADS LEADING TO MILK-PRODUCING AREAS

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since there is an indication that most hon. Members in this House have shown their intention of supporting this Motion, I do not intend to take a long time because I would like to give an opportunity to those who will support the Motion.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is quite clear that in Kenya all road except those serving the tourist areas, the Kenya Tea Development Authority areas and the sugar areas are extremely poor. Mr. Speaker, the dairy industry, being one of the major agricultural industries, which is equitably distributed to all classes of people in this Republic, Government should now embark on financing the improvement of roads serving these areas. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the dairy industry is enjoyed by both the large-scale farmers and the small-scale farmers. By this I mean a large-scale farmer who supplies milk to the tune of one hundred or two hundred gallons a day to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries and a small-scale farmer who supplies something between one litre and five litres a day.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, let me outline the economic status of this very important industry. The dairy industry, or rather the dairy farmers, have the following representation supplying milk daily to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries which in turn supplies milk to the entire nation of Kenya and at the same time exports milk to other countries: there are 800 suppliers, including individual suppliers, supplying milk daily to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this involves the handling of thousands and thousands of gallons of milk which is being transported over very poor roads. In addition, Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are 300 co-operative societies which also supply milk to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries over extremely poor roads.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, to make the House understand how much of this milk is handled every year, and also for the last five years, I would like to outline and give specific statistics of the amount of milk which from 1966 to 1970 has been supplied every year to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries over terribly poor roads. Mr. Speaker, you find that at times some of this milk is thrown away because it reaches the factory after one day, or after several hours, and as a result it goes bad and is rejected. Therefore, most farmers have lost their money this way and as a result they cannot be able to pay back their loans, or even be able to meet their expenses and pay school fees for their children: neither are they able to maintain good farming because of poor roads. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the milk statistics from 1966 to 1970 has been as follows:—

In 1966, whole milk, that is milk containing (Inaudible) and butterfat, the amount supplied to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries was to the tune of 20,242,872 gallons, and butterfat 7,740,425 gallons. Let me repeat that, Mr. Speaker. Whole milk supplied to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries was 20,242,872 gallons and butterfat was supplied to the amount of 7,740,425 gallons. This milk was sold to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries and it brought money to the Kenya nation to the tune of K£5,302,887, and out of this amount K£3,642,762 was paid to the farmers. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not see any reason why the Kenya Government has turned a deaf ear to the improvement of roads serving this industry which brings a great deal of money to both the large-scale and the small-scale farmers.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, in 1967 milk production went up progressively and the supply to the factory was to the tune of 23,716,988 gallons of whole-milk and butterfat was supplied to the tune of 7,741,360 gallons, and this represented an income of K£6,322,510, and the amount paid to the farmers was K£4,428,975. This is an increase and there has been one every year. The following year, 1968, the amount of milk supplied to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries factory was to the tune of 27,455,202 gallons of whole-milk, and butterfat was supplied to the amount of 6,631,760 gallons and this was sold and fetched K£6,865,193, and out of this amount K£4,587,693 was paid to the farmers. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not see why the Kenya Government, seeing this booming industry improving year after year, and at the same time being equitably distributed, particularly to the small-scale farmers in the settlement schemes in the former African reserves, cannot improve the roads serving the dairy areas which serve the poor and most of Kenya people. Mr. Speaker, Sir, following closely 1968, the production went up.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, in 1969, the amount of whole-milk supplied to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries factory was to the tune of 29,447,701 gallons and the amount of butterfat supplied was to the tune of 6,910,797 gallons, and this brought in an income to the tune of K£7,253,276, and out of this amount K£4,878,583 was paid to the farmers.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the figure for last year showing supply of milk to the factory went up to twice the amount supplied in 1966, to 44,187,636 gallons whole-milk and, this was sold for over K£10 million and payment made to the farmers was in the region of K£7 million.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did, earlier on, say that this industry is about the only agricultural industry which is equitably distributed among the small-scale farmer, the medium-scale farmer and the large-scale farmers. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, this means that the largest population of our Republic gets a regular daily, weekly, monthly and yearly income from milk. I urge the Kenya Government to take serious view and improve all roads in the dairy areas.

It is known, very well, that all roads in the settlement schemes throughout the Republic and all the roads in the former non-scheduled areas or districts—I can mention the districts which experienced difficulties in the last rainy season in transporting milk to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited. Nandi District was poorly served with roads; Elgeyo-Marakwet was terribly poorly served; the entire Western Province was poorly served and the people could not take their milk to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries Limited. In Nyandarua District most of the people in the settlement schemes had their milk blocked up at home. The same problem faced the entire Kirinyaga District, Nyeri District and even Kiambu here. I heard this from farmers when we went to hear evidence, on Tuesday, in Kiambu County Council on the agricultural input; farmers stood and said that Kenya Government must improve roads because a quarter of their milk was lost. I was shocked because I thought Kiambu roads were good, even those roads which were miles away from Nairobi.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am pretty sure that no hon. Member of this House will oppose this Motion. Even Government Ministers, who are also farmers, and Members of Parliament, who are farmers, are experiencing the same problems. I am experiencing the same problems.

Mr. Speaker, it is shown by the smiling faces of hon. Members that this is a straightforward Motion and I do not want to take a long time as I want to give hon. Members time to debate this Motion and pass it without any delay. All I ask, particularly from the Front Bench, is that although Motions have been debated in this House and passed but have been sat upon by some people, this is one of the Motions—and a most important one—which if you do not pass your constituents are going to ask you, “Why, Mr. Minister, do you sit in Nairobi, drive on tarmac roads and you do not want to think about our roads?”

It is from milk that now most farmers are repaying their loans to the Agricultural Finance Corporation, land purchase loans, paying their children’s school fees and for other liabilities. It is milk that is bringing in a regular income.

I want to take this opportunity. Mr. Speaker, to congratulate the directors of the Kenya Co-operative Creameries who have recently taken a stern measure to improve and increase the price of milk. Never in the history of the dairy industry has a gallon of milk gone up to a price of Sh. 3. I therefore take this opportunity to congratulate its chairman and the directors.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I hope the Government will, without any delay, take prompt action to improve roads which serve the dairy industry areas. In the past the Kenya Government has thought too much of the tourists—a tourist is not your voter; he is somebody from Germany, Britain or Japan. He did not elect you to this Parliament. I challenge you, hon. Members, including the Ministers, to respond to your constituents needs. This is a challenge at the beginning of 1971.

Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Remember to move your Motion. Your time is running out.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I can see that everybody is ready to debate this Motion and I now beg to move:—

THAT, realizing the acute transport problems facing the dairy industry in Kenya, this House urges the Government to give priority to and improve the roads leading to all the milk-producing areas as is done in the case of roads in the sugar-cane, tea and tourism areas.

I, therefore, call upon the hon. Member for Kitale West to second the Motion.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is a very straightforward Motion and, that being so, I do not think we should waste time discussing it because as the Mover has said everyone in this House is very much concerned over the condition of these roads.

In the first place, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the economy of any country depends on its road communications. Without road communications, then the question of a better economy of any country does not arise at all. Therefore, any person who is interested in raising the economy of his country must, first of all, take into consideration the improvement of roads.

Now, here, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is well to say that first priority should be given to roads leading to sugar-growing areas, tourist areas and tea areas. However, what one had to bear in mind, Sir, is that milk is more important than these other commodities. Milk is a very delicate commodity and, in fact, it is something which goes bad if not transported at the right time. Now, if it went bad whoever is giving priority to tourism would find that the tourists who come into this country would have tea without milk because milk has not been transported to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries from where hotels catering for the tourists buy it so as to serve the tourists with tea containing milk. Therefore, Sir, the first priority, as far as we are concerned should be given to roads leading to milk producing areas. I say, this, Mr. Speaker, Sir, because during the rainy season it is almost impossible to move milk from the milk producing areas to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries’ factories. In most cases the milk which is supposed to be moved at 7.00 a.m., to your surprise, Sir, you will find that it reaches the factories in the afternoon. What happens, Mr. Speaker, Sir? When it reaches the factories in the afternoon, Sir, it is often rejected because it has gone bad due to the fact that it was not processed at the right time. Once it is rejected, the people who expect to get the milk miss it. After these people have missed their milk supply, the second person who suffer is the producer because the small farmer in this country depends on milk. He depends on the milk because at the end of every month a milk cheque or a cream cheque is paid into his account. Now, when the milk is not accepted at the factory, the person who loses is the producer, and once he loses, the economy of this country is affected. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think this case, here, is genuine. The Government should take very serious consideration to implement this Motion because by so doing it would also be assisting the small farmer who only produces a pint of milk—the small farmer who depends on milk in order to educate his children and also to feed them. There are so many areas in this country which lack milk, and to your surprise, Mr. Speaker, Sir, you will find that people coming out of this country say that possibly the country has not enough milk. It is obvious that we have enough milk to feed our nation, to feed our people in the remote areas. However, what happens? They do not get milk because the roads are impassable. Therefore, Sir, I feel the Government should take a very serious consideration on this Motion so that roads leading to milk-producing areas are improved and if necessary they should be made all weather roads. I would not be ashamed to say here that all those roads should be tarmacked so that at any moment milk is required to be moved from one area to another is moved without any difficulties.

When it is the dry season, as it is at the moment, Mr. Speaker, Sir, you will find that this milk which is transported over our roads is filled with dust. It is filled with dust because the roads are dusty. In fact, some roads are so bumpy that the lorries transporting the milk reach the factories when the milk is very dirty and full of dust. Now, who is going to be fed on this kind of milk? Factories always reject such milk because it is not kept clean. Sir, the producers take the trouble to keep the milk clean, but what happens between the collecting point and the factory is something which should be looked into. This, Sir, is connected with the improvement of roads so that milk is transported in a nice way and it reaches the factory when it is clean.

People talk of the sugar industry and say that the roads leading to the sugar-producing areas should be improved. We have no objection to that suggestion. In fact, they should be improved. However, comparing milk with sugar—milk goes bad unless it receives immediate attention and therefore we are left with no alternative but to suggest that milk-producing areas should have better roads. Milk cannot remain good if it is kept for an hour, before being delivered to the factory, after it has been milked. Therefore, I would like to suggest, here, that the Government should give the first priority to milk. The second should be sugar-cane, and the third should be tea because without tea you can still live on milk, and without sugar you can still live on milk. Therefore, milk should be given the first priority because of these circumstances. Also, Sir, milk is the only source of income to a poor fellow in this country; it is from milk that he gets money after having sold it. The first priority should therefore be given to the milk industry in this country.

With these few remarks, and this being a straightforward Motion which we hope the Government is going to implement as soon as it is passed by the House, I beg to second the Motion.

The Minister for Power and Communications

(Mr. Ngala): Mr. Speaker, Sir, although the Minister concerned will speak on behalf of the Ministry, I would like to support the intentions of this Motion so that the policy of the Government in developing rural areas would, very much, be assisted, by implementing the idea being projected in this Motion.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, taking as an example an area I know very well, that is the hinterland of Kwale District and the hinterland of Kilifi District, where a producer of milk from indigenous cattle has organized himself over a large area to send milk to Mariakani Milk Plant, one of the biggest snags is the condition of roads. The small in-roads that go to the milk stations from different areas are such that they need a great deal of improvement. They need to be given that priority which will enhance the economic development over that area from this dairy product. Therefore, I think this idea needs to be supported by the House because it is very much in line with the Government policy of rural development.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, having acknowledged the need to develop the roads in the dairy areas, I would like to say, Sir, that it is not just the dairy products that need this kind of attention from the Government. You have, as it has already been indicated, tea, coffee and tourism, but there are some areas too where cashew nuts and coconuts are grown and these roads which go into the locations to carry the products on to the main roads and on to the markets also need development. Therefore, I think what we need to do is to take a general picture of the need to improve the agricultural producing area roads throughout the country but not just to single out one aspect. This is because if you single out one aspect in a Motion like this, you act on one aspect of agriculture only. I think what is needed in the country is to pay attention, in all these areas that are agricultural producing areas, to their roads. I think this is very important because since Government took over the responsibility of roads from the county councils this particular aspect has not had sufficient emphasis and it needs to be given a special emphasis. Maybe the Ministry of Agriculture and the Ministry of Works ought to have a special body which would give attention to this very special aspect of rural development, that is roads to collect produce all over the areas where there is agricultural production.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the milk producers, as moved by the hon. Saina, are very much concerned over this, and I notice that the people who have spoken so far are all farmers producing milk. I would like to say that we appreciate their feelings but I think they should have extended their feelings to other types of farmers who also would like to see Government doing something towards the roads that collect their produce. I therefore feel the Government attitude to this should be an extension of the Motion so that it covers all the needy areas in this aspect.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, with those few words I would like to support the Motion very, very much because I think it is given in good faith and also it is in line with the Government policy of rural development and communications and roads that carry these products are vital as a basic means of economic development in our areas.

With those few words I beg to support the Motion.

Mr. Mwicigi: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I rise to support this Motion, Mr. Speaker. It is very important that milk should be given the importance it requires. In this industry a lot of people are employed and also we get an income from milk. It has been said that we get over Sh. 5 million going to this type of farmers and this is very important, Mr. Speaker, Sir, what worries most of us is that you will find that these dairies are increasing the use of Land-Rovers because the roads are so poor that the ordinary type of vehicles cannot be used. In fact, there are some areas in my constituency where even Land-Rovers cannot go because roads are very bad. We understand Government is spending about K£53 million on roads but it is unfortunate that very little attention is given to milk. There is a big demand for milk in this country and we have never been able to produce enough milk. In fact a lot of our children in the country are suffering from malnutrition and if there was enough milk this problem would not arise. Also, Mr. Speaker, our butter has a very big demand outside Kenya and we understand this year we shall have to import butter. We have land for this but we have been unable to do it because the dairy industry has not been given the importance it requires. Mr. Speaker, Sir, poor roads have been reducing the production of milk and we feel that the negligence which has been given to the roads in the past must be corrected. Also, Government planners should take heed—if this Motion passes through—and we hope it is going to pass through—Government should implement it without any further delay.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I know a lot of importance has been put on tea and I do not think it is the question of changing the priorities as such but it is the question of Government getting money to improve the roads. Tea is also playing a very important role in this country. Last year we had about £10 million coming into this country through tea, and as such we feel also, that roads which are in tea-growing areas should continue to be improved. It is unfortunate that on tea roads Government has decided to tax the tea growers while a big area of road network has been prepared for every road user. The people who have been bearing this burden have been the tea growers, and this is a mistake which we feel Government should rectify immediately. If the roads are used by everybody the whole burden should not be given to growers only. In this particular case of tea growers, loans come from the World Bank, whilst the tea growers are deducted something like one cent per pound. Also, when it comes to sugar-cane there are areas which are very bad and the roads in such areas should be maintained. I can recall that at one time when I was at Muhoroni, army vehicles were to be used for the transportation of sugar-cane. We also have to consider that industry to be important and everybody should assist.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, also when we consider coffee, there are some areas in the coffee industry where roads are very, very bad. Coffee is bringing money to the tune of £17 million a year and coffee farmers meet a lot of taxation in the form of cesses imposed by the Central Government and the local authorities. We also feel that the roads in these areas should be maintained because some of them are very poor.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I support the Motion and I feel that the negligence that has been given to the milk industry should be corrected immediately.

I support the Motion, Mr. Speaker. Thank you.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think that all of us in this House agree that Government is making a tremendous effort to improve our road communications throughout the country and that our Government has seen it fit to pump a lot of our taxation money into road improvements. Therefore, I think that to start with we are going to congratulate our Government for making this very tremendous effort.

Mr. Speaker, I want to emphasize a point which other Members have mentioned here and that is: the dairy industry is one of our major agricultural industries in the country and most of our farmers depend on non-cropping system of crops such as maize, or in some places sugar-cane and tea. In this case, where you get a dairy industry being encouraged it tends to encourage diversification which is necessary for a proper living—not to mention, of course, the nutritious aspect of the dairy industry vis-à-vis the production of milk, butter and what-have-you. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the point which the Mover of the Motion has emphasized here is that Government found it necessary to classify roads according to their importance. They have classified roads in sugar-cane areas, and I agree, of course, that sugar-cane areas, generally, have clay soils or the so-called black cotton soils, which are very difficult for vehicles to pass through. Therefore, the Government has seen it fit to prepare these roads so that they become all-weather. That applies to tea areas, and to tourism which is basically a foreign orientated type of industry.

Mr. Speaker, the dairy industry is important to the ordinary farmer. It is so important that if it were not for this particular industry some of our settlement schemes would not survive today. However, when you look at some of the settlement schemes, especially those that I represent, Sir, the roads are not only impassable during the rainy season, but also impassable even at this particular time of the year because either the bridges broke down during the previous rainy season or they are so rough that only a bicycle can pass through. Whereas Government has made this effort to provide transportation vehicles for these farmers to transport their milk from as far away as 60 miles, from a place like Songareni to Eldoret—Mr. Speaker, sometimes during the rainy seasons these roads are so bad that the vehicles do not get to this point. Therefore, a farmer literally stands with his milk in cans, waiting for a vehicle to come and collect the milk, so that he can get his monthly income but the vehicles do not appear, not because they do not attempt to come but just because the roads are very bad.

Now, I want to propose here, Mr. Speaker, that the Government should specifically classify dairy roads as such, especially in those areas which are real dairy producing areas, not potential but dairy producing areas. In this particular case, I am referring, Mr. Speaker, to roads in the settlement schemes in most areas of Western Province, in Rift Valley Province and in other areas which have already been mentioned.

I want also to mention a point which was brought forward during our discussion of the Development Plan, and that was that the Government had introduced some kind of phases of construction of settlement roads. I think there was Phase I, Phase II and Phase III. I may be corrected, if I am wrong, but I do not really know how long these phases will take, in order for these roads to be completed in the settlement schemes. As I understand from the Minister for Works, the roads that had been given priority were those roads, I think, around Thomson's Falls or somewhere around the schemes in that area.

Now, it has taken almost a year and they have not come to Phase II, whereas my schemes are in Phase III, and yet we are coming to the rainy season in just about two weeks' time. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I would like, if possible, our hon. Minister to make it quite clear as to when these phases of road construction in the settlement schemes will be finished, or whether they will be finished before the start of the rainy season in March.

I wanted also, Mr. Speaker, to make one point quite clear, and this is that if we want to be successful in maintaining our roads, to be all-weather in these dairy areas, the Government must provide equipment or depots, or they must equip their depots as well as they can and as soon as possible because if we have to wait—as the Minister pointed out (I think it was yesterday) that the equipment was on the way, that it has been ordered—until these roads are so badly damaged, it will need a lot of money to be spent on repairing these roads before they are up to standard. Therefore, I would like to ask the Minister to make it as a priority, to equip these depots which maintain these roads throughout the dairy areas and other areas of the country so that these roads cannot be damaged beyond repair before the Government has to spend a lot of money. I understand you spend as much as Sh. 15,000 per mile, on laying murrum on some of these roads up to, I think, a layer of three inches or something like that.

Mr. Speaker, there is no point in our Government spending so much money, Sh. 15,000 per mile, on laying murrum, and only just after three months the whole thing has been washed away simply because it has not been maintained. I would like, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Minister particularly to take into account the importance of equipping the depots so that they can constantly repair these roads and keep them in good condition.

Another point, Mr. Speaker, which I have noticed, as far as the Ministry of Works is concerned in the dairy areas, is that the road construction, when it is started, is always done during the rainy season, that is the laying of murrum. Therefore, they lay the murrum, the rain comes and the whole thing is washed away continuously. I have pointed out this in the past but I see it happen even now. Therefore, Sir, if it is Government intention, or the Ministry of Works' intention, to maintain these roads it is up to them to ensure that those people who are given contracts to lay murrum on those roads or to maintain those roads, maintain them at the right time.

Now, there are provinces, and this is a point which has already been mentioned, I think during Question Time today, such as Western and Nyanza provinces and part of Rift Valley Province which are covered by only one provincial engineer. Now, for a provincial engineer to come all the way up to Kisii, all the way up to Sotik and back to Kitale, just to keep an eye on these roads—that is such a large distance that you would not even blame him if he does not see some of this very poor road construction that is being carried out by the contractors who are given contracts by the Government.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I think it is of paramount importance that our priorities must be redirected towards the training of personnel, especially so as to post as many provincial engineers per province as possible and not just one provincial engineer covering two or three provinces or two provinces and part of another province. However, there should be at least one provincial engineer per province and we should increase the number of inspections carried out by these people who inspect road contractors so that we can get better services out of them.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Seroney: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. While supporting this Motion, and I say quite clearly that I support everything that has been said by the Mover and all those who have spoken and, therefore, I will not repeat the importance of the dairy industry. I would like to say a few things which have not been said so far. I can see the hon. Member for Kajiado is very busy preparing to reply to this Motion, probably because his other colleague is intimately connected with the Kenya Co-operative Creameries and, therefore, has chosen not to reply to this Motion. I hope that the Member—the Assistant Minister for Works—assuming that he is going to accept this Motion, will not feed us with the usual Treasury talk of agreeing, as soon as funds are available or as soon as budgetary provisions are made. I think, at this very moment, a lot of activity is taking place between Government Ministries and the Treasury with a view to preparing for the next budget which is only a few months away. I sincerely hope that if the Assistant Minister accepts this Motion he will make urgent representation to his Ministry which should, in turn, make very serious representation to the Treasury so that we are not told to wait until next year because no budgetary provisions have been made for this year.

The other point that I would like to mention to the Ministry of Works is that the problems of bad roads arose since the function of the roads was removed from the county councils. This has meant that the organization of roads is done from long distances, particularly in a place like Rift Valley. Since county engineers have been replaced by one engineer, it means that whenever you want to do anything in the district, you have to refer all the way to Nakuru. I mentioned this because we do not want any money which is set aside for carrying out this Motion, if it is going to be accepted, to be squandered by unnecessary costs. I think it is necessary to follow the lead given by the Ministry of Education which has agreed to establish District Education Boards. The Ministry of Works should have similar district organizations through which to operate and through which they can issue tenders, advertise and through locally instead of all these contracts going to Kamau or Njoroge from hundreds of miles away to remote places like Nandi or Western Province. I think this is important because whatever money we decide to spend on the roads should be adequately spent and should not be squandered.

I hope that Government will not be penny-wise and pound-foolish because the state of the roads, in many of our areas that have been mentioned, in the settlement areas and in the large-scale farming areas of Wareng and other districts in the Republic or the rest of Kenya, are in a terrible position. I think it is the duty of the Ministry of Works to improve all roads as the Minister for Power and Communications has said, but I think the priority should be given to the dairy industry areas because it is the mainstay of all the new farmers. Our farmers, whether large-scale farmers or small-scale farmers, have had to obtain loans to buy their farms and the only sure means of repaying their loans is the monthly cheque from the Kenya Co-operative Creameries because other crops are not reliable. The price of maize keeps on changing from time to time; there may be drought and other things which may affect other crops. So the farmer really depends on the milk cheque every month to repay his loan which had been incurred by his farm, whether in a settlement scheme or in a large-scale farming area. Many farmers take development loans to buy grade cattle and they repay these loans through the milk bill. So, I sincerely hope that the Assistant Minister and the Government will be imaginative as far as this issue is concerned and not be stingy about making adequate provisions to meet the requests contained in this particular Motion.

It is well known that where there is will there is a way. If a war was declared tomorrow, or if a foreign country invaded Kenya tomorrow, money would be found, somehow, to meet the enemy. Therefore, in the case of a problem like this one I would urge the Government to recognize the urgency for developing dairy roads instead of saying there is no money available or instead of saying "please let us wait until we have negotiated with the World Bank" and similar excuses. I think urgent action is required as we have all agreed that something should be done and I sincerely hope that the Assistant Minister and the Government will concede to this request and will meet the wishes of wananchi who, after all, have sent us to this House.

With those few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think, first, I would like to pay tribute to the honourable Mover of this Motion in the way that he has presented to the House such detailed facts about the entire dairy industry. No doubt he, being a keen farmer has taken a lot of trouble to tell the House exactly the problems facing the farmers.

At the same time, I am also equally appreciative to remarks that have been made by other hon. Members who have contributed to this Motion. Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is no doubt that the dairy industry is an extremely important commodity of our economy in this country and one which is of serious concern not only to the farmers themselves but also to my Ministry which is responsible to maintaining these roads.

I speak from experience, being a milk farmer myself, and so when I speak I realize the problem of other farmers because these are the problems that I, particularly, have faced in the past.

Milk is an extremely perishable commodity and one that needs to be transported speedily to the factory. Once the milk gets to the factory one hour or two hours late, the normal procedure in the Kenya Co-operatives Creameries depot is that the milk is considered to have gone bad and it is rejected, and therefore no monthly cheque to the farmer. Therefore, milk can only get to the factory if roads are in good shape and so on. I live six miles from the milk depot, and I know that at times the milk that gets to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries depot, Nairobi, two hours late is all rejected. So, I can imagine the problems of a farmer who is living fifty or sixty miles away from the factory.

Therefore, I speak from experience having been a milk producer myself and knowing the problems facing farmers throughout the country. All the same, we cannot just simply single out milk areas alone. We have underway several road phases for tea, sugar and tourism areas, all of which are very successful. Most of these roads are at the same time equally being used by farmers transporting their milk from their farms. The problem really, here, is on the access roads which come from the farming areas. Some time last year I paid a visit, to Kitale and toured some of the high-potential areas, Cherangani, Kimilili, and noticed the problems the farmers were facing in those areas in transporting their milk. They were even facing these problems during the dry weather. I therefore cannot imagine how the problem would look when it rains. In some places there were no culverts, no bridges and so on. On the whole I think there is a case here that my Ministry needs to look into; the Government and this House have a responsibility to tackle this responsibility for the benefit of all farmers in this country because milk as we have been told, and as the statistics given to us by hon. Saina have shown, it a commodity that is rising year by year and I am sure that unless we give priority to these roads there will be farmers, who are supposed to pay their loans and so on, who will be faced with a critical situation. Therefore, we are trying constantly to do everything we can to improve these roads. It is only about 12 months ago since we took over the running of most of the roads from the county councils, most of which were in very bad conditions. We have been hit by the lack of equipment and plant to maintain the very roads which we have taken over. At the moment it would be difficult for me to tell or give to the House a precise time when these phases will be commenced. However, as soon as we get sufficient equipment and plant, as I have already stated in this House many times, my Ministry has negotiated a loan of 12 million dollars to enable us to buy sufficient equipment to cover the entire country. I am sure, now with adequate equipment, we shall take into consideration seriously the problem of roads used in the transportation of milk.

The situation as it stands at the moment, roads leading to all tea-producing areas are covered in the Ministry's settlement programme, Phase One and Two. Phase One of this programme is already under construction and we will give the highest priority to settlement areas, giving first attention to access roads within various schemes. Such improvement of these minor roads will enable perishable produce, including milk, to be transported via the existing major roads network.

[The Assistant Minister for Works]

With the increase of agricultural production, the important roads serving these areas will be improved. The first phase of improvement work will involve the construction of reasonable standard access roads within those settlement areas whose development is at present frustrated by the lack of a suitable road system. The estimated cost of the recommended first phase of development involves a sum of £454,000, covering the construction of approximately 360 miles of low standard access roads, including a total of 48 bridges and major drainage structures. The areas affected at the moment in Phase One of this programme will include Ainabkoi, Sotik, Emburu, Ndundori, Thomson Falls, Marenet, Ndaragua, Kinangop, Mweiga, Naro Moru, Highland Farms and Salient. The Second Phase of the work will include the balance of roads recommended by the Settlement Department. It is possible that Phase Three may be required later to complete roads not covered under Phases One and Two.

As I have said, the question of roads to milk-producing areas being treated as separate does not arise since this will be covered under the settlement roads programme. Milk is one of the most important agricultural products in the settlement schemes but cannot be considered in isolation from the other agricultural products in the schemes. Therefore, hon. Members I think, will realize there are other equally important agricultural commodities that the country has to cater for. As I have already said, we are constantly at work, and we are constantly improving whatever roads we can when we have the funds.

I would like the hon. Members to accept a slight amendment, Mr. Speaker, Sir, which I am going to propose.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) left the Chair]

[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki) took the Chair]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if I may read the amendment it will read as follows:—

“THAT realizing the acute transport problem facing the agricultural industry in Kenya, this House urges Government to give priority to and improve roads leading to all producing areas as well as other agricultural producing area.”

I would propose that all the other words, that is, “tea” and “sugar” be deleted.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I sincerely hope that the House will approve this slight amendment as it does not make much alteration. It shows that we shall do everything we can to give priority to milk-producing roads as much as we can.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to move.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku):

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to second the amendment by the hon. Mover and the responder to this Motion for the simple reason, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that Government is also aware of the fact that milk is one of the products in this country which is very, very important and necessary. This amendment, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, more or less accepts the fact that there are other agricultural products which we require to meet the consumption of our people and which are not included in this Motion, what will happen is that, today we are having the dairy industry accorded the priority, and tomorrow another hon. Member will bring in something to do with coconut areas, and the following day after that one there will be another Motion about cashew nuts and the following day after that there will be a Motion about maize roads, and another day there will be fish “something”, groundnut roads and so forth. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there will be so many Motions in this House that we shall actually spend most of our time on the various types of agricultural produce.

Nevertheless, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the Motion as amended is very reasonable indeed because it has not changed the meaning of the Motion in that the Mover of the Motion wanted milk to be given priority which has not been interfered with in the amendment. It is still the priority as well as other agricultural producing areas. Milk is at the top over the other agricultural products. All roads leading to areas producing agricultural produce—cashew nuts, maize, wheat and whatever else will be taken care of.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, while on this point, I agree with Government that it is intending to do something, but there are difficulties at the moment as one hon. Member has already stated particularly now that we are going to have rains. People in the settlement areas particularly, Mr. Deputy Speaker, have very big problems because they can hardly transport their produce to the various centres for marketing purposes. The result Mr. Deputy Speaker, is that there is a delay in delivery of their produce and they are also unable to meet the commitment as far as the loan repayment is concerned which in itself has rendered some of the farmers in the settlement schemes being expelled from the schemes. However, now when they are settlers and yet they are going to be expelled from the settlement scheme, we are actually de-settling them, something which will not help us at all. Therefore, Mr. Deputy

Speaker, Sir, I appreciate and congratulate the Government for being aware of the fact that there is need for these roads to be improved as this in itself will improve the situation which is prevalent in the settlement schemes as far as the transporting of the produce to the market is concerned.

The last point, I want to say in connexion with this Motion, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is that, I must thank the hon. Member for having moved this Motion because it is this milk that helps a lot of our young kids and even the grown-up people. In that case, we should consider very seriously how we can help our people. We all of us in the House are quite unanimous on this question, and therefore, I do not want to take more time on this.

Therefore, I beg to support.

Mr. Seroney: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, can it be made clear as to which these words are?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I thought that hon. John Keen had just read the amendment. Mr. Keen has proposed that the words "as it is done in the roads in the sugar-cane, tea and tourism areas" to be left out of the question and in place thereof be inserted the following words, "as well as all other agricultural areas".

Mr. Murgor: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am actually standing to strongly oppose the amendment which is meant to kill the intention of the Motion. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, which is more perishable than the other, maize or milk? Milk is the number one—

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is it in order for the hon. Member to try and mislead the House that the intention is to kill the Motion because the amendment is not even touching the priority on milk?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I think his intention in uttering those words was that Mr. Keen's amendment would have the effect of watering down the feelings and the intentions of the Member who moved the Motion. I think this is what he is trying to express but he has not said anything.

Mr. Murgor: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that is what I am trying to say. If you put any other agricultural produce, then, you are just going back to where we have been in the sense that you are generalizing this sort of thing. Now, milk, as I said, is more perishable than even tea or sugar. It is number one in perishing. Therefore, milk ought to have the first priority and you cannot say that tomorrow somebody will bring another Motion asking for the improvement of coconut or maize roads. Well, things will come as the time comes also. When we are asking today that the milk roads be improved, we are asking this because there is a need for it.

The Mover of this Motion has explained very well and given facts which amount to the reasons for making this to be a priority. The dairy farmer's only means of income is milk. He has no other source of income and if this milk is to be transported on very bad roads, sometimes this milk is delayed and it goes bad, sometimes it is delayed and the grade goes down and the person who losses is the farmer who does not have any other means of getting an income. Sometimes, when it is rainy, the lorries get stuck for hours or even days and what does the farmer gain from this, he only loses. This is why we are saying that milk roads should be made the priority number one.

The farmers spend quite a lot of money. If you want to get more milk from your cattle, you must spend a lot more money to feed your cattle. You must give them more food, and this food, to increase the milk yield, costs money. When you increase your milk yield, you expect to get some return from the money you spent to feed your cattle and this money comes from the sale of their milk. If, however, you improve the yield of your milk and, then, this milk does not get to its destination, then you lose much more than you would have lost if you had not fed your cattle with more food.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, to improve our dairy cattle these days we use artificial insemination. With bad roads, however, this scheme cannot be carried out and that, then, means that you cannot improve your dairy cattle. Therefore, milk roads should be considered as important as sugar and tea roads are. There is no use saying that the Mover of this Motion has just singled out milk. If he has singled out milk, why were tea roads and sugar roads singled out? Why were they called tea roads and sugar roads? What is wrong in saying that we want milk roads to be improved in the same way?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am pleased to hear the Assistant Minister here saying that the Settlement roads are also going to be improved because the settlement scheme farmers have suffered quite a lot because they have not been able to deliver their milk to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries because of the poor roads and a lot of other things have happened which have made them find it very difficult to repay their loans.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the dairy farmers would like to see roads all along the collecting points tarmacked so that whenever they take their milk to the collecting points, that milk will be able to get to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries without going bad.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as I said, the intention of saying that the Motion be amended to include other areas meant that the Motion was being killed because we have definite areas which produce only milk and other definite areas which produce beef cattle only. At the moment we are talking about areas which produce milk. To talk about the areas which produce beef cattle, that is a different matter. In places where they produce maize, you can keep maize in the store for a long time, as long as you want it to be kept, but for milk you cannot do this. If, for example, I have ten gallons of milk today and the lorry gets stuck, it cannot get to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries, what do I do with all that milk? There is nothing else I can do with it. However, if it is taken straight away to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries, I get what I have laboured for. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I strongly oppose this amendment and I hope that the Members of this House will also oppose it.

With these few words, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I oppose the amendment.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am standing to support this Motion very strongly. We are very happy that this amendment has been dropped.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am wondering why this amendment was brought forward because these milk roads are not going to be used for the transportation of milk alone. These roads are going to pass through many areas of our reserves. I wonder if the hon. Assistant Minister has ever been to that place. I was there myself back in 1956, when I was young. During my tour in that area, I saw a lot of milk put beside the roads waiting to be collected by trucks and transported to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries. However, apart from cattle being raised on those farms, there is coffee, maize and so many other agricultural products. Now, when such a road has been tarmacked, these other products will be transported on it and this is why I say that this road is not going to be made for milk alone.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I know when the Mover of this Motion brought it to this House. He was very serious about it because, as we know, milk is a one day business. If milk is allowed to remain for one day, it cannot be used because it goes sour—maziwa lala. Therefore, this is what forced the hon. Member of the area to bring this Motion to this House for consideration because his people are suffering. Milk should have good means of transport because during the rainy season, I believe, that road becomes impassable. I remember some time ago I had to sleep in a lorry which was stuck during the rain on that same road somewhere between Thomson's Falls and Bungoma. I also know that the road from Kabarnet via Turbo to Eldoret is also very bad during the rains. Although I know that the major road which goes to Kampala is all right, the feeders of that road which lead to the farms are very difficult to pass when it is wet. We also know, in addition, that there is always rain in the Rift Valley Province and this makes it very difficult to use those feeder roads. That is specially brought up by the Mover to see that the milk-producing areas have as good roads as those in farming areas affecting tea and sugar. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I strongly support this. I personally know that part and I have even been to some of those areas. If you want to travel from Eldoret to Kabarnet. Mr. Deputy Speaker, you cannot drive. At the hill near Kabarnet there is a signal at the foot of the hill indicating, "Wait. A single lane." There is not enough room for two lorries or cars to pass each other. Then you have to wait below while the signal indicates to the other motorist at the top. "The lane is now clear", then you may drive on. In the whole of that area, if you go there you will find that it is the farmers who are affected, particularly the Africans who are called upon by Government to apply for loans to go and become good farmers, but there are no roads to serve them. Mr. Speaker. How will these people be able to repay their loans, the cases of which Members from those areas always bring here and complain about?

With those few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to support.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, first of all I wish to take this opportunity to thank the Seconder of this Motion and all those who have supported it.

I was a little surprised to see the hon. Minister for Works trying to generalize this Motion by amending it to cover roads in all agricultural areas, in which case, he was actually trying to play a small tactic because tomorrow, or the next day, if Government is asked to improve the roads in the sisal area they will just turn up and say,

[Mr. arap Saina]

“Sisal has lost the market. So there is no point in putting money into the roads in the sisal areas.”

Mr. Deputy Speaker. Sir, it is true, and it is realized that once you improve the dairy area roads you will have improved the tea roads, coffee roads, pyrethrum roads, sugar-cane roads, wheat roads and maize roads because all these commodities are intermingled. In fact, the dairy industry is a mixed industry. Many farmers grow wheat, maize and rear dairy cattle at the same time. Once all roads in the dairy farming areas are improved the farmers who grow other crops like cereals and the plantations will also benefit.

Without wasting any more time, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the Motion.

(Question put and agreed to)

PURCHASE OF PROPERTIES FROM NON-CITIZENS BY AFRICANS

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Mr. O'Washika will not be able to move his Motion this morning as he has gone to see a doctor. So we will move on to Order No. 7.

(Motion deferred)

Mr. Mulwa: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, you realize that in the middle of the Motion we talk of the beginning of 1971. It should read 1972 because it cannot be the beginning of 1971.

DISCONTINUATION OF FORMS V AND VI EDUCATION

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

THAT since there are many families in this country who cannot afford to educate their children due to poverty and whereas the Government is spending huge sums of public funds in educating and maintaining students in Forms V and VI and the fact that the education provided in these two classes is not absolutely necessary for university studies, this House urges the Government to discontinue Forms V and VI as from the beginning of 1972 and employ the money used in running these classes in setting up funds with each county council for the purpose of helping the children whose parents cannot afford to pay their fees.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, from the out-set this is a very important Motion. I say that because as regards education we do not have to emphasize its importance. In fact, even the most backward people in this country now do appreciate the importance of education. The only thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is that despite the promises we have been making, as a Kanu Party since 1961, that Government would work towards the achievement of free education, to the contrary, the common man is wondering what is happening because the fees went up last year, for example. Instead of showing a gesture of reducing the fees they were increased. Mr. Deputy Speaker.

We have also to realize that there are so many families in this country who are so poor that they cannot afford to educate their children. Are we going to have these children growing up without education simply because their parents cannot afford the fees and yet Government sits down doing nothing? Are we going to leave education to the people who can afford it? Are these people not the citizens of this country? They are, and for this reason they look upon Government to find ways and means—let alone the promises which Government has made several times—of educating these children.

One of the ways I am suggesting in this Motion is that Forms V and VI which we have at the moment, and which are maintained by Government, are not necessary in our education system, and I will show why they are not necessary.

Secondly, why I am moving this Motion, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is because the Minister for Education said the other day that we cannot afford to have free education until, say, after seven years because Government has no money. Well, since Government has no money, and we cannot do anything about it—I do agree that Government has no money—we have to look for this money somewhere else. That is why I am suggesting that Forms V and VI, which are not necessary in our system of education, should go away.

Let me explain why Forms V and VI are not necessary. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we inherited the British system of education, which, to say the least, is not suited to our needs here. They brought this system here simply because it is the system they had in Britain. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, when you look at this, even before I go into details, you make a feasibility study and we come to the conclusion that it is only in Britain and some of the former British colonies that there is this system of having Forms V and VI. What do the rest of the countries do? The rest of the countries, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, do not have Forms V and VI. What happens is that they have a compact system which includes most of the subjects which are dealt with in Forms V and VI in our country here and Britain included in the secondary school curriculum so that these subjects are dealt with there. If it is a very technical subject, then the students are made to undergo one year of free university when they go into it so that they do what they should have done which was not covered in the secondary school, and then they proceed on. This system is used widely on the continent and it has been found to be very effective. It does not waste time, but what happens here is that you go to a secondary school, then to Form V and do the subjects which have nothing to do with what you are going to do in the university. Not only that, but in fact, what you do there is a continuation of what was being done in the secondary school. So in effect if somebody took the trouble he would find that what is being taught in Forms V and VI can be taught in Form III and IV by simply bringing in the teachers who teach Forms V and VI there.

There is another advantage here, that of making the curriculum in Form IV more effective by having qualified teachers. In fact, what I am saying, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is that we are following this system for the sake of it because we were given it by the British Government, but it is not one of the best systems. What we need here is a curriculum which suits our needs here. If we look at this we will find that we are trying to achieve what Britain has achieved, in a matter of two centuries, within 50 years. We are not up to date when we are adopting this system which is becoming absolutely obsolete. Therefore, why do we not take the money which is used in maintaining students in Forms V and VI and also used in paying the teachers who are teaching them in setting up funds with the county councils since the Government says that it has no money? We accept this fact because we have no money. Why do we not use this money in setting up funds with the county councils so that the parents who cannot afford to pay for their school children and the parents who are citizens of this country and who are, in fact the majority are helped? For example, particularly at this time when there is a drought in my area and Moyale and, therefore, it is necessary that we have to think seriously about this situation.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there are parents who cannot afford to pay school fees for their children. For example, like my area—Makueni—where we depend on the sales of cattle, there is now a quarantine and we cannot sell the cattle. What are we going to do with our children? Are we going to leave our children without going to school simply because the parents cannot afford to pay and yet it is in the same Republic? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we should think seriously about abolishing the Forms V and VI. This is why I put up this Motion today. Let us discontinue with them and then let us include the subjects taught in Forms V and VI in Form IV. For example, in Law, for somebody to qualify as a lawyer, he has to study for seven years and there is nowhere else where I can think of where somebody has to study for seven years. These things were designed by the imperialists who were here in order to sort of sit on us and discourage us. What is the point of lengthening the period for law studies to seven years? Now, after Cambridge School Certificate you go to Higher School Certificate where you do Geography, History and Mathematics which have nothing to do with law for two years. Then after that you go to university.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): History has something to do with law.

Mr. Mulwa: No, I am a lawyer. Yes, continue with your commerce and I will have something to say about you next Tuesday.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, what I am saying is that after wasting time with useless subjects, then, one goes to a university. For example, if I may tell you the truth, I did not go for Higher School Certificate. Moreover, I did not do History and I am one of the best lawyers. Let anybody call me and I will teach him.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, what I am trying to say is that it is not necessary to do these useless subjects because after that he goes to a university for three years and after that he goes to the law school for two years and then he qualifies. A total of seven years. And yet, most of the lawyers here in town, the so-called English lawyers did only two years at the Bar! Ask anybody who knows about it. They did only two years or two and a half years, including the Attorney-General. Ask him because he did his studies in the United Kingdom. And yet, they still think that we cannot qualify within three years! They want us to do seven years. I think this is doing things blindly for the sake of doing it, following blind advisers without questioning why we have to do things.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this is absolutely unnecessary. Anyway, the emphasis, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is on the necessity of education because everybody is now appreciating the necessity of education and, therefore, we should think of how we are going to help our poor citizens who cannot afford to pay school fees for their education. If I may point out this, I wish to remind the Government that it is the same Government, which whenever an election is approaching talks of free education; "That, if you elect us, we, Kanu, we are going to work towards free education." Nothing so far has been done and I think this is our seventh year since independence. Yet, there is no sign showing that the Government is in fact doing something towards that end. At least, there should have been something to show the public that Government is doing something. However, instead Government is decreasing the school fees. It is now Sh. 72. Is this in accordance with the promises made to us?

One thing I may tell you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, which these people do not seem to realize and yet it is very important: these people would rather pay more tax and have their children educated freely or have the school fees reduced rather than being given promises like the one they were given the other day that they are not going to pay their tax and yet they are paying now and yet they do not see the benefit of it.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think this is one of the things which brings about misunderstandings in a country. When the common man realizes that the people—the Government—which they choose seem to have forgotten them when they get into power and they are enjoying themselves and because of this they can afford to pay for their school children and have forgotten the people who put them into power, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this is one of the things—the root of the thing—which is bringing unfortunate misunderstanding now sweeping the whole of Africa.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to move and leave it to my friend, Mr. Munyasia, to air his views but, I will have something to say against the Minister for Commerce and Industry.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): What are you talking about?

Mr. Munyasia: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

This is a self-explanatory Motion and I think Government will not hesitate to agree to the terms of the Motion as it is moved.

Sir, looking at the country-side, we see that there is no point in continuing with Forms V and VI. As my hon. friend puts it they are wasting time. What I suggest, Sir, is that immediately after a student has finished his Form IV, he should move to a university where he goes to qualify for a degree because it will take him about seven years to acquire a degree. Therefore, this is money used for nothing. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if we take, for instance, the number of students in Form V, each student spends about Sh. 20,000 which, in comparison, could be used to cater for 35 students in Form I. Now this money could be used to educate the unfortunate children.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like the Minister who is going to answer this question or this Motion to tell the House what necessitated the increase of school fees by 44 per cent; because formerly it was Sh. 50 for Standards I to IV and then Sh. 60 for Standards V to VII.

However, today, Sir, it is uniform throughout the classes; Sh. 72 from Standard I—a child who knows nothing—to Standard VII. This is a shame on the part of the Government and the Minister must stand on his feet and tell the country what necessitated this increase of 44 per cent—because this request did not come from this Parliament and we do not know what the Minister had in mind when he made the increase.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is well stipulated in the Kanu Manifesto that the Government was going to give free education for seven years throughout the country. We know at the moment it is not important but, when the Kanu is singing this slogan of “free education”, I thought, Sir, that the Ministry was going to reduce the school fees in order to enable the poor parent to be able to educate his children. However, instead of coming down the ladder, the Government has decided to climb the ladder. Now, Sir, the truth is that in many poor families, they are the people with the majority of children, you will find a parent with six children whereas a well-to-do man is having two children. Now, what is the Government going to do with this parent who is having six children and has to educate all of them at the same time? What they say is that you go back, and look after cattle or do farming, go back to the land. Is this the motive of the Government?

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for any child in the Republic, it is the duty of the Government to care for it because he is a future leader of this Republic. I hope the Minister will make a note of this and make it clear why instead of the Government reducing the school fees they have gone higher.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, you will find that since Kenya attained its independence, we have appealed for this free education from time to time. People are now getting tired. I think this came into operation as a slogan since 1963 and now we are in 1971. The people who have been cheated into thinking that Government is going to give free education, are they going to believe that after eight years of independence the Government is still thinking of free education when they see school fees going up? How is Government going to convince the ordinary man right in the rural area? I think this is one of the things Members of Parliament are being worried about by the electors; “Why did you increase the school fees?” “What necessitated this increase?”

Therefore, the House, Sir, must be told today. This is how the Government loses the confidence of the masses. It is good for Government to keep quiet and say, “For free education, you are dreaming!" However, when you begin cheating people by telling them, "Oh! I am ready to give you a loan and so you come next month." And this man keeps on coming to you every day and he sees no loan, you will end by that person knowing what you are. Therefore, Sir, we as leaders and responsible people and as the President said this National Assembly is a mature and responsible House and so the duties for which we are responsible must be fulfilled. We must speak and act as elders. Are we really acting as elders? When we appeal to Government to reduce the school fees or do away with the money that is spent on Forms V and VI we do that so as to enable the Government to educate the unfortunate children whose parents cannot afford to pay the school fees. Are we quite sure that we are doing any service to the community? Therefore, Sir, I think this Motion is a straightforward Motion and we should not waste time on it. I think Government should come with a full reply to the Motion.

Kenya as an independent country should not follow the advices of the foreigners. We must decide on our own and for our own good.

With these few remarks, I beg to second the Motion.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad to have a chance to say something on this Motion. This is because, first, I would like to clear one point which some people might have. Some people might think that the idea is to lower the standard of education. This is not the case.

At present the world is accepting specialization and whether we like it or not we are going to end up with specialists—somebody mastering one thing. One may be a top-class intellectual but he cannot be an engineer, a lawyer, a doctor and everything else. Therefore, the point is specialization. So what do I say about Forms V and VI? If somebody is going to be a doctor, definitely he is not very much interested in a lot of history or geography. He is interested in science subjects: biology and in the first two years in a secondary school, teachers will start judging who are the boys and girls with a tendency towards becoming doctors and therefore, they will start being good in science subjects. Instead of boring them with unnecessary art subjects, they should drop some of the art subjects after two years and start specializing and doing more of other science subjects. Within the following two years they would know sufficient on the science side and start feeling whether they could become doctors and so start doing particular subjects which concern the line to be pursued. This is because even when he becomes a doctor he cannot be a dentist; a chest specialist; and an oculist; or a gynaecologist. You either become general or even you will have to specialize in the long run and only become an eye specialist or become a gynaecologist. Therefore, the idea of trying to make a human being to become a master of everything is silly. The idea of Forms V and VI is more or less doing this.

What should be done is that: this money which is being spent on Forms V and VI, which is more or less a repetition of the work done in Form I to Form IV, let these students not waste any more time. My idea is that after two years students should start dropping subjects so that they start doing and concentrating on the subjects that they are likely at the end to specialize in.

What will be done with the money that is being spent on Forms V and VI, because it costs a lot of money to educate one student for those two years? This money should be sent to the county councils so that there can be a committee which can decide that this is a poor child but brilliant and so we will educate that child with the money which would have been spent in Forms V and VI. The pupils or students in Forms V and VI spend so much money that one student in Form V and Form VI, if dropped, would educate about 10 other students in the lower classes. In that way we are going to have fewer "traffic boys" in the streets. What is the cause of these boys who show people where to park? It is lack of education. Why do they lack education? Because their parents cannot afford it. If the parents cannot afford paying for their school fees, is it not the duty of the state to take care of those children? What we are doing is to create a situation whereby thuggery will be higher because we are getting a few boys and girls to know too much unnecessarily, yet others do not have anything. In the end when those who do not have the knowledge but they are intelligent enough, they will learn how to rob the banks and plan other sorts of crimes. This is because there is nothing worse than leaving an intelligent brain untrained for it must train itself to prove that it can also do something. Normally, they find that to train themselves to be a first-class criminal is the easiest way.

They will wait for the doctor to make his money and then deal with him later, they will trick him somehow. If necessary they will use force to get the money. Therefore, my suggestion is to let us look at things as they are. We must accept that we are a young country. And being young we cannot afford some luxuries. Somebody doing six years of education is not necessary. Let him do four and then go to the university and start doing the subjects he is going to do for his profession. If he is going to be a lawyer he starts taking those subjects slightly earlier and by the time he does four or five years in the university he will be well qualified.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we must accept that education is an international art and so we cannot afford to be different from the others. Let us examine how the Germans do it; how the Japanese do it; how the Americans do it; how the British do it and so forth. Must we go beyond what the British do. Let us keep the standard that is international. This will not lower our standard. So long as you are a good doctor it does not matter whether you studied in Form V or Form VI. If you are a good eye specialist, for example, you are a good eye specialist; and similarly if you are a good lawyer you are a good lawyer whether you know much geography or you do not. Just let one get an idea of geography for the first seven, eight, nine or ten years and then after that one should start concentrating on one's career. If one has to be a geographer one could do it for fifteen or twenty years and thus we can have a specialist in geography, a specialist in law, a specialist in medicine, etc. However, we do not want one human being to try and make himself know everything—what for? I do not believe that there is any need for this. This question of having Form V and Form VI represents this idea.

I feel that there is necessity for the Government to implement this Motion by 1972 so that the existing system can be changed and we adopt in its place a system which takes into consideration the poor people, because whether we like to hear it or not it is a fact that we did not start birth control at the same time with Britain. Many of our people have many children and so they cannot afford school fees for their children, some of whom roam the streets. Is it better to have a few boys and girls in Form V and Form VI and let many boys and girls do without education or is it better to drop Form V and Form VI and have everybody getting the chance of being educated? I propose and would like to say with certainty that the right thing is to give everybody a chance because we are throwing very many doctors out, though we require them, by not sending the potential doctors to school so that we can exploit the gift they were given by God of being doctors. Once we leave him at either Standard III or Standard IV and then we drop him how is he going to be a doctor in spite of the fact that we require them so much? How is he going to be an electrician and we require electricians so much? How is he going to be a teacher and we require teachers so much? All that we do is to prepare them and then leave them in negligence of the potentialities which they have in their blood and which was planted by God in their brains. We do not exploit these potentialities by educating them simply because their parents are poor. However, there is much public money which is being spent in other fields which in my opinion and the opinions of many other people which are internationally proved as unnecessary.

If somebody wants to be a geographer, well, he can continue doing geography for ages; but if he has to be a scientist, why has he to waste a lot of time studying geography or any other subject for that matter? Let us start early in specialization and gear ourselves on what we are going to be. There is no need trying to be very general for too long a time. After nine or ten years of a child's education, he is grown up enough to start showing his own tendencies. We should start to develop that because we do not need to start creating what does not exist—just let it die. After all, so I am told, everybody at the beginning is a male and a female but God being what He is and brilliant He develops one sex and leaves the other alone so that one becomes either a male or a female. Similarly, let us do the same thing. If you appear to be a potential scientist, let us forget your art potential part of it and develop the science potential part of it and vice versa until you become a first-class specialist of one kind or another.

Thank you.

Mr. Kivuitu: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

I find this Motion rather difficult to know whether to support it or oppose it because it contains both objectionable aspects and some desirable aspects. However, the motive behind it is obviously good as expressed in the Motion. My objections are mainly on the fact that the Motion sets a time limit within which these classes terminated. I think this is very unrealistic because I do not know what is expected to be done to those who are now in Form V this year and will be in Form VI next year. Besides that, I think any form of education cannot be changed so abruptly without causing a lot of maladjustment. I think that if we have to introduce a system like this the Government should be given sufficient time within which to implement such a project. This is one of my objections.

The other objection, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is that I think the Motion is rather narrow. I think the whole system of our education needs overhauling; but it is not a question of removing two classes and replacing them with a free education system. We require a general overhaul with a view to shortening the period that one takes from Standard I to university level. I think that is what we require but not simply removing two classes which cannot do. I think that is a very artificial method of satisfying the required objectives. I am saying so because I know when I was in school, starting with when I was in Standard II, I was taught that a grasshopper has —I think either six or eight legs or somewhere in that region. Then, when I went to Standard IV I was taught the same thing. Again when I went to Standard VI, I was taught the same thing. Similarly, when I went from Form II to the abolished Standard VIII, I was taught the same thing. When I went to Form IV which is equivalent to today's Form II, I was taught the same thing. This went on and on. This sort of repetition is something which can be reduced so that something could be repeated twice only instead of six times.

The other aspect is the question of history. In my history lesson when I was in Form II—latterly Standard VIII—I was taught about the Black Hole of Calcutta. This was again repeated in Form IV which is the present Form II and similarly it was repeated in Form VI which is the present Form IV. This repetition is again carried on to Form VI. I think this could be reduced. I cannot believe that it can be reduced by removing two classes. As I have already said, it is obviously artificial although the motive is good. What is required is to shorten the period between Standard I and university level. If that is reduced, and it can be reduced by condensing the studies so that one can have concentrated study within a particular short period, I think this can be achieved. However, what is required is that the Government must have time to study this. We do not want this to be introduced and then we come to Parliament and then begin shouting, "Oh, the whole system is bad and is not working well because our children are not getting sufficient education!" I am sure this will come about. So, those two aspects make me object to it. However, the objective is good because it will shorten the time within which children will be able to study and in so doing will save money which can be used for free education or for lessening the burden on the part of the parents with regard to school fee obligations.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, those are my views; and I had the objective of amending this Motion but I find it difficult to do so. However, I only hope that the Mover will be able to delete certain words, for example, instead of saying that "This House urges the Government to discontinue" it should read, "This House urges the Government to consider discontinuing Form V and Form VI from the beginning of 1972 and any other relevant matters with a view to"—and so forth. It can be amended, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

An hon. Member: Why can you not amend it?

Mr. Kivuitu: The Mover of the Motion being unable to amend it is now asking me to amend it. He told us that he is a lawyer and so he should be able to do it. He also told us that he is a big lawyer. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): It is not time worth spending in that way. If you want to amend a Motion, instead of speaking about it, you do it.

Mr. Kivuitu: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the criticism is well taken. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am not going to move any amendment, but I will leave the Motion as it is and let Government do their job. In any case, the objective is good and if it is not amended, I will support the Motion as it is. If the objective is opposed by Government I will support the Motion as it is, but if it is properly amended by the Government I will support the amendment.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, with these few remarks, I beg to be confused.

Mr. Mwithaga: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is very amusing for that gentleman who is a lawyer to give such a lecture attacking his fellow lawyer. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, indeed the sentiments and the intentions of the Motion are understood and acceptable if only we could have Ministers in the Cabinet and in the whole Government who are interested in finding out ways and means of developing the youth of this country. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have the intention of amending this Motion rather than becoming naive in the way that hon. Member was trying to be. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, before I move the amendment I would like to say the following:

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I deem Forms V and VI classes to be useless classes, a waste of time, a waste of manpower, a waste of money and a waste of everything in this country. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I say this because—and I must submit that in the old days before one started studying for a degree, one had to go through an intermediate course at the University or in the colleges which was then two years—it has now been reduced to a three years' degree course and there has been provided Forms V and VI as stepping grounds. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I find it difficult to understand why this was decided. I am saying this for the simple reason that when you have completed Form IV, you are capable of joining any university. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I know students who have gone to universities overseas and some of these students were of Form II level, let alone Form IV and they have beaten the fourth-formers in the degree course. Mr. Deputy Speaker, the only thing we need to learn is the understanding of minds and brains of our students at school because we do not understand them. This is precisely the reason, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I had brought a Motion here calling for the establishment of a National Education Intelligence Service. When I brought this Motion here, my hon. colleague, Mr. Shikuku, said I was too intelligently minded. That was not a question of an intelligent mind, but it was a question of trying to understand the kind of youth we are developing in this country, especially at schools, so that we can advise them on what to do immediately they leave school at Form IV level.

[Mr. Mwithaga]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, the headmasters and principals know their pupils and students just too well and they know immediately one has done School Certificate, one could be trained in a given technology. What we require is the students to leave Form IV and go to technological institutions immediately, so that they can prepare themselves for the skilled manpower that we require in this country. We do not require this theoretical education for two years. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, imagine if Government decided to give Forms V and VI free education instead of starting with primary schools, they want to give free education to Forms V and VI. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, how much money is being wasted? Mr. Deputy Speaker, I happen to be a governor of a certain college. We recruit students both with School Certificate and Higher School Certificate as students for diploma courses. Mr. Deputy Speaker, if you check the records, you cannot tell the difference between the two because all of them are as bright as one can expect a student to be. Mr. Deputy Speaker, what is the logic behind this kind of education? Why should the State spend so much money on Forms V and VI? If I were asked, Sir, I would suggest that both Forms V and VI be nothing but technological institutions and at the same time going along with military education. Sir, I believe we can make use of this chance a great deal during those two years instead of having to send them to the Lanet Military College for six months or one year to become Army Officers. The whole thing could be done simultaneously and come out and work. All we want is manpower. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I support this Motion seriously because instead of spending that money on this kind of unstrategical education, the money should be spent in educating the poorer children whose parents are actually very desperate and these children need education badly. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, instead of educating our children from the peak we should start at the bottom—educate the poorer children who are in thousands or indeed in millions and then help them that way with that money. In fact, the cost of educating one chap at Form V and Form VI. Mr. Deputy Speaker, can meet the education of five Standard I to Standard V children in two or three years. The expenses on teachers, the expenses on clothing, expenses on boarding and tuition, food and the rest, taking into account the money spent on one particular student in Forms V and VI, you will find that money can educate five primary children in the lower classes.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to move an amendment in the eighth line by:—

“ . . . deleting the word ‘county council’, and inserting in the place thereof, the word ‘local authorities’ ”.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, this is in order that my friend the hon. Mulwa does not only think about the rural areas because it is a right that we must consider even the urban areas where he lives in Nairobi for Parliamentary duties and these places must all be considered. Let the whole thing apply to the whole nation because, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, even the city council, for that matter still goes on with cries all over because of the money they want for education. They can run the primary schools, they can take over the private nursery schools for better education with this money which is now being used without strategical approach. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this touches on our planning, and if the Minister for Finance was here, I would tell him that we must rethink every time we are planning for the betterment of this nation. We must always take time to think and put into effect those thoughts. Why should we spend that money in given places on given students and what does the country gain. Mr. Speaker, do you know, as we are speaking here hundreds of students with Higher School Certificates are still looking for jobs just as Form IV school leavers are doing? They are doing it. What do they gain in those classes?

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to move:—

THAT, since there are many families in this country who cannot afford to educate their children due to poverty and whereas the Government is spending huge sums of public funds in educating and maintaining students in Forms V and VI and the fact that the education provided for these two classes is not absolutely necessary for university studies, this House urges the Government to discontinue Forms V and VI as from the beginning of 1972 and employ the money used in running these classes in setting up funds with each local authority for the purpose of helping children whose parents cannot afford to pay for their fees.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, the University Senate will agree with me that the record they have of students who are studying for degrees there and of those who are taking diploma courses show that even those who have been taken on a maturity basis rather than being Form V or VI students are sometimes better than those who went to Forms V and VI. Therefore, it is a question of the personal integrity and intelligence of a given student that counts. It is the merit of that student that counts and not the forms.

I believe, Sir, that the parents will be with this House if we can succeed in convincing the Government that this money is not being spent properly and therefore, the classes in question be done away with and that the alternative should be accepted. I hope the Minister for Education, including hon. Shikuku, who, as I can read his mind, is totally opposed to this Motion, should think of Butere. I therefore, beg to move.

Mr. Karungaru is seconding my amendment.

Mr. Karungaru: I would also like to join with my other fellow colleagues who have contributed a lot to this Motion. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this House is very much ashamed of telling the truth. Any time a Member moves anything here, we find that he is not interested in telling the truth. If we are only going to remove Forms V and VI, I in my own analysis, do not believe that we are going to solve the problem in question.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, why do we not tell the nation the whole truth? The whole truth is: we have a university here. In the other countries of the world, we have never heard of a university which is maintained by the State. Here, we have students who are spending a lot of money in the university. They are provided with residential houses and fees. This money, which is used in the university, can surely be used to offer free education in this country. It is true this can happen.

In America and Great Britain, only bright students are maintained by the government. It is only the bright students who are helped by educational institutions with the education funds. The other students are maintained by their parents or else they maintain themselves because the education they get is their own. It is their own in the sense that if they come out of the university, they start earning.

However, these are the fellows we have in this country and who are always causing a lot of inconvenience and strikes in the university. They think that, we, the parents of this country, do not pay for their education. We want the Government to tell us why that is happening whereas the poor people's children cannot go to school. We are only to try to educate fellows of very well-to-do people as opposed to those of the majority of people—the indigenous citizens of this Republic. This is a wrong policy and the issue should not be approached this way.

If this situation is solved, surely, the question of having free education could not arise at all because we could easily master it. The money that is being used by a student in the Form V or VI is roughly £5,250 per year and there are only 53 schools. Therefore, even if we get hold of this money, surely we are not going to solve our problems. We are going to remain with a lot of problems. However, I understand that every student in the University College gets pocket-money to the tune of Sh. 500 per year.

An hon. Member: Per year.

Mr. Karungaru: Even if it is per year. First of all, why has he to be paid that money when he can still go and have vocational employment to earn money. That money should have been utilized in something else for the interests of the Republic.

We are becoming so naive by pretending that we do not know that we have a problem in this country. We have it in a big way and we should realize this in advance; otherwise we will be caught unaware.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, the former Motion as it was could not, surely, be accepted by this House because it had a sign of discrimination in that it was talking about county councils. Only a naive person could accept that kind of approach. I have never heard of any House which is interested in creating a law for a certain section of a community.

We are all concerned with the whole country and with the interests of the whole nation. We are not concerned with only county councils. What about we hon. Members who represent areas such as municipalities and cities? We are also Members representing this nation. We also want to have our share and so any time a deal is being made. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we fail to understand why we are not being considered. We are also part and parcel of the whole nation.

Mr. Umuro: It is because you are consuming the whole of our money.

Mr. Karungaru: I understand, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that it is because we are consuming the whole of their money. These people who come here are our tourists. If they come here and we provide services for them they feel it. We provide services. We do not take a penny from anyone unless we provide services for him. This is it. We should not be ashamed of telling the truth.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is high time the whole system of education in Kenya was overhauled. Why I am saying this is because a lot of time is wasted by education planners in this country who are still thinking in the same terms like their colonial masters. Whatever it was, they are still thinking the same way! This kind of colonial hang-over should go, and go for good. If it does not go, we will never shut our mouths. We will continue to shout and continue to criticize whatever we think is wrong. It is our duty and we are employed to do it and therefore if we fail to criticize, then, we are failing to comply with what we are required to do. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if we adjust the education system things will be all right.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to second the Motion.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Mbai): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think it is high time that I made known the views of my Ministry in connexion with this Motion.

I have listened intently to the arguments put forward by the hon. Mover and other Members who have participated in the discussion of this Motion and I feel Sir, that hon. Members seem to think that this Motion is as simple as it sounds. That is, Sir, to say that it is not just as simple as taking away the two forms, namely Forms V and VI, and then the money which will accrue will be enough to provide free education in primary schools. This is wrong, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as I will elaborate later on in my speech.

The Motion says, Sir, that it is not necessary to have Form V and Form VI classes because the education got from these two classes is not necessary for any student to gain entry into a university. It also goes on to say that we spend huge sums of money to maintain or run these two classes. I must make it quite clear from the beginning. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that upper forms in secondary education, as far as we are concerned and in relation to our present stage of development, are necessary in regard to the manpower requirements we, in Kenya, need. The Government does not spend, as it is put by the Motion, huge sums of money in running these two forms. In fact, no significant savings would be obtained or would accrue if we did away with the two forms. At the moment, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have about 53 secondary schools which have upper forms that is Form V and Form VI and that constitutes about 5,200 students in those upper forms. The average expenditure per student per year is about £110. If any mathematician here can calculate that—and I hope the hon. Member can also calculate that—he will find that we are not going to have much money to be able to cope with the great needs of financing or giving primary school children free education. Not very much indeed, Mr. Deputy Speaker. In fact, if we were to do away with the two forms, the savings would only represent 13 per cent of the total expenditure of our secondary education.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as I have said we need these upper forms because we require a high level manpower at our present stage of development. Also, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we need them because we know that the savings—if we are to phase those forms out—which will be accrued as a result will be so infinitely small and will not make any impact if you were to divert it to the use of primary school fees.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the Motion has also gone on to say that it is not necessary to go through Forms V and VI or to have sat for Higher School Certificate Examination to gain entry in universities. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, most of the universities require a minimum entry qualification of say, one principal pass and two subsidiary passes or two principal passes and three subsidiary passes. These, Mr. Deputy Speaker, at our present set-up of education, can only be obtained from the two-year course in Forms V and VI which our students undergo. Therefore, we feel that it is quite necessary at this stage to maintain Forms V and VI, one, because of manpower requirements which we need. Also, we know that we would not like our students—when they leave school at the university level—to be at a disadvantage by not being considered for any employment internationally. Our education system must really meet the international standards. That is one of the reasons, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, which makes us feel that at this stage there is a need to maintain these two classes. However, if I may point out here, Mr. Deputy Speaker, it might be desirable at a later stage to look into the whole system of our education and see whether, really, as one of the Members here has suggested, we can do away with the two-year course but instead have one year after Form IV and then the students proceed on to the university. However, this will require time and it will also require the examination of the whole of our education system to see whether it is for the benefit and best interests of our country and our educational developments to do that. What the Motion is asking is not quite practicable at the moment and it is not going to have much impact or benefit at the moment and it is not going to have much impact or benefit as the Member tries to put to us. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the Member says that the money that is used in educating these two classes could be used in giving more remissions or perhaps giving free primary education. As I said, this is not very much. The Government realizing that county councils had a lot of difficulties in running primary education, took over the running of primary school education and now, we have embarked on a programme, Mr. Deputy Speaker, to increase the ratio of remissions to our schools throughout the country. In fact, some parts, such as Samburu and North-Eastern Province, we have gone up as far as giving a 20 per cent remission ratio, and we hope that this is going to continue until such a time that we can really provide free education for all.

Mr. Kitonga: When?

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Mbai): However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, it should not be taken for granted that— It is quite simple for a Member to stand here and say we need free primary education, as if the Government itself, or the Ministry, does not want that. We, in the Ministry and the Government as a whole, would like to provide this. However, there are certain obstacles, Mr. Deputy Speaker, which you must also see and appreciate.

Mr. Mulwa: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker. Is it in order for the Assistant Minister to dwell on one point of the Motion? We are not discussing free education itself, he is outside the Motion. We are talking of children who are helpless.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): That is the truth because since many Members referred to free education, I seem to remember that even you, yourself spoke about this. However, despite our promises to the people, we have not given free education; instead, we have increased school fees. I seem to remember that kind of thing— He is replying.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Mbai): Mr. Deputy Speaker, when the hon. Member was moving his Motion, we gave him a good hearing. I think he should also listen to this side of the House and hear what we think of this Motion.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I quite appreciate the objective of the Motion. However, the way he is trying to put it, that the only way he thinks could make us achieve the objective of helping the destitute children is by doing away with these two classes, is what I am trying to say is not true. If he says that the Government should think of other methods of getting money to help these children, that is quite all right and I am trying to tell him, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that the Ministry is already engaged in this exercise of trying to see how best, within the funds available, to cater for the children whose parents are poor. That is why I was trying to explain, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that we have now gone to the exercise of increasing the remission fee, so that no child in any given area of the Republic would miss education because of the parents being desperate or cannot afford it; I was trying to explain that.

Another thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is that we, in the Ministry of Education have an arrangement or a scheme, whereby we provide bursaries for such children, and if any case is brought to us, and we examine it in a proper way and if we find that it deserves attention and action, we will definitely take action, Sir. However, just to suggest here, that the only method of solving this is to do away with the upper forms, and that we will get enough money to pay or to meet the needs of the destitute children in primary schools, when it is known that children in the Republic who are attending primary schools today are so many that this amount will be very little. This amount will be so little and very few people will benefit as a result of this but we could appreciate a plan which will, actually, bring better suggestions which we as a Ministry would consider and see whether it is practicable to go by and help the children whose parents are very poor. As I have said, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we have—this situation is taken care of in our remission system and also in our bursary schemes in the Ministry and, therefore, we do not consider that it is quite advisable and right to do away with the two forms which we very much require for this high level manpower at our present stage of development and also the time which the Motion tries to set for us is so short that we cannot practically do it. Physically, it is impossible. We need a good time to study the whole system and see where it could be really altered and which part can remain within our educational system.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I should also mention that our educational system is geared to producing school leavers who will help the country to meet its high level manpower which I have just mentioned and at the same time fit in with our present society or the changing society. As

I have already said, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we also need students or we must produce students from our secondary schools, and from our particular universities who, really, can meet international standards and who can look for employment elsewhere outside Kenya. This is another aspect that may look unimportant to the hon. Member but it is a very important point, Mr. Deputy Speaker, and we should also consider that because we would like our students to be employable on all sides. Therefore, my Ministry rejects this Motion, first, because the upper forms are necessary for manpower requirements and secondly, expenditure on running the upper forms is approximately so small that it is not going to make much impact if it was to be diverted to helping the children and also, Mr. Deputy Speaker— Yes, I am just finishing. Therefore, we do feel, in the Ministry, that this is not the way by which we will be able to really solve the whole question of how the hardships which the children whose parents are unable to pay their fees, will be met. As I have said we have methods which we are following to try to relieve this cadre of children throughout the Republic.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I totally reject the Motion and I ask the hon. Member to realize that I object to the Motion because the way it is framed is not quite palatable to us in the Ministry and we feel that, although there might be the need to examine our educational system this is not the way. Thank you very much.

(Question of the second part of the amendment, that the words to be inserted in place thereof be inserted, proposed put and agreed to)

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have only about two minutes, and I want to summarize what the hon. Assistant Minister mentioned in only one word because some of us have had the experience of being in the university for some time both under the old system of going up to Form VI and then straight to the university as well as having the opportunity to teach some of these boys who have gone up to Higher School Certificate. My own opinion if I may tell the hon. Assistant Minister is that we literally converted the Higher School Certificate Forms to nothing but a method of screening kids who otherwise would go into the university and then throw them out. Some of these boys have passed in their School Certificate Examination, maybe they passed in First Division perhaps with nine points, but they fail to make the grade in their Higher School Certificate Examination. We have a certain administration in the university here which not only screens those students not on the basis of something like tribalism—if I may call it so—but also to make it worse on the basis of brotherization, nepotism and what-have-you. This is going on and we shall see to it that it is not done in this country again. There is no need in having Higher School Certificate Forms at all. The hon. Member says the amount of money that is being spent on Higher School Certificate students is negligible. However, £600,000 per year can do a lot. It is better for us to encourage the establishment of constituent colleges of this university so that many more students can go to school after School Certificate instead of going on spending money to the tune of £600,000 or more per year on unnecessary education. I think as the hon. Karungaru said, we still have this colonial mentality that somehow we have to get the top cream. There is nothing like top cream any more in the world. I think Form IV is enough to enable our students to join the university.

With these remarks, I definitely support this Motion.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I think we will continue next time.

NOTICE OF MOTIONAFFAIRS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NAIROBI

✓ Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

THAT, in view of the fact that the University of Nairobi which was established in July last year started on an unsound and improper footing, and in view of the recent events indicating inefficiency and poor administration which have created unnecessary frustrations and animosity; this House urges the Government—

- (a) to dissolve the present University Council and appoint a new one with membership on a provincial basis;
- (b) to appoint a commission to inquire into the affairs of the university with a view to making recommendations for its smooth and efficient running; and
- (c) to establish more constituent colleges which are geographically dispersed throughout our Republic.

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 40 (1257)

IDENTIFICATION PARADES

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, before the Minister replies to my question, I wish to correct the following error.

After the word “offence” in the second line of the question, it should read “or is a suspect” and not “as a suspect”.

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs if he would tell the House—

(a) whether it is not just and reasonable that when a man is charged with an offence or is a suspect and is on an identification parade in the course of investigation of an offence he should be informed of the object of the parade and of his rights in that connexion; and

(b) if the reply is in the affirmative, whether this is done.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Matano): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The procedure to be followed whenever it is necessary to hold an identification parade is laid down in Cap. 46 of the Kenya Police Standing Orders.

The accused or the suspect is always informed of the object of the parade and of his rights, and this is done in all cases.

For the information of the House, a person cannot be compelled to take part in a parade if he refuses. However, should the person be subsequently charged, evidence will be given of this refusal.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is it not a fact that in an identification parade all a man is asked is whether he objects to the parade but is not told the purpose of the parade besides the fact that he is one of the suspects?

Mr. Matano: As far as we are aware, Sir, people are told exactly why the parade is held, and it is therefore for them to decide to agree or to refuse. However, as I said earlier on, if they refuse, the refusal will be taken in evidence.

Question No. 25 (1242)

NUMBER OF SENIOR DISTRICT COMMISSIONERS AND DEPUTY PROVINCIAL COMMISSIONERS

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister of State, President's Office, if he would tell the House—

- (a) how many senior district commissioners there were in Kenya; and
- (b) how many deputy provincial commissioners there were.

The Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Koinange): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) We presently have ten senior district commissioners.

[The Minister of State, President's Office]

(b) We have four deputy provincial commissioners.

Mr. O'Washika: Arising from the answer given by the Minister, could he kindly give the House the tribal breakdown of these officers?

An hon. Member: Seven are Kikuyu tribesmen.

Mr. Koinange: The four senior district commissioners are:—

Mr. Kangethe for Kiambu; Mr. Mugambi for Marsabit; Mr. Oranga for Bungoma and Mr. Bonyo for Kitui.

The other six senior district commissioners are: Mr. Muhashamy for Trans Nzoia; Mr. Osundwa for Uasin Gishu District; Mr. Etemesi for Nyandarua; Mr. Okech for Kilifi, Mr. Ngoro for Taita and Mr. Ngugi for Lamu District.

The four deputy provincial commissioners are: Mr. Mahinda for Rift Province, Mr. Waibochi for Central Province, Mr. Akibaya for Nyanza Province and Mr. Osare for Eastern Province.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Arising from the Minister's reply, I do not think he has answered the supplementary question which was asked by the hon. O'Washika. I think what Mr. O'Washika asked for was a tribal breakdown.

An hon. Member: Yes, that is what he asked for.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): What you are saying is quite true. Mr. Araru perhaps you can tell from the names.

Mr. Migure: On a point of order, could I seek your guidance. If the Chair rules that we can normally detect from which tribe they belong, if, for example, a Kisii tribesman has an initial "O" in his name and a Luo has a similar initial, how shall we know whether this man is a Kisii and that man is a Luo?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You are still free to follow up the question.

Mr. Ayah: Arising from the Minister's reply, would the Minister tell this House the specific duties of deputy provincial commissioners and why they are not in every province?

Mr. Koinange: Whenever the provincial commissioner is absent, the deputy provincial commissioner takes charge. He also helps—he is almost the assistant to the provincial commissioner, and within the provincial administration he is assigned certain duties by the provincial commissioner in certain areas as the provincial commissioner feels fit.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us have questions rather than points of order.

Mr. Kitonga: Arising from the Minister's reply, Mr. Speaker, is he not aware that the table of the deputy provincial commissioner is always empty and that the table of the executive senior clerk in the district commissioner's office has more work than that of the deputy provincial commissioner? If that is the case, will the Minister tell us the specific duties of the provincial commissioner because we believe that he is there doing nothing? I am an ex-chief and therefore I know this is so.

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think I answered that question properly when I said that if, for instance, the President calls the provincial commissioner for Nyanza Province to Nairobi, the whole of Nyanza Province and the whole responsibility is left with the deputy provincial commissioner, and that, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is not just paper work but full responsibility.

Mr. Tsuma: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply, that the deputy provincial commissioner acts when the provincial commissioner is called to Nairobi, will he tell the House what happens in a province where there is no deputy provincial commissioner? Who acts?

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if the hon. Member listened carefully to what I said before—I said this: apart from that duty of representing the provincial commissioner, there are certain duties assigned to him by the provincial commissioner.

Mr. Tsuma: Am I right, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to state that the Minister is not replying to my question at all. The question was: who acts in the place of a provincial commissioner where there is no deputy provincial commissioner? Do not evade the question.

An hon. Member: As simple as that.

An hon. Member: Will you be direct?

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the most senior district commissioner at that particular headquarters may be asked by the provincial commissioner to take up the duties where there is no deputy provincial commissioner.

Mr. Jilo: With all due respect to the Chair, Mr. Speaker, Sir, and my hon. responsible Minister, the Minister does seem to be avoiding the supplementary question put to him by the other hon. Member who wanted to know why it is that all provincial commissioners do not have deputies? That is one of the questions and he did not answer it.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Jilo, you have already asked your question and again what you are saying is not quite true. You may be dissatisfied with the reply but the Minister did reply.

Mr. Jilo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the Deputy Provincial Commissioner Mr. Cheluget, was removed from Mombasa no one has been put in his place, does it mean that the Provincial Commissioner at the Coast was busy at that time and now he is not busy?

Mr. Koinange: No, Mr. Speaker; but he has a very senior district commissioner to whom he can give the responsibility. The provincial commissioner has not found any difficulties regarding whom to give this responsibility.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answers given by the honourable Minister, does he agree, or not agree, that since his taking over the provincial administration he has successfully destroyed that administration completely?

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, with all due respect to the hon. Member, I say that is telling an absolute untruth.

Question No. 8 (1184)

NUMBER OF COMPASSIONATE-CASE FARMS

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House—

- (a) how many compassionate-case farms are available within the Republic;
- (b) whether he can give a breakdown per province; and
- (c) how many farms are available for leases in the Rift Valley Province alone.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. There are no compassionate farms available, and therefore questions (b) and (c) do not arise.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that very short reply from the Assistant Minister, where he says that there are no compassionate-case farms—this question was asked a long time ago—could he tell us whether there are some farms now available?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am answering as of now.

Mr. Murgor: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is about question (8) part (c). The hon. Minister said after answering part (b) that question (c) could not arise but this is a different question. How many farms are now available for lease in the Rift Valley?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, that arises from what goes before which asks about these compassionate-case farms; if there are none, then it does not arise.

Mr. Murgor: I think compassionate-case farms are different from, maybe, the farms which are for lease. The hon. questioner is asking how many farms, in Rift Valley, can be leased apart from compassionate-case farms.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, reading the question it is quite clear that if that was the intention it would have been put as a separate question. I would not have allowed it to be put as part of this question. It would have been a separate question.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, is he aware that, in fact, Government has issued a directive to the effect that no more farms will be leased or sold by either Agricultural Development Corporation or Lands Limited, and if so, could he tell us what steps Government is taking to ensure that farms are now sold or leased to wananchi?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not aware of that directive, but if there was it would only be indicative of the fact that we do not, in fact, have any farms for sale or lease.

Mr. Mwangale: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No; do not ask a question under that pretext, Mr. Mwangale.

Mr. Tsuma: If the Assistant Minister is not aware, who gives the directives?

An hon. Member: As simple as that?

Mr. Tsuma: Just as simple as that.

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, with all due respect, I think you have to ask the hon. Member who has referred to the directive.

Mr. Mwangale: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, am I to understand, from the Assistant Minister's reply, that in fact he did not have enough briefing before he came here to answer the question on the leasing of farms which come under his Ministry, or do I take it that directives are issued by the Government and he is not part and parcel of that Government?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think that is completely out of order in the sense that the question referred to here is on compassionate farms, and as far as the answer is concerned it is very appropriate, and that is as much as I know. If somebody is running a different Government with different orders around the country, then it is up to him.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Wood): On a point of order, Mr.

[The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry]

Speaker, Sir, I want to seek your guidance here. The hon. Member here is a member of Provincial Agricultural Board in the Rift Valley. Would it not be in order for him to declare his interest first before he asks his question?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No; if he has a personal interest yes, but his membership of the Provincial Agricultural Board has nothing to do with this.

Do you have any interest to declare, Mr. Cheboiwo?

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: I do not have any interest to declare, Mr. Speaker, for the information of the Assistant Minister. May I ask a supplementary question, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, here I have a written reply to that question, and that is why I want to ask the Assistant Minister whether the answer he has given to the House is up to date because he says something different from what he has written. Where do we stand in this case, Mr. Speaker? This is because in his reply to part (a) of the question he says that there are no known compassionate farms available at present. He has already said this and it is true. He has also said that part (b) of the question does not arise; but in part (c) of the question he says that there are 16 farms available in the Rift Valley which are in the process of being leased or sold. Now, where do we stand because he did not tell us this when he was replying to the question?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, let me explain this by using the answer which the hon. Member has given. The answer to the question, as he has rightly informed the House, was written a long time ago but the situation has changed to the extent that this stencilled answer should not really have been submitted to this House.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question; Mr. Nthenge.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, first of all I understand that one has to declare his interest in a matter before he raises it in this House. I have an interest in the poultry industry and that is why I have asked this question.

Question No. 63 (1287)

PRICES OF POULTRY FOOD

Mr. Nthenge asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House the reason why the price of food for poultry was raised while the price of eggs remained the same.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr.

Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Both the egg and the stock-feed industries in the Republic fall outside the industries controlled by the Government. Prices for poultry-feed depend mainly on the cost of the basic material like maize, fish and so on, which is used for the preparation of these feeds. There is therefore, very little that Government can do apart from looking into ways and means of producing local feeds, which we are at present looking into.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Assistant Minister tell the House why Government feels that it should keep out of this, yet eggs are one of the cheap and common protein that can be used to stop Government from using a lot of money in curing diseases which occur because of children lacking protein?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not agree with the hon. Member that eggs are a very cheap form of protein. They are not, Mr. Speaker. However, we are not sidestepping the issue. We are looking into the entire question of feed manufacture in the country and also trying to look into the possibility of getting more involved in the poultry industry, which I think would be more in line with what you are asking, hon. Nthenge.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since poultry-keeping comes under agriculture, and since it is Government policy to encourage farming, will the Assistant Minister give a firm undertaking to this House that his Ministry is going to become involved in the poultry industry, to the extent that they will make sure that either the price of eggs goes up so that the farmer does not suffer because of the increased expense on the foodstuff or to ensure that price of the foodstuff goes down?

Mr. Wanjigi: I think the only undertaking I can give is that Government will get more and more involved in the poultry industry. I wish I could say the prices of eggs will go up or the feed prices will go down, but that is, I think, a wrong order.

DISPOSAL OF UNCONSUMED ENRICHED FLOUR

Mr. Nthenge asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House what had happened to the enriched flour which was not consumed by human beings.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): I think he has a vested interest also. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Government is not aware of the enriched maize meal which was not consumed by human beings as the hon. Member alleges. What we are aware of, Mr. Speaker, is that all the enriched maize meal that was produced was sold before the sifted maize meal was reintroduced.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, would he tell the House whether or not the Government is now convinced that the whole exercise of enriched maize flour was a wrong step to take and that it will not occur in the future again?

Mr. Wanjigi: No, I would not say it was a wrong step to take because I think, in fact, it saved us out of what could have been a very embarrassing situation. I think Government reserves the right to take appropriate measures depending on any future situation.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, could he assure this House that if, and when, Government feels forced into enriching flour again, it will make sure that it is acceptable to the tummies of those who are to eat it so that we do not get into another chaos as we were in previously?

Mr. Wanjigi: Yes, I think we could say Government will take parliamentarians' views in at least as far as sifted maize is concerned.

STANDARDIZATION OF PRICES

Mr. Mulwa asked the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning if he would tell the House whether, considering that it is the duty of our Government to protect its citizens against exploitation by traders, the Minister will introduce standard prices throughout the country thereby stamping out the prevailing system of bargaining.

The Assistant Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Cherono): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I agree that it is the duty of the Government to protect her citizens against exploitation. With this in view, the Government has already enacted the Price Control Act (Cap 504) and my Ministry is charged with the responsibility of enforcing it. A start has already been made by controlling some of the common-user commodities. The Act aims at protecting the consuming public from exploitation and keeping the cost of living at a reasonable level. However, while the interests of the consumers must be safeguarded, those of the traders must also be taken into account. The position desired by the hon. Member, whereby there are standard prices throughout the country, can only be achieved if no account is taken of the costs incurred by the traders up to the point of sale.

Under the Price Control (Determination of Costs) Order, the following costs have to be taken into account in determining the price of any goods manufactured in Kenya.

Cost of the material including packing material; wages and salaries; fuel and power; rents; rates and taxes; excise duty and transportation costs. In respect of imported goods, account has to be taken of costs incurred on sea freight and surface rates, insurance, agents' commission, import duty and transportation. Over and above these costs, a profit margin has to be allowed to the traders.

Hon. Members will agree that such costs must of necessity vary from place to place and it is, therefore, impossible to introduce standard prices throughout the country for all goods.

On the question of bargaining, the Government is taking action either to stamp out this practice altogether or reduce its scope. For those goods which have been placed under statutory price control, maximum prices have not been fixed which are not subject to bargaining. For goods not under statutory price control, traders are required by law to display maximum prices at which they may sell such goods. The purpose of this is to enable members of the public to compare maximum prices offered in different shops for the same goods and go only to the shop which offers the lowest. This, at least, reduces the necessity of moving from shop to shop bargaining over the same item. As more and more commodities are put under price control, the scope for bargaining will be progressively reduced and possibly stamped out altogether.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, does he not agree with me that the system of bargaining sharpens the wits of the customers?

Mr. Cherono: Yes, and it also sharpens the wits of the seller.

Mr. Mulwa: Arising from that answer, which admits there is unnecessary exploitation on public from the Assistant Minister, will he tell the House whether the Government will introduce the same system as we have, for example, in the petroleum markets, whereby the petrol standard depends on the locality, instead of giving us such a long answer? Just tell us what we wanted to know.

Mr. Cherono: Mr. Speaker, the hon. Member is only repeating what I have already said. I said that it is not possible to have standardized prices for all goods in all trading centres in Kenya precisely because varying costs, like transport, have to be taken into account. That is why, if the hon. Member does remember, petrol is sold at different prices between places from, say, Mombasa to Kitale. They have to take into account the factors I have already mentioned.

Mr. arap Chumo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the reply, I do not think the Assistant Minister has really answered the question. We know and agree that the price of petrol varies from one place to another but the Assistant Minister has told us that the price cannot be standardized. We are not asking for the price to be standardized throughout the country, but why not in Nairobi? Why not in the towns? Why does the Government not take the necessary action to see that the price in Nairobi is standardized? Let it vary from the price in Nakuru and Kitale or any other place but it should be standardized here in Nairobi.

Mr. Cheron: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I get the point the hon. Member is making. It is true that within certain limits the Government has already enforced, for example, standardized price control on sugar, bread, maize and maize meal as well as meat. The prices of these commodities are determined by their wide use by the majority of the population of this country.

However, prices are fixed, say, in Nairobi. Yet the same prices cannot be applicable in Nakuru or Kitale. The prices for these commodities have already been fixed for all major trading centres in the country. The list of these commodities will be progressively increased.

Mr. Kahengeri: Mr. Speaker, can the Assistant Minister not realize that the traders, at the present moment, are exploiting the situation in that many people who are now going hungry are going hungry because the prices are so exorbitant? The traders are only charging what they think is the marginal profit, as they say. Why do you let them do as they like?

Mr. Cheron: Well, Sir, although I do not agree with the hon. Member that all traders are trying to exploit this uncertainty, I have already stated that the Government is doing its best to eliminate the entire procedure of bargaining and in due course it will be entirely eliminated. However, for the goods which have been placed under statutory price control, there is no need to bargain. If there is a buyer the customer knows, he is aware that those goods are actually listed and the prices are controlled. It is, however, really a problem of the education of the consumer and the purchaser. The Minister, for example, has launched a consumer education and publicity programme through the media of public lectures, radio, television and newspapers. The public are being educated, among other things, to know their rights under the law, to be price conscious, shop intelligently and increase their bargaining power so that they are not exploited by the traders.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the Assistant Minister has touched on the question of price control, is he aware that the same Order, this Price Control Order that he has mentioned, requires the shopkeeper to display the price of the goods in English and if he does not, in fact, display it in English he has committed an offence? Will he give us an assurance that this is going to be changed to Swahili instead of English?

Are you not aware of that?

Mr. Cheron: Yes, I am aware what the hon. Member is suggesting. The Ministry's team of inspectors is being strengthened to do precisely what the hon. Member is asking.

Question No. 39 (1256)

ALLOCATION OF BUSINESS PREMISES: OUTER RING ESTATE

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Minister for Local Government if he would tell the House why all the shops and business premises built at public expense by the City Council of Nairobi at Outer Ring Estate had been given by the City Council only to members of one area, when there were other African citizens who had been equally (if not better) qualified from other areas.

The Assistant Minister for Local Government (Mr. Ogotu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. It is not clear what the hon. Member means by referring to members of one area, whether he is referring to wards or any other specific geographical area.

Sir, the shops and business premises that were built at the Outer Ring Road Estate were advertised normally through the Press in June last year. The applications were then considered in August 1970 by the appropriate committee of the council, namely the Social Services and Housing Committee, and accordingly, those who satisfied the Committee's specifications were allocated the premises.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the answer in the Assistant Minister's reply, in considering whether he could understand the question or not when it was first brought to the Ministry, did he try to find out whether it could be that the persons who were given these facilities could be identifiable by a particular area? And if he did, is he denying that he did identify the forms by a particular area?

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the specification of the council was that the applicants who showed proof of having sufficient capital to be able to run the business and also pay the normal monthly council rental were the successful applicants.

Mr. Y. Ali: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and since the Assistant Minister has accepted the fact that he has been at a loss to understand this question, would he, therefore, tell this House who and who were given the facilities, or name those people who have been given shops at Outer Ring Estate?

Mr. Mulwa: And where they come from.

Mr. Y. Ali: Yes, and where they come from.

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, this is irrelevant to the question. But if the information is required I am prepared to produce it, but I do not have it with me now.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, can the Assistant Minister tell us why he did not really go—I am only asking the question which was put to him earlier.

Can the Assistant Minister tell us why he did not try to find out what was in common among these traders who were the applicants as far as the geographical groupings is concerned?

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, the applications were considered on merit. There were several applicants and when the Committee was considering these applications, allocations were based on those who had sufficient capital. Those who were given these premises are the present successful applicants who had the money to run the business and pay the standard rent set by the council.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, would he agree to bring the names of those who applied and the names of those who were granted these shops to this House?

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, if I understand the question right, reading or giving the names is irrelevant. However, if this is required, I am prepared to do so.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order!

Actually, I think I am the only one who can say whether or not a question is relevant. If it is irrelevant, then it is out of order and I have a duty to rule it out of order. However, I do not think that question is irrelevant. It relates to the main question. The question alleges something and you could ask the hon. Member to substantiate what he means, but it alleges something. It is expected that you would have tried to find out whether there is any truth in what is alleged here.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, will he tell us that it is not true that some of the people who were disqualified might have been in a position to have more capital than those who appeared to have qualified?

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, out of 250 applicants who applied for the seven shops, definitely the other people who were not successful are liable to complain and there would be justification in that. The seven people who were successful were those who satisfied the Committee which allocated these premises.

Hon. Members: On a point of order— On a point of order—

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, I asked a question whether the Assistant Minister would agree to bring the names here and a reply was not given. Am I entitled to an answer to that question? I would like to know whether I will get an answer or not.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): The Assistant Minister said if he was required to produce the names he could bring them. That is what I understood Mr. Ogutu to say.

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am prepared to bring the names tomorrow.

Question No. 59 (1283)

KITUI/GARISSA/GALOLE BOUNDARY MARKET

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Local Government if he could tell the House when the Government would establish a market at the boundary between Kitui East, Garissa and Galole districts to cater for the inhabitants of the area.

The Assistant Minister for Local Government (Mr. Ogutu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. May I inform the hon. Member that the Kitui County Council has established five markets between Kitui East, Garissa and Galole. These are:—

Usueni Market	—	Tseikuru Location
Ukasi Market	—	Ngomeni Location
Nuu Market	—	Nuu Location
Ndamsa Market	—	Endau Location
Inyali Market	—	Mutha Location

Hon. Members: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Let us not get too excited.

Mr. Kitonga: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, this might tend to condemn the attitude of the Ministers and Assistant Ministers in that they do not know the geography of the country.

[Mr. Kitonga]

I seek your guidance here, Sir. Could you please ask the Assistant Minister to go and study the area so that he realizes there is no such market at the boundary? The markets are in the centre of the locations. Therefore, Sir, could you please ask the Assistant Minister to go and look into this matter and then bring the proper answer here?

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if the hon. Member will give me the specific area where he wants the county council to establish the market, I am prepared to ask the Kitui County Council to establish one there.

Mr. Nzelu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, here, if at all I understood Mr. Kitonga's question, the market is between Kitui East, Galole and Garissa. Tseikuru is within Gomen, which is in Northern Division, not Kitui East, and the other place is also within the Northern Division. Now, the question is very clear here; when will the Government establish a market at the boundary of Garissa and Galole? It is as simple as that. Could you tell us exactly when you are going to do that?

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, the reply I gave when I mentioned the names of the markets which are run by the county council was very clear. If those markets are not within the specific area required by the hon. Member, I shall be pleased if the hon. Member will indicate the area he wants for these specific markets and we will ask the county council to establish them, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Nthenge: Does the Assistant Minister know that the British Government did not want the intermingling of tribes and that is why they did not establish such badly required markets, through which people of these districts could trade together and form a common attitude of togetherness?

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is another question; but, as I said, the establishment of all markets in the Republic is the responsibility of county councils, and it is up to this particular county council to establish a market where they want it in this particular area. If that name is brought to us we will authorize the county council to open a market there as asked by the hon. Member.

Mr. Matiko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is he aware that the questioner wants a market between Garissa and Kitui, which is part of Kitui East and Kitui North? Is he aware, also that the nearest market is 50 miles from Kitui, and from Garissa almost 100 miles? The questioner, therefore, wants to know whether a market can be established at the boundary between these areas so that Pokomos, Kambas, Somalis and Galas can be trading there?

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not disputing the establishing of the market. All my Ministry would like to know is of any feasibility study made by the county council. If the hon. Member would indicate the specific area he wants the market to be put, we will be only too pleased to ask the county council to establish one at the area the people want.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 7 (1183)

NUMBER OF MISSION HOSPITALS IN THE COUNTRY

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House how many mission hospitals there are in the country and how many in each province.

The Minister for Health (Mr. Okero): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. There are 73 mission hospitals in our Republic. The breakdown per Province is as follows:—

Nyanza Province	...	15
Central Province	..	15
Rift Valley Province	..	13
Western Province	..	10
Coast Province	..	2
Eastern Province	..	15
Nairobi District	..	3

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Minister tell this House whether the Government is intending to take over these hospitals, and if not, what assistance does the Government give to these mission hospitals?

Mr. Okero: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do understand that we have memories that differ in their retentive power; but not long ago, in this House, the Government stated its position with regard to the question of mission hospitals. It is not too difficult to find out from the records of HANSARD as to what was said. However, I think, for the benefit of the hon. Member, I would like to repeat quite shortly that the Government is committed to retaining the services of the mission hospitals, and at the same time it is studying the position of the mission hospitals with a view to providing and finding a formula of integrating them into the services of our health services.

Rev. Kalume: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Minister aware of the crisis that was there last year in connexion with the closure of these hospitals, which has began again and some of them are on the verge of being closed? If so, will he assure this House that the money that was allocated for them last year will be allocated for them again this year so that they may not be closed?

Mr. Okero: Mr. Speaker, Sir, all I can say is that the Government has committed itself to ensuring that mission hospitals do not close. I think it would cause a crisis if they did close. However, on the question of money, I cannot, myself, assume a responsibility that, eventually, is for this House. It is this House that votes the sum of money, and when the time does come and there is a need for additional revised estimates to provide us with additional funds that have not been provided for by this House during this Financial Year, we will ask for it. I think it would be quite improper for me to commit myself to a sum before this House approves it.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, as it is our Government's declared policy to give free medical treatment to out-patients, can the Minister and his Ministry do something to subsidize mission hospitals so that they can give free medical treatment and then charge the Kenya Government for the treatment they have rendered to those wananchi who cannot walk long distances to go to Government hospitals?

Mr. Okero: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is a question that has arisen once before. We do think, in the Ministry, that we have to study the problem as a whole and that it will not be desirable or efficient to provide a solution piecemeal. We cannot, therefore, do that now.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question, Mr. O'Washika.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, before I ask Question No. 33 I would like to correct the name Mandigari in the second line of the question to read Madungu. It should be Madungu and not Mandingari.

Question No. 33 (1250)

COMPENSATION FOR OWNER OF LAND ON WHICH MADUNGU HEALTH CENTRE IS BUILT

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House why the owner of the land on which Madungu Health Centre in North Wanga, Mumias Division, is built has not been compensated.

The Minister for Health Mr. (Okero): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. No; I would, however, advise the hon. Member to seek further enlightenment from the district development committee regarding the terms under which this piece of land was allocated in the first instance.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the reply by the Minister, is he aware that this particular Health Centre was erected during the colonial régime, and therefore referring me to the district development committee is utter nonsense?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. O'Washika, you know that is not allowed here. Will you withdraw what you have said, Mr. O'Washika?

Mr. O'Washika: I withdraw, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Tsuma: Mr. Speaker, Sir, realizing the fact that any piece of land given for public use is land which has to be compensated for, and this has been there for long time, could the Minister tell this House whether the Government has changed the policy that where land is taken for public use, for that matter a Health Centre, it should never be compensated for as it has been there long before?

Mr. Okero: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am as much interested in history as the hon. Member. However, I do not think I am in a position, now, to enlighten the House about what happened when this dispensary or health centre was built. I am almost certain that the hon. Member could assist me and assist other hon. Members a great deal by seeking and inquiring amongst the local people, who are aware of what happened before this particular health centre was built.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not think this is an unreasonable suggestion.

KENYA'S MEMBERSHIP OF COMMONWEALTH EIGHT-NATION STUDY GROUP

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Foreign Affairs the following Question by Private Notice:—

In view of the fact that Kenya, at the last Commonwealth Conference at Singapore, was selected to be one of the Commonwealth's Eight-Nation Study Group to look into the issue of British Sale of Arms to South Africa, and in view of Britain's decision to sell seven Wasp Helicopters to South Africa even before the study group meets, which decision has made Nigeria withdraw from the group leaving Kenya as the sole African State in the group, would the Minister tell the House whether Kenya is to continue membership of the study group?

The Minister for Foreign Affairs (Dr. Mungai): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Mr. Speaker, Sir, in keeping with Government's consistent policy of not conducting Government business through the newspapers, and also of not making statements that would be withdrawn later, this statement on this Committee will be made, if, and when this Committee is about to materialize. As you all know, the British have already decided to sell these weapons to South Africa and one fails to see what purpose this Committee will be serving. However, an announcement will be made at an appropriate time.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply, and since the Committee was formed with a view that the Committee should investigate the whole issue before the British do sell the arms to South Africa, and in view of the fact that the British have done so (in other words, it has shown disrespect to those countries which form the Committee) is the Minister aware that the Committee is convinced that if Kenya happens to sit on that Committee, it will be doing a disservice to other African countries?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, as I have said, this statement will be made at the appropriate time, and all I can ask the hon. Member is to wait and hear that statement made in this House.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply, I think it is high time we accepted the fact that our Government is a bit slow. We just read the other day in the paper that in every issue, whether local or international, our Government sits on the fence. Now that we know this Committee is not going to serve any useful purpose, because it was supposed to prevent the sale of arms to South Africa by Britain, why can the Minister for Foreign Affairs not declare, now, without fearing anybody, that we are not going to sit in this Committee, and, if he has any reason, would he tell us why, and not sit on the fence, following this "wait-and-see, wait-and-see policy"?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have said very clearly that we are not sitting on the fence. We shall make this announcement at the appropriate time.

An hon. Member: Mr. Speaker, Sir, having observed, with great concern, the long events connected with South Africa, Rhodesia and the British Government, is the Minister aware that the British Government is now at the highest peak of promoting white supremacy in Africa, during this second half of the century, than ever before?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would say the white South Africans and the white Rhodesians are the ones who are promoting white supremacy in Africa.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the Minister for Foreign Affairs was a member of the United Nation's campaign to appeal to the world to stop Britain selling arms to South Africa, could he tell this House whether he has withdrawn from this campaign and has come back to this House to dilute the answer which has been determined?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, Kenya still stands very strongly against sales of arms to South Africa. When the Minister for Foreign Affairs was doing this campaign, he was doing it on behalf of all Kenyans, because this is what they all believe, and we still have the same stand, we have not changed, and this announcement will come at a very appropriate time, and probably if you wait it will be pleasing at that time.

Mr. A. A. Mohamed: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the reply given by the Minister for Foreign Affairs since he was the one who advocated the rise against the sale of arms to South Africa, when he was going round the world, is he now going to tell us why he is quiet over the issue at this time, and is he also going to tell us whether the African representatives who attended the Commonwealth Conference at Singapore are the ones who asked for this committee or not? It shows, however, that the British Government have nothing to do with this committee and are not interested.

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad that the hon. Member put the question in that form, because it is not only mere words that are going to stop the British from selling weapons to South Africa. We have to do research and apply the appropriate action that would stop the British from selling weapons to South Africa. However, just shouting out words is not going to stop them, and they are likely to go ahead whether anybody shouts about it or not. As far as Kenya is concerned, we have taken every conceivable effort to bring about a united effort among African countries and non-aligned countries, which are 62, right up to the United Nations, including visiting the capitals of those countries which sell weapons to South Africa, and we are still going to continue being active against it.

Mr. Mbori: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I could not agree more with the Minister for Foreign Affairs in stating that African states require action in order to bring the arms sales to South Africa by Britain to a stop. Now, would the Minister tell us that he is prepared to take arms from Kenya to force Britain to stop selling arms to South Africa?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, honestly, if the hon. Member, himself, would offer himself to go and fight, I will encourage him. One thing, I think, we have to be practical and sensible about our actions otherwise we may just talk and then everybody will see that we are talking nonsense and our words will be worth nothing. We have to be quite honest when we have to make these speeches. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not feel that this question was related to the committee.

Finally, I want to say that Kenya has never been a Member of this committee; it was only mentioned. Kenya was elected to be a member of the committee. They have never sat and therefore we have nothing to withdraw from since we have never been members of this committee.

ARREST OF CLERK TO GUSII COUNTY COUNCIL
BY ADMINISTRATIVE POLICE

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Marita's Question by Private Notice.

Mr. Marita: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister of State, Presidents' Office, the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Why was the Clerk to Gusii County Council, Mr. Paul Nyachio, arrested by the Administrative Police on 22nd February 1971 at his office in Kisii Town?
- (b) Why was he taken from Kisii Town to Manga, which is 11 miles from Kisii Town and detained in the chief's cell?
- (c) Why did the acting District Commissioner, Mr. Okoda, refuse to release him on bail which was offered by hon. Ogero and the hon. Marita?

The Minister of State, Presidents' Office (Mr. Koinange): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. This question is sub judice and therefore, I do not wish to say anything about it.

An hon. Member: Why!

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I think it would help if the House could be told whether proceedings have been instituted in the court of law.

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the police are definitely taking very active work on this, and therefore what may be said here may prejudice the work of the police which is going on now.

An hon. Member: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Actually, if no proceedings have been taken to court the matter cannot be sub judice. However, Mr. Koinange has a point in that whatever is said might influence the outcome of the investigations that are being carried out by the police. However, I think it would be wrong to say that it is sub judice.

Mr. Koinange, you might like to explain why you think Members should not discuss it at this stage.

Mr. Koinange: What I said is just exactly what you said in my support—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Let us hear his reply.

Mr. Koinange: When you said that at this point, and with all the people involved, both within the administration and the person concerned, if we discussed this matter here it might involve the leaking out some of information which may be required and which must be preserved for the police in order to take the action required for this very serious case.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order!

Mr. Wabuge: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am seeking your ruling on this. If you read the question, particularly section (b) where it says that this clerk was arrested in Kisii Township, where we have the police headquarters, prisons headquarters and all the other facilities which are necessary for dealing with any criminal you will pose this question: "Why was it necessary that this clerk was transported 11 miles away and then put in a chief's cell?" Can we not have an answer from the Minister, rather than telling us that the matter is under investigation? Why was it that this man was not detained in Kisii Township?

An hon. Member: He was tortured! He was tortured!

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the answer to this very query "Why" is that the police are actively investigating. With all due respect, I would like to beg the House to give the police the chance of giving an answer to this "Why". The Members will very soon know about this "Why".

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! There is an important point here. I might just add that when Mr. Marita came to see me about this question I raised this point that I wondered whether this was the best way of dealing with this case, if it so happens that the person concerned wishes later to take some action if that became necessary; and whether what may have been said here will not be detrimental to his own interest. However, Mr. Marita for some reason wanted to raise it. I think I tend to agree with the Minister that for this man's own interest we should leave this matter here now; but Mr. Marita, or anybody else, can raise it later on when the investigations have been completed because I personally doubt whether we are doing the best thing even for him.

Mr. Marita: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the hon. Minister in order to mislead this House? When this particular clerk to the Gusii County Council was arrested, with the full knowledge of the Government that he had committed an offence, he was taken from Kisii Township to a village cell and kept there overnight and later released—in the afternoon of the next day—it means that the Government had known that this person had committed an offence. Up to this time, this clerk has not been asked to write any statement concerning his arrest. It is in this connexion that the Minister is misleading the House by not giving the answer.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us get this clear. What Mr. Marita has said is what is contained in the question and what he gave are his facts. It appears that these are some of the things that are being investigated. When you ask a question you, of course, expect an answer. What is happening now is that the Minister has already indicated that he was not going to give any answer at this stage; in which case you are not very likely to get very far.

I have said that if, after a reasonable time, nothing happens, then we can still bring up the matter again. However, there is no point in following it up now when you are not likely to get an answer.

Mr. Migure: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Migure, do not repeat these facts because there is no point as we have had them.

Mr. Migure: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, do I understand from the Minister that the Government has the right to arrest anybody in this country without any specific charge which the House should be informed of? This is what it amounts to. If the Minister is not prepared to tell us the specific charge with which this clerk to this particular county council is charged with, then it means that the Government arrested him without any specific reason.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): He said that investigations are going on.

Order! Order! I have put this in the best way I thought it could be handled. I have given Mr. Marita an opportunity of raising the issue later. However, there is no point now of wasting time on it when we know that we are not getting very far.

Next question. Matiko's question by Private Notice.

CONTROL OF SPREAD OF LIVESTOCK DISEASES ALONG TANA RIVER

Mr. Matiko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Agriculture the following Question by Private Notice:—

Since as a result of the drought threat in the Republic, Boran, Somalis, Kamba and Oruma are grazing thousands of livestock along the Tana River from Usueni up to Katundumo waterfalls and making it quite impossible to prevent illegal movement of cattle in order to avoid contact with diseased livestock, could the Minister tell this House what immediate steps the Ministry has taken or is going to take to stave off the spread of livestock diseases in the area?

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Government is keeping a very vigilant eye on the whole situation, and as a result we have instituted the practice of inoculation against rinderpest and bovine pleuro-pneumonia which are the two serious diseases that affect cattle. We are keeping a very vigilant eye as I have said and if there is any deterioration in the situation and a spread of the disease, we shall act more on the information.

Mr. Matiko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply, does he know that there has been no veterinary officer in the area who could inoculate the cattle, and is he also aware that the area which I refer here covers a length of 40 miles along the Tana River and there are no roads?

Mr. Nyagah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member did say in his question that the animals concerned came from the Boran area, the Somali the Kamba and Oruma. The Borans come from Isiolo mainly; the Somalis from Garissa District mainly; Kamba, of course, come to the area which he is talking about, but all those cattle which have come from Tana River District have been inoculated, or else the majority of them have been inoculated. If the hon. Member has not seen a veterinary officer in that particular area he should know that these cattle came from areas where there are veterinary officers who have conducted the inoculation.

Mr. Araru: Arising from the Minister's reply, Mr. Speaker, Sir, could he tell us, since there is drought throughout the country, what he is doing to provide boreholes in places where these boreholes are non-existent because people are suffering from severe lack of water?

Mr. Nyagah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is another question.

SPECULATION ON SUCCESSION OF PRESIDENCY

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Attorney-General the following Question by Private Notice:—

(a) In view of the persistent and calculated speculation inspired by certain politicians anxious and in a hurry to succeed to the presidency of our Republic when our beloved President, strong and fit as ever, has just begun a new term of office, and has not indicated any wish to retire; what steps is the Attorney-General taking to deter these self-seeking politicians and to protect the name of the President.

- (b) Is the Attorney-General aware that wananchi have confidence in His Excellency the President and have no wish to see the creation of the post of Prime Minister as long as Mzee Jomo Kenyatta is President?

The Attorney-General (Mr. Njonjo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Government welcomes the question by the hon. Member for Tinderet and I am glad to have the opportunity to make the constitutional and legal position quite plain.

Freedom of speech, Mr. Speaker, is a liberty that we enjoy in Kenya and which we wish to see preserved. It is enshrined in our Constitution and, I hope, for ever. However, every civilized society must protect itself and its institution against false words just as it must protect itself against bombs and bullets. Our most cherished institution is the Presidency and our most beloved citizen is the first holder of that office, Mzee Jomo Kenyatta. No one, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is more important to the peace and prosperity of our country than our President. Any wicked person intending to do harm to Kenya will realize that the most harm can be done by attacking the President and the Presidency. That is why our Penal Code provides the severest penalty for treason.

I would like, Mr. Speaker, Sir, to remind the hon. Members of the nature of the offence of treason. Section 40 of the Penal Code, as amended by section 2, of No. 24, of 1967 states as follows:—

Treason is the imagining, devising, or intending, of—

- (a) the death, wounding or restraint of the President;
- (b) the deposing by unlawful means of the President from his position as President or from the style, honour and name of the Head of State and Commander-in-Chief; or
- (c) the overthrow by unlawful means of that Government.

The law of Treason, Mr. Speaker, is stated in those terms because the President and Presidency are the very heart and essence of our Government. I must emphasize that it is treason to utter or declare any such imaginations, devices or intentions. There is also, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the law of Sedition. As the hon. Members will be aware—and some perhaps more than others—words can be seditious if they are likely to bring hatred or contempt or to excite disaffection against the person of the President or his Government.

Hon. Members will know that the title and the likeness of the President are protected by the National Flag, Emblems and Names Act, Chapter 99. I would also mention that it is an offence under section 66 of the Penal Code to spread false statements or rumours that are likely to cause fear or alarm to the public or disturb the public peace. Hon. Members, Mr. Speaker, Sir, can be assured that the present law is adequate to deal with all makers of mischief. Mr. Speaker, I can assure the hon. Members, and the nation at large, that the public peace in Kenya is now secure and will remain secure in the future. Of course, the Government condemns offensive speculations, and of course, the Government will not hesitate to apply the law where necessary. There will always be mischief-makers in every society. However, it is hoped that all responsible and patriotic persons will create a climate in which both freedom of speech and respect for our institutions and Government will flourish. The mischief-makers can be rendered harmless by the refusal by the loyal citizens of Kenya to be disturbed by their false speculations.

As to the business of a Prime Minister, I suggest, we could do with the little rest from this Prime Minister. However, I must first of all give a formal answer to the second part of the question. The Government is, indeed, aware that wananchi have confidence in His Excellency the President and have no wish to see the creation of a post of Prime Minister so long as he is the President. Indeed, Mr. Speaker, the Constitution of our Republic was devised in 1964 not only for the present Presidency of Mzee Jomo Kenyatta but also for posterity. Times and conditions do change and no one today could say what Kenya will want in a 100 years from now; however, the Government has no intention, at present, of amending the Constitution and no serious movement to have it amended is apparent anywhere in the country.

I will conclude, Mr. Speaker, by reminding hon. Members that the President and his Government were returned to power by elections only one year ago. The President and his Government are in just as good physical and political health as they were at the General Elections.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, hon. Members will remember our saying, which is African, that there is no inheritance from a man while he is still alive.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Attorney-General, and in view of the fact that this so-called speculation was generated from a foreign source, and also in view of the fact that the so-called mischief-makers—if I may quote and quote those four mentioned in this particular paper, and mentioning by their names, they are, the hon. Kibaki, the hon. Mungai, the hon. Attorney-General and the hon. Vice-President—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Hold on, Mr. Mwangale. The opportunity I gave you was to ask a question but not to make a speech, first of all. Secondly, our Standing Orders are quite clear, that you do not have to refer to names unless they are necessary to make what you want to say intelligible. However, I think people follow what you are saying and there is no need for quoting the names.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, my question is, therefore, this:— Will the Attorney-General assure the House that, indeed, those four are not the mischief-makers that he is referring to?

Mr. Njonjo: I would like to say this, Mr. Speaker, that if the hon. Member has met the gentleman who wrote that article and he has that information that the people he has mentioned were, in fact, the source of the information which appeared in the Guardian, I would be very happy if he could disclose it to this House.

Mr. Magugu: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Looking at the nature of this question, and reading the first three lines, it would appear to me as if the Member for Tinderet had the names of some politicians who are anxious and in a hurry to succeed to the Presidency. Therefore, could the hon. Member be kind enough to disclose to the House the names of these politicians?

Hon. Members: No! No!

Mr. Magugu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not asking the hon. Member to substantiate; I think the hon. Members are getting me wrong but, could he be kind enough to disclose to the House the ones he seems to have had in mind when he put up this question?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No. The question says it is all speculation. Therefore, I do not know what you expect him to disclose.

Mr. arap Saina: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the hon. Member in order to question another questioner when these rumours were circulated in a paper, and which almost a half of the population of this Republic has seen; moreover, he himself has seen it?

Hon. Members: And it was laid on the Table?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Well, I think the impression I get is that the reply given by the Attorney-General was so comprehensive that there is hardly anything new you are likely to raise. So we will move on to the next question.

BOYCOTT OF LECTURES BY NAIROBI UNIVERSITY STUDENTS

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Education the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Will the Minister for Education make a precise statement to this House on the circumstances which made the students of Nairobi University boycott lectures?
- (b) Why was it found necessary to rush the Kenya Police detachment to the University campus?
- (c) Since some students were seriously injured, and the public views this action with great concern, what has the Ministry of Education done over this grave situation?

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The boycott of lectures by students made in January 1971, was allegedly based on the fact that four women students were suspended by a disciplinary committee in which the students and academic staff of the University were represented. The suspension arose out of a nasty incident whereby 25 women students invaded the warden's flat and disorganized property as well as flooding her room. It is understood that 25 students were challenging the allocation of rooms by the warden. The disciplinary committee found four students guilty of being ring-leaders and recommended to Vice-Chancellor that these women students be suspended with the proviso that they appeal against the decision of that disciplinary committee.

The Students' Union took it upon itself to solve the problem by issuing an ultimatum to the Vice-Chancellor to the effect that he should withdraw the suspension of the four students immediately; he should give a written assurance to the students that the rooms in the women's halls of residence would be re-allocated within a fortnight and that she should be relieved of her duties as a warden at the women's halls of residence immediately.

It should be noted, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that no leader of any organization like the University of Nairobi would accept to meet such a demand when machinery is there for negotiations by which the cases of the suspended students could be heard independently. At this stage, Sir, there appeared to be a confrontation between the University students and the University Administration which led to the students boycotting the lectures. It should be made clear that the police were not called to the University campus to make students return to their classes. The police were called in to be on the look-out as it was apparent that the situation would get out of hand once the students started mass demonstration against the University Administration.

Note should be made of the fact that the students who were attending classes were being picketed by their fellow students who had refused to attend classes, and in one area of the University the students were thrown out of their classes violently by the protesting crowds. Members of the public had started converging on the University campus as spectators and anything could happen when both the students and members of the public appeared to be intermingled in the crowd that met in the great court of the University. From experience of the damage that could be done when the crowd gets out of control, the University Administration had to alert the police as a precautionary measure so as to avoid any possibility of damage to the property of the University.

It is true, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that during the demonstration some minor injuries were sustained by both the police and the students, and I would like to assure the House that my Ministry did view this grave situation with deep concern. However, I am satisfied that the University Administration and the students' union have solved the matter amicably and I wish now, Mr. Speaker, Sir, to express my appreciation of the way in which the University Administration and the students' union managed to reach a compromise over the issue; and also it is my wish that the lessons learned during the incident would forestall the re-occurrence of this situation in the future of the University.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Mr. O'Washika. I am sorry we have gone very far beyond our time but, at the same time, Mr. Mwangale gave notice of a Substantive Motion on a similar issue. In fact, what is said now could be said during that debate, and normally we do not ask questions on matters which will be coming up again in the form of a Substantive Motion.

So, I hope Mr. O'Washika will feel satisfied and I hope that when this Motion comes up he can still follow up whatever he wants to raise so that we can get on with the business of today. We have gone far beyond our time.

MOTION

THANKS FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS
(Second Day)

THAT the thanks of this House be recorded for the exposition of public policy contained in His Excellency's Presidential Address from the Chair on 23rd February 1971.

(The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs on 25th February 1971)

(Resumption of Debate interrupted on 25th February 1971)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Nthenge had three minutes to go.

Mr. Nthenge: Thank you, Mr. Speaker for reserving my three minutes.

Another point I would like to make, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is this: any country must have the executive and the policy-makers. Here, in Kenya, we do find that there is too much mixing up of politicians and civil servants. Some of the civil servants tend and wish to be involved in politics. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think this is an issue that must be tackled very urgently because one has to make up his mind whether to become a politician or to become a civil servant. It is in our Constitution that whoever wants to be a politician must resign from the Civil Service.

However, Mr. Speaker, what is most annoying now is to see some of the people in top positions in Government—the policy-makers—tend to associate themselves so much with some of the civil servants that the civil servants start acting as their stooges or puppets. They do this to such an extent that the respect that should be given by these civil servants to politicians is dwindling. Mr. Speaker, I think there is great a need for the Ministry responsible for administration, particularly, to try to correct this.

Another point, Mr. Speaker, is that the President of this country has, very rightly, urged the Members of Parliament, the politicians, to give the public some guidance and to speak to the public as much as possible. In fact, he has condemned any Members of Parliament who stay here in Nairobi unnecessarily, and advises all of them to go back to their constituencies, mix with the people and identify themselves with the people they represent.

Mr. Speaker, it becomes very difficult for a politician—a Member of Parliament—to go to his constituency like a thief or hiding himself; it should be known when one is going there, and people should come and hear him. However, a problem is cropping up; when you go to the district commissioner, it looks as if one is begging.

[Mr. Nthenge]

You seem to be asking for a favour when endeavouring to get the right to hold a meeting in your own constituency. The district commissioner has a lot to say about that meeting; in fact, he advises you that you do not need to talk on this, you do not need to do this, and Sir, it becomes very difficult and very embarrassing for us to lead our people; we can hardly meet them, whereas we are told by the President to go and meet the people. When we ask for permission to meet them, we are not allowed to do so.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Tsuma: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to thank the President for his good statesmanship on 23rd February 1971. Along with that, Mr. Speaker, I should not forget the fact that you, as well, gave a speech that was very mature, representing the Members of this House. I therefore extend my thanks to you, Mr. Speaker, because you delivered a mature speech when you welcomed our President.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the President made his Speech and talked about land policy. In Kenya, Sir, the policy on land has not been drawn as yet, so that the public is able to know what it means when they own land. Right now, Mr. Speaker, the Minister for Health has been telling the House that where a public service is to be carried out the owners of the land cannot expect payment at all. Therefore, we ask the Government to draw out or produce a policy so that the people who own land will be ready to help when the public want their land for any use at all.

Mr. Speaker, we are told that when we consolidate land will we get title-deeds. However, when we go to the banks to borrow money—I wish the Minister for Lands was here—they challenge our people. What is the use of people getting title-deeds when they do not even get loans from the banks, particularly if that is the only way to enable them to get the money? In the Speech of the President, he talked about loans, yet the banks continue rejecting the land owners with title-deeds that are given to them to enable them to apply for loans. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to draw the attention of the Attorney-General to the fact that he is making too much noise behind here when I am making my speech. Mr. Speaker—

The Attorney-General (Mr. Njonjo): I am not interested.

Mr. Tsuma: If you are not interested, then go out.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I must thank the Government for having given us a municipality at Kakamega; that is something worth giving credit to. However, one thing I would like to make clear is that we have areas that were taken into the area of the township, from outside. The people living in such areas were not registered within the unit that was registered so that they can participate in election when the voting for urban councillors take place. We ask the Government, therefore, that people living in areas that were taken into townships, that is in Nyeri, Embu, Meru and Kakamega, be immediately allowed to register as voters so that when the election or by-election of councillors arises they are also able to participate. In Kakamega, for example, the land was taken from Butso, Isukha, Ikolomani and Lurambi South, to add to the area of the municipal council. Now, if the people were not registered, how shall we call them members of the municipal council, representing an area where there are no voters? While I thank the President for this, and the Government, I ask the Minister for Local Government to see to it that the people who were brought to this area are allowed to register as voters so that they will be able to participate in elections.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the question that is very important here is the question of democracy. Mr. Speaker, Sir, you very clearly outlined this and told the President that this House was a representative House; it was the House that spoke the minds of the people. However, I want to say, Sir, and even the President said it himself, that he, as a Member of Parliament for his area, knew that for the first one year and then seven years, this House has played the role of showing other countries that we were independent, and that we had done a lot.

Democracy, Sir, is a matter of practice. Kenya is a country that practises democracy. However, let us not have diluted democracy. Why can we not have democracy that is based on give-and-take policy; based on argument and criticism, Mr. Speaker? I challenge any democracy, Sir, in any country, that has no opposition, because in this country, if Kenya allowed democracy that is only said and which is practised in other countries, that is why other countries have experienced coups; that is why the overthrowing of governments is there, because the only opposition there is is the army. Must we accept the army in any government, to be another party—a party without a constitution—and then say we are democratic? Any country that has a government overthrown, like our neighbour here, should know that that happens because it is not democratic; it does not agree that it is open for one to challenge or criticise me and you, Mr.

[Mr. Tsuma]
Speaker, and the Government as well. If our Constitution allows democracy, why must we dilute it? With that I mean, Mr. Speaker, that we should accept democracy which is based on the British democracy; that is we have to accept anyone challenging us. That is why, as a member of Kanu, this House being a member of Kanu, the Government being based on Kanu policy, I feel we should, if our Constitution allows, accept any challenge by a party and not by the army. We believe in having a democracy with an opposition from anybody; anybody who wants to challenge us as a Government, but not having to be challenged by a bullet. This, Mr. Speaker, should not be accepted in Kenya because we are democratic. Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is a matter of democracy, which our President mentioned in his Speech.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) left the Chair]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, our foreign policy, which was stated in this House by the Minister for Foreign Affairs, is well known and asking more questions on this is a waste of time. Our policy is to recognize a country, to recognize the people and not to recognize an individual, as the head of State. It would be wrong for us to have to recognize a person just because he is a friend of Brown Tsuma, a friend of the Speaker or a friend of the President of another State. Therefore, our policy remains as it was stated here and we should never be fed on words, like when someone was trying to say, "What we say in this country—their country—is what Kenya will say as well". Mr. Deputy Speaker, our policy remains as the Minister stated, and that is our policy.

Sir, the question that worries our country is about education, and I want to talk about it when the Minister for Education is here. We cannot accept any policy on education from the Minister which has never been formulated by this House.

We hear of constituent colleges; why can the Minister not look at Kenya as Kenya and not as a section of Kenya? We have many times said here that we want constituent colleges to that of the University of Nairobi so that we have one at Maseno for west Kenya; have one in Mombasa for the Coast and then Kenyatta College for the other part, and probably have one in the Eastern Province for the people there. Why do we have to be told that the only constituent college of the Nairobi University College should be Kenyatta College when we had said that we should have another one somewhere else?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, another point is: why is it that the Minister for Education issues directives—he is a politician as we are—saying that no Member of Parliament should go to any school or speak with any headmaster of a school and that he cannot be a representative on the board of governors? We want to ask the Government to sit down as a Cabinet and advise the Minister for Education that we do not want policies which are drawn by individuals, or emanate from a Minister as such because that is what we call dictatorship.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, in the Western Province we were given Form V in Butere Girls' High School. The Minister here announced what they called an educational complex. Why must he have to try Butere Girls' School which has Form V already as a complex? Secondly, it has the Chadwick College students, it has the Butere Boys' Secondary School students and then the girls. As parents, how do we understand how boys and girls will stay together in a complex? Why had he to try this in the Western Province? I challenge that sort of practice and therefore ask the Minister to withdraw that sort of suggestion that a complex type of education should be given to girls and boys in the Western Province. We want this complex system to be left out.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to support the Motion.

Mr. Mwicigi: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. I would like to thank His Excellency the President for the Speech he gave us here on the national policy. The country is grateful for the service he has performed in this country; he has worked for us for half a century and we appreciate his leadership. No one would actually doubt this especially if one was to consider what is happening in our bordering countries.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we are also grateful—we in Kenya—that there are outside countries which use Kenya as a holiday resort. We have chancellors, princes, princesses and kings coming to Kenya. That means we are going to have more and more tourists coming into the country. What we would like to warn the Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife to ensure is that we are ready with more accommodation and good routes to the lodges.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we must be prepared to support our fellow Africans in Rhodesia and South Africa. Kenya must also give a lead towards this direction. Rhodesia seems to be rather quiet now and we understand that the British Government and Rhodesia are making secret deals or secret negotiations to pass over Rhodesia to the white minority. We have always been against this—the people of our country have been against this—and therefore we should air our views clearly and strongly against it. Also, on the issue of South Africa, the trade sanctions do not look good. This is because you find a lot of white countries, which in the past had not been in favour of the South African apartheid government, seem to be increasing trade and are now selling arms, and this is a big concern to us, the black Africans. In fact, I wonder why, having so many generals as Heads of State in the Organization for African Unity meetings, they should not get together and tell us how we can save our African brothers in South Africa militarily.

[Mr. Mwicigi]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, coming back home, I must stress the question of unemployment. The people of this country, especially school-leavers, are going to suffer greatly this year, as they have been suffering in the past. The situation is, actually, not improving but deteriorating. Last year we had about 168,000 school-leavers at primary level, Std. VII. At secondary level, we had about 26,000 school-leavers. On combining the number, we know that it is only about a quarter of these who get opportunities for either going for higher education or for employment. The other group is left largely to look for jobs for themselves and it is very, very difficult. We would like our Government, sooner or later, to report to this House what they have done on the Report on Unemployment which was passed and adopted in this House. There were various recommendations in this Report and if the Government has a better report so that it is able to employ a lot of people, then it is all right. However, if it has no better solution to unemployment than what is contained in this Report, I think they should take the Report seriously and report back to this House. This is because we have not only the school-leavers of last year but we also have to consider the backlog of the previous years and the numbers of unemployed continues to increase.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, other countries, like Peru or Bolivia, go to the United Nations to borrow money to run various projects which alleviate unemployment in their country and I do not see why our country should not do the same.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there are two other points I want to raise, and one is with regard to our banks and our banking system. We are told that there is more money in our banks than they are able to give out. We have deposits and reserves and they do not seem to be utilized. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would ask the Government to use whatever means it has to persuade these banks to give more money to Africans for various enterprises. This, in itself, would alleviate unemployment. However, on the other side, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I think the Government should revise its exchange control policy to allow foreign banks to borrow more money for local projects which will also be able to employ more people.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is another point which I feel very strongly about, and this is with regard to our minerals and petroleum products. This is a very important point—in fact, I remember in my maiden speech I also included it.

There is a strong rumour that in our country we have oil. We also know that around Garissa, one petroleum company spent £28 million—of course, this company was based on East Africa, but mainly concentrating in Garissa area trying to prospect for oil. We are told that there are some reports which say that oil has not been discovered. We have also been told that oil is not sufficient to run economically.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, we also hear that on an island, called Pate, there is a very strong possibility of oil being found. My feeling is that this country has some oil. In the past the experience is that once foreign companies discover oil, they actually close it and tell the people that there is no oil or that there is oil but exploiting it would not be economical. They did this in the Eastern Nigeria. Mr. Deputy Speaker, they did this also in Eastern Nigeria and it was discovered many years later.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I tend to agree with a lot of what has been said—there is oil in this country. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, you find that the findings tend to end up in a certain European's hands and the report is shipped back to the United Kingdom or given to another European in this country and it is no wonder why oil is not discovered.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to appeal to the Government to give these areas, which were explored by some British companies, which tell us that there is no oil, to other companies from other countries like Japan or any Eastern countries and see whether we are going to have the same results.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, with these few remarks, I support the Speech.

Mr. Amayo: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. I wish to join my colleagues in thanking his Excellency the President for his Speech at the State Opening of Parliament. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have a few points to make in connexion with His Excellency's Speech. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is one thing I would like to put before Government, and this is in connexion with the announcement being made about the Cabinet Ministers and even His Excellency. Mr. Deputy Speaker, it is very damaging to make some announcements to the citizens in the Republic about any Government policy if and when it has not been effected or put into practice. This is spoiling the name of the Government and also making it difficult for the hon. Members who are working as the bridge between the citizens and the Government. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to advise the Government especially the Minister for Education to be careful of this; I mention that Ministry because of its decision on increase of school fees. Mr. Deputy Speaker, if the hon. Members of this House are working as a bridge between the Government and the people, then the hon. Minister ought not to have increased the school fees without notifying hon. Members about his intention to increase the school fees. I am saying this, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, because we are the people in the field and we are being faced with a lot of questions in connexion with such policies.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to refer to a speech made in this House one day last year by the Minister for Power and Communications, that no tankers would no longer be on the road during the night and within a short time the tankers were on the road again. Such statements should not be made. The Government should be responsible and whatever they say must be put into practice. There should be no question of saying one thing today and saying another tomorrow. Therefore, I am advising Government to take a serious view on this.

The other thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, which I would like to remind Government is what His Excellency the President mentioned about unity. I would like to say, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that there are certain things which should be looked into. When we talk about unity, we should not talk about empty things. We should talk about something which we know. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, on many occasions, we as representatives have been told about So-and-so who has been working in such-and-such a Ministry has been frustrated and as a result left his job; and when you ask why you are told that his services have been discontinued and that he is no longer required. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to recommend to the House that a commission be sent out to every Ministry to check and see whether tribalism is being practised, as has been alleged in the past. It would be advisable for a commission to be set up in order to look into this so that we may know exactly what is going on in the Ministries. We understand that nepotism is being practised. How shall we know this? People will keep on talking about it in this House, people will be crying in this and that place but there will not be an end to this. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if we want real unity in Kenya, we must avoid such things. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, by setting up a commission we will be able to get the truth about what is taking place in our Ministries.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the other thing I would like to mention, as far as tribalism is concerned, is that anybody, whether a civil servant or a Member of Parliament practising tribalism somewhere—because although you cannot get hold of tribalism in your hands, people only talk about it—should be dealt with accordingly. This is the action that the people call for to end tribalism. Therefore, it is advisable that these people, whoever they are, whether a Minister or a Permanent Secretary, should be dealt with: but we should not condemn a whole tribe and say that this is done by Luo or Kamba. This should not be the case.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to make a few points in connexion with land consolidation. Actually, the people are ready for land consolidation. However, as His Excellency said, this should be put into practice and more surveyors should be sent to the country-side to complete this work so that people may get their title-deeds.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the other thing which His Excellency mentioned is about control of rivers and lakes. We people around the lake area are year after year affected by water. However, now the area is very dry and we are thirsty. During the months of April and May, you find that the area is flooded by water. Therefore, what I am asking here is that a permanent solution should be found in order to reduce the havocs of water from the lake and rivers.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the other thing I would like to mention is in connexion with health. It would be advisable for the Ministry of Health to look into the question of our hotels or Mathawa as such. Some of our hotels are very filthy and we fail to understand the work of the health inspectors in the country-side. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to suggest that a kind of seminar should be organized to teach the people running the hotels how the cups, the bowls and other things should be cleaned, or even how to keep the rooms clean. So, what we are paying to these people, may one day block the Bill of the Ministry of Health if they are not utilizing properly the money which we give to them.

The other thing which I would like to mention is that we would like the planning to be done according to districts. Let those people who are planners, or economists, plan and apply their economy to every district or constituency so that when we come to the beginning of each year we may exactly know that this is what Government offers for this constituency or for this district. However, when it comes to the end of the year, you find that your constituency gained nothing. But when it comes to the time of repaying loans, then everybody is required to pay. This is something which I am trying to drive the Government away from because it is not encouraging at all.

The other thing I would like to mention is about hydro-electric schemes. The President mentioned one place—Kaburu—where a hydro-electric scheme will be started. I would like to say that is not the only place. We have a place on the Miriu River known as Odindo. This should also be explored. The other one which has already been surveyed and which should be considered is known as Gogo Falls. It can be of great help to the people in the rural areas, especially in South Nyanza, Kisii and parts of Central Nyanza.

The other thing I would like to mention is the question of town authority, which some of the towns like Nanyuki, Thomson's Falls, Machakos, Kisii, Malindi and Murang'a are going to have.

QUORUM

Mr. Kanja: On a point of order, I do not think we form a quorum.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Yes, we do not have a quorum. Ring the Division Bell.

(The Division Bell was rung)

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): We have a quorum now.

Mr. Marwa. Member for Kuria.

Mr. Marwa: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

An hon. Member: Are you baptized?

Mr. Marwa: Why not?

An hon. Member: What is your name?

Another hon. Member: What is your name please?

Mr. Marwa: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I also stand to join hands with my hon. colleagues to thank the President for his Speech which he made when he opened the House.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I should start my speech by saying that, I think the Speech which the President made was a very nice one and, therefore, we should be thankful for it.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, there are certain resolutions which we have passed in this House but have never been implemented. It is very necessary that whenever we pass something here in the House, it should be effected immediately so that the announcements which have been made by the Government should be made known and that whatever was passed in the House should be implemented. However, we have seen nothing emerged from what was passed last year. There were some Motions which were moved by Members in this House asking for some districts to be divided. We were told in this House that there was a commission to be set up to look into the question of district and provincial boundaries. Mr. Deputy Speaker, up to this time we have not seen any commission and we are still waiting to see it. I, therefore, think it is high time this commission was appointed so that it should look into the district administration; and the constituencies where people want to be given an extra district should be looked into.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, in his Speech, His Excellency mentioned something about the constituent college of the Nairobi University. We know that in Kenyatta College, there is an intake of students to study for Bachelor of Education degree, diplomas for teachers and S1 courses. As Members from the rural areas, particularly from the backward areas, we find that this college only benefits people who come from around Nairobi. It does not serve the whole area. For example, since this college was started, about five years ago, no person from my constituency has been taken. When we look at, for example, South Nyanza, we find that some teachers or some headmasters who are now heading our secondary schools are from other areas. This is not because there are no people from South Nyanza who are educated to hold these posts but because people from this area are not taken into the colleges for training. Therefore, they are not given this opportunity of heading their secondary schools. I would, therefore, like to ask the Ministry of Education to look into this question of intake very seriously and give equal distribution of entrants from all over Kenya but not to concentrate on only one area.

[Mr. Marwa]

In backward areas, like my own area—Kuria—there is not a single person who has been trained in this college. Even though we have boys who have completed Form VI and some have passed well in the East African Certificate of Education who could be taken for training and could come and teach in our areas but this is not done. This has been our problem in primary schools and it is also going to be a problem in our secondary schools, the ones which we have established on Harambee basis. Therefore, I feel it is high time I asked the Ministry of Education to see to it that the intake into these teachers' training colleges should be spread to all areas, even those backward or undeveloped areas.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I should also ask the Ministry to see to it that when they are selecting boys for overseas scholarships, they should also remember the backward areas. This is a very serious thing because our boys are not selected for education and if we are not considered for education, we are not going to develop because there is no way of developing the backward areas unless the people are educated. This is a very serious affair and it should be looked into by the Government seriously.

The other point I would like to raise is about the touring of Ministers in the country. Ministers tend to tour only the provincial headquarters. They never go to the remote areas and, as I mentioned last year, I think it is very essential that we should be visited by our Ministers so that they see themselves the conditions in which our people are living so that they can help or give more assistance, if necessary. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would thank those who have toured or who have made an effort to come and to see the people in the remote areas. It is a credit to them and they should be thanked for that. I should also like to thank our Government for having given us a road from Kisii to my area—a tarmac road. This is a very good thing which has been done by our Government and my people are very thankful for that. I shall not forget that.

The other thing is about rural development. We were told that some areas were selected for special rural development. These areas included Migori and my area—Kuria. However, since last year— This special rural development was to be started in June last year. However, up to this time, it has not been started. As far as I know, money was allocated or made available for that project and since this is almost the end of the Financial Year—we have about four months to the end of the Financial Year, but we do not know how that money which was allocated or estimated for that project is going to be used. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this is a delaying tactic that is being done by somebody somewhere. It has been said that if by the end of the year the money is not spent Government will take back that money to the Treasury and it will not be used in our areas. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I think it is very, very necessary that this money, that was allocated for our area, specially for rural development, should be made use of immediately and it should be released to the people to make use of it. If Government was really serious in using the money, we do not see the reason why they should have the delaying tactics which are being played. Since July last year up to this year and it is almost the end of the Financial Year, no money has been released from the Treasury. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I think this is a serious thing and I think this money should be given to us if Government was really serious and honest about giving us some rural development. It should be started and we will see how it will go.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, when we ask questions about this, that or whatever thing we ask here, we are told that we are covered under rural development but we cannot only be covered by words without any action. We want actions to be taken so that our people can see some differences or the outcome of that.

Another last thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is about school fees. The increase of school fees especially in remote areas or undeveloped areas has had a very serious effect because in those areas where people are not interested in educating their children, when they find that the fee has been raised from Sh. 50 to Sh. 70 or Sh. 80 which includes the activity fee, and building fee or something like that, it becomes very serious. People are now not sending children to school and this has had a very serious effect on primary schools. So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would again appeal to Government to see that they reduce the fee so that these areas which are undeveloped will be helped to educate their youngsters. This, I think has a bad effect on hon. Members themselves because when anything is passed or done the public will think that it is the hon. Members of this House who have passed that the fees should be increased. As far as I know, there was nothing mentioned to us about that.

Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, and I beg to support.

Mr. Kanja: Thank you very much, once again Mr. Deputy Speaker, for giving me this chance to address this honourable House and the nation at large. Although ten minutes is far too limited for me I wish to go through the Presidential Speech very carefully and very fast indeed.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I wish to congratulate and thank His Excellency the President for his exposition in his Presidential Speech and Government for everything good that it has done for the wananchi. While I do that, Mr. Deputy Speaker, as a duly elected representative of my people I would be failing in my duty if I do not touch some very important points which affect our day to day life.

First and foremost is the land policy. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we got our independence through sweat, dying and through fighting and we did not get it on a silver spoon. After getting our independence, the people we elected to take the reigns of Government went to our enemies, the very people we were fighting with and mortgaged our land and now we are made to buy the same land that we had to fight for. This is very absurd, Mr. Deputy Speaker, and I call upon Government to correct this situation otherwise we are sitting on volcano, for our people will never be satisfied unless and until they own each and every inch, every millimetre of this country. We did not fight to share our land with foreigners. I say that and I say that categorically, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, we are told that we can get loans to buy land. Thank you very much for those who have been given plots in Nyandarua, Muhoroni and Taita but at the same time, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we must not forget that very many of our own settlers in those areas are nothing but slaves of loans. They have to be made free. They are only working for the repayment of loans. Government ought to be aware of this and it ought to act before it is too late. Some of the farmers, Mr. Deputy Speaker, are running away from those farms not because they have anywhere else to go but because they cannot make both ends meet. Therefore, the only alternative is to run away.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I call upon Government to leave land loans that we are repaying to the British Government. The British Government did not give us our land but it is our heritage which we got from our almighty God who made our skins black.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! Mr. Kanja will you use the microphone behind you because that one is causing some disturbances in the box up there?

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the other point I want to elaborate on very clearly is that this Government is a Government of politicians.

It is led by His Excellency the President who is himself a politician. We are all duly elected politicians by our people and yet we have small kings the so-called provincial commissioners and district commissioners. Some of them have entrusted themselves with so much power so that they do not think the hon. Members of this House are anything. Why? Because right from the very time we were fighting for independence some of them were saying that an African cannot rule himself. After we acquired independence, what did they do? They took all the big shares. They are the people who run the big estates, the big tankers and everything. Their wives, their sisters are running everything. We people have become a laughing stock. Why do we have to reduce hon. Members of Parliament to such a low status just because somebody has been sitting in a chair, he got his inheritance from the Colonial Government and now he is reaping the fruits of the Mau Mau who had to fight and who had to die and at the same time he is sitting there saying that Parliamentarians are nothing but small boys playing about. They have to be forced to understand that this country has to be ruled by the duly elected representatives of this country. If they do not realize this, then, Mr. Deputy Speaker, as I said earlier on we are going to face up to it and the consequence will be very serious indeed. I would like to see it.

That is why, Mr. Deputy Speaker, there is too much overspending by Government because the Minister, the provincial commissioners and the senior civil servants do not have time to concentrate and look after the money of the wananchi because they are thinking about their tankers, their ranching companies. It is high time they were made to become true civil servants and not double-crossing businessmen.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Africanization of commerce has become nothing but a mockery. Our Africans have to take over shops, industries in the real sense and to achieve this, Mr. Speaker, is a challenge to the present Government to give us an industrial protection act for our own people, the black Africans, who have got— When I was in India and Singapore, Canberra, Sydney I did not see any Luo trading nor a Kamba. Why do we have to fear. Let us face it.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, since my time is running out the other point I would like to say is this: as far as the salary structure is concerned, in this country we cannot afford to pay the salaries we are paying. I am afraid to say this Mr. Deputy Speaker, but I have no regret. The salary structure in this country as a whole must be overhauled so that the highest paid African must only earn Sh. 5,000. I am also willing to go back to Sh. 1,000 if this is done everywhere so that those people who are jobless, those people who cannot pay school fees can also get something. We must be dedicated leaders.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, reorganization of Kanu is very important. We must not bluff and kid ourselves that we can do without a political party. Our political party must be made very strong. It has to be strong otherwise this is the reason why we are getting coups d'etat, because there is no opposition or anything of the sort. Eventually, the only opposition we get is a military soldier holding a gun at Kanja and saying, "Kanja, you are now down. I am now on top with the same bullet that you voted for and bought for me." Let us avoid this kind of situation, Mr. Deputy Speaker by revitalizing Kanu as our party.

The other point, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is the point which the wananchi have asked me—and I have to convey this because I am the bridge between my people and the Government. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, children going to sing for the President—when they go there if they must go there—must be fed. They must not travel such long distances without anything in their bellies. Surely, what kind of reflection are we going to give to our own children that we, as a Government do not care for them? I am not blaming the President because it is not his fault. We are the people who vote money here. If a Minister has to tell school children to go 200 miles to sing, surely he must have the courtesy to give them at least a loaf of bread and a bottle of soda, if not a pint of milk. Otherwise, why should they go and sing and by the time they get home they are dying of hunger and cursing the whole Government? This is unfair, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to end my speech by drawing the attention of this hon. House to the point that when His Excellency the President himself was in detention it was Oginga Odinga who was expelled from this House because of saying, "Release Kenyatta". His Excellency the President is the only leader that we know of. Today, that same man is in prison and is detained. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to say that some people somewhere are trying to take an advantage and make this to be a wedge between the Kikuyu people and the Luo people. I am a Kikuyu and I do not want to confront—

An hon. Member: Me!

Mr. Kanja: Not you. I do not want to confront the gracious lady, Mrs. Grace Onyango on a tribal basis. Let us, through humanity and through this House ask our President, who is full of mercy, to release that old man. Let him go to Bondo and eat his own Kamongo. He is not going to interfere with me at Nyeri or interfere with anybody anywhere. Surely, all we used to require when we were in detention was freedom.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the rumours that are spreading about who is going to be what or what not are immaterial. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to say one thing on this matter. Anybody ruling this country will rule by the rule of law, the will of the Kenyans. He cannot rule because he is Kanja or because he comes from this cliqué or because he comes from that particular location. He will have to be elected by the people of this country.

Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker. I beg to support.

Mr. Mwengi-Nzelu: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to say something on this very important Motion.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, first of all I will deal with what we call tribalism. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, everybody has been singing about tribalism and unity time and again. In the long run, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, you find that those who were singing about unity and condemning tribalism are the people who are encouraging the latter. These are the people who are telling their people—the wananchi—how to practise tribalism.

Hon. Members: Who are they?

Mr. Mwengi-Nzelu: They know themselves and if you want to know them I will mention them.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am not going to say what another Member of this hon. House said that Mr. So-and-so is the man who is spoiling this tribe. Instead, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I will say the whole tribe is spoiling everything in this country. I have reasons for saying this, Mr. Deputy Speaker. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, Kenya belongs to Africans but it does not belong to one tribe. It does not belong to Wakamba nor does it belong to Wakikuyu but it belongs to Kenya's wananchi. This should be known, Mr. Deputy Speaker. This country does not belong to the British people but it belongs to us. All tribes in this country should be treated equally and fairly businesswise and administratively. When I say this I mean that— To cite an example, if you go to the University of Nairobi you will find that the University Council of the University of Nairobi is made up of one tribe. The Vice-Chancellor, and Chancellor and chairman come from the same tribe. Do you not think those people are encouraging tribalism?

An hon. Member: Which tribe is that?

Mr. Mwengi-Nzelu: You just go to the university and you will get the facts there.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I will now turn to the administration. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, 99 per cent of all provincial commissioners, district commissioners and district officers—you just go round and try to visit these offices—are from the same tribe. Do you not think that that is an encouragement of tribalism? That must be done away with, Mr. Deputy Speaker. As I said from the beginning, the Kikuyu people should know that Kenya belongs to Kenya people and that is definite. Everything here should be shared equally and things must be done fairly. If you go to the Eastern Province you will find that if there is a vacancy somewhere for a district commissioner, a Kikuyu will be moved from Isiolo to Kitui in order to get promotion there as a district commissioner. Why do you think that a Masai cannot really work as a district commissioner? He can, why not. Therefore Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as far as the administration is concerned, the Minister of State, President's Office should be told that if they want unity in this country, things should be done in a good manner. There must be a commission of inquiry to look into these things and if that commission finds there are too many Kikuyu officers in the administration they should be reduced and be sent to companies to work there to give a chance to the other tribes, if you want unity. If you do not want unity, one day will come and you will have it.

An hon. Member: Is that true?

Mr. Mwengi-Nzelu: Let me speak up my mind. This is true and it has been there. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it has also been the same with the banks. It is only last year when we passed a Bill here in ten minutes to allow the Government to acquire 60 per cent of the shares in the National and Grindlays Bank. If you go to that bank—the Kenya Commercial Bank—who is the chairman? Who is the chairman of the Kenya National Bank? These things should be put right, Mr. Deputy Speaker. This must be done and done in a good manner. If the unity of this country is to be maintained, things should be done in a good way. These things should be shared.

Let us now turn to rural development. If you look at Nairobi it looks better than London, better even than Washington, but if you go outside things are different. The mzungu is enjoying here in Nairobi, he has nearly everything while the real wananchi, the people who fought for the freedom of this country, what do they have? The man at Nyeri has no shamba, he has nowhere to sleep. Yet, Sir, we hear people saying that our economy in the country is booming. Going where? It is going to Britain, going to Germany for the simple reason that we are selling all their Mercedes cars here. I believe that any good government is there to care for the welfare of its subjects; that is what I believe.

You will find in these game parks and tourist resorts that water is available everywhere, it is flowing everywhere. Go to Masailand, go to Lodwar, go to Kitui, go to Somalia and you will find that people are dying for lack of water. Yet all the time the animals, the elephants are playing with water in these game parks and tourist resorts. Those places were made attractive for the tourists and the animals while the wananchi are dying for lack of water.

Gentlemen, Members of Parliament, the policy of this country should be reviewed, otherwise we are going to remain beggars. At long last these people will dominate our economy and everything. I am not against anybody, I do not have any grudge against anybody, I am merely telling you the truth. We cannot have people dying while you make the game parks and the tourist places a paradise for the British people to come and enjoy. The wananchi who chased away the wazungu are dying for lack of water, water to drink. That sort of thing must be done away with and the policy of this country should be reviewed to suit the needs of the people here, not that of the foreigners. I do not believe in tribalism but I believe that I am a Kenyan, not a mzungu.

We borrowed a lot of money from Britain and other places so that we could buy back our own land in the former White Highlands. I remember when I was young, in Standard IV, I used to read what people were saying, "Kenyatta said this country belongs to us, it is ours and nobody will tunya us." Now we are buying the land which once belonged to us, there is nobody to tunya us. Today they have tunya our land. We have borrowed money to come and buy our own land here in the White Highlands. We have beautiful land in Machakos, in Kitui, in Moyale, everywhere. Why can we not use this money to develop those lands? Why did we have to buy our own land? I would like now to tell the Government that these loans should not be paid back by the Kenya people, the British Government should be responsible for that. After all, they are the people who brought the settlers here after the Second World War and so they are the people who should meet these expenses. It should not be the responsibility of the people of Kenya to do this. That money can be used to develop some large areas that need development so that we ensure that the people in Kenya are quite happy.

As a Member of this hon. House I feel that any loan outstanding which was used to buy our own land in the former White Highlands should be written off by our Government. We should not have to repay it.

I want now to touch a little bit on the present situation in some parts of the country. Drought, famine in this country—

My time is up. Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for having given me this chance to say a few things.

The first point I would like to touch on is the danger that faces this country. As a citizen of this country and as one of those who fought for independence of Kenya I shall be failing in my duty if I were not to say the things I am about to mention.

One of the hon. Members has already touched on this point. We had the colonialist here, they came here without any invitation from our grandfathers or our forefathers. We fought against them, we removed them. Some of our brothers, at that time, Sir, I remember when I was Secretary-General of the Nairobi People's Convention Party, were actually their good boys, they were licking their boots at that time and reporting every move we made here against the wazungu. After independence, Sir, we forgave them, we took them in as our brothers and promoted them to various positions in this very Government. Today, however, they are turning against us. Today, they do not even respect us. We know many of our brothers died during the time of the struggle and they left behind some people. Let it be known to those concerned—and there are quite a few of them—that there will come a time when the children of those who died during the struggle will probably try to seek revenge.

The public must know that in this House we are elected to speak for them, in this House we are elected to legislate or vote money for their progress but it so happens that if you look at some of the Ministries, you will find that the money has not been spent but rather has been returned to the Treasury. Why is this so? It is because some of our civil servants are so busy with their own businesses, that they have no time to implement what this House passes. The other thing is that those very civil servants say, "You are politicians and you are making noise in Parliament. What have you done?" They say this when they have sat on the money we have voted to help the people in order that one day they may be in a position to come to this Parliament. The public must know that it is the Civil Service that is returning the money, and that is what is retarding the progress of this country, for the simple reason that the money voted by this House is being returned to the Treasury. It is not—

Mr. Araru On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, this is a serious allegation made by the Assistant Minister against the civil servants. Could he name any one of them in view of the fact that he is making allegations against the civil servants?

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if the hon. Member cares to listen he will realize that my substantiation is not necessary. He can look at the Estimates and he will see that so much money is being returned to the Treasury. Let him do some homework.

Sir, this money could be used to help our people but the thing is that the civil servants are creating friction between the public and Members of this House, and between the Government. I have heard some of them even mistreating the electors here. They say, "Hii shauri ya Government. Hii ni maneno Wabunge, walipitisha. Shauri ya serikali Harambee." They are not implementing the policy of the serikali, they are frustrating the people so that they can be against this House. Let the public know that the killer, the ones who are killing them are the civil servants, not the Members of this House. This is done, it is done purposely so that there will come a time when the public will be fed up with this Government, meaning the politicians, and they will turn against us. You know that the civil servants are prepared to serve anybody in power. When we shall hang, when we shall be in the cold they will side with the Government of the time. Therefore, Sir, we must make it known to the public that this is the intended move by some of the civil servants.

Some of them are so cheeky. Can you imagine a civil servant lifting a telephone, talking to a Minister and telling him what his own views are without even listening to what the Minister has to say with regard to his own views! Do you know that they are becoming so powerful that the Government is almost a civil servant Government! We fought for independence and we are all out to fight against all these civil servants. We shall fight as we fought the imperialists.

May I now come to the policy speech. The first point I want to deal with here is in connexion with tourism. Sir, I am terribly disgusted and completely frustrated when I hear about the booming of this industry in our country. It is all nonsense in my opinion. Why do I say so? You will find the so-called tourists come here in their own planes; in other words, the tickets are booked in the country from which they come and the money remains with the airline in the country they come from. They do not even travel by our most comfortable East African Airways, Super VC 10. The money remains back there. They also book the hotel accommodation from that country because there are some international hotels here that have links there. So the money is left there. The only thing they bring here is themselves, fat, lean, short and so on. That is all we see, their faces here. The only thing they buy from us are cigarettes, fruit and films for their cameras. Apart from that they do not give us anything. Our brother who is in this House should come and tell us exactly where the African is profiting from all this tourism. When it comes to the question of hotel accommodation for the tourists the African is nowhere. When it comes to the question of lodges the African is nowhere. If there is anybody here who is called an African or a citizen it is the paper citizens who enjoyed during the colonial times and because of the paper they hold they continue to enjoy and exploit this country. I have no other place where I can speak my mind, Mr. Deputy Speaker, and I must do so here. I speak for this country and I am completely frustrated when I find that the very people who went against us are the people who are enjoying much more than the people of this country. We know people who are not citizens and yet they are enjoying the best and highest life in this country. I feel the time will come when the people who enjoyed during the colonial times and are still enjoying now because of their paper citizenships will have another small Mau Mau to remove them, so that we can get the complete independence of this country.

Sir, may I tell you that we who are here are here because of our right, we are here not to be flattered but to know who are our enemies. We have forgiven them their sins but we have not forgotten. This is the important thing. Today the Europeans in this country, some of them are so cheeky! The Indians in this country and the Asians can speak up to you today. Why? It is simple because they have money. Why? It is because they have direct links with some of our leaders who lick their boots. When you want to put them right they even address some of the leaders by their names. The African is not being helped at all because they have direct links with the big boys and everything goes down. One day the African, the small man will get tired and then we shall have a situation like the one we had in 1959 when the Asians and Europeans used to overrun the Africans with their cars. We decided to give them a beating and since that day we do not see any Asian or European running over the Africans with their cars. However, this time it may be different, it will be for the Africans, for the Asians and the Europeans, the cheeky ones plus the top men in this very Government.

May I come now to the last point, and that is this. I must congratulate the hon. Mzee Jomo Kenyatta for the Speech he made. However, Mzee must have people to support him. He has withstood these problems for many years and we must pull up our socks and be like him so that we can give the fruits of independence to the people of this country.

As far as our foreign policy is concerned, Mzee is to be commended for the stand he has taken. I feel that if the Organization for African Unity is to have any meaning at all, then it must abide by the principles of that very Organization. In their constitution they made it quite clear that they are not supposed to interfere with other people's internal affairs. How come today they are discussing these coups? Yet there are so many Governments which are in power as a result of coups d'etat. They are the biggest hypocrites and they are wasting the money of the people and the countries which are represented at their meetings. It is no use if they have no principles at all.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Housing (Mr. Khalif): Thank you very much Mr. Deputy Speaker. First of all, Sir, I would like to join the last two speakers who spoke dynamically and of the will of the people on various methods. Sir, in supporting the Motion I would like to join the ranks of my colleagues who thanked and congratulated the President Mzee Jomo Kenyatta for his Speech. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to say that I was particularly impressed that His Excellency the President, unlike previous years, outlined in broad terms the business the Government intends to introduce to Parliament this year. In his Speech Sir, the President stressed and emphasized the need for hon. Members to be seriously constructive and execute well the job they are paid for. I entirely concur with this Mr. Deputy Speaker. However, I would like to say that to execute our jobs seriously and constructively, Sir, we will have to speak the truth; the truth in capital words. The truth, Sir, can at times be bitter and can at times be completely untakeable. But as it is human to err, the Government must accept its past mistakes. Who else is vested more with the duties of speaking the truth in capital words than each hon. Member of this hon. House who has been elected and has the mandate of the wananchi?

Sir, it is true that much has been achieved since independence. It is also true that much that could have been achieved has yet to be achieved. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to say that there are a number of things that the Government has to conform with. There are a number of things that must be looked at in order to continue being a Government. In saying so, Sir, I am speaking not only in my capacity as the Member for Wajir East but also as an Assistant Minister. Let us face the realities.

Take for instance the question of the drought, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have in our country wananchi Kenya citizens, dying in tens and hundreds—I am saying this from a first hand knowledge, as a Member for Wajir East—and the best the Government has done apart from sending in inadequate amounts of relief food to the North-Eastern Province is to console itself—

An hon. Member: How much have you sent there?

The Assistant Minister for Housing (Mr. Khalif): I have sent—apart from my energy, my time in Wajir East Constituency—all I could afford in terms of money, cattle and food.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, coming back to what I was saying, apart from sending in inadequate amounts of relief foods, all the Government did was to console itself by misleading statements made by some civil servants that all was all right in the area. I remember, when I made a Press statement, both as a Member for Wajir East and as an Assistant Minister, a junior civil servant in the President's Office by the name of Mr. Mathenge came out and said that the Government did not accept it. Which Government? I thought this was a political Government. I never was told that this is a civil servant Government. He had the audacity to go to the Press and tell them that the Government of Kenya does not accept the statement made by a Minister of the Kenya Government. Where is the reconciliation? This is outright contradiction. If this Government is a Government of civil servants, let us be told. We have reached a stage, in Kenya, whereby we can no longer—I mean there is so much inconsistency, there is so much contradiction, there is so much irreconciliation in everything that some of us doubt as to where we are heading to or whether the path we are following is the right one.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, many times have we been told about Ministers, Members of Parliament and Assistant Ministers being ridiculed by provincial commissioners, by district commissioners and by district officers. This is, for example, why I say, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that they are there at the pleasure of the head of this Government which happens to be a political Government. Some of us do not know, but we are trying to take time to know what is really going on behind the doors—I for one, Sir, speaking honestly, because it is only here where I can speak sincerely because I am immune, some of us think that these people have the backing of the President. How can the provincial commissioner in Embu—this man who is renowned for ridiculing politicians in Embu—ridicule a Minister a Member of this House, or an Assistant Minister when he does not have the backing of the President let us be told. I beg the President tells us in many words whether civil servants, who ridicule the rulers of this country—because this is a political government—have his own backing.

Sir, at least 20 Kenya citizens died on account of the drought in Wajir District alone. When I appealed to the Speaker, of this hon. House to recall Parliament immediately to discuss this great issue the same man, Mr. Mathenge, in the President's Office went to the Press and said that nothing had happened. When he was saying that, Sir, he was hundreds of miles away from Wajir; as a matter of fact Wajir is 610 miles away from Nairobi. He had the audacity to sit behind his desk—which is very comfortable compared to the dry land where the drought victims are dying—and telephoned to the Daily Nation, the East African Standard and Kenya News Agency and said that the Kenya Government did not accept the statement I had made. I say and I still maintain that 20 people have died in Wajir, my constituency alone. I have given the names of the people who have died, those of their fathers, those of their mothers and those of the fathers of their mothers to the Press just to be sure that I really was right and so that if the Government wanted to check—Before this man had checked or sent a signal, he just told the Press that the information was not correct.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, disasters come and go and we need to have better ways to deal with them. My opinion is that there should be a Ministry responsible of dealing with all affairs regarding disasters. Now, Sir, the situation is that we have the Ministry of Agriculture dealing with this from one side and that of the Presidents Office dealing with this out of nowhere.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, while on the question of drought, we have been told more than once that Kenya has millions of pounds in reserve saving, but when are these millions of pounds going to help us, which are now in our reserve saving, when Kenya citizens, wananchi wa Kenya, niseme Kiswahili, are dying in Wajir, in Mandera and perhaps in Kitui, because of drought? We must be realistic about things.

The Assistant Minister for Housing (Mr. Bomett): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I arise to thank the President for the exposition of the policy matters of this Government. However, while doing that, I would like to point out a few things which I feel are of great importance to this country.

We are living in a century, which I believe is very difficult in Africa, a transition which we must watch very carefully, if we are to survive. This country will only survive, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if we are fair to the principle that brought us to power, and that is the fight for the common man, a fight for the people who have voted us to come to this Parliament. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I wonder at times because when we say that the Government is the people of this country and on the other hand the machinery of making the decision of day-to-day affairs of the country is being taken away from the people and being entrenched on servants who are employed by the masses. After all, a civil servant is being paid by the people of this country, by my mother, by your father, by your grandmother and by everybody else. The difference between a civil servant and myself is that I am an elected representative of the people. I have come with the mandate of the people and what we demand in this country is a complete reshuffle or a revitalization of the machine of the people which is Kanu. When we say these things, every now and then, we are told that Kanu is there, Kanu is strong, Kanu is alive. We know we are Kanu members, I know I am Kanu, but am I satisfied that Kanu is running well? Am I satisfied today that if something happens and a tragedy takes place in this House and these faces here are wiped out by a bomb, that there will be people who will run the country from villages and who are organized? The answer is no. There is not a single committee of Kanu in any sub-branch, which is organized according to the Constitution of this country. There is none. All that we know is that there are a few chairmen here and there, who are strong, who are power-hungry fellows and who want to remain in the seat, as long as the public keeps quiet. That is all.

However, I demand, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that if we are to save this country and make this country progress according to the wishes of the people, and not only a few, we must go back to the villages, have fair elections, based on nothing else but the wishes of the people of a given sub-branch and then go out and organize constituencies.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, what is the use of basing Kanu on district basis when we are told in our Constitution, to base it on constituencies. I wish to say, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that our beloved President, who has taken us from the slavery of the British people, can do us a great service by giving us the report on the reorganization of the party immediately, even next week if possible, so that the country may know how to reorganize Kanu and give the power to the hands of the people.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to touch on something which I consider to be of great importance. I do not want to dwell on the power and the abuse of power by civil servants because I think certain friends of mine have mentioned this. However, I would like to thank the President and the Government for having accepted the question of basing local government on locational basis because that is the lowest base in which the people will say what they want and will spend the money which they collect on tangible projects, on projects that they see and on projects such as schools which they use.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, when talking on the question of schools, I would once again wish to appeal to the Government to think very seriously how to salvage the areas that were forgotten by the Colonial Government. I have said this, in the previous years about the same subject and I will still repeat it. It is wrong for anybody to say that in Nyanza or Central Province or, for that matter, any other district that we developed, because the people are well educated, that everything is sweet. If you do not look after the Turkana people, you will still have it. If you do not look after the Masai people, you will still have it because there will be people who are discontented amongst themselves. It is good to drive big cars in Nairobi — But unless the Turkana people can be able to do the same, it will be difficult. The only way to do it, Mr. Speaker, Sir, instead of talking about compulsory education or free education, let us start it in these areas like Turkana. Let us mobilize the children there. Let us vote the money in this House and have primary education compulsory and free, where we must send the children and say that the children will go to school by force. If we do that, Mr. Speaker, Sir, in ten years time, we will have achieved what the Colonial Government failed to achieve in many years when they were in this country. I also want to appeal to my colleague, the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning to think seriously of establishing compulsory free primary boarding schools in areas which were neglected, which I cannot mention one by one, like the North-Eastern and so forth.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to see that there is a correction urgently of the policy of water in this country. We have seen that the county councils could not have money to run roads, to run education and we have removed those responsibilities from the county councils. As a result of this, and I speak about my constituency, which I know very well, the roads there have improved tremendously; however, the water is still on the hands of the county council. The county councils are told: "You can dig boreholes, you can do this and that" and yet the graduated personal tax has been taken away from the county councils. That is fallacy. We must also take the responsibility of water from the county councils and give it to the Central Government, at least, because this is a very serious matter in this country. There are areas that have no water and the people are suffering quite a lot. They take their cattle about ten or 20 miles away to water. School children go to school without water for washing every day and I want to say that there should be a Ministry charged with water and rural development because this is a very vital issue. If this should go to the Ministry of Works, because, after all, the technicians who work on water are in the Ministry of Works, I think, Mr. Speaker, Sir, whoever plans these things, should see the water department is strengthened so that rural areas, especially areas that depend on pastoral livestock, should be able to take their cattle for water conveniently. These should be the Turkana, North-Eastern Province, Baringo and other areas which are suffering as far as water is concerned.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to end by calling upon our Government to consider the question of take-over of shops, which have been served with quit notices and which were being run by foreigners. The Parliament has passed a law that alien persons should not work in certain areas and because the people use the Government machinery, it is only justice that the shops which have been closed down by the Government, should be advertised so that if there are premises in Nairobi, people from all areas of Kenya will have a chance to apply for them. Otherwise, the trade officers will only distribute these premises to their friends. Therefore, these shops which have been taken from the aliens, should be given to all the people of Kenya and not to certain friends or a certain type of people from certain districts.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Lentaya: Thank you very much Mr. Speaker. I rise up to join up my colleagues who have already spoken on the Presidential Address which was delivered by His Excellency the President. While thanking His Excellency the President for his Speech I would like to comment on some points.

I cannot avoid mentioning the word, "Unity"—among the civil servants and the politicians. I do not see any difference between a politician and a civil servant because we are all working for the people and we are their servants. These people elected us and they also employ us as well as the civil servants. I do not see why we cannot sit down together with the civil servants and like brothers and friends, plan and think of all possible ways in which we can develop our young country. I am surprised as to why we cannot sit down and talk like brothers, plan and think of the ways in which we can develop our country. Most of the people are talking of, "Unity". It seems as if unity is only a glimpse because most of us do not show it in actions because words without actions mean nothing. It is really a wonderful thing to see that civil servants are not agreeing with the politicians; and it seems that they are competing. When a politician tells a civil servant about a report which he has received from his own people and of which he has witnessed—because we as politicians visit the people, and most of the civil servants do not go out to the people but are always seated on their chairs in the offices—he says that it is not right adding, "That is what the politician says!" despite the fact that he does not go out of the office to go and see the difficulty which the people are facing especially in the areas where I come from.

An hon. Member: Where?

Mr. Lentaya: Samburu District if you do not know. It is a vast and dry district where there is no water in most of the places. If you tell the Press people about the area you will see somebody opposing claiming that is not right. This is really surprising! He says so in spite of the fact that he has never gone there and seen what is happening.

If people hear the word “Unity” they like it. However, how are we going to achieve the real unity? God knows!

I cannot help mentioning about education in the areas which were left behind in development by the colonial people. Very many areas were left behind by the colonial people; and they made them like zoos for their own people: to come and take pictures and to come to see how “backward” people look like; how they dress themselves; how they put on beads how they wear skins how they sing and so forth. I cannot fail to speak about these areas. They were then called closed areas for any aspect of development: education and any other development which is worthwhile to be developed in the country. Now it is high time that our Government does something in these areas. It is really high time for our Government, the Government of the people of Kenya and the Government which is led by our brothers, to do something for those areas which were left behind, in development, by the colonial people. How do we expect those areas to develop if we do not give them enough education? If we do not develop water resources in those areas how can we expect them to settle without water and when they have to walk about 40 or 50 miles in order to get water for their own consumption.

To make it worse, Mr. Speaker, Sir, during the colonial times there were some boreholes which were drilled. These boreholes contain thousands and thousands of gallons of water; but they are of no use. They have been covered with plastered cement despite the fact that there is water. In fact, the only things that are lacking are machines which can be used to pump the water for the people to use together with their own animals. However, nobody is caring about this or giving the people education. It is high time the Government of Kenya thought about these backward areas especially with regard to education because nothing can be done without education. What is the use of us telling them to educate their children while there is no help from the Government. These people do not know the meaning of education. They should be told; but who is going to tell them? It is the Government of Kenya, the people who are leading the Government of Kenya who are going to tell these people the meaning of education so that they can cope with the other brothers of Kenya.

In the Kanu Manifesto it is stipulated that those areas will be given the first priority. If you visit those areas now you will wonder. You will ask yourself, “What have those areas achieved during those seven years that our Government has been in power?” It seems as if our Government is only waiting for a long drought like this one and then they bring in little posho—just some bags of posho—and then they say that they are helping those people. The people from those areas say that they wanted to see their Government giving first priority to their areas as is stipulated in the Kanu Manifesto.

An hon. Member: Who said so?

Mr. Lentaya: I think you are one of them, if you are a Kanu member.

An hon. Member: Are you not a Kanu member?

Mr. Lentaya: Yes, I am a Kanu member. Do not interrupt.

There is one thing: I do not think it is a very hard task for the Government to give those areas free education so that they can also share the fruits of independence. I do not think the Government can fail to get money to educate freely the children of those areas which were left behind so that they can share the same fruits which have been achieved since independence.

My last point is about the boreholes I mentioned which have been dug, but there is nobody who is using them. I am appealing to the Minister concerned to seek ways or possibilities of opening those boreholes for the people to use them.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Mwavumo: I stand to support my colleagues who congratulated the President.

To begin with, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will refer to the previous Government in connexion with the shop licences which used to be sold at Sh. 25, but at the moment the citizens are paying Sh. 400. I wonder how Africans are going to come up Mr. Speaker, Sir, in the business world if at all they are being charged very high fees whilst under the previous Government they used to pay only Sh. 25. I feel very strongly that the Ministry of Commerce and Industry should reconsider the raising of the fees. The other point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, which I would like to make is about the development of Mombasa South. We have two ferries; one running on the Likoni side and the other is running on Mtongwe side. There is no development and the ferries are not running smoothly. The Kenya Bus Company is giving poor service. In fact, at night the ferries do not operate. Those people going to work or people who are going to the hospital at night, are unable to do so because the ferries do not operate at night. I call upon the Minister for Works and the Minister for Power and Communication to appeal to the Kenya Bus Company to allow the ferries to operate at night.

The other point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, which I would like to make is about labourers. Labourers in this country have contributed much; they have contributed in building maternity hospitals; and labourers have contributed in building clinics. However, the Minister of Labour has done nothing for the workers of this country. There is nothing actually, Mr. Speaker, Sir, which has been done so that the workers of this country can enjoy themselves. In return whenever the workers of this country want their rights and they want to use their weapon—the strike—the Ministry of Labour comes out to say that the strike is illegal. It is only when you see the Ministry of Labour coming out to declare that such strikes are illegal—If at all we are going to treat workers in this manner, Mr. Speaker, the country will have no stability because we are depending on workers. Workers do pay graduated personal tax; and workers are contributing towards development projects in this country, and I feel the time has come when the Ministry of Labour considered seriously this point.

The other point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to make very clear is about paying graduated personal tax. Every month people are being asked to pay graduated personal tax, but if the assessment committee has assessed that I should say, pay Sh. 600, why should I not pay that sum in two instalments so that I can be able to raise the sum in seven months time. There is no point for us paying every month Sh. 50 and the other Sh. 50. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we really need a rest from this problem. We should pay the sum in two or three instalments so that we have a rest, but we cannot go on paying this sum every month. Workers are very tired of this. If at all I am supposed to pay Sh. 200, let me pay Sh. 100 this month and in the next month the other Sh. 100 so that in the remaining period I can be able to do other things.

The other point, Mr. Speaker, I would like to make is about the National Social Security Fund. These contributions to the National Social Security Fund, Mr. Speaker, have proved to be hopeless. This is because people have been contributing and at the end they do not get their share. Some have resigned and died without having been paid what was due to them. If at all you want to see the records, you cannot get them. If the situation is to go on like this the workers are going to get tired of this and we will have to find other ways of helping the workers but not through the National Social Security Fund. This is because I have heard of very many cases whereby workers have appealed to the Ministry to be given their refunds back, but up to this moment they have not been paid what is due to them.

The other point, Mr. Speaker, I would like to raise is connected with the Ministry of Labour. In my area there have been very many cases of wrongful dismissal, and I refer this, particularly, in connexion with the African Marine Company. The African Marine Company is dismissing people wrongfully. If at all I refer such cases to the Ministry of Labour the Ministry does not act promptly. The Labour Officers do not check to find out the truth in the matter. Africans working in that company are paid less in comparison with the Asians, even if they are doing the same job. An Asian is paid more than an African. I appeal to the Minister to investigate these cases. In the same company Asians have been given work permits or have extended their permits' time so that there are posts for these people. Therefore, I appeal to the Ministry to contact this company so that it stops creating unnecessary posts for non-citizens.

The other point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to mention is about drought in the entire Kenya. At the moment we have a big famine in our country and I appeal to this hon. House to set aside a certain amount of money which can be used to help our brothers who are dying in the North-Eastern Province. There is no point for hon. Members to continue sitting here and having nice meals in Parliament Buildings and having a nice time drinking whiskies forgetting that we have brothers who are dying. This morning we had a Parliamentary Group Meeting and no one dared to ask the President to do something about our brothers. We just kept quiet, and we continue to sit in this House just shouting. We are not serious about this situation. It has been stated clearly by the hon. Khalif when he said that 20 people from his area have died and we just laughed when we heard that. This is a very serious situation and I feel the Government should do something about it. We, the hon. Members, should set an example by donating something to remedy the problem brought by drought into this country.

The other point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is about school-leavers. The country is facing a very serious situation. Every year we have between 170,000 to 200,000 students coming out of school. All those who have no fathers or a member of their family who happens to be big and influential do not usually get employed. As a result of this a large number is not employed, and they are just left to float about in the country; they just roam about the streets. I feel the time has come when this House found a solution of helping these unfortunate children. Mr. Speaker, Sir, time will come when the number will become bigger and we shall not have anything to tell them. It will be shameful to this country having so many people who are unemployed or so many children roaming the streets just begging. It will be a very big shame to this country.

The other point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to raise is about tourism. Tourism, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is just bringing in nothing into this country. I would support the hon. Shikuku for saying that these people are bringing nothing into this country. As a result some of them are even abusing the President. They are going on doing so many evil things in this country. Some of them even bring diseases. If at all we could stop these people from coming into this country, it would be better, because they are hopeless. In fact, they pay everything while they are in their country. What we have is only Sh. 5 which is paid at the gate. The Kenya Government is just getting about Sh. 5 from one person. That is all. The whole sum of money is left back at home. Therefore, in return we do not get anything. However, instead we get these stupid people coming into this country bringing in all sort of temptations into this country.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the other point I would like to speak on is the Uganda Government. The Uganda Government, Mr. Speaker—

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Makone): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Member substantiate what he is alleging that the tourists bring disease because he is not qualified and he is not a doctor himself?

I hope there are some regulations before you enter a country.

Mr. Mwavumo: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak about the Uganda Government. The Uganda Government—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Your time is up, Mr. Mwavumo.

Mrs. Onyango, have you spoken?

Mrs. Onyango: Yes.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): All right. Mr. Makone.

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Makone): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to join my colleagues in the sentiments they are expressing here regarding the statement of policy by His Excellency the President of the Republic.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not want to go very far before I refer back to what my hon. friend has just said that the tourists from any country bring diseases into this country. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we do not want to be unreasonable and we do not want to allege criticisms where criticisms do not hold any water. I am sure my friend, the hon. Shikuku, knows the regulations governing entry of any person coming from any part of the world. For example, one has to satisfy the health authorities that he is medically fit and does not carry any contagious disease with him: as the hon. Member alleges. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is an unfortunate allegation and we would like it to be given the least coverage by the Press because such statements might harm our international trade. I am sure, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that we are earning a lot of money from the international trade and we would like to protect it.

Now, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to take this opportunity to say one or two things— And, incidentally, the hon. lady, has gone out and I wanted her to listen to this point. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to take this opportunity to warn the foreign and even the local manufacturers who use the cinema screens to embark or attempt to discredit the African colour against the other colours. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have time and again been very much angered seeing these foreigners using the media of cinemas to wage war on the African black colour by imputing that this colour is in some way inferior to others. Mr. Speaker, Sir, what I am trying to bring home is that from time to time you see on the cinema the advertisement “Kuwa Mwafrika wa Kisasa”; and by “kuwa Mwafrika wa kisasa” it means to apply the cosmetics of Ambi. That is, if you are light-looking, unlike Mr. Shikuku, and that means that you are not Mwafrika wa kisasa, you apply Ambi. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to take this opportunity as the Assistant Minister, in charge of this media, although I do not take the complete responsibility of this media and warn the foreign and local manufacturers that if this is what these foreign manufacturers are showing our people that by being Mwafrika wa kisasa is to apply Ambi, then, I call upon the Government to make it very clear that our colour is black and we are proud of it. Therefore, there should be no person who tries to show that one must be Mwafrika wa kisasa by becoming light-skinned.

Hon. Members: Ban them! Ban it!

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Makone): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I give this warning because Ambi is a notorious example of immoral exercises. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we know that we are black-skinned and I challenge the "Maendeleo ya Wanawake" and any ladies in this House that they must come out and make themselves understood that we would like to see their African look as it naturally is and not with coloured sort of lips and different kind of noses; eyes which look funny—like those of monkeys.

An hon. Member: And wigs!

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Makone): Mr. Speaker, Sir, we want to see them as they are! I, therefore, warn the foreign advertisers and the local advertisers that if they continue doing this sort of thing because we do not mind if anybody buys Ambi like a cigarette from a shop but, to wage psychological thinking into the minds of our people; that your colour is not what you are but the best thing is to apply Ambi. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that I would not be out of order if I said that the Government must come out to ban this immediately.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, one other thing I would like to say is about the regulations governing the civil servants as we know that our contract here is five years, and no more. Mr. Speaker, the civil servants, it is my thinking that the civil servants should be transferred anywhere in the Republic. I call upon the Government, Mr. Speaker, that the general public, and I am now advising the Government which I am part of, is beginning to think whether the provincial commissioners are kept permanently in each province. Mr. Speaker, for reasons such as the monotony of the area, and hatred of some people might prejudice the general exercise of administration and, therefore, we would like, for example, the Nyanza Provincial Commissioner who is a good man should go to Coast and the Coast man should go to Rift Valley and the Rift Valley man taken to somewhere else. What I mean in general terms is that we should like to have our provincial commissioners to serve in each province for a specified number of years or time and then be transferred to somewhere else accordingly. Now, they are becoming little kings in their own places.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the other thing which I would like to be considered in this House is that I would not like to see the provincial commissioner arguing with a Minister because a Minister is above the provincial commissioner. In my view, a Minister is above the provincial commissioner because it is the Minister who employs the provincial commissioner and the Minister who employs the provincial commissioners is already here and, therefore, he is above the provincial commissioners. He is definitely above the provincial commissioners and he knows this and, therefore, his colleagues, too, are above the provincial commissioners. They must understand this, too.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like the hon. Members and the Cabinet Members to have priority in its working. Mr. Speaker, Sir, any Government, like ours, must have certain definite priorities in its working. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the question of unemployment must be taken seriously. Mr. Speaker, Sir, seriously, in the sense that our educational system must be geared to eradicate unemployment. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are wasting a lot of good brains, clever chaps, because our educational system does not serve our interests now. We are following the kind of educational system which was there before, a colonial one, and it is high time, Sir, we placed unemployment at the top of our list, so that we can examine all other Ministries, to alleviate this situation. Mr. Speaker, this Chamber in which we are, this beautiful Chamber, was put up by other people in the city community—Asians—people who have never been educated, Sir; people who never even went to school apart from knowing their names. Mr. Speaker, just look at this building; it was put up by those people, and the amount of money we paid for this was fantastic, a colossal amount of money, which we paid for this Parliament.

Now, if our educational system was geared in a better way and you gave us this opportunity, we can train our chaps to do the jobs being done by the Asians in the country.

I beg to support.

Mr. Mbori: Mr. Speaker, Sir, thank you very much for having given me the chance to accord my thanks to His Excellency the President for his Speech, which was on the wide policy of this life of the Parliament.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to point out the three things that will bring peace in this country, that is: the position of the Public Service Commission, the distribution of wealth of this country among all Kenyans and the general attitude towards one another.

I would like to dwell a little on the Public Service Commission. The Public Service Commission was established under a Parliamentary Act, and it was meant to deal with appointments and promotions of civil servants, whether junior or otherwise, and of course, including the dismissal of such staff. Now, unfortunately, there has been instituted a body within the Public Service Commission, called the Central Posting Committee. Now, what purpose is this body serving? What is it serving; who is it serving; why is it being established without an Act of Parliament? It is this particular Central Government Posting Committee which brings confusion in the Public Service Commission, which eventually ends up in tribalism. Who heads the Central Posting Committee? There are particular characters in the Central Government Posting Committee who have interests to display, and instead of the Public Service Commission doing the work of appointments, promotions or dismissals, the Central Government Posting Committee, headed by, I think, the Director of Personnel, this body now uses the power of the Public Service Commission. Why should these two bodies really do the same job, and why should one be stronger than the other, when actually the Central Government Posting Committee is not a legally instituted body?

I call upon the Government to abolish this one. I am interested to see the Minister— I think the Minister of State in the President's Office is here. He should make note that I charge, right now, that the Central Posting Committee should be abolished with immediate effect, if we want unity, because this particular body brings about confusion; this particular body is the central root of tribalism. Of course, we are not the only country in Africa with tribes. We should be proud that we have tribes scattered all over Kenya; we should be proud that these tribes compose Kenya, and we should be proud that these tribes should serve Kenya. However, the services they should render to Kenya should be evenly distributed, and that the same services that the Government gives to them should be evenly distributed to them, regardless of ethnic origin because in Kenya, what matters is where you come from. If you happen to come from a particular place, which the Government is not in favour of, you will find that you are never given consideration on your merits. The usual merit is if you happen to come from Central Province. This particular merit comes from Central Province. Now, which God of justice made it that it is only people from Central Province that will have the merits, and the other places will have demerits? Where is it written in the book of law, that we can find this, and where is it written in the book of life that we should find this sort of thing?

Now, this should be abolished immediately and we should then talk of Kenya as a body. Kenya has— —

Mr. Mwicigi: On a point of order, Sir. Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the present speaker not trying to propagate tribalism by pretending that he is condemning it; he keeps on repeating attacks on Central Province; why is he doing it— Could he substantiate?

Mr. Mbori: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will, in short, do that right now. In the region of Ministries, let us find out how many Ministers have come from Central Province: they run between six and seven, out of 22 Ministers: Mr. Speaker, Sir, out of the 22 Permanent Secretaries, nine come from Central Province. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to go on, and point out that right now, of the provincial commissioners, four or five out of seven come from Central Province. Now, is this not, out of my friend's position, is this not encouraging tribalism? I am not being a tribalist; all I am trying to point out is that we should look at Kenya as a prey which has fallen to be distributed evenly among the daughters and sons of Kenya, all over the country. This is what I am trying to say: I am not trying to quarrel with anybody. I am not calling anybody a tribalist; I am merely pointing out that this is an existing situation, and this situation, we would like to eradicate for the benefit of the whole country, and for the benefit particularly, of the common men who elected us, to this Floor, and who require careful, justified service, without consideration of ethnic origin, geographical origin or religious affinity: this one should be looked into, Mr. Speaker.

Now, to go on, Mr. Speaker, I would like to point out that when we have an educational system, centrally situated in Nairobi— Mr. Speaker, I have been a teacher for over 15 years, and I would like to point out that when the educational system is centrally situated in Nairobi, you may have an officer, well qualified to run this, but he would naturally have an interest in the place he has come from. When it comes to the distribution of pupils into Forms I, V, university and training colleges, very definitely, his interest would be displayed. This has been displayed in Kenya, and I would like to appeal to the Ministries particularly the Ministry of Education, that instead of doing this sort of thing, the services should be spread out in such a manner that the provinces, the headquarters of the provinces, serve their own areas, where we have educational representatives, particularly senior education officers instead of one particular place doing things for the whole country, which is too vast for it already. In some cases, the services of education, for example, placing of pupils into Forms I, V, university and training colleges, are now computerized. Now, what is the use of the heads of schools; what is the use of training colleges having principals? Why do we have them in those places; why do we not give them a chance to exercise their educational knowledge; why do we not give them a chance to exercise their academic achievements and why do we not give them a chance to exercise their responsibility, for which they have been appointed in those schools, Mr. Speaker? It is wrong, no doubt.

Why computerize, for example, the intake of pupils into Form I? Why should we not give the heads of schools— Incidentally, I should like to be parochial a bit, South Nyanza in this particular case, Sir, is very disadvantageously placed. You find they have nobody who serves in Nairobi, you find nobody from there who serves in the Teachers' Service Commission, you find that there is nobody who serves them at Kisumu, and as a result, my hon. Member for Kuria has pointed out that we have nobody to whom we can go for help. How are they going to remain like this? If you want that to come to me and if you want me to do it for you, surely it is a question of give and take. We have to get a gentleman's compromise, of give and take. It is only fair that we should compromise and especially when I consider that you and I are tax-payers.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would also like to point out another thing on the question of tourism and on this one the western Kenya and Nyanza have been very badly served. I hope the Minister for Tourism and Wildlife will see it fit to place tourist centres in western Kenya. Above all, Mr. Speaker, Sir, let us look at State visits into Kenya. Visitors all the time tend to go to particular places. In certain parts of Kenya the State visitors are never taken there. Mr. Speaker, this is really indicating that Kenya is divided into two; one part is favoured and the other part is not. This sort of thing does not bring any unity and does not help us at all.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to appeal to the Minister for Agriculture—

An hon. Member: He is not here.

Mr. Mbori: If he is not here I think at least there is a Minister who will take note.

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): I am here.

Mr. Mbori: Thank you very much, Sir.

— To supply water especially in the rural areas. For instance, Oyugis, is where I come from.

The area is quickly developing institutionally, I mean schools and such like organizations—the area is quickly developing businesswise and in the absence of water the people who live in this area will suffer very much. Therefore, I appeal to the Minister for Agriculture to supply us with immediate effect a water system as good as can be found in Mombasa or Kisumu.

Finally, the Minister for Power and Communications, should remember that these days when you have no telephone or—

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): I am here.

Mr. Mbori: Oh! He is here.

My hon. friend, I hope that you will take care that Oyugis area is served with a proper system of postal services, telephones so that the people there are not cut out of Kenya and world affairs.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support the Presidential Address.

Mr. Lotodo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, thank you very much for giving me this chance.

While appreciating what the President said on the 23rd of last month, I would like to start with school fees. Mr. Speaker, Sir, school fees has become a very heavy burden on the parents. Last year in some county councils, school children attending primary, were paying less than Sh. 50. However, this year, they are supposed to pay Sh. 72. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is very ridiculous because Kanu, in its Manifesto, said that school fees were to be waived. Instead the fees are going up and up. Now, the question we meet, the question that is put to us when we go home is, "Was that just a mere way of having votes or what?"

I think the Minister for Education should at least do something so that fees are either reduced or got rid of completely. The Minister for Education is the one who is giving us a lot of trouble.

An hon. Member: Who is giving you trouble?

Mr. Lotodo: Mr. Kibaki.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the President himself announced last year that those who were paying Sh. 24 for graduated personal tax would no longer pay. But now they are paying from Sh. 48 and over. Again it was last year when the "three big ones" were appointed and I think these were, Mr. Koinange, Mr. arap Moi and Mr. Kibaki to look into this but nothing materialized. I do not know where we are heading to.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, going to a place which is called Kara Pokot, we call it "Kenya Mpya". This was under the Uganda administration until July, last year. This "territory" is a semi-desert, just more or less like Turkana. It has seven schools which were boarding, when the Uganda administration was running it. But as soon as Kenya Government took it over these boarding schools were closed. The children who were in these schools had to go back to Uganda. Everybody moved from there to Uganda. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know whether we want land or people. Sir, I happened to go there some time in December about two months ago. The administrator assigned to that area called Mr. Kambukie told me that I had no licence to go to the place which geographically speaking is in Turkana District, and the Member who is supposed to represent that area is me. I do not know how an hon. Member can represent an area, partly in one district and partly in another district.

[Mr. Lotodo]

Now, Mr. Speaker, there are also boreholes in the same territory all of which have ceased functioning. There is a man at Nakuru who is supposed to maintain these boreholes. I have called upon this man several times, but he does not want to do this. I have reported this to the Minister concerned. Mr. Wanjigi, who, of course, has taken the same trouble to tell this Nakuru man to go there and work on the boreholes, but the man does not want to go. I do not know what to do then. They are supposed to do these things but they do not want to do them and therefore, I do not know what to do. I think Government should either return this territory to Uganda or do what the people want because the people have no water, they have no schools, they have nothing! Mr. Speaker—

An hon. Member: What do you call this area?

Mr. Lotodo: It is called Kara Pokot. Another point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is about provincial administration. You have heard a great deal from the previous speakers and I think the hon. Minister who is in charge of provincial administration and who is here should take this case seriously. These people do not take action when they are told something is wrong somewhere, neither are they ready to listen. Mr. Speaker, it was during our recess when the hon. Khalif appealed to the Speaker to call Parliament back and somebody refuted that the situation is under control. I wonder whether the hon. Khalif was merely claiming that his people had died when nobody had died at all. Mr. Speaker, I think the hon. Minister in charge of provincial administration should make the district commissioners stay in one station for about a year only and then after that change stations. I know of a district commissioner who has been in one station since 1965. This is too long for a district commissioner to be in one station. He is not working now. He does not do administration work but only trades, building a very big building and going to Kitale all the time. This is very serious.

An hon. Member: Who is he?

Mr. Lotodo: He is Mr. Dash-Dash. I think the Minister knows him.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to appeal to the Minister for Education—

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): I am here.

Mr. Lotodo: Yes, I know you are there. Kara Pokot is a new place to us and as such he should put in more effort to see that the schools in that area function properly. The district commissioner there and the District education officer in West Pokot who is in charge of the area have written a report to the provincial education officer at Nakuru who is very stubborn and does not want to do anything about it.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

HOUSING FOR RESIDENTS OF PARKLANDS
CONSTITUENCY

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Will a Minister please move that the House do now adjourn. Mr. Kivuitu is going to raise a matter of a question which was not replied satisfactorily.

The Minister for Housing (Mr. Ngei): Mr. Speaker, I beg to move that the House do now adjourn.

The Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Koinange) seconded.

(Question proposed)

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, I beg to move a Motion for the Adjournment on a reply which was given by the Minister for Housing to a question which I asked the other day and which appeared on the Order Paper. This was in regard to the housing problems in Parklands.

My Seconder will be hon. Karungaru and if there were a third, hon. Araru is there.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Ministry of Housing along with the Local Government—and since they are collectively responsible I do not differentiate between the two—have, I do not know whether deliberately but I intend to establish that it is by deliberate planning, left out the ordinary citizens of this country who live in Parklands with regard to their housing—problems. These problems are the fact that a servant in Parklands is supposed to be housed by his employer. His employer, according to a City Council by-law, is supposed to provide one room for his servant. As a result, because no employer in that area—because it is supposed to be the area for the wealthy—would be having one servant, they would normally have more than two servants. The consequence is that that particular room is supposed to be shared by two servants. Most of them are married and so you would expect to find two servants with two wives there. What privacy is there? These people are supposed to be indigenous citizens of this country. How are they going to get children if they live in such circumstances?

That is, really, the problem which is there. I notice that—

An hon. Member: Are you married?

Mr. Kivuitu: I am more married than you yourself.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the next problem is that the reason why this Ministry has not provided these houses has never been clear. However, one of the problems which has been raised is that there is no Government land in that area. It is only in the Official Gazette dated 28th February 1971 where it is advertised that certain plots will be sold, in Parklands, to private individuals to build their own houses. They are getting these plots at the highest price of about Sh. 9,000. Why cannot the Ministry of Housing, through its corporations buy these plots and establish an estate there for these poor people so that they can live there? Why should these plots be sold while we know that they will be bought by those people who are rich? Why are they being advertised so that they may be bought by the rich people? Why cannot they provide houses for the ordinary person who is living there?

These people are supposed to be living in Embakasi, Kibera and Pumwani while their bwana mkubwa some of them who are rich people, some of them are, probably, Ministers and Assistant Ministers, expect them to be on duty at seven o'clock so that they can prepare their coffee, their tea and their heavy breakfast before they come to do their duties. How are these people supposed to come from Embakasi and arrive at their employers before Seven o'clock and prepare their fat breakfast? They are supposed to work until nine o'clock in the night. How are they supposed to travel from there at nine o'clock and go to Makadara? Do they have their own cars?

This is the problem. You have land there but you cannot build an estate for the people.

In 1970, on the 22nd of June, I wrote to the Minister for Housing giving him my proposals for dealing with this problem. I said that one of the methods the Ministry could use was to insist, and have a law passed by this great Parliament of our country, that every person who builds residential houses there must make sure that he provides adequate facilities for the servant, by having two rooms. The building plan has to be approved by the City Council and the Ministry. I noted recently the Minister issued a statement that he is also going to approve them. In the building plan, there should be included a proviso that there must be adequate quarters for the servants.

However, the Ministry, after this long period, since the 22nd June, has never even had the courtesy to reply to my letter. I do not know whether I am supposed to go and kiss the Minister or somebody so that I may get these things for my people or what I am to do.

Mr. Speaker, these are problems which are obvious. While the Ministry is not building anything there for these people, they have estates in Kibera, Pumwani, Embakasi and all over. The reason why they have estates in those areas is because they are supposed to be areas for the poor and they want to reserve Parklands for the rich people. Why should we have this in a socialist country if we claim this is a socialist country? Why should we have that area provided exclusively for the people who are rich? The reason why they do not want these people, probably, is because they think they are carrying bugs with them and they think that if they live there they will spread mice and rats and everything else around there.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, these are problems which one day the Ministry will regret if they do not improve them now and this is the time. Instead of improving them they rushed about and kicked about the shanty dwellers as if they have somewhere else to live.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, my reason for raising this matter is first because the Ministry has never reacted to my letter which I wrote to them on 22nd June 1970. Secondly, Mr. Speaker, is because when they come to reply to questions here they just reply as if they think that we are living in their own country and as if we are not living in the country of the wananchi. They are no more wananchi than others.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I beg to Move and Mr. Karungaru is seconding it.

Mr. Karungaru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are now discussing a very sensitive problem in that, Mr. Speaker, we have already come to know that our own Minister who has been known in this country as a very famous Minister— There was a time when we used to call him Bwana Mashamba and now he is losing his title because he has hopelessly failed to take care of the people who were singing for him. These are the same people who after having sung hallelujah to our Minister, will change the chorus and they will sing another song which will be for his downfall. Mr. Speaker, Sir, when we face the truth we are told that "these people are controversial this way or the other". We are never controversial but we are being provoked by the people who are supposed to take care of wananchi when we advised them. Surely, nobody can fail to know that from Parklands to Eastlands is a distance of more than six miles. Surely, you cannot expect a person whose salary is—call it wage—whose wage is below Sh. 200 per month to leave Makadara or leave Maringo by bus everyday, and I am sure they are not provided with bus fares from Parklands to and fro to make it a double journey. This is completely a thing which we cannot excuse the Minister in charge of Housing for.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are told that there is no land in Parklands. Where did those people who are now living there get land from? Did they come with land? When they landed in this country, did they also land with land? The answer is "No", with capital letters. Now, to make the matter worse the Minister who is well familiar with the usual problems of accommodation in Nairobi and who pretty well knows the problem which is now facing the country goes on to say that we are going to demolish all the slums because of the tourists. After all, who are the tourists? Did they vote for us? Did they, Mr. Speaker? If they did not, then I fail to see the logical argument the Minister has.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is what we call a sewage treatment plant at Kariobangi. People who are living at Outer Ring Road Estate—perhaps that is the reason why people cannot get a place for houses in Parklands—today they cannot eat their dinner because the place smells like what I do not know. Water treatment which is not covered is near them and at night, surely they cannot sleep unless they cover the whole body and probably even mouth. This could be one of the reasons why a plot or an area cannot be allocated for African houses in Parklands where foreigners are living—including black capitalists.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are now beginning to see that our people can fail to provide services for our own people and that they can very much take care of the foreigners. This is a great shame on our side if this is the case and this is a challenge. Mr. Speaker, Sir, how is it that it is only the Africans who are the victims of everything. Africans are the victims of accommodation, Africans are victims of employment, Africans are victims of business; Africans are victims of almost everything. Did they wrong God, Mr. Speaker, Sir? That is the question. That is why even foreigners are telling them to apply Ambi chemicals on their skins so that they may look more white and be considered by God. Perhaps God made a mistake, Mr. Speaker. This is the question, Mr. Speaker. Surely, when we speak the truth we are told that we are controversial; controversial in what sense? One day the same people will say, "Now gentlemen, we are getting tired because our case cannot be given any hearing." Now, we are telling the Minister for Housing to adjust his own position because we know him as a famous politician and a good man. But, gentleman, do not cover the gun of those people who would like your name to disappear by saying, "Well, the Minister for Housing cannot provide houses for our indigenous people." Instead, now you hear that the plots are being sold. Those plots are more likely going to be bought by non-citizens. This is more likely Mr. Speaker. If they are not going to be bought by non-citizens, they will be bought by black Africans who are also taking the positions of the foreigners who have been milking this country. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not wish to quarrel with the Minister whom I respect very highly but I have been charged with a responsibility and if I do not quarrel with this Minister while on the Floor of the House, then it is very likely that my constituents will come out and say, "We gave you the mandate to go and argue our cases. What have you done?" They will further ask me, "Did you really argue our cases?" That is why I want to argue their cases so that if the Minister does not give consideration to our views, then one day he will be on the carpet, not the Member for Embakasi.

Since I would like to give other Members an opportunity to contribute to this debate I will stop here. With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I hope the Minister will take note of what we have said and look into the matter.

The Minister for Housing (Mr. Ngei): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to say that the Motion by the Member for Parklands which arose as a result of a reply by my Assistant Minister is in order. I have no quarrel with that at all. He intends to see that the people he represents get a fair deal as far as housing is concerned. I wish the hon. Member for Parklands could take the line problem he came to see me. Actually he came to see me today and I told him to come and see me tomorrow in the company of his elders. This is a very simple question.

We do not have to talk about tourists, which I never spoke about. I spoke about cleanliness which is very important and which the hon. Members of this House want to see done as far as housing is concerned. The hon. Member for Embakasi has just been talking about smells. He knows only too well that in 1969 I was trying to move that village from the vicinity of the treatment works but it was the councillors—one or several of his colleagues in the City Council—who refused that this should be done. They said once the people stayed there for a week they got used to the smells. In other words the smell became like scent, like marashi.

Therefore, it is very difficult to decide what to do. One has good intentions to do something in 1971 and he is denied the right to do so, he is denied the right to proceed, and then in 1975 an hon. Member who was a councillor happens to become a Member of Parliament and shouts about the very same thing I could not do in 1971. However, I have no quarrel right now, I am only waiting to see what the hon. Member for Embakasi will say when 5,000 units will go up in his constituency in the very near future. In a few months' time he is going to have 5,000 units of well designed houses in his constituency and I will then wait and watch to see what his reactions will be at that time.

Coming back to the hon. Member for Parklands, the hon. Kivuitu. I would like to think that perhaps he did not understand the intention of the Assistant Minister who gave the reply. However, there are two fundamental facts that the hon. Kivuitu must understand, especially since he is a lawyer. The first one is part and parcel of cherishing Kenya's Constitution, where private property is respected. He is also very well versed with the Rent Act which says that if anybody who is residing in a dwelling house has the following conditions to complain about, then he should file a notice of complaint with the Rent Tribunal. I do not want to say anything but I am surprised that a lawyer should really have overlooked such a simple matter as this one.

Mr. Kivuitu: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, I think the Minister is getting out of the relevant issue and I would like your guidance in this since there is nothing about landlord/tenant relations in this matter.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is only a question of building houses, really, Mr. Ngei.

The Minister for Housing (Mr. Ngei): Mr. Speaker, I think I am right because the hon. Member raised the question of two people staying in a one-bedroom house and he said that if such position arises, then he can complain to the Minister. This is what I am referring to. I think I am right.

Mr. Kivuitu: No, you are not.

The Minister for Housing (Mr. Ngei): Mr. Speaker, if the hon. Member who is supposed to be the right voice of his people could go to his constituents and say, "Well, if somebody tells you that two families should live in one room, come and report to me and I will take the matter up", things will be done swiftly because that is provided for in the law.

On the question of putting up houses, we have a problem. The hon. Member quoted from a gazette which sells plots. It may be one from the Ministry of Lands, I do not know. Why did the Member not go to the Minister and say, "Mr. Minister, I have this land which is being advertised. Can I not have it for my people so that I can see that houses are built for them?" That will be easy because the answer will most probably be, "Yes". I cannot in the modern, architectural standards start putting up those little roofed houses they have in England for servants. I cannot do that because that is not right. There must be provision for primary schools, for nurseries, for playgrounds, for beautiful trees in the estates that are being developed today. Of course, he cannot have everything in the way he wants it done as for his house, the new house which perhaps he is thinking about. I will not mention where this house is to be because he knows where it is. Therefore, the boulevards should not really come in. I am wondering why the hon. Member is trying to build a house in a privileged place rather than near his wananchi.
Sir—

Mr. Kivuitu: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, the Minister is trying to run away from the Motion. He is just keeping on talking of things which have no relevance to this matter. Does he want us to go into his private affairs? We can do so because we have a lot of information there.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Ngei, there is no need for you to introduce irrelevant matters like Mr. Kivuitu's house; that has nothing to do with what we are talking about.

The Minister for Housing (Mr. Ngei): Mr. Speaker, I adhere to your ruling. I want to be a gentleman Minister and I want the hon. Member also to be a gentleman lawyer as he is supposed to be.

Coming back to his Motion, I have no quarrel with it at all. All I can say is that the Government and the Ministry will do everything possible to see that he acquires land as near to Parklands as possible. However, at the moment we cannot do that because the property rights have to be defended. Everyone has his own individual plot and I cannot go and build houses there.

If the hon. Member will remember, I made a statement that I was very much concerned for the people who were on the lower-wage group, working at Kenyatta Hospital and having to travel all the way to Eastlands, paying at least Sh. 2 per day when their salaries were very low indeed. I said I was going to start a scheme near the Kenyatta Hospital for these people so that they could live there. Government was very much concerned about those people who had very little money to spend on travelling right up to Eastlands. That is why now there are estates in Langata, Kibera near the golf course where I have taken some part of the golf course to build houses. I am going to build houses on the land that I have cut off from the golf course. You have seen the mushrooming of houses for the wananchi in the lower-wage group, who have to travel all the way down to Eastlands at the end of their day's work, paying Sh. 2. Yet the richer people like the hon. Kivuitu—unless he can prove he is poor—live in Muthaiga and pay only 10 cents when they derive all the benefit.

Sir, the matter is under control and I can assure the hon. Member that I share his sentiments, that we should really cater for the wananchi who are less fortunate. However, circumstances being what they are in Parklands, it is impossible for me to encroach on private land and start putting up houses just like that.

There is also another scheme scheduled for Parklands. I can assure the hon. Member that I will take this matter seriously and see whether I can get some land around Parklands, but not inside Parklands to put up some decent houses there for the wananchi.

I am very grateful for the remarks which have been made by the hon. Karungaru and I would like to assure the House that we shall give service where it is needed. We serve not for the sake of name but for the sake of providing a service to our brothers and sisters, the wananchi. Very soon the Government will be putting up a lot of projects which are being processed at the moment. As the hon. Karungaru knows—he is nodding his head which means, I suppose, that he does know—we are really dealing in major housing programmes which will come out very soon.

I would like to assure the House that the Government will not tolerate any haphazard building and we must see that the wananchi get a fair deal.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I assure the House that I will do my best to live up to the expectations of the hon. Member for Parklands.

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, the question as stated by the Mover of this Motion is very clear. We know what the people of Parklands need. If the question was replied to in the way it was by the Assistant Minister—as we have just been informed by the Minister—perhaps it was not very satisfactory. So it is easy matter for us to accept that the Minister will put up some houses in Parklands.

We are representatives of the people of this country. If every hon. Member brought his difficulties to this House and these were not heeded by our Ministers—people who have been elected—then what would be the use of the whole thing? The Minister knows what he does for his own constituency after he has been approached by his people. I know he has done several things in Kangundo. He does these things for the people who have asked for them as he is the Member of Parliament for that area.

We do not want to challenge other people and discriminate. Those people in this country who ruled us by force did this. They built houses for our people in the African locations, down in Doonholm Road. Up to now the majority of our people live there. We are now independent. Many of our people stay down there although a few stay in Kilimani area. Those few have come from the other areas, they have left those areas and come to these better places. I was in Kariobangi and I could see people coming out of their houses at about three o'clock at night because they had to start for work then. If any hon. Member comes to that area at two o'clock—in this African location—he will see human beings travelling at that time. Some go by bicycle and others walk. In some cases they use the Mataiu cars. These people are travelling at three o'clock when some of us are having a good sleep. This is a serious case, Sir.

The Government knows clearly that there are no houses in Nairobi, even shanties which are put up by the poor people are pulled down as soon as they go up. The poor people have to walk great distances while the rich do not. Yet the rich people cannot provide houses for the poor.

[Mr. Araru]

I heard the Minister ask the Mover why he did not take the matter to the Tribunal. It is not a question of the Rent Tribunal, it is a question of providing houses for the poor people. It is for the City Council and the Ministry of Housing to put up houses for the people so that all the employees can live in houses which are comprised of two rooms, a kitchen, a bathroom, a toilet. This will be a good idea. That is far better than asking the Members to come and see the Minister in his office.

Mr. Speaker, this is a serious case, particularly in regard to the City of Nairobi. Everywhere the wananchi are struggling because they do not have houses. We are here to give the Ministry of Housing the power to build houses for the wananchi.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I beg to support the Motion.

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 60 (1284)

ESTABLISHMENT OF POLICE STATIONS—MUTITO AND ENDAU

Mr. Kitonga asked the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs if he would tell the House what action the Ministry had taken for the proposed establishment of police stations at Mutito Divisional Centre and Endau border of the Garissa and Galole districts.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Matano): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. It is not correct for the hon. Member to state that there are proposals for establishment of the police stations at Mutito Divisional Centre and Endau border of the Garissa and Galole districts, but it is correct to say that proposals are in existence for the establishment of police posts in the areas in question. However, as the hon. Member may be aware, our action is dictated by the number of much higher priorities there are in the Republic and the funds made available to the Ministry. May I assure the hon. Member that when these proposals rank with other top priorities, immediate action will be taken with a view to seeing their construction work commenced.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, according to the Assistant Minister's reply, I think he did not get the proper reply to my question. Sir, it is well known land has been given at Mutito Divisional Centre—it was given two years ago—for the police station; it was given to the Government. Now, if there were no such proposals that land would not have been given. I would like, Sir, the Assistant Minister and the Government as a whole to know that—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order! If you have no question, will you sit down please?

Mr. Kitonga: If you will excuse me, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will try to shorten my question. Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister tell, or guarantee to the people of Kitui East that the question of security will be looked into since there is no near police station and, as we know, fights occur every now and then between us and the neighbouring tribes? Also, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it has been stated in this hon. House—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order! Mr. Kitonga, will you sit down please? You have already asked your question.

Mr. Kitonga: May I, finish Sir?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, that is sufficient.

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have not denied there is need for a police station in this area; there is a need. However, like everything else, it has to be looked at and compared with other needs in the Republic. This, also, is conditioned by the fact that there is or there is no money to build the police station. However, as I have said, the need is there and we know there is a piece of land there. As soon as we have enough funds, then we shall, certainly go ahead with the building of the police station.

Mr. Amayo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, would he tell the House the qualifications which warrant a particular place to get the top priority?

An hon. Member: Hear! Hear!

Mr. Matano: Well, the conditions are easy to know; one only needs to use common sense. There must be a need, there must be a demand for it, and if we feel that the demand is great enough, compared with other places, and it warrants a police station, then that is the time we build it. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the conditions can be understood through use of sheer common sense.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can we know the distance between the police stations which now exist in Kitui and Garissa and Galole districts? Can we know the distances between the nearest police stations in these districts?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not have the figures, but when we make up our minds to build police stations, we do not go to the areas concerned and measure distances. First of all, there must be a demand. If there is a demand for a police station, then a police station is put there. It may be a short distance or a long distance. It all depends on whether there is a need for a police station.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from what the Assistant Minister says, that it depends on demand, may we know from him whether when there is a demand for administration, there is no demand for police? That is, Sir, having a district officer somewhere and yet there are no police.

An hon. Member: Tell us why?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are lots and lots of places (Inaudible.)

[The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs]

bomas. For instance, I can recall one or two where a district officer is stationed and yet there is no police station. A police station has a job to do. We do not just build police stations for the sake of building them! There must be a demand and need for a police station. Also the police—

Mr. Kitonga: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Will you sit down, Mr. Kitonga?

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Will you sit down?

Mr. Matano: We all know the work of a policeman. We all know the work of a police station, and unless there is a need—not only that; also money available—for building of a police station, we cannot build one. So there are many conditions which must be taken into account before a police station is built.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply that there must be a demand, can he deny that one of the demands is frequent killings? Therefore, Sir, does Mutito not qualify because there are a lot of murders at the moment? Would he deny this?

Mr. Kitonga: There are many murders!

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to repeat what I said earlier. I said that we know there is a demand there, we also know that land has been set aside for the building of a police station. We realize and accept that fact. Now, what is holding up the building of that police station is the availability of funds.

Question No. 83 (1336)

APPOINTMENT OF KENYA ENVOYS

Mr. Nthenge asked the Minister for Foreign Affairs if he would tell the House—

(a) the special qualifications one must have to be appointed to the top post of a Kenya envoy, such as the High Commission in London; and

(b) why the civil servants are getting political appointments while the outstanding politicians are unemployed.

The Minister for Foreign Affairs (Dr. Mungai): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) The appointment of Kenya envoys overseas, just like the appointment of Ministers and Assistant Ministers of the Government of the Republic of Kenya, is the prerogative of His Excellency the President.

In his considered opinion, I am sure he appoints the people who are loyal, dedicated, competent, hard-working, knowledgeable and able to represent Kenya's interest overseas.

(b) On the second part, the appointments are offered to Kenyans, not necessarily to the politicians or civil servants.

It is my humble submission that the hon. Member should accept that we are all one, and whoever is competent to represent Kenya's interest abroad should be given the opportunity to do so, and the country should be given the opportunity to enjoy the services of such officers.

To divide Kenya's representation abroad between the civil servants and politicians is to deny the country the services that a competent man can give to Kenya.

If there are politicians who are unemployed they should look for jobs. They must not, for one moment, think that becoming ambassadors overseas is necessarily the only way of serving their country when they have failed to serve it in other ways.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the prominent politicians are in this House; and I did not know that there are any prominent and successful politicians who want to become ambassadors overseas. If there are any, Mr. Speaker, let them inform me and we shall do something about it. Otherwise there are other politicians who fail to get into this House and, to my mind, those are not successful or prominent politicians. Those are the politicians who fail and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs is not a depository for failing politicians.

However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, there may be a few politicians who did not enter this House and His Excellency the President thinks broadly about these things; he uses his wisdom and he is quite free to appoint any politician who is not necessarily in this House but who is very capable of representing this country abroad.

At the same time we have career diplomats, who are very highly trained as diplomats to represent Kenya, and these days we appoint very few politicians. We are moving towards the policy of career diplomats.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is it not true that the President is quite open to the advice by his own Ministers, particularly the one who is responsible for this particular Ministry, and it is very probable that he got a piece of advice, for example, on the London appointment, as we know the Minister for Foreign Affairs happens to be a brother to the person appointed?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not think the President has such a weak mind that he can be manipulated by the Minister for Foreign Affairs or any other Minister for personal benefits.

The President of the Republic of Kenya is a man who is trusted by you people in this House and by the people outside. I take it that his decisions have to be respected and we have to support whatever he decides to do.

The President of the Republic of Kenya is not only advised by the Minister for Foreign Affairs, but is also advised by many other Ministers. In fact, the groups in here have been to the President to ask him to appoint certain people, whether they are brothers or not. Anybody can advise the President of the Republic of Kenya, but I assure you that, finally, the wisdom and strength of mind of the President of the Republic of Kenya will stand.

Mr. Migure: In his reply, would the Minister for Foreign Affairs be specific and tell this House how His Excellency the President of the Republic of Kenya will know that Mr. "X" is competent? There are so many civil servants and we want to know the procedure he follows. Do these people apply to the President, or who gives the recommendation to the President that So-and-so is competent?

Dr. Mungai: First of all you have the career diplomats who are already working in Government. It is very easy to know who is competent among those who are working for Government in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs or any other Ministry. It is very easy.

Secondly, I believe right now we have only two political appointments in embassies overseas. Those are known quite well by all of you. One of them has been a Minister of this Government and he has been a Minister of the Community, and his competence cannot be questioned by anybody. The other one has been very competent and has done very well. His competence can also not be questioned by anybody. The President has many ways of knowing who is capable, competent, loyal, dedicated and hard-working in Kenya. He does not have to be told by one particular individual.

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Minister not contradicting himself and, in fact, misleading the House since he said earlier on that the Government does not take on failures—or rather those who have been rejected by the country—to be posted overseas as envoys, whereas he has just referred to a particular gentleman who tried twice and failed as a politician? Is he not contradicting himself?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I said that as a general case the Ministry of Foreign Affairs is not a depository for failing politicians. However, I qualified that by saying that there are some people who were in this House who are very capable and competent, and this nation should not be denied the services of those people just because there was one better than many who got into this House. The other one is just as good. He may not be as good as the one who is in this House, but he is quite good and he should serve the nation. Since he served the Community before, and the East African Community found him very efficient, and also served the Kenya Government and was found to be very efficient and good, I am sure he will also make his mark overseas.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

I understand the Minister who is going to reply to this question has not yet arrived. So we move on to the next question. Mr. Mulwa?

Question No. 57 (1281)

UTILIZATION OF ATHI RIVER WATER FOR IRRIGATION

Mr. Mulwa asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House whether he had any plans for starting a scheme designed to utilize the water in Athi River for irrigation purposes in Ukambani.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Ministry has no plans for starting an Athi River irrigation scheme as referred to by the hon. Member because the valley is quite unsuitable to any large-scale irrigation. There are, however, small patches of land which could be irrigated by pumping. This type of irrigation can only be done on an individual basis, and should there be any individuals who would like to undertake irrigation of this type our officers in the Ministry will only be too glad to provide the technical advice needed; and if need be, perhaps, the Agricultural Finance Corporation Loan Fund may be made available.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and in view of the fact that Ukambani, as a whole, where this river passes through is a very dry area, does this Assistant Minister not feel that it is Government responsibility to see that this water is utilized—instead of letting it pass all the way to the Indian Ocean—by encouraging large-scale irrigation? They could help instead of merely saying that they are going to leave it to the individual farmers.

Mr. Wanjigi: It is one thing to have the water and the other to have the kind of irrigable land, and these two must be available before one engages on large-scale irrigation. As I have said, the findings that we got for the entire valley do not justify investment into a large-scale irrigation.

Nevertheless, if there should be a small-scale irrigation attempt or proposal we will only be too glad to look into that.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister not aware that the valley he has referred to is only high as you go down further along the Athi River, but it is very much lower at the upper course, say from Donyo Sabuk, where Government can take water from and irrigate the low land in Ukambani rather than saying that the valley is too high and that it will not be economical?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not say that the valley was too high; I think the hon. Member must have misheard me. I said it is unsuitable for large-scale irrigation.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, may we know from the Assistant Minister what he means by unsuitable? The main question, Sir, is this: Who took a keen interest to investigate how the river flows as far as Kibwezi—who, actually, took the initiative to investigate the source of the river?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sure the hon. Members who are asking these questions know only too well that there is very extensive agriculture and farming along the whole of that valley, and the soil types and profile is very well known around the entire basin.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, arising from what the Assistant Minister is telling the House, may we know the results of the soil analysis taken along the Athi River, as a result of which it was decided that irrigation is not possible?

An hon. Member: Yes, tell us.

Wanjigi: I think, generally, Mr. Speaker, there is no depth of soil to justify large-scale irrigation. You will find pockets of land where the sub-soil would admit irrigation, but there is a general underlying of rock and, therefore, any large-scale irrigation is not possible.

Mr. Amayo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, would the Government be in a position to help some individuals who would be ready to take up the question of irrigation, as per his reply?

Mr. Wanjigi: Yes, we would be very glad to help.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

NOTICE OF MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

MATTER OF REPLY TO QUESTION NO. 57: UTILIZATION OF ATHI RIVER WATER FOR IRRIGATION

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, if the hon. Member would allow me, I would like to pursue this question on a Motion for the Adjournment.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No objection, Mr. Mulwa?

Mr. Mulwa: I have no objection, Mr. Speaker.

Question No. 69 (1311)

POOR PRICES PAID BY KENYA CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERIES

Mr. Marete asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House whether he was aware that the people of Meru were disappointed with the Kenya Co-operative Creameries, Kiganjo, for the poor price which the Kenya Co-operative Creameries paid to the farmers at 15 cents per pint of milk.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The current price of milk paid to producers by the Kenya Co-operative Creameries is the same throughout the Republic; at present, it stands at Sh. 2/80 per gallon. The price per pint on that basis, would, therefore, be nearer 35 cents and not 15 cents as the hon. Member alleges. If the Meru farmers get less than that, the reason can only be due to the various deductions made by their co-operative societies, and this is not a matter of the Kenya Co-operative Creameries.

Mr. Marete: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, when I brought this question, Sir, the price of milk in Meru, which, of course, has to be transported to Kiganjo to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries' factory, was 15 cents. Now, because the price has already been raised, who will pay the loss which the people of Meru suffered during those months before the price was raised?

Mr. Wanjigi: I do not think there is any question of a loss, Mr. Speaker. The price that was offered was the price we could pay at that time and I remember very well, Mr. Speaker, that this was why Government was very determined to rationalize the marketing system in Meru so that farmers in the rural areas can benefit from the industry.

Mr. Mwithaga: Would the Assistant Minister tell the House whether there are plans by Government, or intentions, for that matter, to move closer to the Meru people by establishing a Kenya Co-operative Creameries factory in Meru Township, an additional one since the one at Kiganjo, is a long way away?

Mr. Wanjigi: The question of Kenya Co-operative Creameries' factories, Mr. Speaker, is constantly under review, and is entirely based on the availability of milk for processing; it is not based on one's own geographical distance from or to a particular part.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, I wonder whether the Assistant Minister is aware that this price confusion is caused by the Kenya Co-operative Creameries trying to close down the factory which used to process and sell the milk locally, so that the surplus is taken to Kiganjo; is he aware of this?

Mr. Wanjigi: No; I think, Mr. Speaker, the hon. Marete was referring to the price that was being paid before the rationalization of the Kenya Co-operative Creameries' distributing system. As far as I am aware, since then there is no confusion.

Mr. Mwithaga: On a point of order, Sir. When the Assistant Minister was replying to my supplementary question, he referred to distance and the availability of milk in Meru. Now he is comparing the geographical situation; now, would I be in order to ask whether by that statement, he means there are no cattle in Meru?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, Mr. Mwithaga. He said this whole question is constantly under review, and so that includes Meru.

Next question; Mr. Okudo.

Question No. 77 (1320)

ALLOCATION OF PLOTS IN SIAYA DISTRICT

Mr. Okudo asked the Minister for Local Government if he would tell the House—

(a) since the inception of the Siaya District, about four years ago, and the dissolution of the former Kisumu County Council, what system he has employed in allocating new plots in the markets in Siaya District, with special reference to Boro Division; and

(b) how many plots have been allocated in Siaya Township and how many in Boro Division markets.

The Assistant Minister for Local Government (Mr. Munoko): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply.

(a) The system of allocation of plots in Siaya

District has not been changed. This has always been the responsibility of the allocation committee, which consists of the district officer of the division as chairman, and members include the chief of the respective location, an officer representing the clerk of the county commission, the county marketing inspector and the secretary of the respective local commission.

The preparatory commission confirms the deliberations of the plot allocation committee.

(b) Siaya has not been declared a township, and the Commissioner of Lands has not approved the development plan for the township. Siaya has existed as an unsurveyed county council market and the council demarcated 41 plots for allocation and 40 of these have already been allocated to traders.

There are 34 markets in Boro Division and 455 plots have been allocated in all these markets.

Mr. Okudo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer from the Assistant Minister, could he tell us who are those people who have been allocated the 40 plots in Siaya District, because we are not aware of this, and also whether these plots have been allocated or they have been taken by the chairman—the so-called chairman—and the representatives of the Commission in the area?

Mr. Munoko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member can get all the details he wants from the register which is kept by the county council.

As to the second part, Sir, the chairman of the allocation committee is the divisional district officer and I doubt that he could have taken all the plots.

Question No. 65 (1291)

LAND REGISTRATION IN CHANGARA SUB-LOCATION

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, before I ask my question I would like to point out that there is a typographical error which needs to be corrected. In the second line the word "areas" should read "area".

Mr. Ebu asked the Minister for Lands and Settlement if he would tell the House, in view of the fact that the only security a poor man in the rural area could offer to get a loan was a land title-deed, why land registration has not been effected in Changara Sub-location.

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Changara Sub-location in North Malakisi Location of Bungoma District is one of the 16 sub-locations in Bungoma District in which land adjudication and registration work is scheduled to be in progress now. Despite the fact that the sub-location was declared an Adjudication Section on 25th September 1969, work has not yet started there because, although the majority of the people in the area are Balago, Teso and Bukusu are willing to have their land adjudicated and registered, there are certain administrative problems. It is hoped that these difficulties will soon be overcome.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, is he aware that Changara Sub-location is inhabited by the Teso, Bukusu and Balago, in that numerical order of superiority, and that some politicians from the Balago minority have gone around telling people not to register their land until such time as a new divisional headquarters is established in which they hope to have a controlling say in all matters, particularly those concerning land?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, we are aware of that and that is why I said there are administrative problems. These are the difficulties I have just mentioned.

An hon. Member: How are you going to overcome them?

Mr. Muturia: Arising from what the Assistant Minister said, is he aware that the administrative problems emanate from the fact that he does not have enough surveyors for demarcation and that is why there is delay in land registration all over the country?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, that is not the case. The position is what has just been mentioned by my friend; it is not the question of surveyors but there are certain politicians who are trying to confuse the people there.

Question No. 81 (1326)

HOT DRINKS FROM POTATOES

Mr. Muturia asked the Minister for Commerce and Industry if he would consider inviting outside investors to build a factory for hot drinks, for example, whiskies, from potatoes in Kenya.

The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Wood): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Ministry is already holding discussions with some of the foreign investors trying to interest them to consider the establishment of a project in Kenya for the manufacture of alcohol and other chemical extracts from molasses but not from potatoes.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that semi-satisfactory answer, that there are some foreign investors at present in the country trying to manufacture hot drinks here, is the Assistant Minister trying to tell the House that potatoes cannot produce hot drinks when we know there are other countries doing this?

Mr. Wood: Admittedly, Sir, potatoes can produce hot drinks as the hon. Member says, but as I have already answered, our Ministry is trying to find ways how to utilize molasses.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister assure this House that when these investors are interested he will ask them also to consider bananas because bananas are available all over the country?

Mr. Wood: The answer to that is, perhaps, "No".

Mr. Ogalo: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply when he says that they are considering bringing in some investors to make hot drinks like whisky and others, what about chang'aa? Would they also consider manufacturing chang'aa here?

Mr. Wood: Mr. Speaker, Sir, everything is possible when the due time for it comes round. Perhaps everything that the hon. Member asks may be possible in good time.

Question No. 80 (1325)

SECURITY AT MALINDI AIRPORT

Mr. Tuva asked the Minister for Power and Communications if he would tell the House why there was no security at the Malindi Airport and yet any foreign chartered planes could land there.

The Assistant Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Onamu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I wish to inform the hon. Member that it is not correct to say that there is no security at Malindi Airport.

The Airport itself is policed by Malindi Police Station and special precautions by the police, Immigration and Customs Departments are taken when any foreign chartered aircraft lands there.

Advance notification of a foreign aircraft landing is given through the Area Control Centre of the Directorate of Civil Aviation and the Duty Air Traffic Control Officer in the tower at the Airport.

Mr. Tuva: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister aware that on 3rd July 1970 Dr. Kach Kruger landed at Malindi Airport and he had to go to town to look for the Immigration and Customs people and some person who would receive the landing fees?

Mr. Onamu: I am not aware, Sir.

Mr. Tuva: If the Assistant Minister is not aware, what is he going to do to get the landing fees from Dr. Kach Kruger who is in Germany today?

Mr. Onamu: May I, Mr. Speaker, add this to what I have said. If a foreign aircraft is registered in a friendly state, a state which has been registered by the International Civil Aviation, no special permission is required for entry into Kenya providing that no traffic rights are involved.

Charter aircraft carrying passengers would normally involve traffic rights.

Generally, aircraft from abroad cannot land at Malindi for customs purposes, but charter aircraft going to land in Somalia are permitted to land at Malindi for customs purposes, provided they have given a 24 hour notice of departure and a 2 hour notice of arrival.

It is possible that foreign-registered chartered aircraft may land at Malindi having cleared customs and immigration at an international airport, for example, Nairobi and Mombasa.

Special precautions means that the police service is made available, and if necessary police processes the immigration formalities.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, although the Assistant Minister tried to give a lengthy answer, which I was not interested in, the question asked by hon. Tuva was to the effect that the Doctor who had landed at Malindi Airport has now gone to Germany, and he is supposed to pay a landing fee. How is that particular Ministry going to recover that money from this man who has gone to Germany?

We do not want your lengthy reply.

Mr. Onamu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have said that my Ministry was not aware of this. We will look into this matter.

Mr. Kadir: Mr. Speaker, Sir, now that you have heard the Assistant Minister say that no aircraft will land in Malindi before it gets landing clearance, before it clears everything elsewhere, and we have also heard that the gentleman in question has not paid landing fees, what arrangements is the Ministry going to make so that they can recover the money from that man?

Mr. Onamu: I said we will have to investigate this matter to find out whether what the Member said is true or not.

Question No. 34 (1251)

PUBLICITY FOR WESTERN PROVINCE AFFAIRS

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Information and Broadcasting if he could tell the House why political and administrative activities in the Western Province were not given publicity by the Voice of Kenya.

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Kase): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. As far as I know, all newsworthy activities, be they political, administrative or otherwise in the Western Province have been publicized by the Voice of Kenya.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the reply given by the Assistant Minister, does he agree that last year the hon. Makone came to Kakamega on a tour and when he made a visit of that particular province he also admitted that Western Province was not given its due publicity as far as political and administrative activities in the province were concerned? He said that Eastern Province, Coast Province and Nyanza Province were given more publicity than we, in Western Province, get.

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, I am aware of complaints from every province in Kenya saying they do not get enough publicity over the Voice of Kenya. Now, if this is a complaint from every province, I do not know what we are going to do!

Mr. Araru: Close down!

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the hon. Assistant Minister agree with me that they have to be more dedicated in the Ministry rather than saying he does not know what he is going to do?

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think I shall have to explain the position to the hon. Member. Our staff have gone all out and we have decided to send the men we have to a number of districts. However, there is a maximum these people can do. One man has to do three to four districts. Mr. Speaker, you will agree with me that that is quite a lot of work.

Every hon. Member here, every politician, every administrative officer wants publicity and it is not very easy to give every hon. Member and every politician all the publicity he wants. The material has to be newsworthy before it can be publicized. If somebody speaks for an hour or three hours and he has not been given publicity it means his material is not newsworthy.

Mr. ole Leken: Mr. Speaker, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, in view of the fact that he actually accepts defeat, is it not proper that he should resign and give way to somebody who can plan what has to be done?

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform the hon. Member that I shall never resign.

I am trying to make it clear to the hon. Members that we have these complaints from every province. This means that the complaints are uniform. All the provinces, even those quoted by the hon. Member for Mumias, claim that they do not receive enough publicity.

I was in Embu, in Nyeri, in Mombasa and each one of these places complained that they were not getting enough publicity. There is not anybody who is not complaining.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wonder whether the Assistant Minister will agree with me that both politicians and administrators can work and develop their areas without publicity?

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, I think that is correct. You can develop without being known in this country, just as you can have children without that fact being known.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Speaker Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, he seems to accept that there are complaints everywhere in the Republic. If there are complaints, what is the Assistant Minister doing to improve the situation, at least to see that there is no cause for complaint, because otherwise he is almost admitting failure in his Ministry?

Mr. Kase: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am told by certain experts that complaints will never end, just as patients will never cease going to the hon. Member who is their doctor.

Question No. 84 (1338)

GOVERNMENT DISPENSARY IN MWIMBI LOCATION

Mr. Mutua asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House if he was aware that there is no Government dispensary in Mwimbi Location, Nithi Division, which is densely populated.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. We are very much aware what the hon. Member is talking about but we do not have a Government health centre in Nithi Division. We are also aware that there is one missionary dispensary in this area.

The Ministry of Health is not in favour of increasing the number of dispensaries until staff is available for the health centres and dispensaries that cannot be opened at present due to lack of staff.

Mr. Mutua: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is he aware that the particular location I am referring to—Mwimbi—which is a vast location, has also the most tax-payers but there is not a single Government health centre and the tax-payers are paying their money to the mission hospitals instead of enjoying free medical treatment?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I said that I was aware that we do not have a Government health centre in that area and that if there is a mission hospital people are paying to be treated there. However, that is not the only area where this situation exists at the moment. We are doing our best, first of all, to make sure that those buildings, that many hon. Members here complain about that they are standing empty, are filled up with personnel and are offering services and then we will move to the areas where there is nothing at all. I assure the hon. Member that we will consider his area very, very favourably when we come to consider places where we do not have anything existing at all.

Mr. Karungaru: Arising from that reply, would the Assistant Minister admit that there is a need for Government to take over the mission hospitals with a view to helping the residents of the area in question, because it appears that the Ministry of Health is discriminating against the people in that area since they are not getting free medical treatment as in other places?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, on the question of taking over mission hospitals, I think my Ministry is considering it, but, as you know, the missionaries had good reasons for putting up hospitals all over the place. We encouraged this and we are not going to nationalize them as you would nationalize a business of some sort. We have been talking with the missionaries over this and when the Government and missionaries agree on how the take-over could be effectively implemented, then, Sir, we will report to this House. However, at the moment I cannot promise this hon. House the day when the Government will take over all mission hospitals. That will be one policy for the whole country and not for this particular health centre only.

Mr. Koigi: Mr. Speaker, will the Assistant Minister agree with me that the Government ought to do something to reduce the exorbitant prices which are charged by the mission hospitals in various places in this country?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not think most of the charges could be described as being exorbitant. As the House is aware, mission hospitals are not left on their own; the Government is contributing a lot of money every year to help them run their services. So, if there is any particular mission hospital that appears to be really missionary and is charging an exorbitant fee, Sir, any Member can report to us and we shall talk to the missionaries concerned and let them know that theirs is God's service and not a profit-making service and I am sure they will understand.

Mr. Koigi: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No. I know you are going to make a speech.

Mr. Barmalel: Does the Assistant Minister realize that the present treatment given in hospitals is worse than before when the county councils were carrying out the duties of running hospitals?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, if the hon. Member was claiming that he is not healthier than he was before, then I would listen to him; but he looks to be healthier than when he came to this House, which means the Ministry is doing the job better.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 13 (1203)

NUMBER OF FLAMINGOES IN SOME KENYA LAKES

Mr. Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Tourism and Wildlife if he would tell the House (a) The total number of flamingoes in the following lakes:—

(i) Baringo, (ii) Hannington, (iii) Nakuru, and
(iv) Naivasha.

(b) How many types of these birds there were.

The Minister for Tourism and Wildlife (Mr. Shako): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (i) Flamingoes are distributed in those lakes as follows:—

(a) Lake Baringo—about 100,000 birds.

(b) Lake Hannington—about 750,000 birds.

(c) Lake Nakuru—about 2 million birds.

(d) Lake Naivasha—about 100,000 birds.

(ii) There are two types of these birds found in our lakes, namely, the greater and the lesser Flamingoes.

Mr. Abubakar-Madhbuti: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Minister tell this House what method he used to count those birds?

Mr. Shako: Mr. Speaker, the hon. Member will have heard that I said, "about so many in each lake". It is not possible to carry out the precise counting of these birds; the census is approximate.

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply does he not agree with me that part (ii) asked for the number of those birds that are there in the world because that is the only interpretation I can get out of it and, therefore, if he knows he should tell us?

Mr. Shako: Mr. Speaker, I would like the hon. Member to repeat his question. I did not get it.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is not necessary.

In the question, this part refers to the previous parts definitely.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that the flamingo is one of our important flora and fauna which play a big part in tourist attractions, and in view of the fact that recently Lake Nakuru's water has been reported to have been terribly polluted, and since this affects the flourishing population of flamingoes, would the Minister tell this House what steps he has taken to stop this water pollution?

Mr. Shako: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is true that there is some amount of water pollution in Lake Nakuru and our research organization is going into the problem.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 58 (1282)

ESTABLISHMENT OF ARTIFICIAL AFRICAN VILLAGES

Mr. Mulwa asked the Minister for Tourism and Wildlife if he would tell the House why it is thought necessary to spend public funds in establishing an artificial African village, whereas whatever is going to be available in the said village can be seen in the rural areas.

The Minister for Tourism and Wildlife (Mr. Shako): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The reason behind the establishment of what the hon. Member terms as an artificial African village is in fact to concentrate in one small place the rich and varied cultural heritage of our people found scattered all over the country. The village has been located in Nairobi so as to be accessible to the majority of our visitors.

Mr. Mulwa: Arising from the Minister's reply, can he tell us in detail what he has in mind with regard to this artificial village because we are at a loss in finding out whether it will, for example, depict Masai's customs and cultures, Kamba's customs and cultures, Taita's customs and cultures and so forth?

Mr. Shako: Mr. Speaker, the hon. Member understands the meaning of the word "Culture", and so when I say that this will be the centre of our culture, that is exactly what I mean.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Minister tell the House how many tribes' cultures are represented in this village, since each tribe has a different culture from others?

Mrs. Onyango: Yes, ours is not like Kamba's culture!

Mr. Shako: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have at this village, or we shall have, an arena where our cultures in the whole of our Republic will be demonstrated. Therefore, I cannot say at this stage what tribe is represented and what tribe is not represented. It is meant to demonstrate the culture of this Republic at the centre.

Mr. Omuro: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Minister tell this House whether this artificial African village which is going to be used to depict the culture of this Republic will represent the culture of all the tribes of Kenya?

Mr. Shako: Mr. Speaker, Sir, every district will be invited to bring dancing troops, by rotation, so that the cultures of the whole country will be enjoyed by our visitors who will be visiting this village.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us go back to Mr. arap Cheboiwo's question.

Question No. 9 (1185)

QUALIFICATION FOR GUARANTEED MINIMUM RETURN

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House, in view of the fact that farmers are given Guaranteed Minimum Return when they have many acres of land, the Ministry could consider reducing the acreage to 5 or 10 to enable more wananchi to get a Guaranteed Minimum Return without difficulties.

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I would like to apologize for not being here in time to reply to this question.

Yes, Sir, my Ministry has examined the possibilities of lowering the acreage. However, the hon. Member will appreciate that lending money to those who may not be able to afford to repay it is not only a wastage of such resources but also would create untold hardship to the loanee.

Mr. Koigi: Is the Minister aware that what we are asking Government to do would allow the Guaranteed Minimum Return system to be extended to the rural areas, since it has up to now, only been enjoyed in the settled areas and we also know that it can operate in the rural areas?

Mr. Nyagah: Yes, Sir, I understand that.

QUESTIONS BY PRIVATE NOTICE

KENYA MEAT COMMISSION/SWIFT COMPANY AGREEMENT

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Magugu's Question by Private Notice.

Mr. Magugu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Agriculture the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Will the Minister assure this House that the Kenya Meat Commission, which is a statutory board of this Government, will not be subjected or be a party to payment for and use of written-off machinery and equipment after use by Swift and Company in other parts of the world, which machinery and equipment are now being shipped to Kenya for installation?
- (b) Will the Minister also give the implications with particular emphasis on the benefits or otherwise of the Swift Company Agreement with the Kenya Meat Commission now that the contract has been in operation for the last two years?
- (c) Since it is stipulated in the agreement that the Kenya Meat Commission will be under obligation to sell certain quantities of canned beef to the Swift Company, who determines what prices the company will pay since the management of the Kenya Meat Commission is manned by employees of the Swift Company?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) The answer to part (a) of the question is, "Yes".

(b) The agreement between the Swift Company and the Kenya Meat Commission came into force when the Government invited that company to assist the Kenya Meat Commission to re-organize itself after the Kenya Meat Commission had incurred a loss of £350,000 in 1967. Briefly, what the Government wanted was the professional and technical know-how of Swift Company in managing a business like that of the Kenya Meat Commission. There is no doubt in the mind of the Government that Swift Company personnel loaned to the Kenya Meat Commission under the resulting agreement have done a great deal of good to the Kenya Meat Commission. To prove this, in 1968, just two years later, the Kenya Meat Commission realized a total profit of £71,000; and in 1969 it realized a total profit of £105,000; and in 1970 it realized approximately a total profit of £200,000. Therefore, it goes without saying that the agreement has been beneficial to the Kenya Meat Commission, and therefore it was a very enlightened move by the Kenya Government to invite the said company.

(c) I would like to dispel any confusion that may be contained in the suggestion that the Kenya Meat Commission is run by Swift and Company and, therefore, there is a likelihood of Kenya Meat Commission being cheated by Swift and Company in implementing the agreement between them and the Government. There are only three employees who are loaned to the Kenya Meat Commission by Swift and Company and they are all loaned because of their very high standard of integrity; and their job is to give advisory services to the Kenya Meat Commission without interfering with the commercial activities of the commission.

Mr. Magugu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am satisfied with the reply to part (a) of the question. However, will the Assistant Minister tell the House what tangible benefits—I am not talking about profits and I do not want the figures—have come about as a result of the agreement, particularly the management agreement for the last two years? Also, arising from part (c) of the question, will the Assistant Minister agree with me that the executive officer of the Kenya Meat Commission, the marketing manager, production manager; and may I add the canning manager because you have spoken of three of them, are the people who make the policies and not the Ministry?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not agree at all, that these three people are the ones who make policy for the Kenya Meat Commission. There is a very able board of the Kenya Meat Commission whose members have the highest regard both in this House and the Kenya Government. I would like to say that the fourth member referred to by the hon. Magugu is, in fact, not from Swift and Company but was taken over by us from the Leibig Company which was managing the Kenya Meat Commission before Swift and Company came over.

As far as the tangible benefits are concerned, if the hon. Member says that he is not interested in profits I do not see what else would be more tangible than profits for a commission like this one.

Mr. ole Leken: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Since the Assistant Minister agrees that in this agreement between Swift and Company and the Kenya Meat Commission there is a likelihood of Kenya Meat Commission being cheated by Swift and Company, what action is he taking to see that the agreement on both sides is water-tight?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to dispel any misquotation here. I do not agree that there is any likelihood of Swift and Company cheating the Kenya Meat Commission.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Will the Assistant Minister tell us how long he anticipates this agreement between the Kenya Meat Commission and Swift and Company will stand; and whether he thinks the Kenya Meat Commission can go it alone in the near future?

Mr. Wanjigi: I think that is a good question. The agreement, I think, was supposed to run for four years, and since that time I think I have answered another question in this House to the effect that we have quite a few people in the pipeline, including an assistant managing commissioner, an accountant and also some in the production line. I think that when it comes up for review we might, perhaps, have to look at the entire question.

CURB ON SPREAD OF ARMY WORM

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Mr. Muthua's Question by Private Notice.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, on behalf of Mr. Muthua I beg to ask the following Question by Private Notice:—

Is the Minister aware that the presence of the army worm in some pastoral areas of the country, coupled with the continuing drought, are causing disastrous damage to dairy and ranching industries? If the answer is in the affirmative, what urgent control measures is the Ministry taking to curb the spread of army worm?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Khaoya): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I am aware of the hazards which we are facing now in certain parts of the country, including pastoral areas, because of the army worm. As a matter of clarification, I would like to suggest to the hon. Member that army worm and drought are separate problems—the only thing in common between them being that they are both natural hazards. In natural realities, however, they are opponents because if the drought continues the army worm will die because they cannot resist drought.

However, to answer the main question, I would like to say that my Ministry is working very closely with the East African Agricultural and Forestry Research Organization of Muguga in the operation of forecasting traps at Kitale, Kibos, Kisii, Nakuru, Nairobi, Ruiru, Nanyuki, Embu, Mandera and Voi through which advance information is collected by Muguga station and then transmitted to all the farmers in the Republic through the Press and the radio.

My Ministry also operates an advisory service which tells farmers what chemicals to use against the army worm and where to get them.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister agree with me that his Ministry advises the farmers what chemicals to use and those chemicals are too expensive for an ordinary farmer to afford? Taking into consideration that this is a national hazard, what is the Government going to do to subsidize the small farmer who cannot buy such highly expensive chemicals?

Mr. Khaoya: Last year, when we had a similar hazard in Machakos, Government came out and had an operation which the Ministry paid for from its funds costing something like £53,000. However, we realized that we could not go on doing this year after year. Therefore, we are working on a paper which is designed, say, to look into the question of carrier birds, rats, worms, diseases and a kind of weed that we find in particular areas, so that when Government has discussed this, perhaps, we might produce it here at the Budget time.

We also think that it is not as expensive as the hon. Member puts it to the House. Our calculation works out at about Sh. 10 per acre of chemicals: say, if one is to use the spraying facilities, either by D.D.T. or B.H.C. Of course the most economical method is to use aircraft spraying, in which case, therefore, one will require a large area to be sprayed from the air. However, I think if the farmers in Kenya can take the advantage of the chemicals that we advise them to use at the moment they might reduce these unwelcome visitors.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister, by implication telling this House that spraying by an aircraft is not an expensive exercise for an African farmer who has, probably, only ten acres of land to spray?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I agree that it would be very expensive for a smallholding of, say, 50 to 100 acres. However, as we know, when the army worms come to an area, they take an area of, perhaps, 1 million acres, 2,000 acres, all at one go. Therefore, the operation we are thinking of is a spray from the air of a certain area so that when you calculate the actual cost per acre, it will not be as expensive as the hon. Member first thought. However, I would also ask the hon. Member to pay heed to what I advised him—that he can use D.D.T. or B.H.C., which are some of the chemicals that one can use on a small-scale operation, which might not be as expensive as the hon. Member thought.

Mr. Magugu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Assistant Minister tell the House whether or not the Government is willing to subsidize the farmers—that is the question which was asked before—particularly the small-scale farmers?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would say yes; but in a round about manner, since I said, earlier, that we are working on a paper whose cost would be in the region of about £100,000. If we are all agreed, and eventually this is passed by this House, at the Estimate time, then we will have done so.

POINT OF ORDER

MISREPORT BY VOICE OF KENYA—REMEDY

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to seek your guidance in this problem. Yesterday, during the Question Time, I did ask a Question No. 7, to the Ministry of Health. When it was reported this morning in the papers, it was correct, but over the Voice of Kenya it was said that this question was asked by the Member for Mumias, hon. O'Washika, and I do not understand why this happened. Could you, therefore, guide me what to do in this matter?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I think I have already explained what a Member could do. The only thing is to get in touch with the Voice of Kenya and ask them to correct their mistake, but at this stage there is nothing else you can do. If they refuse to correct their mistake, then, you might think of something else.

MOTION

THANKS FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

(Third Day)

THAT, the thanks of this House be recorded for the exposition of public policy contained in His Excellency's Presidential Address from the Chair on 23rd February 1971.

(Resumption of Debate interrupted on 2nd March 1971)

Mr. Abubakar-Madhubi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, thank you very much for giving me this opportunity to air my views on the Presidential Address.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to say that the Address was very good, but I would have thought the President would have mentioned something about the drought which is now affecting the country. I would also have liked the President to touch on the question of school fees, which is also a very burning issue in our country.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, as regards this serious drought in the country, I have, myself, tried to explain the situation to the Provincial Commissioner, Coast Province, and I have also visited some of the associations in Nairobi, for example, Oxfam, and persuaded them to supply food to these areas which are seriously affected by the drought. These associations are very willing to help our people in those areas which are seriously hit by the drought, such as the North-Eastern Province and Lamu. However, they say that they can do nothing unless the President's Office or the Administration comes to distribute this food. I have tried to explain this problem to the Provincial Commissioner, Coast Province, but it seems as if the machinery of Government is very slow in connexion with the distribution of this type of food.

The other problem, Mr. Speaker, is the question of water; some people have to travel from island to island in search of water. However, the sun has dried up everything there and so you find that all the wells have dried up and people are sailing on dhows for about 30 miles to go to the hinterland and get water. These people who sail on these dhows return to the island at midnight. This water, which they fetch, is being sold at Sh. 2 per tin. I have also tried to explain this same issue to the provincial commissioner and told him that the situation is getting worse. Why do we not use our two ships which are lying idle at Kilindini Harbour to transport water from Mombasa to Lamu so that people could be saved from this situation? The answer I always get is the same, "We are going to see, we are going to see"—I do not understand why we have to wait until somebody dies of thirst and then the Government comes to help.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have noticed that the people in the North-Eastern Province are being helped. Army lorries are taking water there and giving it to the people. People of Lamu are as good citizens as they are. However, nobody seems to care about the Lamu people. I do not understand why this is happening. We are behind the Government, not only by mere words but by actions. Mr. Speaker, you remember very well when Members of this House crossed the Floor. I went there and they have returned me with a majority vote. Is that not a sign to show that the people of Lamu are behind the Government? Secondly, Mr. Speaker, Sir, when we had the Local Government elections, the whole country refused to go to the elections except Lamu. I, as the Chairman of Kanu, said, "Okay, let us face these people"—the K.P.U.—and the Kanu people were returned. Therefore, what else does the Government want us to do? We are behind the Government and it is not good for the people to suffer, especially during this time. Mr. Speaker, Sir, you will find that the Government is turning a deaf ear towards our requests.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, you will be sad to note that we do not even have drums to carry water. I have approached the district commissioner and he has said, "I am sorry, Mr. Madhbuti, we do not have money for that type of service." I have approached the county council and they have said the same thing—they do not have money. I have approached the provincial commissioner and he has said the same thing, "We do not have money." Mr. Speaker, Sir, I had to pay about Sh. 5,000 from my own pocket to buy drums from Nairobi. At the end of the year these same people come and say, "Lete kodi, lete kodi; where is the kodi?" What type of Government is this, Mr. Speaker, if they cannot even provide empty drums. We are prepared to provide our own labour to go and collect water from the mainland. If Government cannot provide drums, my God, God help Kenya!

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will now touch on the question of school fees. I have explained to you that we cannot get water or food. Now, you will find that school fees have been raised from Sh. 24 to Sh. 72. Mr. Speaker, Sir, when I was elected to this Parliament, we had only two schools in the whole of Lamu District. I have put up nine more schools, and nobody can deny that. But, Mr. Speaker, Sir, my efforts are now being thwarted by Government in its raising school fees to Sh. 72. We were told in this House that Government is going to see to it that those areas which were neglected by the Colonial Government are going to be given first priorities. On the contrary, Mr. Speaker, we find that everything is going on as if we are all equal to Nairobi, Mombasa and other big towns. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to urge the Government straightaway to provide these two ships which are now idle in Kilindini Harbour to provide water for my people. Also, the Office of the President should take the food from Oxfam and distribute it to my people in Lamu. The parents in Lamu should also be told that the school fees will be reduced otherwise, Mr. Speaker, there will be no children in Lamu schools at all.

With those few words, Mr. Speaker, I beg to support.

Mr. Mulwa: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I have few points ranging from constituency affairs to foreign affairs which I would like to make in this debate. First of all I would like to congratulate His Excellency the President for the very good Speech which he gave in this House. Following that I would say that it is expedient now for the civil servants particularly to follow the Presidents Speech and implement the Government policy accordingly.

To start with, and I said I would start with my constituency, we have the problem of school fees. As the hon. Member who spoke earlier has just said this problem is acute. In my area it is becoming very serious because the people have no food and because of the fact that we have quarantine, making it impossible for the farmers to sell their cattle, and therefore they cannot raise the school fees. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we, being loyal citizens of this country, feel it is the duty of Government to work hard and find ways and means of how children are going to be educated this year during the drought period. We have not bothered Government before, particularly with the school fees, because we had food and we could sell our cattle. Therefore, when we are in hardships like these, we have to appeal to Government and see what they can do, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

On the side of the Civil Service, Mr. Speaker, I think it is high time the Ndegwa Commission was published and the civil servants given an increment because it is a long time since this Commission was instituted to look into the possibilities of reviewing the civil servants' salaries. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to appeal to the Minister concerned to expedite the report of this Commission so that our civil servants can have their salaries reviewed.

While on that issue, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have another point to say about the Civil Service as a whole. Following Africanization, it seems that the standard of efficiency has gone down tremendously. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is common, particularly within the Government offices. If you write a letter you will find that unless you follow that letter you will never get a reply. Not only that, when you go there you will find that a small piece of paper written "urgent" is attached to your letter if the letter was urgent, and yet it will stay there for another one month or so. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think this is very bad. It is reflecting very badly on our African Government. This is because it will be said that we cannot run our affairs. I think this must be taken very seriously indeed. It is reflecting very badly on the Ministers themselves because, ultimately, it is the Ministers we are going to blame if their officers cannot work efficiently. I think this is why they have taken it upon themselves to barricade their offices with spiked iron railings all around and people at the gate make sure that the wananchi do not go to see them. The same wananchi they are supposed to serve they barricade them outside there and it is absolutely impossible for a mwananchi to go and see them. Even for a Member of Parliament—how many times have I found it impossible to get through the Old Jogoo House over there? You cannot go through, Mr. Speaker. I do not know whether they expect us to go carrying a placard on our chests or what. This is because immediately you say "Yes, you know I am a Member of Parliament" then you will be told, "Okay, you pass". So, unless you are a Member of Parliament you cannot be allowed to pass. Not only that, Mr. Speaker, Sir, those soldiers there—I do not know whether they are soldiers or guards—have the audacity to ask for a card when some of them cannot read. They say they have been given instructions to that effect. It is clear a person who cannot read yet he wants to prove that you are a Member of Parliament. What sort of proof is that? I think this is very bad, Mr. Speaker. These are civil servants—all those people in Jogoo House are civil servants and are there to serve the public beginning with the Minister himself to the last man there. He has to serve the mwananchi; yet, Mr. Speaker, Sir, they go and barricade themselves in there so that nobody goes through. How are you going to serve the wananchi like that? Is this how you are going to serve the wananchi, and yet you call yourselves civil servants? I think it is a shame. You would expect them to work efficiently because, of course, nobody comes to bother them; nobody goes there to bother them at all. They are there with their big offices and their number of secretaries. You would expect them to work quickly but they do not. Unless you go and chase them yourself, they cannot work quickly. Some of them put notices there giving dates when you can go to see their secretaries so that you can make an appointment with their secretaries when you want to see them. What sort of work is this? I think this must be taken seriously, Mr. Speaker, Sir, because it appears—and I am sorry to say it—that, in fact, the same Africans, during the colonial time, had a sense of responsibility. They could work and had a sense of duty. But immediately he gets a bigger office he spends most of his time trying to put his slides on the table or taking coffee outside. I think this reflects very badly on the African Government. The Ministers, themselves, should take it upon themselves to see that the people in their Ministries really work and do their duties instead of harrasing the wananchi for nothing.

An hon. Member: Your time is up.

Mr. Mulwa: I think the light is on.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, hurriedly, the other thing I would like to say is on the Ministry of Commerce and Industry. We have a number of Africans here who have been given loans by Government to establish industries in the industrial estates and these people—a number of them have come to see me and I have visited their industries—have laid off their employees. Why?

[Mr. Mulwa]

Because even if they are, legally, supposed to be protected there is no protection. Licences are still coming from the Ministry of Commerce and Industry and, somehow, are going to these rich Asians, and they are already—I know a number of ships docked at Kilindini bringing hinges here, millions and millions of them. The other day, Mr. Speaker, you remember I raised this question here. As a result of the question I raised here, it is true a number of them were returned to Japan, but now there are some already in Kilindini waiting to be brought here. These people have had loans given to them by Government to establish these industries and yet there is no protection! As a result, they have nowhere to sell their articles. The same thing is happening to the Shoe Laces Company which was given money, through the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation, by the Government to establish it here. Yet there is no protection, the Minister does not care, the other Ministers do not care and, there are Asians who are selling these same articles at half price.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, if we are really serious about promoting African industrialists let us give them proper protection. Let the Ministry of Commerce make sure that no more import licences are going out, whether legally or otherwise. I do not know how they go out, but I know they go out and in most cases to very prominent people in this country who are given licences and then sell them to the Asians so that they are given 5 per cent out of this. They then import the articles from China and Japan and they come and sell the articles at half price. They bring so many of the articles that they flood the market for the next three to five years. Where are our African fellows going to sell their things and why are we cheating ourselves that we are promoting African industrialists? I think we are cheating ourselves—so long as we do not seal these loop holes—that we are really protecting them. Why does the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning not raise the duty on these articles which are being manufactured outside Kenya Mr. Speaker, so that we can discourage the importation of these articles? Why does the Minister for Commerce not take it upon himself the responsibility of making sure that no more import licences will be going out? And if he finds himself unable to control his staff I think I got that impression from the letters I received from him after writing him on this matter—then I would advise him to resign, Mr. Speaker, because, eventually, it is him we are going to condemn. It is him, eventually, who is going to answer for this.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is not a nice thing when people are asked to contribute about 10 per cent—people who have no money—and then they are given the rest of the money by Government to put it in an industry like that and after four months they close. These industries are definitely going to close down if the situation does not improve.

If the Minister, himself, gives the impression that he cannot control his staff, what is he supposed to do as a Minister of the Government? We do not know the staff under him and it is no good for him to say that he does not know how the licences are going out. It is the Minister we are going to question; it is him we are going to place the blame upon if these industries close down as they are likely to because he has the responsibility of looking after his Ministry and it is upon him to see that where the articles are legally protected, no more import licences are issued. Now they are floating all over particularly, with some very prominent people, Mr. Speaker. I think this is a shame; it is really a great shame that we should—I do not say that the Minister himself is concerned but I think he should do something about it.

On foreign affairs, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am very pleased with the statement which was issued yesterday by the Attorney-General expelling the rumours which have been worrying the country. For that I am very grateful. The only comment I would make, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is that I think it is unfortunate that every time there is something like that, something which is usually known even in Government circles by the Ministers themselves, they let it go on and on until it is widely spread, thereby causing alarm and despondency in the country. Why do they not take care of it immediately they know about it? Why do they not make a statement? They could have expelled this straightaway when it was heard, but then they sat, and sat—wait and watch. I think this is bad. The same thing is happening with our Uganda policy here. We are politicians and we are proud of our Government and we would like to know what the Government policy is on some of these things. I might go there—what am I supposed to say if I go there? I do not know Government policy and yet if I say something they will obviously say that I am embarrassing Government. I think it is high time we had a policy of making sure that we state whatever our policy is.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

Mr. Ogalo: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, for giving me this time to join my colleagues in thanking the President on what he said here during the State Opening Ceremony of Parliament.

[Mr. Ogallo]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have a few points to make and the first one is about employment in this country and the promotion of our people. We speak of unity but, how are we going to unite in Kenya while some people are being retired at a very early age? We are always being told that we do not have the manpower, but at the same time you will find that a trained person, who has joined Government, works for only one year or two and then he is retired? Most of the people who are now being retired, Mr. Speaker, come from my tribe, the Luo. I do not know what wrong the Luo did to this country. When we go back in history, Mr. Speaker, Sir, you will find—

Mr. Munyasia: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. Following exactly what the hon. Member has said, that some young fellows who join employment are retired after working for one year, could he substantiate and say who have worked for only one year and then have been retired?

Mr. Ogallo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know whether I can be allowed to go on and finish my speech and then later I am allowed to substantiate. I have the list of the names, and some of the people come from his tribe and some from—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Now, you cannot do it that way, Mr. Ogallo. Once you make definite statements like that—an allegation of that kind—and you are challenged to substantiate, you have to do it straightaway. You cannot wait.

Mr. Ogallo: So I must do it now, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have a very young person called Amos Owori Ongeche, who was sent to India to take a course and then to come back and work with the Kenya Exchange Control Department, but on his return from India he was retired.

Secondly, Mr. Speaker, I have Superintendent Vincent Odigo, a Luo by tribe, who is a young person but already retired. Superintendent Pius Ogallo, Songoro Tangobo, a person whom I taught, who has also been retired. I have Wilfred Were a Mluhya. I want to mention another one who comes from the hon. Member's area who wants me to substantiate.

Hon. Members: You are all right now.

Mr. Ogallo: If it is all right, Mr. Speaker I can leave it that way but I have quite a number of them. If that is enough I will leave it that way and continue with my speech.

Mr. Karungaru: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. Did I hear correctly, Sir, that the hon. Member's allegation was that after one year's service a person is made to retire? And if I did understand him correctly, am I now not entitled to say that what he has said is not at all corresponding with what he said earlier on and therefore he has not yet substantiated that a person, having only worked with Government for one year, can be retired?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No; it is true he did talk about somebody being retired after one year's service; but the main point, as I understood it, was that people were being prematurely retired. This is what he was trying to show. Of course if he has a definite case where after one year somebody was retired, then he could tell the House, but I understood him to mean that people were being retired prematurely.

Mr. Ogallo: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I appeal to my hon. colleague that he please, lets me go on and waits for his time.

The other point I want to raise is about the running of Government. Most of the Ministers come here and cry that there are some civil servants who have stiff necks or heads and do not listen to their orders. These people are put there to discipline the civil servants. If they cannot discipline them, what is the use of coming here and crying to us? We are just Members. Who do they want to go and discipline these people? We were all elected, but some were appointed Ministers, others Assistant Ministers and we were left just as Members of Parliament. These Ministers must discipline their civil servants. They are under you and, if you cannot discipline them, resign and let us take over the offices. We should discipline them so that the public would realize that we are directing Kenya to a better future. If you are not able to discipline them, leave the offices tomorrow and let us take over. Mr. Speaker, I can see them shaking their heads and I think they are also going to realize the truth.

The other point I want to raise is about our detainees. We have our friend, Jaramogi Oginga Odinga, who is a father of this House, is still rotting in detention. Odinga, who fought for the release of our beloved leader—Everybody in this country denied him, but Odinga stood up in this House and said that the right leader in the heart of the heart of Africans was Jomo Kenyatta. However, where is Odinga now? I know that one might make a mistake some time but what about the good things which Odinga did for this country? Can the good things not cover the few bad ones which he has done?

Mr. Speaker, I am appealing to those people who worked with Odinga, like the hon. Ngei, hon. Moi, hon. Ngala here, and the hon. Muliro— Mr. Speaker, I knew these people through Odinga. Why cannot they remember Odinga now? I know that one time, even I, myself, will be in trouble. However, the people outside and my colleagues here will be the right people to remember me. Mr. Speaker, I am appealing again to those who were detained during the colonial time— We had a very harsh Government at that time but Odinga could stand up and say, "Fred Kubai must be released." What about now? What do you think about the release of Odinga? Why can you not also request the person in authority to release him? The country wants Odinga to come and be at home. Odinga is going to die outside his home as he is now an old man.

[Mr. Ogallo]

I am just appealing, Mr. Speaker, to the hon. Members to do something. There is a time when one must make a mistake but he can still be corrected. That is the point I wanted to raise and put before the Members.

The other thing is about school fees. At the moment you find that only one child can afford to pay Sh. 72 to go to school while, in the same area, you find about 20 children who cannot pay school fees. Why can we not lower the amount to Sh. 10 and instead of getting only Sh. 72 from one child we will get Sh. 100 from 10 children? I, therefore, appeal to the Ministry of Education to consider this and see whether we can reduce the school fees. The enrolment in some of our schools is very low, not because we have no children but because the fees they are supposed to pay are very high and they cannot afford them.

The other thing is about rural development which the President mentioned and we support him on that.

Thank you very much.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Before I call upon the next speaker, may I remind the House that we have a rule that we should not be repetitive. There is a tendency for Members speaking to keep on hammering on one point which has been hammered on so much now. For instance, this question of school fees. It has been touched hundreds of times and I am sure if there was any intention of taking action that is sufficient. So, please try to avoid points which have been raised by other Members. If you finish your points, let another Member bring up new points.

Mrs. Onyango: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, for allowing me to air my views.

Before I speak, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the President of the Republic of Kenya for the Speech he delivered to this House on the opening day. It was well delivered.

In his Speech, the President mentioned something about land. However, there is, now, something which is worrying everybody in the country—the expensive land rents, site value and the insurance of the land. I think I would be in order to ask the Minister for Lands to find a way of dealing with these land rents, land value and so on which are becoming excessive and a big burden to whoever buys land for either erecting buildings to live in or to trade in.

Mr. Speaker, I want to mention something about education, though you have said that it is not good to repeat it. I want to suggest that the Government should take over all nursery schools so that the basic standard of education is well established. This is because you cannot run a country well without having highly educated people. However, if we are going to leave the nursery schools to the private persons, then, it means that the children are going to be taught either Hindu language or English language and then when they come back to learn what is helpful to the country, they will still be thinking in terms of India, England, or other places. I think this will not really benefit our country. Therefore, I suggest that Government takes over the nursery schools throughout the country for the benefit of all the people living in this country.

Mr. Speaker, time and again, I have heard many people saying that Kisumu is a place for rumours and that industries for rumours are built in Kisumu. I am, therefore, appealing to whoever might be responsible for industries to build proper industries if they do not want these rumours to be manufactured in Kisumu. We want industries which can help the young people to get employment. We have not got enough industries and if we take, for instance, the 1970/74 Development Plan, there is nothing about the industries put down for Kisumu.

An hon. Member: Question!

Mrs. Onyango: Question on what?

This is why I say that we should have industries which are necessary for wananchi in that area known as Kisumu.

However, Mr. Speaker, people of Kisumu apply for loans. Time and again we have been asked to tell our people to come forward for loans. We go to the people, help them to fill in forms, and we take them even to advocates or places where these forms are delivered. Now, even to people with title-deeds, getting these loans is a problem. Despite the fact that many people have filled in these same forms, no loans have been secured. So, I am appealing to the Minister concerned to see that the people of Kisumu, if not Nyanza as a whole, are helped to get loans for trading and developing their land.

[Mrs. Onyango]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I think we have too many — I do not know whether to call them Special Branch or Criminal Investigation Department officers. I think they are Special Branch officers— security officers in this country. They are too many for Kenya to afford. You will find many — The men they have in the Kenya Special Branch are so many that the reports are now contradictory. You will find that they go out here and there and try to put words into the mouths of innocent people. If you go somewhere, they will follow you. There is no freedom now, even of sitting! If they see you sitting down somewhere, they flock there and whatever they have in mind is what they will report you as having said.

Therefore, I am appealing to the Minister dealing with this branch that the number of Special Branch officers should be reduced to cope up with the work.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am again appealing to the Government that there are times when you find some people who have been rejected by the wananchi during the elections and these are the people to whom the Government is paying attention; listening to whatever they say so that even if any publication is caught it is taken in. This is why you will find that the country is wondering what sort of Government this is. This is because you may find that somebody who was rejected by the wananchi is now being listened to by the Government. I do not know whether this is happening in other parts of Kenya but, in Nyanza, the Luoland, you find some people who are only there to give reports—false reports. Therefore, I would appeal to Government to follow up their men who are employed for this job and try to find out exactly what is taking place in those places.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the next point I would like to talk about is unemployment. There was a report on unemployment which was presented to Parliament and its recommendations adopted by the House. I would request the Minister for Labour to try and put some of the recommendations into practice so that some of the people who are walking on the streets jobless could have some employment.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my last comment is about detention. It is said in some places that when you have someone either in the cell or detention, you have to pay for it, or give some food which that particular person is going to eat when he is there. However, in some respects the detainees are very expensive to the country because the food they are taking, the places they are occupying and other things are being paid for by the Government. Therefore, I am appealing to the Government that these people should be taken before a judge so that they are told what wrong they have done.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, before I finish, I would like to point out that time and again it has been mentioned here— I am sorry to say that it has been mentioned here in the House, and also somewhere outside this House, that the detained person, called Mr. Oginga Odinga, will not be released because there is somebody who is ready to stand down for him. When you go into details you will find that I have been connected with this, that I am the only person who is prepared to stand down for Mr. Oginga Odinga. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there are some rules which were set by Kanu, which is the ruling party, one of them being that whosoever is not a member of the party will have to join it and remain a member for six months before participating in an election as Kanu member. Therefore, I hope that even if Mr. Oginga Odinga was released tomorrow, he would have to stay out for six months before anybody sees him here in the House. If it is only a question of whosoever is going to stand down for him, I am not going to stand down for him. And if it was because I was going to stand down for him that he is still in detention, then release him tomorrow and I will not stand down for him.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is no good leaving Mr. Odinga in detention for such a long time. Many people with whom he was detained have been released and they are proving to the Government and the people around their areas that they are good citizens. Therefore, those who are still in detention should be released so that they can join their families and help us to build the country.

Finally, you will find, as I mentioned earlier, that some people, the Special Branch are talking to other people concerning the detainees. However, if we release these detainees, then we will find out what else they will have as their object.

[Mrs. Onyango]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, with these few remarks, I beg to support the Presidential Address.

Mr. Kivuitu: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for giving me this opportunity to speak. I must say that His Excellency the President's Speech was very good and it contained a lot of material on which each of us could speak for a longer period than 10 minutes. However, since it is the will of the House that we debate for only 10 minutes per Member, I will restrict myself to that.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my first point is about a problem which is facing the country right now, and this is the shortage of maize. I believe nobody has touched on this and I am very surprised because I think this is one of the most important crops in this country. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, you will find that in Nairobi, now there is such a great shortage of maize meal that a lot of families are going without food and if they are to have any food, then they will have to take some wheat-bread. It is not clear as to why this should happen. No explanation has been given and I noticed in the Press today that the millers are saying they do not know anything about it.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think this is a field in which our Government should take a very keen interest. This is because if there is anybody who consumes the maize meal here, it is the African. It is the African who plants the maize and it is the African who eats maize. It is therefore such an important crop that Government should consider seriously taking it over—not only having a board. It should actually take over the milling of maize so that it could be equitably distributed and, in fact, adequately stored for the population of this country.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there are a lot of things going on about this particular crop. Recently, Government lowered the price of maize in Nairobi and other areas. I understand the price is higher in Mombasa than it is here. I also understand that these wholesale traders and millers are taking this maize to Mombasa because it is cheaper to transport it to Mombasa and sell it at a higher price and so make a profit. That is why in Nairobi there is no maize. This is something which is happening now and Government should investigate. They should not just shout; they should investigate these things.

There are a lot of other things which are being said about maize and it is time our Government looked into this matter once again with a view to finding out what the truth is. This is because if the whole country were to be annoyed about maize, I think this Parliament would not sit here. We would be thrown out. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that was my first point. The other point I want to mention is about these Asians.

For a long time the Asian population, who are non-citizens and who are British, have been denied their right to go back to their own country. This is the first time I have heard, in history, as far as my history goes, Sir—I am not claiming to be very learned on it—of citizens of a country having been denied the right to go back to their own country, and yet Britain claims to be one of the most civilized countries. How can it reject its own citizens and call them “British passport holders”. They are British citizens and should be received in Britain. Why should they be sitting in our streets here, lining up and taking the time of our police. Instead of the police going to look for criminals and other things, or attending to their normal duties, they keep watching these Asians and seeing whether they are going to break the law or not. This is not our responsibility. It is a matter which the British Government should take up. I think our Government should be firmer at present even if we have borrowed up to the neck from the British Government. We should tell them their responsibility.

An hon. Member: Hear! Hear!

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the other thing which I wanted to mention is that a lot of industries have been taken over by the Government, or at least the Government has indicated its intention to help many Africans to participate in various fields. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have never heard what Government is doing about our African musicians, except, of course, these dancers who dance before politicians, which makes the latter feel that they are loved by the people. We have not heard much about the musicians who play the guitars, drums, etc. What is Government doing to help them so that we have a viable musical industry? At present the musicians have to strike or do something to that effect so that their rights are recognized. This is same with the African writers. The African writers have to go and beg the publishers before their books are published. How are we going to build a country which will be literate when we are at the mercy of the rich and foreign companies? For how long are we going to wait for the African publishers to be helped by foreigners? It is time our Government took action to help the African writers.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is high time our Government took action to help our African writers. We have a good number of them now. They take their manuscripts to the publishers and they are not published. They are only kept there. They are told, "You take Sh. 2,000 in advance and come tomorrow. We will publish your book later on." He takes the Sh. 2,000 and finds that according to the contract he made, once he takes the advance payment, he cannot get anything else thereafter; nor can he publish the book. He must wait until it is published and it is never published. What is the African writer going to do? How are we going to get African writers? Must our books also be approved by these foreign publishers? Can the Government do something about it?

An hon. Member: It is a sleepy Government.

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is also the question of education. I think on this question of education I have said many times that I find it very ridiculous because we claim to be creating a socialist society or so; we bluff the public. However, at the same time when we are trying to do that, we find schools demanding different school fees. You will also find that schools give different kinds of education; you will find schools with swimming pools, with better facilities like laboratories and better facilities in all fields. You will find schools with better book supplies and many other amenities which are necessary for proper education. You will find that other schools, for example, the Harambee schools, are being taught by people who have just left school and who are waiting for their results. These teachers teach people in Forms III and IV. What sort of education are you giving to these pupils? Why should it be different from what others get? Why does the Ministry not try to send teachers of the same qualifications and materials of the same kind to all schools so that pupils get an education which is uniform? What are we trying to do? The reason is that the rich, the Ministers, the Members of Parliament and the big civil servants are able to take their children to these schools, the better schools and, therefore, they do not mind about the other people—but one day they will mind! They will be there with me, of course.

An hon. Member: When will that be?

Mr. Mutiso: When time comes.

Mr. Kivuitu: The other point about education, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is on technical education. This is the field where the Ministry of Education is in a mess. Some pupils take their education up to Form IV and then take an examination called "G. 2". After that examination they are absorbed into industries to become apprentices and in those apprenticeship courses they are taken together with even Form II students. How can you really have an education where you have two people who have different standards classed together, study together and accomplish some kind of education in such a position? It is quite clear that the result will be that you will get a man who is only half fit coming out and being employed in the industries. How can you surrender, to the mercy of the industrialists, the responsibility for training your own manpower? You tell them, "Here is the man, train him so that he may take over your work." Do you expect any foreign industry to do that? The whole thing is really in a mess and the whole country has only one technical school which has Form V; and that is Nakuru. Let anybody challenge me on that. There is no other one—and yet we say that we want technically educated people! However, when graduates come from the Eastern countries, which are the so-called socialist countries, they cannot even be taken into employment even if they have this technical education. They are told that they have communistic ideas—as if technical work has any communism in it. Can the Government not employ them and, if after employment you find that their standards are low, can the Government not take them to the proper places for further training? Can the Government not do something about this or must it wait until the British tell them what to do?

Mr. Mutiso: This is very serious!

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, on the question of economy, I think we are going in the wrong direction when we raise our standards beyond our means. We keep on talking about standards and we are told that hawkers should not be seen around. Therefore, I do not know what those who are hawking are expected to be doing. Of course, if you do not want them to hawk, then they will rob you. That is the next thing they will do.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is also the question of the shanties. You will hear that people should not live in the shanties because they are dirty and because they are like this and that. Can the Government not provide the health facilities and let them live there without giving you any bother? However, we are told that if the tourists see those shanties they will run away. Let them run away. We must first of all care for these people and not to talk about industries at the expense of our own people. I think we are really basing our standards on things which do not exist here and that is an utopian sort of attitude.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, because I notice that the time is flying fast, I would only comment that the state of the security of our country seems also to be causing a lot of alarm because of these speculations, and therefore it is time our Government took a very positive step to make sure that this is never done; not simply by employing more Special Branch people but, really, by providing information to the people. We do not want to hear rumours of people being trained in the forests.

With those few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Boy: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, to have given me this time.

First of all, I would like to associate myself with my other friends who have spoken on the Presidential Address Speech. However, I have some observations also to make on this very important issue which is the Presidential Address. I think, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we must be quite open to the Government. We should mention everything here, although the Speaker has also mentioned here that the things which have already been spoken on should not be repeated once more. I think, Mr. Deputy Speaker, repetition of the same things shows how the Members of this House feel about a particular issue. That is why, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, some things have to be repeated every now and then.

I would like to emphasize, again, the issue of the civil servants. The civil servants, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, do think in this Government, or in this country, they are the most important people; they think they are running this country and that the politicians and other people are useless people. They have also the feeling that they are the only people who are capable of running this country. However, again, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to make it quite clear that these so-called "civil servants" are trying to plunge or put the country into disaster. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have seen several governments which have collapsed because of mistakes or certain ambitions of some civil servants who have more or less nothing in their hearts for the country other than their own interests. We have seen recently; in Pakistan, where the civil servants have their own personal interests, there have been several disputes. As a result of this the Government had to surrender, giving the whole power to the army. We have seen these things happen in Pakistan. I am surprised, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, because I understand that there are a number of Special Branch people in the country. I think these people, or these personnel, do not, in fact, advise the Government on what the public opinion is in the country as far as the civil servants are concerned.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I must say this quite openly because it has been said in this House several times and it has been repeated now and then, and even two days ago one of the Assistant Ministers made it quite clear that some civil servants in the country, particularly the senior ones, have no interest in the country other than their own businesses. They do not work in their offices at all. They are all the time out doing their own personal work and all sorts of businesses. This is the time when the Government should come forward and set up a commission of inquiry to investigate how these civil servants get so rich within such a short time and whether they are doing their job properly or not.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I was very surprised to see that some civil servants in the regions think that they are the kings of the provinces and they think that they are the people who control everything. Therefore, sometimes they even take the opportunity of making statements on behalf of the Government; duties which should be performed by the Ministers are performed by the top civil servants! Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, after saying so, I would like to give an example. When they go to perform a certain public function or on a public ceremony, they are accompanied by various security officers. They are covered by the television, they are covered by the Press and all the rest. However, a Minister or a politician is not covered when he is attending such functions at all. In most cases he is not attended by security and the Press does not cover him. I have experienced such cases. Recently, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there was a tremendous riot in Mombasa where two Ministers were attending a certain function. One Minister was beaten. There was no security at all. The police only came after 15 to 20 minutes. In the long run, the Minister was asked to go and identify the person who beat him. This, Sir, is ridiculous. There was no security at all! Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if the Minister could not have identified the man who beat him, what would have been the position? The position would have been that they would have said, "We are sorry, we do not know the person who beat you." This would have been so because there was no security at all. The time has come when we must know whether the civil servants are undermining the politicians or other people in this country. We have to be told. The Ministers should know that some civil servants undermine even Ministers! The Ministers, themselves do not take care of this situation. If a civil servant can be given more security than a Minister, then it appears that the civil servant is more important than the Minister himself!

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to touch on one thing here. There is a law in this country which says that when Id-ul-Fitr falls, say, on a

[Mr. Boy]

Sunday, then the following Monday becomes a holiday for Muslims. However, during the last Id-ul-Fitr, the Government instructed Muslims to come and work on Monday while employers in the private sector gave the Muslims a holiday. I think the Government is doing wrong here. The Government should not discriminate against some religions. It should put this wrong right. We have seen religions causing a lot of confusion in other countries. We have seen the confusion in Ireland and even in India. I, being a Muslim, would like when there is a public holiday to invite my colleagues who are Muslims to come and enjoy it with me. In the same way, they would like to invite me when there is such a holiday. However, Sir, it appears that when there is Id-ul-Haj, it is only Muslims who are permitted to go and enjoy themselves. This brings conflict among the workers, the nation as a whole, and even between friends. It appears, Sir, that because of political stability in our country, there are Muslims who marry Christians and vice versa. On such an occasion, everybody would like to invite his friend or his darling to enjoy himself. However, because of the law my own wife or a friend cannot come and enjoy that day with him simply because he is a Christian. At the same time, Sir, when Christmas comes, I as a Muslim, am given time off to go and enjoy myself. Is that not discrimination, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir? You will be surprised, Sir, that in a small country like Uganda which has a small percentage of Muslims, a Muslim holiday is a public holiday for all. Whether it be a Christmas Holiday or a holiday for Muslims, it is a public holiday for all. However, Sir, here in Kenya it is not the same. Even in Tanzania, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, a holiday for either religion is a public holiday for all people. I was expecting the President, in his Speech, to say something about this issue. If things go on like that, Sir, it shows that we are discriminating against some of our people. It is a long time now since the foreigners came here. These foreigners, namely, the Europeans and the Arabs, who introduced these religions could not allow Muslims to talk to Christians because they thought among themselves as Christians and Muslims. That is not the case now because we have our own Government. Why is our own Government discriminating against us. This, I think, is wrong. I would like to appeal to the hon. Members of this House that we should not discriminate against ourselves. I would like, when Christmas Holiday comes, to go and enjoy it with hon. Karungaru, and also when a Muslims holiday comes, I would like to invite Mr. Karungaru to come to the Coast and we enjoy ourselves there.

The other thing I would like to touch on is the visiting of Ministers. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think that some Ministers here visit some constituencies without informing some hon. Members from those constituencies. This is very wrong. I would like to say, Sir, that the Minister for Works recently visited our area and he, himself, says that he sent a circular to us about the visit. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, neither I, hon. Mwamzandi, hon. Matano, nor anyone else received the circular. However, if he sent the circular and if the circular—

Mr. Somo: On a point of order—

Mr. Boy: You are wasting my time and yet I have little—

Mr. Somo: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is it in order for the hon. Member to allege that the Minister for Works visited his constituency in Kwale District without informing him and yet, Sir, I received a circular which covered the whole district? It was circulated in his own district!

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): It is over, anyway.

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, thank you for the time you have given me to make some observations on His Excellency's Speech. I think, Sir, the statement that was given by His Excellency was a very good statement. It was a statement which really projected what the Government had done and what the Government is thinking. It also reflected what Government is planning.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we must first give credit to Government for the political stability that the Government is giving to this country. Many countries in the world today are in difficulties; when you listen to the radio in the morning or evening, you hear there is turmoil almost everywhere, but there is silence, calmness and wisdom prevailing in Kenya. I think the country should be very grateful for the leadership of His Excellency the President, Mzee Jomo Kenyatta for the general stability in the country. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, some Members think that it is a joke to say something about stability. However, we saw about two years ago the number of people who ran to hide themselves in Somalia and Dar es Salaam when there was a very slight trouble here. Some of these people are in the House today. Therefore, when the Government is capable of keeping peace and stability and making everybody enjoy whatever prosperity he has to any extent, then we should be very thankful to the leadership that provides that stability and to the leadership that provides

[The Minister for Power and Communications] that safety and security. This is why I feel it is very important. Perhaps you cannot appreciate when you have your father until your father dies, and when you look back you realize that your father was important. You realize after he has died but when he is alive you do not appreciate that he is important. This question of stability is due to the wise leadership of Mzee Jomo Kenyatta and the very capable leadership by the Government and the ruling party, Kanu, as a whole. Therefore, we must give credit where it is due.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my second point is the question of money; how the Government is spending money. Now, the money which is voted by this House is spent by the Government according to the decisions of this House. This House allocates money for education. This House allocates money for the Ministry of Power and Communications, this House allocates money for the Ministry of Works, and it also gives money to all departments and Ministries of Government. We spend it according to what is decided by this House. Therefore, it is very funny for an hon. Member to get up and say that Government should have given free education. Why did you not plan for it in the House when we were deciding the Budget here? Mr. Deputy Speaker, if these Members would like to give us free education this year I challenge them. June is coming when we shall have the next Budget. They should give the people free education according to the decisions in the Budget. If it is made available by Members then the Ministers will also make it available because it has been made available by this House. It is quite useless to get up and blame the Ministers for nothing when the House, itself, is not giving the free education in the Budget.

An hon. Member: Are you serious?

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am very serious.

Mr. Mwamzandi: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is the Minister not misleading the country by saying that the Back-benchers are responsible for putting free education into the Estimates of Expenditure—the money to be spent during the year whereas we know that it is the Minister for Finance who, when he hears of what we are talking about in this House, should plan for that?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): He did not say that. He said the “House”, which includes the Ministers too.

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have been in this House long enough to understand what I am talking about. It is the House which gives the whole country the Budget, what items and how much should be spent and so on. If the House, therefore, wants free education, it must make available the millions of shillings that go with free education. It is quite unfair for the Members of this House not to give education—

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am sure you will agree with me that the hon. Minister is really misrepresenting the position of the House to the country when he says that it is this House that has to plan for free education, when it is, in fact, for Government to plan and bring the plan here for the House to approve or to disapprove. Have they brought any of these? Why is he misrepresenting the House?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Now you have said the right thing. The hon. Mwamzandi had said quite a different thing. Obviously the House cannot provide the millions unless these are brought in a Budget by the Minister for Finance. This requires planning by the various Ministries, especially, of course, the Ministry of Education.

Mr. Migure: Can you apologize?

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is nothing for me to apologize about because this House apportions the money and it is free to give us ideas from where the extra money should be obtained. This House can legislate and make regulations. Therefore, if the Members want to be responsible they should say that the responsibility lies on all of us here, but not to put it over the Ministers, that the Ministers are not doing this or that. The Ministers have not spent the money of the Budget on wrong things but they have spent it as allocated by this House. Therefore, you cannot blame them.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, of course, I sympathize with the rise of the fees. But if we want to do something else, then Members should suggest what they want to do. If the Member for Kitui East thinks there is something better that we should do, he should tell us instead of just criticizing without any constructive ideas. Mr. Deputy Speaker—

Mr. Migure: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is the Minister in order to mislead the nation through this House that the Members of Parliament have not suggested the ways they can work out the educational programme at the time when we have given several suggestions in this House that we want Government to bring a programme to us and then we may tell them what to do? Is he in order to mislead the House?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): No, I do not think it is quite true. Mr. Ngala has not attempted to mislead the House. What I think the Back-benchers should demand from the Minister is that a programme should be produced for the next Budget giving free education. Unless this is done I cannot accuse the Minister of having misled the House. He has not seemed yet to do so.

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, what I am saying is that we have not failed as the Members say. We are given the money and all the money that is given we spend it according to what has been decided by this House. Therefore, there is no question of failing, Mr. Deputy Speaker. What you give us we give back to the people. We should not be blamed if we have not given more. If the country's economic level has risen, of course, we would act accordingly. We want to know from the Members where there is money. Have you seen the money? Have you got it? It is quite useless to say— Even in the Kanu Manifesto it was a target. The Manifesto never mentioned that 1971 would be a year of free education, but it was just a target that we have to work towards. Read your Manifesto. There was no year that was mentioned for free education but this Government is working and moving towards that target. We cannot say when this will be done until the economic standard has improved.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for any people who are saying that it is Kanu idea that 1971 will realize free education are misleading the country. The target is something towards which you work. We are working towards that very seriously as a Government, and you should understand it.

Mr. Komen: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for giving me this time to air my views. First of all I am congratulating the President for his excellent Speech which he made here on 23rd February 1971.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I think there is too much noise here.

In congratulating His Excellency for his opening Speech I have some observations to make here, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

First, it is about the ladies who have been employed in the police force. Mr. Deputy Speaker, the behaviour of these ladies is beyond that of human beings. When you approach one of them, say, those who are stationed in the traffic section, when you are driving they stop you. We always appreciate being stopped, but the badness here is the way they stop traffic. If somebody calls a lady police officer mama she says, "Mimi hapana mama yako!" When you call her msichana she says, I am not your msichana! Then you find that everything in that bloody Ministry—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I think there you are wrong.

Mr. Komen: So, Mr. Deputy Speaker—

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, would you ask the hon. Member to withdraw this unparliamentary language?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I do not want him to speak them again because I do not want them in HANSARD. Once said, once forgotten.

Mr. Komen: What I should suggest to this Ministry, as far as the Ministry of Home Affairs is concerned is that they should get rid of all these ladies in the traffic branch and send them into offices to serve the big men who have nyota so that they can be typing and receiving people and everything. But to be on the traffic branch and abuse a gentleman like me, a moran—I cannot be abused by a woman.

The Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. Muliro): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is it in order for an hon. Member to bring into disrepute officers of Government when they are doing their duties, that they should not do so? That is what he is trying to imply.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): It is a very dishonourable thing for the hon. Member to attempt to classify officers of Government according to sex. It is quite irrelevant. The officer who happens to be in uniform at that time is an officer of this Government of which you are a part of.

Mr. Komen: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker. What I was suggesting to the Ministry is actually that it is not good to keep ladies in the sun with their beautiful hair. That is not good because you will find that they want to show a man that they are better than men nowadays because you actually find that—

Mrs. Onyango: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is the hon. Member in order to say that the ladies are now showing men that they are able to do the work better or is it because he calls them mama, as if they were not mama of himself?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): The ladies are a new element in the police force. If they are trying to show that they can do as good a job or better, there is nothing wrong with that at all. They are just trying to do their best.

Mr. Komen: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for rescuing me because the hon. lady— What I was suggesting actually is that we should keep—

An hon. Member: Do not mind about that!

Mr. Komen: Let me then go to another thing.

The second point, Sir, is that we have a problem here with the recruitment of officers into the army and the navy; it happened recently that it was announced over the radio, that recruitment for Nakuru would be done in Naivasha. This is something new that we have not had in the past because we have the provincial headquarters in Nakuru. I wonder why it occurred that the recruitment was to be done in Naivasha and not in Nakuru, where it has usually been done for some time. Therefore, I think the—

An hon. Member: It is because Ndorobos are in Nakuru!

Mr. Komen: Yes, I think that is the reason. They think that the Ndorobos cannot walk up to Naivasha, but they can reach there.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think the Ministry of Defence should correct this and have Nakuru as the place where interviews should be held, because we have people from places like Mau Narok, we have places like Mau Summit they cannot travel 40 miles to Nakuru and then another 40 miles to Naivasha. At least people from Naivasha should go to Nakuru, so that those from Mau Narok, Mau Summit, Bahati and, Solai can also come to Nakuru for the interviews. I hope that this will be corrected.

Supporting the hon. lady, when she talked about the Special Branch, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I had this problem during the prorogation of the House. I had a meeting, and what happened is that a Special Branch officer misreported me, and when I came to the district commissioner's office for permission to hold my next meeting, I was told I could not hold the meeting; because of what— It was because of what Mrs. Grace Onyango said, that these officers are too many in the country, that now because they have nothing to report, and they want to be there, so that they can be earning, they have decided to mis-report Members of Parliament. Some of them are following us up to Parliament. I do not know how they pass through these gates, I can see sometimes, that nearly half of those people sitting here in the galleries, are from the Special Branch. I do not know whether— Should we be followed up to this House, where we get answers and everything? This is what we actually want to know from the Clerk of this Assembly, to tell us whether—

An hon. Member: The Clerk?

Mr. Komen: It is because we do not actually introduce them; I do not know how they come here, they come to the Speaker's Gallery and they have everything.

The third thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker— Oh, yes, Sir; sorry, Sir. The third thing is about the Ndorobos. Mr. Deputy Speaker, when the President came, I thought he had remembered the Ndorobos; that there are people existing, of that nature. I thought he was going to mention something about the Ndorobos when he came here to deliver his Speech, about the land to be given to the Ndorobos. However, there was nothing of that nature. I wonder why this was so, because most of the Ministers have been urging us to ask the Ndorobos to come out of the forest. Now, when these people want to come out— Are we going to settle them on their farms, which they have bought, or what? They want us to settle these people on their land, and if— I think we will go and settle them on 30,000 acres soon, and then you will—

The fourth thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is about the Ministers. The Ministers, nowadays, are just too much, and I know of an incident which occurred in Nakuru recently, when I was in the Central Rift County Council office. When I stopped, a car belonging to a Minister drove by. When he stopped, he had very many women in his car, because he carries women; we do not carry women—

Mr. Kanja: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. Is the hon. Member in order to try and bring in personalities in this Chamber, instead of presenting his facts, as the matter is concerned?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): The hon. Member has declared his attitude towards women; I do not know what he is going to say yet.

Mr. Komen: Let me go on; this man was campaigning with his wife. This is a fact; he was campaigning because he wanted his wife to be the head of the women. Therefore, he came with a lot of women in his car; this is what happened. Then when he saw me, I greeted him. After greeting him, he then asked me, "Please, could you call me the chairman", because I was going to the council hall— Do not waste my time!

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Kase): On a point of order, Sir. Is it really in order for the House to be treated to the language we are being treated to by the hon. Member, when we are supposed to be talking something more intelligent, from the President's Speech?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): He is trying to make a point about women.

Mr. Komen: I went in, and actually called the man, after which I went on to where I was going. Later on, he went round telling those women—some of them came from my constituency because they were prominent women, whom he was actually organizing—"Oh, that man— Do you not see I can send even hon. Members." If that is the behaviour of Ministers, we challenge you, because nowadays, you are trying to be young, putting airs—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! Your Time is up!

Mr. Koigi: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I rise to congratulate His Excellency the President for his able Speech.

An hon. Member: He is the Minister for Back-benchers!

Mr. Koigi: What I would like to say, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is this: We—in the Presidential Speech—have seen a phrase, that we are inviting investors to come into this country. When this Government, and you, hon. Members, invite investors to come here, you must know that they are bringing a danger. The danger they are bringing is this: that they shall recognize our African states and dominate our whole economy.

An hon. Member: Watch my feet.

Mr. Koigi: When they come here, they come with their people. Every investor has a team of spies behind him.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, every African country feels happy when they borrow— When they invite a foreigner to come and erect a factory there. However, in future, all this investment will mean recolonizing our country, and I fear; I want to point out and advise the Government, that whatever we do, if we invite investors, we are inviting a danger in this country, and in every other African state. We are like children; when trouble occurred in Nigeria, what did we find? We found outside interest in fighting—"I am going to supply Biafrans with arms", others said, "We are going to supply the big portion of Nigeria with arms", because they wanted the gold in that country, they wanted the minerals and so on. What they are coming here for is to create a critical situation on our economic undertaking.

Mr. Kitonga: Who told you?

Mr. Koigi: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I was in London when these things were being organized in East Africa House and I know the stooges of those African countries, what they do. They are combined with these big interests in the world and they crush the countries from where they come. They are called investors here. That is another language. I call them "interests". The people who come here do so to suppress our undertakings. Tomorrow, let the Minister for Economic Planning suggest a manufacturing undertaking in this country and you will see these people advising the Government where they want to put their money. As much as we call them in, they come here to undermine us. That, I know.

My second point is this. I would like to talk about the civil servants in this country. The other day—I want hon. Members to listen to this—we received Sh. 5,000 from the hon. Assistant Minister for Lands, Mr. G. G. Kariuki. When I called people to attend a ceremony, the District Commissioner, Mr. Chomba, called an ex-Member of Parliament from my constituency and a doctor to come and cause a showdown. They said I should not receive charity, I should not receive it as a representative of my people. The district commissioner, the doctor and ex-Member of Parliament wanted to show that I am a small Member of Parliament. That is how they can treat a Member of Parliament. Yet the Minister says we should go before these civil servants on bended knees. As our hon. lady said here, the Government is prepared to listen to those who failed in politics and were not able to come to this House more than it is prepared to listen to the representatives of the people who were elected democratically.

The provincial commissioner, the district commissioner, the district officers have not changed. What is being built in this country is a kingdom, a kingdom of civil servants which is to exclude the so-called Members of Parliament.

The Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. Muliro): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is the hon. Member in order to refer to the hon. Members of this House as "so-called Members of Parliament"? Or did he mean to put it in inverted commas?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): He was representing the attitude of the civil servants.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear! Hear! Hear!

Mr. Koigi: Sir, the Civil Servants' Salary Commission has been delayed too much. The Government should bring it forward and allow these people to earn whatever they can earn. Probably they will then cool down.

[Mr. Koigi]

I would now ask the Government and this House to release Mr. Silas Wanjohi Jamaita and all the detainees.

An hon. Member: Where is he?

Mr. Koigi: I do not know where he is detained and why he has been detained.

However, I am pleading with the Government to release this Kikuyu.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, when some Members speak in this House they think that when other hon. Members speak in this House— No Kikuyus are detained.

Hon. Members: Address the Chair. Address the Chair.

Mr. Koigi: When some hon. Members speak in this House they think they are angels, they formulate whatever happens in this country. No. We are not responsible for this. There is an individual or some individuals who are responsible.

An hon. Member: Who are these individuals?

Mr. Koigi: I do not know.

I would like to say something about manufacturers. I feel it is high time that our people started an assembly plant here, especially for cars and other motor vehicles. We should also start, not with heavy industries but rather with small industries. We must enter into the field of industry.

We asked the Minister for Economic Planning—I do not know what they are planning—to start these things. I always question their planning.

Sir, I want now to say something about unity. Unity without comprehensive Kanu organization is impossible in this country. We can have groupings. I do not think groupings are immoral. They are there in Britain. The Scottish people have their groupings, the Welsh, the Irish and English have their groupings so that they can run their country. If groupings do not fight one another, and if they are social, they are all right. That is my view.

I would ask the Government to give loans to our small farmers. We always repeat this. I dare say that when the civil servants return money to the Treasury they should know that there are people suffering, who want loans from the Government and we should give them these loans.

On the subject of schools I have this to say. In this country, especially in Nyeri, the civil servants, the Members of Parliament, the Ministers want to build a school and that school will be a discriminatory school where they will send their children. I advise the Minister for Education not to allow these dirty things to take place.

What we are trying to do, and what many Members are saying in this House is that we want free education in Kenya. Who is going to provide free education? We shall provide free education and the Cabinet ought to initiate a Bill to start free education. They should not say they do not have money. We know how much is spent in London, at the Hilton Hotel. We know this. It is spent by you people, by we people. Instead of spending money in the London Hilton Hotel we should build more schools in this country.

Thank you, Sir.

Mr. Mulli: I would like to start by congratulating the President for the exposition of Government policy and I would also like to congratulate the Speaker of this Parliament. We have had one of the most welcome speeches ever made by a Speaker for this Parliament for 1971, by an African Speaker. In his speech he outlined the basic democratic rights and principles that have to be observed by Members of this House and I felt that it was one of the best speeches so far heard from a Speaker of an African House.

I would like now to start with one point here which was mentioned by the President in his Speech: the amalgamation of the national parks and game departments. That, I think, is one of the things we have been waiting to hear from the Ministry of Natural Resources and the Ministry of Tourism. Our people have lost a lot. They have lost compensation because these two departments have always not been able to agree on Government policies. Every time our people ask for compensation for crops or damage by animals we are referred to the game department. The game department refers us to the national parks. The national parks refer us back again to the game department. There has been no co-ordination in the policy on this matter. I think through this amalgamation we might be able to get some compensation for the crops and other damage made by animals.

We have also seen these national parks spending huge amounts of money on tourism. I repeat saying that tourism must not be conducted at the expense of the African or the ordinary person. We have seen roads being constructed, properly graded and staff being employed to look after the tourists' line. We have seen tourist centres down at the Coast and other places. Our people are going without water, our people are going without light, our people are going in the country without good roads. They grow crops and they cannot send these very crops to the markets because there are no roads. All the money we have in this country is being devoted to the tourist industry only. I feel, Sir, this is cheating the public because our people are seeing these things happening.

If I may go further, the land policy in this country causes a crisis. We must not forget this. There is a crisis. I feel there is a crisis on land policy in this country. The land tenure in this country is wrong. There is still so much land in this country held by non-citizens, by the letters they obtained 20, 30, 50 or 70 years ago. This policy of allowing these people to own the land which they do not even make use of, is wrong. I know of one foreigner down at Athi River, Kilima Kiu, Ulu, Konza, he is a man owning well over 35,000 acres, and much more than that. He has had all the cattle transferred to Kilifi area. He is Mr. F. O. B. Wilson. He has all that land here while the Kamba are dying on that bare rocky land over the hills. They cannot be allowed to live on the land down below. You see the place from Athi River to Mtito Andei, 200 miles, that land is left idle, it is not inhabited, it is not being used while 500,000, half million people on rocky hills are doing nothing and they are told to go back to the land. What do they do on the land which is barren, the land on the hills? What do they get from such land? How do they live? How do they grow their crops? How do they rear their children? How do they educate them on this rocky land, these rocky hills? They will die there. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I suggest that this Chapter 75 of the Constitution should be changed altogether. There must be changes introduced by the Minister for Lands. We have said over and over again that the land tenure policy of this country is wrong. It is based on those who had it since years ago. We do not have to wait until our people come with pangas and rungus and occupy any land they see in this country. They will do so some day. Sir, we have to be realistic.

Let me come to No. 3 or 4. Radio programmes in this country—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I would like to make a small correction. It is not "chapter", it is "section", section 75 of the Constitution.

Mr. Mulli: Thank you, Sir.

On the subject of radio programmes, I see the Minister for Information and Broadcasting and he is responsible for all information, on the radio and what-have-you. Is it not a shame that our people have to tune to Tanzania and South Africa for news every time they want to listen to good material from their own land? Why must we allow our people to wait until Tanzania tunes up, why should we wait for South Africa or other areas so that we can listen to something from our own African broadcasters? In Kenya you hear people talking of having been to Nigeria and yet he tells you nothing. Why can we not explain that other people, in other countries, in Tanzania—I am not saying that Tanzania has all the good programmes. However, at least after the news you hear about every region, every corner of the country, what has been done during the week, during the day, what people are doing, about irrigation, what is drought and all such things. Why can we not tell our people what the Ministers are doing, what everybody is doing in this country? Why must we talk nonsense on the radio? This must be changed.

Papers or news in this country, or any other media must not be left in the hands of foreigners. Why can this Government, not at least own one single paper to inform the public of this country what is going on here? For example, Sir, the other day we were dealing with this question of amalgamation of our salaries, consolidation really. The Press did not write anything the following day. Maybe they did not understand it. But, then, you found that later, after this thing has been consolidated, some people started to mislead our people completely. They said we had increased our salaries when it is only a consolidation of our allowances. The public have been misled kabisa. We have been told we are earning a lot of money here. Where is the money? It is just consolidation of our allowances which we are now getting monthly. Our monthly allowances, our monthly salaries are being called big salaries, say, Sh. 5,000 or Sh. 4,000. Where is the money, Mr. Deputy Speaker? These statements are misleading. Why can we not have our own services, our own newspaper where our people can understand exactly what is taking place?

When you come to No. 5 Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir—I am hurrying up—I was sitting in this Chamber last week, or this week probably, and I heard the Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs replying to a question carelessly, hopelessly and not even bothering to listen to the wishes of the public or show that he was interested in the people. There was a question from hon. Mutua from that end and it was about health centres. Sir, the point was, "Is it not the duty of the Government to push the people ahead once they have shown the initiative and have started something? Is it not the duty of the Government to push these people forward and show them that it can come behind them and push them forward and especially the backward areas?"

Sir, we know very well that it is difficult for small areas to shoulder a secondary school for one, two, three, four, five years before the

[Mr. Mulli]

Government takes it over. What does the Government expect these people to do? To start another project? With what? If the Government does not take over the secondary school in order to allow them to start another thing what does it expect these people to do, and yet they are told to do this and that and the rest of it? Is it not the responsibility of Government to push them forward and show them that it is behind them? What else is the Government supposed to do if people start health centres and the rest and they are then told that the Government did not know whether they had started a project or that when they started it did not tell them to start. What an answer from a Minister! "The Government did not know what time they started; whether they started; or who told them to start?" What is that; and yet we have the policy from the Government where we are told to initiate projects? Mr. Deputy Speaker, our people are not all that foolish.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, when I come to No. 7—Foreign Policy—I am disturbed by the expenditure that we are incurring. The money that we spend on sending people outside— For example, recently the Minister for Foreign Affairs, last year, spent half the year travelling to overseas countries telling the world that we are protesting at the sale of arms to South Africa by Britain. Today, they are selling the arms but we have had no definite statement here that we stand on this, that or the other, yet we had the Minister outside for half a year telling the world Kenya's stand on the sale of arms; "We do not want Britain to sell arms." What have we heard today after the sale of arms to South Africa? Why did we spend so much money last year and yet today we say, "Wait and see." Why, then, did we not wait last year?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, arms to South Africa is a business of Britain and South Africa. We know and everybody knows what our feelings are. But, then, why have we not heard anything from the Government now that the arms are being sold to South Africa? We are told since that Study Committee has not had any meeting, then, there is no question of Kenya, as a Member of the committee, paying attention to anything happening. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I feel we should have a definite policy.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

The Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. Muliro): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, thank you very much for giving me this opportunity to say a few words on His Excellency the President's Speech. Sir, I will start by congratulating the President, like many other hon. Members have done, for his most excellent and educative Speech to this House. I deplore, actually, that hon. Members have not even taken heed of what the President said. This House is an hon. House, this House is for transacting national business but not for the narrow parochialism or narrow sectionalism of some hon. Members.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I have been shocked to hear the speech from the hon. Member for Nakuru West, Mr. Komen. This hon. Member, up to this second, has not even accepted the equality of his voters. He was elected into this House, Sir, by the majority of women votes.

Mr. arap Saina: On a point of order, Sir, is it in order for the hon. Minister, who has a lot of experience in this House, to provoke an hon. Member of this House who holds a total mandate of his constituency when he made a speech and cleared some of the mistakes which are made by some Government officials?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): No, it is quite in order. The hon. Minister is trying to express an opinion on the speech made by another hon. Member. That is part of our daily debating process.

The Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. Muliro): Mr. Deputy Speaker, the hon. Members should learn more of their note books on the points of order. Sir, I was saying that this House is a respectable House. I refer particularly to the treatment given to this House today by the hon. Member for Nakuru West; it was not up to the standard of this hon. House. I have said, Sir, and I repeat; up to now, he has not got the confidence in the majority of his voters who were women because he said jobs in Kenya should be given according to sex. He said, these African women who have been educated, their parents have paid the fees, and have stayed for many years in school, that they cannot join the police force.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): He did not say that. He said that if they are employed as police officers, they should not be employed on the roads as traffic officers so that rather they should be in the offices.

The Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. Muliro): What he wants, Sir—I could understand him very well—is that they should rather be stenographers, or typists in the offices than being police officers. A police officer is a police officer and can carry out any duties assigned to him or her by senior officers.

The other point I would like to say, Sir, is that as hon. Members of this House, the responsibility of the future of this country lies completely in our hands and the less we provoke each other, the less we provoke sectional or tribal animosities the better it is for this country. Sir, some people might condemn a given tribe. If a member or a given individual is wrong definitely then not the whole tribe should be condemned. Mr. Deputy Speaker, whoever has the responsibility of governing this country, today or in future, will have to govern everybody in this country. When we were fighting constitutionally for independence in this House, we were fighting for the independence of this country in totality for everyone in the country, not one tribe, two tribes or three tribes. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I therefore think that the future of Kenya depends very much more on the cool-headedness of the Members of this House, either here or outside, because, in fact what is louder is what we speak in the bars, in the night clubs at night, rather than what we speak here. Some hon. Members might be afraid of saying something here but when they go into the corner nooks of Nairobi, Nakuru or Eldoret, they will engineer much more vicious politics than they are capable of saying here.

The other point I would like to say, Sir, is the question of what one hon. Member said; that the investors who bring into Kenya any investments are another colonizers. We are saying that we should accept one dictum that if we want development, if we want investments here we must lay down certain conditions. Without money we can never develop this country; and without generating wealth in our country we shall not get the much talked about universal education for the children because once we are poor we will remain poor. We must develop every method and every technique of attracting investment in this country so that we can develop our country and hence be able to educate our people and create opportunities of employment for the majority of our citizens. Therefore, these people who are afraid of the investors, claiming that these investors are going to ruin us, must have their minds decolonized so that they can think on the brighter side of investment rather than the darker side of investment. The hon. Member, Mr. Koigi is the one who raised this question.

The other point is about hoping on free education. There is nothing in the world which is free and as such there is nothing in the world as free education! A child might think that when it sees food placed on the table by the parents it is free—for all purposes. However, the father has worked for it. In other words, the tax-payers in this country must pay money in order to provide free services. Without the workers in this country we cannot provide free services. There is however, a capacity limit for taxation—the tax capacity of every individual is limited. You can, for example milk a ng'ombe to a certain degree but you cannot over-milk it because it will die and in fact it will not give you any milk. If for example, in a drought like this, you milk it in the evening, in the morning, you will not be able to milk the same ng'ombe. So, these hon. Members who, on one hand, say that they want free education and on the other hand say that they do not want investment that would generate more wealth in this country make me fail to understand their logic despite the fact that I am a student of logic and metaphysics.

An hon. Member: What about majimbo?

The Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. Muliro): The hon. Member talks about majimbo. Well, when I wanted majimbo in this country the hon. Member did not want it and, therefore, I surrendered majimbo for ever and ever amen.

Another point which I would like to mention here now is that we here, as hon. Members of this House, should be more mobile—we should visit each other—for example people from Nyanza Province should visit Eastern Province, in Central Province, in Coast Province and so forth. Once we do that we shall be knowing that we are creating one Kenya. However, if we come here and say that we want one Kenya and then we go to our small cells—our own tribal homes—we shall be generating greater fear to ourselves and we shall undermine the integrity and unity of this country.

Mr. Kitonga: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. First of all I ought to support the Speech of His Excellency the President and congratulate him for the good work that he has done in the country. I have a few points which I would like to mention in this hon. House. One of these points is that I would like to remind the Government that in Ukambani we do not have national projects like the one at Kano Irrigation Scheme, Mzima Springs Water Project, Kindaruma Power Scheme and so forth—I do not want to mention them all. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we would like the Tana River to be connected with Thunguthu River, and Nzio River. This would enable half of the Kitui District to be provided with water which is a problem in our district.

An hon. Member: That is a good point.

Mr. Kitonga: I would like also to give some advice to the Kenya Armed Forces. During the recruitment of people to the Armed Forces, the police and others, members of the Kenya Armed Forces travel long distances, for example, to Nakuru, Ukambani and so forth. However, you will find that they recruit, for example, just one person. If on the other hand you examine the expenses which have been incurred you will find that they have been going there for nothing. I would like to appeal to the Government to consider this case. If they want to recruit people they had better stay at the headquarters and invite people through the normal channels as is done in other forms of employment.

In my third point I would like to appeal to the Government to review the salaries of the civil servants but not the salaries of the super scale grade. The review should start from the bottom up to near the super scale grade but not including the super scale grade. I appeal for this strongly that the civil servants should be considered because they are in a bad position and corruption is bound to continue or will be introduced if we do not consider their cases.

I would like to mention something also about the Electoral Commission. This Electoral Commission is doing nothing although I understand it was formed. If this Electoral Commission is still alive I would like to appeal to the Government to consider directing this Electoral Commission to sit and consider where necessary increasing some Parliamentary seats, particularly in Kitui East, because the area is big and there communication is difficult. Where communication is easy the Electoral Commission could reduce the Parliamentary seats.

I would like to mention that during the colonial times we had no Harambee schools; but now we have already built so many Harambee schools some of which are built in the bush. I would like to appeal to the Government and particularly to the Ministry of Works to make small roads to enable officers of the Government to go and inspect the schools. You will find that the officers or the teachers who are working there do not care because no school inspectors can reach there because of lack of roads.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to challenge the City Council of Nairobi which is still maintaining the colonial mentality. They should wake up because you find that when a person applies for a house he is told that he will be put on the waiting list where he will wait, perhaps for ten years. Now, do you expect a Member of Parliament like me whose term of office is five years to wait for ten years? What is this? This is very bad. You will also find that the City Council of Nairobi has introduced a method of building houses for the local people who are wage earners very far away. They have built these houses as far away as Jericho and they are now about to reach Thika. You will find that some of these people are working as far away as Kenyatta National Hospital and some are working near this place; and some of them are even working for the Ministers. What time do you think they will come to report for duty? The City Council had better wake up!

I would like to come to the Minister for Education. When I asked a question some time back I was told that there is a board which deals with scholarships. When we asked him to mention the names of the members of the board we were told the names of some people who died long ago and some who left the House long ago. These members do not exist. If they exist, can we be told the people who were given scholarships from 1969 up to now? Does that board meet during the night? The Minister for Education should wake up!

I must hurry up and comment on the Attorney-General's Office. I wonder and am surprised because we have so many district magistrates and none of the Africans has been promoted to the post of first class district magistrate. Why is this? Are they not fit? Just tell the Attorney-General to wake up! This is very bad. He had better consider our people.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to come to the Voice of Kenya. You will find that most of the time of the Voice of Kenya is spent on dance and music programmes. People should be provided with proper news, especially news of this House of which they expect to hear so that they may understand what is going on. The Voice of Kenya people should wake up!

Kanu organization: you will find that in Uganda as well as Tanzania there are party newspapers which are nationalistic. However, here we depend on foreign newspapers. What are we really doing? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have always said that Kanu is alive. It is alive but I want it to be more alive. We want our own paper in this important nation.

*[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki)

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) resumed the Chair]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want now to talk about free education in this country. The Government has promised the people of this country that there will be free education for their children and the Government must keep its promise. We have this promise in our Kanu Manifesto. If we say that Kanu is existing, why do we not follow the Kanu policy. We pledged to the people to give them free education but up to now the Government has done nothing to that effect. If the Government asks for more money to give free education in this country, I am ready to support them. Let us plan for free education now.

I would like to see such Ministries as Cooperatives and Social Services, Agriculture, Natural Resources and Lands and Settlement to be made into one Ministry. The Ministry of Housing and the Ministry of Local Government should be made into one Ministry. In the case of adult education, we do not want adult education because there is no adult who does not understand the value of education. This money which is spent on this adult education should be utilized in providing free education to our children. Any adult who wants to be educated can go to school if he has money. This is what I did myself. I never went to school. Am I not educated?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I also want to appeal to the big powers not to interfere with our country. "You, big powers, big powers, come slow, do not circulate rumours everywhere. I know this country has no rumours. All rumours come from outside this country. My dear big powers, you have many tactics, you have some people loitering here every now and then. We are happy in our Government and we do not want any interference from outside. The time will come one day, but not at this moment, when you can start bothering us. At the moment, we are quite satisfied and we should not worry." I know the big powers are the United States, Britain, Russia and China but I am asking them to come slowly. I am warning them to let us do our small business here peacefully.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the person who married my mother is my father and therefore, to any future leader of this country, you can come and talk to him and he can trade with you. To this, I have no objection but as for now, we do not like your nonsense. When you bring beer here, it is poison and when we drink it we start talking nonsense and spread unfounded rumours.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

Mr. Njiru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to start by congratulating His Excellency the President for having given us a very good Presidential Address when we opened this Parliament.

On top of that, Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak about the raising of school fees. This issue has become very sensitive in the country and it is high time Government tried to see what to do. It is about eight years ago, when we, as a Kanu Government, did promise free education to our people. It is a shame on us, Mr. Speaker, that up-to-date we have not fulfilled our promise. It is a real shame because instead of providing free education to our people, we are raising the school fees. Every Member of this House, be he a Minister or an ordinary Member, is being fired by the members of the public, by his constituents and he is not in a position to tell the wananchi the reason why the school fees is increased instead of providing free education, as promised in our Kanu Manifesto. Therefore, I would like this to be noted very seriously.

An hon. Member: There is no money.

Mr. Njiru: It does not matter. If we made the promise, it is up to us to know exactly what the Government should do to provide free education to our people. I challenge you, hon. Member.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the other point that I would like to make in this House is about the landless people. This is a very serious issue, that, today, you find there are people in this country who do not have anywhere to build a single house of their own to put their children. What are these people eating and where are their children sleeping? I think this is a very serious point and our Government should look into this matter with all seriousness. In my own district, Mr. Speaker, I have an average of about 100 people everyday coming to me to talk about land. Where is Njiru going to get them land? Therefore, now that we are independent, we should try to make sure that people will exist instead of our people dying in villages like that. At the same time, Mr. Speaker, you find an individual like me owning about 5,000 or 2,000 acres of land. What is it for when other people are dying? It is high time we tried to go a little bit slower and in that way, I am sure, we can help our people.

The other point I want to mention is about the civil servants. There are those old civil servants who served during the Colonial Government and when we achieved our independence, these people took over and up to today they have not changed their mentality. They are treating the wananchi in the same manner as they used to do in those days. Some of these people are not highly educated and are trying to suppress the young men, the graduates who are coming from the universities, because they do not want them to rise up and take up their jobs. Some of them have attained the retiring age but have not retired yet. I would submit to this House that those people should be retired with immediate effect. I have also been very surprised to see civil servants hoisting flags in their cars. These people are not politicians.

[Mr. Njiru]

How can a provincial commissioner put a flag on his car while a Permanent Secretary does not put a flag on his car? This is an indication that these people are a kind of governor or a king in the areas they serve. If a Minister comes from a certain area, the provincial commissioner of that particular area does not recognize such a Minister. This is very serious, Mr. Speaker. A provincial commissioner is a civil servant, let us not forget, who is supposed to serve his people and instead of executing what has been decided in this House, they have become too ceremonial, opening cattle dips, opening this and that. I think, it is high time our civil servants were told what to do and then I think things will move smoothly.

Another point I would also like to talk about is about Kanu. We have Kanu and we would like this party to be reorganized. It is the ruling party. We do not have another party, so how can we have Kanu only by name. Let us get the party moving. We should have a political party because we have a political Government. We have a Government belonging to Kanu. Mr. Speaker, and therefore, I think something must be done.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, on tribalism I want to say this. Tribalism, since we attained independence, if we were to be honest with ourselves, has been booming in the country so much. If, today, a Kirinyaga person, like me, is employed somewhere as an official, I cannot employ anybody from elsewhere. Anybody that I employ must be from Kirinyaga. It is so serious when our Government has been aware of this that nothing has been done. That is why Members have been so touchy. Some have been talking about Kikuyunizing, Kambanizing, Luonizing and the like. This is because Members have not been in a position to help it because some of these things have been happening. Mr. Speaker, I think it is high time when Government should take strict measures against those who are trying to practise nepotism, trying to practise tribalism and so on. It is no use keeping quiet when Members are charging this and that while the fact is there. We know that tribalism has been really practised, and it is only possibly Luo and Kikuyu people—the major tribes—who have assisted themselves very much through practising tribalism, but not Coastal people or Kamba people or any other smaller tribe. Let us be honest, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, lastly I would like to speak about unity. In this country we want unity but this unity cannot come about when there are people who are trying to spoil things. For example, Mr. Speaker, if this Government was not there today, a civil servant would be prepared to serve any kind of government just as they did during the colonial times. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I used to be a politician even during the colonial days and I remember the people I used to meet in the offices. They were very good servants of the Colonial Government who would refuse to see me in their offices. Today, he is the same person I go to see and now he is serving in a higher capacity than he used to do during that time, Mr. Speaker. Therefore, these people can even spoil the Government waiting for any other kind of government to come whereby— You know they are experts and champions. If it comes to another government the following day he would be the first man to speak against the leaders who are in this House today, being on the other side. Therefore, we should not let these people spoil this country. We should not give them even the slightest chance to spoil this country. They had enough during the colonial days and today, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to conclude my speech by touching on the prices of plots in Nairobi. Mr. Speaker, Sir, you will find that colonizers or imperialists came here and bought pieces of land within Nairobi and paid very little money for these plots. Today, Mr. Speaker, what they were buying at ten cents they are selling at about half a million shillings. Is this fair in a free country like this one with members of the Civil Service feeling free? This is most unfair. Mr. Speaker, and I appeal to this Government to look into this matter seriously. Mr. Speaker, Sir, when these people sell these plots, they go away with this money and therefore, it is not benefiting this country.

Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Kadir: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, for giving me this chance to say a few words on this Motion. Mr. Speaker, Sir, while siding with my fellow friends who have spoken on this Presidential Speech, I would like to speak about the taking over of some of the services of the local authorities by the Central Government.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is very unfortunate that when the Government took over certain services from the local authorities it did not consider that there are some local authorities, like the county councils in the North-Eastern Province which are so small that when these services were taken away from them they were left with no other services to run. In fact it is very unfortunate because the Minister concerned has never given the county councils from our area the chance to run any other services since the Central Government took over certain services. Those county councils have never been given any directive as to whether they are going to have any other job to do,

[Mr. Kadir]

Mr. Speaker. Since the major services of these county councils—that is: roads, health and education—were taken over by the Central Government, the Government should now direct our county councils to run other services. For example, now that our area has been affected by a severe drought Government should allow the county councils to give bursaries to the children from the areas which have been affected by the drought. It is no use employing people in those county councils just to be liabilities to the wana-nchi there. Mr. Speaker, Sir, half of our local authorities in our area today are liabilities to our country. They do not have anything to do other than staying there and just paying salaries.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, our country has, in fact, been affected very badly by the drought and the people who are supposed to pay fees are the people who are depending on famine relief. These are the people who are today being asked to pay school fees. Where are they going to get the school fees, Mr. Speaker. It is the responsibility of our county councils, with directives from the Minister concerned, to give bursaries to these areas, Mr. Speaker. I would like to elaborate further about the school fees although I am not going to repeat it as you ruled it out.

I would like to question the Minister for Education about these school fees. Mr. Speaker, Sir, when the people from the North-Eastern Province are depending on famine relief how can Government again increase the school fees? How can Government expect these people to pay school fees really? It is high time Government looked into this problem to see that people from that area are exempted from paying school fees. If total exemption is not possible, they should be given 80 per cent remission on school fees. This is because the people are so desperate that they cannot afford to pay anything. These people are today depending on famine relief. They are no longer people but a collection of skeletons. These people have been depending on their livestock but their livestock is also nothing but a collection of skeletons and bones. Where are these people going to get money from to pay for the school fees as required by the Government. It is high time the Government considered giving 80 or 90 per cent remission on school fees to the people of North-Eastern Province and a part of the Eastern Province.

The other point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is that every now and then we have been trying to say that we must get equal treatment or equal development in all areas. Mr. Speaker, Sir, you will find that our area is just like it was when the Colonial Government left it. Nothing has been done at all.

It is high time the Government or the hon. Members in this House tried to see that legislation was brought in this House to create or establish a Parliamentary Constituency Fund so that each constituency can get its share instead of centralizing everything and by so doing forgetting other areas as is happening now. You can find that nothing has been done in our area. In fact, when we speak about development, we are just barking like dogs and we do not get anything—there is no outcome. It is high time Government and the Members of this House tried to see that all districts got equal development funds instead of barking here and getting nothing.

The other point is that Assistant Ministers were appointed as Assistant Ministers. It is high time we saw that when a Minister goes abroad or goes for a tour, the Assistant Ministers are given the responsibility to act on their behalf, instead of Ministers from other ministries being brought to act in a particular Ministry. Why are they not given the responsibility to act in the place of their Ministers when they have been appointed Assistant Ministers? Instead of calling them Assistant Ministers, let them be called Deputy Ministers so that when the Ministers are not there they can act and be in charge of that Ministry instead of getting a Minister from another Ministry who does not, perhaps, know much about that Ministry.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, another point which I want to talk about is the way in which the Cabinet Ministers are appointed. Mr. Speaker, Sir, how shall we really say that we are getting equal treatment in Kenya when three districts have never had—have never been given, even, one Assistant Minister let alone a Cabinet Minister? The position which was held by the former Member of Parliament, Mr. Gallgalo has been taken over and we do not know to whom it was given. Why should we not be given that post which is, in fact, very minor? How can we say that we are sharing equal treatment when we are not even given an Assistant Minister in the three districts. It is high time that Government either told us—we are not—when they fought against the shifita I did not know whether they wanted the country or the people. Why they fought the shifita, I do not know whether they regarded the people of that area as part and parcel of this country; for they should get equal treatment like any other tribe in Kenya.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is high time we were given our right—this is our right, Mr. Speaker, whether we are from here or there, we are today part and parcel of this country and we should get equal treatment with any other tribe in Kenya. Why should we not be given, even, one Minister or Assistant Minister?

[Mr. Kadir]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, today our famine relief—look, Mr. Speaker, what is today regarded as our famine relief food? Our chief food, in Eastern Province, especially, Isiolo District where there is not an Assistant Minister, where there is not any responsible person except me or another hon. Member, is maize. Mr. Speaker, Sir, is there a human being who can live on maize alone? Look, Mr. Speaker, at North-Eastern Province where there are two Assistant Ministers—all the time we hear that milk is being taken there and other types of food-stuffs because of the influence of the Assistant Minister. Our people are given maize as the only food. We are not donkeys to eat maize. Our people had better die instead of being regarded as donkeys to eat maize only. When they are suffering, they should be helped. Let Government help them and give them all the human requirements and not maize alone. This application will go to the Christian Council of Kenya who will give us help but not our Government which has never dared even to post anything to help the people of North-Eastern Province who are suffering today and the people are regarding us as people with a shifta mentality. We are not creating the shifta mentality. We have been fighting for our rights and these people have never listened to us. Government must really vote some money to develop the Northern Frontier District, Mr. Speaker. The part of the country was neglected by the Colonial Government and if we are not helped, Mr. Speaker, why should we regard ourselves as part and parcel of this country? Why should we? We are useless people in Kenya. When we are regarded as useless and third-class citizens in Kenya why should we just — Why should we regard ourselves as people of Kenya. It is high time that Government came out in full force and helped the people from that area.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is really embarrassing to see that our people are being regarded as donkeys to live on maize only.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Muregi: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to air my views on this Presidential Speech and I thank the President for the wonderful Speech in which he gave in this House when he said that it has become more or less businesslike, and that is a very commendable statement to the public and hon. Members of this House.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not want to dwell very much on this subject but let me speak on the sacking of employees by some statutory boards that are manned by Government, elected people, and by chairmen, nominated by Government.

It has reached a critical position whereby useful brains are being sacked for no reason, just because of disagreeing with the chairman or disagreeing with the general manager of such a statutory board, a very useful brain loses his job and stops serving Government due to very unscrupulous reasons.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I feel that Government should go into this problem and see that such brains are not mishandled by a mere chairman who has been nominated to look after such a board with the help of the other hon. Member elected to that board. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is the brain that is very useful and very educated people are being frustrated from working in such statutory boards because of these conditions. Mr. Speaker, Sir, if Government does not look into this affair, I know that what we shall choose are very useless brains working in these statutory boards and they will end up failing.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I now move on to the 110,000 acres that were promised by the President some time last year or last year but one. The public in the field or in the country-side are still waiting for the outcome of the settlement acreage farms that were promised by the President and until the President clears up this position or makes a statement as to whether these farms will be available or will not be available it will remain a big doubt to the public because they are still waiting to see this settlement. The demand of land in the rural areas by the landless people is so high that something like this ought to have been included in the President's Speech so that people are satisfied in the rural areas as well as those in the towns who are eagerly waiting for a place to live.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, while I agree that some problems have arisen due to the mismanaged farms that had been recommended by Agricultural Boards that they are mismanaged, the Central Agricultural Board has never sat to pass these farms as mismanaged. Today, the farms have been returned to the owners. It is a situation that should be made clear. If the problem lies in the lack of a Bill, the Attorney-General should speed up bringing such a Bill in this House so that the Central Agricultural Board or Government will be empowered to take over these farms. These farms could be turned into settlement schemes rather than—again if they become mismanaged and taken over by Government, they should not be handed over to the Agricultural Development Corporation. The present experience is that after the Agricultural Development Corporation has managed these farms, they sell them to individuals while I understand that the Ministry of Lands and Settlement is prepared to buy these farms but cannot get access to them because the Agricultural Development Corporation is selling these farms to individual owners. This also creates a problem on the President's promise because it can never be fulfilled if a subsidiary body sits there with its own rules that they can sell the farms in any way they want.

As such, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I hope the Attorney-General will speed up his Bill, so that this House will pass it immediately and see that these farms are taken over by Government and turned into settlement schemes.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, last year, the Minister for Lands and Settlement stated here that negotiations were in hand for writing off loans which were borrowed from the British Government—£8 million. In the Presidential Speech, the public expected to hear something on this issue; the advancement or the failure towards such negotiations. The loan repayment has become a big burden and we have said time and again that instead of these loans earning 6½ per cent interest, they are more or less earning 50 per cent interest. This creates a problem to loan payers. With the taxes, which are now being imposed, rates and other commitments like the increase on school fees, a small farmer who is running a seven acre farm with a poor market of potatoes and vegetables finds it very difficult to meet these loans.

We have said now and again that some of the properties that were bought by the Ministry of Lands and Settlement during the initial settlement period had old fences and old houses which were built in 1914 but they were sold at the prices of those built in 1960/61 or 1962. Immediately they were bought, they became useless and they could not be used any more. With that in mind these are reasons why these loans should be written off. I should emphasize that the Government should expedite this matter and negotiate with the British Government so that these loans are written off.

At the same time, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Minister promised this House that farms would be valued at the prices of 1930. Up to now, that valuation has never worked. The members of the public are very keen and every evening they listen to the radio and read the papers in the mornings because they expect all these things to happen immediately after they have been announced. At the moment, the value of farms is high and it is still going higher and higher. Mr. Speaker, the members of the public are eagerly waiting to see that the value of farms is put back to what it was in 1930, as the Minister for Lands and Settlement stated here last year during his policy speech.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will move on to the question of illegal arrests by police. Mr. Speaker, this is a serious situation that has arisen in many parts of this country. I will refer to my place—Nyandarua—where I know of a police officer who arrested some members of the public, and locked them in the cell for three to four days because of minor offences such as drunkenness and disorderliness of which “disorderly” has never been defined as to what it is. You find a man locked in the cell for three or four days. Maybe the person arrested has a shamba, he can easily be identified, he can never run away because he has property within the area but he is locked in the cell for three days.

It is understood by many of us that it is illegal to lock up anyone for over 24 hours or 48 hours—I do not know which is which. However, for such minor offences there is no need, if we have to treat our poor fellows in the rural areas kindly, to lock them in for three or four days. Therefore, I would ask the Attorney-General to intervene in this situation because, probably, one has an idea of creating a problem to the public so that they lose confidence in this Government.

Mr. Speaker, I have seen these cases and the members of public are becoming restless and they are very disturbed by this situation.

It is also unfair, as I stated here last year, for a mere district officer to be given powers of beating people when demanding the graduated personal tax from them. The district officer can never be moved. He is more senior and bigger than 100,000 people in a constituency or in a division. He remains there and exercises his powers.

With these few remarks, I beg to thank the President.

Mr. Ebu: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to say a few words.

Firstly I would like to congratulate His Excellency for the comprehensive Speech which he delivered to this House last week.

I have, however, a few comments to make in connexion with some of the things which were stated in that Speech. Firstly, there is the question of graduated personal tax. What I have in mind, particularly, is the assessment and remission. I feel that the way the graduated personal tax is being assessed right now is not good. There is room for a lot of injustice to people. I feel that those who are responsible—the provincial administration has not taken time to explain to the people what should be done in case the assessed tax they are supposed to pay is too heavy—what course they should take. Unless they do this, I think they are doing so much injustice to wananchi. The law says that if one finds that the tax he is supposed to pay is too heavy for him and he just cannot pay it, he should lodge an appeal within 30 days with his district commissioner. However, when you go to the country-side, you find that the majority of people have no idea as to what they should do in a case like this one. I think this is done purposely to frustrate wananchi unnecessarily.

Secondly, the constitution of the assessment committee is not quite representative. You find that one councillor is elected—I think he is nominated—by the district commissioner. You also find one trader and several other people who are merely nominated. These people may not be in a position to know how poor an individual is at his home. So, I feel that instead of the district commissioner nominating these members of the committee, the people themselves should be given an opportunity to elect the people who they know understand their problems.

The other thing I want to mention is about the development fund. In Western Province, there is a scheme where all tax-payers are asked to pay a certain amount of money towards what we call Western Province Development Fund. We were told, that this money is supposed to be kept by the Provincial Administration jointly with Provincial Community Development Office. The purpose of taking this money there is merely to keep it. However, I feel that there is a little fear that the money may not be equitably distributed to those areas which helped to raise it.

Although people would like to contribute money towards development in their respective areas, there is a possibility of some people, for example the provincial administration, taking and using this money for some other projects, probably outside the province, leaving their province without any money for development at all. I say this because I have seen of late a number of provincial commissioners going to see his Excellency the President—I am not against the idea of going to see him, Mr. Speaker, but the money that they take there—I do not know whether this is part of the self-help money that they collect on the pretext that it is going to help the individual area or perhaps this money comes from somewhere else. I am not in a clear position to know this one.

An hon. Member: Can the hon. Member substantiate that?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Ebu, if you do not know, what happens, you had better not talk about it because what you are saying is quite a serious allegation suggesting that somebody collects money for some development and then takes it somewhere else.

Mr. Ebu: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir. The reason why I raised this one is that recently in our own province there was a move to collect some money unchecked. That is why I raised it. It is not that I am making a mere allegation.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am all for the collection of money. However, the techniques used are not good. I have seen some people complaining, and I think it is true, that you find a Liguru approaching an ordinary man and asking him for money. When he is given the money he just pockets it and does not give the receipt. I feel that a lot of explanation, a lot of trouble should be taken to explain exactly how the money should be collected and what the money is going to be used for. There are receipts but rarely do you find people who have paid the money given receipts.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, another thing I would like to talk about is the boundaries. There has been a lot of friction, especially, in places where two tribes border each other. I feel that a commission should be appointed with a view to adjusting some of the boundaries where friction exist so that we do not have people wasting time quarrelling over the boundary issues and so forth. I also feel that the provincial boundaries should be adjusted. Being a person from Western Province, which is one of the smallest provinces, I feel that Western Province, as it exists today, is too small compared to the others. Probably, an adjustment of the provincial boundaries would do that province justice.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, another idea which I would like to bring here is about the question of equitable distribution of wealth. I mentioned this particularly in connexion with health services. Three or four years ago, in Busia District, Government started putting up a district hospital. This district hospital is almost ready, in fact, it is complete. However, the opening of this hospital has been delayed. I do not know whether this is being done purposely. When we ask the authority what is keeping the hospital unopened, we are told that the designer forgot to include the sewage system. I do not know whether that is a valid argument that somebody could actually advance. However, I think probably, somebody did this purposely. Maybe, it is due to shortage of staff or shortage of drugs but the people concerned are not willing to tell us the truth.

[Mr. Ebu]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the other day His Excellency the President told us that Kenyatta College had been made one of the constituent colleges of the University of Nairobi. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I feel that Siriba too, in the Western Province should be taken as a constituent college; they should also do the same with Shanzu College at the Coast Province. These are colleges which are old, if not older than Kenyatta College, itself. Also to ensure that the selection of students into these colleges is uniform and on a national level, I think these colleges should be promoted to that status as well.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, another thing I would like to mention is about the idea of splitting up the local authorities. I hear there are proposals to split one or two local authorities into more local authorities. While the idea itself is good, I feel the splitting of these local authorities by itself is not going to help the situation at all. Right now we have a lot of local authorities but they do not have any money. Therefore, if Government could think of ways and means of, probably, giving these people a shot in the arm, giving them money to run the services they are left with. Perhaps that is going to be more helpful than merely splitting them into more local authorities.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to mention something about our foreign policy. According to what we see and according to what was said here by the Minister for Foreign Affairs, we are not supposed to interfere with the internal affairs of another nation; this is a welcome idea. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, when there is an international problem, when there is an international issue to be decided, I feel as a measure of maturity, a nation should come out and say, "This is where we stand", instead of just keeping quiet and saying, "Okay, we will wait for the situation to sort itself out."

We are all the time accused of sitting on the fence while other people make decisions. I do not know whether this is a fair thing to do. To me this seems that we are suffering from indecision and this is not a good thing in an international community.

Now, the last thing I would like to mention, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is about employment.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Your time is up, Mr. Ebu.

Mr. Ebu: Thank you, Sir.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I would like also to join hands with my friends on this Presidential Speech because there are a few things which I would like to mention.

One of the things is that we have an Act which is giving some people in this country some privileges while leaving the other people not enjoying those facilities given by the Government. That is: this National Hospital Fund, when we have a few people who are earning about £50 a month—that is Sh. 1,000—getting the privilege of paying for this National Hospital Fund whereby they are able to attend hospitals and get these facilities and, yet all the other people, who are in the majority and are the working class, who are also able to contribute the Sh. 20 just like the other people, do not have the privilege, and I feel, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that this one should be looked into. If we are one in one Government, all those facilities given over in the country should be given equally without any discrimination. This is where I feel that we should not have a privileged class, if at all the other people are able to contribute this money to the National Hospital Fund, they should also be given the chance. So, they can also enjoy the same facilities.

Now, the other thing which I would like to come to is the question of how the public companies are giving or selling their shares to the wananchi. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it looks as if we are making a mistake here because these public companies which are selling shares are only selling to the few people who have the money. Therefore, I wonder, Mr. Speaker, Sir, because when shall we have a low-income group get the chance of getting into these public companies because they would also like to enjoy the fruits of this country—the fruits of independence? It is only because of their incomes that we do not give them a chance. I think we should lay out a policy whereby even when the public company is offering shares, we divide the shares and specify which shares to go to the lower-income group who are earning such minimum salaries. This is because if we go on this way, for example, I have found some people who have even joined nearly all the public companies which have sold shares in the country. One individual because he has been able to do it. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think this one is not a correct policy and we shall reach a time when the people will come behind our backs because we have not been able to stipulate a policy for the low-income group so that they can also enjoy the fruits of independence that they have fought for just like the other people who have more money in this country. I feel that these people should be given the chance of joining these public companies just like the other people who are earning more money. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I feel that this one is something which should be looked into very soon by the Government.

[Mr. D. M. Kioko]

Now, another thing, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Your time is up Mr. Kioko. You will continue next time.

MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

CORPORATION LOANS TO FARMERS

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Will a Minister move that the House do now adjourn?

The Assistant Minister for Labour (Mr Kibisu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move that the House do now adjourn.

The Assistant Minister for Foreign Affairs (Mr. Nabwera) seconded.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am discussing this question which was raised by hon. arap Saina on the Agricultural Finance Corporation, and perhaps it is appropriate for me to remind hon. Members that the Agricultural Finance Corporation, like most farm credit institutions, is supposed to give credit facilities to farmers.

As a Government statutory body, it is supposed to give these credit facilities on better terms than commercial banks as follows: one reason is to give loans at a reasonable interest. Secondly, Sir, it should give longer terms for the money in terms of repayment and in some cases to issue or to give advisory services to ensure that the farmers actually get established on the farms for which these credit facilities have been advanced. To summarize, this means, the purpose of an institution like the Agricultural Finance Corporation is to ensure that it gives a chance to a farmer to get established better than he would if the commercial banks were to give these loans.

I would also like to remind hon. Members that at the moment, the Agricultural Finance Corporation borrows money from the Treasury at an average interest rate of 5.1 per cent. They then loan it to farmers at 7½ per cent rate of interest which means that 2.4 per cent is either their profit or partly profit and administrative costs or losses. I am also aware, and the Minister should be aware, that at the moment the Agricultural Development Corporation, which is also another statutory body, is holding more than K£150,000 belonging to farmers because the Government has refused the Agricultural Development Corporation's Land Limited and Agricultural Settlement Trustee—they have refused to allow these statutory bodies—to transfer or lease the land to the wananchi.

I am also told, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that the Agricultural Finance Corporation, as a statutory body, lost K£250,000 on the so-called Masai Scheme and this could be one contributory factor to the present financial situation existing in that statutory body. I am also told, Sir, that the Agricultural Finance Corporation as a Government agent in processing the Guaranteed Minimum Returns is given 3 per cent as handling charges. The Government in return charges the ordinary farmer, the poor farmer, 8 per cent interest rate on Guaranteed Minimum Return which means that this represents approximately 5 per cent interest from the Government and assuming that in actual fact handling charges of an institution like the one we have is about ½ per cent, I am prepared to bet that the Government is getting a net profit of over 4 per cent.

I want also, as a matter of statistics, to show that the total volume of loans so far advanced by the Agricultural Finance Corporation under this scheme is K£12 million and only last year, they handled K£863,000 worth of loans. I want also to remind hon. Members here that the British Government, under the so-called the Transfer Programme for land charges very low interest to our Kenya Government, which in turn charges very high interest to the Agricultural Finance Corporation. I have already mentioned the figure here.

I also want to point out, Mr. Speaker, that the Kenya Government Treasury Bills are usually charged at an interest rate of about 2 per cent or less. These same bills are then charged to wananchi, that is, the public, at an interest rate of more than 5 per cent.

Furthermore, Mr. Speaker, I want to point out that arising from the answer given by the Minister that the money deposited by these farmers to Agricultural Finance Corporation does not yield any interest at all, the Minister was misleading the House because the money which is given to the Agricultural Finance Corporation or the Agricultural Development Corporation for that matter by wananchi is deposited in banks and it makes an average profit of 3.5 per cent.

My conclusion from this is as follows, that first of all, the commercial and statutory financial institutions in this country including the Agricultural Finance Corporation, are charging 3 per cent administrative costs as well as losses or what they call money to absorb the expenses, which is comparable to the money which is charged in the United States of America and the United Kingdom institutions. Is this really fair? When you look at the costings of our banking institutions and the cost of living you will see this is not true. This means that instead of charging 2½ per cent, which the Agricultural Finance Corporation is charging as the administrative cost and so forth, they could easily charge 1½ per cent or 2 per cent and actually transfer the difference to the farmer.

I am also querying, and I want to appeal to the Minister, that in fact our Kenya Government should look into the whole credit and funding system of agricultural institutions in this country with a view to examining as clearly as possible whether indeed whatever money they charge as costs is the right cost for the farmer. My own view, Mr. Speaker, is that our Government has been protecting certain financial institutions with or without their—Government—knowledge, and these in turn are exploiting the poor farmers.

The farm credit system in this country is the worst in the whole world—and I am right. First of all, usually when money is loaned to a farmer, as I pointed out before, you loan out that money because you want the farmer to establish himself. Usually you give out long-term loans. In this particular case our Government usually charges high interest rates, but at the same time the period of repayment is very long.

I want to give an example of loans which are given to farmers in the United States of America and the United Kingdom, for instance. You find that a loan is given for 30 years at very low interest, usually about 4 per cent. Sometimes in the beginning in what they call New Development Loans they give as much as a five years' moratorium period, that is, within the first five years the farmer is not asked to repay the loan until such time that he is fully established.

In this country, Mr. Speaker, we have a terrible system. First of all, a farmer is given a loan, and within the same year he is asked to repay the money, and most of these financial institutions expect their money back in less than five years. I think this is asking too much for a new farmer, and especially so in a developing nation like ours.

I would, therefore, ask the Minister to re-examine totally the whole funding system as I said before. Secondly, I would like him to consider that in the initial stages of giving loans to these farmers a moratorium of two years is absolutely necessary.

Now, the other point which I want to mention here is that the failure of most of these farmers, either in the schemes or in the other areas, in repaying the Agricultural Finance Corporation loans, is basically the mistake of the Government and the Corporation. Some of these loans were given out, that is the Agricultural Finance Corporation's policy at that time was simply: you come to me, you ask for a certain amount of money, I give you that amount of money, and I expect that money back within a year or two or even three years. There was no provision for services, no provision for moratorium, and in some places, no management advisory services at all. Therefore, I think Government was fully responsible for the failure, and they should look into the whole thing.

I want also to ask the commercial banks, Mr. Speaker, to assume much more responsibility in financing agricultural institutions in this country, and that they should, in fact, ensure that they give more money in rural areas.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Who is seconding or supporting you.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. arap Saina, Sir.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this Motion is so important to the farming public of this Republic, and I wish the Government to give it great attention and priority because it does not affect only one tribe but affects all the tribes, and all races of this country.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the question, as it was put by the Member for Eldoret, who is myself, is so clear and urgent— It was, in fact, brought up as a question, and as far as I remember, it read like this:

“In view of the fact that the Agricultural Finance Corporation Development Loan Funds are not available at the moment, and that some farmers who have applied for these development loans have deposited 40 per cent of the money, as required by the Agricultural Finance Corporation before any loan can be granted—

- (a) could the Minister tell this House when the Agricultural Finance Corporation loans would be available,
- (b) that the 40 per cent deposit from the farmers is earning interest, and
- (c) that the interest earned by the farmers' money is the same as that Agricultural Finance Corporation money earns from the farmers.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we realize that the Agricultural Finance Corporation is facing financial problems; whether this is true or not, Sir, I think it is high time the Kenya Government, particularly the Treasury should come out in the open and clarify the position of finances as regards the loans which should finance the farming in this country. I remember, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that early in 1962, land purchase loans were available, maybe, because there was very little demand for land, because people did not realize the future of farming. Kenya Government gets up to 90 per cent development loans, both long-term and short-term loans. As time went on, by 1965 the amount of money which a farmer was required to deposit rose from 10 per cent to 40 per cent and as from last year it has gone up to 60 per cent. Yet, up to now the pattern of land transaction in this country is, walk in, walk out. I feel this is terribly wrong. We have been befooled into what I would call a Western mortgage in which the land is not ours, and because those who were granting these loans, either with interest or free grants, have seen that the Africans are capable of buying land, particularly the former European land, and developing it even better than the Europeans who used to farm in this country. These people have now turned to put some complications in the transaction of agricultural land in this country. I, therefore, call upon the Government to devise a new system of purchasing land.

Here, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would suggest to the Kenya Government only to buy development. If there is a house, if there is fencing, if there is a dip, if there is water, these are the things on the farm which a farmer must buy and the land must be free.

Now, that the system of buying land in this country is on a walk-in, walk-out basis, a willing-buyer, willing-seller basis, most African farmers cannot buy.

As far as loans are concerned, I would like to mention one notorious system of loan-granting in this country, particularly the Guaranteed Minimum Return. This short-term loan, which most of the farmers know as the B Form, has some complications. First, it is only given to two crops, wheat and maize, and this is a relic of the last war. I call upon the Minister completely to eradicate this system of loans and introduce a new system whereby this Guaranteed Minimum Return will be available for all crops in Kenya. The B Form should be available, for instance, to grow cotton, cashew-nuts, barley, vegetables, fruits and even grass. The system of granting B Forms for only wheat and maize should be got rid of as soon as possible.

The system of buying land in this country, as I said earlier, has only been created to cater for somebody who can afford, because the demand for land has gone up. It is because of this that the price of land has also gone up and there are these new manoeuvres of selling Kenya agricultural land by the British to Kenya citizens with some implications. The so-called Agricultural Development Corporation is a set-up which is very complicated. Sir, I do not see any reason why the British Government, if they so wish, to lend Kenyans money to purchase land, should transact land on paper and keep the money in Britain. This is a wrong system. Legislation must be enacted by this House to amend the Act providing powers to the Agricultural Development Corporation to sell land in the manner they are doing now.

I would also suggest to the Minister to look into the position of the farmers who have put 40 per cent of their money into the Agricultural Finance Corporation, and do something about it.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to second the Motion.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We have only ten minutes left. Will you require all the ten minutes, Mr. Wanjigi?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): No, Mr. Speaker, I think five minutes will do for me.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): All right. In that case, Mr. Wabuge, you can have five minutes.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, I do not have much time in which to put forward my views.

In the first place I want to say that the Agricultural Finance Corporation was a creation of the British who were the rulers of this country. It was a body which was created so that it went on systematically to destroy the agricultural industry in this country. I have said this time and again, that it is high time we did away with the Agricultural Finance Corporation including the Agricultural Development Corporation. If the Government still persists that we retain these bodies, then the whole policy must be overhauled. Otherwise, the way it is now, Sir, it is very wrong. I remember during 1962 and 1963 the Agricultural Finance Corporation used to give money to wananchi to buy farms. At that time money for land was only 20 per cent and for development a farmer was not required to put in anything at all. That was a well known fact. Now, however, the position is not the same. To make it worse, Sir, in fact, the Agricultural Finance Corporation is becoming a robber. They are robbing the wananchi who are poor. A person has to suffer to collect money and he is told to put down 50 per cent. He puts down 50 per cent and then the Agricultural Finance Corporation tells the farmer—or the would-be farmer—that they have no funds. Instead of refunding the money they keep this money, the money earns interest, the interest is kept by the Agricultural Finance Corporation; the money which the principal deposited by the farmer is kept by the Agricultural Finance Corporation which is using it. Yet the Assistant Minister who replied to this question said that the money was deposited with the Agricultural Finance Corporation, it was just there sitting idle. Is Kenya in a position to keep money in a place where it is doing nothing when we know we want money for everything in this country? It is earning something but for the benefit of the Agricultural Finance Corporation, an organization which is already rich. This organization is not one of our creation, it is a British creation. In fact, Mr. Speaker, the former Minister for Agriculture who was the author of this Agricultural Finance Corporation saw fit, when it was running bankrupt, to run away. He is no longer a Minister in this Government. Therefore, Sir, it is high time that we decided that the day the former Minister for Agriculture left we should have disbanded the Agricultural Finance Corporation. If the Government wants to establish a body to finance the farmers in this country, it should have another body with a policy which is palatable to this country rather than having a colonial policy despite the fact that we are independent.

[Mr. Wabuge]

I feel, Sir, that when the Assistant Minister is replying he will have to tell us why he feels the money deposited in the Agricultural Finance Corporation is earning interest. If that interest is being earned, when is the farmer going to get that? Is the owner of that money going to be given that interest? If the Government supports this, then I would say the Government is robbing the wananchi in broad daylight, and that is very bad.

It is my contention that the Agricultural Finance Corporation should be reorganized. In fact, my information is that the Agricultural Finance Corporation was created in order to look after the interests of the Europeans who were here, who are the British. Now the time has come when we are independent—after eight years—and we are not interested in the so-called British who were here. They can pack up and go, those who are still here, and if they want they can stay in this country. We are not going to accommodate them here if they do not support our policies.

I see my time is up. With these few words, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, I said I would only need about five minutes because from what has been said by the three speakers who have spoken, it obviously means that what they have said they could not possibly mean.

In the first place, the hon. Wabuge could not have been as good a farmer as he is without an Agricultural Finance Corporation loan.

Mr. Wabuge: Do you know what I am getting?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): I also want to suggest that hon. arap Saina knows far more, having been an agriculturalist himself, that the Agricultural Finance Corporation is a terribly important institution in the development of agriculture.

Hon. Mwangale, Mr. Speaker, is in an even worse situation to have suggested, as if we would take him seriously, that the Agricultural Finance Corporation, or the farm credit system in this country is the worst in the world. Somebody who was a lecturer in an important college like Egerton, to make such a general statement is, in fact, a great shame to his own profession. This must be said, Mr. Speaker, because it is misleading the whole country and this hon. House for Mr. Mwangale to come here and quote a few general statements about how British is operating its own farm credit system, about how the United States of America are operating their own credit system. These, Sir, are book generalization.

The truth is that the Agricultural Finance Corporation and the farm credit system in this country is, perhaps, the one credit system that is actually worth something in the entire developing world. We are acclaimed by all the lending institutions, including the World Bank, for our system of farm credit. I think this must be told, and told very firmly to those people who intend to mislead the country.

I am not suggesting, Mr. Speaker, that we cannot improve, and we will improve and we will continue to improve. I am not suggesting that we are in any way perfect, I wish we were. However, to suggest that we are the worst lending organization in the world. I think this is uncalled for from an educated hon. Member like Mr. Mwangale.

I did say, when I was answering the question that the Agricultural Finance Corporation does hold deposits which are held in trust by the Agricultural Finance Corporation for the people who have applied for loans. I also suggested that should any loanee, or prospective loanee wish to have that money back to do some other more useful or more urgent work, he is at liberty to withdraw his deposit. I also said, Sir, that if he prefers to have that deposit with the Agricultural Finance Corporation he realizes an interest rate of 3 per cent. So it is not true to suggest that the money does not yield anything as hon. Mwangale suggested. I said also that we wished we could pay more money than 3 per cent.

[The Assistant Minister for Agriculture]

In fact, it is realizing 3½ per cent where we put it, but we cannot afford to run this deposit without the ½ per cent that we retain to administer these deposits. However, to suggest that the money does not yield a profit at all to the depositor is, in fact, a misquotation which we can say was deliberate.

Mr. Speaker, I think the truth is that what we need for the Agricultural Finance Corporation and the farm credit system in this country are four main aspects to look into. I wish the hon. Member had suggested that we do require a great deal more decentralization so that the Agricultural Finance Corporation can get nearer the farms. This is an important aspect which we have looked into and which we will be implementing in the very near future so that you will have farm branches, more executive and more functional in Eldoret, in Nyeri and in other places nearer the farms, more or less like the branches of trees.

May I also suggest, Mr. Speaker, that how to bail out a farmer is also to give him better prices for his own products. This House is witness to a lot of action in that direction as concerns milk, meat, maize, beef and even other crops which are in the pipeline for a review.

If I can use the minute that is left I would like to say this. We do very much appreciate the importance of training, training the farmer for management. It is well and good to come here and shout about money and more money, but if you give somebody who is not well trained some money, that will not help him. To give this money some useful investment, we must have training. Otherwise this money will be lost in the drain and this particular House will be asking the Auditor-General and the Ministry of Finance to explain where that money has gone.

Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

ADJOURNMENT

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is time now for interruption of business. The House is therefore adjourned until tomorrow, Thursday, 4th March, at 2. 30 p.m.

PRAYERSPAPER LAID

The following Paper was laid on the Table:—

Supplementary information to Question No. 39 by the Member for Parklands, Mr. Kivuitu (which appeared on the Order Paper on Tuesday, 2nd March 1971 and was promised by his colleague, Mr. Ogotu).

(By the Assistant Minister for Local Government (Mr. Munoko) on behalf of the Assistant Minister for Local Government (Mr. Ogotu))

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 61 (1285)

MINISTERS' VISITS TO CONSTITUENCIES

Mr. Kitonga: Thank you, Mr Speaker, Sir. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask Question No. 61 from the Minister of State, President's Office.

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister of State, President's Office if he would tell the House what was the proper Government channel which must be followed when a Minister wanted to visit a province or a constituency at any time.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No. I do not think so many words are necessary. All that an hon. Member has to do is to stand up and call the number of the question and then sit down.

The Minister for Housing (Mr. Ngei): Mr. Speaker, Sir, on behalf of my colleague, the Minister of State, President's Office, I beg to reply. The procedure to be followed wherever a Minister wishes to make an official visit to any area in a province is for his Permanent Secretary to get his field officers of the Ministry to liaise with the provincial administration and have a suitable programme drawn up and submitted to the Minister for approval. The approved programme is then transmitted to the Office of the President in sufficient time so that the provincial commissioner of the province involved is informed so as to co-ordinate the necessary administrative details of the programme. If, however, a Minister wishes to make a private visit to an area in a province and to address a public meeting, then the party machinery should apply for a licence to hold a public meeting in the normal way.

Mr. Kitonga: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Minister say, when we invite a Minister and he agrees to come, who ought to start and follow through these channels the Minister has mentioned? Is it for an hon. Member to arrange the visit or is it for the Government to do so?

Mr. Ngei: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have stated categorically and very clearly that if an individual Member of Parliament wishes to invite a Minister it all depends on the sort of function that particular Member wants to hold. If it is a public meeting in connexion with political activities the usual procedure is followed; in other words, through the party machinery, or the hon. Member applies for a public licence to hold a public meeting and then the Minister comes along. If an hon. Member wants a Minister to come officially, then that Member informs the Minister concerned and that Minister consents to visit that hon. Member of Parliament. The officials of his Ministry liaise with the provincial administration to make a programme for that particular visit, then the provincial commissioner is informed so that the occasion is administered well for the purpose of the visit of the Minister who has been invited by that particular hon. Member.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the hon. Minister agree with me that on many occasions hon. Members of this House, who are duly elected to represent the wishes of the people, are not communicated with or consulted by the administration and that it becomes very embarrassing to the hon. Member of Parliament to hear that a particular Minister has been to his constituency and the Member was not there because he was not notified?

Mr. Ngei: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if that is the case, it is rather unfortunate and it should not be done in that way. The hon. Member for the area must be informed if it is an official visit and he must participate in the programming of the visit of that Minister. It is very wrong for anyone—and I repeat it is wrong for anyone to ignore this procedure because the President of this Republic has made it very clear that it is always to be followed.

Mr. Wanjagi: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is it not true that the Minister speaking has visited my constituency without my knowledge?

Mr. Ngei: Mr. Speaker, Sir, although perhaps, he wanted the information, there is nothing wrong if Ngei went to hunt in your area because there is quite a lot of things to tap in your area. Therefore, if I come there, Mr. Speaker, Sir, privately, then, that is a different case, and maybe I would be looking for bananas and so on.

[The Minister for Housing]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, coming back to the original thing, it is proper and the President has made it very clear indeed that whenever an official visit of a Minister is involved the hon. Members of Parliament, who are part and parcel of this Government, must be informed. If there is anybody who is saying that they are not going to be informed, then he is following his own administrative arrangements which do not fall in line with the programming and co-ordination required by the Office of the President.

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Minister tell this House why when a Minister or a group of Members of Parliament holding a meeting or paying visits to an area, although it might not be official, the district commissioners, district officers and sub-chiefs boycott such meetings although they might not have been informed officially by the provincial commissioner or the district commissioner but they know, because it is always announced over the radio that there is going to be a Minister visiting such an area either opening a dip or anything of that kind but they do not turn up? Why do they boycott such occasions?

Mr. Ngei: If Members of Parliament, Mr. Speaker, Sir, shun their responsibilities and do not report such cases to the Minister in charge of administration so that that particular case may be dealt with firmly, then the Government or the Office of the President is not going to be blamed. The responsibility of each hon. Member of Parliament is to bring to the notice of the Minister in charge of administration any such incidents which may appear to lack co-ordination of governmental activities even if it may be only a Member of Parliament who is holding a function.

Mr. Araru: Arising from the Minister's first reply, when he said that when an hon. Member wishes to invite a Minister he should apply for a licence to hold a public meeting, can he tell us why provincial commissioners or district commissioners do not apply for the same things and why it is left only to the hon. Members to apply even for a Minister although they are in the same Government?

Mr. Ngei: Mr. Speaker, Sir, my answer was very clear. This is where a party machinery is involved, when you want a licence. However, when you have a governmental or a ministerial visit you do not need such licences at all.

Mr. Kitonga: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No. Mr. Kitonga, I have given you several opportunities of raising points of order and you have always not followed our rules.

Mr. Gatuguta: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the Minister has given us an assurance that no district commissioner or district officer or even provincial commissioner should call upon Ministers officially without informing Members of Parliament, could he then assure us that if such a case happens and is reported by a Member of Parliament, that a district commissioner has done so, disciplinary action will be taken against such person?

Mr. Ngei: Well, this is what my answer has led to. If the Members of Parliament are shunning their responsibilities, then it is up to them. If, for example, I want to visit a certain constituency, I normally send notices but through my Ministry, through my Permanent Secretary informing members of that particular province that I shall be visiting their area and they should be there to co-ordinate their activities of politics and administration. Mr. Speaker, all I am saying is, if such cases are brought to us and proved to be true—and I have no doubt that Members of Parliament do bring truthful reports—that particular administrator will be dealt with.

*Question No. 100 (1380)*ADMINISTRATION OF NDALAT SETTLEMENT SCHEME

Mr. arap Saina asked the Minister of State, President's Office if he would tell the House why the people of Ndalat Settlement Scheme are not administered from Uasin Gishu District Office which is only ten miles from Ndalat, instead of being administered from Kapsabet which is 40 miles from Ndalat.

The Minister for Housing (Mr. Ngei): Mr. Speaker, Sir, on behalf of the Minister of State, President's Office, I beg to reply. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the people of Ndalat Settlement Scheme are administered from Kapsabet and not Eldoret because Kapsabet is in Nandi District while Eldoret is not in Nandi District. However, if for administration purposes it proves that we need to take in another administrative centre to serve the people at Ndalat Settlement Scheme, then when such case arises, it will be looked into.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that answer given by the Minister could he tell this House the reason why the people of Ndalat Settlement Scheme are given other Government services from the Ministry of Lands and Settlement, Ministry of Co-operatives and Social Services and Ministry of Education from Eldoret District, knowing very well that the officials come under the District Commissioner for Uasin Gishu District and not Kapsabet? Why should these services be given from Eldoret and not from Kapsabet and only the district commissioner—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Mr. arap Saina. You are taking far too long. Will you wait for the reply now?

Mr. Ngei: Mr. Speaker, the hon. questioner—the hon. Member for Eldoret—knows only too well about this because he has been a very able agriculturalist. He knows that for the purpose of co-ordinating facts, agricultural purposes do not always go parallel with those of administration. Therefore, sometimes we have for example, in Eastern Province and Northern Province, one provincial engineer, or for that matter Nairobi and Eastern Province may be administered by one provincial engineer, taking also in account Member, the questioner, has asked about, can be divided in any convenient way although they are not the same.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Will the Minister not agree with me that we should think of devising a method of arranging our provincial administration centres in this country because some of them seem to have been put too far away from where the people are living and sometimes they are even mixed.

Mr. Ngei: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not see why we should quarrel over this. If the hon. Member for Eldoret, or even the hon. Member for Mombasa West, has some suggestions to put to the Minister in charge of administration, please let him not fail to do so, and it will be looked into.

Mr. Cheserek: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the hon. Minister tell the House where the Senior Settlement Officer, who looks after the people in Ndalat Settlement Scheme, lives at the moment, instead of telling us about the administration in the area? If these people are getting their services within their headquarters in the Settlement Scheme, why should they need to go to Kapsabet?

Mr. Ngei: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I really doubt whether I should answer that. However, it follows, completely, the method of administration.

Question No. 42 (1259)

PROTECTION OF FARM WORKERS FROM EVICTON

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Minister for Lands and Settlement if he would tell the House whether he would consider seeking from the House the necessary legal authority which would vest in residents in farms, whether they be squatters or not, who had resided continuously in a farm for a considerable period, the absolute rights of ownership to avoid the current unacceptable situation where after residing on a farm for many years with the active support of the farm owner, such residents had on many occasions been mercilessly and forcibly ejected from the farm by subsequent buyers of the farms or the same owners.

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sure the hon. Member is aware of the existence of a gentleman's agreement between the Government and the landowners who have squatters on their farms not to evict or maltreat them until such time as the Government is able to provide alternative accommodation for them. This arrangement has so far worked satisfactorily, and until the situation suggests otherwise it should be allowed to continue. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I find it extremely difficult to envisage how the length of stay on a farm can confer, upon a squatter, absolute rights to that property. If such was the normal trend of affairs, we would then be faced with, for instance, a situation where a house boy who has been in one's employment for many years could claim right of ownership, at the end of his service, to the house he has been living in. Moreover, the hon. Member's suggestion ignores the fact that private land can only be taken from the legal owner in terms of the Land Acquisition Act, and this requires the payment of full compensation. The Government, as we are all aware, is actively pursuing a farm purchase policy with a view to placing increasing areas of high potential agricultural land in the ownership of Kenya citizens instead of expatriate ownership, but it seems unlikely that this progressive policy would be assisted by diverting funds to the purchase of land solely on the petition of farm labourers who would like to possess it.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the Assistant Ministers reply, in which he ignores the first part of my question which asks him to seek the necessary legal authority but not to quote the existing law, would he not consider it the proper method of dealing with this situation, having a situation like the one we had in Kiu Ranching Farm where the seller, the former owner of that farm, put aside a part of his land before he sold it and gave it to the squatters and then sold the rest of the farm to the new buyer? Would that not solve the problem?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, that would solve the problem if the owner of the land wants to do as the hon. Member has suggested. However, the Government cannot compel the owner of land to give a portion of it to people, if he is not interested in doing that.

Mr. Y. Ali: Mr. Speaker, Sir, following the Assistant Minister's reply, would he tell this House and the entire nation whether it is the policy of this Government to retain this colonial system of squatters? If that is not so, would he not agree with this House that the time has come for this Government to take immediate action with a view to abolishing the system of squatters in this country?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, I did not exactly follow the hon. Member's question because he mentions existing colonial system of squatters. If he has new ideas about this problem, we will be glad to consider them.

Mr. Kahengeri: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Since we have automatic citizenship in this country given to people who did not have the right to be here, why is it not possible for people who are born on a particular farm in any part of our country to become automatic owners of that farm whether the previous owner wants to sell it or to retain it? Why do we not have automatic ownership on our side if we can accommodate other people by making them automatic owners of our land when they did not have the right of ownership?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, there is no automatic ownership of something if one has not bought it. How can he be an automatic owner? I think the hon. Member has forgotten the fact that the Government is doing very well in pursuing its policy of helping landless people and squatters. This has been done. How can one consider— For example, several Members here, Mr. Speaker, have their own land. If they can give it to the squatters as an example to us, then we would ask the other people to do the same.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and considering a recent statement by his Minister about buying land from private persons and giving it or selling it to the Africans, or to the citizens of this country, is his answer not in contradiction to that statement when he says that they cannot do anything about it unless somebody offers his land?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, that is a different issue. We are talking about squatters, not about plots in Nairobi. Nairobi plots are a different issue.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the Assistant Minister is relying on the concept of "willing buyer, willing seller", and since it has been made quite clear in this House, both in this Parliament and in the last Parliament, that this House wishes to see the Constitution amended to qualify that "willing buyer, willing seller business", will the Assistant Minister introduce the necessary constitutional amendments?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is not something that only the Minister can do. The hon. Member is a lawyer himself and can introduce a different thing because we— Mr. Speaker, what my friend probably wants us to amend is section 75 of the Constitution which guarantees individual right of ownership and it can be done by this Parliament.

Mr. Magugu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, referring to the gentleman's agreement between the Government and the landowners mentioned by the Assistant Minister, will the Assistant Minister agree with me that this agreement was made in order to pacify the squatters—and he, himself, has been at one time a squatter—and the so-called legal labour, until such time when the landowners or the foreign landowners have had enough time to get buyers for their land and thereby throwing out the squatters altogether from the farm?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, the hon. gentleman over there, who has been in our Ministry doing the same job, knows why this gentleman's agreement was made. This gentleman's agreement has been operating very well and we as a Government, are trying to make sure that the owners of the property will not disturb squatters. This is going on very well.

NOTICE OF MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

MATTER OF REPLY TO QUESTION NO. 42:
PROTECTION OF FARM WORKERS FROM EVICTION

Mr. Seroney: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, if the hon. Member who asked this question has no objection, I would like to raise it on the Adjournment.

Mr. Kivuitu: No objection.

Question No. 87 (1345)

MAIANI/NUNGUNI ROAD—BITUMENIZATION

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Mr. Speaker, before I ask the question, I wish to make a small correction.

The first line in part (a) of the question should read, "what will be the tarmacked width of Maiani" and not "maiani".

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House—

(a) what would be the tarmacked width of Maiani/Nunguni Road, via Kilome, now being reconstructed by Mauladad and Rose Company; and

(b) whether the Ministry was prepared to extend the reconstruction of the same road to Kikoko, which is only three miles from Nunguni; so that secondary schools (Thome Andu Boys Secondary School and Precious Blood Girls' School) be better served.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Kuguru): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) The width of the tarmac road is 18 feet.

(b) There is a question of extending the construction of this road and the answer to it is "No". We cannot extend the construction because the three miles road is not included in the programme.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and in view of the fact that in recent times there has been an increase in motor accidents, does the Ministry consider an 18 ft. road wide enough to avoid these unnecessary accidents?

Mr. Kuguru: Mr. Speaker, a statement was made in this House that "Our Policy remains our policy until it is changed." The policy in the construction of such roads is 18 feet in width. I am not in a position to change the specification in the construction because our drawings show categorically that the construction will be 18 feet wide.

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: I think the Assistant Minister has not answered my question. I asked him whether he considers 18 feet good enough to avoid the increasing unnecessary accidents, and whether this is the standard width for all roads like Mombasa or Nakuru Road, or whether it is specifically for this particular road.

Mr. Kuguru: Mr. Speaker, for the time being, I consider this sufficient because in the design which has been drawn by technicians, they have measured that a car is about six feet wide, and if the width is six feet, you can easily see that two cars can pass one another. So, the road is sufficient—18 feet for the time being.

Mr. Kurgat: Mr. Speaker, Sir, does the Assistant Minister want to tell the House that they are going to do up the road once again because they are doing it half-way now? If the width of the road is now 18 feet, will they carry out the rest of the works in future, since this is to be a tarmac road? Is he telling us now that they are doing part of the road for the time being and they will undertake the rest of the work later?

Mr. Kuguru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I feel the hon. Member must understand that 18 feet is the standard size of the roads today in Kenya. It does not mean that we are going to make roads 36 feet wide. All roads are 18 feet wide.

18 feet is what we tarmac and there might be placed on the side of the road, another 18 feet, along which cars can travel when there is more than one car passing along that road.

However, what we tarmac is only 18 feet.

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply to part (b) of the question, I would like to know why the Ministry does not consider it proper to extend this road to this particular place, Kikoko, which is three miles from the last point where they wish to stop since it is most important in the area as we have two secondary schools there and it is also important for commercial business? Why do they not consider it proper to do the extra tarmacking?

Mr. Kuguru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is not a question of why we do not consider it proper. The programme was drawn up some time ago and we obtained money from outside for constructing sufficient mileage, excluding that three miles the hon. Member is talking about. If the question of these three miles is to be considered, it will be considered in the next Development Plan, not this one.

Question No. 14 (1204)

PROMOTION OF FISH INDUSTRY: LAKES BARINGO AND RUDOLF

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Tourism and Wildlife if he could tell the House—

- (a) what he was doing to promote the Fish Industry in Lake Baringo and Lake Rudolf;
- (b) if there were any loans set aside to help the wananchi in these lakes to buy motor boats and other facilities.

The Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife (Mr. Jan Mohamed): Since fish is under my Ministry I, therefore, beg to reply. (a) The Fisheries Department of my Ministry has established stations in both lakes. The officers stationed there introduce the fishermen to new and better methods of fishing in order to increase the quality and quantity of fish landed. Improved methods of fish handling and processing are also taught to the fishermen in order to save the increased catch.

(b) Yes. There is a Fishermen's Loan Scheme which is available to all approved applicants throughout the country. Wananchi in those lake areas are, therefore, at liberty to apply for these loans.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, that there is this Fishermen's Loan Scheme, would he tell the House what will be the security required by these people since they do not have land? What will be the security that will have to be provided by the people of Lake Baringo or Lake Rudolf if they wish to apply for these Fishermen's loans?

Mr. Jan Mohamed: Mr. Speaker, Sir, no security is required. The loan is given to approved fishermen, the loan is given in kind, not necessarily in cash. For instance, the fishermen are given proper boats and fishing nets in lieu of cash which they utilize for their fish catch.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, arising out of the reply by the Assistant Minister, does he not agree with me that the only lake which should be given preference in the fish industry is Lake Victoria forgetting Lake Rudolf?

Mr. Jan Mohamed: Sir, the Fishermen's Loan Scheme is for the whole country and not for a particular lake.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question Mr. Mutua.

Question No. 88 (1346)

TELEPHONE SERVICES IN NITHI DIVISION

Mr. Muturia, on behalf of Mr. Mutua, asked the Minister for Power and Communications if he would tell the House if he was aware that there was no telephone and no electricity in Nithi Division which was about sixty miles away from Meru and forty miles from Embu Town.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You cannot do that just now if there is a likelihood of his appearing any time now. We have not heard anything from him.

We will move on to the next question. Mr. Muturia, you ask your own question now.

An hon. Member: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, hon. Mutua requested me to ask his question on his behalf, Question No. 88 and I note that hon. Muturia stood up to ask the same question.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): That is all right now because we have moved on.

Question No. 91 (1362)

DISCRIMINATION IN MATHARI HOSPITAL

Mr. Muturia asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House why there was discrimination in Mathari Hospital by separating Asians, Europeans and African mental patients.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. ole Oloitipitip): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Ministry of Health has checked on the allegations made by the hon. Member and it has been found that they are not correct. The position is that Mathari Hospital has Amenity Wards and General Wards. The charge in the First Class Amenity Ward is Sh. 30 per day and in the Second Class Amenity Ward (for female patients only) the charge is Sh. 12/50 per day. For patients who cannot afford these charges, there are the General Wards for which no charge is made. All patients are given the option to choose whether they enter an Amenity Ward or a General Ward.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, is the Assistant Minister not misleading the House because my brother was in that very hospital and I am qualified to pay any fee for that matter. It was then that I learnt there are three classes in Mathari Hospital: for Europeans, Asians and Africans.

Mr. ole Oloitipitip: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not misleading the House. The information I have given the House is correct and I think the hon. questioner is the one who is trying to mislead the House.

Mr. Jilo: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, could he tell this House why it is necessary for the Ministry to have three different types of wards?

Mr. ole Oloitipitip: This is very simple. There are people who have funds and they would like to have better facilities because of the money they have. There are other people, at the same time, who do not have anything. Care has been taken to provide for all types.

If any member of the public wishes to be kept in an Amenity Ward, he is at liberty to be there.

Mr. Amayo: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, could he tell the House how a patient with a mental defect is able to choose the type of ward he wants to go into?

Mr. ole Oloitipitip: Sir, a person who suffers from mental disease has members of his family who have the right to choose where they want to put this patient.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister agree with me that the three races, namely, Africans, Europeans and Asians resent mixing with people who are not normal mentally? Therefore, it would be advisable to separate them—those who are mentally disturbed—for the sake of security in the hospital?

Mr. ole Oloitipitip: That is not the case with us, Sir.

Question No. 95 (1366)

ACREAGE OF KANGURE, KIAMUTI AND KIAMBICHO FORESTS

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Natural Resources if he would tell the House—

(a) what the acreage was of the following forest areas in Murang'a District:—

(i) Kangure Forest

[Mr. Wachira]

- (ii) Kiamuti (Kirima) Forest
- (iii) Kiambicho Forest;

(b) how many rightful landowners had been displaced by the take-over of the lands involved and if, had they been compensated.

The Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Omamo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give the following reply. (a) The acreages for the forests in question are as follows:—

- (i) Kangure Forest—465 acres
- (ii) Kiamuti (Kirima) Forest—450 acres
- (iii) Kiambicho Forest—930 acres.

(b) There were no rightful landowners that were displaced by the take-over of the lands involved known to my Ministry. Consequently, the question of compensation did not arise at the time of take-over.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that I was born at Kangure Forest and the fact that my father measured these pieces of land in the first gathering and that he was denied the right of gathering these pieces of land in the second gathering, why should the Minister confuse the House by saying that there were no rightful landowners?

Mr. Omamo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the fact that an hon. Member of this House was born in a particular place does not necessarily mean that he is the rightful owner of that particular piece of land. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the procedure followed, and the one which makes me assure this House that there were no rightful holders applying, is this: In 1959, the then Fort Hall Land Board decided in their minutes—I would like the hon. Member to note this—minute number L.L.B/9/59—to hand over these forests to the Central Government. The Central Government later, in a Gazette Notice No. 185 of 11th April 1961, did acquire the land, having given the necessary notice to the general public to raise objections. No objection was raised.

Mr. Kurgat: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Minister has mentioned that these forests were handed over in 1959, that was during the colonial time. Could the Minister inform this House who brought up the agenda on the forests being handed over to the Central Government?

Mr. Omamo: The then A.D.C., African District Council.

Mr. Wanjagi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Minister used the word “take-over” from whom was this land taken over?

Mr. Omamo: The land was transferred from the African District Council to the Central Government and when land is transferred under such circumstances, somebody receives, and that is why I used the words “take-over”.

Mr. Wanjagi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Minister used the word “take-over” with reference to when the land was taken originally. From whom did the African District Council or whoever was concerned take over if the land was not owned?

Mr. Omamo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, every hon. Member should know that the Trust Land Unit belonged to the African District Councils and not to individuals and this was the case until there was land consolidation and registration.

Question No. 41 (1258)

TELEVISION PROGRAMMES AND FOREIGN DANCES

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Minister for Information and Broadcasting if he would assure the House that—

- (a) the exhibition of foreign dances on television programmes would be reduced drastically so as to minimize the possibility of our people opting for foreign cultures;
- (b) the exhibition of African Traditional dances in the television programmes will represent the cross section of the culture of this country and not the culture of any one tribe or province.

The Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Dr. Onyonka): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. First of all I would like to inform the hon. Member that my Ministry appreciates the fact that it is true there is a preponderance of foreign programmes and everything possible is being done to alleviate the situation. It is, however, important for me to further elaborate on this point that it would not be possible for us to substitute local programmes for foreign programmes due to lack of manpower and other resources. However, it is my hope that with the recent introduction of Film Documentary Units, it will now be possible for us to undertake the filming of local programmes right from the Coast to Lake Victoria which will render it increasingly possible for us to substitute local programmes for foreign programmes. I do not want to give the hon. Members the false impression that it is going to take just a few weeks or months to rectify the situation. It will take time, but I definitely agree with the suggestion that there is need for a change.

With respect to the second part of the question, I would like to point out that in this exercise we shall try, as much as possible, to include every

[The Minister for Information and Broadcasting] section of the country if resources permit—at least every district, and I think this will give us a good cross section of the various cultural aspects of the community.

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the very good reply given by the hon. Minister, could I also be assured whether the resources are adequate or not—whether the resources will not only be adequate for one province but will be adequate for as many provinces as possible?

Dr. Onyonka: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not quite know what the hon. Member has in mind when he refers to one province. Now, as far as I am concerned the various programmes that we have normally had on the television do not so much reflect one province. If you are referring to the coverage given to His Excellency the President, who by sheer circumstances of history happens to be in a particular province, I think that is irrelevant. We are now trying to extend our coverage as far as possible. Maybe it is important to add that one reason why it was somewhat difficult, especially as far as television is concerned, to cover the whole country, is that we had no television cameras in each of the provinces. I am happy to report that now there is at least one television camera in each province and this should provide good coverage for the country.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply, if we have to have these foreign dances or foreign programmes, why is it necessary that we always have these German dances? Why German dances all the time? Can we have dances from other countries such as from Russia, or China for instance?

Dr. Onyonka: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is just a matter of taste. In some cases I hear the hon. Members complaining of having German dances, but I think this is not, factually, correct. He should have even referred to Israeli dancers—Yes, if you do not watch your television, then it is not my business. It is a fact that we have had dancers from other countries as well. At the same time it is important to note that not every country is willing to provide either live programmes or television shows for this purpose and so we can only use what is available to us. Furthermore, I would like to emphasize the fact that the availability of these shows is not at our discretion. We use what becomes available to fill in the time. Now, only with the development of our own films would we be able to fill this programme with films that show what the wananchi and this particular House would like to see and hear.

Question No. 28 (1245)

BARINGO PRIMARY SCHOOLS: PARTICIPATION IN SPORT IN NAKURU

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Education to tell the House—

(a) whether he was aware that the Baringo Primary Schools Team was refused permission to take part when the Rift Valley primary schools' sports took place at Nakuru on 5th August 1970; and,

(b) the reasons why Baringo District had been refused permission to take part.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Mbai): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) I am aware that the Primary Schools in Baringo District did not participate in the Rift Valley Province Primary Schools Championships held at Nakuru on 5th August 1970.

(b) Since the Baringo team had not participated in the elimination contest of 17th July, they could not take part in the final championships of 5th August 1970, without disrupting the organization of the whole event.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, does the Assistant Minister agree with me that this was very unfair for whoever was organizing these sports in Nakuru to invite this team, knowing very well that they did not participate in this elimination contest of 17th July, and this team went to Eldama Ravine and practised for a whole week, spending a lot of money, only to find, on arriving at Nakuru, that they would not be allowed to participate in the final championships?

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not aware that the organization which was in charge of these sports did invite this team from Baringo. What I am aware of is that the Baringo Team, which was supposed to hold an elimination contest with Nakuru schools did not turn up and take part in the elimination contest and, therefore, they could not be allowed to take part in the final championship. That was the reason.

Question No. 94 (1365)

OVERSEAS SCHOLARSHIPS FOR NYAMBENE NORTH

Mr. Muturia asked the Minister for Education to tell the House—

(a) the number of girls and boys who have been offered overseas scholarships from Nyambene North since 1963; and,

(b) if any, to state their names.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett) Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. As I have said in this House on several occasions, selection for scholarships is made purely on academic qualifications and not on district, province or constituency basis. It is, therefore, not possible for me to say how many students have been selected from any particular constituency during any particular period.

Names of Kenya students selected for all the overseas scholarships are available in my Ministry and any hon. Member of the House who is interested to know them can come to the Ministry and have a look at the list.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the reply by the Minister, is the Minister aware that this is the same trick which he and other Ministers are using, saying that selection is not done on constituency, district or provincial basis, while we know that we have boys and girls who are qualified for overseas scholarships and many other things, and yet the Minister is hiding that fact?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not using any tricks. I wish I knew how to use them. What I am saying is that I have a very big list and I am inviting the hon. Member to come and go through that huge list and tell me how many of them come from his constituency and how many come from elsewhere.

Mr. Ziro: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is rather unfortunate to find that since we achieved our independence, not even one student from the Coast has gone overseas. Could the Minister tell us the reason why this is happening?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): This question is specifically dealing with Nyambene North and nowhere else. Next question.

Mr. Muturia: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No. Mr. Muturia. If you want to raise it on a Motion for the Adjournment, you do not have to tell me.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Will you sit down, please? I have told you that it is not necessary to tell me that.

Question No. 90 (1358)

LOWERING OF QUALIFICATION FOR ADMISSION TO TRAINING INSTITUTIONS

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Nthenge, not here. Next question.

Question No. 101 (1381)

GOVERNMENT TEACHER FOR MATUNDA GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. arap Saina asked the Minister for Education to tell the House, since Matunda Girls High School had been built by the Roman Catholic Missionaries on Harambee basis and since the Minister had visited this school in March 1970 and had promised to provide the school with a Government teacher, the reason for the delay in fulfilling his promise.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I did promise that Matunda School would be considered for assistance with a Government-paid teacher along with other Harambee schools. However, I did not specifically say when a teacher would be made available, as this depended on availability of funds. I am still aware of this promise and I hope to implement it when funds make it possible for me to do so. I have been corresponding with the manager of Matunda Girls High School recently.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that answer given by the Minister, and realizing that Uasin Gishu is one of the formerly neglected districts, as far as education is concerned, will the Minister, now, as soon as the funds are available, give Matunda a priority and send a teacher there as soon as possible?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, at the beginning of the year I sent a teacher to Matunda, but due to something—I do not know what happened there—she left the place, but as soon as I have funds available I will consider Matunda along with other schools which require the same attention.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that answer—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You stood on a point of order, not to ask a question.

Mr. arap Saina: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Minister in order to say that he sent a teacher to Matunda at the beginning of last year whereas even the school is not aware of the teacher he is talking about?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): That is a question. Next question. We now go back to Mr. Mutua's question.

Question No. 88 (1346)

TELEPHONE SERVICES IN NITHI DIVISION

Mr. Marete, on behalf of Mr. Mutua, asked the Minister for Power and Communications to tell the House whether he was aware that there is no telephone and no electricity in Nithi (Chuka) Division which is about sixty miles away from Meru and forty miles from Embu Town.

The Assistant Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Onamu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I wish to inform the hon. Member that I am aware there is no telephone or electricity supply in Nithi Division.

[The Assistant Minister for Power and Communications]

The provision of electricity supplies to the more remote areas of the country will take some time unless there is some major development in such an area requiring an electricity supply. The magnitude of development in Nithi would have to be of such a scale as to produce a Revenue sum of about Sh. 80,000 per annum. In the case of Nithi, however, the supply may be afforded in 1971 if the development of the Chogoria Hospital is financially viable to the extent that the recurring charges of an electricity supply could be made. Subject, therefore, to this proviso, the area might receive an electricity supply next year.

As far as the telephone service is concerned, I would like to inform the hon. Member that plans are well advanced to provide telephone facilities at Chogoria, and the opening date is expected to be this year. Plans to extend this service to Chuka (which is the largest town in Nithi Division) are in hand now and the opening date will be during the 1971/72 Financial Year.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that satisfactory answer from the Assistant Minister, and Chogoria (Chuka) being a part of Nithi Division, would the Assistant Minister assure this House that all the parts of Nithi Division, which is between Chuka and Meru Town are going to be supplied with both electricity and telephone facilities?

Mr. Onamu: I did not say that. I have only assured you of Chogoria and Chuka.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Nthenge's question.

Question No. 90 (1358)

LOWERING OF QUALIFICATIONS FOR ADMISSION TO TRAINING INSTITUTIONS

Mr. Mutiso, on behalf of Mr. Nthenge, asked the Minister for Education if he would tell the House what special arrangements existed in Kenya to reduce the required standard of qualification for students from less developed areas such as Turkana, Baringo and Moyale, etc., to enter courses such as medical courses, agricultural courses etc.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Rubia): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. No arrangements exist for reduction of standards of qualifications for anybody who intends to enter a professional course such as medicine.

However, the best pupils from the areas the hon. Member has in mind are given opportunities to enter the more established secondary schools.

Mr. Jilo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that reply, does the Assistant Minister agree with me that it is his Ministry which two years ago exempted candidates for parliamentary seats from those areas from sitting an English test?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is outside the question.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, can he tell us what he is trying to do with regard to building schools near the places which are mentioned in the question?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I said that we will give some consideration to students from the areas referred to in the question; for example, Turkana, Baringo and Moyale to enter secondary schools that are more established—secondary schools with better teaching facilities. However, as far as professional qualifications are concerned, the student or the candidate must qualify before he or she can be allowed to enter the medical profession. However, we help secondary schools in the remote areas to enter students in the better established schools.

QUESTIONS BY PRIVATE NOTICE

LEGAL NOTICE NO. 241 ON INCREASE OF MAIZE PRICE

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Questions by Private Notice.

Mr. Wabuge's Question by Private Notice.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Agriculture the following Question by Private Notice:—

In view of the fact that the present price of maize was increased to Sh. 30 per bag of 200 pounds, with effect from 18th December for maize planted in the calendar year beginning 1st January 1970, and in view of the fact that when the increase was effected there were some producers who had already delivered some of their maize to the Maize and Produce Board, would the Minister revoke the schedule of the Legal Notice No. 241 of 31st December 1970 so that producers whose records of deliveries are known to the Board could be paid for their maize at the increased prices?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Khaoya): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Actually, the farmers have been treated with considerable sympathy in the Legal Notice 241 which takes effect retrospectively from 18th December 1970 because in normal circumstances such notice would only consider the 1971 planted maize crop. Therefore, though unfortunate, the answer is, "No".

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and in view of the fact that the Ministry, and for that matter the Government, always urges the farmers to make early delivery of maize, which advice the farmers followed last year, and in view of the fact that the Legal Notice No. 241 states that the price which came into effect on 18th December 1970 was for the crop planted in 1971, is the Assistant Minister not aware of the fact that Government is robbing the farmers who had delivered their maize before 18th December 1970 and that the Government is becoming dishonest with the farmers of this country?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, normally the price of maize is announced one year in advance so that the price of 1970 planted maize crop was announced some time in October 1969. It was only last year, under special circumstances, that you hon. Members raised this question and the Government decided that we should encourage farmers to plant more maize for the year 1971, and to do this it necessitated making a decision in the middle of December to increase the price of maize by Sh. 5 per bag.

I think the farmers should be grateful in that the Government did not only provide new price for 1971 produce but also allowed the new price to take effect from 18th December 1970. I am sure there are a number of farmers who might have been unlucky in that they had delivered their maize before. However, all that I can say is that the price is there for this year, if only they can plant more maize so that we can achieve the purpose for which the price was set.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next Question by Private Notice.

SHORTAGE OF MAIZE IN THE COAST PROVINCE

Mr. Mwamzandi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Agriculture the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) What are the causes of the current maize shortage throughout the Coast Province?
- (b) What plans has the Minister to save the Coast people from this unfortunate situation?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Khaoya): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I am not aware of any maize shortage in the Coast Province.

An hon. Member: Shame!

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Khaoya): We have enough maize in the store for the Coast Province at Mombasa and Voi from where maize for that province is distributed. We have 15,000 bags for this purpose stored in these places which I have mentioned. The weekly consumption is estimated at 4,000 bags only; and that is why I have said that we have sufficient maize.

Mr. Mwamzandi: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply that he is not aware of the maize shortage at the Coast Province, and realizing the fact that we are now telling him that there is a maize shortage at the Coast Province, will he not agree with me that millers are sabotaging the production of maize flour simply because they do not agree with the decision which has been made by the Minister: the increase in the price of maize?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, let us come to the crux of the matter. I said that there is no shortage of maize. However, the hon. Member tells us very correctly that we do not have maize in the mills because the maize millers are not grinding the maize and then selling it to the consumers. All that I can say is that if there are any such millers they should take note that if such conditions continue they may find themselves out of a job because we decided that in the interest of the country we should raise the price payable to the producer and so we increased it by Sh. 5. We also decided that the consumer should be cared for and, therefore, reduced the price of maize meal by 15 cents per kilogram. I know that there have been a number of discussions by the Maize and Produce Board on one side and the millers on the other. All the time we tell the millers that they have to co-operate with the Government. I would like to repeat, again, so that they may not complain later on because Government is determined to safeguard the interests of the consumer.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, when he said that the millers are required to produce more maize meal, has his Ministry gone and investigated how maize millers are producing maize meal because as far as I am concerned I went to one of the maize millers in Nairobi and he told me that despite the fact that the population had increased they are producing the same quantity of maize meal as they did when they established the factory in 1960?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, personally I have not visited these millers. As the hon. Member asks, I hope to do so soon if this situation continues.

I had better also remind him that the problem is not as he states, but rather it is as hon. Mwamzandi puts it. That is, there is sufficient maize but the millers, perhaps because they do not want to co-operate, are sitting on the maize and, therefore, wananchi are not getting the maize flour.

Rev. Kalume: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is he aware that some shopkeepers in the Republic have not reduced the prices in their shops? If he is aware, can he tell the nation the price of maize meal per kilogram so that the people may know?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not aware that some people are not following Government regulations. All I can say is that once a law is made it is up to us, wananchi, to follow it because if we are found not following it we will be prosecuted just like anybody else. Therefore, I am now warning that for those who are not taking heed of the new prices, if they are found out, they will be prosecuted.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since we understand from the millers that they are doing maximum milling in the country, and since there is no definite indications showing that they are refusing to do their milling because of the price, would the Ministry consider it possible that it is because the demand is high, due to the drought, and therefore license more millers in the country to cope with the demand? If it is not because of the shortage of maize, would he assure us that we are not being led into the last situation whereby we were told that there was a surplus of maize in the country while there was nothing in the country since all our maize had been sold to our neighbouring countries?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am grateful for the suggestion given by my hon. colleague. All I can say is that due to the measures we took, that is, the increase in the price, we were able to attract more maize into the stores, so much so that at the moment, for instance, we have had 2.1 million bags received by the stores as compared to last year's 0.75 million bags.

Right at the moment we have, in our stores, 1.5 million bags and we think this is sufficient for the time being. But we are trying all the time to get as much maize as possible from the producing areas, namely, Kitale and most of the Western Province areas. For this reason we have arranged for more rolling stock to get as much maize as possible. In fact, the delivery has been such that now our main problem is to get sufficient rolling stock to get maize from Kitale to Nairobi and to the area of my friend in Kitui.

Mr. Kanja: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. The hon. Assistant Minister has revealed what I would call a phenomenon, in view of the fact that he admits that we have so much maize in our fields and stores, yet in some parts of our country some of our people are dying of hunger. Are we going to sit and stock this maize when our own brothers and sisters are dying, or we are going to give them some of that maize? Are you, probably, waiting for some benefits?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member has raised a vital question which touches every nationalist in the country, and I am one of them. We had one hurdle which we have now got over. We are at the next one, which is how to get this maize milled and distributed. I have already demonstrated the difficulties we are running into, and I have also said already that we are taking some measures. All I can say is that this House should back us up in our endeavour so that we can break this last hurdle.

MOTION

THANKS FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

(Fourth Day)

THAT the thanks of this House be recorded for the exposition of Public policy contained in His Excellency's Presidential Address from the Chair on 23rd February 1971.

(The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs on 25th February 1971)

(Resumption of Debate interrupted on 3rd March 1971)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Kioko, you still have five minutes.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I will be very brief during my five minutes' period.

Mr. Speaker, you will remember that yesterday I said I do not believe in the policies we have in the country whereby we deny the low-income group of many facilities in this country. It is a fact that they are not entitled to enjoy the facilities of the National Hospital Insurance Fund which only costs Sh. 20 every month yet they are ready to pay for it monthly. Secondly, they have not been given the chances of buying shares in the public services. I think the Ministries should take consideration of this matter because most of the people who belong to the low-income group are more than those who are privileged to receive the high salaries in this country.

The other thing Mr. Speaker, is that I do differ slightly with the Members who have been generalizing the situation of the civil servants in this country. Sir, I feel that there are some civil servants in this country who are to be commended for the services they have been rendering for the Republic, and they are still rendering these services, but it is not the earnings that they are looking for. It is very wrong if a Member will come up with no specific cases and generalize the issue of all the civil servants in the country who are working for the Republic.

[Mr. D. M. Kioko]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would say that even today there might be some Members who have visited some Ministries. After seeing the people who work in those Ministries they thank them for what they might have done for them this morning. I think it is wrong, Mr. Speaker, if we go on generalizing issues without being specific. We cannot run the country in that manner if we are here to be the leaders of the country at all. For this reason, Mr. Speaker, I differ with some people who might be generalizing on this issue.

The other thing I would like to say, Mr. Speaker, is that we have been talking, as Members of this House, of the situation that is facing our people in the North-Eastern Province. Today, Mr. Speaker, I would say that as we are 170 Members in this House, the Ministers, the Assistant Ministers and the Back-benchers, I am ready to initiate a fund-raising appeal of Sh. 200 per Member from tomorrow. I am giving mine to the cashier tomorrow so that we can contribute for the people who are suffering in the North-Eastern Province. It is not good to talk and talk without good deeds. Talking without any actions, Mr. Speaker—I feel that if all Members sympathize with the situation in the North-Eastern Province, then we should contribute Sh. 200 each tomorrow—that will total to Sh. 34,000—and take it to the North-Eastern Province tomorrow. Sir, I am going to hand over mine tomorrow. It is no good talking with no deeds. I wish all the Members would come forward and help these people to come out of this situation.

Mr. Speaker, I believe in actions because it is no good talking only without showing the public that we are doing the things which are going to benefit them. We have been here for long, Mr. Speaker, and as I can see Members come here just to talk. Some of them propose but when it comes to deeds and actions we become embarrassed when we meet our people outside asking, "What are you doing after talking so much in that House?" Mr. Speaker, I feel I will differ from some of the things that we do as the leaders of the country because we shall be confusing the masses of this Republic if we do not show them the right way of running our Government.

Sir, I would also point out that it has become a practice of some of the employers in this country to have an attitude of exploiting their employees simply because they know Government is faced with the situation of acute unemployment. I think these employers should come forward and help the Government rather than, after knowing that we have an acute situation of unemployment in this country, just exploiting their employees simply because they know they will get Tom, Dick and Hurry the next day. I think employers in this country should have the sympathy and heart to help our Government to rescue the situation by co-operating with the Government, which is looking into ways and means of getting our people employment so as to enable them earn their daily bread.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, with these few remarks, I beg to support the Motion.

The Minister for Health (Mr. Okero): Mr. Speaker, thank you very much for giving me this opportunity to make a few observations upon the Presidential Speech which was both short and vigorous. I do hope that my speech will also be short and vigorous.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do want, firstly, to comment on paragraph five which is to be found on page six of His Excellency the President's Speech in which he drew the attention of this House and the attention of the nation to the dangers of pollution. Pollution has a great bearing on health and I have gone around the country a little bit and I have been able to see what happens in our rural areas where 90 per cent of our people live. I am more and more convinced that unless we do something pretty rapidly, to alter the pattern of living of our people in those rural areas, it may well be that the number of hospitals we are building will not be in a position to cope with the serious problems that are going to develop there. In particular, Sir, with regard to pollution, I want to illustrate what I am talking about by a concrete example.

Soon after independence, in an area where we used to have only one sugar mill we do now have two other plants that have been established there to process our sugar. The whole of the sugar settlement area in the Muhoroni, Miwani, Kibigori and Chemelil Complex is where you have a large number of people who have come there to settle and have small plots and are there as workers employed in these industries. I am sorry to have to bring to the notice of the House that up to the time I am speaking now, there is nothing that one could call a proper water system in the whole of this area. This is a serious omission, Mr. Speaker, Sir, and it is pregnant with great dangers. Equally well, in the whole area, there is nothing that one could call a properly organized system of sanitation. Also, Sir, equally well, there are great problems of pollution taking place in this area. There are many little rivers that flow in this area and on which the people who live in this area depend for their water supply. Apart from Nyando River, which is being polluted, literally every second, all these small rivers are being polluted in the same manner. I do want steps to be taken pretty rapidly to correct this situation. Now, how can the situation be corrected? I suggest, myself, pretty humbly, that it is not difficult to establish some authority to be in charge of the whole of this sugar complex in this area. I see no difficulty in establishing, for instance, a sugar authority to take charge of all the problems that are in this area. I would urge, very strongly, that this action be taken to contain what is otherwise going to be a serious situation.

Secondly, Sir, I want to touch briefly on the tourist industry. We in our country pride ourselves, and rightly too, on our tourist industry. It earns us a great deal of money. We are lucky that we have the animals, the game and the wide parks which attract a large number of people from outside our Republic to come and visit us. However, in the course of the last couple of years, I have come to realize that there are a number of tourists who have come to our Republic on more than one or two occasions. They have seen our elephants, they have seen our giraffes, they have seen our zebras and have seen our antelopes. They have also had the benefit of basking in the sun and swimming in our ocean. However, they seem to feel that time has come, now, for them to see the people of Kenya. In other words they want to know the people who make Kenya. Therefore, I am going to suggest that time has now come for more of the hotels to be built in areas which have a greater concentration of the population to enable the tourists to see the higher type of animals. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is not an unreasonable suggestion. The other day when I was down at the Coast, I met a number of tourists who were wondering whether it is possible to visit the more population areas in our Republic. They would like to do so. The reason why they have not been able to do so is the shortage of hotel accommodation. I do remember, when I was down there, I had the occasion to whisper into the ears of my hon. friend, the Minister for Tourism and Wildlife, and I found out that the remarks I am making now, he said, are not unreasonable remarks.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to touch on the problem of education. If there is one thing, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that has made Kenya a modern country, as it is, it is education. I, therefore, want the 11 million Kenyans that are in this country to be able to feel the impact of education. I do want to say that it is desirable that the facilities for education should be made available to the 11 million Kenyans in an as equitable manner as is humanly possible. I do want to urge my colleague and hon. friend in the Ministry of Education to go out of his way to deliberately promote an equitable distribution of the educational facilities. This is the only way in which we are going to make sure that the 11 million people we have in Kenya are in a position to make a contribution to the nation building. I want to appeal to hon. Members that they can assist us in this task because, ultimately, in the Ministry of Health where I am a Minister, if you want somebody to train as a doctor, he has to have some education. If you want a girl to train as a nurse, she has to have some education. I know, in this House, there are some hon. Members who still think that a certain section of our community should not be educated. I urge them not to do so. I want all the hon. Members to go out of their way to try to encourage all our people, men and women, girls and boys, to go to school equally. Those who are prejudiced are doing a disservice to our Republic.

Finally, Sir, I do want to say that it is desirable for us to try and make the 90 per cent of our people who live in rural areas to benefit from education, and this requires that our attitude to education must be much broader than it has been hitherto. Education is not necessarily a means of getting a job in town. Education should be a means of being able to explain to the chap in the rural areas the mysteries of the physical world around him. Therefore, I do want both hon. Members and the rest of the nation to assist me in my Ministry to go out to the rural areas and let them talk about health centres, let them talk about hospitals, let them talk about a dispensary and let them, equally well, talk about personal hygiene. Let them equally well talk about the need for using clean water and also of using choo instead of going to the bush because if they do this they are going to make my work rather easier than it is now. I think, Mr. Speaker, Sir, these are not unreasonable suggestions. I think, Sir, I have made these remarks with all sincerity and I do not want to take more time simply because the red light has not come on.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, thank you.

Mrs. Gecaga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to congratulate His Excellency the President of the Republic of Kenya for the useful Speech he delivered in this House at the opening of Parliament on 23rd February 1971.

The President in his Speech referred to the National Assembly, like a public service, as an instrument of our State. We should ask ourselves what useful work this instrument of our State—our Parliament—could do for the betterment of our people and our State. I believe that if we interpreted this main instrument properly and tried to make it a useful instrument the hon.

[Mrs. Gecaga]

Members of this House would be creating a state of co-operation, unity, peace and progress. These are the four pillars of our hard-won independence, which all of us must defend. To achieve political independence is good but the progress of our people will never be seen until such time that the people of this Republic will work hard for unity and work harder for peace and co-operation so as to achieve economic independence. Therefore until then there will be no progress for our people.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, if the hon. Members of this Parliament could, through their speeches, teach the young generation of this country, that would help because they are the people who will change the economy of our country and transfer to the hands of our people. Members should make sure, instead of making mere speeches in this House, that there will be unity in Kenya. Lack of unity is hindering progress and therefore we should be working harder for the unity.

Mr. Kitonga: Address the Chair, Madam!

Mrs. Gecaga: Thank you very much, chief.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we know that we need a lot of preparation to enable us to fulfil what we should do. We know that education is the key to many things but, we know that there are many people in our country who have not been well educated enough to overcome the present indifference among our people towards development which could be introduced in their areas. It is the duty of individual groups and the Government to join together and explain to these people that they have to accept education, whether it is new or not in their area, so that they may be able to keep up with the other people of the Republic.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to take some of those words, like "co-operation" and ask, "Why should we work for co-operation?" We need to defend our nation in many ways. We should be prepared for any disaster which might come to frustrate our nation. Today, in Kenya, we know that there is a threat of famine in some areas of this country. However, through the co-operation of the people of this Republic, and the fact that we have responsible people, we are able to overcome such a disaster; but if we had no co-operation the people of the areas which are not affected by famine would not feel concerned about what is happening in for example, Garissa, Kitui and the other areas which are affected by famine.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, as leaders of this Republic, the Members of this House should ask Government or request the Government to form a famine relief fund where individuals, groups and voluntary organizations could send some donations. The Government could divide the money, goods or food-stuff according to the needs of the people who are suffering from famine.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to stress more on education. I have said here, earlier, that education is the key to many things. Kenya Government has been trying all it can to give education to the people of our State. However, I would mention that there have been statements in this House accusing some areas of the Republic of getting more of everything than some areas of the Republic.

Hon. Members: That is very true!

Mrs. Gecaga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to prove beyond any doubts that this is not true. I have said that education is the key to everything. For example, if we had some people in this country who were in a position and did start schools on self-help basis as far back as in 1950's, surely these people should have helped their areas a lot. Why did the others not do it? It is because they did not actually know the value of education. Therefore, why attack the people who knew the value of education and put in efforts so as to educate their children? Some of those schools were closed by the British Government, but not all doors to education were closed. The far-sightedness of the parents, and the students who were in these schools enabled them find their ways to other schools. This is what the people in this Republic should be doing. Instead of accusing an individual because he is capable of doing a job—and moreover he is a citizen of this country—why not work hard and take over all those jobs which are in the hands of the foreigners? Why not try harder and co-operate with the people who could help to organize the people in the areas where people are not in a position to organize themselves? Certainly, unless we do this there will be no progress in the Republic. We do need one another and the people who have the know-how should be telling the other people what to do. Members could be helping by making helpful statements and passing on information to as many people as they can.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I support.

Mr. Kholkholle: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir, for giving me this opportunity to make a few observations on the Presidential Address. I would like to co-operate with my colleagues who spoke before me and to congratulate the President for his short and educative speech.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, before the President concluded his speech, he said that we should not act only as an instrument but as a bridge between the Government and the public. If we are to act as a bridge between the Government and the people who elected us to this House, then whatever we say or bring here should be taken as very important. This is because we have been given the responsibility to represent the people. Sir, I would like to speak on a very serious issue which has affected some parts of the Republic; this is drought.

Before we went on adjournment last year, I gave a statement informing the Government that drought was just around the corner, coming, and that Government should take a very serious view of this point. However, what happened, Mr. Speaker, Sir? Somebody who is sitting in the President's Office said that there was nothing unusual, while we know what we have never seen such a drought for the last 50 years or more than that. I am not exaggerating the situation, nor am I blaming the Government for anything because this is my own Government. The situation is very serious, and as a result two people have died in my constituency due to starvation. A woman and a man have died, and when we inform Government, somebody who is sitting in the President's Office says that there is nothing unusual. The situation is very unusual and therefore, Government, Mr. Speaker, Sir, should send more food to the drought stricken areas. The supply which is being sent there is not enough. And when the little supply is sent there, and we ask the District Commissioner, Marsabit, why he is not sending or supplying the food to the people, the reply is: "There is no transport." There is no transport to send the food to the people. What is Government doing? Why can they not use the Army transport, the Kenya Air Force transport and all Government vehicles? Why should we wait until the people die? I think prevention is better than cure. There is no use sending food when the people have died. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I urge the Government to take this matter urgently or make a very urgent transportation of the supplies to the drought stricken areas.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, another thing which made this situation very serious is lack of water. In some places all the wells have dried up because of the long dry season. The Government is intending to allocate one tanker to Marsabit District, but to expect one tanker to supply water to an area which is 42,000 square miles, Mr. Speaker, I think is ridiculous. It is better not to have anything than having one tanker to supply water for an area which is 42,000 square miles. This is because it will not be of any use. What is the use, when some people are dying due to lack of water? Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I urge our Government to take a very serious view also on this point of water. The Government should try to send more tankers so that the people can be supplied with water easily.

Another point I would like to touch on, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is about education. Missionaries have built so many schools in Marsabit and all these schools are boarding schools; from Std. I to Std. VII. This is because our people are nomads and so they move from one place to place. They cannot move with their children; they must be left in the school to study. Therefore, I would like to urge the Minister for Education to take over these schools from the missionaries so that the children can be given better education and better facilities.

Mr. Speaker, Sir another point is about security. There have often been attacks from Ethiopia. People have been killed, livestock has been raided. I know, Kenya and Ethiopia are friends. There is good relationship between them. However, Sir, one-way traffic, one-way relationship, one-way friendship— We have been suffering from this and we would like to ask Government to try and arrange discussions with the Ethiopian Government so that these tribes, Galubar and Hamartokar, who cross the border to come and kill our Kenya citizens and raid their stock could be stopped. I know our Kenya security forces are doing a very good job there. They have recovered so many stock, but, Mr. Speaker, the lives which have been lost cannot be recovered. The stock can be followed and recovered but the lives of people can never be recovered. Therefore, I would like to urge the Government to have discussions with the Ethiopian Government so that the lives of these innocent people can be saved.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, another point is that we are very disappointed to see that since we were elected to this House there have been no Ministers visiting some of the districts. It is over one year since we were elected to this House and with the exception of the Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services, there has never been another Minister who has visited Marsabit. Why? What is wrong and yet we always hear Ministers visiting some other districts and provinces? Who is responsible for arranging the Ministers' visits?

An hon. Member: It is for you to approach him.

Mr. Kholkholle: We would like the Ministers to visit all the districts equally. This is because if they do not visit the area they cannot know what is going on.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my last point is about the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation loans. It was last year before we went on recess when I raised a question here asking how many people from Marsabit had been given loans by the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation since 1963. It was said that there were only 12 and that Government would not go and ask the people to apply for the loans. But, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, when these people apply they are being refused. I would therefore, appeal to the Government to give my people loans when they apply for them.

Mr. Murgor: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, first of all, I would like to congratulate His Excellency the President for his Speech and wise leadership which has led Kenya into rapid development and stability and which has also earned Kenya a good name overseas. Sir, there has been a lot of development work carried out with good results. Roads, in general, sugar roads, tea roads, and some other development projects have been established. Some landless people have been given land although there are still many of them who have not yet been settled. The sugar, tea and dairy industries have been improved and there has been, since independence, a lot of development so far which has been caused by the Harambee spirit in response to the call by His Excellency the President.

However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, with all these development projects that have been going on and, leaving alone the northern area of the Republic and some development projects in western Kenya, it seems as if this country has been divided into two parts: western and eastern Kenya as far as development is concerned and the border seems to be at Nakuru. You see therefore, western Kenya starting from Nakuru and eastern Kenya starting from Nakuru. It also appears, Sir, that some Ministries have only been concerned with one section of the Republic. For example, Mr. Deputy Speaker, the Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife which appears to have been entirely belonging to eastern Kenya. Western Kenya seems to be a place that has been closed to tourists. Heads of States and even the majority of our leaders here who do not seem to tour western Kenya. When I say this, Sir, His Excellency the Vice-President must be congratulated for his efforts which he makes every now and then to go out there.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as far as tourism and wildlife is concerned, are there no areas of tourist attraction in western Kenya? Are there no wild animals there? What is the difference, Sir, between the leopards, the elephants, buffaloes, antelopes, the lions, the rhinoceros and all those animals which are in western Kenya and those animals which are in eastern Kenya? Kerio Valley is full of all these animals and there are so many areas of more and better attraction to tourists than there are, say, in eastern Kenya. So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the sooner the Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife moves into western Kenya and carries on development there the better. If it does not do that, the Ministry and the Government will later on regret it when all these animals have been eliminated.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is very encouraging, as His Excellency the President said, to see that wananchi can now play a fuller part within the mining industry. I hope what has been going on will now stop. Sir, there have been local wananchi companies which have spent a lot of their time and money doing some prospecting of minerals and other things. When they have discovered the minerals someone steps in and says, "You will no longer do any prospecting here. You will no longer do any mining here, the Government with its own company will come in." A foreign company will then come in and the local company will be eliminated. The wananchi then go on prospecting outside that area and once they discover something, the Government come in. Which is better; to encourage local wananchi companies to invest their money in these mining industries or to bring in a foreign company? Sir, we hope these things will be corrected.

Together with these things and when things of this nature come about, then, there is also corruption coming in. Sir, one wonders as to where some people get money to purchase Mercedes Benz cars, to buy properties when one knows that not long before they did not own those things and they did not have the money. Where did they get the money from? This is something which some of our friends here have to watch because if they do not do so, then, I do not know what is going to happen.

Another thing, Sir, is about local industries. We manufacture certain goods in this country and these are manufactured by our own people. But these people, with their industries, are not protected. Foreign goods are allowed in to come and flood the markets and our poor people who have been trying their best have their goods remaining in the shops unsold. You may also, sometimes, find a small industry springing up in a place which may be in any rural area and while it is still going on bigger industries go in and kill that small industry. For example, bakeries; when an industry is going on, say, somebody is doing some baking somewhere, then, the big giants like Elliots Bakery, here in Nairobi, goes out to sell its bread and so on and then these other smaller bakeries whose owners got some loans from the Government will not be able to pay those loans because they cannot sell their bread.

I would also like to say something which I know I am always accused of. Sir, there has been—and even during this Session also—a lot of attacks on civil servants. I do not know when these attacks will stop. Sir, as I have said before, of course, there are some civil servants who are bad but the majority of them are not bad. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I wanted to hear something about that. There are some dedicated civil servants who do their work well but there are some who are bad. You cannot generalize and say that they are all bad. I know, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that even some senior civil servants do not follow the Code of Regulations especially the regulations which state that you cannot own property or businesses or anything of that kind, because you will find that some of the senior civil servants own a lot of property all over the country. I do not say that they are doing that, but the poor junior civil servants are the ones who suffer especially those who adhere to the regulations of the Government.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, with these few words, I beg to support.

Mr. Y. Ali: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for giving me this opportunity to make my observations on the Presidential Speech.

As usual, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to take this opportunity also to associate myself fully with my colleagues who have previously spoken on the Presidential Speech. On the Speech itself I would only pick up one point and that is in connexion with what His Excellency said here—and for the second time—that this House or this Parliament must serve as a bridge between the people of this country and the Government of this country. I wish and pray that this important message from the President will reach home. That is to say, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as soon as possible those people in this country who are holding important positions will take heed and digest this message from the President. Before I go further, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like particularly to talk about Kanu as the ruling party, in this country.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is obvious that Kanu does exist and that is why we exist here, that is why the Government is in this country and that is why our Flag is flying. However, if one is to be frank, I think the party needs reorganization. Those who were appointed to do the post-mortem as far as Kanu, the ruling party, is concerned should come forward now and tell us the outcome of their post-mortem, by that, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am referring to the reorganization report. Mr. Deputy Speaker, we must not under any circumstance forget that the freedom of this country was achieved through political means or through political movements, but not through the civil service. I know some civil servants—I am a freedom fighter and have every right because I participated fully—at that time there were some civil servants who were telling us that we were crazy people or hungry. They also used to ask us whether Africans were capable of ruling themselves. Some of these civil servants are still here. Some of them are occupying big posts in this Government. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I do not want to deviate from the point, but Kanu as the ruling party must be reorganized, must be revived and be revitalized because if this Government wants to continue or to exist then the foundations of this Government is Kanu as a political movement and it must be effective and functioning properly. I think there are some people for the sake of their positions and perhaps because they want to protect their positions, they have paralysed the party deliberately for the sake of protecting their positions at the expense of the wananchi of this country. We have discovered this and we shall not accept it. We shall oppose it either in or out of this House. I would like to go further, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, by saying that this Government belongs to wananchi because without the wananchi there would be no Government. This is obvious all over the world. We would like to see the wananchi having rights, having freedom over their affairs. We should not be left alone as Members of Parliament to be the political spokesmen in this country. Every son and every daughter of this country has every right to express their political views because this is why we value freedom more than anything else and I do not see how wananchi of this country would have the right to tell the Government or anybody in this country their political views if the party is not functioning properly. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I think I have driven this point home because it is an important point. If it will be taken as though a demagogue was standing up in Parliament trying to seek publicity in the newspapers, then time will sought out things.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my second point is about the supremacy of this House. Even school children in this country know that this is a supreme body as far as this society is concerned. Nobody anywhere in this country can come up or try in any way to undermine this House. Of late, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there has been an attempt to ridicule and to reduce this House to nothing. These people are trying to tamper with our freedom. As we fought wabeberu and we achieved our freedom we will fight anybody in this country who will try to play about with our freedom. I say this, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, because we have had so many resolutions in this House, but so far almost every Member is complaining about the implementation of these resolutions. Why? This is so because there are some destructive forces in this country who are all out to see that whatever is passed by this House is treated as null and void. Are we really, as parliamentarians, going to sit idle and see these people sabotage this bridge which Mzee has rightly said when he said that this House is a bridge between the people and the Government? I think my friends will not agree to this. We are determined to expose them every now and then, every minute, every second, every day and every year.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, turning to my constituency of Langata, I would like to talk about the housing problem which is confined to the people who are eating sukuma wiki—the popular vegetable in this country—or in other words the poor wananchi. I will start with the Kenyatta National Hospital. If you go around you will see that the Hospital is being extended. You will also hear that we have a medical school in this country. A fine building is going up, but if you go behind it you will see that wananchi are still housed in a colonial type of houses. During the day, these houses are very hot and even a baby can get fried. During the night it is the coldest place ever for a person to live in. I do ask myself, and also my constituents are asking themselves, what is the point of putting up such huge building to serve wananchi if you cannot consider, think about or take into consideration, those people who will be manning these huge houses. I think the Minister for Health has already left the House. He spoke something about the health of the nation. I think he should have been here to listen to what I am saying. This is because it is his task or a challenge to him. Before building small or big hospitals, I think wananchi at Kenyatta Hospital should be housed properly.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if you go around my constituency of Langata you see the Ministry of Works Machakos Camp. The other day I held a big rally there. I learnt that the Government is destroying shanties in this City. The Government has left wananchi in the open to sleep in the cold after having demolished these shanties. Shame on the Government! At the same time Government is still harbouring shanties somewhere in the industrial area. If you go to Machakos Camp you will find some wananchi living in shanties. These are Government shanties. We would like to see the Government cleaning its house first before going out to trouble wananchi. Machakos Camp belongs to Government. It is a shame for this Government to house wananchi in that way when we claim that we, as the Government, are responsible for the welfare of wananchi of this country. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would also go further and expose the housing conditions for the wananchi who are employed by the City Council as settlement camps.

Mr. Somo: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is it in order for the hon. Member to imply that it is the Government that demolishes these shanties while we know very well that the City Council is responsible for this and he himself used to be a Member of the City Council.

Mr. Y. Ali: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I do not think that is a point of order whatsoever and I must say that the hon. Member is one of the most cruel Members I have seen in this House because he has reduced my valuable minutes.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would also like to appeal to Government to look into the question of health centres. Mr. Deputy Speaker, as far as Nairobi is concerned, the majority of the population are workers. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the workers are suffering because the health centres are run during the day only and in the evenings or at night when the workers go home, they find all health centres closed. I think Government has now returned the 50 per cent graduated personal tax which they took from the City Council and therefore, the City Council has in its kitty more than Sh. 10 million and I am appealing to the City Council through Government to ensure all health centres are kept open during the night as well. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I am saying so because the poor and simple workers, who go to work early in the morning and come back late in the evening, have to go to the Kenyatta National Hospital and sleep on the floor waiting for their children to be treated by the few doctors we have at Kenyatta National Hospital. This is very serious. Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would also like to raise the question of the National Social Security Fund. We now have about £17 million contributed by the workers in this country to the National Social Security Fund. I am urging Government now to see to it that—

[Mr. Y. Ali]

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to support.

Mr. Seroney: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker. It is always a pleasure to have His Excellency, the Member for Gatundu, with us in this House. He is particularly welcome because his appearance in this House is very rare and I join the Mover of this Motion in thanking His Excellency for the exposition of public policy contained in his Speech on Tuesday, last week.

Mr. Mwithaga: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, while I am aware that the hon. Member who has been speaking is professed man of law and understands the reference in the terminology, is it fair to refer to the President, when he delivered his Speech, as Head of State, as His Excellency, Member for Gatundu?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): No, Mr. Seroney obviously said the correct thing, "His Excellency" does not refer to any of us Members of this House. It only refers to one man.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Deputy Speaker, the hon. Member is only wasting my time.

Mr. Mwithaga: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, while I am not disputing your ruling, do we not have "His Excellencies" of various types, and in this case, the hon. Member should have actually have referred to the President so that we may know which "Excellency" he means.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I think there are two "His Excellencies" in Government—His Excellency the Vice-President and His Excellency the President. Mr. Seroney said His Excellency, Member for Gatundu and obviously there is only one Member for Gatundu.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I used, that particular description for a particular purpose because I was not happy about the way this Parliament was turned into a circus by some over-eager civil servants on that day. Mr. Deputy Speaker, His Excellency the President is a Member of this House, and like all of us, he is bound by the Standing Orders of this House. Now, under the Constitution, this House has the exclusive prerogative to organize its own business. Yet, on Tuesday last week some Government officials who are strangers in this House, however high they may be, invaded and occupied this House for an entire afternoon. I am saying this, Mr. Deputy Speaker, because all that we require is that the Session is proclaimed open by notice in the Official Gazette and if it is not possible to have the Head of State or His Excellency the President for that matter to come to this House, as one of us and deliver his Speech, without civil servants monopolizing the prerogative of this House to arrange its own business, then, we might just as well not have a State Opening of Parliament because, in my view, it is unnecessary if it is going to mean this House being invaded by a lot of plain clothed Special Branch men with fire-arms contrary to the Standing Orders of this House. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to point out to these over-eager civil servants that—

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think the statement the hon. Member is making is very serious really. Could he tell the House who, other than hon. Members, entered this Chamber because he did talk about the Special Branch men coming in this Chamber being armed on Tuesday last.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Could you substantiate that there were people armed in the Chamber.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we all have eyes and we did witness it ourselves. When I talk about this building, I am not referring to this particular Chamber here. Obviously no Special Branch men could have come into this Particular Chamber. However the passages around here were filled with these people on that day, and I do not know why the hon. Member for Butere should dispute something which is common knowledge to anybody who cared to use his eyes on that day.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is it in order for the hon. Member to refer to the House the way he is doing? When we talk of the "House" here, we mean this House and not the Parliamentary Buildings.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): We will check in the HANSARD tomorrow. I think the hon. Member actually said, "In this Chamber with fire-arms." However, we will check in the HANSARD tomorrow. In any case, I do not think there were any people here whom you could describe as strangers who— They were obviously strangers—leaders of the Church and leaders of the High Court—but all the same, I do not think they were carrying fire-arms.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I meant—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): You meant upstairs which we could not see ourselves.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, what I was referring to is that on important occasions, visitors are welcome to this House according to the procedure laid by this House and it is not for any section of the Civil Service to pack this House with their own people when we have friends, relatives and, families who also would like to come to this Parliament. Anyway, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I sincerely hope that what happened on that day will not be regarded as a precedent and that in future our enthusiastic civil servants will keep to their side of the fence and leave us alone to organize our own affairs.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, we have been in this Parliament just over a year and the wananchi have the greatest expectations from us as a reforming Parliament. So far, we have not done very much. For instance, it is a great shame that our popularly elected Government has revived and is relying on some tyrannical laws enacted during the colonial era. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I am referring to the Public Order Act, 1960 which infringes the right of free assembly and under which hon. Members of this House are refused permission to address those who elected them to this House. I also refer to the Preservation of Public Security Act, 1960 and the Detention without Trial Act which was also passed in 1960. I also refer to the Societies Act 1952 which infringes freedom of association. I also refer to the Books and Newspapers Act 1960 which was condemned by a Motion in this House and which has not yet been repealed. All these Acts, Mr. Deputy Speaker, should be repealed without any further delay. If the Government is not going to take the initiative, I think we, in the Back Bench, are going to take the initiative to introduce the necessary repeal, to be enacted.

I would like to refer to the provincial administration. This provincial administration which is headed by the Permanent Secretary in the President's Office has been allowed to grow into an unmanageable proportion and it is now rivaling Parliament in their own estimation of themselves. The provincial administration is now a Government within a Government. I do not believe that this provincial administration can coexist with Parliament because, if we are a Parliamentary Government, then there is no place for another Government like the provincial administration. Therefore, I urge very strongly that this system be scrapped and the power and functions of the Government be decentralized through local authorities. However, if the Minister of State to the President's Office and the Minister for Local Government do not get together and bring something sensible soon to this House, we will be forced to appoint a select committee of this House to go into that matter and we will take the initiative ourselves in this House.

I would like to refer—I see my time is running out—to the graduated personal tax. This graduated personal tax is an oppressive, inequitable and unconscionable tax and it is high time it was repealed. I, therefore, hereby serve a notice to the Minister for Finance that he should begin looking for alternative sources of revenue because within this year, we are going to introduce measures to repeal this particular Act.

I will also refer to free primary education. We have only but four years to go before we face the wananchi again and I do not know what we will tell them this time when our own Minister has not come out with a definite plan to achieve the goal we have promised wananchi. Are we going to be in a better position four years from now than we are today or what are we going to do about it? I believe that if we really wage war against ignorance which ought to be led by the commander-in-chief, namely the Minister for Education, this thing should be done properly.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Kahengeri: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

Firstly, I would like to start by congratulating the President for his Speech which he delivered on the 23rd February 1971.

Having achieved our independence through armed struggle, our day-to-day job as from now is to try to bring about social justice to our people through this achievement. It is correct that the President, when he delivered his Speech, said that far-reaching debate should be directed to the improving of our people's material welfare. It is for this reason that we, the parliamentarians, were elected by the people. So many things within our laws are hindering these day-to-day deliberations of the Parliament that we cannot possibly improve our people's material welfare.

Quoting an instance, section 75 of our Constitution is a great hindrance so that we cannot effectively bring about the well-being of our people in all parts of our country because of that particular section. It has been discussed in this Parliament that this section 75 of the Constitution should be amended so that we can reach the target for which we have set in this House—to provide land for our people. However, nothing from the side of the Government has ever come about to tell us whether we have a contract that we cannot break and whether this section 75 of the Constitution cannot be possibly amended. By this I demand a statement from the Government saying where they stand in connexion with this section 75 because the whole of our population demands that this section be amended so that the people who are foreigners will not have the right to own the soil of our land. Why are we ashamed to bring an amendment of this kind while we know and we believe that we were sent here by the people of Kenya? We were never sent here by the foreigners. We were sent here by the people who have the right to demand from us that we should do everything to improve their way of living.

The other thing I would like to mention is about prices of food or whatever is served in hotels. It is impossible for the Africans of this country to enter into all the hotels which are run by non-Africans. This is because the prices have been put up just to exclude the Africans from using these hotels. It is high time that the Ministry concerned saw this and considered that the laws governing hotels are brought within the reach of the wananchi.

The third thing I would like to mention is about education system. The education system in our country is put in such a way that the children in schools, whether in primary schools or in high schools, believe that everything European is good. It is high time that we came to think that everything African is something worthwhile. I, therefore, call upon the Minister for Education to abolish what they call the New Primary Approach that is the English media classes and instead introduce Swahili media classes, so that our education system can cope with our demands.

Having said that, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have suggestions to make. Suggestion No. 1 goes to the Minister for Lands: that with immediate effect, section 75 of the Constitution be amended to cope with the demand of the people and to satisfy the needs of the people as far as land is concerned.

The second suggestion goes to the Minister for Commerce and Industry: all investors should be barred from deciding who is going to take premises in our towns and in all our trading centres whether or not they have built and own the buildings. This should be the position so that the Government can give the premises to the wananchi who are wandering about the city looking for business premises which they cannot get. This is because the foreigners who perhaps happen to be better economically and have buildings all over the place, tend to give premises to their brothers and to exclude our people from commercial activity.

Then I come to tourism. The prices of food in the hotels are so high that the people cannot get into these hotels. The hotels in the town look like hotels in London, in America or in some places like Bombay and Calcutta. If these prices are controlled, we know that many of our people will be able to go to these hotels and then the hotels here will look like Kenya hotels.

My next point deals with immigration. Asian and European citizenships should be reviewed, and I am happy that I can see the Assistant Minister here. We smell a rat, that at some time before many years go by, these people who you think are good citizens, are living with us, will demand their rights as the people who have the economy of the country in their hands. They have bred to a certain extent, and perhaps one day they will say, "We will not be able now to tolerate being controlled by the African people who presumably, do not control the economy of our country." Therefore, I urge the Government to review this citizenship issue. If necessary, some of these "paper citizens" should be withdrawn. This is a privilege as we have been told in this House many times. If we continue having these people who do not regard the well-being of our people in this country, then we will, at one stage, cry, we will at one stage, feel very sad. Look at the cases down at Guinea where people want to come back—with all their might—and they are being helped by their brothers inside Guinea. The same thing will happen in Kenya. Therefore, Sir, the Immigration Department must take great care on this issue. I do not believe that Asians and Europeans—and I repeat, Asians and Europeans—who have been the enemies of this country for many years will one day not be the sons of Kenya. They will be here just because they own buildings in Government Road, because they are exploiting our people down along River Road, and because they own the big farms while the sons and daughters of this country do not have even one acre of land.

The next point I want to deal with is about labour. It has been agreed that in our country it should be, "One man, one job"—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! Your time is up.

Mr. Mutiso: I rise to air my views on the exposition of public policy by His Excellency the President at the State Opening of Parliament.

I listened very carefully to the Speech and I learnt that the President does cast his eyes right across the country and he is willing to steer this ship to the harbour. However, there are some difficulties along the way and these are difficulties which the President cannot be expected to solve alone. For example, we have security forces, we have a Cabinet where the President has appointed a team of Cabinet Ministers and also a team of Assistant Ministers who are actually the custodians of the Government. In other words, Sir, these are the people known as "The Government". I would like to make one point very clear where people tend to confuse the issue. Yesterday I listened to the Minister for Power and Communications trying to mislead the House by suggesting that the failures of Government are also the failures of this House, of this Parliament. This is not true, Mr. Deputy Speaker, because if the Government has failed to produce some policies and bring them before this House for the House to approve, then they have no cause to blame anybody other than themselves. What the House can do is only to approve or reject.

Of late we have seen what has been happening in Nairobi and other places. There have been robberies with violence. In particular there was one serious one where the robbers had Sten-guns, very high-powered fire-arms. For months and months, since this trend of robbery started in the City of Nairobi there has not been a single arrest. One wonders, Sir, what is the Ministry of Home Affairs doing in this matter?

An hon. Member: Traffic!

Mr. Mutiso: I am glad, Sir, for that remark by the hon. Member. Yes, all that you see is these people along the roads, stopping lorries and buses, checking—I do not know what they check. This is all that they do. In Nairobi they check whether you are parked along the yellow line or something like that. But when the robberies take place you never see a 999 car until the thieves have got away with the money, they have even transferred from one car to another. It is only then that the 999 car arrives to question people. What is the use of that once the money has gone? We wait to hear that an arrest has been made, but there is no such thing. All we hear is that the car which was used is found deserted in some place.

So, Sir, one wonders where we are going to. Is the Minister for Home Affairs and the Commissioner of Police capable of controlling the security of the country?

Hon. Members: No. No.

Mr. Mutiso: What are they doing?

Hon. Members: Nothing.

Mr. Mutiso: You go to the bank and when you come out you wonder whether you will be all right or whether you will meet some person with a pistol who is trying to grab the little money you have taken out of the bank. This has been the tendency of recent times.

I am afraid to say that the investors in this country have to consider their position. The people who have insured this money in the banks are not prepared to be paying out all the time. When the money is stolen from the bank the insurance company has to meet the damages all the time. Sir, this is a very serious matter and I think it is high time the Government looked into this. It is high time the internal security of this country was reviewed. The Minister for Home Affairs, who is not here, and his Assistants --- I do not know whether they are here. Oh, yes, I see one small one here.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is it in order for an hon. Member with long experience to refer to another hon. Member as "small"? Is it not a shame, considering the time he has spent in this House, that he does not know the Standing Orders?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): It is not worth spending time on that.

Mr. Mutiso: Leaving that issue alone, Sir, I want to come to another very burning issue in this country: the question of unemployment. I have experienced this problem quite often and I am sure the same applies to other Members of this House. This is where the constituents come to ask chits from you for introduction to employers from whom they hope to get employment. Sir, how long are we going to contend with this state of affairs? Why can the Government not introduce a policy of solving unemployment? Why can the Government, especially the Ministry of Labour, not try to find out how this problem can be solved? Will it always be our duty to write these chits and when you write them—

An hon. Member: No reply!

Mr. Mutiso: You get no reply. In fact, you look very small because that man will never trust you. We are tired with this state of things.

The wananchi are always loitering about the streets. There are queues of them. Go outside this building and you will find them there. They are everywhere and they come in numbers. Students finish school at Form IV level and find no jobs. It is high time the Government took these things very seriously because sooner or later I do not think we shall be talking in this House in this language.

The other thing I want the Government to explain to the country is the question of political parties in this country. We know we had two parties: K.P.U. and Kanu. K.P.U. was banned, but then, what is our position right now? Have we become a one-party State? Is the country really satisfied with having no opposition in this House? I do not believe so. Why can we not get a party registered? I know, Mr. Deputy Speaker—that many people have tried but the registrar will never—the Attorney-General will never allow it under the pretence that under security grounds the name is unacceptable. Mr. Deputy Speaker, this is where people and even Government are thrown out of office because once you deny the people the right to air their views, they have to look for an alternative. I am afraid to say that the alternative in this case will be that if Kanu, as a party, is not prepared to have an opposition party in this country, then the people will have to choose by their own way. Whatever the way might be, it will be of their own choice.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is another point which I would like to point out—I see the time is running very short. This is a very interesting case, Mr. Deputy Speaker, which I have been noticing here when the House is opened. Normally, we see the spiritual leaders who come here. There is one interesting thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, and I would like to get some clarification from the Minister who comes to reply on this debate. This is the question of the Masai leader who prays here. I would like to know, Mr. Deputy Speaker—because I do not understand that language—what he says and whom he represents.

Hon. Members: On a point of information, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Mutiso: I do not want that information, Mr. Deputy Speaker. Whom does he represent, Mr. Deputy Speaker, because we know in the other religious groups there is a Muslim leader, a Christian leader. Whom does this other gentleman represent? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I will need clarification on this.

With these few words, I beg to support.

Mr. Barmalel: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to speak about this Presidential Speech.

First of all I wish to congratulate His Excellency the President for his Speech on the opening of this Parliament. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I first of all want to say something about famine. This is something about agriculture in this country. It has been said that we in Kenya rely on agriculture. I would say, if the Minister for Agriculture was here—I hope he is not here—about the question of farming in Kenya. I would say that farmers in this country are not given enough assistance. For example now when the drought is all around the country, the Ministry has not done anything to help these people to show them how to grow some fodder crops for cattle, they have not done anything about water supply so that people are taught how to look after their animals and also bring water to their farms. So, I will say that the farmers have been neglected. What is the use of giving people farms and grade cattle without assistance. What I have seen them doing only is artificial insemination. That is why they have been running about in the vehicles in the country-side but they do not do anything else other than that. I ask Government to look into this.

The second point, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is about the loans to the farmers and, particularly, for those people who supply milk so that they can buy coolers. This should be done because the farmers are losing a lot of their money due to the fact that the milk is spoiled by the heat of the sun. In this particular case, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I wish to ask the Minister to go into this and try to see whether he can do something about it.

The other thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is about detainees. Yesterday when somebody was speaking about the release of Mr. Oginga Odinga somebody said here “ask Moi”. Of course, I do not think that the question of detaining people is solely on the hands of Mr. arap Moi, as the Vice-President and the Minister for Home Affairs. The detaining of people is done by the Government of Kenya as a whole. Mr. arap Moi probably signs on behalf of the President. I do not think that it is necessary—Some people have an opinion that all these people have been detained by Mr. arap Moi at his own discretion. We all want to see that this man who has been detained is released. I say so because Mzee has always been a good man and he does not have grudges against people and I think that he will consider releasing his comrade who had been fighting the colonialists with him during the colonial time. I think this is one of the things he should do.

I would say that the detaining of this man, with his colleagues, was caused by the last Parliament. It was not actually the question of Mzee—He was pressed during the Parliamentary Group Meeting and many of the Members of Parliament in the last Parliament shouted “detain them” and they were detained. So, the new Parliament, of course, I am a part of it, should ask the Government to consider and release this old man, let him go back home and run his life like anybody else.

[Mr. Barmalel]

The other point is about Asian magistrates in Kenya. This is terrible, Mr. Deputy Speaker. This is terrible because— How can you have your enemy to listen to your case. You are getting rid of him in Kenya and how can you allow him to become a magistrate when he is an enemy of Africans? I have seen some of them in my area who just impose exorbitant fines. When a man stands on the dock, he asks him whether he admits the charge and when the man does not answer he tells him that if he does not plead guilty he will be taken to remand. Why can we not have a fair hearing in these court cases? What is going on? I will ask the Attorney-General to look into this. Why can we not get the other African Magistrates from our neighbouring States or even Britain or a man who can execute justice better than the Asians? This is terrible and I would ask the Attorney-General to go into this because it is a terrible thing.

The other point is about civil servants. We all know that they are good friends of ours but the Code of Regulations says that they are transferable. I am afraid there are some who have been in a particular place since independence. Why can you not have these people transferred so that they can learn about other areas too? I mean, what is the use of keeping one man in one place for seven or ten years? Can the Government not think about it? If they are transferable, I think they are breaking the Code of Regulations.

The next point is about squatters. We have in— In my area I have a good number of squatters who apparently have not even a piece of land—the ex-European employees who have been without land for so many years. I hope Government will take steps to see that these people are given a portion of land to settle in. There are still some farms in Rift Valley and I do not know why Government does not get them and think about settling these people.

The other point is about the Local Government. The taking over of the functions of the Local Government— I do not see any use having a Minister. The Minister has nothing to do. What is he doing now? The county councils have no funds at all. What is the Minister doing? I want this Ministry to be abolished and the remnants of it taken to the Ministry of Housing.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the other thing I would like to talk about is roads. In my constituency, the roads are so terribly bad—I can see the Assistant Minister for Works here—since the take-over of roads from the county councils, and up to now, the roads in my area are still as they were. There was only one road that was scraped with graders and this same road has become worse than before. If they do not prepare that road before the long rains set in, I do not know how we are going to pass through it. Why do they not look after these roads when they promised us that they would be better than the county councils? The bridges on these roads are broken, and some of the bridges, of course, will be breaking down during the coming rains. I am, now, asking the Minister to look into the question of these roads. It is very important that these things are put in order.

The last thing I want to say is about my own area, Chepalungu, which, of course, is the area I represent. I asked in this House what could be grown on that land. This area has black cotton soil. Unfortunately I was told that the soil is unsuitable for cotton. I do not know what we are going to do and I do not know what next step the Government is taking to see that the people of this area can have something to grow in order to better their living. If there is nothing that could be done, then, I do not know what the Government is going to do to help these people. This, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is a backward area and needs the assistance from the Government.

I would also like to touch on the question of scholarships in this country. The scholarships in this country seem not to be issued any more. The Minister has been telling us here that there is a big list of these scholarships, but, how they interview these people, how they take them, I do not know. There has been nothing in the Kericho District telling the people that there are some bursaries for going abroad or something like that. I wish the Minister could see to it that next time they inform us.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to support.

Mr. Gichohi: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, thank you very much for having given me this opportunity to thank His Excellency the President for his Speech in this House.

Many points have been mentioned by other Members, and I have very little to comment on the Speech. I would like, however, this House to take a lot of consideration on the land policy of this country. We have heard very many Members talking about squatters. In my constituency, and in many parts of the Rift Valley, this is one of the pressing problems that we are facing. The problem is caused, mainly, by the land policy of this Government. You find that the farms, which were owned by Europeans, have been bought by some African landlords. When they buy these farms, the squatters, who have been living on the farms, are put together in a village and have nowhere to go. The Government has found it fit, however, to appoint a commissioner of these landless people so that they can forward their names to his office. However, when the allocation of land is being done by the Ministry of Lands and Settlement, usually, these people are not considered and, therefore, do not get land. The Government should, therefore, take this matter very, very seriously because everybody would like to benefit from the freedom which we fought for.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we can solve this problem, if the Government wants. We have a lot of Agriculture Development Corporation farms in the Rift Valley. Why do we not take over these farms and give them to these people who are landless. These people are not employed and have families—

An hon. Member: Even Kalenjin.

Mr. Gichohi: Even if a Kalenjin is landless and is a squatter, and there are a lot of them he should be settled on one of these farms. In this case I mean anybody who is landless. These people are supposed to educate their children but they do not have money, while these Agriculture Development Corporation farms are run by rich people. I think it would be a good idea if the Minister for Lands and Settlement would help these people. He should give preference to these people who are landless. It is understood that most of the people who get these plots are those people who already have land in the reserves. You sometimes find that some of those selected by the committee are those people who have farms elsewhere and are given preference by the Land Committee. I think what the Minister should do is to take care when he is allocating land to people and I would recommend that priority goes to the squatters.

I would also like to mention something about the workers on the farms. It is very painful to find that even when we are an independent nation, some people are employed on the farms and are paid a salary of Sh. 40 or Sh. 60 per month, when he is in a free Kenya. There is the Ministry of Labour which is supposed to know that the school fees are too high and the parents want to educate their children and maintain their families up to standard. We also know that the school fees' remission is not adequate to cover all these children. It is very painful to find that this sort of salary still exists. What I think is that there should be a review. A commission should be set to review the salaries of these people who work on farms. This sort of a commission should recommend how much a worker on a farm should earn per month. Everybody would like to see his children go to school, he would also like to have a good life and would also like to raise his standard of living. Therefore, I think, this is another point which the Government should take into consideration.

My other point I would like to make is about the loans, the loans which are being offered by the Government. At the moment, you will find that there are some people who are given five types of loans. He is given a loan to buy 300 acres of land, the following day he gets a loan to buy a tractor, he is given a loan to buy plots in Nairobi and he is also given a loan to build a house for his home. Sometimes you may find that such a person may get about Sh. 500,000, whereas people are trying to get even Sh. 50,000 and they cannot get it. I think there should be only one channel through which one should get a loan so that we can be able to check who has been given a loan and who has not because many people are benefiting from the present methods of granting loans: getting loans from various funds—because one is privileged. This is, I think creating one class of very rich people whereas other people cannot get the loans which they want.

The other point of which many Members have talked about is with regard to the water problem. During the last Session, very many Members talked about the water problem in the dry areas. In my place, we have urged the Government to help the people at Kogondo with water but it does not take heed. I think Government has seen the problem which is created by shortage of water; and I think the Government should take a very serious view of this at this time, and see to it that the water problem is solved in this country. We have a shortage of meat now because of our water problems.

An hon. Member: Graze more cattle!

Mr. Gichohi: How can we graze more cattle without water?

The people are dying because of lack of water. I would like to propose that the Government, with the approval of this House, should allocate a certain amount of money to feed and help these people in such a location instead of depending on foreign associations and the Red Cross. Parliament should vote for a certain amount of money which should be kept in a certain fund whereby when such situations arise, we shall not only depend on foreign aid and the money contributed by the people but we shall be able to spend that money for a good cause. We shall then see to it that such help is distributed to all parts of the country. I think this fund should be voted by this Government as a subsidiary emergency fund which would be of much help because every year we have such problems in this country.

The other point of which I would like to talk about is "Primary Education". We have already promised our people that they will have free primary education. This was stipulated in the Kanu Manifesto of 1963 and we still do not have it now. I think this is the opportune time the people should be told whether they will get free education or not.

The other point is that in some primary schools, especially in Nairobi, there is discrimination; and you will find that some primary schools in Nairobi cannot accept children unless they are known—children, daughters and sons of Mr. So-and-so—the big people; and unless your status is known your children cannot be accepted in these primary schools. Therefore, I would like the Government to watch and see to it that in every school where the Government is spending its money there should not be any discrimination, and if a school wants to discriminate against certain people, then it should be prepared to pay for its own maintenance. Therefore, the Ministry of Education should look into this question.

The other point is about employment, discrimination, and tribalism. There is a lot of tribalism in employment especially in Nairobi—both in the Government employment and in the private sector. Unless you are known that you are from the appropriate tribe—

The Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Dr. Onyonka): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I rise to speak on His Excellency the President's Speech paying special attention to various points that have been raised by the hon. Members of this House and also to supplement them with some of my own points.

In the course of the last few days a great deal has been said about education with particular attention being focused on the question of high fees and also the question of having schools that were not supported and so forth. The most important point has been on the question of free education. This is not the first time in this House that I rise to speak on the question of free education; but I feel compelled once again to rise and speak about it for the simple reason that it is a highly emotional and at the same time very sentimental question. It is highly attractive to speak about free education; but even if this House or the country were willing to pay for free education and especially for free primary education there are still serious consequences that we will have to face as a country. It is important for me to raise this point because we have on hand several experiments with free primary education as well as secondary education in the under-developed countries. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the consequences in most cases have been disastrous. It is true that one is more likely to win more votes in his constituency by preaching the need for free primary education. However, these votes will not last for the simple reason that it is the free education that will give you more school-leavers than you will ever be able to handle in this Republic for the next 10 to 15 years.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I must make the additional point that I am not suggesting that we should not provide as much education as possible to our people because education does a lot of things to the individual. In fact, you can say that it is above right. With more education you become a more intelligent citizen and, therefore, more responsible in many ways. However, at the same time there is the economic side of education. If we are going to devote our resources to provide more education then, of course, we must be prepared to forego the other items of expenditure such as health and the other facilities. I am not saying that in terms of choice there is anything wrong with this. It is the prerogative of this House working in corroboration with this Government to decide on the question of priorities. If we want to allocate more of our resources to education in terms of our values—if we felt that education should take more money than all the other ten items of expenditure combined, it is not for me to say, because as far as values adjustments are concerned by and large they depend on one's outlook and it is a fact that what may be right for B may be wrong for A. However, as a Government it is something that we can decide on. However, I just wanted to make a very important point that having provided free primary or secondary education it would just be the beginning, because you must then be in a position to provide employment and other opportunities to school-leavers because the consequences are both economic and sociological. We have the situation today whereby most parents expect that their daughters or their sons, having completed primary school education, are entitled to employment not only in clerical jobs but even in senior positions. Now this may not be their mistake but maybe the result of lack of education or maybe as a result of what they have seen over the years. However, only those who are educated have made it.

[The Minister for Information and Broadcasting]

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) took the Chair]

However, it is very important to note that we will have to face other more serious problems after we have succeeded in providing this free education. My own opinion is, you have that free education tomorrow and I am willing to bet that two-thirds of this House will not be back here after five years.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are other important aspects of education that I would like to speak about, one being the question of Harambee schools. Hon. Members, I think it is important that I present to you something that has gone fundamentally wrong. You might say that it is wrong to build a lot of Harambee schools. But what has gone wrong is not so much the question of building the Harambee schools, but the approach to building them and the pricing methods of the Harambee schools. The people have built Harambee schools and all of a sudden decided that the fees must be Sh. 1,000. It is a pity that even knowledgeable citizens have not been able to help here. A Harambee school is a product for which you are going to pay but it has a substitute. If you are going to demand Sh. 1,000 in the form of fees the students will go elsewhere. So we have seen a mushrooming of Harambee schools where the fees are very high but no students are willing to attend.

I want to suggest to hon. Members very simple approach to running your Harambee schools. Have a Harambee school, but it may not be able to provide most of the amenities provided in a Government school but charge something between, say, Sh. 400 and Sh. 600. The question of charging Sh. 1,000 in most Harambee schools is one of the worst examples of wrong pricing I have ever seen anywhere, because if you are going to demand Sh. 1,000 in a Harambee school, even in the most desperate of situations, students are going to go elsewhere. So what do you find? One Harambee school here and another there; a lot of students going to the other school because it charges reasonable fees and also it is able to provide teachers and other facilities. The economic service is very simple. With low fees you are likely to attract more students. With more students you are likely to collect more money in terms of quantity. With more money in the form of quantity you are likely to be able to employ more and better teachers.

However, with higher fees you have five students per class, little money collected and no teachers of quality or otherwise employed and the school fails.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is another aspect of the problem which I have learnt first hand. There has always been asked a question whether it is important first to get students in a school and then get a teacher, or get a teacher in a school to get students. My own experiment very clearly shows that with one or two very good teachers in a Harambee school you get more students than you can handle. So get the teachers and the students shall be given to you, perhaps, by God.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I now turn to the question of land. I have always said before that if you wanted to understand the problems of this country study three major themes: the question of land, taxation and labour.

Sir, I am quite aware that there are a lot of problems that have something to do with land. The solutions are both of a short-term nature and a long-term nature. However, there is a particular land that I would like to discuss and I think it is terribly important from an economic standpoint.

In a lot of areas of this Republic we still have a certain amount of land that could be more usefully utilized by the wananchi. However, what we find developing is a craze for land for its own sake. Ownership of land has become a status symbol regardless of what one gets out of it. Perhaps, in the long run it will provide a ground for burial. But I am not worried about that. Even if you do not have to possess that you will still be eaten by the ants and there will be no problem. But, Mr. Speaker, Sir, why have a lot of land and not utilize it? There are some hon. Members here with constituencies having a lot of land but very little of that land is being utilized and there is more demand for more land. This is not to suggest that there are no areas in the Republic where the people are hungry, and with one acre they would make a decent living and, perhaps, not worry too much. Nevertheless, there are a few areas certainly where the people have land—I personally inherited a constituency where, for example, I would say that there is not too much land, but a lot of the little land they had was under jungle. You would find the same people coming and saying, "We want more land." My reply is, "Go back and show me what you are doing with the 10 acres you have. If you cannot manage the 20 acres and you want 250 acres in Kitale, what for?"

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, from the economic standpoint it is important that we also try to encourage our people to utilize, as efficiently as possible, the limited amount of land at their disposal. It would be to the advantage of this country. But if it is simply the question of speculating in land, that is a different matter and

[The Minister for Information and Broadcasting] it is up to the speculators to tell us whether that is in the interest of this Republic.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. Ngureti): Thank you very much Mr. Speaker, for allowing me to raise a few points on the Motion on the Presidential Address which was tabled in this House by the Leader of Government Business.

Mr. Speaker, I have much regard to the Address which was made here by His Excellency the President, and the reasons for my high regard are that it was constructive, educative and had a very high opinion of the nation as a whole.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is not the first time that His Excellency has made such a wonderful Address. He has been doing it for a long time and this is an indication that he will keep on reminding the whole nation, including the Members of this House as to what we are aiming to do and what we are supposed to do for the nation at large.

Mr. Speaker, I also thank you for the address you made while welcoming His Excellency in this House. Your address was very good and we have appreciated it very much.

Without dwelling very much on that, Mr. Speaker, I wish to make a few observations on some of the matters which I have in connexion with what my colleagues in this House have said. It is true that we have some problems which are very immediate and require first-class attention, that is, the drought which we have presently. It is up to us to decide what we should do to combat the drought in this country. Mr. Speaker, this has been spoken about by Members. It has come about due to lack of rain. I remember some Members have spoken of the areas which are suffering at the moment, and I do support hon. Kioko, who said that we should make donations, as Members of this House, for the affected areas of the country. Sir, while I am on that I would urge the Minister responsible for forestry to encourage the planting of more trees all over the country and to encourage the county councils to set aside some parts of land which should be re-afforested. The reason for that is that if we continue providing dry faces only, by that I mean that we are constructing more roads now and we are building more houses, and by doing so we are providing dry faces, these dry faces will not enable us to have more rain in this country. We should go along planting more trees as we build roads and houses. Presently the speed of building roads and houses is higher than the speed of planting trees. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I suggest to this House and Government machinery as a whole to make sure that the speed of planting trees in all the parts of the country is encouraged to make sure that we have sufficient rain in this country.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, another point which I want to point out is on the tourist trade. It is true that we are getting money from the tourist industry; this is not a disputed fact because we get money from this source. However, I would suggest that we find out whether we could get more money from this source than we are getting at present. It is also true that most of the tourists book their hotels in overseas countries. I suggest that the booking is done here so that we retain all the money here.

Another point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is on indirect businesses which are being done by civil servants. Mr. Speaker, Sir, you know there were several attacks on this, but I think we can check on this and where necessary we can stop this being done. However, we should not always attack the civil servants because, even ourselves, we are sometimes involved in the same situation. We must not always attack people who cannot stand with us on the same platform. Those people who attack others and they cannot share a platform with them are cowards. I say this very bravely because it is my political conviction that I should challenge somebody who is able to stand with me on the same platform so that we can find out where the truth is for the nation to know. That is why I say that those civil servants who might be involved in business or ourselves as Ministers or hon. Members of this House, should be discouraged.

Mr. Migure: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister in order to mislead the House that Members of this House cannot criticize civil servants because there is nobody to represent them here while there is a Minister of State who is responsible for their affairs? Is he in order to mislead the House?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I think there is a difference between an attack and criticism. Mr. Ngureti is talking about attacks.

The Assistant Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. Ngureti): Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I hope the hon. Member has more light now to understand that it is not good to attack somebody who cannot share a platform with you.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, another point is the question of educational loans. We now have loans given to students. It is very good for our Government to have taken this step and I would like our Government to accelerate more and more so that we can reduce illiteracy in this country. A point on free education has been raised in this House. My comments on this are that, Sir, speaking as a nationalist of this country, I wish to state that the Government is providing free education to a certain extent. The way it is doing this is to give free education at university level, it is well known, and it is also offering free education in higher forms, V and VI. We have a reason for doing this. It is because we want to provide for our own personnel in Government institutions. We, hon. Members of this House, always say that we want to do away with expatriates. Now, if we do away with expatriates and we do not replace them, how shall we get on with Government services? Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we should educate people in the country-side as to the approaches we are taking to make sure that free education is achieved. To say that free education is not being offered, I think, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is wrong.

Another thing I would like to speak about, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is about unity in this country; oneness. I remember one hon. Member said that one tribe is being allowed to occupy posts in the Government institutions. I came to learn that the tribe which was being referred to was my own tribe, the Kikuyu. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this has been said many times in this House by hon. Members from other tribes that we want unity. We want togetherness. Where there is efficiency, things should go there. If we distribute things either commercial or educational, we do not distribute them on a tribal basis. If we are seeking unity, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we must do away with tribalistic approaches.

I would like to touch on the question of adult education, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to advise my colleagues in this House that in all our meetings, we should emphasize the question of adult education.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, with these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Owala-Orwa: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir, for giving me the opportunity of joining my colleagues in commenting on the President's plain, understandable, and simple Speech. I have some observations to make in the form of advice to different Ministries.

I am happy that during Question Time, the Minister for Agriculture agreed that he was going to reduce the acreage for Minimum Financial Returns. This is going to be felt now, especially, in rural areas, where in the past they have been denied the Minimum Financial Returns. My advice to this Ministry is that their approval comes very late and especially when the rains have already started. The Minimum Financial Return is, therefore, not profitable. Therefore, I would advise that the approval should come early enough for the ploughing to be done in order that they plant in time to reap like others who plant on time.

Now, my next advice to the Ministry of Agriculture is that the forms of the Agricultural Finance Corporation are not in the district offices and therefore it forces people to come to Nairobi to buy these forms. May I request that they see to this very urgently so that people have these forms in districts in order that they may get the loans? I note that the President in his Speech said the Government was going to see to it that the facilities limiting loans are increased. If they are not made available for the wananchi in the country-side, the loans are going to benefit only the people in Nairobi and not in the country-side.

My next advice is to the Ministry of Local Government. I agree with hon. Barmalel when he says that the Minister has very little to do because since the take-over of services from the county councils, he has been a Minister for townships and not a Minister for county councils as well. County councils have not been advised on how to get finances to maintain the few services they have been left with. I should, therefore, urge this Ministry to see to it that the care-taker commissions that have been running the services of the location councils that existed, especially in Nyanza, should hand them over—to the location councils as had been stated by the Minister. We had the location councils before and therefore it would not take them long to hand over these services in order that the locations may perform the services that the county councils were carrying out for wananchi. I know it will take them time to reorganize location councils where area councils were.

Now, may I appeal to the Ministry of Health together with the Ministry of Works and the Ministry of Local Government to urgently take care of pollution that is taking place in the waters in Homa Bay. At the moment the sewage system from the sewage pipes is polluting the water in Homa Bay near the water supply for the town. Recently people complained of stomachaches and they suspected they were caused as a result of pollution from the refuse that came from the broken sewage pipes. Now I had requested this in the form of a question and the Minister for Works promised me that they were going to take very urgent steps and up to this time no steps have been taken. Now, if these Ministries have a collective responsibility, they should save the waters of Homa Bay from pollution.

May I hurriedly, Mr. Speaker, Sir, go back to Ministry of Agriculture. This is, as well, in connexion with the Ministry of Co-operatives and Social Services and I am happy the Minister is here: that the co-operative societies are not running very well because the leaders or the members who run them do not know their work. Some of these members have misappropriated co-operatives' funds but they have not been taken to court. They have lost the books and, therefore there is no auditing taking place. Therefore, instead of the co-operative societies increasing in number, they are decreasing. May I request that they look into this matter and train their own Co-operative Officers in order that the societies in my area, for example, in connexion with coffee co-operative societies and cotton co-operative societies may flourish because there are potentialities but, because of mismanagement, they have not flourished yet.

Now, when I come to the Produce and Marketing Board. Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is something funny that is taking place in Homa Bay: that is the price of groundnuts is not steady because within one constituency, you will find that it is Sh. 20 a debe in Homa Bay while it is Sh. 19 ten miles from Homa Bay; and it is Sh. 17, 15 miles from Homa Bay. It is Sh. 16, 20 miles from Homa Bay; and it is Sh. 13, 30 miles from Homa Bay. One wonders whether one debe is charged Sh. 5 for transport for 30 miles because this is questionable. Therefore, the Produce and Marketing Board should see to this problem that the price of groundnuts should be stable in one district. There should not be this robbery—day-light robbery—in one constituency. In Homa Bay Constituency, the price fluctuates from Sh. 20 to Sh. 13 because of a difference in distance.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, many of the Members who spoke about the increase of school fees in this House only talked about it in connexion with the drought. However, I wanted to request that they should not talk about it in connexion with the drought alone because it is something that took the whole country by surprise because it was not given a pre-advance announcement for the people to get ready for it. Therefore, they were taken by surprise to see that the school fees were increased from Sh. 24 to Sh. 72. Now, whereas in 1970 some of the people failed to pay the full school fees of Sh. 50, very many of them failed, then, this increase is therefore discouraging the enrolment for education. May we, therefore, request this House to see this in this light: that the sudden increase has discouraged education. Therefore, it is upon this House to agree that education must be paid for by this country and, therefore, there is no reason why the Ministry of Finance and the Ministry of Education should not sit together and find a way whereby education tax could come from the pockets of the people indirectly in order that those clever students who cannot go to school because their parents have failed to pay the school fees may benefit from the efforts of the wananchi.

There is no reason why we should be afraid of unemployment as the hon. Dr. Onyonka is afraid of it. We should introduce agriculture so that some of these students go back to the land; we should introduce carpentry so that some of these students could make furniture; we should introduce tinsmiths and ranching so that some of these students would go back and take care of their fathers' cattle and make them better than they are. There is no reason why we should cling to one side of syllabus. We should introduce the Kenya type of syllabus. Therefore, I feel that there should be free education right away.

As for the case of robbers from Ethiopia, I feel the Minister should buy a helicopter to follow these robbers and shoot them. If the Government does this, then they will never come back again.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Hussein: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir, for giving me this opportunity to speak on the Presidential Address. I would like to thank the President for his wise leadership and his Government. My first point is about the drought in the North-Eastern Province.

I would like to appeal to the Government to form a committee to investigate and concentrate on famine relief measures in the North-Eastern Province. It would be better if the Government could do this very quickly so that this committee can go and see how the people live there. In fact, the people in the North-Eastern depend on livestock; there are no shamba there, no factories and no other industries. Now, the livestock animals are dying due to drought. So what are they going to depend on? Nothing. The Government wants them to pay school fees, Sh. 72, while they do have nothing to eat; the Government wants them to pay the graduated personal tax and yet they do not even have money to buy clothes. What are they going to pay with?

[Mr. Hussein]

I therefore, appeal to the Government to look into this great problem: it is not a joke, the people are suffering very badly. I would also like to appeal to the Minister for Agriculture that there are some boreholes drilled without engines. I would like them to fix these engines so that the people may probably have some water from these boreholes and become better than they are now. If within this month the Ministry of Agriculture will have not fixed these engines to the already drilled boreholes then the people will suffer more. Again, I would like also the Livestock Marketing Division to go to the North-Eastern Province within the next few days and take those remaining cattle because they are also going to die. There is no market for them. The people are helpless and the cattle are dying.

I would also appeal to the Government to send more food to the North-Eastern Province because the foodstuffs which has been sent there is not enough.

On the side of communication, there is no good road in the North-Eastern Province at all. Therefore, I appeal to the Minister for Works to start working on the roads there. This is because even if Government accepts to send relief food, there they will have no road to use. The vehicles of these people bringing aid would remain on the way for long time because the rocks are so many that a vehicle cannot pass. Therefore, if Government can send relief food from here it will not easily reach there because of bad roads.

Mr. Speaker, the Ministry of Works is not doing anything in the North-Eastern Province because the people they send there just lie there idle.

Also, Mr. Speaker, the Ministry of Power and Communications has done nothing because we do not have a post office in the whole Province. We just send our letters by transporters.

An hon. Member: Forget that.

Mr. Hussein: Why forget? There is nothing we are likely to forget. We have to ask for it because without a post office we cannot even send a letter to our people who are around here and get some money for our needs.

On the employment problem, Sir, we have no employment in the North-Eastern Province. We are employed on this relief maize business. Instead of the Government employing casual labourers there, the people are employed to work for the whole day for two pounds of maize instead of giving the maize to those people who are dying of hunger. They are even going to employ people to build Government buildings there. That bad habit of employing our people for maize in the province instead of employing them like in other provinces should be stopped. Whenever any Minister visits that province Members of Parliament from that area are not informed. The provincial commissioner or the district commissioner does not inform them. They are just regarded as useless people in that area—the North-Eastern Province. We cannot even give advice to anybody, unless we come to this House and then say whatever we have got to say, because nobody wants to listen to us. I do not know whether it is because we still have emergency.

About loans, Sir, in the North-Eastern Province only a few people are given loans but if you go to some other places, people get loans today and tomorrow they are given other loans. Whenever our people apply for loans, they never get them and I do not know why. The Minister for Commerce and Industry should investigate this. I think we have informed him before.

Also, Mr. Speaker, on the question of scholarships we have had no one from that Province sent outside. In the Ministry of Co-operatives and Social Services, some other people like Community Development Assistants have been sent abroad but nobody from the North-Eastern Province has been abroad to learn something. I do not know why all these Ministries are neglecting that province. We are still in darkness; that is why, probably, we are neglected.

We are also, Mr. Speaker, always complaining to the Ministry of Health. Whenever we say that we want health centres in the North-Eastern Province, in some divisions, we are told by the field officers to build officers' houses or find a place where they can be stationed. We are now dying. How are we going to build the houses? What are we going to contribute in that province? We do not know how to build, we do not have the money, and we do not have food. How does the Ministry expect us to build and yet they cannot provide us with medicine?

Regarding the Ministry of Information, we have no officers in that area that can cover whatever is taking place there. Unless we go to the provincial headquarters, we have only two people at Garissa. In Mandera and Wajir there is nobody. I do not know why the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting cannot send people there. I think the Ministry has neglected the North-Eastern Province as a whole. The same thing applies to the Attorney-General's Chambers. We have no courts in the North-Eastern Province. We are just left like that. We are arrested by the askaris and then we are taken to the court. Just like that.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. ole Oloitipitip): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I also stand up to support the Presidential Address to the nation and at the same time congratulate the President very highly indeed. I will pray very hard in Swahili and also in my own language that God should keep our President alive much longer. I say in Kimasai, "Ndolo ngoba". Mr. Speaker, Sir, our President is a remarkable man and everyone respects him in this country. Everybody respects him—I can say—in the whole world. The Kenya nation must be very proud of our old father. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I say this because I know that he is a very wise man. He is a very patient man. He has that broad art of listening to everybody. Mr. Speaker, Sir, he has that broad mind of thinking. He is not being led by anybody. That is why we have a stable Government. It has been so because the President is ruling Kenya. I pray that God should keep him longer and longer because he has been able to bring us to prosperity so that we have a happier nation of Kenya.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, coming to the Speech, as it was, I know that it is very meaningful. I know that it is up to us, as Members of Parliament, to see that whatever was in that Speech is implemented for the benefit of the nation. Mr. Speaker, Sir, but the question is this: are we really serious in supporting what the President has put forward for us? I say this because I see that everybody appears to be supporting this, including my fellow Ministers. I do support that too. This is the main question.

I want to start with a place I visited recently as an Assistant Minister for Health. I was touring Turkana and I visited three stations. I was embarrassed and shocked at the things there. I never knew that the people living there lived like that. There is nothing but rocks and sand, there is no running river. All the rivers are dry and the people are very anaemic; how they live nobody knows. I visited the hospital at Lodwar and I found only two wards there and these two wards had been built during the colonial times. For the information of the House I saw three patients sharing one bed. I know why I say this.

Sir, the Ministry has a plan to extend facilities to the people but somebody somewhere is bringing shame on the whole Government. There is money and if this money is not going to be utilized, then the blame will fall on the Government.

We know that all the Government money is centralized and passes through the Ministry of Works to carry out the construction works. I know the Ministry of Works will find it impossible to carry out all the construction work required in the whole of Kenya because this is really a problem. If we do not want to fail as a Government, then I would like something to be done.

As a Minister of the Government I went to one place and said, "I want two wards here." "I want an out-patient department there." I went somewhere else and said, "I must have an X-ray department here." I went to Narok and Kajiado and did the same. But during all this time nothing has happened. Why is this? It is because this money which this House voted is channelled through one particular Ministry and that Ministry is too busy to do everything. I would like to appeal to my colleague the Minister for Works to see that the tenders are open to the public contractors who can do the jobs easily for the Government. Let us not deceive ourselves. Sir, let us not deceive ourselves that we are delivering the goods to our people. If we are not going to open the tenders to the public contractors so that the maendeleo we want done is done in the country, things will never be done. Five years will pass and hon. Members of this House will be asked, "What have you done?" There is no point in Oloitipitip being called an Assistant Minister if I go somewhere and say I want something to be done and when I go to the same place after two years I find there is nothing done. What shall I tell the people. And I am Kenyatta's Assistant Minister!

I very sincerely appeal to the Minister concerned, or to the President if need be, and the whole Government machinery to see that something is done so that the public contractors can tender and we are able to carry out development for the benefit of our people. If we do not do this I assure this House that by June the money will go back to the Treasury.

Mrs. Onyango: Has the Front Bench heard that?

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. ole Oloitipitip): Mr. Speaker, Sir, if in the past money has been returned to the Treasury, then let us not repeat the same mistake for future years.

I would like to appeal that every Government Minister concerned should try to direct his efforts towards progress. When I say, every Government Minister, that includes me too, unless somebody does not know what he is talking about.

Let me now come to the question of water. Water scarcity in our country is very acute. This is all over the country, and especially now when we are facing this very big drought. In Kajiado we have over 40 boreholes but these were drilled during the colonial times. They are in a bad state now. I thank the Minister for Local Government because when I went to his office the other day I managed to convince him about the state of affairs in my area. He is now going round to my district on the 19th and 20th. He wants to see for himself how best he can help the people there to get water.

Water is the major problem that faces Kenya today and we cannot do anything without water. You cannot cook, you cannot live without water. If the Government can provide water in the Republic, then we have done a great service to the people.

And now I come to the question of hunger which faces the people of Kenya today. I thank the Government very much for having formed this committee called "Freedom from Hunger". They are doing a lot to help the people but even this is not enough. If we are to do something for the people, then let us form local committees. Every district should have a Freedom from Hunger committee and if the people in the district can raise money locally to help their own people, the better. It will be an advisory body to the central committee and the Government here. In this way the requirements of our people will be dealt with accordingly. I do not think there is anybody here who can tell me that hon. G. G. Kariuki knows much about the people living in Manyarra. If he knows anything, it is very little indeed.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Kase, you have only two minutes for today.

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Kase): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to join my friends in thanking the President for his hard work and his very good speech. I would also like to thank him for his efforts in visiting our district. That was the first time he ever did since he became President.

All of us who have been praising Mzee for doing a good job should follow in his footsteps.

It is pointless to come and sit here and when we walk out we leave behind the things we have spoken here. It is pointless for anybody in the Civil Service, in the private sector to say Mzee is good and immediately he leaves the office he does not carry out any good work.

I get very annoyed when certain human beings, outside this House, say the drought situation is under control, when they begin to say they are taking care of everybody. Only this afternoon, because of lack of food, six people in my constituency have died. People have telephoned me from my place to tell me this. Yet somebody says the situation is under control. I was speaking to the provincial commissioner three days ago and he said the situation was under control. When people are left to eat anything, do they not die? When people have to eat grass or mangoes or anything, they can get hold of, what is the alternative except to get diarrhoea and die from it? Yet, Sir, some person sits in the office and says, "Everything is under control." This is not what we want in a Government like ours. If we are going to say that Mzee is good, Mzee's methods are good and his speeches are good, then let us implement what he tells us. Let us try to do the work he has told us to do. We should not deceive the country. Mr. Speaker, I want to appeal through you to the Minister of State, that the situation is serious. Let us not deceive ourselves. As a Government we have left the Kenya Red Cross Society to do the job for us, to provide the food, meat and milk; we just sit back and wait for them to do our work.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will continue next time.

ADJOURNMENT

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is time now for interruption of business. The House is therefore adjourned until tomorrow, Friday, 5th March at 9.00 a.m.

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 97 (1370)

DRIVING SCHOOLS IN NAIROBI

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I understand that that question has been put off for the time being. Let us go on to the next question.

Mr. Marita.

Question No. 107 (1392)

MINIMUM ACREAGE FOR MAIZE-PLANTING LOANS

Mr. Marita asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House whether, since at the moment there is scarcity of land in most parts of Kenya where maize crop is grown, the Minister would consider doing away with the departmental policy of requiring farmers to plant a minimum of 15 acres of maize so as to qualify for loan money for maize farming and instead reduce the acreage to four acres.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Khaoya): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. We, in the Ministry, realize the difficulties which the hon. Member is referring to. Only two days ago my Minister, on a different question which was almost similar to this, one raised by the hon. Cheboiwo, gave a reply but I wish to repeat and emphasize the same reply.

At the moment any farmer growing maize can only qualify for a Guaranteed Minimum Return loan, which is a Government loan, if he has a minimum of 15 acres on which to grow maize. This, in the Ministry, is realized as being a discriminatory sort of exercise in that we have a lot of small-scale farmers in the country. In any case, this is not satisfactory because we realize that with our policy of diversification it does not help only to restrict ourselves to maize and wheat which is the present case. So, we have initiated discussions and study as to how we could reform the whole credit system so that we do not only include crops such as sunflowers, beans, grass etc., but also are able to take into account the necessity of including the small-scale farming industry in the country. But meanwhile if two, three or four farmers come together and form a total of 15 acres of maize, they can still be considered for a loan. One of the difficulties that we get with this one is that of responsibility and reliability of the partners when they come up for this loan, and the question of the repayment; otherwise you can get a loan, say, if three or four farmers can produce 15 acres. We realize that this is not very satisfactory, Sir, but are considering it.

Mr. Koigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister aware, or he is not aware, that in the rural areas there are only a few African farmers who have more than five acres, and if they mean they do not want the Guaranteed Minimum Return loan to be enjoyed in the rural areas they can fix that minimum of 15 acres, but if they want us to use the Guaranteed Minimum Return loan they should fix the minimum at five acres only?

Mr. Khaoya: Yes, I am very much aware that, in fact, in some cases even farmers have only one or two acres and all of them require some form of loan. That is why I said we feel that this arrangement is at the moment unsatisfactory and that is why we have initiated discussions as to how we can reform the credit system.

The hon. House will bear with us that when you think about a system of credit it is always a necessity to think about repayment. You very well know, Sir, that last year we embarked on a major exercise on the free movement of maize, for instance, which therefore, made that old method by which we were receiving our repayment through the Maize and Produce Board unworkable and is therefore under consideration since we were going to ease the maize movement. So, we have a number of difficulties which we have to consider but I can assure this House that we are very allied and active on the issue which is being put to this House this morning.

Mr. Koigi: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, will you sit down please, Mr. Koigi?

Mr. Marita.

Mr. Marita: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, will he agree with me that he is trying to make the rich people richer when he is supplying loans to those who have 15 acres forgetting people with three or five acres?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that to some extent, is true and that is why we have started thinking of reforming the credit system.

Mr. Murgor: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Assistant Minister has said that about three or four farmers can get together to get 15 acres in order to get a loan. Now, in view of the fact that this has been going on, although each of the three or four farmers has been having his own land ploughed separately, and not 15 acres in a block, could this be officially recognized and loans given as such instead of saying only 15 acres when a farmer does not want to work jointly together with other farmers?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member must have listened to what I said. Right at the moment the law has not been changed. We still have the 15 acres. We are in the process of trying to change this just to conform to what he wants and what I want. But before we do so we still have to get money and that is why I said that in the meantime let us all encourage our farmers to come forward and use this opportunity of coming together—three, four or five farmers—to get a Guaranteed Minimum Return loan. I realize that this is not very satisfactory and that is why we require a change.

Mr. Amayo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, could he tell the House, since the policy was made by a human being, what is stopping them from having the policy amended according to the requirements?

Mr. Khaoya: I can understand, Mr. Speaker, the worry of hon. Members, and the sooner we consider this the better. But, the Government machinery is not a one-man business. We have to discuss this at various stages. For instance, we have the Central Agricultural Board, which advises the Government. This Board has already done so about six or seven months ago, but then we have to consider the financial implications. For instance, the Treasury has to go into it, and also go into quite a number of other aspects. All I can say is to appeal to the hon. House that we are on the right side, give us the time and we shall deliver the fruits.

IMPROVEMENT OF ROADS IN ELDORET SOUTH

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. arap Saina not here? Next question.

Question No. 103 (1386)

RE-OPENING OF GAKURWE DISPENSARY

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House whether, since the Gakurwe Dispensary had been closed during the Emergency by the Colonial Government, to stop freedom fighters from getting medicine, he could, as a matter of urgency, re-open this dispensary for the service of wananchi in the area.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. ole Oloitipitip): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. There are two dispensaries, Mugega and Kiarini, and a Mission Hospital at Kiarini, within five miles of Gakurwe. There is, therefore, no urgency for a dispensary to be opened at Gakurwe.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the building of the old dispensary that the hon. Member is referring to, is, anyway, very dilapidated and a new building would need to be built. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the proposal should be made through the district and provincial development committees.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister aware that my people in the area have already built, on Harambee basis, a new and beautiful dispensary to replace the one that was demolished by the Colonial Government?

An hon. Member: What is he doing about it?

Mr. ole Oloitipitip: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not aware of this, and the hon. Member has not taken trouble to let me know.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, does the Assistant Minister mean to tell us he is not aware of the new building, yet he knew about this dispensary? He should have taken the trouble to go and find out the truth about the dispensary; why does he not know?

Mr. ole Oloitipitip: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if there is a Harambee dispensary built at this particular place, at all, my Ministry is not aware. I said, Sir, that the Member has not taken trouble to let us know.

Mr. Ogalo: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, since it is now known that there is a health centre built already, can he assure us, that he is going to open this health centre soon—on Monday?

Mr. ole Oloitipitip: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Minister is not going to assure the House that he will take the trouble of opening this dispensary or health centre, right away. However, Sir, if the hon. Member concerned—the questioner—comes to our Ministry, we shall see what we can do.

Mr. Araru: Thank you, very much. Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, that the hon. Member has not taken the trouble to tell him when this dispensary was ready, is it not true, Sir, that this question was put to him six months ago and therefore the hon. Member has done his duty by informing the Ministry? What trouble has the Ministry taken to know whether this dispensary is ready, and then equip it with the necessary facilities?

Mr. ole Oloitipitip: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish the hon. questioner, who has just sat down, read the question before he stood up and asked a supplementary question.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the question, itself, does not deal, at all, with the new dispensary which has been built on a Harambee basis; this is an old building, which was demolished by the Colonial Government. Please, read your question.

*Question No. 62 (1286)GOVERNMENT HELP IN SELF-HELP PROJECTS

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services if he would tell the House what was the Government policy on self-help projects in the whole country, regarding financial assistance and encouragement.

The Assistant Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. Ngureti): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Government policy concerning self-help projects regarding financial assistance is defined as follows:—

- (a) The projects must be planned according to the needs felt by the people.
- (b) The projects must be properly planned within the framework of the National Development Plan.
- (c) Any application for financial assistance must be processed by both the Community Development committees and the district development committees.
- (d) In the case of projects which involve recurrent costs, the people must make provisions for running and maintaining them.

With regard to encouragement of the spirit of self-help, the Government makes sure that:—

- (a) The people themselves are involved in the planning of their projects.
- (b) The Government also organizes the courses and local tours and overseas tours for the leaders of different groups of the self-help projects.
- (c) Financial aid is also given by the Government to the outstanding projects which are selected and processed by the committees.

Mr. ole Marima: Mr. Speaker, Sir, understanding that some time in the last Session we asked a question of this nature to the same Assistant Minister, and knowing that their work is so enormous that it cannot be organized from Nairobi, Sir, could he now, tell us whether, or not, his Ministry considers taking the services to the district level and allocating the money to the districts rather than concentrating everything in Nairobi, and have some districts or provinces missing the benefits?

Mr. Ngureti: Mr. Speaker, Sir, with your permission, I beg to state the same thing I stated here last Session, on the question of how committees are organized in the Republic, regarding self-help projects.

We have locational committees, divisional committees, district committees, provincial committees, and a National Community Development Committee. The Members are allowed to participate in these committees, and their views will be processed through these committees.

Mr. Ayah: In view of the fact that these self-help schemes or projects are dealing with the very services that Government is supposed to give to the people, has anybody in the Assistant Minister's Ministry ever thought of co-ordinating these efforts so that Government itself, provides these services rather than abdicating their responsibility and leaving the people to carry out the self-help projects, which are supposed to be the responsibility of the Government? Is there anybody trying to co-ordinate this as part of Government policy, rather than having it the other way round?

Mr. Ngureti: As I have just said, Mr. Speaker, we have two committees in the country now: we have the Community Development Projects Committee and we have the Planning Development Committee. The Development Planning Committee is for co-ordination, whereby all the Ministries co-operate and work together, and our Community Development Projects Committee reports to this very committee for co-ordination.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, could he tell the House—since he knows that when we talk of a matter of policy we mean the policy as laid down by the Government, and now he has quoted so many committees which should meet and discuss and consider the applications—how and when Government will lay down the proper procedure in a book or in the law, so that when people are starting a self-help project they have directions to follow, knowing that the self-help projects would be taken over or assisted by the Government when they are off the ground?

Mr. Ngureti: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Government machinery is being channelled through the Development Plan and we do not handle the matters of self-help projects outside the laid-down policy. We have to follow what has been laid down in the Development Plan. As I have said, Sir, I would ask my colleagues in this House to participate fully in the committees which are set up and if there is any suggestion as to how we can improve the matters affecting the self-help projects, we would like to have these suggestions or proposals as soon as possible.

An hon. Member: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No points of order for now.

Mr. Munyasia: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and knowing very well that there is no policy—it is totally out of the question because if there was a policy our people would receive guidance—could he tell us why the Government, with these committees, tells the people to start certain projects saying they will be taken over by Government but when the projects are finished the whole thing is ignored? Is that the policy they have?

Mr. Ngureti: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I know very well that there have been self-help projects, established in the country, some of which are established by hon. Members—I must say this frankly—but the intention of the Government is to make sure that every project which is established is cared for. We do not want to establish projects, all over the country, which are not cared for.

Mr. Kurgat: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister inform this House—or rather deny that any project which is sponsored by the Government officials is more recognized than that which is started by a Member of Parliament?

Mr. Ngureti: Mr. Speaker, I have said that because unless we work following the Government's policy we shall find some projects which have not been planned being started and which will in due course fail and create an embarrassment to Government.

Mr. Koigi: Is the Assistant Minister aware that when these committees meet in various divisional headquarters the district officers do not call them when the Members of Parliament in the divisions are present, and therefore when he tells us to participate and give co-operation that co-operation is impossible?

Mr. Ngureti: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to suggest a method of how these things can work. We have already raised these proposals to our officers to make sure that when dates have been fixed for the meetings of these projects the fixed dates are on the days when hon. Members are available in their areas.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati) Next question.

Question No. 29 (1246)

CANDIDATES FOR TEACHING: BARINGO DISTRICT

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Education if he would tell the House whether it was true that there were candidates for teaching who were interviewed on 24th July 1970, at Kabarnet in Baringo District, but were not taken and yet instead some other candidates were brought from the Teachers' Service Commission Nairobi.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Mbai): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I am not aware that candidates who were qualified in terms of the Ministerial Circular on the procecedure for implementing the Tripartite Agreement, in Baringo District, were not selected.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that answer given by the Assistant Minister, that there were no qualified candidates in Baringo District, could he tell us what sort of candidates were required and what sort of candidates were sent from Nairobi instead of those in Baringo?

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the District Education Officer in Baringo was given directives from my Ministry that he should recruit candidates who have attained School Certificate and Junior Secondary School Examination. If he could not get enough of those people from Baringo District then the Teachers' Service Commission had to send those who had better qualifications—recruited here—to Baringo District.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister trying to tell this House that his officers could not find any School Certificate boys in the area?

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: There are very many of them there.

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if there were enough School Certificate chaps in Baringo District, surely there was no need sending someone from Nairobi. What I am saying is that I am sure the District Education Officer at Baringo could not get enough of them and, therefore, he had to get additional chaps from the Teachers' Service Commission.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister tell this House what happened to those candidates who were interviewed on 24th of July 1970? Those people had the necessary qualifications because they were School Certificate chaps—31 of them—and instead of taking the 31 chaps they brought 70 from other places. Could he tell us why?

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, attending an interview does not mean that you are qualified to be employed. There were certain things which were being looked for when these people were being interviewed. It was required of them to have done well in their examinations. For instance, in Junior Cambridge School Certificate, they had to have at least three passes in order to be considered for that employment.

Mr. arap Rono: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Assistant Minister is contradicting himself. In the first answer he said that his Ministry instructed the District Education Officer in Baringo District to look for School Certificate and Junior School Certificate candidates. Now, after being told that those ones were there, he says that there were some other things that were also looked for. What are these qualification other than what he says?

Mr. Mbai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have nothing to add to what I have already said on this.

Mr. ole Marima: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister accept or deny the fact that the implications of taking the so-called better qualified people from other districts means, actually, never training the people from Baringo District because they employ only better teachers and the people of Baringo District will never come to the standard of better teachers?

Mr. Mbai: I do not agree with that, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question, Mr. Kivuitu.

Question No. 43 (1260)

ADMISSION TO BRAEBURN PREPARATON SCHOOL

Mr. Mulwa, on behalf of Mr. Kivuitu, asked the Minister for Education if he would tell the House—

(a) why the Minister had authorized the commencement of a primary school at Lavington in Nairobi called Braeburn House Coed Preparatory School whose terms and conditions of admission were such that it would only cater for the children of the rich;

(b) if the establishment of the school was in keeping with our Sessional Paper No. 10 entitled "African Socialism and its Application to Planning".

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) Braeburn House Coed Preparatory School is not registered as required by the Education Act. The management has been warned about the possible consequences of running an illegal school.

(b) I am investigating the affairs of this as yet unregistered school. Before this exercise is completed I cannot be certain if the institution is in keeping with the provisions of Sessional Paper No. 10.

Mr. Mutiso: Arising from that reply by the Minister and since this school has not been registered, can the Minister tell the House what action he is going to take if the school has already started and is running illegally? Is he going to round up these people and put them in jail straightaway?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have just said that I am investigating the situation and the problem of this unregistered school. If it is there illegally we shall prosecute the management.

Mr. Y. Ali: Mr. Speaker, arising from the Minister's reply and this matter being a serious matter which involves the whole of Nairobi, would he now agree with me that the intention and motive behind the setting up of such a school in Nairobi is to discriminate against the Africans, which is contrary to the policy of racial integration as far as education is concerned?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, I am not aware of what school the hon. Member is talking about. I do not know of any such school. It does not exist as far as I am concerned, it is not registered.

Mr. Y. Ali: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the Minister is trying to avoid the question. I have just handed over to the Minister two pieces of documentary evidence regarding the same kind of issue although it does not affect this very school. It is, however, a similar issue. In following up I would like the Minister to tell this House and the nation why such schools are being opened contrary to the Government's regulations? Why cannot the Minister take drastic action to close such schools?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, let me explain to the hon. Members what the situation is. A school that is in existence without registration, for my purposes is not a school at all. So when you start talking of a group of people sitting in a place and call them a school, to me that is not a school. What I want the hon. Member to tell me is whether he is talking of a group of people who are unregistered or whether he is talking of a school that I know about.

Mr. Onyulo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the hon. Minister's reply, it is admitted that he is aware of the existence of this illegally run school and that he is investigating the matter. Could the Minister, having noted that this school is in existence stop the school until such time as his investigations are completed?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I said in clear terms that before the exercise of investigation is completed I cannot be certain whether the institution is there in keeping with our terms or not. I have to finish the exercise of investigation before I take any action.

Mrs. Onyango: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Minister tell us whether or not this school is the same school where the European children have switched to so that they can continue with education and leave the African children to learn at other schools around this school?

Mr. Towett: Mr. Speaker, for practical purposes we have no enrolment of any children at a school that is not registered.

Mr. Araru: Arising from the Minister's reply when he said he is carrying out investigations, could he tell us how many months he needs for this? As far as I am concerned this question has been there for some time, about four to five months, in his Ministry. Why did he not investigate earlier so that he could have a good reply to tell us today whether this school exists legally or illegally?

Mr. Towett: I need as much time as I require, Sir.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that answer from the Minister, will he accept that the hon. Member for Parklands, Mr. Kivuitu, in fact, wrote a letter to the Minister giving all the details and, also, sending a pamphlet about this school? He says now he has had no time to investigate. Why is it that up to now he has not done anything?

Mr. Towett: It is precisely upon the information given by the hon. Member for Parklands that we are now carrying on our investigations.

Mr. Mulwa: Are you going to close it down?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We will now go back to Mr. Mulwa's question.

Question No. 97 (1370)

DRIVING SCHOOLS IN NAIROBI

Mr. Mulwa asked the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs if he would tell the House—

(a) if he was aware that some of the driving schools in Nairobi were very unscrupulous in that they were exploiting the illiterate wananchi by giving them false promises that if they paid Sh. 375 they would be given driving lessons until they obtained a licence and, at the same time, made them sign a written contract which exempted the said schools from that very undertaking by stipulating that promises given verbally did not bind them;

(b) to avoid this exploitation and in order to make the standard of driving uniform, if the Minister would consider a complete take-over of these driving schools by the Government because such a move would also go a long way towards better driving in our Republic and, therefore, fewer motor accidents.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Matano): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) Extensive inquiries have been conducted and so far no such allegations have been reported to the police, neither is there any evidence to support them.

If the hon. Member can quote any particular cases the police could then make investigations.

(b) The Government is considering very seriously whether or not it should take over these driving schools.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, must the police take action only when things are reported to them? What about if the police notice something illegal? Should they not take action straightaway because these driving schools which tend to cheat are doing it in broad daylight?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the police take action as soon as they find crimes are being committed but it is also our duty as good citizens of this Republic to report these things to the police in order that they may help us.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, if the hon. Assistant Minister has made any investigations as he has said did he visit the Sobha Driving School and if he did, did he find that they make their customers sign a small pamphlet whereby they are told that they will be taught how to drive for three months and then they will get a licence and, also at the end of the pamphlet there is a clause saying that verbal promises given do not tie them down? Yet the pupils have to pay Sh. 375.

An hon. Member: It is now Sh. 700.

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, these are some of the allegations which I would like to have exposed. We like the members of the public to report these matters to the police so as to enable the police to take action. If the members of the public do not report these matters to the police, it makes things very difficult for the police to work on.

However, Sir, I would like to repeat once again that the Government is not satisfied with the way things are at the moment and, as I said earlier, we are considering the matter. The idea of taking over these driving schools is considered very, very seriously. It is however, too early now to say anything.

Mr. Karungaru: Arising from the Assistant Minister's replies, would he now undertake to do things since the House has already disclosed what the police have hopelessly failed to get, and that with this information the police can now act?

Mr. Matano: Sir, not only out of what the Members have said this morning, but I have stated earlier that Government is putting up very extensive investigations. We are now actually doing that. This is because of this question and it is also because of a few—

Mr. Karungaru: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, do I understand that Minister to say that the Government is going to investigate when we have already told him about this school and we have given him the information he requires? What is the Government going to investigate further?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, this document which is here is in the form of a question, but that is not enough. Government must have enough facts to work on. We cannot just investigate in any manner. We cannot put the whole machinery of investigation into action because of just one question, the whole thing has to be investigated, and it has been. It is going on now, it is not that we are going to begin from today. Work has been going on up to now, it is still going on. This is the work of investigation and we are going to investigate further and find out the truth and then act accordingly.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister tell the House when his department started the investigation and how long does he expect this investigation to continue before it comes to an end so that he can report to this House?

Mr. Matano: We started some time ago and we shall finish as soon as possible.

Question No. 102 (1382)

IMPROVEMENT OF ROADS IN ELDORET SOUTH.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We come now to Mr. arap Saina's question. Is anybody authorized to ask his question? No.

We move on to Question by Private Notice.

(Ordered to be answered as a Written Reply)

QUESTION BY PRIVATE NOTICE

SHORTAGE OF WATER IN KIKONENI AND MWANANYAMALA

Mr. Mwamzandi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Agriculture the following Question by Private Notice:—

Since there is now no water at Kikoneni and Mwananyamala, and the plans to supply water to these two areas are a long-term process, could the Minister, as a matter of urgency, consider sending water tank lorries to these areas to save the lives of these people?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. First of all I would like to correct the impression conveyed by the hon. Member that Kikoneni and Mwananyamala plans for water schemes are long-term. The two places are already earmarked in our 1971/72 Water Development Programme and I am reasonably hopeful that before the end of 1972 they will have their water supply.

Regarding the prospects concerning the sending of water tank lorries to these areas, we have a very limited number of such lorries which we only use at times and in places of extreme need, where there are no alternative solutions. We consider that there are other areas worse off than Kikoneni and which justify the utilization of such water lorries.

Mr. Mwamzandi: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, does he now regard the situation at Kikoneni as not one of extreme need since there is almost no water for the people in that place?

Mr. Wanjigi: Yes, I think that is what I have just said, Sir. We do not consider that place is of such extreme seriousness as the hon. Member says.

Mr. Umuro: Mr. Speaker, since the Assistant Minister said that they have included these two places in the 1971/72 plan, what are they going to do to supply these people with water at the moment because there is no water there?

Mr. Wanjigi: But there is water. I have said there is water there.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, what degree of seriousness does the Ministry consider before it can give water to those people if the hon. Member who represents the people of Kikoneni cannot be taken seriously and he is the man on the spot?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, I am not suggesting that I am not taking the hon. Member seriously, but I am saying that we are not convinced of the extreme seriousness of the water shortage in this place. In fact, he knows I know Kikoneni very well and I know there is water in Kikoneni. I can challenge him even now.

Mr. Mwamzandi: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, is the Assistant Minister not misleading the House when he has never been to Kikoneni and yet he says he knows Kikoneni?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, that is a lie. I have been to Kikomeni more than five times.

Mr. Mwamzandi: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order! Mr. Mwamzandi, you must first of all be sure that your facts are correct.

Mr. Mwamzandi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have been in this Parliament since 1963 and I have never seen the Assistant Minister touring Kikoneni as a Government official or as an Assistant Minister. Is he not misleading the House?

Is he also right to use the word "lie"? Is this word parliamentary?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, we do not use that kind of language.

Mr. Wanjigi: I meant to say that the statement from the hon. Member is not true; whether, in fact, you want to call it a lie or not, or whether it is parliamentary or not, the point I want to make, Mr. Speaker, is that whether the hon. Member saw me in Kikoneni or not does not mean that I was not there. I am sure there are many people who go to Kikoneni and he never sees them.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We will move on now. Mr. Shikuku.

MINISTERIAL STATEMENT

DUAL NATIONALITY—ASIANS

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir—

An hon. Member: You are late—

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): You over-stayed in bed.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to make the following statement:

The hon. Members will recall the promise I made in this House on 18th December 1970, when replying to hon. Magugu's Question No. 1228 (a) which read, and I quote:—

“In view of the recent announcement by the Immigration Department that Asians who had acquired automatic citizenships had been discovered to be holding dual nationality for having failed to renounce their citizenships, can the Minister tell the House, (a) how many people are involved in this?”

In my reply I stated that the number of such people was extremely small. I have gone into the question of finding who these people are and I have been able to get three people and they are all women. Their names are as follows: Mrs. C. R. Khosla, Mrs. H. Kruger and Mrs. Zarin A. E. Dhya.

From the above figures it can be seen that such cases are very rare and mostly confined to women who, although automatic Kenya Citizens at the independence, were married to people who continued to be citizens of United Kingdom and Colonies.

NOTICE OF MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

MATTER OF REPLY TO QUESTION NO. 43:

ADMISSION TO BRAEBURN PREPARATORY SCHOOL

Mr. Y. Ali: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): What is your point of order, Mr. Ali?

Mr. Y. Ali: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the unsatisfactory answer to Question No. 43, I would like to raise this matter on a Motion for the Adjournment, if the questioner will have no objection.

Mr. Kivuitu: I have no objection.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): He has no objection. Mr. Omamo.

MINISTERIAL STATEMENT

FOREST FIRES IN THE COUNTRY

The Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Omamo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to make a statement regarding the forest fires. It is my unpleasant duty today to report to this House some very shocking details regarding the forest fires which Members have been reading about in the local Press.

Before going into these details, I would like to make it clear that a forest fire is a fact of life, not only here in Kenya, but in almost every country where forests are grown. There is fire, which is considered to be the greatest enemy of forests, and it is only in an exceptional year when we are spared any serious fires in our forest areas. However, it must be clear to all hon. Members of this House that as a result of a drought, such as we are experiencing now, our forest areas are placed in extreme danger and the slightest irresponsibility or carelessness on the part of even a single individual causing a forest fire, can place years of good work in jeopardy.

This year we have been afflicted by a series of fires which have struck at almost all our major forest areas. The fires have brought, in their wake, devastation and great losses to Kenya—financial loss, water catchment loss and loss of scenic attractions. Mr. Speaker, Sir, let me now give some of the details of our own losses as they stand at present. The figures I am giving are immediate estimates made on the spot and are, of course, subject to some revision when the final data is received. The values which have been placed on softwood plantations and indigenous forest depend on their relative age and composition at the time of burning.

(a) During January and early February, this year, we lost 120 acres of plantation at various sites valued at K£2,800; (b) Last week we lost 570 acres of plantation at Kodera, Kamatera, Wire, Timbora and Baragat, all valued at K£15,300; (c) This past week, up to yesterday, we lost 2,500 acres of plantations at Kakamega, Menengai, Marmanet, Mount Kenya and Kaptagat, valued at K£135,000; and also 16,000 acres of indigenous forest at Mount Kenya, Marmanet and Eburu valued at K£435,000.

[The Minister for Natural Resources]

These figures do not include, Mr. Speaker, any costs which are involved in extinguishing these fires. I hope, Sir, that the House will be sympathetic when my Ministry request any supplementary funds for enabling the Forestry Department to run as a result of these unexpected expenditures. The total losses to Kenya, purely in terms of timber, therefore, stand at about K£590,000. This is a figure which I am sure all hon. Members of this House will agree is staggering, and one which unfortunately reflects, to some degree, the lack of recognition and appreciation which the nation's forest estate receives from public.

Many of these fires have been started through the carelessness of farmers on neighbouring farms; through illegal honey-hunters or graziers and in some cases, by deliberate arsonists who do not care what happens to their country or its natural resources.

One positive aspect of an otherwise very gloomy picture is the readiness of many different organizations who come to our help when the forest fires are on. I must pay tribute. Mr. Speaker, Sir, to the members of the provincial administration, the Kenya Police, the Kenya Army, the Administration Police, and the National Youth Service together with the National Parks, the general public and farmers who have been and are still fighting these fires even now, as I speak. They have done this for days on end under very trying and often dangerous conditions. They have backed up our own men of the Forest Department who have borne the main burden of these emergencies and whose devotion to duty should receive a special commendation of this House.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, every year, preparations for the fire season are made well in advance by our staff, ensuring that fire-towers are manned, 24-hour patrols set up and fire-fighting teams are put on stand-by. Good radio and telephone communications are, of course, essential—and these we have. The preparation of fire-lines is also, of course, an essential part of our defences, and these we have. However, in spite of all these precautions it is impossible to halt every fire when it gets out of hand. Appeals to the public are being made daily on both the Voice of Kenya radio and television, but I would like to appeal to the hon. Members present here today, Sir, to pass on to their constituents a very special appeal that the drought is by no means over. Please appeal to your constituents not to damage Kenya's economy and her natural resources by causing forest fires through thoughtlessness or carelessness. Please appeal to your constituents to come out in large numbers and fight any fire that may be reported in any forest areas.

Mr. Speaker Sir, I have made available a copy of this statement to every hon. Member of this House and I trust that each hon. Member will use the facts in it to tell the wananchi as strongly and as persuasively as possible, that Kenya cannot afford to lose nearly £600,000 within a few weeks.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, should any hon. Member require more details about this emergency, my officers and myself will be ready to give further information.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Karungaru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to seek some information regarding what has happened of late. I would like the Minister to tell this House whether, as a result of what has happened, his Ministry has really worked hard to make sure that all these people concerned in setting alight the fires are properly punished in accordance with the law of this country?

The Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Omamo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, before you can punish a culprit, he has to be apprehended first. However, up to now we have not apprehended anyone. The fires, or most of the fires, start in a most peculiar manner: right in the middle of the forest, the fire starts. The wind blows and the fire gets out of control. Is it the honey hunter, who, in the midst of tapping, is bitten by a swarm of bees, and therefore, runs away leaving behind the fire? We do not know. But, should anyone know of anybody who is doing this damage to the Republic, please, let the police and our forest guards know.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in his statement the Minister mentioned some of the causes of fire as carelessness on the part of farmers. Has the Minister made any arrangements with the Ministry of Agriculture in order that the Minister for Agriculture requests farmers through his technical officers in the fields to help in fire-fighting?

The Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Omamo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, this has been done, and not only with the Ministry of Agriculture but also with the provincial administration, who during this fire season have issued appropriate notices.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this statement given by the Minister is very serious, and on looking at the amount of money Kenya has lost through fire outbreaks one realizes that it is a very serious situation. What arrangements is the Minister making, as far as the fire breaks are concerned, because in my own area, when I go around I do not see anything to do with a fire break at all which can stop the fire, if at all it was started by a farmer from catching the forest? Also, is the Minister aware of the fact that there are some people in the forests who feel that they should be given an area for cultivation and that, possibly, these are the people who might set fire to the forest when they are clearing the forest in order to cultivate and eventually this fire spreads and it becomes very difficult to stop it?

What is the Minister doing, (a) to have the fire breaks and (b), also to have the area excised from the forest so that the forest boundary is better and clearly marked so that it is more closely administered by the Forest Department?

The Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Omamo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, fire breaks are provided for, and I must say that for any reasonable man, the fire breaks that my Ministry have provided should control fire that is supposed to move from a farm into the forest area.

The other question about those unscrupulous squatters moving into the forest areas as trespassers, I would like to assure this House and, especially now when the nation has lost so much, that those people are going to feel the hand of the Government.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ole Leken: Mr. Speaker, Sir, due to very understandable circumstances and problems which are faced now by the landless people, on many occasions top politicians have promised land, and said that these people would be settled. The only ways so far left in Kenya today through which to settle people are (1) reduction of the forests so as to give people part of it and, (2) reduction of the national parks to the actual economical size. Now, might this be the cause of fires, because these people are now desperate because of these promises? It could be that these people have now gone to the extent of feeling that they should do some damage, at least to the forests, so that they can show some of their grievances.

The Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Omamo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think that some hon. Members merely want to provoke the Minister for Natural Resources and, therefore, I really want to reply to this question as one who has been provoked.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Ministry of Natural Resources has been set up by the nation and, therefore, by this House, to protect and to preserve and, if necessary to enlarge, the national forest estates. My Ministry is not there to diminish the forest estates and if there is need for settling wananchi, and I personally believe that there is need for settling them, I would like to let the House know that proper arrangements can be made with the appropriate Ministry, which is the Ministry of Lands and Settlement. When that settlement is effected, it must be done far and away from the nation's forest area. I would like to assure the House, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that from now onwards my Ministry will make sure that the forest estate which is only 3 per cent instead of being 10 per cent, which is the world average, is going to increase only through not allowing people to settle in the forests but also through chasing away the trespassers.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. ole Leken: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir. That sort of misquotation is very wrong indeed, because, Sir, I feel that it is very important that when we speak in this House we should speak the truth. I did not say that we should diminish the forests; the fact is that whether we like it or not, the only way left today, through which you can settle the landless people is either reduction of the forests or the national parks.

NOTICE OF MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

UTILIZATION OF ATHI RIVER WATER FOR IRRIGATION

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Hon. Members, we must get moving. I have received a written notice from Mr. Mutiso, Member for Yatta, of his intention to raise on the Adjournment a matter contained in a reply received to Question No. 57 concerning utilization of Athi River water for irrigation purposes in Ukambani. I shall, therefore, call for the Motion for the Adjournment at the time for the interruption of business on Tuesday, the 9th of March.

An hon. Member: Hear! Hear!

MOTION

DISCONTINUATION OF FORMS V AND VI EDUCATION

THAT since there are many families in this country who cannot afford to educate their children due to poverty, and whereas the Government is spending huge sums of public funds in educating and maintaining students in Forms V and VI and the fact that the education provided for these two classes is not absolutely necessary for university studies, this House urges the Government to discontinue Forms V and VI as from the beginning of 1972, and employ the money used in running these classes in setting up funds with each county council for the purpose of helping children whose parents cannot afford to pay for their fees.

[Mr. Mulwa]

(Mr. Mulwa on 26th February 1971)

Amendment proposed—

THAT since there are many families in this country who cannot afford to educate their children due to poverty, and whereas the Government is spending huge sums of public funds in educating and maintaining students in Forms V and VI, and the fact that the education provided for these two classes is not absolutely necessary for university studies, this House urges the Government to discontinue forms V and VI as from the beginning of 1972 and employ the money used in running these classes in setting up funds with each local authority for the purpose of helping children whose parents cannot afford to pay their fees.

(Mr. Mwithaga on 26th February 1971)

(Question proposed)

(Resumption of Debate on the Motion as amended interrupted on 26th February 1971)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Mwangale was speaking and had five minutes to go but he is not here. I understand the Minister, himself, is here and wants to say something about this Motion.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sorry I was sick last Friday and therefore I was unable to be here when this very interesting Motion was being discussed. I do not want to waste a lot of time, but I just wanted to point out a very few salient and important facts as far as our educational system is concerned.

It is very well and interesting for some to think that probably having Forms V and VI in our higher schools is a waste of time. I may agree that it is a waste of time and at the same time agree that, philosophically, time is wasted all the time. Even now that I am making a useful contribution to this Motion, time is being killed all the time. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we cannot say that we do away with Forms V and VI in Kenya alone. We are now interrelated in the universities, not only of Africa, but of the whole world. As you saw yesterday, Sir, I have 1,109 candidates who have qualified now to go to the university following the results of Higher School Certificate. Now, if I were to get rid of Forms V and VI, Tanzania which, of course, at the University of Dar es Salaam, insists that a student must finish Higher School Certificate before being admitted to university may not accept our students. Makerere University may also insist that a student must have a Higher School Certificate before he is admitted for university studies. Now, if we in Kenya decided to do away with Forms V and VI say that at Form IV level our students should go to our university whereby we shall have adjusted our university to suit our Form IV students; but in this case, Sir, our students will not be admitted after Form IV studies to the University of Dar es Salaam or the University of Makerere, or for that matter to any university in Africa or outside Africa except, probably, in America.

In the United States of America, Sir, the problem there is different. They call Form V and VI junior colleges. They are not universities. These are junior colleges where students go and after their studies they get credits towards universities to enable them to go to universities eventually. It is exactly what we have here. When our students go to our Forms V and VI, it is the same way in which the American students go to junior colleges. In our system, after they have finished their Forms V and VI successfully, they go to university.

Now, the system has changed from my time and your time, Sir. During our time we used to go to universities after Form IV. This used to be called Matriculation during our time. At that state, there was, in the university, two years which used to be known as intermediate stage of a university. So, after Form IV, you have to go to the university and do two years of study to pass your intermediate before you embark on your finals. Now, universities today, or most of them, have done away with what they used to call intermediate in the university. Therefore, that has been reduced or brought down to high school level. So, what we are doing at Forms V and VI is actually a part of university work. In order to reduce time at the university, a student is required to pass his intermediate at Higher School Certificate level.

So, Sir, I want to appeal to hon. Members of this House, and to the country, that our system is not an isolated system. It is an international sort of understanding today that when we qualify our students at a Higher School Certificate level, they can go to any other university in the Commonwealth countries and can be accepted as eligible for university work. Now, if we in Kenya agree that after Form IV they go to university, it will be very difficult, Sir, when we send them for higher studies elsewhere to be admitted to their universities. They will have to do their Form V and VI work first before they are admitted into other universities. Now, if hon. Members of this House would like us to call Form V and VI junior colleges, I have no objection. However, I would appeal to them that let us not disrupt the system as it is at the moment. I want them to allow me to see the repercussions that we might have and then look at the whole system from Std. I right up to Form VI. It is not an isolated item where you can just bring all the work which a student is supposed to do in Form V and VI and cram it in between Form I and Form IV. It is very, difficult to do six years' work in four years. So, I am appealing to the hon. Mover of this Motion—I understand, Sir, he is a European-orientated graduate, possibly in France or Germany. However, we do not follow the syllabus of that type. When we send our students to those countries, they waste one year apart from the years spent in the university doing the languages. I know that he will have the Floor after my speech and may have an opportunity to tear my argument to pieces, but I am appealing to him that if he can give me time to go and work on this I may be able to study the repercussions properly. We are now teaching French in our schools and therefore it will not be necessary for our students, after Form VI, to spend a year learning French when they go to France, or spend a year in Russia learning Russian language, or spend six months in Germany learning German language, before they embark on university work. I know they will have to spend the one year learning the Russian language and the six months learning the German language, and so here, time is also spent.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to appeal to the hon. Mover of this Motion to let me look into this matter, and if after six months he cannot see anything, it is when he can come back and ask, "Sir, what did the Minister promise?" This is a very grave situation and I would like him to consider the circumstance and give me time to look into the whole issue.

With these observations, I say thank you, Sir.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I will call upon the Mover to reply.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in reply, I would first like to thank all the Members who contributed to this Motion, including the Assistant Minister, himself, who, in confidence, sympathized with the Motion. It is unfortunate that the Minister, himself, was not there because he would have heard hon. Members and myself showing that what students in Form V and VI are doing is a mere repetition of what they do in Forms I to IV, and it is, therefore, not necessary to do it again.

Secondly, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think there was a mistake as a result of the Motion because most of the hon. Members who spoke, including the Assistant Minister for Education, emphasized free education. The Motion is not asking for free education. It, in fact, seeks to abolish Forms V and VI with a view to using the money employed thereon to educate the destitute children whose fathers cannot afford to pay for education. Mr. Speaker, Sir, to correct the impression that might have been given by the Assistant Minister, the money used by our students in Forms V and VI is nearly Sh. 12 million per year—this cannot be challenged—and does not include the money paid to the teachers. So, Mr. Speaker, Sir, you can see there is enough money for the purpose for which I brought this Motion.

I was not saying that the money employed would be enough to provide free education in the country because I am not so blind! So, I am trying to correct what the Assistant Minister said. He said that the money which is used in running these two classes is so little—Sh. 12 million—though I do not consider it to be too little. This does not take into account the money paid to the teachers, most of whom are expatriate teachers. So, as you can see, what I am trying to say is that this money is enough for the purpose for which this Motion was presented.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are not going to be guided by Tanzania and Uganda with regard to what they do; and we are not going to allow ourselves to continue thinking that what Britain does is the only correct thing. This is not correct. The majority of the countries of the world, and the Minister knows this, have done away with the system and, therefore, do not have these two extra years. I said that for technical subjects, like engineering, the students are required to do a one-year pre-university studies. This is a fact which cannot be challenged. This is what is done; and if so, why can we not do it?

It is unfortunate that the Minister, himself, was not present when most of the Members talked on this Motion. It was also argued by his Assistant Minister that we have provisions for bursaries for students whose parents cannot afford — Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is not correct, and the Minister knows it. There are so many children at home who cannot even afford their primary school fees simply because their fathers cannot afford it and the Government is doing absolutely nothing on this. I, myself, am paying school fees for five children and there are so many other needy ones; and I only wish I could have as much as Sh. 12 million—I would pay for their school fees. I am paying school fees for five children every year; and in spite of this you dare stand here and say that we have a destitute society but we have provisions! You have nothing. I have already two students from Kabaa Secondary School and I will bring them to your Ministry.

[Mr. Mulwa]

These two have been chased and I cannot do anything. Last year I paid school fees for one of them and I wonder how much longer I am going to pay for them! There is absolutely nothing that the Minister does, and when we apply, we are told, "Well, if your county council cannot give them bursaries—" What can a county council do? I think you know this!

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think we have to tackle these things rather more seriously because education is so important that we cannot afford to ignore it as we are doing at the moment. We cannot just say that education in Kenya is going to be just for the people who are rich, and hence who can afford to pay the school fees for their children. This is wrong, and indeed I thought the Ministry could thank me profoundly for having brought to their attention one of the suggestions which could go a long way to help them in their problem. However, they decide to oppose. I was just trying to be helpful to the Minister by suggesting that we should do away with this business of Form V and Form VI and employ the money expended there to help children who cannot afford to pay for their education—though this should be just the first stage and then the question of free education should come later. I was just trying to be helpful and I think the hon. Minister, within himself, knows that he should thank me because, as some Members said, he should not forget that we have been promising that we shall see to it whether we can provide free education. The other day the Minister said, "Not until after seven years"; but he did not tell the nation how that will be implemented. I am just trying to suggest how we can do it step by step and I think the Minister should accept this genuinely as the first step to this goal and accept this Motion absolutely. I was expecting the Assistant Minister or the Minister himself to amend this Motion in case they felt that the period stipulated by the Motion is short. However, they did not do it. I could not compose an amendment to the Motion. If you felt that the period given for you to consider overhauling the system was short, you could amend the Motion; but since you did not do that it can only be assumed that you have the means to implement the Motion if it is passed, and I hope it is going to be passed because Members realize that it is high time that we changed our system completely and we cannot continue any longer having this system simply because we have it in Britain.

Before I forget I would like you to look at the plight of Form V and Form VI school-leavers, particularly Form VI school-leavers. If they fail to achieve the required principal passes, what do they become? They are neither Form IV school-leavers nor Form VI school-leavers, and hence they cannot get jobs like Form VI school-leavers because they have not passed and therefore they are somewhere hanging in the middle. I know a number of them; and I think this is most unfortunate because they are nowhere and they are completely finished despite the fact that they have wasted two years and will be employed like school certificate holders—though they have studied for a further two years. Even the Ministry does not consider these chaps when it employs them although they studied for two more years after Form IV. The Ministry does not consider them but rejects them. We cannot afford to continue wasting man-power like this. Why do we not combine the two classes in the system of Form I to Form IV studies and then draw the teachers who teach there to these classes where they would be more useful and then get children who can go to the university instead of wasting this money? I am sure the Minister is seeing sense in this and there is, therefore, no question of refusing just for the sake of refusing because we have a system. We must admit that at one stage or another we must change our system. I am surprised that the Minister is begging the House to give him more time—six months is not enough, he claims. Since he was elected, and since he is a Kenyan and has been in politics since I was a child—I used to hear the Minister's name mentioned—he should have known that our system is no good—getting out people who cannot get jobs. This should have been the first goal: overhauling the whole system. I would like to suggest now that he should start with Form V and Form VI because they are useless!

MOTIONPURCHASE OF PROPERTIES FROM NON-CITIZENS BY AFRICANS

Mr. O'Wahika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

THAT, in view of the fact that Africans, who are anxious to get into business are finding it extremely difficult to negotiate with non-citizens served with quit notices to purchase their properties with the intention of exploiting the Kenya citizens by demanding goodwill money, this House urges the Government to take appropriate steps to stop the racket forthwith.

[Mr. O'Washika]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is unfortunate that last Friday when this Motion appeared on the Order Paper I was not feeling well—I had a very severe nose bleeding.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order!

Mr. Gatuguta: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am seeking your guidance on this matter because when the question was put to the vote—the question of the Motion that has already been resolved on—it was quite clear that that side of the House said “Yes” and this side of the House said, “No”. Are we having an opposition or how can we be divided like that?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I am sure that the Assistant Ministers who were sitting on the opposite side did not agree.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I started by saying that when this Motion appeared on the Order Paper last Friday—when I was supposed to present it—I was not feeling very well because I had a nose bleeding. This morning, I would like to present the Motion as it is.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, in my view this Motion is important and a very serious one, and which, I think, Government, especially the Minister for Commerce and Industry, Members of Parliament and the wananchi will applaud.

This matter does not only worry me as an individual but it worries many of the wananchi, especially those who are trying to get into business. It has become apparent that those non-citizens, who have been served with the quit notices to leave the country and rather stay, have entered into some negotiations with the Africans who want to get into business in this country. Mr. Speaker, Sir, arrangements are made between the two parties involved; but what surprises one is that eventually when the agreement is reached between the two parties concerned you will find that the non-citizen who is the owner of the property or the owner of the business is valuing the business in question. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this situation put the Africans who want to get into business into a very awkward position. It is high time, in the independent Kenya, Government took steps to see to it that that type of racket is brought to a standstill.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we fought for our independence because of one big reason, which was that we wanted to control the affairs of our own country. We wanted to become the masters of our own country. This, Mr. Speaker, has already been achieved. We have the political independence in our hands, because we control the Government and I do not think, at this stage, we should allow the non-citizens or the foreigners to control us in the way they want. My quarrel is not particularly to those people who are honest; my quarrel is aimed at those people who are unscrupulous, the people who are dishonest and the people who do not keep their promises.

You are all aware that during the colonial régime the Africans were placed in the third place in the affairs of their own country. We were not allowed to trade and every kind of trade was conducted by either the Asians or people of other races. Now that we are independent, we feel that we should occupy the number one place in matters of our own country. We feel that the Government should see to it that this type of manoeuvre does not go on.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I know it is the business of the two parties concerned, the seller and the buyer, to agree to a particular price which should be negotiated. However, when the agreement has been reached by the two parties, as I have said before, you will find that on top of the agreed amount, what is called goodwill money is demanded by the seller. Now, because the African is anxious to get into business, he does not have an alternative but to pay that money and the seller does not issue a receipt for it. This, according to me, is entirely unfair.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, from time to time His Excellency the President, and even leaders of this particular House, have told the nation that although we have the political independence in our hands we also feel that we do not have the economical independence. Mr. Speaker, I feel that it is not only the duty of the Members of Parliament to tackle this particular affair but I hope Government will certainly do something about it. By so saying, Mr. Speaker, I am not underrating, in any way, the work which has been done by the Minister for Commerce and Industry. He has done quite a lot since he took over that Ministry. We know, now, that in most of our towns Africans are occupying better places in business, and I hope as time goes on all the businesses in our towns will be in the hands of the Africans.

Mr. Speaker, I know some cases where Africans have negotiated with those foreigners who have been served with quit notices and have approached the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation and were given loans. This was all done after agreement was reached by the two parties. Eventually, when the cheque was sent to the person who was selling the business by the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation, the person who was selling the business raised the value of such property or business premises. Now, these are some of the things I am saying that the Ministry of Commerce and Industry should be alert about. When negotiations of this kind are taking place between the two parties, the deal should be known to the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, in which case an official from the Ministry should be present so that he knows what is going on.

I remember a case of a very distinguished civil servant who was employed by the East African Railways Corporation, by name of Mr. James Kibera—a well known man—who, when he retired, took away his dues and contracted with an Asian businessman in the town to sell his property to him. This man obtained a loan from the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation. What happened is that when the man was preparing to go and take over the business, the Asian changed his mind and shot up the price to such an extent that my friend could not even afford to buy. Therefore, the deal came to an end. The matter is now pending in a court of law where a suit has been filed by Mr. James Kibera against this particular Asian for a breach of contract.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is not the only case of this nature; I am sure some of my colleagues will support me in this particular Motion. They will also produce some facts where a lot of these things have been going on.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, since we are an independent nation and we have the law in our hands, I am not suggesting that the non-citizens who are in this country should be harassed unduly. However, in cases where we feel that there is some evidence of some rackets going on in this country, I am afraid this will not be tolerated. The only body which can warn these people to stop these sort of rackets is the Government. The Government should warn them and tell them that this sort of thing should not go on. We know that the African, having not been in business, has not acquired sufficient money.

One might argue that in my Motion I have used the word "property". Mr. Speaker, the word property might refer to a building or something of that nature. Even if you have to buy a building, eventually you will turn it into business premises. Therefore, this sort of exercise which is going on in the country must stop. I remember, my brother-in-law, was trying to acquire a business in Nairobi—when he had produced all the money that was required, he was in the end told that unless he paid some goodwill money he could not get the business. This person spent Sh. 20,000 to pay for the goodwill.

Mr. Speaker, we in this country, are we going to keep quiet because when we speak the truth a person from a certain race will be harassed? This, Mr. Speaker, in my view, should not be so. We should speak the truth. In order to encourage our people to get into business we must protect them just as the people of other races have been protected in the past. We must give them the chance which they did not have previously, and Government must take this burden on its shoulders. The Government must make sure that our people stop begging because when these foreigners came to this country they got the businesses they now have for nothing, if I may use the word. They paid very little, if any, for the premises they are now selling so costly that our people find it very difficult to buy them. In some cases, one pays ten times more than what our friends paid for it when they came to this country. Therefore, I feel this should not be left to go that way for ever.

The reason why I know this is going on is that when a chap has been served with a quit notice, and since many of them love to stay in Kenya, he feels that the only thing he can do is rob the African who is remaining here. The African feels, however, that as a mwanauchi he must be protected by the law. This is a sort of Motion which the Government should give favourable consideration and allow it to pass without any amendment.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have said before that I am aware of the work done by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry. I am not, in any way, underrating them. However, I am sure, since this report has already reached the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, action will always be taken whenever such cases come up. If we do not do this, then our people will never feel the impact of the independence that we fought for. We fought for it and many of our people died because we also wanted to achieve what other people have achieved in this country. Unless this sort of thing is done for wanauchi so that they can see, with their own eyes, that the Government is putting things straight, I am sure we shall not have to pay the prices that we have to now.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I know there are some of those non-citizens, who, when the meetings are addressed by His Excellency the President or by a Member of Parliament and other leading figures in the country, do accept whatever is said by the leaders. However, there are some of them who are rather obstinate to accept these things. If this situation is not rectified in the way we think it should be rectified, these people will always think that the African Government we have in Kenya is still in the hands of the non-Africans. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am convinced that this sort of situation does not only happen in Kenya where I was born. During the time I was a Member of the Central Legislative Assembly we had talks with the Africans from the other East African States, which are Uganda, and Tanzania, and they feel the same sort of thing. The non-Africans, or the non-citizens, were behaving in a way that unless they are controlled by legislation this sort of thing would go on. We cannot allow, Mr. Speaker, Sir, our people to be drained. We cannot allow our people to be milked like cows when we, as a Government, know pretty well that these things are going on and we just keep quiet. Now, unless a case is taken to court against such people when they are found to be robbing the Africans indirectly, the rest will not behave, at all, Mr. Speaker. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I call upon Government to deal, particularly, with these unscrupulous fellows who think that they have the chance of robbing the Africans. The only way this can be done, Mr. Speaker, is as I said: that is, when a Bill is being discussed, unless you have officially gone around to know what is going on this sort of thing is not likely to stop.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, one might think that I was, particularly, only talking about the non-citizens who have been served with quit notices. Even those citizens in the country, whatever may be—when someone is trying to sell a property, or a business property to another person who wants to buy it he should be treated in a fair manner; it should not be that simply because he is an African with a black skin, you can cheat him in whatever way you want. This, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the point that I am trying to advance. I hope the Minister for Commerce and Industry is with me when I say this, Mr. Speaker.

We have to protect our people in every respect so that—we are voted here, as hon. Members of Parliament, in fact, to speak the truth and tell the country where we think things are not going in the right way. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not, particularly, wish to have any revenge against any particular person whatever race he may be, but when somebody makes a decision to try and swindle the other people because they belong to a particular race, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not think we can allow this sort of situation to go on at all.

Therefore, it is my strong submission, Mr. Speaker, that the Minister for Commerce and Industry, who is sitting here this morning, will make a note of what I have already said before the House hoping that drastic action will be taken against these fellows who are unscrupulous, who swindle the Africans and use unfair means to acquire their property. I know there are a lot of cases which have already been reported and, in fact, I understand my friend who is going to second this Motion has a list of places where this type of swindling has already taken place.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Motion, being as plain as it is, and a very straightforward one I cannot waste a lot of time on it. I understand that a lot of hon. Members although some of them are out, would like to speak on this particular Motion.

With those few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I beg to move.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You have to read the terms of the Motion

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move:

THAT in view of the fact that Africans who are anxious to get into business are finding it extremely difficult to negotiate with non-citizens served with quit notices to purchase their properties, because of raising the value of such properties with the intention of exploiting the Kenya citizens by demanding goodwill money, this House urges Government to take appropriate steps to stop the racket forthwith.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not going to repeat exactly what the hon. Mover has said, but I would like the Minister to pay attention to what I am going to say. Sir, I will quote an example of myself. Early last year, Sir, I negotiated with one of the Asians and he agreed, in principle, that I could take over his business. This man was a non-citizen, and while I was in the process of getting a loan from the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation, this gentleman, in a cunning way, went round through the back door and became a citizen, changed the name of his company or his shop so that his brother took over the former shop and he opened another shop next door, on Tom Mboya street. That is one example.

Now, Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are cases that I know right now. There are six shops where a group of Africans wanted to take over the businesses but the gentleman, by the name of Pyarally Popat Walji Rajwani—I will lay the papers on the Table, Sir. The man, known as Pyarally Popat Walji Rajwani, registration No. R. 20268 of 4th April 1964 receipt No. B 17542—tried to trick these Africans and told them to make a company with him and then negotiate for loans. Now, Sir, what happened was this, and what is happening since—I will, first of all, before I say what happened to this, quote the shops which are, really, under one person. They are: New Radio House in River Road, which is under the name of this man and he is under the cover of the Africans who are the sole owners of the business. Wananchi Radio Company at River Road. African Radio House at River Road, Supreme Radio Company at Hussein Suleiman Road, Reata Radio House at Reata Road, and Umoja Radio Company at River Road. These businesses are under one Asian, the one I mentioned earlier. Sir, if you go and look at all these shops, you will see the managers are all Africans and you will think that these Africans are the people who own these businesses and yet they are not.

Now, Sir, what is happening is that each employee is told by this gentleman: "I think the best thing, if you want to become a partner, is for you to fill in this form—which I have now—and you will buy shares from National Industrial Credit Finance at Sh. 15,000—and sign as a borrower, and then immediately you get this money I will give you a commission of Sh. 30 and the rest of the money will remain with me." That is how the business is run.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have got the form with the total number of shares and the names of the people who own these shops as if they belong to them. They are: Bernard Kimilu, as the Assistant General Manager, Anthony Katheka, Sila Mbindyo, Thomas Mulili, Thomas Mutulili, Julius Kioo, Virginia Wangui, Priscilla, Benjamin Kisomo, Judah Waema—those are not Kambas—Benjamin Mulwa, Daniel Mukumu and Mwamilu Mati. These are the people who have gone to this National Industrial Credit Finance Corporation and have signed as borrowers and they have been given—each one has 1,000 shares, out of the 15,000, but in return they only get Sh. 30 as commission and the rest remains with the unworried Asian; it is a favour here—I will give the names to the Minister.

What is happening, Sir, is that this gentleman—

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Kase): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to seek your guidance here. I thought the Motion was talking about buying properties and businesses, but the hon. Member speaking gives me the impression that he is trying to talk about Africans being used. This is not what the Motion is talking about. From the examples he has given to us about some Africans being used to get loans, surely that is not the terms of the Motion.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I think what Mr. Munyasia is trying to do is to show some of the tricks which are being employed to circumvent the intention of Government. I do not think it is completely out of the Motion. That is my impression.

Mr. Munyasia: If the hon. Member had listened very carefully, Sir, he would have heard what I had said earlier on that these six gentlemen's plots I have mentioned, this is the way these Africans try to embark, first of all, when negotiating to buy property. After finding it very difficult these gentlemen make sure that they become partners with the Asians. Therefore these are the tricks they are using. Although these people have shares worth Sh. 15,000 each plus the money they borrow from the Kenya National Trading Corporation. However, these are not the people who are running the business. This is because what these men get is only a commission of Sh. 30. Sir, if you look at the list of the names of those people who applied for the licences, the name of the business reads as follows: New African Radio House. When you read such a name you think Africans are advancing very greatly. You will not be able to see any trace of the Asian. However, the whole business is run by that Asian under cover. That is what I said. One man owns the whole business comprising of six plots bought by about 30 Africans. That is the request I am putting forward to the Minister. It is up to him to look into the matter. I thought Sir, that the Minister is going, without interrupting, to listen carefully what I am telling him so that he can do intensive research, investigate to see where the truth lies.

Sir, the terms of work—What is happening now is that this cunning guy is asking each partner or anyone working in that shop to give him his identity card. He then produces two photostat copies of every identity card. I do not know why he does that. He gives back the identity card to the person who is running the shop and keeps the two photostat copies, for reasons, I do not know. He may sell or trick them. I do not know what he does with them, but it is up to the Minister to find out what is happening there in that business. That is one condition of the agreement.

Sir, the names of those people whose identity cards have been taken away are as follows: Algon Matheka, Thomas Muriili, Daniel Mukumu, Benjamin Mulwa. If someone refuses to have his identity card photostated, then he is told that he can leave the company because he is no longer a partner in that company.

Secondly, Sir, this man is the one responsible for collecting the National Social Security Fund and he is also the one who collects graduated personal tax. Since the formation of this company now it is about six years. However, for your information, Sir, the people involved have not received their clearance forms or certificates.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to second.

(Question proposed)

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, first of all, I was hoping that this discussion would have come from the Government side in the sense that I have always been hoping that a Minister would introduce the necessary legislation or a Bill in this House so that we can correct what is a glaring unfairness going on between citizens of African origin or as the Minister appropriately calls them wananchi and the rest of us. The whole idea, Mr. Speaker, or the reason why we are having all these difficulties with particularly the Asians, both citizens and non-citizens is by the queer reasoning we have embedded in our Constitution this whole idea of protection of property or the so-called private property. Throughout the struggle of independence, Africans in this country were hoping that after we had taken our independence from the Colonial Government we would manage our affairs, particularly our economic affairs. During that struggle, Mr. Speaker, Sir, particularly the Asians were busy amassing wealth using the colonial situation to grab every little opportunity they could get in this country so that all of them—nearly all of them—would become extremely rich. It so happened, Mr. Speaker, Sir, also that immediately we got our independence, we ourselves decided to entrench in the Constitution the protection of that same filthy wealth which these people had received through the Colonial Government. This is the very basis, in my opinion, of the trouble we have now. It is necessary for me to suggest, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that the Minister must seek the Attorney-General's guidance on this so that, if necessary, we must see that we amend the Constitution to such an extent that the Africans of this country will have a way of taking away the wealth or the properties and everything that the Asians had acquired during the colonial period. What is the use, in my opinion, Mr. Speaker, if we are going to cry over and then say that we are now independent when we leave the same fruits of colonialism in the hands of the same Asians who have had it for the last 50 years. I am really against this, and I want to appeal very strongly to the Minister, although I know that his hand is also tied just like all our hands are tied in this matter, because of this queer entrenchment we have in our Constitution. It must be changed. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to speak with reference to one particular town in this country and that is Kisumu where we find it very difficult to buy property from the Asians. I want to speak about the Asians particularly, Mr. Speaker, because in my opinion, we have no bigger problem in this country than the problem of finding how to get our rightful wealth from the Asians in this country. Mr. Speaker, Kisumu is one of the difficult towns in this country as far as this is concerned and in my opinion, Kisumu is a suburb of Bombay and Karachi. At the moment, Mr. Speaker, throughout the country, there are some areas where you still find that the Asian has the courage to stand up and say, "I am going to let my property because Government says I can go to India. I can go to England and the money will be coming to me any time and therefore, I do not want to sell my property to you." Now, any one of you hon. gentlemen can imagine what happens in this area and then multiply it by ten to know what is happening. However, there are some very queer coincidences. Every Asian that has been turned away from any part of Kenya before he goes to England or Bombay, he comes to Kisumu. I do not know what is attractive there because I do not see them eating fish. However, they seem to go there—I am glad the Minister says that we should put them in the lake, but if we do so, the first thing that will happen is that the Minister for Home Affairs will come and say that I am taking the law into my own hands. I would be glad to do it but I cannot.

Now, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to inform the Minister that what is happening in Kisumu, to a lesser extent, it is happening in every town in this country. His trade officers have had their hands tied because of the law because of this and that entrenchment in the Constitution. I want to appeal to the Minister again, to particularly take a good and serious look at what is going on in Kisumu. Every person who is chased away, even from Mwanza comes in and says, "I am now helping my uncle to trade in this shop," and the following day you find another shop opened in the next street and he says that is an extension of the previous shop. Now, Mr. Speaker, every major street in Kisumu is occupied by Asians and every property there is owned by the Asians most of whom are not citizens.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to move on to the question of goodwill money. Now, Mr. Speaker, we are experiencing a lot of difficulties because of this business of goodwill. Who estimates the goodwill an African should pay to an Asian? This is the basis of the trap. You go to an Asian property owner and you want to buy his premises and then he tells you that he wants goodwill of £3,000. Now, Mr. Speaker, how does he reach that figure? Is it only something that comes out of his dirty mind and he just says, "I want £3,000."

[Mr. Ayah]

We should not be in a position—I want the Minister to make this illegal so that if an Asian wants to ask for any goodwill, an African has a legal way of circumventing this.

Mr. Speaker, the other point I want to make is the fact that the Asians, because of their long history of acquisition, have an advantage over us to the extent that our lending institutions like the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation are paying a lot of money which they would not have paid had we had the necessary legal strength so that we could dictate and if not dictate, influence the property valuation that is going on in this country. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sure that a lot of money that is lent by the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation to the individual African property buyers could be halved easily if we had a way by which we could influence the Asians in valuing this property. I am saying this because the situation is that the Asian cannot sell his property as he wishes because he knows that if he does not sell the property, he still does not lose it. I am appealing to the Minister to think in terms of how much we would save the little money we have which we are lending to our people through the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation and other lending institutions, so that more and more Africans are able to buy property.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the last point that I would like to raise is that because of the nature of property-owning in this country, our Government and our people are, on the one hand and especially the big business communities and property owners, completely separate in racial origin, in their interests and so on, so that very often our citizens are told by these big property owners, “I can easily talk to the hon. James Osogo, can you?” He may even say that he can easily talk to the Minister for Finance and would ask the African whether he could himself talk to the Minister for Finance. Now, we are not going to accept where the non-African property owners are a separate community, a community which is separate because of its immense work and immense ability of owning property because of their history. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we will not be able to correct this until we, as a House and as a Government, have found a way of changing the law so that it is made easier for the Africans to buy property from the Asians. I am saying this because if we have to buy property from the Asians at all, then we must buy it in a fair manner and the only way we can do this, Mr. Speaker, is for the Minister to introduce a Bill in this House so that we can change the Constitution. I once more appeal to the Minister for a change in the Constitution even if it is discriminatory because, after all, we have been discriminated against in this country for so long that it is just about time we practised this just a little to correct the imbalance and also to enable our people to own property in our own country, in our own cities and in our own towns.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

Mr. Kahengeri: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is a very important Motion and therefore, the whole House should support it. Mr. Speaker, I remember that since our independence, we have from time to time been discussing business in the city, in the rural areas and in the small towns and our main headache has been the Asian. The right that each individual property owner must be protected is provided for in our Constitution and this is hindering the rapid development of our people. In this House, I hope and I feel sure that we are not working for Asians. We are not working for the people who come from Bombay neither are we working for Europeans, but we have been asked to come here to work for our own people. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, it is this House and the Ministries that will have to take the bold action to amend the Constitution so that every part of our Constitution that hinders the development of the wananchi is amended. Mr. Speaker, I can give you another example. If you want to buy a house in Nairobi today and you have cash money, you go to an Asian, you bargain and agree on a price. The next morning the Asian comes to you and says, “I am sorry, I have decided otherwise and I am not going to sell my property.” I have obtained my entry voucher to the United Kingdom and I feel the money will be coming to me and therefore, why should I worry? Again, you go to another Asian, he agrees he is going to sell his property to you and then you go and fill in the necessary forms in the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation. After that you go and look for a valuer thereby spending more money after paying some fee to the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation and after you have spent about Sh. 2,000 the Asian comes to you and says, “I am sorry, I am not going to sell my property.” Well, the Government has no way of protecting you. You have lost your money and there is no way of compelling the Asian to sell his property to you. This is injustice to the people of this country. If the Ministry is working for these people—the people of this land, then, when an Asian gets into a contract with a person, and the person in question has been promised by the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation to have the building valued, then that Asian should be compelled to sell that building to whoever has incurred expenses for the valuation. Another example, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is this: an Indian is given a quit notice in River Road. If you go there he tells you, "I have been given the quit notice but I am not prepared to give you this shop." If you ask him "Why are you not going to give me the shop? Are you not leaving a vacuum while business is wanted to be carried in this shop?" Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, he tells you, "This is my building, why worry. I will close the main doors and go through the back." This is what they do, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. There is no way by which Government can compel this man to give that shop. Therefore, it is my firm suggestion that if the Minister for Commerce and Industry is going to help the people of this country he should bring up a Bill that would compel whoever owns a business premise, to give it out in the first place when they get the quit notice. It is not the question of negotiating or saying I will give or I will not give. The Government in this country, which I think is the Government now ruling should take this action.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) left the Chair]

The other thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is about Asians who are living in the outskirts of Nairobi, say, in places like Ruiru, Thika and other outlying places. It is high time that we had a firm law. By that I mean, when we say that there is no Indian or any non-citizen who is going to get a licence in Kiambu, why should we have all these bargains that an Asian has to go to the Ministry, he has to go to the Trade Officer, he has to go to So-and-so, for negotiations? If we say a non-citizen is not wanted in Ruiru, that should be so, and he should pack up and go. There is no need saying we do not want an Indian or a non-citizen in Kiambu and then he goes up to the Ministry and says, "Well, I have a big stock that Africans cannot buy." This is what they say, Mr. Deputy Speaker, to some people in the headquarters here. I hope the Minister for Commerce and Industry will listen to that. They give in any time. Africans are prepared to buy the building only tomorrow morning to find a note from the Ministry saying, "He can be given a licence." Oh! This is the matter that the Ministry of Commerce and Industry has to look into.

The other thing is about the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation and the Kenya National Trading Corporation loans. These were the bodies that were established to help the African people. If we have licences usually held by non-citizens or non-Africans—I prefer to say non-Africans because I do not believe in these paper citizenships as they are called. A licence held by a non-African—it is an import licence and when we say that these goods are not going to enter Kenya any more, then, whenever we require them, these licences should be given to the African businessmen. These people should also be protected. We have a lot of industries down at the Industrial Estate and these people are being put out of business by these Asian businessmen here in Nairobi who have the ways and means and who have big balances to bring the goods in, in whatever way they can and in most cases, smuggling. Therefore, it is the duty of the Minister, if really he is working for the good of the people of this country, to bring in a law because our people will not really be helped by competition. It will be of no use for the Ministry of Commerce and Industry to say business is open to all in the country and therefore every man or woman who wants to trade can go into business. Asians, if you do not know I will tell you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, have a lot of money. They have been stealing the wealth of this country for over 50 years they have been here. They are able to under-cut our African businessmen. They can under-cut them for ten years to come and, therefore, no one from among ourselves—by that I mean Africans—will be able to compete with them. Therefore, the saviour of our people is a law and a law with a full stop that non-citizens—non-Africans, I had better say—in a particular street in Nairobi will be given licences, full stop. This is the saviour and if the Minister is here, he had better note that.

With those few remarks, I beg to support, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Nthenge: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker. This is a Motion which is long overdue and if something is not done very soon in this matter, it will make we leaders look like stooges of those rich people, who are of non-African origin, in front of the eyes of the general public who elected us.

First of all it is very well known to the legal profession that goodwill is an illegal action. However, despite all that it is going on daily and our people are being exploited. There is no other way of preventing exploitation other than Government getting into the business of preventing sales in any way one likes. As a matter of fact, the Trade Licensing Act now is not operating in the way it was intended by this House. The wish of this House is not fulfilled by something small which can be corrected by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry. You will find that people who are issued with quit notices—I have one, who is my neighbour, who was issued with a quit notice and within a short time he changed a few technicalities and now he is trading very freely. They changed the business and now it is being run by the same directors. All sorts of tricks are being used, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

An hon. Member: How many?

Mr. Nthenge: Plenty of them, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. Therefore, I feel there is a need for amending this Motion, Mr. Deputy Speaker, so that we can give Government a stronger hand to handle this situation. Immediately a quit notice is given the matter should be in the hands of Government and Government must ensure that the right thing is done to stop exploitation. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to amend the Motion so that it reads:—

THAT, in view of the fact that the Africans who are anxious to get into business are finding it extremely difficult to negotiate with non-citizens served with quit notices to purchase their properties, because of raising the value of such properties with the intention of exploiting Kenya citizens by demanding goodwill money, this House urges the Government to establish a body through which businesses of non-citizens who get quit notices must be sold to prevent exploitation and ensure that Africans get the first priority.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, normally a Member moving an amendment to a Motion tells the House which words he has left out and which words he has put in the place thereof.

Now, with due respect to the hon. Member, can he tell us what he is doing?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Yes, I will explain to the House when it comes to that stage. At the moment I think the hon. Member does not have an exact copy of what he has submitted to the Chair. When we come to that I will explain exactly what he has done.

Mr. Nthenge: Now, all I am saying is that after the word "Government" in the second line from the bottom, cancel all the other words and insert the words I have put in. This will enable us to have a body and immediately the quit notices are given to non-citizens, this body looks after the selling of these businesses and makes sure that the Indian does not go and cheat an African and does not, at the end also, go round and look for his own brothers and put them into the business. These are the two things that I want Government to be able to control and it cannot do it otherwise. This is because if you are left alone and it is free sale—sell to anybody you like, sell it in the way you like—all what the Asian will do is to go and change the name and get his grand-children become the directors thus defeating the purpose of the Trade Licensing Act. That is why now the streets of Nairobi which were supposed to be Africanized are not yet Africanized. Even those which look Africanized, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I am afraid to say—inside, if you go deep, you will find that they are not yet Africanized. All they have done is to take new faces and put them in. So, I want a body appointed by Government or established by Government which will have the duty of ensuring that the business being sold is sold at the right price. There should be no question of goodwill, because goodwill is not there; it is improper. He has already made a lot of money from our own people; he came here, possibly, a very poor person and now he is a rich man; why does he want some goodwill money? It is the Government telling him to stop his business; he is not selling it because he wishes to do so and, therefore, he is not entitled to goodwill money. Let him deduct the cost of his goods, the cost of the furniture, less the devaluation because some of the shelves being bought by Africans have been used for ten years, and they are being sold as if they were new. This is exploitation, Mr. Deputy Speaker, and I feel we must go into the affairs of these rich non-citizens, when they wind up their businesses to make sure that this is done without exploiting our people.

Secondly, the other thing which, we, as Government must do, is to make sure that only Africans get first priority; why do I say this, Sir? It is because we have seen it—They either go to Africans who have no money and, they pretend they have sold the business or they go to their own relatives, and make sure they get their own brothers. Then what happens? The Minister for Commerce and Industry can never enforce, on behalf of wananchi, on behalf of the Government, the wishes of this House.

Therefore, with this body—The body itself will have a duty to make sure that a buyer is an African, whether liked by the seller or not, whether known to the seller or not. All we want is an African person, and a non-African citizen should only be allowed to buy a business if no African is willing to buy it, and at the right price. A lot of business is for sale, if you are an African, you are told, "It is selling for Sh. 1 million"; when an Asian goes there for the same business, he buys it at Sh. 500,000. The only idea of you being told to buy it for Sh. 1 million, is to turn you back, until he finds an Asian to buy it, and quite often, he becomes a partner in that same business. Although he goes to Britain, he is still a partner in the same business. They cleverly arrange all these things, and you then find we are being defeated, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Here, I must state, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that we were put into this position by a political move. The Colonial Government did not allow an African to go into business, unless he had cash; he was not allowed to borrow more than Sh. 2,000; he was not allowed to trade in certain areas; these were policies based on racial basis, and we can correct these anomalies, Sir, and I wish this to be taken seriously by the Minister for Commerce and Industry, and he should tell the Cabinet, that it is only a political move that can do this. A political move will correct the other political move which placed us where we are. You just walk in the streets of Nairobi: if you have a visitor from another country, you are ashamed of yourself because you do not know whether you are in Madras or you are walking in the streets of Calcutta. It is very embarrassing—Some of the Africans coming from the rural areas to Nairobi, are surprised; they think they are in India. One wonders, "Am I in Bombay?" He thought he was going to Nairobi where Africans are in power.

We have had these problems, Mr. Deputy Speaker, because of these non-citizens entrenching themselves in Kenya. We have even had our own Ministers, appointed by our own President—the top man in this country—being belittled in a small shop, just because these people control the economy. This can only be changed, Mr. Deputy Speaker, by applying politics. There is no two-way traffic there: it is only one-way. If we want a change, it must come politically. Let us be told we are being unfair, but at least, let us change our country, so that it can look like our own. The fact that some people have more money, which they have obtained of exploiting our own people should not make us remain under them; being controlled by them just because they have more finance.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the amendment, and I hope that the Government is going to accept the amendment because it is essential to make a change.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Who is seconding the amendment?

Mr. Karungaru: I am seconding the amendment, Sir.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): You have only three minutes in which to second before the Minister is called upon to reply.

Mr. Karungaru: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am seconding the amendment because it has expressed the right sentiments and this House and this country is very much behind it. Sir, it is true that a lot has been said but it is also true that some other points have not yet been raised. For example, we understand there is the Trade Licensing Act. In my own interpretation this does not work at all. You give a quit notice today, telling a person to move from here and you find him moving over there. There he is given a licence to run industries. You may call it textile industries, mail industries or call it whatever you want to call it. This Asian becomes a manufacturer and at the same time a wholesaler and at the same time a retailer in the same premises. This is because the Minister concerned has allowed some of the civil servants to misinterpret the intention of the Trade Licensing Act that we passed here. Now, this Asian becomes an exporter and an importer at the same time. What are we doing? It makes a mockery of the whole thing and it is only fair that the whole Act is completely repealed. It should be repealed so that the committee that we want to establish, the tribunal court what we want to establish will be responsible for repealing all other licences that have been issued to some of the unscrupulous non-citizens because there cannot be any other way out by which we can solve the problem we now have in this country.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I do not know where we are. I sometimes think that we are in London. I sometimes think that we are in Bombay; particularly when I go to Bazaar Street which they even call Indian Bazaar Street. This should not be Indian Bazaar Street. It should be Kenya Bazaar Street; and it should be African Bazaar Street rather than being Indian Bazaar Street. Sir, if we have, therefore, to co-ordinate with the person who has amended this Motion—and in doing so—surely we are going to get somewhere.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I will now put the first part of the amendment, that the words after the word "Government" in the second last line of the Motion be left out.

(Question of the first part of the amendment, that the words to be left out be left out, proposed put and agreed to)

[The Deputy Speaker]

(Question of the second part of the amendment, that the words to be inserted in place thereof be inserted, proposed)

(Question of the second part of the amendment, that the words to be inserted in place thereof be inserted, put and agreed to)

(Question of the Motion as amended proposed)

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): It is time now for the Minister to reply if he wants to take up his full twenty minutes.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Sir, in view of the seriousness of this Motion, I wonder whether it would be possible for you to give us extra time so that we can propound on the amendment?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): It is up to the House to decide. I have to seek the leave of the House. Do hon. Members agree to extend the time? Yes, it appears we have the consent of the House.

Perhaps, then, we could have another 10 minutes.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Deputy Speaker, in the first place I would like to thank you for having noted our sentiments and expressions.

I stand to speak on the Motion, particularly on the amendment. Anybody worth the name "representative" of his people will have to accept the amendment. However, if he is representing himself, then he can reject the amendment. I say so because I represent the people who are being exploited. The memories of the past, Sir, linger in my mind, especially when I see what is going on. We have a problem here which is of our own making and which is enshrined in our Constitution, namely, we are supposed to give citizenship to those that apply for it. I do not have any quarrel with that but the effect, the result of what we are doing is quite surprising.

Mulji Haji is given a notice by our Minister to quit. All Mulji Haji has to do is to look for somebody, say Nanji to transfer the business to and then he sits on one side. The Minister feels he has done a job, he honestly feels he has done a job but he has not done a job because what Mulji Haji has done is, he has moved aside and let the business be transferred into the name of another person. His business goes on. Under the Immigration Act, section 18, Mulji Haji is allowed to move from point X to point Z and from point Z back to point A. He has that freedom and that is the big loophole. That is what is frustrating the Africanization of trade in this country.

There is yet another big thing which is going on. For the information of the House there are those known as the Ismailis here, they are 99.99 per cent citizens. Sir, these people, during the colonial time exploited us. You know, Sir, I do not have to repeat, those days how things went. It was the European first, the Asian second, the Arab third and, sometimes the Somali fourth. We were number five. They had a nice time, they enjoyed themselves, they exploited us. Now that we are independent we have forgiven them their sins, the sins they committed against us. We have also given them citizenship of this country. This wealth they acquired through exploitation during the colonial times is with them and when Mulji Haji has to sell his business, because of the money they acquired during the colonial times, they put up the price of the business we are trying to buy so high that an African cannot afford to pay for it. So the whole thing shifts into the hands of the Ismailis. These are the people who are "paper" citizens. The poor African sits there gaping. The other one says, "I am a citizen". Some of them are even in this House, Mr. Deputy Speaker. The hotels in this country— Take my hon. friend, Jan Mohamed. Was he with us in the struggle for independence? Today, through him and others, they can go on exploiting this country.

Mr. Karungaru: But you allowed him to sit on the Front Bench.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Sir, there is a limit to everything. Today, Mr. Jan Mohamed is the Chairman of the hotel organization. The mistreatment we get in these hotels is abominable because they are citizens.

Mr. Karungaru: Shame!

An hon. Member: Where is he?

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): I do not know where he is.

However, the point is this: the black man of this country one day will say, "So far and no more." And woe to them that exploited us and still want to continue to exploit us.

Leave alone the businesses but take the buildings. A building put up in 1927, they are selling it at the price it can fetch in 1971, which an African cannot afford to pay. It is only the Ismailis and those other "paper" citizens who can buy it. Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, where is the African? He appears as if he is looking at a tree which is laden with fruit, he is admiring the fruits wishing they could fall so that he could take them. Wishes, Sir, as you know, are not horses, otherwise beggars would ride. Now, we must stop wishing and the only way to stop wishing is to accept that there must be a body so that when hon. Osogo gives a notice to Mulji Haji or Patel, or even Ramchand to quit the premises, immediately after he has done so the business and the property is transferred to this body. It will then be the responsibility of this body to set the cost price of everything in that shop and let the original owner be not given one single minute to go and consult with other Patels, Ramchands and so on in order that he can exploit the person who wants to take over his business.

The same thing should apply to the houses in this country where there is a lot of exploitation by the foreigners here. Somebody may say, "Why is he saying this when he is an Assistant Minister? Why does he talk like that?" Mr. Deputy Speaker, I will never be an Assistant Minister unless I am elected by the Butere people. Our Constitution is such that not any person, anywhere can become a Minister unless he has been nominated or elected. I am not nominated, I am elected. I am here to speak the minds of the people. And I am not only speaking the minds of the people I represent because even Mzee himself said that the trade must be transferred into the hands of the Africans. I am, therefore, expressing the policy of the Government. That is the biggest politician that woman has ever produced, Mzee Jomo Kenyatta. Who will ever produce a similar politician?

The business must go into the hands of the Africans and to do that we must form this body to ensure there is no exploitation. When we sack these fellows from these businesses— The Immigration Act must be amended to read that once a person has been given a "Quit Notice" his property must be placed in the hands of this body. The owner should not be allowed to become a director in another place. He should be put on a place or find some way out of this country. That is the only way in which we can put this country straight. However, so long as the Immigration Act, section 18, remains as it is—which allows them to move from point A to point B—we are wasting our time and energy in this House, and we are not serving our people at all.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, it is my sincere hope that once we pass this Motion we will not waste any time. We should go ahead and implement it. And let it be known to our Members here, those who tell these people, "Do not worry about what the people say in Parliament." You see some of the top civil servants, some of the big chaps say, "Do not worry about what the Members say in Parliament. Ignore that." Let it be known to the foreigners and the "paper" citizens, from today, that those leaders, those Ministers, those civil servants or those Members of Parliament that assure these people that what we are saying here is bure that the security of this country depends on the masses and not on a few individuals. One day, if there is a fight, all those leaders will be beaten up.

Sir, this is what they should get firmly into their heads now.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg, strongly, to support the amendment.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the original Motion and the amendment have both good intentions. However, I would like to inform the House that there are problems in accepting this Motion as amended and I had assured the hon. Mover that I would neither reject nor accept it as it was in the original form for reasons I am going to give. But now that it has been amended and it is a pity, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that it has not been proposed and adopted so. I do not know which one we are debating and which one I am supposed to answer.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): You are able to debate on both the original and the amendment together because of the shortage of time.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): That still puts me in a more difficult position, Mr. Deputy Speaker, as to which one to accept or which one to reject.

However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, to be very serious on this point, the hon. Member for Kisumu Rural spoke on a point that was very, very important, that the criteria of the whole matter of the problem we have is in our Constitution. It is always referred to in all spheres where this matter arises. Whether this amendment proposed by the hon. Nthenge is accepted or not, it still hinges on the Constitution. You cannot do it otherwise. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there are two ways of amending the Constitution in this House: one is by the Government proposing the amendment and the other one is by the House passing a substantive Motion to change the Constitution. These are the two open ways and the hon. Members can see which one to follow. We cannot, Sir, as a Government, take business and give it to a body as suggested here, for it to be given to our people.

The reason for this is that Government does not have the money to do that as it did in the land transfer case. At our independence, the land of the non-citizens that ran away was taken by

[The Minister for Commerce and Industry]

Government, given to a body, the Agricultural Development Corporation and then that was passed on to our people. The British Government provided money—you can remember the one million-acre scheme—to buy out those farmers. The Government in its own—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! The amendment does not call for what you are trying to describe. It merely says, “. . . to establish a body through which non-citizens with quit notices must sell their properties”. In other words, it would be an intermediary.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I was in fact, going to that. This body, actually, exists. However, what I was explaining is that what was being suggested in the amendment exists.

An hon. Member: Where is it?

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): I have that body in my Ministry, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

What I am trying to explain is that the Motion talks of property. But I have informed the hon. Mover that property, as such, is not the responsibility of my Ministry. Property means a building and if one wants to buy a building—a shop—one has to negotiate with the owner. The owner can agree to sell that property or not agree to sell it. Members may not know, but it is true that most of the buildings in Nairobi City, which are called properties in this Motion, belong to Africans. Most of the Africans have bought these buildings. It is the traders inside those buildings that we should be tackling. If Members do not know this, then I should tell them. Most of the buildings, even on Bazaar Street, which the hon. Member for Embakasi called “Indian Bazaar” belong to Africans. If they do not know, I can assure them that that is the case.

Mr. Karungaru: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. What is the Minister trying to do by saying that the Indian Bazaar is Africanized; is the Minister implying that the so-called “Indian Bazaar” is now in the hands of Africans because they have bought some property there, which I believe they have not?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Are you sure that is what he said?

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): That is your belief. However, the fact, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is that the buildings—the shops—and not the people who trade inside them, they are numbered, most of them belong to the Africans.

Mr. Karungaru: Since when?

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): You will be surprised to learn since when this happened but, that is the fact. You can go and check from the Commissioner of Lands and you will know. Sorry, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it can be checked with the Commissioner of Lands but, it will be found out that quite a number of Africans have bought those buildings already. So, that renders this Motion actually senseless because it refers to those property owners to whom we gave quit notices. I should like to remind the House, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that we never give property owners quit notices; we only give them to traders, not to property owners. This is because property owners are the owners of those buildings and we never give those notices. We give them to the traders who are trading inside the property and this is what we do if a case is referred to—

Mr. Nthenge: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, can we get clearance here of the language. Is the word “property” not a wide word which includes stocks and many other things; and not only buildings because, here, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we are only getting one interpretation of the word “property” as if it only means “buildings”. Stocks are also property to my understanding but, anyway, I am seeking your guidance in case the Minister might be right and I am wrong to think that it is a wider word and he is trying to minimize it.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Yes. Well, in the general sense, everything that one owns is his property.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! Order!

However, in the commercial sense of the word, which is what I believe the Minister is concerned about, the word “property” in its strict commercial sense applies in this case to—at least as far as the Trade Licensing Act is concerned—business and not to the actual buildings in which the businesses are run.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am speaking with the Trade Licensing Act in mind and these two words are defined in the Trade Licensing Act. The other word I am going to refer to is “business”. It is called business, not property. These are the ones we will deal with.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we give quit notices to owners of businesses, to close up their businesses because they are not Kenya citizens. This is what we do and if anybody wants to buy these businesses and refers to my Ministry for assistance that he is interested in buying a business from Mr. Kapoorchand, whom the hon. Member for Butere referred to, we have a way of forcing Mr. Kapoorchand to sell that particular business to that particular individual. We have powers to do that.

It has transpired, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that two Africans normally try to cut each other; one having more money than the other and approaching the same individual to buy his business because he has been given a quit notice. Therefore, what has happened is that the man who demands goodwill will go to the man who is bidding the highest. Now, for this sort of thing, we have ways of protecting our people who are treated in this manner. What happens is that they only need to approach us and when I say, "us", I mean the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, and we will make sure, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that whoever that Asian deals with, if he sells that business to him, the man who buys the business, be he a Kenya African—whom I call mwenye inchi—or a Kenya citizen—whom I call mwananchi—will not be licensed in that premises. We do this, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, and I have enough information. I have, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for example, if I may quote a number of cases: We gave quit notice in 1970 to Calico Clothing Factory on Ngara Road, Nairobi. Now, this Asian refused to negotiate with a certain African who wanted to buy the business. The African approached my Ministry, and we told the Kenya Calico Clothing Factory that we will not license any other person except that man until he proves to us that that man cannot produce the money he wanted, after we assessed the price of the goods he had, through the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation. Now, he had no alternative but to give up that business to that African who first approached him although there were two others who came to him later and were also Africans.

Another example is the Shantilal Brothers on Njugu Lane. They also became difficult and he wanted to transfer their business to a Kenya citizen of Asian origin. We warned them after the African who had first approached them came to us. The group of Africans who came to us is the Nyakio Textiles; they are Africans. We warned this Calico Clothing Group that we would not license any other person except the Nyakio Textiles in that factory. He had to come down and give that shop to Nyakio Textiles whom we licensed.

There was another case of M. M. Shah on River Road. It is handled in the same manner.

So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is actually some kind of ignorance as to where to go when such cases happen because if they come to my Ministry—and I am here, if hon. Members have cases they should bring them to me—they will be assisted. It may be in two weeks' time, I might give quit notices. Now, it is up to hon. Members—I am arranging to give a copy of the list to the Clerk of the National Assembly for him to put in an appropriate place for Members to see who have been given quit notices, and where, so that they can inform their constituents—and the general public to know, when they are trying to negotiate, where to go so that they are not exploited. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we go out of our way to help cases that come up. There are cases that have come up involving Kenya citizens of Asian origin. These are difficult cases to deal with and whoever wants us to deal with them has only to amend the Constitution by proposing a Substantive Motion to amend the Constitution.

I was coming to a case raised by the hon. Member for Kisumu Rural where he says that Kisumu has turned into a place where Asians, who have been given quit notices elsewhere, go. I can promise this hon. Member that if what he said is true and, of course, I will need detailed information from him—we have promised to go and speak about it outside this Chamber—I would instruct my trade officer in that area to take note of these particular individuals and whether they are in shops belonging to citizens of Asian origin. I will have to use appropriate measures to refuse those licences.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): The hon. Member for Kisumu Rural has promised to see me about the matter.

There was also a case which took a long time of the Seconder of the Motion. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this one had nothing to do with what the Motion is asking. The Motion is asking for the type of the goodwill, we have refused, as a Government, for our people to be exploited. However, the Seconder of the Motion dealt at length on the type of window-dressing which His Excellency the President has condemned time and again and has gone as far as calling these people prostitutes. These are the type of the Kamba people he mentioned who are in partnership with the New Radio House and other chain of shops; they are the type of people we are looking for. If the hon. Member—unfortunately he did not put on this Table the list of the names he read—hands me that list, I would go into the matter and if I find it is a window-dressing type of thing, I would refuse or withdraw the licences should these have been given licences. However, Sir, the problem we have, this type of information is not brought to us. There was a case in the Hilton Hotel where an hon. Member, I think it was hon. Kivuitu or hon. Mulwa, brought the case to me. Now, I decided not to license anybody going into that shop until the Hilton Hotel come to terms with the Kamba Carvers. They are now satisfied. They wrote to me certifying that they had now agreed with the Kamba carvers on terms with the Kamba carvers. They are now because the case came to us. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if cases are not brought to us it becomes very difficult for us to deal with them.

The hon. Mover of the Motion quoted the case of James Kibera. That particular case came to me and I handled it personally. However, there was a breach of agreement which was referred to us by Mr. Kibera after the breach of agreement had already taken place. In that case they had only to go and take legal action because there was nothing else that I could do. However, if the case was referred to me before the breach of the agreement was committed, I would have taken appropriate action.

The former Member of this House, Mr. Waira Kamau has a case in Ruiru where he wants to buy a business and property but the Asian concerned with the deal is becoming difficult because he wants to transfer it to another Asian. I have refused to licence any other person in that place except Waira Kamau and this will stand unless and until I am told that he is unable to produce enough money, or the necessary money to buy that property.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my only appeal to hon. Members is: should there be cases of that nature my Ministry should be informed wherever it is through the district trade officers. Whenever they bring such cases to us we always deal with them. We know how cheeky Asians are. We have known that the Trade Licensing Act is almost becoming useless because what Asians are doing now is that they are turning all the businesses over to their sons who are Kenya citizens. However, I have other ways of trying to deal with them. I think I should be given time because the first notices were "1970 notices". I would like to warn the fellows who are continuing to trade up to now that an exercise is being carried out, and I am going to be informed by next week who have actually closed, who have sold these businesses to Africans, and who have refused to close. We are going to deal with these ones in a major exercise using the police if need be.

As I said earlier, in my speech, the Motion is difficult for me to decide which one to accept but I would like to inform the hon. Members that the Government has noted this Motion. Since I have promised I will not reject it, I will not amend it because I do not deal with property; and again I will not accept it either though the Government has taken a note of it and the actions that are proposed in the Motion are currently being taken by my Ministry.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, at this stage, I am going to be very brief. I would like to thank my hon. colleagues who have made very valuable and wonderful contributions to this particular Motion which is important. Special thanks are due to hon. Nthenge who has proposed amendments with which I have no quarrel because they have been accepted.

As far as this Motion is concerned, I am sure that a case has been made and has been well established. I am sure that the Minister for Commerce and Industry Mr. Osogo, though he does not reject the Motion or be persuaded to make an amendment to the Motion, has made a note of this Motion as he says and no doubt the Government will act on it since he is an African Minister who knows the trend of events in this country and understands exactly what the situation is today.

However, there is one thing which I would like the Minister to do, having been appointed by His Excellency the President, he should have made his position very specific: that he will embark on the Motion in view of the sentiments that have been expressed by the hon. Members with regard to this particular issue.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we know that Asians in this country have played many tricks which cannot be accepted in an independent Kenya. As has been said by hon. Members these people apply for citizenship after receiving quit notices but before they are served with the quit notices they can never do so at all; and even after being served with the quit notices and Mr. Shikuku said this, they bring their next of kin and take over the business.

In my original Motion I used the word, "Property". The Minister has tried to explain what, "Property" means and what "Business premises" mean. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, according to the Minister who said that if one went to Bazaar Street, one would find that most of the buildings there are owned by Africans; if that is so, these buildings must have belonged to somebody else, who was not an African, before the Africans took over. I can rightly say that those people were not happy about the Africanization. Now, assuming that what the Minister said is correct, that all the quit notices are given to an individual fellow trading in the town, if a quit notice is served to him, and it happens that he is the owner of that particular building and an African wanted to buy it, what does he do? Therefore, the two things really work together and that is why I had put them together in my original Motion. When we are trying to fight this particular issue, the Asians are also trying to make it extremely difficult for an African to enter into business because they put a condition that the African either buys the building so that he can trade there or not get the business. Again the price they sell these buildings, is too high for an ordinary African to afford.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the only thing that the Government can do is to change the Constitution and the Minister has indicated how this could be done. I am sure if the Minister wanted to help this particular House, he could do so. He should move such a Motion in this House and we shall consider it and then there will be no need for us, Members, to move this kind of Motions.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, these people have been messing about a lot with Africans. Their dealings are very well known in this House and the time has come when a law should be enacted in this Parliament. It is a shame on the part of the Africans that we, as leaders, the elected Members of this House come here and talk, talk and talk and keep on repeating the same things here. I remember such a Motion was moved and passed in this House by the hon. Member, Mr. Mutiso-Muyu, Member for Kilungu. My Motion is very identical with that Motion which was passed in this same House some time back. If we keep on talking and no action is taken, especially when they read this in the papers tomorrow, they will always be saying that we only keep on talking and nothing happens. If we mean business, and it is our duty to do so, especially the Minister for Commerce and Industry, we can have a law enacted in this House to deal with these people properly. Where these people should go after they have been served with quit notices should not be our concern, at all. They can go anywhere. They may leave this country if they so wish.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the amendment which was moved by the hon. Nthenge is an appropriate amendment. There should be a body appointed to look into this matter. According to the Minister, such a body is already in existence but, as far as I know this body is not effective. The Minister also said that in the meantime, he is going to circulate a list of those non-citizens who have been served with quit notices. It is my submission that time is overdue. This should have been done a long time ago. If the Minister had done this before, this particular issue should not have come to this House. However, I am pleased that the list will come so that each Member knows the particular Asians who have been served with quit notices in his area so that he can be dealt with. It looks very awkward, if I may indicate, that a chap has been served with a quit notice and then after a month or so, this same face is still seen in that particular premises. This should not be allowed to happen.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, now that my colleagues have contributed so much to the debate and many points having been made in the presence of the Minister himself, I do not wish to repeat what has been said.

(Question of the Motion as amended put and agreed to)

Resolved Accordingly:

THAT, in view of the fact that the Africans who are anxious to get into business are finding it extremely difficult to negotiate with non-citizens served with quit notices to purchase their properties because of raising the value of such properties with the intention of exploiting Kenya citizens by demanding goodwill money, this House urges the Government to establish a body through which businesses of non-citizens who get quit notices must be sold to prevent exploitation and ensure that Africans get the first priority.

Mr. Migire: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this Motion has now been passed although the Minister for Commerce and Industry has been against it. Would it not be in order if the Minister who is responsible for this tells this House, or promises this House that he will act in the manner in which the Motion has been passed in this House? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, why I raise this point of order is because sometimes when the Minister is against the Motion and it is passed in this House, he goes to the Ministry and sits on the Motion. This will not be a good thing to this House.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I think Mr. Osogo said that the Ministry is not, in general, against it. He took note of what was said.

✓ MOTION

AFFAIRS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NAIROBI

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

[Mr. Mwangale]

THAT, in view of the fact that the University of Nairobi which was established in July last year started on an unsound and improper footing, and in view of recent events indicating inefficiency and poor administration which have created unnecessary frustrations and animosity: this House urges the Government—

- (a) to dissolve the present University Council and appoint a new one with membership on a provincial basis;
- (b) to appoint a commission to inquire into the affairs of the university with a view to making recommendations for its smooth and efficient running;
- (c) to establish more constituent colleges which are geographically dispersed throughout our Republic.

The Assistant Minister for Housing (Mr. Khalif): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, is the hon. Member in order to speak from the Front Bench?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Yes.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I hope you will give me a little more time in view of the fact that my time has been taken by these points of order.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the Motion before the House is very clear-cut. It is one of those Motions which should be discussed with the least emotion but with a lot of understanding, a lot of consideration and a lot of sense of judgment. I have proposed this Motion and I hope that the House will continue to take a keen interest in the whole educational set-up in the country and by his, I hope that hon. Members will produce more Motions on the various aspects of our educational system. First of all I want to appeal to the Minister for Education and the whole House to be quite sincere, very sincere in approaching this problem concerning the university because it is a university that all of us—at least those of us who have had the experience of being in a university know that it is a university that is young, a university that has been carved out of a technical institution, a university which, when you look at the physical as well as academic departments, it is a university, in fact, that is not yet a university.

Therefore, when I discuss this question of the University Council, the commission to be appointed and all about the constituent colleges, I say this with a hope that this House and Government will appreciate our concern for the betterment of our educational system and that they will, therefore, be able to join us in finding a solution to the problems of the university.

As I pointed out, Mr. Deputy Speaker, our university, today, suffers from various angles. First of all, let us look at the physical developments. The university has no campus whatsoever so it cannot develop that much as a monolithic institution but an institution that contains all the faculties, all the departments in one whole unit; as a result of which, those of you who are aware, the university is scattered all over the place. One part, which is even very close to the Central Police Station—I gather that police station has been in the area which the university has used to cop out students when there is trouble. Basically, the students have been rather insecure because they know that the police can simply cross one road and they will be ousted, clubbed down and copped out. The second point, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is which hon. Shikuku has mentioned, which has a lot of sense in it although he makes a lot of mistakes. However, just listen to what I am going to say. The second part, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, because of the lack of a campus there has been this tendency of departments being scattered in various places, but also for these departments or faculties to grow up as if they were independent units—not as a part and parcel of the university. I think, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the whole direction of development of university education, and if we look at the very seat of power, the very seat of education for the whole country then this has to be re-examined. The only way in which this examination could come about is through the same method, I believe, other universities of our sister countries used; this is by the arbitration committee appointed by the then President of Uganda, Dr. Milton Obote and the President of Tanzania which looked into the whole objectives of the university education in developing Uganda and developing Tanzania. Indeed, they came out with suggestions which have been incorporated in the status of those universities. What we need, I think, and I am suggesting to the Minister, His Excellency the President should also consider, as a matter of priority, the appointment of an arbitration committee or commission to look into how we would like our university to develop, or the character of our university. Now, as you are also aware, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, when you look at the student population and the way they live today, they live in what I consider slums. Of course, let us accept it. For students to live in a university is a very privileged position. That is not questionable. However, the thing is this, in a place like the university here where the students are scattered all over the place because of the lack of accommodation and they are squeezed together so much that they cannot possibly read as well as they should read and study; where the social contact between the staff and the students and the administration is in a very low state, how would you go about it? I am not suggesting by any means that Mr. Mwangale has the solution. What I am suggesting is that the solution would lie in a committee or a commission being set up that could study the whole problem of our university.

Looking at the academic environment, and I have spent quite a lot of time with some of the staff, students, teachers and the officers in the Ministry to just look to what has happened so far. Some people have said that it is very difficult to divorce any type of activity be it administration or anything in this country or perhaps in most of the African countries without considering the tribal aspect. Well, it is usually said that in an academic institution, tribalism, and anything else does not come into practice. However, sometimes when you study the establishment of a university like ours here—the administration and the way it is constituted right from the Personnel—Mr. Speaker, out of a total of 28 top personnel, including the librarian, and mark you I am only counting the top ones and not the lower ones which I do not want to look into at all, because somebody may have an excuse—probably about ten or less come from any other area but one. However, you may say, “So what?” The real question is: how was this done? This is what I have looked into myself. If you look at the so-called “Appointments Committee”, whether it is at the faculty level or simply at the administrative level, there is an anomaly, an anomaly created deliberately, not by mistake, such that the choice if it is to be made can easily fall into the trap of tribal emotions. Mr. Speaker, I have looked into the whole idea of the appointment of the Vice-Chancellor and I want to submit to this House that after looking around and being able to talk to the staff as well as the students, I have come to the conclusion that despite the fact that there has been quite a bit of maladministration—that is using some kind of compound techniques in cases where there is a failure—that basically given a chance as the first national Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Karanja can make it. However, the only thing that I feel the Vice-Chancellor might be suffering from is being afraid, he is being cowardly when it comes to facing the Chairman of the Council and His Excellency the President. I think he is afraid to make decisions and this is an extremely serious matter. I think the Vice-Chancellor should be much more flexible, he should have a lot of foresight and in a way he has to try to have what we call public relations. I think there has been that lack on the part of the Vice-Chancellor, but as I said before, my submission is that given an opportunity he could make it and there is, therefore, no doubt that my own feelings could be expressed that way. However, when you look at the Council as such—and I have the list of names of Members of the Council as nominated by the President and again it is the same problem we have—that the Chairman seems to be elected on a life basis. He was the Chairman of the previous University College and he is also the Chairman of the University today. Since the Council itself administers the university as such, just by looking at the list—and I do not want to read it to you because it really reflects very badly on our sense of judgement—I can submit again to this House that there could be a tendency under the present arrangement of the Council and the statute of that university and the administration according to the Act, that we passed here, to introduce tribal emotions in the running of an academic institution that we consider to be the highest in our country. Therefore, my feeling, Sir, is that somehow you cannot have the Chairman of the Council and the Vice-Chancellor of the University to come from the same area. This has to be changed, although they may be very good administrators. In fact, I am told that the Chairman is very, very effective. However, there is that same sentiment, that tribal emotion may come in and cripple it. I think, therefore, we need a change, definitely, so that the Council Chairman should be elected from the people, or he must not necessarily come from the same area as the Vice-Chancellor.

I would like, therefore, to emphasise this point, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that in order for us to get this university properly planned and in the direction which all of us must support, we need something more than simply sitting here and having one or two people running that university. We have to set up some kind of commission to look into its affairs.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I have also suggested here that this is the only national university—the other ones are constituent colleges—we need people to be represented equally from every corner of this country. I want to emphasize this, that I did not come out and say that the National Assembly should elect people, or that So-and-so must nominate. All I am saying is that we must devise a better method than having His Excellency alone making the decisions. I am not doubting his wisdom in this area but all I am saying is that in order for us to get the best representation to project the dynamic nature of this institution as an institution for the whole country, we must get provincial representation. I want to propose here that probably the best area from which you can get these people would be at the Provincial Educational Boards. Those must be able to recommend some people to represent them on the university. And if there are any problems, at least these people can explain matters to their own people. This is how it must be.

I also looked at the admissions. This is where the Ministry of Education has the greatest problem. Sir, the admission of students to the University of Nairobi, looking at the method and the conditions laid down by the various faculties, is very fair indeed. So I have no quarrel at all about admission. The real problem lies with the previous Minister in the former Parliament, Dr. Kiano. I want to tell the House today that whilst Dr. Kiano was Minister for Education, first of all he deliberately—deliberately—gave so many schools, higher school institutions to Central Province. That is one aspect. The second aspect is that somebody introduced a certain commission called the Teachers' Service Commission. That Teachers' Service Commission deliberately put the best teachers in these schools. The results were out yesterday, look at them. I am referring to the Higher School Certificate results. You will find out, Sir, that the performance in schools other than in areas around Nairobi and Central Province are terribly poor. This is by comparison. You find that literacy in a place like Western Province is more than 85 per cent. You just have to look at Professor Ominde's Report to be convinced. When you have only a few Higher School Certificate institutions in— Take Science as such and look at the way our students have performed. The real problem is, (a) because we have had most Higher School Certificate schools centralized here and, (b) that the staffing of these schools has been terribly biased. Therefore, as a third point, because of this staffing of Higher School Certificate institutions and facilities, the facilities of the schools in the country-side— You can go to Yala, you can go to Kamusinga you can go anywhere, but when you compare the facilities of some of our Higher School Certificate institutions with some of the facilities provided by schools, say, in Nairobi, Sir, the contrast is phenomenal. I think we are in danger, we are in very great danger because the problem will be that these students will be accepted at the University of Nairobi. The admissions will be very fair, but the problem lies right in the Ministry. Unless this Ministry can now reorganize the whole academic system as such as be fair, there is a danger. Let us base the appointment of teachers on a fair basis. Let us get the Higher School Certificate institutions based on population or literacy, but we have to be fair.

It is time, I think, we considered whether we are really going to succeed at all to build a really united nation, without all these factors which have been causing unrest and unnecessary animosity. We must clear these right away. The Minister for Education must clearly, and now, explain to us how he is going to change this situation, that was deliberately created by the previous Minister.

I want also to point out that there is no point in having Higher School Certificate at all. If we can get rid of Higher School Certificate today we will have a lot of students going to the university and the Government must encourage students to go to other universities such as Dar es Salaam and so forth.

With these few remarks, I beg to move.

Mr. arap Chumo: I am glad to have this opportunity to second this Motion. It is a very important Motion, dealing with a very delicate subject and the problems facing our nation today. University education is very vital for every nation. Why is this? First of all because the leaders of any country are looked upon to have come from such institutions. Secondly, because unless you have such places like the university you cannot have the manpower with technical know-how, you cannot have specialized personnel.

I say this Motion is very welcome at this juncture because I feel it is time that we corrected the system of development, the system of administration and the whole educational system of our university. I know there is a lot to be desired in the whole educational system of Kenya. However, we have been told there are difficulties and such other things in removing what was developed by the Colonial Government. I know we cannot do this overnight, but I do feel it is time that we faced the problems and take it upon ourselves to correct the system that has been placed on us by colonial masters.

The question of admission to the university, as the Mover of the Motion mentioned, is one that is really very disturbing. Why? Because although we are told that we must look for those who are qualified, who are able to continue to maintain the standard, so that the standard in the university is not lowered, if you look at this group that has been going into the university, there is a big question one must ask. In what direction are we going to develop this nation? We all know that this question of tribalism has been mentioned over and over again, in every field of Government departments. Tribes are there in Kenya and they are there to stay. We have to face that. People keep on saying there is no tribalism, there is no this and that when tribalism is as clear as daylight. If somebody does not see it, then he probably needs to see an optician. If we are going to develop this nation, if we are going to help the country so that at least this question of tribalism is not as glaring as it is, we have to develop every section, every part of our country. We need to cater for every tribe, give each as much opportunity as possible. We cannot say tribalism is not there, or those who have got into certain places have got there because of their special ability. We know things have been developed, we know how schools have been taken over. In some areas you say that so many students from a particular tribe are able to join the university because of their high marks. And why is it so? It is because of the trend, of the behaviour of the whole system of the Government; it is the way in which we have established things such as the Teachers' Service Commission. Here you have teachers who are well qualified posted to particular schools where facilities as well as access to other means of education are easily obtained. If we intend to see that our nation— If we are all genuine and if we all come with a clear mind and we wish to see a healthy situation in our nation, then we must make sure that we give opportunity to people who enter places such as the university, give them a fair opportunity and chance to take part in the administration. It would be useless to demand that we have people in the administration from other tribes when we do not have qualified people from these other tribes. This is true. We know of other tribes that have been in the university for years and years, professors, lecturers—they are qualified but they have never been given a chance in the administration of the university. If we are going to allow ourselves to turn a blind eye to what is going on, then we will not develop this country into a healthy nation. We know we need lawyers, we need engineers, we need doctors, we need teachers, and nobody is going to tell me that we will give a chance to only those who come from a particular place. We want to help this country so that in a few years' time we can continue with the same stability that has been there.

Since my time is up, Sir, I beg to second.

(Question proposed)

ADJOURNMENT

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): It is now time for interruption of business. The House is therefore adjourned until Tuesday 9th March, at 2.30 p.m.

The House rose at thirty minutes past Twelve O'clock.

WRITTEN REPLIES TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 71 (1313)

UPGRADING OF KITUI POLICE STATION

Mr. Kitonga asked the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs to say when Kitui Police Station would be made a Divisional Headquarters.

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): There is a definite need to establish a divisional police headquarters at Kitui. However, its establishment will have to be considered in conjunction with other proposals to increase police establishment in other districts of the Republic and funds being made available to us.

In the circumstances, therefore, I am unable, at this stage, to state when a divisional police headquarters at Kitui will be established.

Question No. 15 (1208)

LICENSED PRIVATE SURVEYORS IN KENYA

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Lands and Settlement to say whether—

- (a) it was true that there were licensed private surveyors in Kenya;
- (b) if so, how many and who were they; and,
- (c) what was their racial breakdown.

The Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. Angaine): (a) Yes, it is true that there are licensed private surveyors in Kenya. (b) There are 17 and of these 4 are citizens and 13 are non-citizens. (c) 16 of these are Europeans and 1 is an Asian.

Question No. 70 (1312)

MEDICAL FACILITIES IN KITUI EAST

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Health to say—(a) whether Government was aware that people at Kalitini and Mathuki sub-locations of Mui Location in Kitui East were dying every now and then through lack of medical facilities; and

(b) since those people were 20 miles away from the nearest dispensary, what plan Government had to help them.

The Minister for Health (Mr. Okero): (a) No undue increase in the number of deaths in Kalitini and Mathuki sub-locations has been reported to the Ministry. Kalitini is only 11 miles from Mui Dispensary and is occasionally visited by the mobile clinic. The last visit to Kalitini was on 7th October 1970.

[The Minister for Health]

(b) The Government at present is trying to improve the services at the health centres and dispensaries already functioning and is not in a position to undertake the building or staffing of new dispensaries.

Question No. 44 (1261)

ARREST OF MIRIAM BIN MOHAMED

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs—

- (a) to explain the circumstances which led to a man allegedly called Miriam bin Mohamed being placed in the same prison custody with women prisoners; and
- (b) would the Minister consider introducing adequate measures to ensure that this kind of thing does not recur.

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): I do not agree with the hon. Member in his allegation that a man called Miriam bin Mohamed had been placed in the same prison custody with women prisoners. In fact, this man was brought to court for allegedly disguising himself as a woman and for immoral purposes and on remand he was taken to Nairobi Remand/Allocation Prison which is exclusively for men and not women.

In view of the foregoing, part (b) of the question does not arise. However, for the information of the House, all newly admitted inmates are always examined by Medical Officers within 24 hours of their admission who would, therefore, during the examination be able to discover any unseen peculiarities

Tuesday, 9th March 1971

The House met at thirty minutes past Two o'clock.

AWARD OF BURSARIES IN SECONDARY SCHOOLS

Mr. Nyaga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

THAT, in view of the fact that the Kenya Government has taken over all educational services as well as the main sources of revenue from the local authorities, this House urges Government as a matter of emergency to take over the responsibility of awarding bursaries in secondary schools as most county councils are not in a position to do so.

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 92 (1363)

PROMOTION OF CHIEFS IN NYAMBENE

Mr. Muturia asked the Minister of State, President's Office if he would tell the House—

(a) why there had been no chief from Nyambene promoted to Grade II or I; and

[Mr. Muturia]

(b) the qualifications which were needed for a chief to be upgraded.

The Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Koinange): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) It is not true to say that there are no chiefs in grades II or I in Nyambene Division because there is one Grade II chief.

As to (b), as previously stated in this House, promotions of chiefs depend on merit and it is done when vacancies are available.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, arising from what the Minister has just said in reply to part (b) that there is one Grade II chief in Nyambene Division, does the Minister, himself, know how many chiefs we have in Nyambene?

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the real question was not on the number of chiefs but was whether the chiefs are promoted to grade I and II. As I said in reply to that question, there is Chief Daniel Muringo who is Grade II; the other question on the number of chiefs is not necessary.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, when the Minister was replying to part (b) of the question, he said that there are no special qualifications but one gets promotion on merit. Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Minister trying to imply that the basic qualification a chief has to achieve to be promoted is to be a better informer—that that is more important than any other qualification?

Mr. Koinange: I did not use the word "informer". I said it is the question of merit. Merit is the sum total of good service to the area where that chief is serving.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the Minister's reply, that one would be promoted because of one's service, would the Minister be in a position to tell this House how many chiefs from Nyambene—particularly those who used to serve in the colonial régime, and they are still in the service—qualify for this promotion?

Mr. Koinange: Whether they are qualified or not, their services are acceptable but the availability of a vacancy for the promotion does not at this second, exist.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from what the Minister has just said, would he tell this House—Is the Minister aware that Nyambene alone covers two-thirds of Meru District, and that there are so many qualified chiefs who should have been promoted to a higher grade, not only to grade two and one, but even to a special grade but because of the distance between whatever part the promotions come from and that area, that area has been overlooked, not only by the Colonial Government but also by the present Government, as far as promotion of chiefs is concerned?

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, promotions are not given for promotion's sake; promotions are given, as I said before, Sir, where vacancies exist for that higher grade so that the next person also benefits. The provincial commissioners and the district commissioners are always alert, and are constantly observing the chiefs who fulfil these elements of merit.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question. Mr. arap Cheboiwo.

Question No. 112 (1408)

OPENING OF OUTLYING DISTRICTS

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister of State, President's Office if he would tell the House whether he was aware that since it had been declared that the outlying or closed districts would be opened, a great many people had moved there and were likely to deprive local people of trade and other opportunities.

The Assistant Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Munyi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. No, I am not aware.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that very short reply from the Assistant Minister, that he is not aware—maybe he was not aware at the time this question was submitted to him last year—could he tell us now, that these people are there, and what he is doing about it because we are sure they are there? They have come there in big numbers.

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member says that a great number of people have moved there—where is there? Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member is aware that it would be of no value to open an area and then stop people from moving there. The freedom of movement is enshrined in the Constitution of Kenya. If I may refer section 81 of our Constitution to the hon. Member, he would see that the people of Kenya are free to move; indeed, they are always moving, although I do not know which people the hon. Member is referring to. However, this is not to say they should deprive other people of trade and other opportunities.

The hon. Member will recall that it was the wish of this House to open up closed districts. Now, it seems that the hon. Member wants to close the areas again.

Mr. Lotodo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister agree with me that the intention of opening these closed districts was to allow certain tribes to go into other areas and settle?

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, with your permission, I would like to deny, very categorically, that that is true.

Mr. Seroney: On a point of order, Sir. Will the Assistant Minister substantiate that it was the wish of this House that the outlying districts be opened? In fact, it was the opposite.

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, a Motion was debated in this very hon. House, and I even know that there were many questions which were raised by hon. Members—I can remember some Members, even from Nyanza—that people should be given the right to move freely to all parts of Kenya, Sir, and this is true.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the question here is: was it the wish of this House? The hon. Assistant Minister said it was the wish of this House.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Well, I do not think what Mr. Munyi said is absolutely accurate because what happened was that a Motion was brought here, and it was defeated. However, action was taken administratively outside and not in this House.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Mr. Migure: On a point of order, Sir. Mr. Speaker, could I seek your guidance here? In view of the fact that I am the person who asked this question last year, appealing to the President's Office to open the closed districts, and I have realized that as a result of the President's Office agreeing to do that there is going to be a lot of trouble to the wananchi through some people moving from their areas to other areas, could I seek your guidance here? Now, what should I do if I want to bring a Motion here so that this restriction is imposed again?

Hon. Members: No! No!

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! You are wasting the time of this House for nothing; will you sit down!

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and because it seems to me that he understands what the hon. Member is referring to—that is some people moving into some areas—would he tell this House which people are moving into certain areas because he seems to have understood what the hon. Member was talking about, and therefore tried to answer the question?

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, as far as the Government is concerned we are not aware of people moving from one area to go to areas which have now been opened.

Hon. Members: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No more points of order.

Mr. Kurgat: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister tell us, now, how many districts are still closed because that is what we want to know?

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the answer is as clear as daylight there is no district which is now closed; all districts are open, Sir.

Mr. Kadir: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply—he said that all the districts have been opened now—would he tell the House why people from Isiolo District who went for a visit to Marsabit were arrested and have, in fact, been jailed for three or four months? What is he going to do about them?

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is not true; it is only an allegation. However, if the hon. Member, Sir, would like to raise that as a question, we are ready, any time, to investigate.

Mr. Kholkholle: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply—The Assistant Minister is denying this; he says that it is only an allegation. It is not an allegation; it is a fact. I have taken one person from police custody because of this. It was Chief Order No. 1; it is said he was arrested under Chief Order No. 1. I do not know where this comes from. Therefore, will he investigate this, and see that the people of Kenya are not detained in custody without any justification?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Was the detention due to their having gone into a certain closed area?

Mr. Kholkholle: Yes, it was only because they had come from Isiolo to Marsabit. That was the only reason and there was no other reason.

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, all I would like to ask the hon. Member to do is bring specific information concerning that incident and action will be taken.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, and considering that the provincial administration is tribally imbalanced, will he not agree with me that there would be certain advantages to that particular tribe or tribes which have advantage of the imbalance, and as soon as these districts are opened to other people to move in these tribes will move in, in great numbers?

Mr. Munyi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is not correct at all. All I would like the hon. Member to do is to give specific information concerning the incidents which might have taken place.

Mr. Kivuitu: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, if I am being asked to give specific information about this, may I, on Thursday, produce details of the provincial administration to substantiate what I mean by the imbalance, if that is what he wants?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Yes.

Next question, Mr. Kitonga.

Question No. 68 (1309)

TREATMENT OF FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House whether he could investigate and adopt the simple method of treating and curing Foot-and-Mouth disease now successfully used by Mr. David Mutia Kimonde of Mutitu Location in Kitui and whether that man could be used to train others in the Republic.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. There is no known treatment of clinical cases of Foot-and-Mouth disease. The only science that we know of in terms of this very infectious and dangerous disease is preventive measures. I have no evidence that the cure of the alleged man, Mr. David Mutia Kimonde, is effective against the disease, but we are trying to contact the man to find out what science he might have discovered.

Mr. Kitonga: While thanking the Assistant Minister for Agriculture for his reply, I have to add this: since the policy of our Government is to work in the spirit of Harambee, would this question be taken very seriously and the man in question be consulted about this very important treatment of this very serious disease?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think if this were to be discovered to be true the man would be worthy of receiving a Nobel Prize.

Question No. 119 (1416)

IDENTITY CARD ISSUING CENTRES—MERU

Mr. Marete asked the Minister for Labour if he would tell the House whether, since one must have had an identity card in order to get employment and land title-deeds, and since the Registration Office is situated 40 to 60 miles away from some places in Meru, he could consider establishment of registration centres in all chiefs' offices.

The Assistant Minister for Labour (Mr. Kubai): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give the following reply. Under the Registration of Persons Act, it is not a condition that one must be in possession of an identity card in order to be employed. One can always obtain an identity card after employment. As far as Meru District is concerned, there is a registration officer employed by the Ministry and attached to the District Commissioner's Office. He is responsible for issuing identity cards in Meru District. He makes arrangements with the district officers to visit their areas for the purpose of issuing identity cards on the spot where they are wanted.

The hon. Members should, therefore, advise those people wishing to be registered to communicate with their administrative officers who would make the necessary arrangements with the registration officer regarding the visits to their respective areas.

In the light of the procedures outlined above, it would be uneconomical to establish registration centres in all chiefs' offices.

Mr. Kurgat: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Assistant Minister now tell us that all identity cards will be withdrawn—because if I do not have an identity card I do not get employment—and that only passports will be left.

Mr. Kubai: Would the hon. Member repeat his question? I did not follow it.

Mr. Kurgat: What I said, Mr. Speaker, was—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order, Mr. Kurgat!

Mr. Kurgat: I am repeating the question, Sir.

An hon. Member: He has been asked to repeat.

Mr. Kurgat: What I asked was: will all identity cards, of which I have one and everybody in Kenya has—except the females who are not expected to possess them—be withdrawn leaving only passports for expatriates?

Mr. Kubai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that would be another question and I am not prepared to answer it.

Mr. Tsuma: Mr. Speaker, if during the British rule we, the then politicians, condemned registration or identity cards—the kipande—could the Assistant Minister tell us why we should not all together drop kipande business, if we did not want them during the colonial time?

Mr. Kubai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the identity of any persons is very essential indeed.

Mr. Marete: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer which has been clearly given, does he know that this does not apply in the whole nation? some of the people in remote areas are suffering. Can the Assistant Minister now inform our people in Meru, and Kenya as a whole, why many people in Meru do not get employment?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): What is your question?

Mr. Marete: Is the Assistant Minister aware that many people in Meru do not have identity cards because of the long distances to the registration centres—even people of 25 years of age—and this delays the issue of land title-deeds?

[Mr. Marete]

What will he do to help the wananchi from these difficulties which they get in the reserves?

Mr. Kubai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think in the provincial administration, there is no area which is remote or which is not properly supervised, or where you do not have a sub-chief or a district officer. My reply is: in such an area people who would like to have identity cards should report to their sub-chief who will arrange for an officer to issue them

Mr. Jilo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the Assistant Minister's reply, he himself being one of the veterans who fought for Kenya's independence, and who has been one of the persons fighting for the removal of this provision of carrying identity cards by Africans, can he tell us when he is going to discuss this as it is something shameful to the Africans?

Mr. Kubai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think all this historical and personal expression is not really called for in this argument. I would not like to be associated with it.

However, Sir, the power to remove this legislation rests with this House.

Mr. Muregi: Mr. Speaker, if the registration cards continue in force is the Assistant Minister aware that due to settlements and co-operative farming people have to move from their original places of living and have to settle in new places and make that their home, yet their registration cards still show the old areas? Is the Assistant Minister going to change this to the new names as they are today to show where these people live now?

Mr. Kubai: I did not follow the question. Mr. Speaker, can the hon. Member please repeat it?

Mr. Muregi: Mr. Speaker, due to settlement and other movement probably people from Central Province or, perhaps, from a township like Kisumu have gone to Muhoroni. They have now become people who will live there for ever. Are their identity cards going to be changed to read from Kisumu settlement So-and-so, chief So-and-so, village so-and-so to Muhoroni and show the new chief and sub-chief and so on?

Mr. Kubai: That is not necessary, Sir.

Question No. 104 (1387)

OVER-BRIDGE AT KAHARATI RAILWAY CROSSING

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House, in view of the fact that Kaharati Railway Level Crossing between Sabasaba Town and Maragwa Town had become an accident Black Spot where lives of many people had been lost, the Minister could, as a matter of urgency, order that an over-bridge be built for motor vehicles.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Ministry is aware that a number of accidents have occurred at Kaharati Railway Level Crossing but regrets that some of them have been fatal. Although no records were available, I can assure the House that these accidents have been very infrequent.

Efforts, however, have been made to erect sufficient warning signs with the hope that the motoring public will take heed of them when driving at this crossing.

We have done everything possible to erect signs and there is no reason why you should hit an oncoming train. In such case you cannot blame the Ministry of Works.

I would like to add in this connexion that my Ministry is currently looking into the question of safety at all level crossings in the country with a view to providing the most appropriate measures whenever funds may be available.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the problem with this particular section of the road is that it is along a stretch of a straight line and if we attempt to erect barriers across the road, we may find that some of the speeding motorists may, at one time or another, crash into these barriers. So, at the present time, officials from my Ministry, in conjunction with the Engineers of the East African Railways Corporation are visiting these areas to try to find out the best possible engineering method to overcome the problem, either by erection of a bridge or anything else. At the moment we are considering whichever way is best possible.

Mr. Wachira: Would the Assistant Minister agree with me that it is much more economical to build a flyover bridge instead of all this nonsense he is telling me?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, certainly the bridge will be the answer, but as I have already stated we are looking at all possible means to ensure that the rate of accidents is reduced in the area.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Speaker, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, we are glad to hear that the Assistant Minister is aware that there is a very straight road there and, therefore, accidents occur more frequently than other places. In view of these facts, why should the Assistant Minister continue to waste Government money and time trying to erect minor things which are going to be demolished soon and not consider instead, right from the beginning, the cost of an over-bridge and go ahead with it?

Mr. Keen: I have already made it very clear that engineers in my Ministry and from the East African Railways Corporation will soon be visiting the area with a view to ascertaining the best possible method for the area, either the erection of a permanent bridge, flyover bridge, or some other somehow. These are all technical arrangements which I cannot assure the House about at the moment.

Question No. 105 (1388)

BRIDGE BETWEEN GITHURI VILLAGE AND KAMBIRWA CAMP

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House when the Ministry would build a bridge between Githuri Village and Kambirwa Chief's Camp in Gikindu Location in Murang'a District.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. There is a motorable, unclassified road between Githuri Village and Kampi ya Chifu. The provision of a rift on the River Mathioya is considered sufficient as the rainfall in this area is not heavy enough to hinder traffic over the drift

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister agree with me that this location is divided by a very big river known as Mathioya and that citizens have been drowned in going from one sub-location to the other?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, I have already stated that the drift is sufficient as a means of crossing from one end of the bridge to the other, and the construction of a bridge at the moment is not necessary.

Question No. 111 (1407)

ROADS IN CENTRAL RIFT COUNTY COUNCIL

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House—

- (a) what the total mileage was of the roads in North Baringo Constituency which had been formerly maintained by the Central Rift County Council;
- (b) how many were secondary roads, minor roads and administrative roads;
- (c) how much money had been granted for these roads in the Financial Year 1970/71;
- (d) if the Government had embarked on the construction of new roads in the area.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Since parliamentary constituency boundaries do not correspond with road functions, we do not have accurate records of road mileage within every one of the 158 constituencies. The mileage given below is what I would like to say is approximate:—

- (a) The total mileage of public roads in North Baringo Constituency is 142 miles approximately. Of this, only 13 miles were secondary roads vested in Central Rift County Council. The remainder were vested in the divisions.
- (b) When the roads were classified under the Local Government Regulations prior to 20th February 1970, they were classified as follows: trunk roads, 9 miles; secondary roads, 47 miles; minor roads, 86 miles.
- (c) In the Financial Year 1969/70 the Central Government grant was £2,002 for the 13 miles of the secondary roads. In the Financial Year 1970/71 the allocation was made as follows: trunk roads—£1,584; secondary roads—£1,456; minor roads—£4,128. The total to be spent in the area will be £7,168.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Arising from that hopeful answer from the Assistant Minister, could he tell us the names of these roads? For example, he says nine miles for trunk roads. From where to where is this?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, I do not think I am going to educate the hon. Member about the names of the roads in his constituency.

Mr. Kurgat: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Assistant Minister tell us how much money was being used by the county council for the year 1968 or 1969 comparing it with what he is giving us now? How does the amount of money compare?

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, I will not be able to tell the House the money that was used by the county council, I can only tell the House what we, as the Ministry of Works, are using on roads. We are not aware of what the county council was spending.

Question No. 98 (1371)

LOWERING THE VOTING AGE

Mr. Mutunga, on behalf of Mr. Mulwa, asked the Attorney-General if he would tell the House if he would lower the voting age from 21 years to 18 in view of the fact that in Kenya most of the youngsters were literate and responsible.

The Attorney-General (Mr. Njonjo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. No, Sir.

Hon. Members: Why? Why? Why?

Mr. Mutunga: Arising from the answer by the Attorney-General, would he tell this House why, "No, Sir"?

Mr. Njonjo: I think the House will agree, Sir, that at the age of 18 a person is very young.

Mr. Kitonga: They are married.

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, I think I heard the hon. Member say I am not married. However, it is questionable whether marriage has anything to do with intelligence.

I believe, Sir, this question of changing or reducing the age from 21 to 18 has been tried in some countries not very far from us and the experiment has proved to be unsatisfactory.

Now, we have some difficulties here too. First of all, we do not have compulsory registration of births and this is something that I have been trying to encourage. All these people who are interested in getting married should have their children's births registered so that we can have a good record of the children's ages. We can then have an accurate register. I have no doubt that some people who voted in the last General Elections were perhaps 18. We had no birth registration to prove this. I hope that the Members of Parliament will encourage their constituents to have their children's births registered and also to reduce the birth of children.

Mr. Karungaru: Arising from what the Attorney-General has told the House this afternoon, Sir, is he aware that we have so many boys and girls under the age of 18 who have more than two children? If that is proved is it not true that we can change this in order that we may have uniformity of age such as the one now operating in Great Britain where they are allowing people of 18 to vote? Why not Kenya?

Mr. Njonjo: I am told that the question of producing babies is biological and, in fact, I am advised by my friend here that—

Mr. Mutunga: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, what relevance has this production of children with the question?

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, my duty to this House is to answer hon. Members' questions. I am now dealing with hon. Karungaru's question; I have already answered the hon. Member's question.

I was saying that I am advised that a girl can produce at the age of 11, but that is no qualification. I submit that to reduce the age of voting, which is a casting vote to bring all these hon. Members to this House, is quite a serious matter. I, therefore, urge the House to agree with me that 21, in fact, is too low.

As regards production of children, girls should not produce any—

Mrs. Onyango: Mr. Speaker, Sir,—

An hon. Member: Are you serious?

Mrs. Onyango: Yes I am.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, will I not be in order to assume that after somebody has given birth she is qualified to be called an adult?

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I must of course bow to the experience of the hon. Member. She has more experience which I do not think I will ever have and that is why, perhaps, I am not called an old man.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, as the Attorney-General has said that we are in the process of registering births of babies and we have to wait until that is completed, when does he think that we shall have completed this exercise of registering births to be able to change or consider changing the voting age from 21 years to 18 years or any other age? When does he think this will be done?

Mr. Njonjo: First of all, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have not agreed that we should change the age from 21 years to 18 years. However, the other aspect of the hon. Member's question as to when this exercise of birth registration will be completed, we are fighting—or at least I am fighting—against odds. This is because if the birth rate could be reduced, then of course our work would not be so enormous. I, therefore, advocate that perhaps if we had a one year's recess from producing children, then I might catch up with the process.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Attorney-General's reply, I feel the question here is about reducing the voting age from 21 years to 18 years to enable youngsters who are literate and who can know how to vote to do so. So, for the benefit of this country would the Attorney-General tell this House when he expects to reduce the voting age from 21 years as the question stands, to 18 years to enable the majority of our literate chaps to vote?

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, first of all I do not accept the theory which the hon. Member, Dr. Munene, has propounded. You cannot, I submit, equate literacy with intelligence. It is only yesterday, Mr. Speaker, when His Excellency the President said that we should not despise our old people purely because they have not had formal education. What I am submitting, very strongly and I urge this House, is that age of 18 years is too young. It does not matter what education you have, you are still irresponsible and minor.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the Attorney-General's reply, would he be in a position to tell the House how this age is assessed or how it is determined by the people or the administrators because there is no record? How do they know that this chap is 21 years old and that one is 18 years old and yet they pay tax? How are they assessed or how does the Attorney-General determine their ages?

Mr. Njonjo: I am grateful to the hon. Member because that is precisely my problem. I did concede that it is quite possible that during the last General Election there were youngsters of 18 years who managed to vote.

An hon. Member: Even below 18 years.

Mr. Njonjo: Even below 18 years. Perhaps the hon. Member has some information. However, what I am suggesting is that the age of 21 years is just about old enough. In fact, in my view, he is still too young to be given the right to vote.

An hon. Member: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No point of order. Next question, Mr. Mulwa.

Question No. 99 (1376)

ROLE OF ASSESSORS IN MURDER CASES

Mr. Mulwa asked the Attorney-General if he would tell the House whether, considering that the findings of the assessors in a murder case was neither binding on the judge nor even persuasive and taking into account that the amount of public funds used in paying for their travelling expenses to and from the court and the time they spend in court, the Attorney-General could consider seeking the alteration of the law by this House to remove the requirement of assessors in murder trials.

The Attorney-General (Mr. Njonjo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The findings of assessors are accorded considerable persuasive authority and if a trial judge—I am sure my learned friends here have this experience that assessors are accorded or in fact their views are given great support by a judge and if he disagrees with them he always has to give good reasons why he disagrees with the assessors. I suggest that perhaps, my learned friend will feel that assessors are doing a useful job particularly when we have at the moment judges who are perhaps unfamiliar with customs etc. They do give advice to judges which I think is useful in a serious trial like murder cases.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, although my learned friend says these gentlemen's views are considered by the judges, experience shows that, in fact, they are not. Could he tell us, for example, where the assessors' opinion, even though unanimous, has ever been accepted by the judges, even though they are unanimous in their views, the three of them whether it has ever been accepted?

Mr. Njonjo: Well, I dare say in quite a number of trials when I have prosecuted myself it is possible for assessors—

An hon. Member: Have you ever prosecuted?

Mr. Njonjo: The hon. Member might be next if he crosses my line. I was going to say it is quite possible that sometimes the assessors may be unanimous in their opinion that an accused person is not guilty and the judge may disagree with them. However, it is in those cases where I was suggesting that when he disagrees with them, and it may be on points of law or points of fact he does not agree with their interpretation of fact and law, he has to give reasons why he disagrees with them. But, I think, as my learned friend will know we used to have assessors here and we did away with them. Now, if we have to do away with assessors, I think this is a matter which needs considerable—

Mr. Mulwa: We did away with jurists not assessors.

Mr. Njonjo: Yes, we did away with jurists. I suggest that if we have to do away with the assessors, this is a matter which needs considerable thinking and I would like to have, for instance the views of the law society and other bodies who are interested.

Mr. Barmalel: What qualifications are the assessors hearing murder cases required to have?

Mr. Njonjo: The qualification is that those gentlemen must be men of mature age and responsible.

An hon. Member: What about women?

Mr. Njonjo: Women are hardly— Excuse me!

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Attorney-General's reply—and he has never prosecuted in any case in this country—is he aware of the fact that—

Dr. Munene: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think I have been a witness where the Attorney-General has prosecuted a case. If my friend thinks it otherwise, could he substantiate?

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the hon. Doctor is trying to defend the Attorney-General. However, all that I know is that there was a case where the Attorney-General was expected to prosecute but he declined.

[Mr. Wabuge]

If I may go back to my question, is the Attorney-General aware of the fact that in most cases when the assessors give their opinion with regard to customary law the judges refuse to accept it?

Mr. Njonjo: I have no personal experience on that, but I concede that a judge can quite easily disagree with the assessors either on a question of law or fact. Sometimes the assessors do not follow the proceedings. I am not for the assessors; and in fact I would like to see the system abolished. However, I think we do not need to rush this because they are doing some work which is useful.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 118 (1411)

FACILITIES IN MACHAKOS GENERAL HOSPITAL

Mr. Mutunga asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House—

- (a) whether he would consider, as a matter of urgency, establishing an amenity ward in the Machakos Provincial General Hospital since there are so many members of the community who contribute Sh. 20 each every month to the Hospital Insurance Fund.
- (b) whether he would make provision to include an amenity ward in the current extensions to the above hospital.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi):

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Consideration of establishing an amenity ward in Machakos General Hospital will be made together with other large hospitals in the country as the Ministry of Health is aware that there are many members of the community all over the country who are contributors to the Hospital Insurance Fund. However, it will not be possible to include an amenity ward in the current extensions as the Ministry's priorities have been to establish, first a maternity block and its supporting facilities, all of which are of high standard for teaching purposes at Machakos.

Mr. Mutunga: I am not quite satisfied, though something is at least being done. However, would the Assistant Minister agree with me that since there are so many people who contribute to this fund they are entitled to the services for which they pay?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I agree with the hon. Member. However, I would like to remind him that Machakos is only 40 miles away from Nairobi. So, if there are a few people who are contributors, I think he would like to see us servicing the lower category of the wananchi who cannot even afford a bus fare to Nairobi to get all these high standard facilities which are in Nairobi. Those people who are in a higher category can pay about Sh. 5 bus fare—to Nairobi and then they can have all the amenities they want in the Nairobi Hospital, Kenyatta National Hospital and other hospitals which we have around Nairobi. So, I would like to advise the hon. Member to advise these contributors in Machakos to make a short, 40-mile journey up to here whenever they need a high standard treatment and let the Ministry of Health serve those wananchi who are a bit hard-hit by lack of medical facilities.

Mr. Kanja: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Would the hon. Assistant Minister agree with me that the people who contribute towards this fund do not just contribute for the sake of contributing but they do so so that they can get proper treatment when they fall sick? Would he also agree with me that travelling from Machakos to Nairobi could mean a loss of life in some cases to those people in that particular category?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, anyone who is really in danger of losing life would not choose between an amenity bed and the first available treatment facility there is. Amenity beds are meant for those who are recommended to go and spend some time in hospital if they are to be hospitalized. Therefore, if it is an accident case, which the hon. Member has in mind, I would like to tell him that an accident case does not choose an amenity bed or anything of that kind but is taken to any place where hospital facilities are available. If the case has to be moved to the hospital, then it can be moved either to Machakos or Nairobi. However, I think it is unreasonable for one to think that we must have an amenity hospital for all the wananchi throughout the country at intervals of 20 or 40 miles.

QUESTIONS BY PRIVATE NOTICE

IMPRISONMENT FOR FAILURE TO ATTEND
BARAZA CONVENED BY ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICERS

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Araru's Question by Private Notice.

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister of State, President's Office the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Could the Minister tell the House why Mr. Dawi Oshe of Moyale was jailed for one month in December last year for failing to attend a public meeting organized by the District Commissioner, Marsabit?

[Mr. Araru]

(b) Is it legal to arrest those who do not attend public barazas convened by the provincial commissioners, district commissioners, district officers and chiefs?

The Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Koinange): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Mr. Dawi was, as the hon. Member says, arrested because of failing to obey orders issued by the chief. A chief is empowered by the law to take such steps. May I refer the hon. Member to the Chiefs' Authority Act; Kenya Laws, Cap. 128 Section 11 (e), which reads as follows—

An hon. Member: Of which year?

The Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Koinange): Read your latest issue.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order!

The Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Koinange): Read the Kenya Laws. The section reads:

"Any chief may from time to time issue orders to be obeyed by persons residing within the local limits of his jurisdiction for any of the purposes following:—

11 (e) requiring persons to attend, for any purpose in the interest of good government, before an administrative officer, liwali, mudir, at any time and at any place appointed by him, or before himself at any place within the local limits of his jurisdiction.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, Section 18 of the same law reads:—

18. Any person who without lawful excuse disobeys or fails to comply with any lawful order issued or given by a chief or sub-chief under this Ordinance, or by an administrative officer, liwali or mudir under section 17 of this Ordinance shall be guilty of an offence and liable, on conviction before a magistrate, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two months or to a fine not exceeding one hundred and fifty shillings, and in default of payment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Minister, when he read out to us the relevant law, Chapter 128, and now that we know there is such a law obliging the members of public to attend chief's, district commissioner's or provincial commissioner's meetings, if they are specifically asked to do so, is the Minister aware that Mr. Dawi was arrested while attending the district commissioner's meeting and was even sitting near the district commissioner himself when the tribal policemen came and arrested him, and this happened because this man is an enemy of the chief, and therefore he used this section of the law to arrest this person? Is it not true that the district commissioner can use the same law to arrest me tomorrow?

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, with all due respect to the hon. Member, if it is true that the person in question was arrested at the meeting, which he was ordered to attend by the very chief, then I would unreservedly say that that was wrong. I would, however, like to check more closely than that.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us hear more questions rather than points of order.

Mr. Araru: Arising out of the good answer given by the Minister, when he said that if it is true that this man was arrested at the baraza that was wrong, how can this be proved? I do not know the way in which we can bring the facts in this House because I did not have a camera to take a photograph at the time of arrest. Could the Minister tell us how he is going to investigate the matter? I can produce 100 witnesses who saw the man being arrested at the baraza and he was jailed for a month. I can even produce documents showing that the appeal of this case is going on in a court of law. What is he going to do about it?

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member should have come to my office—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order. Shall we hear his reply first?

Mr. Koinange: The Member should have come to my office and revealed this story to me because I obtained the information I am giving to the House from the officers in the area, through the provincial commissioner and it is absolutely what I am relying on. I want to say this, Mr. Speaker: if what he says is a fact, he must bring that information to my office. However, the main point is that the law which the chief uses is the law passed by this House.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Minister, in the first place, I am getting absolutely fed up with Ministers who cannot check their answers first before coming to feed us with plenty of lies in this House—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Can you ask your question?

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the question was directly as follows:—

"Will the Minister tell this House whether (a) this man was goaled because he failed to attend a public meeting organized by the district commissioner; and, if so, whether this is actually the law."

Why was he arrested? The Minister comes here to quote outdated laws.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! You may ask the first part of the question and try to get a reply from the Minister on whether this man was attending the meeting or he failed to attend the meeting. However, the second part has been answered because that is why he quoted the section in the law.

Mr. Migire: Mr Speaker, Sir, on a point of order, I am seeking your guidance on this. The Minister has told us very categorically, when answering this question, that he wants to go, now, and check why this man was arrested. Do we understand from the Minister that he is answering questions at a time when he has not even investigated and found out why this person was arrested? He is telling us that if somebody fails to attend a chief's baraza, or whatever it is, he would be arrested, but he is not telling us specifically why this man was arrested. Is he in order to mislead us?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I think what he said here was that he is relying on the information which he received from his officers there. I think he did say that. At the same time he said that if Mr. Araru gave him the facts he would look into them and he promised he could still do it if Mr. Araru could give him the facts.

Mr. Jilo: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it has become a habit on the part of the Ministers to come and tell us they rely on the information they get from their field officers. Would it not be in order, now, Mr. Speaker, that we get an assurance from you that no Minister will come to reply to a question in this House if he is not in possession of adequate information?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No. I cannot give that assurance myself.

Mr. Ogal: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the reply by the Minister, when he said that if you miss attending a chief's baraza without permission from either the chief or the sub-chief, you must be accused, what about an area where there are about 4,000 people; how does he expect each of these 4,000 people to attend a baraza or ask for permission?

Mr. Koinange: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not say what the hon. Member says. I said that if the chief specifically asks a Mr. Njuguna, a Mr. Onyango or So-and-so to come and attend a meeting—he can use a letter, he can send a message, a police officer or an administrative officer to that particular person or persons that request should be complied with. If he sends a message to you or to me, we have to obey. If a person deliberately refuses to obey that order, he is actually liable to be dealt with according to the law which was passed in this House.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order. It is quite clear that we will never satisfy everybody on this one. It is quite obvious, that the conflict here is between what the Members want and what the law says but so long as the law remains as it is, then it is up to this House, when the time comes, to change it, otherwise you can do nothing about it. Therefore, we will go on now.

Hon. Members: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No. We have no time. If you want to raise it, give me notice. You do not have to shout. Next question.

CREATION OF HOUSING MANAGER'S POST BY NAIROBI CITY COUNCIL

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Local Government the following Question by Private Notice:—

Will the Minister stop approving the Nairobi City Council's decision to create the post of Housing Manager because the whole decision is tribalistic?

The Minister for Local Government (Dr. Kiano): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. In the first place I want to thank the hon. Member for bringing up this question in order to enable me to clear the air about this post of the Housing Manager.

Sir, this matter started being discussed as early as the first month of last year. At that time, a committee of the council met mainly due to some of the complaints about reorganization of the housing section of the Department of Social Services and Housing. A committee of the council invited suggestions from the chief officers as to how this question of housing management can be handled. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the first report that came, and that is why I personally do not agree with the hon. Member that tribalistic considerations are the issue. The first paper I have is from the present Director of Social Services and Housing. He submitted a report in May and he says: "The sole aim of effecting a reorganization of housing section as indicated below is to introduce greater efficiency. It is proposed to have one specific person whose duties shall be housing management under the existing department of this departmental set-up." In that paper he gives a number of duties that would be done or performed by the housing manager. For the benefit of the House, Mr. Speaker, Sir, and since the decision has already been debated publicly in the council, I am willing to lay on the Table that report. It calls for a creation of a housing manager as recommended by the Director of Social Services and Housing but indicating that what is important is not a creation of a separate department but rather—

[The Minister for Local Government]

Sorry, Sir, I was having some difficulties from the back here.

The housing section, Sir, would be reorganized and this does not involve establishment of a separate department.

An hon. Member: Question!

The Minister for Local Government (Dr. Kiano): I am going on, Mr. Speaker, Sir, because I do think that this is a very serious question, and I hope a lot of interruptions will not be necessary—

Hon. Members: Question!

The Minister for Local Government (Dr. Kiano): Mr. Speaker, Sir, after that report, we then had another report from the Organization and Methods Department of the City Council in June, again agreeing that there was need for reorganization of the housing section. The report suggested a post known as senior superintendent of estates, among other things. Here is the report. It was classified "confidential"; but now that the matter has already been discussed by the Council I am willing to let the House have a look at the report. Sir, after that report, the Director of Social Services and Housing, who is the person overall and responsible for the department, made a considerable study and comments on the report of the Organization and Methods Officer and also made his comments to the Council. This report is called "Comments of the Report of Organization and Methods Officer of June, 1970." In this report, which comments on the report of the Organization and Methods, the Director makes a lot of good suggestions, and one of the suggestions was that "We do not agree with the designations of 'superintendent of estates' or 'senior superintendent of estates' because they are not suitable terms for the present Kenya or for the future. We are therefore proposing to introduce the universally accepted term of 'Housing Manager' which, in effect, is more descriptive of the type of work being done and which is to be done in the future." This, again, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Director of Social Services and Housing commenting on the report of the Organization and Methods Officer. The Director of Social Services and Housing is the top man in that department which deals with housing. His name is Charles Siganga. However, I was trying to leave the names out.

Sir, after these reports, a meeting was held by the various committees of the City Council and the main argument, if any, was the question, not of the duties as spelled out in the original plan of the Director—which were practically as adopted by the council—but of the scale of salary which could be accorded to that particular post. The matter finally came to the full council, I believe towards the end of January, and that meeting was to agree or not to agree with the report of the Staff and Housing Committee which had recommended that this post be created. There was an attempt to defeat the proposal—

Mr. Lotodo: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, let us not have interruptions now. We do not have time.

The Minister for Local Government (Dr. Kiano): There was an attempt to defeat that proposal by what we call "reference back". An hon. councillor proposed that this particular creation of the post be referred back and when voting took place 28 councillors rejected the "reference back" whereas 11 wanted the "reference back" and therefore the full council agreed that the post of housing manager be created. Therefore, Sir, it is my conviction, after all these studies, that allegations of "tribalistic considerations" are not justified.

(The hon. Dr. Kiano laid three documents on the Table)

Mr. Mutiso: Arising out of that lengthy reply from the Minister, in which he wants, in fact, to convince the House on the grounds of his arguments, would he not agree with me that all the councillors who voted in favour of the establishment of this particular post are from one and the same tribe and those who voted against are from the other tribes? That is why, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I hold the opinion that this does not represent the views of the Kenyans who are in that Council but of one particular tribe. That is why, Sir, it is our wish that the Minister should defer the creation of this post.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Dr. Kiano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think, here again we must be careful. I do not want to reveal some of the private conversations I have been having with some Members here on this issue because it is not the right thing. To argue that all 28 councillors come from one particular province and to say that all 11 come from another is not correct as a matter of fact.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the allegation made by hon. Mutiso, would it not be in order for this House to ask him to substantiate his allegation that there was tribalism?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Yes, Mr. Mutiso, can you do that?

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is a fact which is very well known. The 11 councillors who voted against the creation of this particular post are: Kamba, Luo, and Baluhya; and the rest, who voted in favour of this post, are Kikuyu and Meru. Can he deny that?

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply—who is, in my opinion, a doctor of tribalism, can—

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Dr. Kiano: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not believe that this House is to be used for name-calling. I would expect the hon. Member to withdraw that phrase he used against me.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I am sorry I did not hear what the hon. Member said. Did he say you are a tribalist? Now, Mr. Wabuge, did you say "tribalist"?

Mr. Wabuge: I said "doctor of tribalism" Mr. Speaker.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Will you sit down? Now, Mr. Wabuge, it is not the first time you have been extremely offensive. I noticed it when you were asking another question of another Minister. It is not called for here. Now, if you said what Dr. Kiano has said, you will withdraw it and apologize.

Mr. Wabuge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in order to allow me to ask the question, I beg to withdraw. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would also like to apologize and congratulate him. Mr. Speaker, Sir, my question is as follows: In view of the fact that there is a serious matter over this issue, is the Minister prepared, now, to accept the report by the Director of Social Services of the City Council and reject the resolution by the City Council?

Dr. Kiano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to be clear on this issue. In the first place the person, as I had said earlier on, who proposed the creation of the post was the Director of Social Services and Housing himself, and I laid on the Table that same report. This man happened to— Will you just wait a minute, Mr. Ayah, please? This gentleman happened not to come from whatever is alleged by the hon. Member. As I had said earlier on, there may have been some disagreement on the salary scale. The second point, and this time I am going to be very correct, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is that I was trying to avoid a private discussion with the hon. Member; however, only last week the hon. Member from Kitale West, or from wherever he is from, came to see me right in this House. I was sitting next to Mr. Ngureti and he told me to reject this post in order not to reduce the powers of Mr. Siganga who happens to be a Muluhya. He cannot deny that fact.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Now, we still have three questions to cover and we have gone far beyond our time for questions. If anybody is interested in this he can follow it up in the normal manner. We will, therefore, move on to the next question now.

Next question.

ROAD ACCIDENT AT JUJA

Mr. Kahengeri: Before I ask the question I would like to correct something there. My name is "Kahengeri", not "Kehengeri". That is a typographical error.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs the following Question by Private Notice:—

Since seven persons have been killed in six road accidents by speeding motorists in the last two months on Nairobi/Thika Road at Juja, between the Thiririka and Ndarugu rivers, could the Minister consider, as a matter of urgency, building bumps on this part of the road to control high speed and prevent fatal accidents?

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. To part (a) of this question, the answer is, "No".

Mr. Kanja: With all due respect, Mr. Speaker, Sir, to the hon. Assistant Minister, why does he say "no" yet we have already lost seven lives of our own people and if we could have controlled the speed of the careless drivers we could have saved the seven lives and made use of those seven people who have already died? What explanation does the Ministry have?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the explanation is very simple. It is not only on this road that we have these accidents. Accidents have occurred in many parts of our country and on many of our roads. If we have to put these bumps on these roads one thing will happen, there will be slowing down in speed, traffic jamming and, secondly, for those, Mr. Speaker, Sir, who do not know, if these bumps are built there, there will be more overturning of cars driven by drivers who will not be aware they are there because they will suddenly find themselves on the bumps and their cars will overturn. Secondly, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is not the solution to the speed limit. The solution lies elsewhere and this could only lie in legislating laws, in this country, limiting speeds on various parts of the roads. However, if you have to put up bumps all over the roads we have in the country, first it will cost us a lot of money, and, secondly, we will not be helping to solve the situation. At least that money could be better used elsewhere.

Mr. Kahengeri: Arising from the arrogant reply the Assistant Minister has given, is he denying that seven people have been killed there or he is saying that they are not going to put bumps on this road?

Mr. Shikuku: I did not deny in my reply, that seven people were killed there: I accept that they have been killed. However, the solution is not building bumps on this road. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member will agree with me that even with the speed we have here in Nairobi, of 30 miles per hour, in the morning you will find there are a lot of cars and a lot of people who report on duty late because of the speed. When you build up bumps it will reduce the speed and when you reduce the speed the traffic flow will be jammed and there will be a lot of delay on the roads. What we can possibly think of, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is legislation. In such areas speed limits should be laid down so that we can reduce the accidents. At the same time the drivers, themselves, must exercise also their discretion and drive carefully so that we can reduce the accidents. However, you can never reduce accidents 100 per cent.

PAYMENTS DEMANDED FROM "B" LICENCE
HOLDERS IN BARINGO

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Power and Communications the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Is the Minister aware that the traders in Baringo District have been asked by the Government, through the district commissioner's office, to pay Sh. 400 each before they collect their "B" licences?
- (b) Could he explain why "B" licence holders should pay the amount and whether this is happening all over the Republic?
- (c) Is he also aware that some traders in the district have been refused various tenders because they have not paid the said fees of Sh. 400?

- (d) What immediate action is he taking to remedy the situation?

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I wish to inform the hon. Member that I am not aware of the traders in Baringo District being asked by the Government to pay Sh. 400 before collecting their "B" licences.

(b) "B" Licence holders are not asked by the Government to pay Sh. 400 and it is not required of such licence holders anywhere in the country. All they need to pay is the normal licence of Sh. 30.

(c) Similarly I am not aware of any licence holder being refused tenders for failure to pay the said Sh. 400. The appropriate action will be taken if such a case is reported to the appropriate authority. Hitherto, no such a case has been reported.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, my Ministry does not intend to take action in this matter because the allegations are groundless.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to tell the Minister that I am not complaining about the Sh. 30, but my main complaint here is about this new fee of Sh. 400. I will tell him that last week, or let us say, two weeks ago, two people went to Kabarnet's district commissioners' office wanting to collect their approved "B" licences which were sent by the Transport Licensing Board from Nairobi. One bought his licence at Sh. 300 and on the next morning one came and he was asked to pay Sh. 400. This licence is still at Kabarnet up to this moment. The owner has not collected it because he has not paid Sh. 400. Therefore, this is what I want to know, what this Sh. 400 is for.

Mr. Somo: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the questioner substantiate this serious allegation concerning the Sh. 400 in a way of producing a letter, receipt or through any other method so that he can prove the matter to this House?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): The Minister has said that he knows nothing about these fees. Therefore, the best solution is for hon. Cheboiwo to see him later and give him the information required.

CLOSURE OF KYUSO SECONDARY SCHOOL DUE TO LACK OF WATER

Mr. Matiko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Education the following Question by Private Notice:—

[Mr. Matiko]

- (a) Is the Minister aware that Kyuso Secondary School was closed down on 24th February 1971, because of lack of water and that 123 Forms I, II and III students are at their homes without knowing their future this term?
- (b) If the answer to (a) is in the affirmative, could the Minister tell this House what urgent measures he is going to take to reopen the school?

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Rubia): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Kyuso Secondary School is officially a day school. The school is, therefore, still running even though the Harambee dormitories have closed down as a result of water shortage.

(b) The school, being officially a day one, the Ministry has no responsibility to provide water in the dormitories which the local people have put up on Harambee basis. It is, therefore, the responsibility of the local leaders to organize and mobilize people in an effort to procure water for use in the dormitories.

Mr. Matiko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, that Kyuso Secondary School is a day school, is he aware that Kyuso Secondary School has 123 boarding pupils and that it is not a day school as he states?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have said that Kyuso is a day Secondary School.

Mr. Matiko: No, no.

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, honestly, is it in order to shout like that?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Shall we have less wild shouting, please?

Mr. Rubia: Well, I have said Kyuso Secondary School is not—and I repeat, “not”—a boarding school as far as the Ministry is concerned.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, while agreeing with the Assistant Minister that Kyuso Secondary School is not a boarding school, and realizing that not all schools throughout the Republic are for boarders, would he deny that Kyuso Secondary School is not fully aided by the Government and because of that it deserves service by means of water supply?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, Kyuso Secondary School is Government aided, only it is not a boarding school.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, while agreeing that Kyuso Secondary School is Government aided, and also realizing the gravity of the situation, in that the pupils have gone home because of lack of water, would the Assistant Minister take it seriously that water is very essential in this school and, therefore, help this particular school by providing water?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have not disputed the importance, the essentiality, of water but I have said that the local people must get together and see whether or not they can provide water. The Ministry is certainly not going to provide a water supply.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We must go on now.

Hon. Members: On a point of order! On a point of order!

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! You can follow up the matter in the normal manner. We have no time now.

Mr. Okero.

MINISTERIAL STATEMENT

SPREAD OF CHOLERA IN TANA RIVER DISTRICT

The Minister for Health (Mr. Okero): Mr. Speaker, Sir, with your permission, I would like to make a short Ministerial Statement on Cholera el tor.

The Ministry of Health on the 6th March 1971, notified the World Health Organization in Geneva that there had been cases of diarrhoea near the Kenya/Somalia border coming from the area around Galole in the Tana River District. The Ministry of Health have carried out laboratory investigations and have bacteriologically confirmed one case of cholera in the area. Since then I have, myself, visited Galole in the company of my hon. colleague, the Member for the area. I am satisfied, after personally observing the measures my Ministry has already put into effect that the situation is being well handled.

Other Ministries of the Kenya Government are assisting my Ministry and, in fact, have been co-operating with us for the last four months in all our endeavours to deal with preventive measures, and in handling the present situation. I have the entire Ministry of Health on the alert so that we can cope with the present situation and any other developments. We have intensified preventive measures in the whole of the Coast Province, Garissa and other adjacent areas. These measures include immunization of the population at risk, treatment of known and suspected cases, provision and use of safe water, proper sanitation, personal and home hygiene, fly control measures and restriction of movements for those not immunized. The people must boil drinking water and must not bathe in the rivers. They must also use latrines or dig holes and cover faeces.

[The Minister for Health]

In view of the fact that this is an important and delicate matter, and Government is dealing with it effectively, I would like, through you, Sir, to request the hon. Members not to panic but to assist the Ministry in the effort it is already making. I would like to ask my colleagues, including members of the public, not to issue unnecessary, alarming statements. If any member feels that there is any issue which needs attention, they should get in touch with me so that the matter can be attended to.

When I visited Galole yesterday, I found that there had been 27 suspected cases and I was informed of a total of 19 deaths. My team of doctors, nurses and other health personnel have been strengthened and are on the spot dealing with the sick and undertaking preventive measures. The Ministry has therefore, as well as keeping the normal health services functioning without interruption, taken up the situation with the necessary attention so as to contain it, and we will need everyone's co-operation in this.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we will be issuing information as necessary so that the public knows what is happening and what is expected of everyone, from time to time.

Mr. Jilo: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I thank the hon. Minister for Health for the trouble he took to visit the area yesterday. I was there, myself, on Sunday and I am glad that he has now informed the House of the prevalent facts regarding the whole episode.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are things on which, I think, the Minister has not been informed correctly. Yesterday, the team that was supposed to have carried medicine, and which was supposed to move right into the hinterland, had not arrived up to the time the Minister, himself, left Galole. He cannot deny this.

The other point, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Mr. Jilo, you know what we do in such a case as this. What you have to do is to ask for clarification; you cannot start making a speech or disagreeing with the Minister. If you have any information you can see him and give it to him.

Mr. Jilo: I think I have finished because I wanted him to realize and to agree with me or not that the reason why the deaths of people is rising almost daily is because the outlying people have not been reached by his team. They are concentrating on Galole Town alone.

Mr. Somo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to thank the hon. Minister for Health for the trouble he took to visit the Tana River District. However, is the Minister aware that in a village called

Kipini, which is in the Tana River District, the people there cannot move within the District of Tana River unless they pass through Lamu District, what precautionary measures is the Ministry taking in order to make sure that when these people are travelling around—

Mr. Jilo: Nothing. (Inaudible).

Mr. Somo: — What precautionary measures is the Ministry of Health taking in order to—

Mr. Jilo: Nothing.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Mr. Somo.

Mr. Jilo, if you interrupt again that way, you will leave this Chamber.

Mr. Somo: What is the Minister doing to stop the spread of this disease?

The Minister for Health (Mr. Okero): Mr. Speaker, Sir, when I was in Galole there was a team of additional staff who were expected to arrive there in order to assist in the inoculation, and they arrived just about three minutes before my plane took off. Equally well on my arrival here, we made arrangements and I think a Kenya Air Force aircraft—I think a Caribou or, probably a Beaver—left some time this morning with additional equipment and staff that was required.

What I would like to assure the Members, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is this: that I personally feel that Kenya has the facilities and the means to control the situation in those cases in which it is not possible for people to travel for long distances for inoculation. We try as far as possible to reach the people where they are. I would like to assure the hon. Members that all we can do we are doing and we are getting the co-operation from all the other departments in our Ministries in our Government. I think, quite frankly, that there is nothing I can add to this and in the course of these operations there will be delays here and there occasionally, and all the rest of it; which is, in fact, part of human nature. I am not here to hide anything at all; I am here to say precisely what we are trying to do and that is what I am here to tell the House.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Minister specifically tell us why there are no qualified doctors in Galole because we heard that when these people in Galole caught this disease they had to be driven to the general hospital at Mombasa and they had to cross all the lakes and rivers because there is no qualified doctor in every corner of Kenya, for example, in Mandera, Galole or Moyale which are all disease camps? What is his Ministry doing to get some qualified doctors to those parts of the country so that immediately someone is known to be suffering from this disease the doctor is called before the disease spreads? Instead of having clinic assistants in every corner of the country we should have qualified doctors.

The Minister for Health (Mr. Okero): I think, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it would be quite wrong to suggest that the outbreak of cholera has anything to do with the fact that there was no doctor in a particular place. In fact, the treatment of cholera is pretty straightforward in those cases in which it has been properly identified. The clinical assistant in Galole was doing a very good job and now he has been strengthened by a large number of other staff who have gone there because of this particular situation. However, I do not want the hon. Members, whose knowledge about this disease is probably as much as mine—I am a layman in medical matters, but I do know that the treatment of cholera is one that does not necessarily require highly-skilled people; it is pretty straightforward. We are doing all we can with the staff available.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No more on that. We must go on now.

NOTICE OF MOTION FOR THE
ADJOURNMENT

COMMENCEMENT OF BRAEBURN HOUSE COED
PREPARATORY SCHOOL

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I have received a written notice from Mr. Yunis Ali, Member for Langata, of his intention to raise on a Motion for the Adjournment a matter contained in a reply received to Question No. 43 (1260) concerning the commencement of Braeburn House Coed Preparatory Primary School at Lavington Nairobi. I shall call for the Motion for the Adjournment at the time of interruption of business, tomorrow, Wednesday, 10th March 1971.

MOTION

THANKS FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS
(Fifth Day)

THAT the thanks of this House be recorded for the exposition of Public policy contained in His Excellency's Presidential Address from the Chair on 23rd February 1971.

(The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs on 25th February 1971)

(Resumption of Debate interrupted on 4th March 1971)

Mr. Cheserek: I was speaking when we adjourned, Sir.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): My list must be wrong, then. You were speaking, Mr. Kase; were you?

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Kase): Yes, Sir.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like first to use my remaining minutes to thank the Minister for Health personally for having visited the area where the victims of cholera are suffering. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like also to thank the officers who were working at Galole Hospital. Now, I must admit that some of them have never lived there, but the work and effort they are putting in to make the disease less or to eradicate the disease around my place is tremendous.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) left the Chair]

[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki) took the Chair]

Now, I would also like, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, to appeal to everybody that what these people need is encouragement. Now, what you see in Galole is a group of people seated together thinking that they will be the next victims. Now, I think in my own view, it might not help us trying to create more fear in the minds of these people. This is where, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would join the Minister for Health and appeal to everybody, including the Press to exercise restraint. I do know that the Press sometimes looks for news which can sell so that when they put it on the front page the papers sell faster. However, in this exercise—and I am not accusing them, but they might do it in this case—I think we need real encouragement from the people and, perhaps, from various Government organizations, including Members of this House; they should go and put more courage into these people.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like also to ask those Ministries concerned and especially on the question of movement. I am very convinced that, perhaps, because this area which has been affected was not inoculated in the beginning, some of these characters who cross the borders from Somalia to Kenya and have come to the river bank must have been the carriers. I think, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we need really to restrict the movement of these fellows so that we do not have the disease carried because, here people live along the riverside and they rely on the river for water for both bathing and cooking and the disease is bound to spread slowly along the riverside.

Now, as much as we can stop our own people, and here I speak in terms of our own people, as long as they cannot refrain from using water which is bound to have been contaminated with this disease, they might not find the solution easily. When I was there with the Minister yesterday, I was informed that quite a number of people have agreed to follow the advice given to them with regard to using boiled water. This is very encouraging, because in the long run our people will be well and fine when they go back to the normal situation.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, having dealt with that one, I will use the last two minutes in saying that it is important that these people who are suffering like this should be well looked after and fed properly. The department concerned, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, should ensure that vehicles carrying foodstuffs to the district are not stopped on the way because this is what has happened lately. I do not blame the policemen—perhaps they do not understand—but I feel that any lorry driver who has had his inoculation should be left alone to carry foodstuffs to the district. Otherwise, what we are bound to see, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is that there is a road block from Garissa, a road block from Lamu and there is a road block from Malindi and, therefore, foodstuffs cannot go through to these places. Now, if we also starved these people, I think we would be making the situation worse than it was before.

Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I do not want to dwell on this very much, but the only thing I would, inform our hon. friends, the hon. Members, is that cholera has not affected the whole of Tana River District. Now, the hon. Member for Lamu West was giving me the impression that people travelling from Tana River to another place must pass via Lamu. However, I think if he is well informed, that area he is talking about, from Kipini to Witu and on to Garissa was inoculated in November, last year and so the danger there does not arise. The people coming from Kipini or coming from Witu are safe. If he knew his geography, he would not have said that.

Mr. Somo: I know the area well.

The Assistant Minister for Information and Broadcasting (Mr. Kase): Well, I am just trying to put your ignorant knowledge right.

Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, finally, I would like to say that all of us who are here must try to find ways and means of co-operating so that when we are working we work together. One thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that surprises me in this exercise—and here I do not want to blame anybody—is that our provincial headquarters have done nothing, and I think at least they need to have done something. You will be surprised, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, to hear that when we arrived in Galole with the Minister for Health, the provincial officers in Mombasa had not even reached Galole. Now, this was a surprise because, if doctors from Nairobi went, doctors from Garissa went and still doctors from Mombasa, who were supposed to go, including the provincial medical officer, had not been seen in the place; I think this is ridiculous. Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I think this is rather ridiculous—when we had famine in the place the provincial commissioner never bothered about it. This is another case where another provincial head is not bothering about the situation. Mr. Deputy Speaker, we begin to wonder whether our provincial headquarters is really being co-operative enough and I would appeal to this House, through you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, to tell these fellows to behave, and if they do not want to behave, I think they had better leave their jobs to others who can do them better.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I am glad to have this opportunity to air my views. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am extremely grateful to the Minister for Health because of the statement he has made in this House this afternoon. Of course, when you read about the situation of cholera in the papers whether you are a doctor or not, you get alarmed by this disease although it is known that this type of disease could be contained biologically if only you prevent it earlier. I understood earlier that they had a big team which was working in the northern area of Kenya. I do not know whether or not this is going on or that since one of the doctors who was supposed to head it has left Government service probably the team has broken down, and if that is the case, the Minister ought to put someone else in his place.

An hon. Member: Why do you not help them?

Dr. Munene: I would not mind helping them if you do not mind. Mr. Deputy Speaker, my main concern was not about cholera because I was satisfied by the Minister's statement. I am interested in His Excellency the President's Speech which he gave on the 23rd of last month. Mr. Deputy Speaker, this country is on the move and we have three main institutions. We have this House, we have the Government and we have our party. There are a good number of people who have spoken quite a great deal about the party. However, I would like to put across a word or two because of the misinformation which most of us have. His Excellency the President appointed a committee and charged it with the duty of reorganizing of our party. I understand that even up to today this report has not reached the President; and if it has, I think there is a tug-of-war, for posts in party, which has not come out in the open. I am wondering how you can organize a party, or reorganize a department if you really want to be the head of that department. I think that committee for reorganization should be quashed so that we may get people who are not interested to do the job. They are wondering who is going to be the Secretary-General, and as a result they haggle about the report. They ask, "Who is going to be the Vice-President?" And therefore they keep haggling about the report in this way. Mr. Deputy Speaker, it is high time this House was enlightened about the few who want to take this chance so that they may be removed from the committee in order that the committee works quickly.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, at the same time, under the old system every hon. Member in this House was elected by a Kanu ticket and he put a deposit of Sh. 1,000 which was not recovered. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I believe that this money should have been distributed fairly to every district where the money came from. I am saying this because when you keep the money here at the headquarters, I do not know what you do with it. If it is the money building the Kanu Headquarters Building here, we had better be told, and maybe we could contribute more; but if not, let this money be taken back home. This also happened during the Local Government Authorities Elections. People were handing a deposit of Sh. 200 to their district commissioners and this money was unrefundable, Where is this money? If this money is for building the Kanu Headquarters Building, we had better be told, as I did point out earlier, and then we can contribute more knowing where it is going. However, if you say that the money is for the party, it must go to the respective district where it came from and that will reorganize our party even before we get this report.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, on the Presidential Speech, he mentioned quite a good number of important things in connexion with the reorganization of local authorities. We are now breaking down the area councils and we are coming back to the old system of locational councils. I am wondering whether Government is going to take this matter seriously. I am saying this, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, because you may elect the people to serve the area councils and all that but, where will these people get offices when you elect them as locational councillors? Where will they get offices? Will the chief become the chairman and start arresting them as we were told here this afternoon? If Government wants to reorganize the local authorities on the basis of the old system, then Government must have money, and that money has to be earmarked in this House to build locational halls, and at the same time we should have a clerk for each location who is going to cater for these people. Otherwise, electing them is just like electing a Kanu chairman in the locations and then these people will be roaming about, the chiefs pushing them left or right wherever they want, and these councils will not function at all. At the same time, I would like to ask the Minister for Local Government to specify what role these people are going to play. Do not call them the area councillors or councillors when they have no job to do, just in the same way as we have the local authorities who have no job. They are harassing the people because they want to create jobs for themselves, when it should be clearly defined what they are supposed to do. If they are not required by the Central Government, let them be quashed and that could be better.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, there is an anomaly in Kenya as far as rates in the municipalities and land rent are concerned. Now, I understand one hon. Minister was complaining at the coast that they pay both. In my own constituency, I have two places which were owned by a Muhindi and now he is gone. However, we find that the local authorities are charging us rates and rents and the land is ours. We are the people who gave this land to the council and we are being asked to pay rates and land rents. This, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to be looked into, with a view to unifying whatever is paid in Kisumu and in Mombasa so that this is uniform. We should not be charging rates in some areas when there is no service given to the people. You charge rates or rents to the people and you do not give them any service at all. They do not mind about these places; they only come to collect the rents. We do not want this Government of ours to behave like the British Government in America, whereby people are taxed and they are not served. If you do that you know what to expect from the people. If you have to tax the people, you have to serve them.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there was a point during our last Session before we went into recess that most of the hon. Members in Parliament are completely ignorant of, not only about their own constituencies, but are also completely ignorant about their next door constituencies. It is high time Government establishes a sort of a fund which could be used in taking Members around from one province to another to see for themselves the development taking place so that when they talk in this House they do not mention one tribe only while they do not even know where somebody sleeps. You just come here to sort of talk off your mouth and you do not know that there are so many Kikuyus who are dying of hunger, there are so many Kikuyus who have no houses because you have no chance to go there and see for yourselves. I would like the Government to institute a sort of a fund to educate these people. They are the law-makers—

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Who are these people.

Dr. Munene: You, especially. You come here—

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is it in order for the hon. Member to refer to the hon. Members in this House as "these people", and when I point out the mistake to him, he says, "you particularly" directing this to me while I am so cultured?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): No, he knows that one has to refer to Members as hon. Members.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Deputy Speaker, this is a necessity, because we are the law-makers of this country and we have to understand the country. This does not only include our constituencies and I feel there are quite a good number of people in this House, who are the top law-makers of this country, who do not know where Mount Kenya Safari Lodge is; they do not even know where Nairobi Park is, and it is high time we encouraged these people to go round, and see their own country so that they may speak better when they come here.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, although this question has been touched on quite a bit by hon. Members here, in the form of questions, there is quite a great deal of public money which is being wasted either in the banks or elsewhere by our statutory bodies, for example, the Agricultural Finance Corporation. There are quite a good number of people who get a piece of land, keep their percentage there and do not get any interest, and in the end they have to recover their money from the Agricultural Finance Corporation because the land or property has been bought by somebody else. This must be accelerated. If there are no more loans, let the people be told so until such-and-such time, and then we may start negotiating all over again.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, there is a great deal of speculation here in Nairobi, especially on plots or houses which are being bought. I know one case whereby somebody bought a house and the lawyers bill was Sh. 5,000 because the property had changed hands from many people, and the whole bill was loaded on the poor African. This must be looked into.

I understand the Minister for Lands and Settlement will buy all the land in urban areas, but before he gets the law into his hands to buy these lands, let us have somebody who is going to help the poor Africans. They are being squeezed and are paying a lot of money for nothing. There is the Law of Exchange, and if I want to buy a property—say, it is me who is going to buy that property—I have to pay for the exchange or something like that. But on the other hand, all these people who exchange this money among themselves squeeze the last buyer because they reckon that, after all he calls himself a citizen. Therefore he has to pay for his citizenship. It is high time Government looked into these things and streamlined the buying of property in Nairobi.

With these few words Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to support.

Mr. Akumu: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I wish to thank you for giving me this opportunity to make a contribution on the brilliant Speech made by His Excellency the President.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, once an African statesman said that there was a devil running round every corner of Africa putting out a spell. At one time we thought that we in East and Central Africa were going to be spared of this devil.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, it would appear that this devil is dancing a limbo within our own border. It would appear that if we do not think very seriously— Not this House, because it has talked enough; I have been in this House for a year, Mr. Deputy Speaker—

An hon. Member: How long have you been in the union?

Mr. Akumu: I have been a full-time union leader for 13 years, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

I am afraid that unless something is done—not by this House but by those who are in a position to execute the decisions, the policies and the views expressed by this House—that devil is soon getting entry and will get a foothold in this country.

What is the biggest disease? What are the causes of this? One of them is tribalism, and the other is the fear of democracy by those who are in authority. Fear! Why can we not reorganize the party? Why can we not reorganize the Kanu Party? It is because some people fear defeat, saying, "Yes, I would have liked So-and-so, but I have been defeated. So congratulations. You have had it." This is the fear and it is the disease.

[Mr. Akumu]

The second disease, as I have said, is tribalism. Why come and preach here and everywhere else saying, "No tribalism", while you are actually the archpriest or the archbishop of tribalism?

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): The Speaker?

Mr. Akumu: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if these hon. Ministers know, I am not referring to you.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Then you had better address the Chair. Speak in the third person.

Mr. Akumu: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I am asking for one thing in this country so that we may stop that devil from entering into this country, that is, we have to accept democracy, and those in authority have to accept defeat when they are defeated; we have to practise fairness and we have to stop tribalism.

What is wrong with Africa, Mr. Deputy Speaker? Everybody is talking of the liberation of Angola, Rhodesia and South Africa. First of all, to know that there is this devil, really, the liberation fighters themselves cannot agree. The hon. Burudi, who has been involved in this matter, would agree with me. They themselves cannot agree on how to liberate themselves. They cannot agree, and therefore we, who are supposed to assist them, do not know how to assist them and liberate them. Mr. Deputy Speaker, therefore, we end up with a continent, which is one of the wealthiest in the world, with a declining standard of living. The people are getting poorer and poorer. Why? It is because every wealth is being tapped out as we cannot agree. You will be told, probably by professional men, that this is because we are producing more children than we should produce.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, you had the opportunity of being in the land of Malthus. When Malthus talked of this in Britain there were 10 million people, and today there are 53 million enjoying a better standard of living than during Malthus' life. Something is wrong with us. We have all—

An hon. Member: Why only Britain?

Mr. Akumu: Mr. Deputy Speaker, can the Members not allow me to make my contribution?

On unemployment I want to make one point that there should be not only labour officers everywhere— We have computers introduced into this country while we have surplus labour. We have machines being introduced and more buildings being put up instead of job-creating investments.

There is a company which had the audacity to tell us, "We are going to spend £5 million in putting up new buildings in Nairobi which will eventually employ about 100 office messengers and clerks." They are doing this instead of spending £5 million on creating jobs.

Spend more money in the rural areas; distribute the industries. Do not have the industries concentrated in Nairobi and Thika areas. Be fair. If not, then demand a quota system so that the people can come from Bungoma—10 or 15—when they hear that there are jobs here. Otherwise there will never be sufficient jobs for everybody.

The other point which I think is very important, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is that we talk of the Community and say that it must be here and we must protect it. The Transfer Tax and everything else is levied in no other country except Kenya. Today we have many workers who are redundant. Why? It is because the other partner States in the Community do not want to buy our goods. They would rather import from Pakistan or any other place than buy Kenya's goods. Christ! Our Ministers must have the courage to tell us one thing— We either have the Community or we do not. I see the Minister for Home Affairs here. He should go and say so.

On the question of Africanization, I know one town, Kisumu— You had better call it an Asian town. I did not know that a nationalized bank cannot get an office in Kisumu because the Asians say, "No". Oh Christ, this is a shame! I think it is sad because we have failed in this country to execute— We make noise and talk here but I think we are spending the lovely four weeks— We leave it to the people who are supposed to execute it, but they do not execute it. Therefore, what—

An hon. Member: Therefore, they think you are nothing.

Mr. Akumu: They think we are all sick. That is possible because—

An hon. Member: Who are these people?

Mr. Akumu: Including you.

Up to this day we still have insurance agents and bank people counting the money of the citizens. These people are not even citizens. The insurance agents, having picked up the money collected left for Britain or their own countries. They are not citizens. We cannot even think of doing something on this matter. There is something fundamentally wrong with us.

I also know that we have condemned the civil servants here. They are not all wrong. Those who are specifically wrong, let us mention them by names. Some of them have done a good job, and I want to say that the Ndegwa Commission should, if possible, implement a wage policy that will, in the long run, only be adjustable in accordance with the economy of the country. I think His Excellency the President also mentioned the wages and income policy. We have a difference today between the urban and rural wages' policy, where the rural wage earners, the agricultural workers, are paid £3 and the urban workers earn three, four, five, six or seven times more. There is a case for adjustment of these wages, and I am afraid that the people who should be doing this are busy; if they are not busy with themselves, they are busy trying to find out how long the President is likely to live or how soon they are likely to succeed him, as the next President, instead of being busy in implementing economic measures that would make Kenya a viable nation.

Finally, Sir, His Excellency the President talked of a workers' investment trust, which will also involve housing. The Housing Ministry has done a good job, but we feel the cost of building houses is too high. We also feel that, if possible, all the expatriates' provident funds should be brought to the country.

Finally, I want to make one small appeal; that all the imperialists who did everything to His Excellency, he has excused them. Why is he keeping people like Odinga, and Oneko in detention? People who fought for his liberation, people who are his personal friends— He has excused (he has forgotten all what they did) everybody who fought against him.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Foreign Affairs (Mr. Nabwera): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, thank you for giving me the Floor, to take part in this debate.

I think the President's Speech, this year took into account the views that were expressed by hon. Members of this House, in that Government should, at the beginning of a Session like this, outline what it intends to do and, therefore, here we have a programme that we can talk about, and the kind of legislation that we anticipate from Government. His Excellency the President has, therefore, to be congratulated for delivering the Speech that was along the lines that the House wanted.

Having said this, Sir, there are three matters that I would like, briefly to talk about. Firstly, hon. colleagues that have taken part in this debate have talked about the question of national unity. I would like to speak for a few moments, on this very important question. I must warn the House that when trouble comes, if it ever comes and God forbid, it will know no tribe, it will know no section, it will have no friend. We shall all, and our families, face the same grim situation that some of the countries on this continent, and our very close neighbour, have had to face. Therefore, I must insist in emphasizing that when we talk in this House, we must be talking on behalf of all our people. There is no point in coming here to score a point. Scoring negative points, trying to embarrass each other, will never get us out of our present situation. Fate has dictated that all the people of Kenya will live in this country, therefore, the best way is to find out how we can best live together, harmoniously and in peace, so that we can develop our country for the benefit of all our people. I think we would be better advised to spend our time doing this, rather than saying whether this or that particular tribe is guilty of one crime or another.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there are three components, there are three elements, that must work in harmony, if there is going to be peace and progress in this country. And I want to differ with my colleagues who have singled out our civil servants for blame. There are some civil servants, there are still civil servants in this country who behave like kings. We must ask the Ministers in charge of such Ministries, to call these civil servants to order. However, we must not make the mistake of blaming the entire Civil Service as if it consisted of guilty men and women, who have no loyalty to serve this country. I think the facts are to the contrary, that most of the civil servants, like most of us, have the interests of Kenya at heart, and we, together with the civil servants and members of the Armed Forces must work closely, so that we can help Kenya to develop, otherwise, what we say in this country, if it pleases one section or the other, will be merely creating a situation that will lead to those dangers that we would not like to see. I want particularly to say that civil servants must support whichever government happens to be in power at that particular time. We should not expect civil servants to be committed to Kanu for ever. If Kanu is the Government today, the civil servants will support Kanu. If another party comes to power tomorrow, the civil servants, naturally shift their loyalty to the new government. If civil servants did not behave that way, they would not be civil servants; not in the sense we understand it. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I therefore, would like to appeal to the House, to ask Ministers; to attack Ministers under whose Ministries we have these civil servants who behave in a strange way and, therefore, leave those people who cannot answer for themselves from attack, although I would support constructive criticism being levelled at any public servant.

The second point I would like to refer to, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is the general question in Africa, where we have one government being overthrown after another. I think we, in Kenya, have been lucky under the leadership of His Excellency Mzee Jomo Kenyatta. However, Mzee Jomo Kenyatta will not be with us for ever; we Members of Parliament, we members of the party, we members of the public must begin preparing ourselves for a situation where we have a peaceful evolution, and not to lead to a situation where we will make it necessary for the Armed Forces to intervene, and take over the Government as they have done elsewhere. Now, the only way by which we can ensure this is to encourage more democracy. The only way by which we can ensure this is to remove cliques that go around leaders, and pretend that they are the only people who know what is good for the country, and when trouble comes, they are the first people to denounce the very leaders that they pledged loyalty to. The evidence is too close for our comfort. We must fight corruption. We must fight nepotism. It is only this way that we can lay a foundation for the transfer of power, which will be done peacefully and without too much trouble for the country.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we talk as if we are moving in small cliques. I do not think that this is good for Kenya. We must allow for a situation where a democratically elected leader will evolve; it does not matter whether the leader will be from the Coast or North-Eastern or Nyanza or Central Province.

Mr. Kitonga: Or Kitui East!

The Assistant Minister for Foreign Affairs (Mr. Nabwera): Or Kitui East, for that matter.

I think this is our duty, I think, we owe this duty to our country, to ensure that this happens.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I want to refer very briefly to one or two other matters. One is that we, as a country must be aware of the role that is being played by the citizens of non-African origin. We have created a situation in this country where we have offered full protection to all Kenya citizens. However, non-African citizens, because they have a lot of money, should not abuse the rights which have been conferred on them. There are some individuals in this country who want to grab everything because they are citizens and we must move, and we must be thinking, how to control the appetite of such rich people who want to take everything from the country and, perhaps, give back nothing. What makes me sad, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is that among some of these families that call themselves Kenya citizens, they divide themselves so that the father remains a British citizen and his children who may happen to be working in Kenya Government acquire citizenship. These people are protected under the law when they exploit our people. They exploit our country with one foot in Kenya and the other one elsewhere. We must be very careful on how we handle this situation.

Finally, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I wish to refer to the question of famine relief and I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the individuals of all races and from all countries who have made their contributions. The suffering of our people in the North-Eastern Province should be the suffering of all of us. Nobody should take comfort. We are not, as a country, divided into regions. We, as a country, are one and, therefore, their suffering is our suffering.

I think the time has come that we, as a Government, must do more. The small voluntary organizations have done their bit. If the President's Office is not in a position to handle the whole question, time has come when a particular Ministry should be asked to co-ordinate the efforts and we as a House should be prepared to vote money for famine relief in the North-Eastern Province.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Rubia): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to add my congratulations and compliments to His Excellency the President for his very brief but very concise and clear statement. The problems that were highlighted in the Presidential Address are problems that are very close to the mind and hearts of our people. They are so many that I cannot cover them all in my ten minutes but I would like to select a few and make the following comments:

I would like to begin by referring to the drought and famine relief which is currently harassing our people in those areas of the North-Eastern Province, Kitui, and the other areas. Mr. Deputy Speaker, in my capacity as the President of the Kenya Red Cross Society, I know there is a lot of suffering going on. I get reports almost every day and there is no question in disputing the fact that our people are in real trouble. We also know that there is the co-ordinating committee of the National Freedom From Hunger Campaign which is supposed to co-ordinate the efforts of all the voluntary organizations. I would like to say that they are doing a splendid job and there is no doubt about it. Our members of the public are very responsive. People are coming forward with donations both in cash and kind. What is lacking at this stage, and this is where the bottleneck is, is the question of transportation. As I address this House, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we have over 20 tons of foodstuff and medical supplies lying at the godown of the Kenya Red Cross Society. All we need is a lorry or an aircraft to transport these requirements to the dry areas. This is a situation which I would like to suggest very seriously and the Office of the President must take it more vigorously than they are doing.

I have been talking to my colleague, the Assistant Minister in the Office of the President and he knows my views about this. I do not want to hide my feelings because there is no need kidding ourselves when our people are suffering. It is a fact that some people have died in those areas. This is a fact which I got from a very reliable authority and it is correct. Therefore, all we need at this particular point is this: whatever assistance is received must find its way to the North-Eastern Province immediately. There are several soup kitchens which are set up and they are ready to serve and they are, in fact, helping us.

However, sooner or later, Mr. Deputy Speaker, when the drought is over, we are likely to have floods. So, the situation is not a short-lived one. We can say that we may have another six to nine months of trouble because when the rain starts, there will be the question of the ability to transport supplies and requirements to those areas. So, it is becoming a serious national problem and I am appealing to my colleagues in the Office of the President to look at this problem from that serious point of view.

My other point, Mr. Deputy Speaker is this: a lot of things have been said about the efficiency in the Civil Service. I do not like to refer to individuals but I would like to associate myself with those who have said that it is wrong to condemn all the civil servants because some of them do spend a lot of hours doing service to this country. In fact, I would say that to a very good measure, we have reached where we are, a stable people, because of the service provided by those public servants. However, let us be realistic because we are independent people. There are black sheep in every flock and I would like to say that in the Civil Service there are some black sheep. There are those people who spend a lot of hours in their own businesses; there are those who spend some hours attending to the problems that are very close to them or to their friends; and there are those who really despise and, in fact, hate anybody who is branded as a politician. There are also those people who are, in fact, in my observation—an honest observation and a very impartial one—working parallel to this political Government. This is a situation which must be corrected before it is too late because when a situation like that one exists, that is the situation where the politician and civil servant are working parallel to each other and where they will, therefore, never meet at any point, the ordinary man in the country suffers, the frustration mounts and anything can happen. Therefore, I think we should be deceiving ourselves if we do not say that there are areas in the Civil Service where there must be some reorganization and, in fact, I would even make a bold suggestion. Some civil servants should be retired in the interests of efficiency and the good running of this country. They have served their day. They reached the top so soon because they were victims of independence where you reach the top so soon and in a matter of three to four years you begin to get frustrated because you cannot go higher than that. You can only come out and become a politician and, perhaps, be appointed a Minister.

So, I say in all sincerity that the civil servants in this country, generally speaking, are very good people. They are honest and loyal to our Government but those few among whom are not really honest to this land should be retired because there are 11 million of us and we can get replacements.

My other point, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is that of Africanization of commerce and industry. Before I came to this House and even now—because politics is not a profession—I was a businessman. That is my profession. I want to say this. From my own knowledge I want to say that we have talked more than we have done in this exercise of Africanizing commerce and industry. Of course, it is not an easy exercise, I appreciate that, because apart from anything else we have to make sure that our economy tickles is on a sound base. So the process of transition must be very carefully worked out. I appreciate that, but it is the question of degree. I think we have moved too slowly, I think we have allowed too many loopholes, I think those citizens who are usually referred to as “paper” citizens have exploited the situation to a ridiculous, extreme absurdity. If there are any African people, black people like me who allow Indians and Europeans to use them, then I say the Ministry of Commerce and Industry has a responsibility.

I say the Africanization of commerce and industry must be speeded up. Not only that, the business community, black, white or yellow must look where they are going.

[The Assistant Minister for Education]

I do not think the notices to cancel the previous licences for this year have as yet been issued. I think this is wrong. A businessman should know in advance whether or not he is going to be allowed to trade. Why is it that so early in the year no notices to terminate their licences have been sent out?

Once again, I would like to say that we have done the best we can as a Government but I think we can do a little more. I appeal to my colleagues in the Ministry of Commerce and Industry to do something. Their's is a difficult problem, I know. I appreciate that and I agree. However, I think they are big enough to handle this. I do not accept that they cannot do so without disrupting the economy of the country.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I will come to the area where I am employed: the question of education. I have done a lot of travelling in our Republic and I would like to say this. We have succeeded as a nation, especially our President has succeeded in arousing the spirit of self-help. It is such a wonderful spirit, it is a spirit that many other countries would like to have. So far so good. Our people have responded very well, but the frustrations are mounting in as far as Harambee Secondary Schools are concerned. I would, therefore, like to make a general plea that I think our own Development Plan in this respect should be reviewed. If we can take more than 30 classes a year, I think we should do so, because the people are already becoming very frustrated.

I see my time is up. I beg to support.

Mr. Jilo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to thank the President for the policy statement which he gave to this House at the State Opening of Parliament on the 23rd of February. I would have liked to speak on many things but 10 minutes are not sufficient and so I will have to confine myself to a few points only.

The first thing is about the outbreak of cholera in Tana River, particularly in my constituency. I must thank the Ministry of Health and the Government for the speed at which they moved in the area and the way in which they are dealing with the situation. I have no words to express here.

One thing I would like to point out here is that the first team that was appointed to vaccinate people against cholera during December last year and January this year did not work efficiently. This team which was supposed to vaccinate people in the coastal belt did not do its work properly, it only vaccinated a few. The majority of the people in these areas were unvaccinated. I blame the Provincial Administration in Coast

Province for not having checked people and find out what they were doing. This is wrong. If the people had been inoculated such a situation as the one we have today would not have arisen.

There is another thing for which I would like to blame the administration. We wanted to hold meetings in order to tell our people to go to vaccination centres to be vaccinated but the district commissioner refused to give us licences as Members of Parliament. Just imagine a Member of Parliament being denied the right to hold a meeting in his area for one whole year! For the information of the House I would like to say that the hon. Kase and I were refused permission to hold meetings in our areas for the whole of 1970.

An hon. Member: Shame!

An hon. Member: By whom?

Mr. Jilo: By the district commissioner. We raised the issue here and the Assistant Minister in the President's Office told us that he was going to look into the matter. Up to now he has not come up with a reply. I can see him sitting there.

Even at the time when our help was required we were denied the right to hold meetings. I do not think we can continue to have civil servants who consider themselves to be small kings in their areas. A commission of inquiry should be set up, Sir, to investigate the activities of certain administrative officers.

Here we go on blaming the Kikuyu every day when there are some officers in the field who are not Kikuyu and who are using tribalism, brotherization and nepotism. Members seem to fear to mention this. There is an administrator in my area who is not a Kikuyu and who is using his powers to recruit people of his tribe and bring them to Tana River. Before this man came to Tana River we had only a few fishermen, now we have about 2,000 of them.

Mrs. Onyango: On a point of order, can the hon. Member substantiate which tribe has been taken to Tana River?

An hon. Member: Are they Luo?

Mrs. Onyango: Are they Luo?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): The Member speaking alleges that a certain tribe has been imported. Obviously that is the allegation. A tribe who obviously are the same tribe as some administrator in that area. Can you substantiate that?

Mr. Jilo: When people come here and start attacking one particular tribe I think this is wrong.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, it appears that the hon. Member is being interrupted— There is a trend these days that some Members can speak continuously while they are seated, even when another Member is speaking. Is that not completely out of order?

An hon. Member: Completely out of order.

Mr. Jilo: Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like this practice to be discontinued. If we want to build one Kenya, then one Kenya has to be built in all corners. By all corners I mean this. If there is one tribe practising tribalism, and this tribe is to be blamed, then other tribes should also desist from such action, such practices.

I have written a memorandum to the Minister, President's Office saying that a commission of inquiry should be set up to investigate the activities of this particular district commissioner who has been refusing us permission to hold meetings for the last 14 months. We have not been told the reason why we cannot be given permission.

To make things worse, a Kanu Secretary, who is nothing there is given permission to hold meetings in our constituencies. He holds these meetings to frustrate us.

The Assistant Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Muniya): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I feel the hon. Member will do us a good turn if he can tell us when those people were imported from the other area and who did that.

An hon. Member: Which area?

Mr. Jilo: If the Assistant Minister wants this information I will give it to him another day. However, I am assuring him, if he wants to follow up the matter, that he can telephone the provincial commissioner tomorrow and he will assure him of this.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! If you make a statement in this House which you regard as a statement of fact, then you are liable to be called upon by the Members in the House to substantiate. In other words, to give the grounds on which you base your facts, and you are now being challenged to give those facts.

Mr. Jilo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I will speak the truth here. I will speak out the facts if it is a matter of revealing them.

However, Sir, I have not mentioned any particular tribe but the other—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! Specifically, only a few minutes ago you mentioned the district commissioner of your area. If that is the man you are referring to, then you will need to say so.

Mr. Jilo: Will I also be asked to substantiate the other allegation I make here, that we have been refused permission to hold meetings throughout 1970? The two of us. Will that be included?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): When that point arises, yes. If somebody in the House asks you to substantiate that you have been denied permission to hold meetings, then you can deal with that point at that time.

For the time being you are being asked to substantiate that in fact, there has been an importation of 2,000 workers, or fishermen, or both, by a local administrator who, from the trend of your speech, must be the district commissioner, and this is just because they happened to be members of his tribe. This is what you are being asked to substantiate.

Mr. Jilo: I say that the District Commissioner is Mr. Orwa and he has brought a lot of his people there. There is a conflict among the people almost every day. If you want me to bring you the number, I can do so and I can even bring the names of these people.

There was a fight recently, and the members of this tribe beat up one of the local people till he was almost dead. When this man was taken to hospital he was charged and fined Sh. 150 by the same people.

There are a lot of things that are taking place in this country which our Government, here in Nairobi, does not know of. Whenever we try to bring such things to the notice of the Government, they try to avoid it.

A few weeks ago, the Assistant Minister for Education who is here now, was telling us about drought areas, and the food and medicines which cannot be taken to the drought-stricken areas. If this is a competent Government why can it not use its discretion to even hire planes—and force the owners of aeroplanes—to ferry food to the North-Eastern Province? If it is a Government worth its name as I know it is, why can it not do this? Today we are faced with drought, with cholera, a dreadful disease. The people there are facing difficulties and I feel they should be exempted from paying tax and school fees.

Thank you, Sir.

The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Anyieni): Mr. Deputy Speaker, thank you for giving me this opportunity to contribute to the debate currently in progress. I would like to express my thanks to the President for the Speech he made at the opening of our Second Parliament.

[The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry]

Sir, before I move on to anything else I would like to say something about the civil servants. I think we Members of Parliament, and our fellow politicians, are going a little bit too far. Sometimes a politician has a personal grudge or problem with a civil servant and he uses this opportunity to come to the House, or go to a public meeting and blame all civil servants. This is very unfair. For example, I think our administrators in Nyanza Province, from the provincial commissioner and below, are doing their best to co-operate with the politicians in the area. Of course, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there are exceptions where disagreements come but I think this is very normal wherever people work. I am hoping, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that those other civil servants in other provinces will also not think that their job as civil servants is to fight politicians. Also, it should not be the job of the politicians to fight civil servants. We are all servants of the public and if we divert our attention from serving our people to fighting each other, it is our people who will suffer because most of us are employed and are earning a salary, but we are not earning a salary for fighting amongst ourselves. There are some civil servants who are bad and there are also some politicians who are bad and cannot behave. A politician should not think that just because he is a politician—Anyieni is now an Assistant Minister—he is right always and every civil servant is wrong. I think this is wrong. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think we should be able to give respect to the civil servants and the civil servants should give respect to the politicians. I think if we work together we should be able to do a good job for the country. I agree with hon. Rubia when he says that some of these civil servants have been in this job for too long. They are so frustrated that sometimes they express their frustration by opposing a politician to have something to do. I think some of these people, Mr. Deputy Speaker, should be retired in the interests of good Government which is being led by Mzee Kenyatta.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is another thing which I would like to say here and, I think, this is the time that we should say it. The other day my fellow Assistant Minister did say that we have one and a half million bags of maize in store. I think, Mr. Deputy Speaker, this maize can be consumed within a month. Kisii District where I come from is a district which I think yields a lot of maize. But, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I was there last week and I found that a bag of maize was about Sh. 30. I went there after five days and found that the price of a bag of maize had risen to Sh. 60. I am sure if I go there next week, Mr. Deputy Speaker, a bag of maize will be Sh. 80. If it can be that bad in Kisii, it will be worse elsewhere. I would, therefore, urge the Ministry concerned to make preparations for importation of maize from wherever it can be available. There is no other way through which we are going to feed the people of Kenya. Arrangements must be made now because, as one Member said here, after this drought we may have too much rain again. Therefore we, as the father of our own people, should be able to see ahead. We should not wait, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. This is because, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, what will happen if we do not take that step now, there is going to be a shortage and the middlemen—the men whom we have been talking about here who work with my Ministry—are going to make use of the shortage and are going to exploit the mwananchi by trying to get money because of the shortage of food.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to say a little about tribalism. I think, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Kenya is sick about this tribalism. You will find that when a man who enjoys a position is told that he is a tribalist he says he is not. The very man who was complaining, when he also gets into a good position, does exactly the same as the other man was doing. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am saying this because this afternoon we had a very bad example where we had a man fighting for another man because this man is a Mluhya. We also had another man who was fighting for another man because he belongs to his tribe. I think we are going wrong, Mr. Deputy Speaker. This is spoiling the country. What will then happen to people like the Kisii people who do not have big people in big positions? They are then doomed, Mr. Deputy Speaker. If we have big people coming here be they Kikuyu, Jalu and Baluhya, fighting against each other, where are the rest of us? The rest of us are nowhere, Mr. Deputy Speaker. I think that every man who is in a responsible position should not only look at a tribe as such. He should also see that the whole of Kenya is served fairly. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is this tribalism, which everybody speaks about. If somebody is gaining through tribalism he does not complain but if he thinks that there is somebody else who is gaining through tribalism he complains about it, but when he used to get something he kept quiet. I think it should be denounced when somebody is gaining and it should also be denounced when somebody is suffering. For example, Mr. Deputy Speaker,

[The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry]

Sir, we are not going to have two Permanent Secretaries in the Ministry of Local Government and two Permanent Secretaries in the Office of the President. There will only be one man in each Ministry and they cannot all be of the same tribe. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think there is too much blame on this. One man may do something wrong as it was said by the hon. Member from Tana River. It may be that one man did something wrong but that does not justify the denunciation of the whole tribe. Sometimes we say, "Oh, these people have taken everything." For example, I have heard a lot of people saying, "Oh, Kikuyu people have taken over everything." Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if you drive through Kikuyuland here, you will find the Kikuyu people are suffering more than anybody else. Yet, we think that just because maybe a number of them have taken something, everybody has taken something. These people are also suffering. These people who are using tribalism are selfish. They are not serving their tribes but instead they are serving themselves. They are using their positions to enhance themselves or to enrich themselves. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, not everybody in the tribe should be blamed for this. But we warn those also, who so use their positions, that they are making even their brothers suffer more and their people be more hated. When a man is in a position—like my friend here, Mr. Rubia, who is an Assistant Minister for Education—he should not look at people as Kikuyu people or as Kisii people but instead he should serve everybody. This is because he is not an Assistant Minister for the Kikuyu people but he is an Assistant Minister for Kenya and Mzee has put him there to do this job.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to touch on this question of citizenship. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, what I have discovered is that some of these people who are non-citizens are better than citizens. As soon as a man has taken up citizenship and he has framed it—made a photostat copy of it, my Lord, he thinks he has the power now to abuse anybody or to do just as he likes. If you try to tell him that he shall be dealt with, he goes up quickly to say that, "Now I am a citizen and these people are doing this to me." The other day, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we had an exercise whereby we wanted to find out what had happened to shops whose owners had been given quit notices or whether they were now occupied by Africans or non-citizens. We sent one of our officers to an Asian to go and ask for some information from him. This Asian told him, "I will not give you any information. What are you? I am also a citizen like you. Why do you not go to ask for the information from Africans?" My poor officer came back to the office and reported the matter. We told the Asian to close the shop while we carry out investigations but the man went to a bigger authority. Later I heard that the place had been reopened and I said, "My Lord, what will a poor Anyieni do." Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, these people who are citizens are worse than the people who are not citizens. The non-citizens will listen but the citizens will not listen. I am very pleased to see that the Ministry of Home Affairs has now put a stop to the registration of citizens. What used to happen was that we gave a man a quit notice and the following day he came to us with a certificate. This made our work very difficult, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. However, I am very pleased that this is not happening now at all.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, before I sit down I would like to say something about quit notices which a colleague of mine mentioned. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, what our Ministry has done is this. There were people who were given quit notices and some of them were supposed to close business. For the information of this House some of them continued with their business because the law seems not to be sufficient. They continued to trade without a licence for a whole year. Now, we do not want to repeat the same exercise. We want to make sure that those who had been given quit notices and who were expected to close business. There is no point giving people quit notices, they are supposed to have closed and, they are continuing with business, then all over again you give new ones quit notices and also they continue with business. It becomes a child's play, Mr. Deputy Speaker. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, what the Minister has been trying to do is to make sure that those who are supposed to close have done so, so that we can give new quit notices to others. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we are not going to do the same as last year. This time we are making sure that if we give a 100 quit notices, maybe one or two may succeed in appeals but not like last year when very many succeeded in these appeals.

With those few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I wish to ask my colleague who spoke very well about my Ministry to take this challenge from me because he has also given me a challenge. Where did you decide about this raising of school fees?—Sorry, Mr. Deputy Speaker. Where was this raising of school fees decided? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if there was an election today and a man comes and says that he is going to reduce school fees, all of us would lose that election. I am asking my colleague, to get the school fees reduced. It is too much and the wananchi cannot afford it.

[The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry]

Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Muthamia: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for giving me this chance to air my views.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I congratulate the President for the Speech which he gave the nation on 23rd of February. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, before going further, because time is too limited, I would like to start my speech by touching on unemployment.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think it was on 16th December, last year when we passed a resolution asking Government to implement the findings of a Select Committee which was formed by this House. The resolution was asking the Government to implement the findings of the commission before the end of this Financial Year. Mr. Deputy Speaker, now four months have elapsed and nothing has been done. There are many people with various standards who completed their studies last year: Form IV school-leavers, Form II school-leavers and Standard VII school-leavers; and they are all waiting outside to hear what their Government is going to do for them and what is going to happen to them. We understand that this year only one-third of the teacher training colleges' intake will be taken from the previous candidates—those who sat for their School Certificate Examination last year—and that two-thirds will be taken from those who are monitors because they were allocated in the teaching profession by the Tripartite Agreement. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this is a big burden to our Government and if the Government is not going to take any initiative, this is going to explode. My colleagues have talked here with a fear of a military coup d'état as has been witnessed in other places. However, this will be a labour coup which will be the biggest in the country.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my hon. friend is telling me to tell them to go and provide themselves with self-employment. How can they get it? Where is the land?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this is a big problem which is facing the country and it is the problem which is facing everybody in the country; and so the Government has to take drastic steps and see to it that these people are cared for.

My colleagues have talked much about civil servants. We have civil servants who regard themselves as kings of this country! They appear, of course, as if they are entrenched in some of the provinces and some of them have never been transferred since we achieved our independence. Why are they not transferred? They have made themselves kings of those places! Even if you talk about them they do not recognize any politician at all. To speak the truth, this is a political Government; but some of these civil servants do not recognize this political Government, they think they are heads, even of this party. We have seen this—I would like to say a few words concerning a friend of mine who is here—an Assistant Minister in the Ministry of State, President's Office. When he is asked a question regarding a civil servant, he comes here with a draft which has been drafted by a civil servant and he reads it and saves them by defending them. However, at home—they go and cut his feet! This is what is happening in the country and is really very serious. I know an incident where the same Assistant Minister nearly collided—exchanged blows—with a civil servant! The Assistant Minister then comes here to defend that same civil servant who wants to beat him when he is at home. This is a situation which we cannot understand. Some of these civil servants should be condemned—not all of them—especially those who have made themselves kings of provinces or kings of districts and they should know that this is a political Government and that the person who is the head of this political Government was elected by the people on the same franchise like Mr. Shikuku, Member for Butere.

We can see some people who are trying to help others. Let them have any motive behind them because this will not matter since they will be helping others.

[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki) left the Chair]

[The Speaker (Mr. Mat) resumed the Chair]

Look at the case of my friend, J. M. Kariuki. When he went to the Coast last week-end, he was refused permission to talk at a baraza, where he could tell people this and that and then give them a donation of Sh. 3,200. What does that show? He himself is giving them something but the Government is trying to shut his mouth. Even if he has a motive in giving such donations, let him have those motives, because he will give us and then we just consume! We shall then know about the future.

I have already said that some of these civil servants are the ones who are frustrating some of these politicians, and they have the idea of "Divide and Rule". They have come out to the churches and to the leaders of the districts trying to divide them, telling each of them: you belong to this or to that. This is done by some of these civil servants because they want to remain there and have cliques: one of them fighting for him and the other against him so that he can stay there for a longer time.

[Mr. Muthamia]

There is one touchy issue which was announced on the radio some time back. Recruitment of Kenya Army personnel is going on in the country at the moment. It is true that Meru people have been given three centres where these people will be recruited from. For the last four or five years we have been hearing on the radio of Tharaka Centre. Tharaka is a location of 30,000 people and when the army people go there they recruit 15 personnel there and when they come to the town, where there is a population of 570,000 people—the rest of the Meru people usually go to the centre—only 10 people are recruited from there. Could the Ministry for Defence tell us why this is repeated every year? This is a total brotherization! It is because the Assistant Minister who is in charge of the Ministry of Defence comes from that location. This is really very bad. We have to tell the truth. This is really the thing which is killing unity in the whole country. If this is how things are done by an Assistant Minister, then the Minister will do bigger things than that which is very wrong. What are we going to do—we Back-benchers who have not been given any say or any mandate? This is really very bad.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, let me turn to the question of buying property in Nairobi. Some of these Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation people when they send the assessors to assess the property which an applicant wants to buy, they—

I beg to support.

Mr. Muthua: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir, for allowing me to have this opportunity to make my contribution to the Address made by His Excellency the President in this House on 23rd February 1971.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, Kenya being an independent country—

An hon. Assistant Minister: You had better cough first.

Mr. Muthua: I have finished coughing.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have freedom of speech and freedom of expression entrenched in our Constitution. I would, therefore, call upon the country to uphold this freedom of speech and freedom of expression. Of late, Mr. Speaker, there has been a tendency by certain civil servants to suppress this freedom. Some people have been refused permission to address their own people. It should be known that these people love their leaders and the proof of this is the confidence these people showed to their leaders during the recent General Elections. Therefore, this should go as a warning that this freedom of speech and the freedom of expression should be upheld.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, in the Kanu manifesto, the wananchi were promised free primary education in this country. Today, it is our duty, as it was mentioned in His Excellency's Address that the Members of Parliament should serve as a bridge between the Government and the public. I would like to take this opportunity to let the Government know that the wananchi everywhere are not asking for more than what was promised to them in the Kanu Manifesto and that is free primary education.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the examination after Std. VII, that is the Certificate of Primary Education is doing a lot of disservice to very many children. Those who cannot obtain places in secondary schools or into other technical institutions in this country, are roaming about the country looking for jobs which they cannot get, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I would, therefore, like to call upon the Government to consider seriously abolishing the Certificate of Primary Education. Children should be allowed to continue their education up to School Certificate standard.

An Assistant Minister: Where is the money?

Mr. Muthua: There is money. I can hear an Assistant Minister here asking me: "Where is the money?" You will not realize that there is money in Kenya until Kenya is attacked. If somebody attempts to attack Kenya today, you will realize that Government has the money. Mr. Speaker, if we do not give proper education to our children, we are creating this juvenile delinquency problem in this country and soon or later the situation will be explosive.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, my colleague here has mentioned something about citizenship of those people who are of non-African origin. These citizens of non-African origin are exploiting workers, but not all of them, only some of them. Some of them are middlemen and I would like to give an example of the millers. At present we have this serious situation of drought in this country. Our national herds are suffering. These millers do not want to release stock-feed to unions and co-operative societies. A good example is fodder for pigs. When a co-operative society or a certain union in a certain area has some fodder, they offer it for about Sh. 23. However, when an individual trader, who has a licence from the Ministry of Commerce and Industry—I do not know where the Assistant Minister has gone to—they sell that fodder for about Sh. 30 and because the farmers have no alternative to get this stock food, they pay this amount of money. We feel very bitter about these citizens.

[Mr. Muthua]

Today, Mr. Speaker, if you want to buy some property and you call upon a valuer from the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation to come and value the property and when the value has been officially declared, these people do not agree to sell the property unless you are prepared to pay the price that they are going to quote. Therefore, you will find that these types of citizens are doing a great disservice to our people. I therefore, would like to call upon our Government to consider seriously establishing a Citizenship Board. This board should be charged with the responsibility of considering applications for citizenship. It should also be charged with the responsibility of reviewing the behaviour of some of the citizens who are paper-citizens and cancel their citizenship when necessary. I can say, Mr. Speaker, that some of these citizens are like decorated donkeys, which will always remain donkeys because they pretend to have equal rights like any other citizen in this country. I have no quarrel with a citizen who will respect the indigenous of this country.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, our young girls, after leaving school, cannot help messing about with their boy friends. When, however, they become pregnant and go to the hospitals as maternity cases, —and the Assistant Minister is here—they cannot afford Sh. 40 for maternity fees. After delivery, however, they are sent away by the authority, leaving their babies behind. I would, therefore, like to ask the Ministry of Health to consider seriously abolishing maternity fees for these very, very unfortunate mothers.

An hon. Assistant Minister: You are not serious, are you?

Mr. Muthua: Mr. Speaker, the hon. Shikuku is taking a lot of my time.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have something to mention about the Voice of Kenya. After the news, you always hear the announcements and such announcement are about some occasions and deaths. I wonder why the Voice of Kenya cannot make announcements for births. If somebody wants to announce the birth of a child, I think this is another way which would fetch the Government some revenue to help in financing some of the projects they already claim that they do not have the money to finance.

With these few words, Mr. Speaker, I do not want to take a lot of time, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir, for giving me this opportunity to say a few things on the brilliant Speech made by His Excellency the President.

I have a point here and I do not know who is in a better position to tell the nation whether we really have a national crisis that affect food. I have seen that the position is getting worse and worse every day. Who is to tell us exactly whether we have enough national food, unga, for ugali, in the country so that everybody knows where he stands because we are getting false assurances that everything is all right and that there is enough food in the country while so many women are fighting for a packet of flour? We have read, in the Nation, every day, including today that people are fighting to death for a pound of maize meal. Now, Mr. Speaker, Sir, if we have come to a position where the ordinary citizen is not guaranteed a pound of maize meal, then, how can we sit in this House and talk about everything being all right? If it is not anybody from the Ministry of Agriculture, who is there to reassure the nation that things are not getting worse? Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the wananchi are entitled to an explanation. Whether there is rationing of food, let the nation be told that there is enough food—the essential food particularly unga for ugali—so that proper machinery should be gone into to ration this food. If they are preparing that old mixture, let the nation be told so that they prepare for the mixture where we have wheat and maize meal—the stuff we had some time ago—so that we guarantee that people will eat tomorrow. As at the moment I am getting more and more worried. Mr. Speaker, Sir, that perhaps things are not as good as we are told that they are. If the 1½ million bags of maize lying in the godowns is there, let it be seen to be there by descending into people's stomachs every lunch hour and every evening. However, let us not just talk about 1½ million bags while wananchi are fighting on the streets to get a pound of flour. Let us not be embarrassed as Members of the Government because if I am asked by my constituents as to what is happening to unga, I have no answer to give them because I, myself, cannot get unga. I was in Mombasa yesterday and after hearing people in Nairobi complaining that because of higher prices in Mombasa for unga, all unga has been taken there and that is why people are not getting unga, here, but I want to assure you, Sir, that the best way to eat ugali, these days, in Mombasa is through somebody's dream. You can dream that you are eating it, but practically, there is not even a grain of unga there and there is no explanation whatsoever from anybody so that the wananchi can know what is happening! So, Sir, we want a very hot statement. In fact, Sir, not only a statement but an assurance as well that there is unga. For, example, we in the Ministry of Health, if there is an outbreak of cholera we can say it is there and this is what we are doing. So, we want a statement from the Ministry of Agriculture that there is an outbreak of hunger and that it will find out an alternative.

Now, after saying that, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would also like to say a few things about the drought, especially in the Eastern and North-Eastern provinces. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am one of the few people who have toured these areas to see for themselves the conditions of the people there. We are going into a very bad practice, Mr. Speaker, Sir, of denying things that exist because when an hon. Member started talking about the seriousness of the situation in these areas, many people denied it. I would like my colleague from the President's Office to say when he is visiting these areas himself so that he can come and report to the nation. Sending officers there and depending on reports is not enough, because what I read and what I saw for myself, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is a hell of difference. Unless the Minister in the President's Office or his Assistant Minister makes an extensive tour to see these areas for himself and reports to the nation, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are wasting time. These people are really suffering. I had to feed a few of the people. You will find that the people there—the administration—are not geared to handle the situation. They are only geared to handle small isolated emergencies. However, this one is a major one and we cannot just leave it to the civil servants to send reports. A politician in the position of a Minister in the President's Office or an Assistant Minister should go there and assess the situation rather than sit here in Nairobi and get reports. That is why we did not deal with this question a long time ago and instead we have been just reassuring people that the situation is under control while people there are only being fed alternatively. A mother comes and gets a kikopo of uji and she is not supposed to come until a day after tomorrow when she can again be given more uji. That is not feeding the public who are really in difficulties. Mr. Speaker, Sir, somebody suggested that we must have a national board, a permanent one, we have so many boards some of which are not so very useful. We must have a national board to go into the food position of the country and who can anticipate a national emergency and move food and other supplies in these areas before we get caught in a position like this one. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is shameful and I hope that the Assistant Minister in the President's Office will say, when he will speak, categorically what steps are being taken by Government and the Freedom from Hunger Campaign or the Red Cross. These are only helpers but the whole responsibility is with the nation and the Government! So, we hope to get this from the Government, Mr. Speaker, Sir, otherwise we in the Government are being embarrassed to find out some of our limbs are not functioning well and yet we are supposed to be the whole body.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would also like to say something about the hotel staff. I understand the hon. Shikuku, an Assistant Minister, has been in a bit of difficulty in Mombasa where things are not going well. We who are from Mombasa are a little worried about these incidents that are happening there. I think it is high time we said something about it. I see the hon. Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife and who is also chairman of directors of many of the hotels is here. I, myself, would submit that the wazungus in these hotels—very young fellows—who are brought from somewhere to come here, I think some of them were just simple waiters in Europe but when they come here they are appointed managers, to come and manage them. They think that here, we cannot have a mzungu waiter. Now, these people do not know their responsibilities. They cannot talk nicely because hotel business is business! If the hotel is full all you have to do is talk politely and tell somebody who will understand the position. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, some of these fellows feel that it is shameful for them to come and speak to hon. Martin Shikuku in the right way. You find that for people to say that hotels should not be reserved for V.I.P.s is stupidity. I have seen, say, when His Majesty Emperor Haile Selassie comes suddenly and would like to see Mzee I have seen hotel rooms being vacated. It is a case of an emergency when a President or a Prime Minister comes here suddenly. We saw this when the former President of Uganda Dr. Obote came here. there was no question of booking in advance; rooms were vacated for him. So, if somebody is forced to go to a hotel in Mombasa, there must be provision to give him a room. Their excuses are very stupid and I hope they will amend their manners.

With these few remarks, Sir, I support the Motion.

Mr. Mwangale: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir, for giving me this opportunity.

First of all, I would like to thank His Excellency the President, for his Speech; as usual he always gives us his piece of wisdom in the direction of policy and the broadlines of our Government's plans and I am sure hon. Members and the whole country appreciates his efforts. First of all I would like to repeat what the hon. Member for Tinderet, Bwana Seroney, said when he talked about this particular occasion. Sir, I have personally seen this House being converted into some kind of carnival festival. You have people donned in all garbs of description in this Chamber filling up everything so that the V.I.P. treatment a Member of Parliament should receive, he does not get it at all. I think it is a shame! If we cannot get V.I.P. treatment outside, as the hon. Martin Shikuku says, at least, I think, we deserve it in this House. It is just about time that the hon. Members of this House were accorded the rights that are entrenched in the National Assembly itself, our Standing Orders. I think that it is about time that the civil servants and all the security personnel that pour in this compound when His Excellency the President comes here to quit. I am sure that all hon. Members will agree with me that when His Excellency the President comes to this House, he is among his brothers. I do not see anybody in this House who would turn round or do anything wrong or try to intimidate Mzee and, therefore, there is no point for having our security packed up this way and packed up that way so that we do not even have space for our own ladies. I think it is time we did something about this matter.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the second point is about the Speech itself. The President said, and I quote one statement which he made, that he would restrict himself to general reviews of public affairs to the important ceremonies which we hold on Madaraka Day and Jamhuri Day. That in itself, Mr. Speaker, raises a number of questions. First of all, I do not know whether I am misunderstanding the Speech or the intentions of His Excellency the President with regard to the importance of this particular ceremony which is the opening of the National Assembly. First and foremost, the purpose of opening the National Assembly or Parliament at that time is for His Excellency to let us know what Government plans we have or the type of business we shall be transacting within a particular Session. This means that, Mr. Speaker, he is giving us, as representatives of the people of this country, some information for us to carry back to our people and let them know what they have in store. The fact, Mr. Speaker, that His Excellency mentioned Madaraka Day and Jamhuri Day as those important occasions when he will be announcing, if anything possibly, matters of public policy or major policies, may sound rather interesting, if I may put it rather mildly—because, does this mean, and I want to ask that from the Minister here, this occasion is not as important if not more important than Madaraka Day and Jamhuri Day? The second point, as I see it is that it may be possible for the Government to use this particular statement to make announcements, on Jamhuri Day and Madaraka Day, which hon. Members of this House who represent the nation are not aware of. We do not want to be caught unaware, we would like to be told what is coming; and we want to be sure that whatever business is going to be announced, Mr. Speaker, the nation is aware of it or informed. We are after all the shock absorbers between Government and the people. We are supposed to transmit information from the Government and let the people of this country know what developments the Government is carrying out. Therefore, I am hoping that what His Excellency meant by saying that he will restrict major policy matters for announcement possibly on such occasions may not imply announcements which will catch, the whole nation and this House, unaware.

A third point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, which I want to mention is with regard to the Central Organization of Trade Unions' elections. As we have been told the Central Organization of Trade Unions' elections are coming up very shortly and all I want to say, Mr. Speaker, is only one thing, that the Minister concerned with the organization of Central Organization of Trade Unions' elections should ensure that no tribalism will be injected into the election, and that there will not be any machination on the part of individuals or on the part of certain groups to try to dominate that organization. We want the elections to be completely fair, we want proper representation and I think that should be clearly understood.

Another point I want to mention in the same respect is with regard to job availabilities. I think it is just about time our Government thought of introducing some quota system for jobs in Nairobi so that each area has a share. This is the capital of this country and there are over 200,000 jobs that are created in this country per year or more than that number. Out of these jobs Nairobi takes almost 100 per cent; I do not know. However, the majority of our rural people cannot have an opportunity of getting these jobs because either it is too far from Bungoma, for that matter, or secondly they do not have money to come here or the third point as soon as they get here they are thrown out by some personnel officers who might be coming from another area. They only read on the doors phrases reading as Hakuna Kazi. This is so because this is an important city for every national. It is just about time the Government thought of introducing a quota system for jobs available in this city. I have mentioned this in particular because we have a number of factories which are coming up here and we do not want to have our boys sitting up there without jobs when there are jobs which could be organized on a quota system and some of these boys could have an opportunity.

A third point I want to mention— If it is the fourth point, I would say it is fine for Mr. Shikuku to have mentioned that— This is with regard to administration. We have complained and complained about administrative officers and so forth. Maybe it is not unfair because we have not been singling out particular individuals. However, I want to discuss provincial administration in Western Province and in particular reference I want to discuss the creation of a division, which I have already talked about with the Minister, and of which he is fully aware that it was done purely on a tribal basis. This division is referred to as Kapsakwony. We had discussions with the Minister here and I let him know that if this division was created because they wanted that particular division to be for one tribe, that is perfectly fine, if they can confine themselves inside there. However, there is now an attempt on the part of the provincial administration and also on the district administration, which unfortunately happens to be playing these tribal techniques of administration or strategies, in order to impose them on the people of North Malakisi Location in this new division which is completely unfair. I want to issue a warning that should this continue, I am telling you, Mr. Speaker, we will not be responsible for the outcome. This is because the Minister is fully aware of what happened in 1963 in this particular section. We have been struggling all along to ensure that peace exists between these people in these locations. Now the administration is bent on destroying the very delicate affair that has been well handled up to date. Hon. Members of Parliament have been trying very hard to ensure that we remain together. However, here because the administration happens to favour that area because men concerned come from that tribe, we are now getting into trouble. Therefore, I would like to tell the Minister to be very careful and if he goes ahead and introduces that division and includes that location into that area that he will be responsible for the outcome. I want also to mention that because this land registration has been stopped by the provincial administration, but not from here, so that this land can be registered for other people. I am also told that the hon. Member of Parliament from that area, who happens to be the hon. Munoko, was refused permission to speak in his own area simply because of this. I think this is unfair and it should be stopped.

My last point is in regard to Kanu reorganization. Kanu as a party is supposed to be the watchdog of the interests of wananchi, but so far all that I have seen in my constituency, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is that the administration has taken over all the powers of Kanu as a political party. It is about time we did something.

Mr. Cheserek: Thank you Mr. Speaker, Sir. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to thank the hon. Members who have spoken on the Presidential Address.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, however, what I want to start with is not in connexion with the civil servants, Mr. Shikuku. Wait and hear what I want to say. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to touch on the Ministry of Labour. My question is this one: when the Tripartite Agreement came into force last year there were several districts, such as, Turkana, Pokot and Samburu in which the young ones were not registered as job-seekers because there were no labour offices. I am appealing to the Minister, Mr. Speaker, who is concerned to take steps when registering next time to see that all these places get chances of registering their people. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is too far and they cannot come to the headquarters, here in Nairobi, because their districts are in the reserves. It is not possible to register because there are no offices in their home districts. These people never had any registration cards for employment at all. Therefore, if they want to have a job somewhere else in the country and they are asked to produce registration cards for employment, they will never produce them. It is not their fault that they do not have those cards. It is the fault of the Government and its Ministry of Labour, which has not opened any office for these people to register.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, even the identity cards, up to date, it is a pity that some people do not have identity cards. You may find that someone who is about 26 years of age has no identity card. This is true. If we are the Government and if we belong to Kenya, as we are now, we want everybody to have fair services. We want the Minister to straighten everything out as far as the country is concerned. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am appealing to the Minister for Labour to check this immediately.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would also like to touch on the question of the President. There are several visits or tours which the President himself makes time and again. He goes to Mombasa. In the Coast Province there are a number of districts and the President has visited all these districts. However, in the Rift Valley Province—

Mr. Mwangale: And the Western Province.

Mr. Cheserek: —and Western Province also, I will include your province thank you very much, he has never visited these areas. We believe that he is the Head of the State. When he is the Head of the State, everyone is anxious to see him all over the country. We want to see him down there, but we in the Rift Valley have been forgotten and so the President has not visited us. Therefore, I would like to appeal to the Government that when he is making these visits he must visit the whole country. The Turkana want to see him; even my people at Marakwet want to see him—we have never seen him there. except myself, who is here in Nairobi, the people in the reserve have never seen him—

Mr. Ayah: (Inaudible).

Mr. Cheserek: Mr. Ayah, I know what you are speaking about.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is always very necessary for the Head of State to go round the country, as a father of the nation, to see the young people in the country so that when he talks we know what he talks about. It is only through the radio that we hear the President was somewhere, in Kilifi, in Lamu and in other places. He may go to Kilifi three times in a year but to other places he does not go. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is an appeal to the Government that the President should also visit us.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would also like to touch on something about the Department of Co-operatives. This Department of Co-operatives is not efficient at this moment. There are several co-operative societies which were formed in 1963 and their books have not been audited up to this date, particularly, in the settlement schemes. I am telling you the truth. I was a chairman of a co-operative society for the last seven years and that society has, over all those years, been audited only once. I am therefore, appealing to the Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services, that if he has a shortage of staff in the Co-operatives Department, he should create more vacancies so that he can employ more people to audit co-operatives' books of accounts.

We know you can blame anyone. Long ago, doing the books of the co-operative societies, you could sign a cheque and draw the money from the bank and give it to the people. However, later on it changed that you have to go for the co-operative officer's endorsement. We agree that there were some forgeries, and we accepted that the Government had done the right thing. However, the Government has done nothing as far as auditing the books of co-operative societies is concerned. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Minister and the department concerned should take immediate steps to see that the books are audited so that we are able to know what our position is as far as co-operative societies are concerned. This is because you cannot know whether you are working at a loss or whether you are making a profit.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to say one point about Kanu. The question of free education which was touched on, we have a book, the Kanu Manifesto, which was signed by the President himself, and it is his Government which we have at the moment here—this book should be withdrawn or burned today. This is because the promises which are there have never been fulfilled and, therefore, there is nothing worthwhile in the book. Let us produce another one which will be a new one to show the country we are following this or that line. You cannot say that this is the law and yet you yourself do not use that law. That book says that there will be free education from Std. I to Std. VII, however, this one is not functioning, Mr. Speaker. That book should be abolished today so that we can have a new Kanu Manifesto.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am appealing to the Government to see to it that these things are done immediately and correctly. Do not always tell your children that you will send mkate and yet you do not send it to them.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am also asking the Minister for Commerce and Industry— At Kitale these days, there is no cement. I do not know whether the Minister here— Can the Minister not look for cement and bring it to Kitale? For the last two months there has been no cement in Kitale Town.

An hon. Member: Four months.

Mr. Cheserek: For four months, and yet that town is a busy town. We do not know what the Minister is doing—

The Assistant Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Munyi): We also have difficulties in my area.

Mr. Cheserek: No, I do not know your area. Anyway, you can raise it tomorrow when you speak.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I believe I want the Minister to take immediate steps.

There is a question here, in Parliament which always comes up and this is about the commission. We say here that we are forming a commission to look into certain parts of this country, such as districts which was mentioned by the Minister of State in the President's Office when a Motion was moved by somebody, maybe, Mr. Mutiso from

[Mr. Cheserek]

Yatta or somewhere else; that that district is big and it should be divided into a number of districts.

The Minister of State in the President's Office replied, "Oh, this one I am appointing a commission to go and look into this." Mr. Speaker, Sir, we still reiterate that if this commission is not set then things will be bad.

You remember in 1963, when these people came from Lancaster House, they said that there will not be any creation of more districts. But eventually, or subsequently, several districts were formed in this country. Now, what is happening to this commission when we said that it should deal with several things? This commission does not work. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think we are the makers of law and we tell the people— Our people here always want to know what we say. Now, when we say that there is going to be a commission to look into several things and now these things are not going ahead—what is wrong with the Government? Will the Government explain this properly and give us an explanation or tell the House which is our line or what is happening with the implementation of these things? Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is one of the worst things and we want the Government to work properly.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to talk about rural areas because I see the time is running out. There are so many roads which were better off when the county councils were maintaining the services. When Government took over we thought that it was going to do better. But it has failed completely. We can see them employing people from here going to run services in Turkana when there are people there. Why not make the county council there agents of Government so that they can run the services properly?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to make another request. Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation loans should be divided according to provinces so that we can have these easily distributed within the whole country.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support the Presidential Address.

Mr. Ogingo: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker Sir, for giving me the opportunity to express my views on the Presidential Address.

There are a number of points that I would like to comment on in the Presidential Speech. Mr. Speaker, Sir, in his Speech, the President, did draw the attention of the House to the following, and I beg to quote:—

"The time has passed when honourable Members could feel that they were here for reasons of personal enjoyment, or to promote tribal or sectional interests, or to harass the Government. Those who are privileged to sit in this House, by the authority of the people, have had time to learn their trade. And that trade, Mr. Speaker, is hard and dedicated work."

Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of this, I would like to make a few observations. Some of us, Mr. Speaker, Sir, have tended to draw conclusions that the status of this House is being reduced to that of a debating society. Mr. Speaker, Sir, very often we have passed resolutions in this House and very often we have expected the Front Bench—the Cabinet or the Government for that matter—to execute those decisions. Some of those decisions have had to be sat on by the Government of which we are a part.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, if I go down a little further, arising out of His Excellency's Address, he told us on that day, and I beg to quote, Sir:—

"This National Assembly, however, like the Public Service, is an instrument of the State. I have said, again and again, that the Republic is the people. It is your responsibility to serve the people by doing the job for which you are paid."

Mr. Speaker, Sir, these are serious statements and I should expect the Front Bench, the executive branch of our Government to take this House seriously. We are here for the people and, in fact, now that I am speaking, I am voicing the aspirations and the sentiments of a hundred thousand people that I represent in this House. This is in tune with what His Excellency, the President, told us on 23rd February 1971 when this House was opened.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, some of us are not here to work so that they are paid. Some of us have had to live without being Members of Parliament and, therefore, they have come here to serve their people. They have come here to tell the Government that this is what these people want and we expect the Government to do these things in accordance with the request made by the Members of this House.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to touch very briefly on what we have referred to very often and that is unity. I am sure that whenever we talk about unity or we talk of unity, we mean Kenya and that Kenya must be one. Mr. Speaker, Sir, one thing that is very clear is that Kenya is not made out of a vacuum; Kenya has its tangible components in the name of regions—provinces; in the name of districts; in the name of divisions; in the name of locations and in the name of human beings and tribes. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not intend to instigate or promote tribal or sectional interests. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, you cannot discuss national interests in isolation from sectional, tribal or what-have-you interests. These things are one and the same thing.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have called upon the Government many times that in the exercise of distributing whatever they have at the national level, they must take into consideration all sections, all parts of the country so that we have an equitable distribution of what one might call the national cake.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, touching very briefly on this thorny issue and that is tribalism, many times, Sir, in this House and outside, hon. Members have condemned tribalism. I do not think that the Members of this House have at any one time encouraged tribalism. I think it is something they have tried to suppress and they have tried to see that tribalism is wiped out. The problem has risen because the Front Bench has not taken this matter seriously. They are the custodians; they are the people who are running the affairs of this country on behalf of the 11 million people, including us; they are the ones managing the affairs of this country and we should expect them to ensure that tribalism is not allowed to go on in this country. I want to throw a challenge to the Front Bench, Mr. Speaker, Sir, because if anything they have tried to deny that there is tribalism. Therefore, I want to throw the challenge that if they deny that there is no tribalism, why do they not accept instituting a commission of inquiry into tribalism. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I challenge the Government or the Front Bench for that matter if they say there is no tribalism in this country. I strongly challenge them! If the Front Bench or the Government for that matter is honest that there is no tribalism, if they want to convince this country that there is no tribalism, I want them to institute a board of inquiry into tribalism and, at the same time, come out with measures to prevent tribalism so that it can be eradicated.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, some of us have become fed up particularly when we come to the question of employment. Very often, Members of this House find people waiting for them at the gate here so that they may introduce them to the personnel officers in the private sector and also in the public sector. This kind of thing, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is more than annoying. I do not want to feel that because I come from Mombasa, I cannot get a job, or because I come from the Central Province, Western Province or, Nyanza Province, I cannot get a job and that to get a job, my tribal background must take precedence over any other thing. Mr. Speaker, I think this is the crux of the matter, and I would like the Front Bench, and the Government at large, which has often condemned those people who talk about tribalism to accept that this thing has been talked about for so long and the only way you can get rid of it, the only way Government can find out the truth about this, is to set up a board of inquiry and that board should have specific terms of reference so that we can get rid of this disease which is causing trouble in this country.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to touch briefly on the question of graduated personal tax. Last year, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we were told and, I think, we even read it in the Press, that Government had appointed a Ministerial Committee to study the problems of graduated personal tax. Since His Excellency the President did make a statement to the effect that those people who used to pay a minimum of Sh. 24 for graduated personal tax, should no longer pay graduated personal tax, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we do not know up to now what this Ministerial Committee has come out with. In fact, Mr. Speaker, Sir, those people who used to pay Sh. 24, pay Sh. 48 today. Mr. Speaker, is this not a pity that a person who was paying only Sh. 24 last year is thought capable of paying Sh. 48 this year? Is this not a serious state of affairs, Mr. Speaker? Is this not a serious and terrible contradiction? Mr. Speaker, we want to know what this Ministerial Committee has come out with and we should like to be informed whether that statement made by His Excellency the President was a serious statement or not. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am saying this because some people are getting worried that the Government is becoming a talking Government. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we must avoid this kind of thing.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the other thing I would like to touch on briefly is the Kanu Party. I think most hon. Members have expressed their sentiments on the reorganization of the Party. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not want to feel that Kanu is a party of Members of Parliament only, that Kanu Party is a party for a few élites. I believe that Kanu is a mass party and it has to be organized at grass-roots level. If this party is to remain, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to see it reorganized at grass-roots and, therefore, I would like to appeal to the Headquarters of the party to give the branches the power to go ahead and reorganize the party in their own branches.

An hon. Member: There is no headquarters.

Mr. Ogingo: I am assuming there is one. Mr. Speaker, Sir, with these few remarks, I beg to support the Presidential Speech.

MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

UTILIZATION OF ATHI RIVER WATER FOR IRRIGATION

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Will a Minister please move that the House do now adjourn?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move that the House do now adjourn.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. M'bai) seconded.

(Question proposed)

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am grateful for this occasion that the House has provided to me in order to expound on this issue of water, which was also the subject of discussion in this House this afternoon.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this arises out of the question No. 51, to which the Assistant Minister for Agriculture replied very inadequately in that he said there was no need, or it was not really possible to utilize the water from Athi River for the purpose of irrigation in Ukambani.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to make it very clear that I do hope most sincerely that the Assistant Minister, whom I hold in high regard—I think he is a progressive man—that he will really understand and will see the sense and meaning of this Motion.

The whole purpose of this Motion is that the question of irrigation in Ukambani, particularly from River Athi or even Tana River, is a very important issue. Why do I say so, Mr. Speaker? It is because Ukambani area, taken as one unit is one of the areas where irrigation can succeed very well. This has been proved by small irrigation schemes which have been carried out on pilot projects, and I would like to challenge the Assistant Minister because I listened to him when he was replying to this question. He did say that because Ukambani is composed of black cotton soil the irrigation would not be useful in using this water. That is not correct, Mr. Speaker, and you will bear me witness that Ukambani as a whole is, in fact, composed of very suitable soil for irrigation. I would like to invite the Assistant Minister to take an example of a very small irrigation scheme in my own constituency using the water from the Yatta Furrow. This is a very small irrigation scheme, and I want to invite him there to come and have a look, and he will see how useful this water is in that particular small area.

Looking in general at the area of Ukambani, particularly in view of the drought at this particular time of the year, and nomally realizing that this area is affected by famine almost every five years, I think, Mr. Speaker, that it is high time this Government did something to help the people in that particular area. It is a very well known fact that the area has low-lying land where irrigation would cost Government very little compared to other areas which are hilly.

Ukambani in general, that is Machakos and Kitui, Mr. Speaker, taking into account the fact that it is in a place whereby the two great rivers of Kenya cut across the two districts, and the water, an enormous amount of water, flows day and night from the north into the Indian Ocean without serving any useful purpose, one would wonder why Government cannot see sense. The people from that area who are more than one and half million in population, and who pay their graduated personal tax and what-have-you—every kodi—and who have been very humble and have served this Government very loyally—I cannot see why Government cannot see sense and help them. As I said earlier on, every now and then, there is a problem of drought.

Mr. Speaker, one would suggest, and very wisely too, that Ukambani is like an island of poverty surrounded by a sea of prosperity. This is because, Mr. Speaker, when you consider the two rivers, all the time flowing throughout the year down to the Indian Ocean, full of all the fruits and all the riches, and yet these waters are not being utilized. The Government sits there, and I can see the Assistant Minister is not taking this issue seriously, he is just laughing; I really do not understand it, Sir.

Mr. Speaker, if the Government, and particularly the Ministry of Agriculture, with its staff and officials who, according to the reply given by the Assistant Minister, gave him the information which I challenge, that this area was not suitable for irrigation, I would like to know or to have the soil analysis, which really proves or can prove that this area is not suitable for irrigation. Now, Sir, if the Assistant Minister can convince me, then I will have second thoughts. However, until then, I want to maintain, Sir, that the people of Ukambani deserve special treatment by the Government, particularly because of the fact that these two great rivers of Kenya are passing there, and you find that three yards from the rivers, people are starving. We have had the case of schools now being closed because of lack of water. I already have received some reports now that in Kitui Town, there is no water. People in that town, Mr. Speaker, are now starving for lack of water. The silanga which was being used there has now dried out.

Hon. Members: Silanga?

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is a new term for the Assistant Minister to digest now.

I also want to inform him that I was also told, Mr. Speaker, that the small reserve water which was there from the small borehole is even inadequate, for serving the population of that particular town. Now, if that is happening in Kitui Town alone, how about people in the far areas where it is even drier than Central Kitui, as we know it? Mr. Speaker, Government must be sympathetic with the people. We pay taxes, we support Government with a hope that Government will really help the citizens: now, if for such a thing which is so important, like water, which is an essential commodity for life, Government cannot even be sympathetic, even where there is more than adequate evidence, to prove that this is necessary, and Government cannot do anything, I just cannot understand.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, because I know there are many Members who would like to air their views, particularly those from Ukambani, on this particular issue, I want to leave it by stating this: that the water that is being wasted now, from the Athi River and from the Tana River, cutting through Machakos and Kitui, I think, Sir, it is a big shame to Government, if they cannot do something very soon.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is a straightforward Motion, and I think the Minister should face it and give it serious thought.

Now, Sir, when God created human beings, they were placed according to geographical features. Now, as the Mover said, although you call Ukambani a dry area and a place which is at times hit by famine, God also was not stupid to place those two districts between the two rivers, that is the Tana River and the Athi River. However, the question here, Sir, is: has Government completely failed in toto, to see this as a reality? If, Sir—and this is a challenge which I want the Minister to lend me his ears on—the two rivers pass through some areas whose people the Government is responsible for, I tell you that you could see that every home and every village was served with water. Therefore, when we say that we want water in Ukambani we do not want drilled water or boreholes because there is natural water given by God. The only thing is to divert water by using pipes to pipe the water and then we do the irrigation.

Where does the water which is used in Nairobi here come from or the water which is used for consumption in Mombasa? Just in between Nairobi and Mombasa which is miles and miles away from Mombasa. Do not shake your head because I know. The question is: if this Government was very, very, sincere indeed, can they tell us why they cannot have a special grant to utilize the water in Ukambani area. What qualifications did the Embu people have for Sh. 10 million spent there where water is running in the streams and there is no dryness? What qualifications did they have to be given Sh. 10 million? Also, Sir, they are embarking on another project of the same type in the other locations. However, they do not consider Ukambani.

If we were to be sincere and speak our mind, this tribe by the name Kamba has done a lot and it played a great role during the colonial régime and even in the present Government. If people are considered by qualifications, we qualify for security. Let us face the facts. Therefore, Sir, we want the Government to spend money to irrigate and improve the country, especially Ukambani—we do not have anything—because we have kept on crying for the last ten years and the Government has turned a deaf ear. This is the question.

Therefore, Sir, I think the Minister should take this very seriously and give us a special thought. A few days to come, I am going to move a Motion in which I will show the Government how they can utilize the whole of Ukambani area. I will give them special statistics of the ways and means, because we know them. I was just using this time to mention this but when the Motion comes in a short time, I will show the Minister how water in Ukambani can be utilized.

With these few remarks, I beg to support the Motion.

Mr. Mwangi-Nzela: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to make a few points on this particular Motion.

Mr. Speaker, this is a very important Motion which has been brought to this House by the hon. Member for Yatta. Mr. Speaker, in my opinion, it is now high time that our elected Government turned its eyes to the people of Ukambani as far as water and irrigation is concerned.

Mr. Speaker, I think the Yatta furrow has proved to the Government that our soil is very fertile and that we could produce any sort of crop in Ukambani. By using that furrow, the best tomatoes we have in Kenya now come from Yatta, a very dry place. However, because the Colonial Government had surveyed the area—we have very fertile soil, what we lack is only water—that only proved to this Government that our land is not rocky.

[Mr. Mwengi-Nzelu]

I believe the purpose of a good Government is to care for the welfare of its subjects. That is my belief and, I think, it is also the belief of this Government. What matters is only for the Government to implement its belief.

In Ukambani, Sir, we have two big rivers. God has given us a large area which is not all occupied, it is very fertile. What it needs is only irrigation, water, and we have these two big rivers which could be made use of. The Tana River and the Athi River. There is plenty of water there and you cannot finish that water if it is properly used. So we urge the Government to help these people in Ukambani because they do not have permanent water there. What we have are a few dams, boreholes and such things. That is not permanent water. The Government has been spending a lot of money on buying a lot of land here and there. That money could be used for developing that area as far as water is concerned. Then the people could live very happily because they have so much land. We do not need to buy land, we have enough land. What we need is water and it is the duty of this Government to realize that the Wakamba people have been contributing a lot to the Government. We do not see the reason why those people should not be looked after, Sir, as far as water is concerned.

It is a very serious thing to hear that some millions have been spent on one location. Just one location in Embu, Kieni, Sh. 10 million being spent in one location while schools in the northern division of Kitui, in the southern division of Kitui and in the central division of Kitui—

Mr. Munyasia: Are closed down.

Mr. Mwengi-Nzelu: —are closed down for lack of water. This is very serious.

I do not see why we should urge our people to pay graduated personal tax and all these things in Kitui, because we do not get Government service as we should. It is only because we are faithful to our Government that we tell our people, "Let us do these things quietly." If we ask the Government to provide water to Kitui people and they do not do so, well then, one day another government will come which will sympathize with the Wakamba people. It could be anything, but if you are told in a friendly way and you do not pay heed, then you will have to listen when you are told by other means. You will then have to understand the problems of the Kitui people.

The Akamba people are known, they are outstanding people, they like peace unless they are provoked. And we do not want them to be provoked. Therefore, Sir, our aim is only that we want our people to be provided with enough water.

This Government does not realize that the innocent people are the people who are mistreated, like those in Kitui. This is very ridiculous. People are very peaceful, they agree to do what they are told to do but if the Government does not sympathize with these people, then they get provoked. Probably the Government thinks they are stupid but they are not. They like peace and we appeal to our people to be peaceful, to achieve all these things in a peaceful way.

Mr. Speaker, there comes a time, however, when people cannot tolerate what is going on. So we want this Government to think twice, we want the Minister for Agriculture to remember that there are some people living in a place called Ukambani. He has been there, he has seen everything for himself. This is the time when we have an African Minister, the first African Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Nyagah. Our place looks exactly like his.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I beg to support.

An hon. Member: Mr. Wanjigi, now tell us your policy.

Hon. Members: Tell us your policy on water.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, first of all I would like very much to sympathize with the hon. Members from Ukambani who have spoken; I also want to assure them that it is the Government's intention to assist them in matter of Ukambani development and, certainly, as far as water is concerned. I am sure they all realize they have a very fair share of the S.I.D.A. projects that involve the development of rural water schemes, and it is for this reason that the Motion before the House was called upon. I do not think that anybody could have argued here that there is no need to develop the water resources of this country to benefit the Wakamba people or that they are not loyal enough to merit the kind of consideration that the mother Government should give.

Neither was it my contention that there is no need for irrigation. The only thing I said, to put the record correct, is that Athi River basin does not justify large-scale irrigation schemes. This, Sir, is the purpose for which I thought this Adjournment Motion was brought forward. I did not refute the fact that there are pockets of very good arable land for which irrigation is more than justified. In fact, this is the main reason why the Yatta Furrow was constructed by Government at a reasonably expensive undertaking. For the information of the hon. Member for Yatta, it cost £10,000 to construct a mile of that Yatta Furrow. It is in a way pathetic that even at such a cost it should be difficult to convince some of the users of that Furrow to maintain the Furrow adequately for the benefit of those people below. However, that again, Sir, is not the subject of this House, at least for the time being.

I also want to say, Mr. Speaker, that as far as the Member for Kitui West, hon. Munyasia, is concerned, the water from Mombasa does not pass through Ukambani or, for that matter, through Nairobi. It is from Mzima Springs and passes through most of the Taita country to Mombasa.

Now, let me come to my main subject in accordance to what I said the other day in reply to the question on the Athi River basin. We have knowledge, going back to more than 30 years, which indicates very clearly that large-scale irrigation on that basin cannot be economically justified. The reasons are as follows: (1) First of all the region of the river, that is, the two banks of the river are very rugged and irregular and, therefore, very unstable for purposes of irrigation. (2) Due to very severe erosion on the banks, both on the Machakos and the Kitui side, the annual flow of the river fluctuates to a degree that makes it completely impossible to have an economic control in the way of a dam without incurring very, very heavy costs indeed. For your information, there are times when there is no flow in the river. That is what you might call a zero flow and there are times when it goes to more than 100,000 cubic feet per second, 100 cusecs per second. It means that provision must be made for the control of that water which will be quite expensive to work into an economic irrigation exercise. (3) Except for very isolated pockets of land—and that is the point I have just made—the soil of the Athi River basin is lacking in fertility and depth. This is a point I wanted to make the other day, to say that except for these pockets of land, all along the way, right up to Kibwezi the depth of the soil is not adequate to justify a prolonged irrigation and, more so, is lacking in fertility which would mean that this is a fact we have to take into account.

On the Kitui side of the bank, the bank of which is formed by the Yatta Plateau, it is covered by very thick bush and topographically extremely rugged country. That is because of the flow of the Yatta Plateau down into the banks of the river, leaving a very small stretch of land of not more than a few miles on either side to justify large-scale irrigation. I know this area, it is not that I am just reading.

On the Machakos side, Mr. Speaker, the slopes are much more gentle but deeply dissected by soil erosion gulleys and streams which go, again, to feed the Athi River. There, again, the soil is very thin and unsuitable for large-scale irrigation.

I want to emphasize that I am talking about large-scale irrigation and this is a point which brings me back to my second submission, that if we were to ignore the possibility of exploiting the entire basin more or less like we have done for Mwea, or we have done for Ahero, we intend to do for the Upper and Lower Tana, if you ignore that possibility, then there is a great possibility for pockets of irrigation, small schemes of irrigation. This, I think, is what the House would ask the Ministry and the Government to look into; and this is where, Sir, I can promise all the assistance that my Ministry can undertake, both to give the technical assistance necessary to design such schemes and also probably supporting this with the necessary funds.

An hon. Member: When?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): You ask, when, but this is, again, of course, a matter of priorities and I cannot possibly answer such a question in the debate today.

I would say that if you want to cast our minds at the possibilities of exploiting the pockets of land that lend themselves to irrigation, then we will be only too glad to do so. This, of course, must be prefaced by the willingness of the Wakamba people to take advantage of the facilities offered to them and show Government that they have a genuine willingness to develop the basin involved. This, for example, is important—in the case of the Member for Yatta—in the case of the Yatta Furrow. The Yatta Furrow must be seen to be fully exploited and we should not really be coming to this House to answer questions as to why the maintenance of the Furrow leaves a lot to be desired.

Apart from that, Mr. Speaker, I would say that we in the Ministry have a lot of sympathy with exploitation for as much water as we can get from the Athi River, taking into account these constrictions.

ADJOURNMENT

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is time, now, for interruption of business. The House is therefore adjourned until tomorrow, Wednesday, 10th March at 2.30 p.m.

The House rose at Seven o'clock.

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 120 (1417)

NATIONAL FLAG AT SOLOLO POLICE POST

Mr. Araru asked the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs if he would tell the House if he was aware that there was no National Flag flown at Sololo Police Post. What action he was going to take to rectify the situation.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku):

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. There has always been a Kenya National Flag flown at Sololo Police Post. However, on 21st September 1970 the flag pole was broken as a result of a very strong wind in that area and it had to be sent to Marsabit to have it welded. The flag pole has since been returned to Sololo and the flag is now flying as usual.

Mr. Araru: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply—I believe he only received the message but does not know what is going on in that area—since 1963 when Kenya attained independence there has been no such National Flag in that area, there was only a police force flag until recently when I put in this question (in November last year). How is it that the Assistant Minister is now telling us that the flag pole was broken and it had to be sent for repair? Is that true? Tell us the truth.

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to turn this House into a court room. It is a National Assembly and there are responsible people in this House, people who are supposed to give responsible replies to hon. Members.

The information is that this flag pole was there, it got broken and had to be sent to Marsabit to be welded. If the hon. Member wants us to show him the bill we paid to have this repaired, we can do so. He can call at my office to see the bill.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, can we know from the Assistant Minister what he would do to reprimand the officer who, according to the Member for the area, seems to have given the Assistant Minister false information to bring to this hon. House?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have no reason to believe that the information given to me was false. However, I would be obliged if it could be proved—and this is provided for in our Standing Orders—to me. I would be obliged if the hon. Member could see me outside and prove to me that the information given to me is false. In such cases it is usual for the Government to make a statement to that effect.

Mr. Cheserek: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister tell this House— Is it not necessary that when a police station is established that the national flag should be there?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, that is normal. The flag was there, the wind came up, broke the flag pole, we had it welded and the flag is now flying there. That is all.

Question No. 124 (1422)

ARMY HEADQUARTERS NEAR A FOREIGN EMBASSY

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Magugu?

Question No. 109 (1394)

CONTRIBUTORS TO WATER PROJECTS

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Mulwa? Not here?

Question No. 108 (1393)

CONSTRUCTION OF HOUSES: AIRPORT/MOMBASA ROADS JUNCTION

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We will have to leave this question too because it is Mr. Mulwa's.

Question No. 127 (1426)

LOCAL AREA COUNCIL IN BORABU LOCATION

Mr. Marita asked the Minister for Local Government if he would tell the House—

- (a) if he was aware that Borabu Location had been earmarked for a local area council;
- (b) when the proposed area council would start its services.

The Assistant Minister for Local Government (Mr. Munoko): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) The allegation that Borabu Location was earmarked for an area council is not quite correct. What the hon. Member may be having in mind is a reply by the former Minister which he gave to a question in the course of a discussion he was holding with Gusii county councillors on the occasion of an official visit he paid to Gusii County Council on 5th October 1969. On this occasion, Sir, my predecessor was asked by one of the councillors when Borabu Location would be considered for the status of a local area council. He simply informed the questioner that this was a matter which the Ministry could consider if the request was made after the matter had been discussed by the Gusii County Council and was then presented to the Ministry in the form of a resolution of the council.

(b) I would, however, inform the hon. Member that the Government is now examining the whole question of locational councils and in this exercise Borabu Location will be kept in mind.

Mr. Marita: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, it is now some considerable time since we heard the Ministry was going to establish locational councils. At the moment there is a need to have such councils. Will the Assistant Minister tell the House when he is going to establish these locational councils to help wananchi?

Mr. Munoko: Mr. Speaker, this will be established as soon as possible. At present the Ministry is engaged in the exercise of creating municipal councils which, we feel, have a higher priority than locational councils.

Question No. 125 (1423)

INCOME TAX FORMS TO BE IN SWAHILI

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I understand Question No. 125 has been deferred to another date.

(Question deferred to another day)

Question No. 114 (1410)

MONEY FOR HOUSING GIVEN TO CENTRAL RIFT COUNTY COUNCIL

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Housing if he would tell the House—

- (a) how much money had been given to the County Council of the Central Rift since 1968 to build houses in such areas as Baringo and Nakuru;
- (b) what qualifications were required before a council was given such money.

The Assistant Minister for Housing (Mr. Khalif): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) £51,243 loan by the Government through the National Housing Corporation.

(b) The only qualification required is the ability of the council to service and repay the loan and availability of funds at any one particular time. There is also, Sir, the question of extent of demand for houses.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Can the Assistant Minister tell the House how much of this £51,000 has been repaid and how much is outstanding because we need some more money?

Mr. Khalif: That, Sir, is another question on which I shall have to do some research to know how much of the loan has been repaid. The question asks precisely how much money has been loaned to the County Council of the Central Rift, not how much has been repaid and how much is still to be paid. That is another question altogether.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the reply by the Assistant Minister for Housing, can he inform the House how much money the Government of Kenya has spent so far on all the houses erected in the entire Republic.

Mr. Khalif: That also, Mr. Speaker, is another question. The hon. Member, I hope, is not very serious and does not expect me to answer off-hand and say how much money the Kenya Government has spent on housing.

*Question No. 72 (1314)*REPAIR AND CONSTRUCTION OF ROADS
IN KITUI

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House—

- (a) when the road to Kamulewa and Lundi in Mui Location in Kitui East would be repaired;
- (b) when the construction of Kitui-Museve-Thua road over Mutito Mountain would be started.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Minister for Works? Not here?

*Question No. 106 (1389)*BITUMENIZATION OF MURANG'A
KIRIAINI ROAD

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House whether, now that the Government had decided to improve the road from Murang'a via Gaturi to Kiriaini Market, (C.10/30), the Government could tarmac this road instead of putting murrum.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, the Minister is not here so it is not going to be answered now.

*Question No. 123 (1421)*SALARIES AND AFRICANIZATION IN RAILWAYS CORPORATION

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Magugu not here?

Question No. 126 (1425)

TELEPHONE SERVICES IN KISII DISTRICT

Mr. Marita asked the Minister for Power and Communications if he would tell the House when the Ministry was considering giving telephone services to the following divisional administrative and trading centres in Kisii District:—

- (a) Nyamira.
- (b) Manga.
- (c) Keumbu, and
- (d) Ogembo.

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): Mr. Speaker, I beg to reply. The answer is, if money is available, during this Financial Year.

Mr. Marita: Arising from the reply by the Minister, if money is available, I remember that during this—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Ask a question, do not make a speech.

Mr. Marita: Mr. Speaker, Sir, may I know from the Minister why he says if money is available when we know we submitted money to his Ministry to provide telephone services?

Mr. Ngala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the money that was estimated and allocated for such telephone services was not specifically, earmarked for Kisii. Whether money is directed to any particular location very much depends on the demands reflected by the local people for such telephone services there. This is being studied and if Kisii qualifies—there are many other areas that might also qualify and this is why I say that the money is very much related to the areas and if the money can go around all these areas and reach Kisii as well, I will be very happy to do it.

Mr. Ogero: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Minister be specific and tell this House when the places in question will have telephone services instead of telling us that it is when money is available? Will he tell this House, specifically, when the telephone services will be provided for the places in question?

Mr. Ngala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, all being well, these services could be made available to Kisii during 1971 or 1972.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can we know whether the Minister has the figures for the money to be spent on the four places mentioned in the question to have telephones? How much money will be spent so that they can have telephone services?

Mr. Ngala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the department is actively considering the places mentioned for telephone services. These figures are being worked out not only for Nyamira, Manga, Keumbu and Ogembo but also for many other parts of the Republic of Kenya. I am not in a position, now, to determine, specifically, what the individual figures for these four places are.

*Question No. 131 (1430)*GOVERNMENT ASSISTANCE: MARAGWA RIDGE DISPENSARY

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Health if he could tell the House whether in view of the fact that wananchi through self-help had built and completed a Harambee dispensary at Maragwa Ridge Settlement Scheme, the Minister would, as a matter of urgency, provide the dispensary with staff and medicines.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Ministry of Health is aware that there are a number of health centres and dispensaries—is that the question?

Mr. Nthenge: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, could the hon. Assistant Minister go further away from the microphone so that we can hear properly.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Ministry of Health is aware that there are a number of health centres and dispensaries that have been built on self-help basis that cannot be opened at the present time due to lack of staff.

I have already mentioned this problem to the House several times and I would like to point out once more that the opening of health centres and dispensaries can only be undertaken when staff are available. This also applies to the Harambee dispensary at Maragwa Ridge Settlement Scheme.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that these people who were recently settled are so poor that they cannot afford transport to carry their patients, does the Assistant Minister intend to tell me that Government is willing to see them die instead of servicing their project?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Ministry of Health has never had that willingness to see anybody die.

Mr. Amayo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, will he tell the House when the Ministry of Health will be in a position to provide the staff for all these dispensaries which have already been built?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, well, it will be in a couple of years' time.

Mr. Matiko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, since the wananchi have fully accepted the spirit of Harambee, and now the Assistant Minister tells this House that there are not enough staff, is this not discouraging the Harambee spirit? If the wananchi build projects and when they complete them they are told there are no staff, will that not be discouraging them?

Mr. Jahazi: No, Mr. Speaker, Sir, what I mean by this is that we in the Ministry of Health have told everyone, even the hon. Members here, that at the moment before they embark on any scheme to build a health centre or anything else they have to come and consult with us so that we can advise them on the staffing ability otherwise we do not consider just putting up a building and calling it a health centre without the staff. So, training the staff takes time and the hon. Members know the efforts that we are putting up so that we can have a training school in every provincial hospital to train more staff from the local areas who would man the health centres there. Unless we train them I do not—it is easier to have the unemployed there to start injecting people if this is what they want. This is not advisable in the Ministry of Health and so we will have to wait until we can train enough people to man these health centres.

Mr. Tsuma: Mr. Speaker, Sir, realizing the fact that health centres or dispensaries have failed because of lack of advice from the Ministry of Health—the fact is that buildings are ready for use and now we are told that there are no staff. Will the Assistant Minister tell this House what qualifications one requires to man a dispensary if you do not have the staff?

Mr. Jahazi: Could you repeat your question?

Mr. Tsuma: Mr. Speaker, Sir, may I ask the Assistant Minister to tell us what qualifications a person must have in order to man a dispensary or a clinic? Must we wait for doctors?

Mr. Jahazi: It is not that the qualifications are worrying us, Mr. Speaker; but is training of enough staff to man every health centre that exists today. We have trainees all over the place, in hospitals and other health centres so that we can have enough of them to man the existing dispensaries and health centres.

Question No. 113 (1409)

TOURISM PLANS IN BARINGO NORTH

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Tourism and Wildlife if he could tell the House—

(a) what specific plans he had for Baringo District regarding tourism, apart from rural development, in the current Development Plan of 1970-74; and

(b) what the plans were in respect of the Kerio Valley with its wildlife attraction.

The Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife (Mr. Jan Mohamed): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. My Ministry cannot produce a blue print plan on tourism for Baringo District alone. However, Mr. Speaker, within the context of the Current Development Plan embracing the whole country, Baringo District falls within the priority areas. Already there is a 20-bed lodge in operation at Lake Baringo. Another 50-bed lodge is proposed to be built at Lake Hannington in the same district. Further plans are underway to—

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker. Is the Assistant Minister not confusing the House by saying that Lake Rudolf is—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order, Mr. arap Cheboiwo. I think you should have waited until he completed his reply and then you could raise that. Do not interrupt for nothing.

The Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife (Mr. Jan Mohamed): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not say Lake Rudolf. I said there is already a 20-bed lodge at Lake Baringo. I further said that another 50-bed lodge is proposed to be built at [The Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife Lake Hannington within the same district. Further plans are under way to incorporate tourist attraction areas in the north, through Baringo District, within this plan's period.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the answer to part (b), my Ministry has no immediate development plans for Kerio Valley as a Game Reserve. However, Sir, should the hon. Member and his constituents feel very strongly about it, I am always prepared to consider taking over the area as a game reserve if so requested. Meanwhile, my Ministry continues to look after wildlife in this area as is the case throughout the rest of the country.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Arising from that answer, is the Assistant Minister aware of the attractive animals in Kerio Valley? We do not want them to take the whole of Kerio Valley and make it a Game Reserve but only a part of it where there are a lot of elephants, lions and the rest. Just a part of it but not the whole of it.

Mr. Jan Mohamed: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we always get conflicting views in this House. My Ministry would be very happy to do that but the decision to do so rests with the local people. It is for the county council in that area to formally resolve that they wish my Ministry to take over part of the Kerio Valley and when this request is submitted to my Ministry appropriate steps will be taken.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from one of the replies given by the Assistant Minister, where he says that his Ministry cannot produce a blue print for only Baringo District, would he agree with me that one of the reasons why his Ministry cannot produce a blue print, not only for Baringo but the rest of Kenya, is because his Ministry is advised by foreign tourists and the industry is run by the foreigners in this country rather than by the citizens of African origin?

An hon. Member: You are right.

Mr. Jan Mohamed: Mr. Speaker, I want to deny that categorically. I know each hon. Member in this House would wish to have lodges and hotels built in his constituency. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, even a commodity like rice cannot be grown everywhere in the country. It has to be grown where it can grow.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We will go back to Mr. Magugu's question.

An hon. Member: Where are you?

Question No. 124 (1422)

ARMY HEADQUARTERS NEAR A FOREIGN EMBASSY

Mr. Magugu: Mr. Speaker, I apologize for coming late.

Mr. Magugu asked the Minister for Defence if he would tell the House—

(a) whether it was in the interest of national security to have our Army Headquarters just next to a foreign embassy; and

(b) whether the Minister would assure the House that necessary arrangements would be made forthwith to correct the situation.

The Minister for Defence (Mr. Gichuru): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know whether this is parliamentary.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is complimentary.

The Minister for Defence (Mr. Gichuru): Mr. Speaker, Sir, the answer to (a) is "No, Sir."

(b) I would like to assure the hon. Member—

An hon. Member: Go near the microphone.

The Minister for Defence (Mr. Gichuru): Where—that steps have already been taken to ensure complete security for the new Defence Headquarters.

An hon. Member: Well done.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question, Mr. Mulwa.

Mr. Nthenge: On a point of order, can the Chair tell us why we should not ask a supplementary question on the question?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): When a question is so fully answered, there is no need for a supplementary question.

Mr. Mulwa.

Question No. 109 (1394)

CONTRIBUTORS TO WATER PROJECTS

Mr. Mulwa asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House, considering that the people were poor, why he issued a directive last month to the Water Development Department in his Ministry that in future people should contribute 60 per cent of the money in water projects instead of 50 per cent.

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I have never given such a directive and, as a matter of fact, I would be very pleased if the hon. Member could let me have a copy of that directive which he refers to.

Mr. Mulwa: Arising from the reply, Mr. Speaker, I will gladly submit that directive to the hon. Minister. Furthermore, his Assistant Minister, just before the House went into recess last year, confirmed this in the House.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): What was your question, Mr. Mulwa?

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, the question is: since he now says that he is not aware of this, I said I will submit it and I pointed out to him that his Assistant Minister, the hon. Wanjigi, confirmed this last year just before the House rose and went into recess. Is he going to reverse the situation if I now give him a copy of the directive?

Mr. Nyagah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I told the hon. Member, in the earlier part of my reply, that I would be very pleased to see a copy of this directive. He can do anything he likes but let me have the directive.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can we be told by the hon. Minister what he intends to do if he finds that some of his subordinate staff have done what he denies?

Mr. Nyagah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, let me have a copy of the directive.

Question No. 108 (1393)

CONSTRUCTION OF HOUSES: AIRPORT/
MOMBASA ROADS JUNCTION

Mr. Mulwa asked the Minister for Local Government if he would tell the House—

(a) whether he was satisfied that the buildings which were being erected near the junction of the road to the Airport and Mombasa Road and which were so near the main road had been properly planned; and

(b) whether, since they were going to be permanent buildings, the Minister was aware that these houses would pose a problem in the event of enlarging the Mombasa Road.

The Assistant Minister for Local Government (Mr. Munoko): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The buildings mentioned by the hon. Member are, I believe, those on Plots L.R. 7135/4 and L.R. 7135/5. These plots are currently registered as agricultural land. Permission to turn them into residential plots has been rejected by the Commissioner of Lands and the Land Control Board of Nairobi, because these areas may later be included in the plans for extending the Embakasi Airport.

In view of the above, and the anticipated replanning of the area, the whole matter of the future of these houses is in the hands of the Commissioner of Lands. If and when these plots are to be acquired by the Government, the Commissioner of Lands shall issue the necessary Statutory Notice under the Land Acquisition Act, 1968, informing the parties concerned and inviting negotiations regarding the matter of compensation.

Mr. Mulwa: I hope we are referring to the same houses because I am referring to the houses just near the road junction. If the hon. Assistant Minister is referring to the same houses, why is it that the Ministry allowed these people to go on building these houses, and now after completion they are asking them to remove the houses? They are now in the process of removing them. Why did you allow them to do that and to undergo such big expenses just to ask them to remove the houses later?

Mr. Munoko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not aware that the Minister has approved any plans, nor of the City Council of Nairobi having done this?

Mr. Karungaru: Arising from one of the Assistant Minister's reply, is he trying to tell the House that when these houses were built the Ministry of Local Government was not in Kenya and that after completion of more than five of them, costing Sh. 50,000, is when the Ministry of Local Government came back to Kenya and it is only now the time that the Ministry is taking notice of what is happening? If—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Karungaru, you are making a speech.

Mr. Munoko: Mr. Speaker, the Ministry of Local Government is fairly local and there is no question of it having been outside Kenya. The point here is that these people who were building these houses had no authority to do so and that is why they are pulling the buildings down.

Mr. Mutunga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, do we understand from the Assistant Minister for Local Government that these houses will be pulled down?

Mr. Munoko: It is precisely that, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Y. Ali: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister tell this House why, from the beginning the authority concerned, owing to negligence of duty, did not take note of those buildings at that place? Also, Sir, why from humanitarian grounds, after wananchi have put a lot of thousands and thousands of shillings, the Minister would not, at least, allow them to continue living in that place while they try to draw a plan for the future?

Mr. Munoko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the onus of making sure that whatever they are doing is correct is on those who are to develop the area. They have to make sure that what they are doing is within the law. If they do it outside the law, any costs which they may undergo is theirs.

An hon. Member: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, I do not think we need points of order now.

Mr. Masibayi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the answer from the Assistant Minister, would he assure this House that these people are going to be paid for their costs? Are they going to be compensated?

Mr. Munoko: No, Sir, I cannot assure the hon. Member that because these people carried out these works without the approval of the authority concerned.

Question No. 72 (1314)

CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR OF ROADS
IN KITUI

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House—

- (a) when the road to Kamulewa and Lundi Location in Kitui East was to be repaired; and
- (b) when the construction of Kitui-Museve-Thua Road over Mutito Mountain was to be started.

The Minister for Works (Mr. Nyamweya): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. We cannot trace the route or road from Kamulewa to Lundi and it is not, if it does exist, one of the roads the Ministry of Works maintains.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer to part (a) where the Minister says that he does not know the road, I would like to tell him that Lundi and Kalidini are roads known and are in existence. Now, would he send any one of his officials, if they do not know these roads, to this place so that I can show them where these roads are? They have been maintained by the Ministry of Works for many years now.

Also, Sir, I would like to know why the Minister did not reply to part (b) of my question.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You are right, I think, Mr. Kitonga. The second part of your question was not replied to.

Mr. Nyamweya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I apologize to the hon. Member. The second part of the question is, in fact, more or less like the first part of the question because we have no project for building a road from Museve to this funny place called Thua.

Mr. Matiko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's reply, that he cannot trace Kitui-Museve Road, is the Minister aware there is a forest at Museve where the Forest Department has a nursery and there is a road leading to the nursery.

Mr. Nyamweya: I am not aware of a road to a nursery in this forest which the hon. Member has mentioned. Perhaps, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the best thing which we could do in dealing with a question like this is that if the hon. Member, "Chief" Kitonga, would care to spend ten minutes with me or the representative of my Ministry, we would be in a position to help him.

Mr. Kitonga: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Minister deny that he himself, personally, and myself we went to Iko last month and I showed him this road.

Hon. Members: Yes, tell us?

Mr. Nyamweya: It is true, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that I visited Kitui East extensively during the Parliamentary Recess and as far as I know, most roads which do exist in Kitui East have already been graded and they are in a very good condition. If there are some of these minor tracks which we do not see, I am suggesting to the hon. Member—in fact, I am trying to help him much more than I have done—that if he would come along, we would look into this; and if, really, Kitui deserves more minor roads, we will definitely try to help.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, while thanking the Minister for his reply, and realizing that this road starts from Kitui right up to the hill, and there is no through way up to Lundi, would he be kind enough to send his team to survey whether this road would be of any use from Kitui through Kabonge to Lundi. There is no way through to Mutito.

Mr. Nyamweya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if this is the difficulty I was shown when I visited Kitui last month in the company of hon. "Chief" Kitonga and the Minister for Labour, I did indicate when I was shown this difficulty that this problem was going to be looked into. I do not see why it should be the subject matter of this little debate here which will not help us.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 106 (1389)

BITUMENIZATION OF MURANG'A-
KIRIAINI ROAD

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, before I ask the question, I would like to ask the Minister to apologize because he was not here when I first asked it.

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Works whether, since the Government had decided to improve the road from Murang'a via Gatari to Kiriaini Market (C.10/30), the Government could tarmac the road instead of putting on murrum.

The Minister for Works (Mr. Nyamweya): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. This road is scheduled for construction to gravel standard during the current Development Plan and, in fact, work is already in progress. I am sure that the hon. Member will appreciate the effort we are making to improve this road. In fact, Sir, why I was late is because I had this problem to solve from him. It is not considered that there is economic justification for tarmacking this road for the time being.

Mr. Wachira: Is the Minister aware, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that this is the shortest road to Chinga Factory where a lot of tea is manufactured?

Mr. Nyamweya: Yes, I am aware and that is why the work is actually in progress now.

Mr. Wanjagi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Minister not aware that this area, which includes Kiru, Kiriaini and Chinga, is one of the progressive areas in Murang'a and Nyeri Districts and therefore such a project would be very viable?

Mr. Nyamweya: Yes, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am aware. However, I think we have to do these things in stages. The first stage is that we have actually started to do the work in order to bring this road to gravel standard; an all-weather road; later if the volume of produce increases in that area, I am quite sure, Sir, we will include this bit of road in our programme for bitumenization within the next five years.

Question No. 123 (1421)SALARIES AND AFRICANIZATION IN RAILWAYS CORPORATION

Mr. Magugu asked the Minister for Power and Communications if he would tell the House—

- (a) whether he could give a breakdown of expatriate officers in Railways Corporation in the scale of K£786 per annum to K£2,700 per annum;
- (b) what their respective departments and qualifications were;
- (c) what controlled the rate of Africanization in the Corporation; and
- (d) whether the transport effort undertaken by the Corporation in Kenya reflected in the Headquarters' management, and if the answer was in the affirmative, why the said management was manned on equal basis while about 62 per cent of the total revenue was collected in Kenya.

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply (a) I wish to inform the hon. Member that the expatriate officers employed by the Railways Corporation in the said scale are as follows: K£735, 130; K£948, 145; K£1,062, 102; K£1,182, 81; K£1,320, 30; K£1,410, 21; K£1,500, 6; K£1,560, 70; K£1,580, 30; K£1,830, 10; K£2,040, 15; K£2,340, 10; and K£2,640, 4. The total, Sir, is 654 officers.

(b) And the following are their respective departments and qualifications:—

Department	Graduates and Professionals	Tech.	HSC	Other	Total
Director-General ..	3	6	3	4	16
Accounts	9	—	18	12	39
Traffic	4	55	60	6	125
Stores	1	—	2	3	6
Civil Engineering ..	63	105	11	16	195
Mechanical Engineering	27	246	—	—	273
TOTAL	107	412	49	41	654

(c) The rate of Africanization in the Corporation is mainly controlled by the availability of local East Africans who pass the requisite qualifications required in the various jobs offered by the Corporation. The Railway Corporation has, in the past, followed and will continue to follow a planned programme in replacing expatriate personnel with local East African officers as quickly as is practicable.

(d) There was no attempt to recruit staff on the basis of transport effort undertaken by the corporation in Kenya, and although Kenyans in the headquarters' management is higher, this is not a reflection on the transport effort.

Mr. Magugu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, supplementary question to number (a) of the question to the Minister is: why should there be really so many expatriates in the scale between £735 and £1,500 while I am sure that we, in Kenya, can provide these officers?

Mr. Ngala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not understand the Member.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Would you repeat your question, Mr. Magugu?

Mr. Magugu: My question was: why should we continue to have so many expatriate officers in the scales of between £735 and £1,500 while, in fact—and even you, Mr. Minister, are aware—we have qualified citizens in this country to take the posts?

Mr. Ngala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, while many departments of the Railways have been fully Africanized, there are many other departments and this is East Africa wise. The Member should not think that this is just figures for Kenya. I would be the first person, Mr. Speaker, Sir, to consider any applicants, sent or brought to me, by [The Minister for Power and Communications] the hon. Member or any other Member here, of people who are qualified to work in these departments that I have mentioned; and these people must be Kenyans, Tanzanians or Ugandans. We would give them the first preference and we would take them first because we are progressively replacing the expatriates.

Mr. Koigi: I would like to have a clarification from the Minister of the policy which controls the Africanization of the officers.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): A policy?

Mr. Koigi: No, I am not asking you, Mr. Shikuku!

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): But your question is not clear!

Mr. Ngala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not understand the question.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Could you repeat your question, Mr. Koigi?

Mr. Koigi: My question, Sir, is; I would like to hear an explanation from the Minister on what is the policy which controls and ensures acceleration of Africanization in the various departments of the Corporation?

Mr. Ngala: The policy is the East African Community policy, and in this policy we want to replace the non-Africans or the expatriates as quickly as we can by providing training overseas which is related to the appropriate services in the various departments of the East African Community Corporations and particularly the Railways; and also, providing training within Kenya or East Africa for people to man these various departments. I can assure the hon. Member that we have, so far, done very well in Africanization; we are well over 94 per cent now in the Africanization throughout.

Mr. Magugu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, while agreeing with the Minister as to the number of expatriates holding these technical posts, could the Minister then justify why we should have expatriate officers—whether from Kenya, Uganda or elsewhere—holding purely administrative posts in the Corporation?

Mr. Ngala: It is true, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that we have some officers who are holding administrative posts, but these are very much on the reduced side these days throughout the East African Community services and the Railways specifically. This is mainly in the capacity of advising on how the administration should go and these people are all on contract basis. Therefore, as soon as we get our own people who can understand the work as we want it done, then these people will be replaced because they are on contract and they are temporary.

QUESTIONS BY PRIVATE NOTICE

CUT-OFF OF WATER SUPPLY BY TAITA-TAVETA COUNTY COUNCIL

Mr. Mwamunga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Local Government the following Question by Private Notice:—

Is the Minister aware that on Wednesday, 24th February 1971, the County Council of Taita-Taveta, despite prevailing drought condition, cut off water supplies for several self-help water schemes in the Voi Constituency and Kishushe including the Kajire Water Supply Scheme thereby causing great hardship and suffering to the people and their livestock? What action will the Minister take to ensure that—

- (a) the council reconnects all the water supplies it so cut off;
- (b) the council desists from demanding illegal water rates from the people in the district; and
- (c) the council refunds to the people concerned whatever money it collected as water rates.

The Assistant Minister for Local Government (Mr. Ogutu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Sir, I would like first of all to correct the hon. Member by pointing out that the water supplies was cut off on 9th February 1971, and not on 24th February 1971, as stated by the hon. Member.

The schemes affected were Ndome and Kajire. The water supplies at Kishushe were not disconnected. The circumstances leading to the disconnection of water supplies to the two schemes were as follows, Mr. Speaker, Sir:

Sir, at a special Finance and Establishment Committee meeting of the Taita/Taveta County Council held on 31st December 1970, the council's revenue officer reported that he had gone round all the water projects some time in November 1970, when he was able to collect only a small amount of money being water fees. Since a number of consumers had promised to pay their fees by 15th December 1970, the revenue officer requested the councillors to advise on what further action to take against the defaulters. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the committee recommended that a circular letter be written to urge chiefs and councillors to warn the consumers in their respective locations that they should pay their water fees for 1970 before 31st January 1971, failing which the council would have to discontinue their water supplies. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the above recommendations of the committee were adopted at a special full council meeting, held on 21st January 1970. Since the consumers concerned failed to respond to the council's circular, referred to above, the council had no alternative except to disconnect the water supplies to the two water schemes on 9th February 1971. This action was taken under Regulation No. 178, Paragraph 3, of the Local Government Regulations, 1963.

[The Assistant Minister for Local Government]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is noted that the water supplies to the schemes were cut off for only two days, and are now running as usual. On the 9th March 1971, the chairman of the water committee for Ndome Scheme, undertook to persuade the consumers of Ndome to pay their water fees by the end of April 1971.

The consumers of Kajire have completely refused to pay their fees. The District Commissioner of Taita and the Clerk to the County Council are arranging to hold barazas in the area, to try to persuade the consumers to pay their water fees.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the water supplies to the two schemes were cut off for only two days, and are now running normally, the question of their reconnection does not arise. I wish to remind the hon. Members that the water fees in question were approved by my Ministry in December 1969, under Regulation 148, paragraph 2, of the Local Government Regulations, 1963. As the hon. Member will remember, he was at that time the Clerk to the County Council of Taita/Taveta. I cannot, therefore, agree with him that the fees are illegal.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not see any reason for asking the country council to refund to the consumers concerned, whatever money the council collected as water fees. As the hon. Member knows, from his experience as a former clerk to the council, the council spent a lot of money in maintaining the water supplies. It should, therefore, be compensated for the services rendered to the consumers.

Mr. Mwamunga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Assistant Minister has informed this House that the County Council of Taita/Taveta did what they did in exercise of powers under Regulation 148 of Local Government Regulations, 1963, and that the county council charged the water rates under a resolution approved by his Ministry, in December 1969. First of all, Mr. Speaker, Sir, if I may be allowed to correct certain impressions, the County Council of Taita/Taveta has no water policy different from the water policy under the Kenya Water Act or Water Ordinance. Mr. Speaker, Sir, may I know what authority the county council has in demanding these rates, when they have not been appointed water undertakers, as required by the Laws of Kenya governing water? In fact, Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform the Assistant Minister that the right to use water and to regulate the utilization of water, is in the Minister responsible for water, and that the resolution which the Ministry has approved, in fact, is ultra vires.

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, under Local Government Regulation 178, a local authority is allowed to establish water supplies. Mr. Speaker, Sir, Regulation 148 also authorizes a local authority to charge fees for any services regulated by law, and this is one of them, Sir.

Mr. Mwamunga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the answer given by the Assistant Minister is far from satisfactory. Local Government Regulations, 1963, are subsidiary to Laws of Kenya, and the regulation of water and administration of water is governed by the Water Ordinance, Cap. 372, of the Laws of Kenya, and the council and Ministry have not complied with the requirements of this Act.

Hon. Members: Answer that!

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Local Government Regulations, 1963 empower the Local Government to establish water under Regulation 178, and these Regulations are authoritative as far as Local Government is concerned within any subsidiary by-laws made by any local authority in their respective area, and this is the same with Taita/Taveta County Council.

Mr. Mnene: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister trying to tell this House that the Local Government can make by-law to override the Laws of Kenya?

Mr. Ogutu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not say that.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Now, I do not think we are getting very far; this is a question of law, which we are not likely to resolve right now.

NOTICE OF MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

MATTER OF REPLY TO QUESTION BY PRIVATE NOTICE: CUT-OFF OF WATER SUPPLY BY TAITA-TAVETA COUNTY COUNCIL

Mr. Mwamunga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to pursue this matter as a Motion for the Adjournment.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question Mr. Araru.

SCHOOL FEES FOR 1970: MARSABIT
SECONDARY SCHOOL

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Education the following Question by Private Notice:—

Why is the Headmaster of Marsabit Secondary School asking students to pay school fees for 1970 whereas the county council had agreed to pay the money in form of bursaries?

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Rubia): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The school fees for 1970 should have been paid before the end of the year. Some students at Marsabit Secondary School expected bursaries from their county council, but these have not been paid to the school so far. The Headmaster is, therefore, obliged to collect fees from the students, since the county council has failed to pay the fees by way of the promised bursaries.

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer by the Assistant Minister, when he said that the county council promised to pay the school fees, Sir, this was not a promise. The county council has usually, every year, money given to the district for bursaries to students. This was done and the names of students who received the bursaries were shown; we do not know whether the county council paid the bursaries or not. Why is the Ministry not chasing the county council, who are responsible for this money, rather than expelling the students from the school?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to make a very sincere suggestion, that the students should chase the county council and not my Ministry.

Mr. Kholkholle: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Assistant Minister tell this House how much money was granted to the county council for bursary purposes and how much has been spent on bursaries for this school?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, my Ministry does not allocate funds to any county council for the purpose of providing bursaries. County councils are expected to find funds from their own resources in order to give those bursaries to their local students.

Mr. Muthamia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Assistant Minister, can he tell the House how Government is going to recover the fees which have gone with the Form IV leavers—those who left last year? How are they going to recover this money?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, the question before the House is about those students who are still at school. If there are any students who have left school, that is a different matter. We have other means of pursuing the cases.

Mr. Njiru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from one of the replies from the Assistant Minister, does he imply that in case any pupil fails to pay the school fees for the year 1970 he is going to be chased away from school?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the students are expected to pay their school fees. Where they cannot pay, then they will have to ask for it from their county councils. If they cannot find money from their county councils, then they will have to look around somewhere else.

Last year my Ministry gave four students, at that school which the hon. Member is referring to, bursaries to study. It is expected that these bursaries will be renewed this year, but every student must prove his case. We cannot give a blanket bursary to those who claim that they are unable to pay.

Mr. arap Chumo: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, Mr. Speaker, Sir, could he tell this House why they have to wait until 1971 to chase these children from school? Why did they not do it in 1970 when the school fees were not paid? The services have been provided already. Why chase them for the money again?

Mr. Rubia: Well, I think the headmaster was too kind-hearted. I do not think anybody should be victimized because he was too kind-hearted. The headmaster was understanding because of the hope that the county council would pay the bursaries. If the headmaster made a mistake, in the opinion of the hon. Member, certainly my Ministry does not share this view. The headmaster hoped that the county council would come and pay. We hope that the fees will still be paid by the students themselves.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker for this last chance. Mr. Speaker, can the Assistant Minister agree with me that now this area is faced with a very bad situation, of drought, and we cannot afford to pay any fees—not even for the primary pupils? Can he agree to advise the headmaster to keep these students in school until his Ministry and the county council consult amongst themselves in order to have these fees paid because as far as I am concerned, and as the hon. Member who spoke earlier is concerned, this was for last year? Since these fees are not for this year, why should the students be chased away for last year's fees when we are in such a bad situation and are appealing to the public to raise funds to help us?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, I do not think anybody would doubt that there is a very serious situation in the North-Eastern Province. In fact, I have acknowledged this. Indeed, I am trying to do something about it myself in my other capacity, and the hon. Member knows about it. But what I cannot do is to give an undertaking that because there is drought in that area we are not going to pursue the students to pay the fees. If there is any question of hardship, then, obviously, the individual students will try and prove the case to the Ministry. But we are not going to allow the present situation to be given as an excuse for not paying public funds.

[The Assistant Minister for Education]

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us go on now.

POINT OF ORDER

MATTER CANNOT BE DEALT WITH THROUGH A MINISTERIAL STATEMENT SINCE A QUESTION HAS ALREADY BEEN SUBMITTED

Mr. Migire: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, it was reported in the Daily Nation, or rather the Sunday Nation, of 7th March 1971, that the Kenya Foreign Minister, Dr. Mungai, met the President of the Republic of Uganda. This was after the President had announced that the former President of Uganda had established some camps for some subversive activities against Kenya. Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that this is a very important matter to us—we as Kenyans—and the nation is waiting to hear from Government as to what the findings were, would it not be in order if the Minister for Foreign Affairs stood in this House today or at a later stage and told us what the position is in this case, Mr. Speaker?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I cannot speak for the Minister for Foreign Affairs and I cannot see him in here now. So he cannot possibly say anything while absent. But it is up to the Ministry to decide what to do about it.

I understand somebody has put in a question of some sort. In the process of replying to that question the Minister might have an opportunity of dealing with the point you have raised, Mr. Migire.

MINISTERIAL STATEMENT

INCIDENT OF MR. ABDI ALI

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir, some time ago I promised the House that I would get them some information in connexion with Mr. Abdi Ali, who, it was alleged was thrown away from a lorry. This is the statement I have to make.

On 4th October, last year, in reply to a question asked by the Member for Garissa North, Mr. Mohamed, regarding a Mr. Abdi Ali, who was alleged to have been thrown from a lorry on 20th June 1970, I said that investigations were underway, and that I would report to the House when these had been completed. I would now like to tell the House that investigations have been finalized.

These investigations reveal that on 20th June 1970, at about 8.45 p.m., a lorry, Registration No. KJJ 849, belonging to Messrs. Bayusuf and Brothers of Garissa was returning to Garissa after having taken some traditional dancers to Gatundu. In the lorry were four persons, two of whom were drivers, namely Messrs. Mohamed Hassan and Nasir Mohamed. Mr. Bayusuf himself and one Maluk Njioki, who is believed to be a turn-boy, were also in the lorry.

On arrival at Thika they picked up one person known by the name of Abdi Ali. According to Mr. Abdi he agreed to pay his fare from Thika to Garissa; but on reaching Ndalani, near Matu, Mr. Abdi alleges that as he had no money to pay for the journey the vehicle stopped and he was forcibly removed from it, and as a result he fell and sustained injuries. The lorry then drove off leaving him on the roadside.

However, the rest of the persons allege that when they were between Matu and Yatta then they discovered that Mr. Abdi Ali was not in the rear of the lorry. Despite this they carried on their journey.

As Members can see, it has not been possible to obtain the true facts in this matter as the evidence given by the parties concerned is conflicting. Due to lack of independent witnesses it is not possible to establish a criminal act on the part of anybody on which further action could be based.

Therefore, we cannot do anything, and that ends there.

Thank you.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next Order.

MOTION

THANKS FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS
(Sixth Day)

THAT the thanks of this House be recorded for the exposition of Public policy contained in His Excellency's Presidential Address from the Chair on 23rd February 1971.

(The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs on 25th March 1971)

(Resumption of Debate interrupted on 9th March 1971)

Mr. Mnene: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. While congratulating His Excellency the President for his Speech, I wish to say just a few things, Mr. Speaker, and this has to be on the Speech of His Excellency the President.

His Excellency the President said something like this in his Speech, that this House is to act as a bridge between the public and Government. That alone, Mr. Speaker, carries a lot of meaning. Mr. Speaker, you also must have wondered why, whenever we bring Motions in this House we say, "This House urges the Government . . ." "This House" and "the Government" appear to be two different bodies.

Mr. Speaker, we have to ask ourselves, then, "Which is 'the Government' " because this House include all the Members here—Ministers, Assistant Ministers and Back-benchers as well. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this House does not mean, in the main, only Back-benchers; and His Excellency the President confirmed this when he said that this House is to act as a bridge between the Government and the public. We know the public and we also know this House, but, where is the Government? Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know if anybody can define that word "Government" according to that Speech. It was a very good Speech. However, you have heard, Mr. Speaker, when the Back-benchers stand to speak on this Speech they say: "The Government is to do this, the Government should do this" and then, the members of the public would easily think that the Government is the Front Bench here. However, the Front-benchers do not know and do not believe that they are the Government because, we, in this House, cover everybody. We are just a bridge, but there is a Government somewhere. That is what we want to know, Mr. Speaker. Where is that Government? If it is invisible, we should know because there must be a Government somewhere but not in here because this House is to be a bridge between the public and that Government which we do not know.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think we should tell the truth now. The Government is there. The Government is where we go and get our problems either settled, dismantled or something like that, and that is the Civil Service. The top civil servants are the Government, come what may. Mr. Speaker, Sir, even when we pass resolutions here, we tell the Minister to do something, to go and do this or that, he must go back to the top civil servants and ask them to prepare a speech or plans for him because this House is only a bridge between the public and that Government, and this House includes the Ministers and Back-benchers; therefore, we are not the Government. This thing is very interesting. Unless the Ministers say that they are not a part of this House, then we cannot call them the Government because this House includes them, and we are a bridge. Mr.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) left the Chair]

[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki) took the Chair]

Deputy Speaker, Sir, we all say that this is a Kanu Government, but Kanu is a Party and there are other people who have no Party. These are the Armed Forces only. The Armed Forces are not allowed to have any unions but the civil servants have a union and we, in this House, have our union called Kanu. The civil servants have their union called The Civil Servants' Union. However, the Armed Forces have no union at all. That is why, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we always find these coups taking place in Africa because the Civil Service has its own party, and Parliament has its own party but those people with arms have no party. They have no union, they have no party and are just watching these servants with their union and this Parliament with its political party. Then, Mr. Deputy Speaker, when those people who do not belong to any union or any party start thinking that those who have their unions to defend them and look after their welfare are becoming big-headed, and that these Members of Parliament, with their party, are being controlled by the Civil Service, that is the time you find these coups d'etat in Africa.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we must have a clear-cut solution on this matter. If we are to remain as a bridge between the public and that Government, then we must be careful because those people who have no party, no union to look into their problems can do anything forcefully; they might do it if we are not careful.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I do not want to waste a lot of time because I have said what I wanted to say and it cannot be denied. I will challenge anybody who denies that one. It is very interesting because in independent African States today, you will find that the members of the public are the ones who pay all these taxes and everything to buy arms to arm their forces just because the forces are the ones who know how to use the arms and the public are the people who know how to buy the arms. However, why do they buy these arms? Whom do they want to fight? We have been unable to fight the small minority régime in Rhodesia; why do we buy arms and arm these people? Why come and break that bridge and then take hold of that Government? They will, perhaps, one day—and that is what they are doing all over Africa—come and break that bridge and get hold of that Government. That bridge is this House.

[Mr. Mnene]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I want to leave that point as it is but I want to say something about the Judiciary in Kenya as a whole. I happen to have been a very good magistrate before coming into this House. Very good indeed. I say very good because of all the cases I have heard for some years nobody has ever won an appeal. However, you will find the so-called Resident Magistrates, Asians, who are big bosses, most of their appeals are just quashed there, their judgments are quashed and their sentences are set aside because they do not take pains. We know that African magistrates are frustrated and that is why I left the Judiciary. They really do a very good job and nobody appreciates what they do; instead, they keep on promoting their so-called resident magistrates, Asians including women. I would challenge the Attorney-General if he could bring to this House some of the statistics, a return of some sort of the cases heard by African magistrates and appeals that went through and also cases heard by the so-called resident magistrates and their appeals which went through. You would be surprised. Those resident magistrates, just because they are not Africans, do not concentrate on their work. I would ask the Attorney-General—I do not know why he is not present—to promote these chaps. They are very good, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

The Assistant Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. arap Choge): Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to join my friends in thanking the President for his Speech which he made on the 23rd of February. Mr. Deputy Speaker, the thing I would like to start with is the price of land in this country. Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, every time we come to this House, we have always shouted about the cost of land. You find that in the old days the white settlers paid about two or three cents per acre and the fertile land cost him five cents per acre. This was said by the Minister for Lands and Settlement some time in 1965 in this House. Now, the Africans are paying fantastic sums of money to the white settlers who are going out of this country. You are leaving the African a sort of a prisoner here; for the coming 30 years he will continue paying for this land. Mr. Deputy Speaker, if Uhuru means that we shall be imprisoned indirectly by paying higher prices for no reason for the land that the white settlers obtained free, for the land that the white settlers never made any progress on, then nobody will accept this.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, when we go back to our constituencies, there are always questions asked by our constituents and some of us and I think

Members of this House will bear witness with me—find it very difficult to explain to the constituents as to why the African Government, today, pays very high prices for land, or allows the white settlers to charge the incoming Africans a very high price per acre. Mr. Deputy Speaker, we have always complained in this House about this but nobody seems to take action. It is high time the Minister for Lands and Settlement goes deep into this question of the price of land, otherwise we shall go on being imprisoned by the ex-colonialists who are now leaving this country, for another period of 40 years still paying for these shambas.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, the other thing I would like to mention on the side of agriculture is that I would like the Minister for Agriculture—

Mr. Munyasia: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think this House is entitled to know in what capacity a Minister or an Assistant Minister is speaking in this House: that is, whether in his capacity as a Minister, Assistant Minister or as a constituency Member. I am saying this because you heard the very Assistant Minister who has been speaking challenging the Government of which he is a part and parcel. Now, what about the Back-benchers? If we, the Back-benchers, challenge the Government, and at the same time Ministers and Assistant Ministers challenge the Government, which Government is being challenged?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): It is not possible for a Minister to speak as a Back-bencher. All Ministers are Ministers at all time, day and night, whether they are in this Chamber or outside. So, I think it is not possible for Mr. arap Choge to describe what he is speaking as. He is obviously speaking as the Assistant Minister for a certain Ministry.

The Assistant Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. arap Choge): Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker. It is high time the hon. Member understood this because he has been in this House long enough. However, I do not deal with the land prices, but there are people dealing with the land prices and I have to make my comments in this House to advise it as to what is happening in the country. The thing I would like to mention, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is that it is high time we had a statement from the Ministry of Agriculture in respect of the Agricultural Development Corporation and the Agricultural Finance Corporation. It has been said in this House, several times, that some people have already deposited some large amounts of money but are unable to buy farms through the Agricultural Finance Corporation. However, their money is with the Agricultural Finance Corporation and they have not been able to get any shamba at all. Mr. Deputy Speaker, many farmers have approached the Agricultural Finance Corporation in respect of getting their farms bought by the Agricultural Development Corporation but they are not able to sell these farms to an individual, an ordinary African when he goes to them because they expect the Agricultural Development Corporation to come back and buy their farms and be able to get the money in England when they go back there. As you know, Mr. Deputy Speaker, the Africans who are interested in buying such farms may not be allowed to send the money to the United Kingdom to the respective farm owners who have agreed to sell their farms to them. It is high time, therefore, the Ministry of Agriculture came out with a statement so that we know that the Agricultural Development Corporation only buys farms for national purposes and not to pass them on to the individual Africans.

The other thing which I would like to touch on, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is about the allocation of secondary schools this year. You find that a large province, like the Rift Valley Province, was given three secondary schools, and Western Province and Nyanza as well were given three schools each, while some other provinces have about eight secondary schools. Now, this is a serious issue because everybody has to pay taxes and whatever amount of money we borrow must be paid back by everybody. However, when we have districts like Nandi, Kericho or Kakamega for that matter, where many children do not go to school, rather they do not find places in secondary schools, Mr. Deputy Speaker, this is a difficult situation for even the Members of the respective areas to explain to their constituencies. I am saying this because you find that there are students from these rural areas who could not find secondary school places in their own home districts and, instead, they were given places in secondary schools here in Nairobi. However, they were given a condition that unless they had parents to stay with they would not be able to attend school here. There, again, students have a problem of not finding people to accommodate them so as to attend schools in Nairobi, Eldoret or Nakuru. Now, what I am trying to get at, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is that during the next Financial Year we should be given more secondary schools in the rural areas, or in the districts where we come from, instead of adding more secondary schools here in Nairobi, Nakuru or Kitale.

Mr. Karungaru: Question!

The Assistant Minister for Co-operatives and Social Services (Mr. arap Choge): You say "Question" but we know there are boys in Nairobi here who had very low marks—eighteen points—and they found places in secondary schools. There are other students in Kipsigis who had 30 points and they could not find secondary school places. Is this being fair?

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would also like to refer to my constituency which has about 60 primary schools and not a single secondary school. This is not being fair, Mr. Deputy Speaker, because the distribution of secondary schools should be specifically allotted to cover the whole country instead of giving a specific community so many secondary schools. I hope the Ministry of Education will bear this in mind.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the other thing I would like to refer to is my Ministry—the Ministry of Co-operatives and Social Services. Now, we have already completed a good number of projects, and we have encouraged people in this way, and they have come out to answer our call of Harambee. They have come out in a big way and they have aided the projects just in the same way as some donor countries have done. However, the relevant Ministry should be able to take over the completed project instead of people completing a health centre and then leaving it for about two or three years before it is taken over by Government, or before the Ministry of Health is able to utilize the facilities that are available in that health centre. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would also like—if the Minister of Health is unable to have this health centre opened—the Minister to encourage and allow the community concerned to run it on self-help basis instead of refusing to allow them to do so. At the same time he should be able to give free medicine to that health centre and this should be accounted for by the Ministry of Health so that the community there can employ the necessary manpower—that is, people who are qualified to run the health centre instead of the health centre remaining without being used after being completed.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I hope in the next Financial Year we shall get more funds. I am sorry my time is up and therefore, with those few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for giving me this chance to probably repeat what my colleagues have been saying here.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think we, Members of Parliament, have at times been wasting a lot of time criticizing, say, one tribe or criticizing another tribe, criticizing one or two individuals instead of mentioning the diseases that are threatening the stability of our nation. I think it is time, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we concentrated on the diseases that threaten our welfare. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I will go over some of these diseases whether they have been mentioned or not for the sake of emphasis. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we shall repeat these things without getting tired because we see no action taken on them, and we will not shut our mouths until Government takes steps to rectify the situation.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, people have spoken here about corruption. We have said here time and again that this is one of the worst diseases. In fact, coups d'etat have been taking place in other nations and one of the major reasons given by the military organizers of these coups is corruption. We are saying this here and nothing is being done, Mr. Deputy Speaker. You may say that probably there is no evidence to these allegations about corruption but Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the wananchi look at some Ministers who were as poor as church mice when we attained independence and now they own 20 lorries. Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker—

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member is making a very serious allegation that some of the Ministers were just as poor as church mice when we attained independence and that now they own lots of property and so forth. Now, since we have very many Ministers would the hon. Member not be in order to tell us who these Ministers are because some of us are still as poor as the church mice he is talking about?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): The hon. Seth Lugonzo is being called upon to substantiate.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this substantiation is the reason why, instead of these evils being corrected they are still being hidden. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I will challenge the questioner, or I will ask you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that a commission of inquiry be—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! Yesterday I brought to the attention of the House that before a Member makes a statement that he regards as fact he must be sure that he must produce some kind of evidence on which he bases his argument or facts.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, may I be allowed to go and do some research and then bring this list and read it as a statement in this House?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! You have a prepared speech which you are looking at there. If you are not prepared to substantiate now you will have to withdraw and apologize.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I withdraw but the point is made.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order, Mr. Shikuku.

I gave a ruling that you will withdraw and apologize.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I withdraw and apologize.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to seek your guidance in this matter. Since my friend had his own opinion on whether the statement was a fact or not and he did not know whether an opinion is different from a statement of fact, was it not also right for the Chair to request my colleague to tell the House whether that was his opinion from what he sees instead of just asking him to substantiate something on which he might have formed an opinion by meeting some people previously before he came to this House?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): No, that cannot be regarded as a mere opinion. He made a categorical statement that some of the Ministers here were as poor as church mice. I do not know to what degree church mice are poor but that was a fact that he spoke. Then he said that there were now some of them owning as many as 20 lorries. That is not an opinion; that is a fact according to Mr. Lugonzo and he has been unable to substantiate it.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is also alleged that even some top civil servants who were in charge of giving contracts, join some companies and then they give to those companies the contracts. It is alleged, Mr. Deputy Speaker, and it is not a fact. They give to those very companies of theirs the contracts, Mr. Deputy Speaker. Is this not corruption, Mr. Deputy Speaker? These are the sort of things which must be disclosed and discontinued.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think we must go by the Standing Orders of this House. The hon. Member talks of some civil servants being in a position to give contracts to their friends. This is a very serious allegation because it is a statement of fact. Could he substantiate that also because we do not go by rumours in this House?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): No, he was very careful to say that it was an allegation and not a fact. But, I would desist from making allegations of such a serious nature unless I was absolutely sure of what I am saying.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I know of some Asians who were supposed to abandon their businesses and it is also alleged that through influence they have had these licences given to them. I think this is the kind of corruption that is spoiling our country.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): So far you are proving nothing, Mr. Lugonzo. You are absolutely wasting—spending time—I was going to use a most unreasonable word I think. However, you are using valuable time making allegations which if you are called upon to substantiate you cannot substantiate.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I will leave the question of corruption but it is one of the diseases that is threatening the stability of our nation.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we do cheat the population of Kenya that we have democracy but we do not have democracy. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have provincial commissioners and district commissioners whom I know very well were established by the colonialists to suppress the wananchi. Now if we still have them suppressing the wananchi, Mr. Deputy Speaker, what kind of democracy is this? We must get rid of any establishment that was—

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, can the hon. Member substantiate that there are some district commissioners and provincial commissioners who are suppressing the wananchi? That is a very serious allegation, Mr. Deputy Speaker. May we know that?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I thought he said that they were put up or used by the colonialists to suppress. Did the hon. Member say they were still doing that?

Mr. S. Lugonzo: No.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): No, he did not.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: But, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is possible that they could do the same and, therefore, it is the high time that we scraped the posts of provincial commissioners and district commissioners and the Act that is giving them so much power.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we do have examples of democracy. In the United States they do not have these posts of district commissioners and provincial commissioners. In the United Kingdom and even the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics they do not have district commissioners. They only have one individual making very vital decisions for millions of people. Therefore, this kind of diluted democracy must be stopped, Mr. Deputy Speaker. It is time we had real democracy in Kenya. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there is no democracy while people of Western Province have no direct access to the President; while the people of Coast Province have no representative on the body that makes Presidential decisions. We want each of these areas to be proud of the President and to have, if possible, a kind of Presidential—

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): On a point of order, Sir—I think it is good to teach the hon. Member—is it in order for him to say that Western Province people have no access to the President when in actual fact, Mr. Muliro and others are Members of his Cabinet?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): No, he is expressing an opinion there; whatever it is worth.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, my time has been wasted and so I leave that point. Democracy is diluted in Kenya.

My third point is the unfair distribution of wealth in this country. Today, the Daily Nation has a photograph of people washing and bathing in polluted water when we have people here with Mercedes Benz cars, and we have people here with millions of shillings. Mombasa has poor people who are scraping and raking in order to get food. This is horrible.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order, your time is over.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I join my colleagues in congratulating the President for his Address to the nation.

Sir, if that hon. Member can obey the orders of this House I will be grateful.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, let me begin by cautioning the Government on certain facts which are very important to this nation. Sir, a lot of these facts have been mentioned by hon. Members in this House but my points—which are factual—are fresh and new.

The first one, Sir, is on the Commission of Inquiry into the civil servants' salaries. They call it "Ndegwa Commission". Sir, last year the Government appointed, through this House, a Select Committee on the unemployment problem. Within three months, Sir, the Select Committee on unemployment problem produced its report and laid it on the Table of this House and it was approved. Following that, a working party on agricultural inputs was also appointed—of which I am a Member—and it is now in its final stages of producing a report. A year or so ago, a Commission of Inquiry headed by Mr. Ndegwa was appointed to look into the salaries of civil servants in the Kenya Government. Up to now, Sir, no report whatsoever has been given nor is its whereabouts known. When the National Assembly allowances were increased the entire civil servants grumbled and complained that we were increasing our salaries and that these salaries were going to be tax free. Now they are wondering why we are sitting on their report of the Commission of Inquiry.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, this Commission of Inquiry created jobs for some people heading it, to be going from place to place earning allowances, and I think this House is entitled to ask the civil servants where and when they will produce their report. Sir, I think this is a very important issue and I ask the Government to look into this so that if the report is ready it should be presented and laid to the Table of this National Assembly and be debated. No doubt we shall consider it favourably.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, another point which I want to make on His Excellency's Address is the question of Income Tax. Sir, we have been dragged into what I would call the American system of taxation in which Income Tax is assessed three months in advance. I think this is a very wrong system. How can you assess a farmer—under the situation of problems of drought, hailstorms and other elements of nature affecting crops and live-stock—on what income a farmer is going to get? It is a pity, Sir, that the Government has started a very bad system of assessing Income Tax. Farmers in the Republic are caught unaware by the Income Tax assessment which is on nothing but a forecast income of a farmer. I think this is a very wrong system and the Government is trying to fiddle about and is even trying to tax a farmer on an income which is not visible. I ask the Kenya Government to get rid of that Income Tax Return; what they call provisional return of three months where a farmer is asked to pay for three months in advance. Where will a farmer get the money to pay? He has his loan repayment on the land, loan repayment on the cattle, loan repayment on the machinery and loan repayment on other developments such as water, fencing and so on. This is a very wrong system. I think, whoever is advising the Commissioner of Income Tax must be having in mind something by which he is trying to sabotage the efforts of the farmers and other people who depend on income that is forecast. Sir, I think Government should get rid of this system and go back to the normal Pay as You Earn Income Tax system.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, another point which has not been mentioned—and I think it is of national importance—and which affects agriculture in this country is the Foot-and-Mouth disease. Kenya's economy depends largely on agriculture, and live-stock forms one mainstay of this economy. Time and again we get aspects of Foot-and-Mouth disease all over the country and this has stopped orders to the Kenya Meat Commission, it has stopped cattle auctions all over the country and it has even reduced production of both milk and meat. It is a very dangerous disease and I urge the Government to consider subsidizing the vaccination of Foot-and-Mouth disease. At a later stage, Sir, I will move a Motion urging the Government to subsidize vaccination of Foot-and-Mouth disease in the Republic and by all means, I hope, every Member of this House including the Ministers and Assistant Ministers who form the majority of the farmers in this country, will support this Motion.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, another point which I think is of great national importance is the foreign exchange control. Nowadays, Sir, a lot of European farmers are given conditional sales of their farms. This condition is that they must ask for the money in Britain. Most of the sales of farms are now being held up because they are not being sold because a European farmer wants to ask for the money in Britain. Are we going to allow this? Have we the shares in somebody's property? If it is the willingness of the Government to allow a willing seller and a willing buyer to go on with their work, I do not see any reason, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, of holding back somebody's money. I ask the Kenya Government to allow British money to be transferred immediately to their own country. If a European at any moment wants to sell his farm he must get his money and he should be paid in Europe so that an African farmer or an hon. Member in this House or a farmer in this country will get his money.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I think this is a very important point. With these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Magugu: I would like to join my colleagues in congratulating the President for his Speech.

I would like to start with the theme of the whole Speech which is unity. Mr. Deputy

[Mr. Magugu]

Speaker, Sir, very seriously speaking I find that no matter how much we talk of unity in this country we are getting nowhere. We cannot have unity in the country as a whole without having the different communities in the country first uniting themselves; in that what I have to say is that we have come to a stage when there is one community trying to unite itself, there is what we call politically ambitious people who do interrupt and stand in between such communities and undermine the very unity which is being created by the community concerned. I have in mind, for example, the unity like that of the Akamba Union, the Luo Union, the Baluhya Union and so on and even the Kikuyu Union. However, what I would like to say is that until each community has worked out its own policies and methods of uniting itself, then there will be no unity between Wakamba, Kikuyu, Baluhya and so on until the very tribes which form the core of the whole nation have united themselves.

Secondly, I would like to come to the question of the Civil Service. I would state that no matter how politicians, Members of Parliament and other people attack the civil servants, we will get nowhere. The civil servants belong to this Government and the politicians belong to this Government and until we have worked out a plan whereby we can work together without suspecting one another as a politician or as a civil servant, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I do not think the mere shouting of words or attacking the civil servants and vice versa will take us anywhere. In any case, I have not heard any politician or an hon. Member of Parliament here really attacking people who are employed in the private sector. They are just as influential and in some cases more influential than the civil servants. In fact, I would not myself attack the civil servants because what they do is what we tell them to do or what they do is what they are ordered by their Ministers to do. Even if you were a civil servant yourself you would not shout out or you would not jerk your neck out to try to argue with your boss otherwise you will find yourself out of job or you will find you are transferred to another place. Therefore, you had better follow the orders you are given—after all the politicians are the ones who give directions and decisions as to what the civil servants should do. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I do not see any point in attacking the civil servants. In any case some of the people who attack the civil servants have been civil servants themselves or it may be that some other people would not become civil servants even if they wished. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that point goes up to that.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my third point is related to public finance. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I find that there is a great deal of lack of control in public finance. This is largely generated by the people concerned be they Ministers, Permanent Secretaries or Assistant Ministers. This is because those concerned have not the sense as to the responsibility of discharging their duties or having in their minds what they ought or to what extent they ought to spend and control public finance. This money belongs to wananchi and belongs to the public and it should be spent or utilized properly as the Parliament may direct. However, you will find a Minister telling his Permanent Secretary that he wants this and that or to authorize the expenditure of this and that without the Minister concerned looking at what his Vote gives as his limits. Therefore, that issue, although it will come up during the debate on the Public Accounts Report, I thought I had better mention it, Mr. Deputy Speaker, at this juncture.

The other point I want to bring forward is the implementation of policy and decisions. I am very disturbed at the rate these decisions and policies are implemented. If you ask or you put a question as to how many steps or what steps have been taken on the many Motions that were passed during the last Session you will be told that no steps have been taken. We have to realize that we are sitting here at the public expense and as such we have to do what we are paid for. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would say that when a decision is made the executive officers including the Assistant Ministers and Ministers should make haste to see that these decisions are put into effect.

Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I remember I moved a Motion on control of land prices but to date nothing has been done by the Government. I know they are waiting for me to move a Private Member's Bill. If you do not do something, then I will move this Bill.

An hon. Member: It will cost you Sh. 1,000.

Mr. Magugu: It does not matter even if it is Sh. 4,000.

I would like to thank the President for thinking of abolishing area councils and replacing them with local councils. This will bring about co-ordination and quicker development in the areas which are now far from being developed. We really need more co-operation between the departments.

What I would now like to bring to light is the question of land registration. I realize the Ministry of Lands and Settlement has been telling us they are accelerating land registration. They will have to realize that one of the things why some areas are accusing other areas of quicker development is because of this very, very problem. When you go to areas where land has not been registered it will be very difficult for you to raise loans, if at all you can. However, when you come to this area where I have my own title-deed, instead of going to the Minister to sign for me or stand security for me, I will be able to raise enough security with my title-deeds. Therefore, it is no use bringing the Estimates of the Ministry here, telling us that they want money for land registration and so on, and yet they have been sitting down without doing that very important work faster than they are doing now.

Hence I would say that land registration programmes should be accelerated, maybe, ten times as much as they are now. Otherwise the areas which are still left behind will for ever remain behind and the areas which have their land registration programmes completed will forge ahead.

Another point I would like to mention is the availability of facilities and amenities. Let us have some kind of equitability of wealth, facilities and amenities; let us not have only the big people, only the Permanent Secretaries, the Ministers the Assistant Ministers benefiting from facilities being made open to them.

Mr. Mutunga: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I would like to thank you for giving me time to contribute to this Motion and say what I find wrong which should be corrected in this country.

First of all I would appeal to the people on the Front Bench not to interfere with us unnecessarily so that we can drive our points home. I say this because we have had this interference before. I do not direct my remarks at one of those on the Front Benches now but those who have been there previously.

I will start with land ownership in this country. No matter what we do, the land problem has not been solved and we have to be careful about this. I would like to appeal to the Minister for Lands to bring legislation into this House to make it impossible for foreigners to buy plots even in town because once there is this question of willing seller, willing buyer the African does not stand a chance, and that is why there has been so much land speculation and prices are too fantastic. So I would appeal to the Minister concerned to bring in legislation which will hinder non-citizens from purchasing land while on the other hand it would help the citizens of African origin to buy land in towns.

While dwelling on that I would also like to mention to the Minister for Lands and Settlement that settlement schemes were started in a rush and there was no definite policy as to the future of settlement schemes. There are many people in the settlement schemes and they seem to have nobody to look after their interests. They are told they belong to settlement schemes and as such their problems do not lie directly with the officers in the districts. So they do not know where exactly to go for help.

I, therefore, appeal to the Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement, who is here, to take note of that point and get his Ministry to do something about it. Nobody seems to know that there is an acute shortage of water in the settlement schemes and when you do not have water you just cannot have sufficient yield to enable you to pay back your loan which you have been given for development and such like things.

The other point I would like to deal with is to warn the Government to look into business opportunities. We have spoken about quit notices, this and the other but real business opportunities have not been given to the Africans. The competition is so stiff that the Africans will never, under present conditions, defeat the Asians in business. So let us have open discrimination and give the African the chance to monopolize in business as he has never had this chance for the last 70 years or so. So, Sir, it is my wish and my appeal to Government to make sure that we Africans have business opportunities and facilities so that we can compete in this business field because without some facilities, loans and such like we cannot just do that.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the other point I would like to put across is what I call bureaucracy in the offices where there are civil servants and some of our fellow Ministers and Assistant Ministers. You just wonder what sort of people we have in our Government if people like the Members of Parliament, who have problems in their constituencies and they have to send these problems to such offices, are not accorded access to see some of the senior civil servants, even some Ministers or Assistant Ministers. I remember one day I waited from 4.00 p.m. trying to see a Minister. I could not be allowed to speak to him on the telephone. I had to wait until 6.15 p.m. The instructions to the secretary were that, "I am in a meeting and I do not want any disturbance", and I understand some of these meetings are just personal business transactions. So, let us try and avoid this if we are going to have co-operation.

The relationship between members of the Civil Service and the politicians is deteriorating every day. I do not know what the officers in the provincial administration expect because they try to do everything in their respective provinces or districts. They try to head every department even though it may be technical or professional. As a result some of them have come out to say that they can produce a blueprint of development in their respective provinces. I wonder whether anyone else has authority in this country to spend public money other than the money authorized in this House. For this reason, when these administrators are given this big power, whenever they have to travel banana trees, plants and flowers have to be put up along the roads, and what-have-you, so that they look like small kings. This, unfortunately, has made them think they are really everything in this country. It is unfortunate, but with their present relationship I do not see just how co-operative the other people in the Republic will be with the Government. So, those who are responsible for warning these people, it is high time they were told exactly where their limits are and what they are supposed to do. They seem to assume too much and that is why even when you want to address a fund-raising baraza in your own area, you are sometimes refused permission to do so. This is ridiculous and such things cannot be left to go on indefinitely. We will just have to shout about this, we will do what it is in our power; if there is talking we should do, we will do a lot of it and tell these people, we are here in this House which is supposed to be the supreme authority or instrument in the country, and those elected representatives of this House must be given respect in their constituencies and they must be accorded access, free access to their electors.

I will speak a little on what the civil servants are talking about: Members' salaries. A lot has been said but nobody has taken the trouble to find out exactly what the Members have been getting, how much it was costing the country and how much saving there is. Since the time does not allow me I would appeal to those who can read and write to teach others because there is too much unnecessary talk and speculation.

Mr. Mwamunga: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for giving me this opportunity of joining my colleagues in thanking His Excellency the President for the guidelines on public policy which he gave in his Address. I hope and I believe it is the hope of every Member in this House that all the Ministries which the President set up will do their utmost to translate these policy guidelines for 1971 into Bills which should be introduced for debate in this hon. House.

I would like to touch on one very important and all-embracing point that His Excellency made: unity. Without unity, Sir, there is little we can achieve in this country. A lot of people and a lot of us have laid too much emphasis on tribalism. To me Mr. Deputy Speaker, tribalism does not feature anywhere near the real problems facing our people. There is indeed, even in the so-called modern developed countries some elements of sectionalism, nepotism and what-have-you. They have it in Britain, in the United States, in Germany and several other countries in the world. They have some of these things we call tribalism. However, they have not allowed these feelings of sectionalism, tribalism or what-have-you to dominate national politics. The scourge we have in Kenya today is not tribalism but laying too much emphasis on tribalism. Tribalism is not a problem at all which should feature anywhere amongst our problems. I know, in the 1920s, for instance, our people were not as tribalistic— Rather, I know that in the 1920s no emphasis was laid on tribalism. The politics developed in those early years in our history was based on the problems facing our people at that time and, today, we have problems which should be able to unite our people. His Excellency the President united the whole country and he did so by educating the masses on the real problems facing the people of Kenya at that time: landlessness, forced labour, imposition of tax without representation. These are the problems that made it possible for the people of Kenya to be united by His Excellency, the President. After Uhuru we find tribalism being given prominence. I condemn such prominence being given to tribalism which is not a problem at all. We have our problems today which are: unemployment, lack of water in the country and the problem of squatters. These problems have defied the so-called tribal boundaries. They are national problems and these are the problems which should force us to unite to solve them. I know some hon. Members might emphasize tribalism in order to score a point around a certain area and in order to feature somewhere near the leadership hierarchy but I think this is rather selfish. We are denying the people of Kenya the opportunity to enjoy the benefits of ruling themselves through their elected leaders in this House.

We want, now, to have the party Kanu strengthened in order, once again, to rally our people behind His Excellency the President; to solve the problems that face the people such as unemployment, landlessness and several other problems which face our African people. We need, therefore, to have also a Civil Service that is dedicated to serve our country and equally dedicated to serve the people. The civil servants are the executors of the policies of this House and the policies of the Government. If they are not dedicated, they just stand by and when we pass the laws here if the civil servants decide not to execute those laws we are a sounding brass.

We call upon the civil servants to be more dedicated. There are cases, reported cases, Mr. Deputy Speaker—I am not saying or condemning the Civil Service wholesale, because that would be utterly wrong—We have—the majority of our Civil Service is composed of really dedicated men, but we have few black sheep in the Civil Service. We have the type of civil servants who would leave their jackets and neck-ties to represent them on their official desks while they go about their personal businesses. These are the people that are spoiling the good name of the civil servants.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, in circumstances such as this, why should our Government not concede to the call or concede to the wishes of the people to have a parliamentary commissioner? This institution of a parliamentary commissioner is vital as the wananchi will have access to tell the Government: “Now, look here. We have reported to you the case of these civil servants being represented by their jacket only in the office and you can come and see for yourself.” What is wrong with such an institution? We will have a really respectable person to man such an office. A really dedicated civil servant will not object to having an office of that nature to help the wananchi to give vent to their grievances, whether of maladministration, misadministration and the like.

Again, Mr. Deputy Speaker, there is need to have all agencies of public service serving the wananchi. Like Government the object is service to the wananchi but there are other agencies, statutory bodies, and local authorities whose object is not to serve wananchi but to make their presence sensed by wananchi through their tyrannical practices. These ought to be checked and should be checked immediately because without that the cries of the wananchi will continue and in the absence of apparent inactivity by the party we will have a political vacuum which will have to be filled by somebody and I think I must be right. In saying that this political vacuum in the country today has been filled by the civil servants. Thank God it is not filled by a coup d'état.

We have local authorities, Mr. Deputy Speaker, which despite the fact that the services which were burdening them, have been taken over from them, have become and grown more delinquent than they have ever been. We have the case of my own local authority, the Taita/Taveta County Council. Why, on earth, should they decide to cut off supplies of water to people at a time when it is dry, and when famine is prevalent? Had they done this following certain laid-down regulations it would be understandable but still inhuman but they did so according to no law, at all. This was in complete contravention to the laws of this House. Such agencies should be brought into check.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Gichoya: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker. Let me join those hon. Members who have congratulated the President so that I may say a few words on what is happening in Kenya. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have in this House appointed a Committee to look into the problems of unemployment. The report of the committee was passed here and one of the cardinal problems that were posed by the committee was the educational system. There is an immediate need for changing the pattern of Kenya's educational system so that those people who leave school at Certificate of Primary Education, which was said not to be after seven years but after nine years, may be in a position to stand in a society as people with a bit of education. We feel there should be, within the system a new system whereby, commercial subjects will be taught in secondary schools as well as in primary schools. In addition to this, agricultural subjects should be taught in primary schools so that people will have the love for the dignity of labour. Up to this moment, nobody bothers. It is all right, things may be kept aside—keep things aside—but a time will come when somebody might have an excuse to tell the nation, I am doing this because of that. This is a fact. We have it in Uganda, Mr. Deputy Speaker. The régime that was there has been accused of so many things which, in the real sense, are facts. When Members of this House decide that something should be done, it is necessary that the Government ought to do something towards its implementation.

We said that there is lack of markets. There are no internal market arrangements. Here, at Njabini, you can buy a bag of cabbages for Sh. 3 whereas there are no cabbages in the other places. Those people do not know where the market is. However, nothing has been done by either the Ministry of Agriculture or the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, so far.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, perhaps people may not be honest—and I want to be honest here—we have a problem of who is after Mzee's seat, the problem of the Constitution. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, our Constitution today can make Gichoya remain as the Head of State for ages and ages. I would suggest, in order to make things better in Kenya than they are now, that we should not accord the same privileges to whoever comes in power after the Father of the Nation. We should amend our Constitution when we have the opportunity to do it and say that whoever comes after the Father of the Nation shall never hold the office for more than two consecutive terms—just like the American Constitution. By so doing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, every ambitious character in Kenya will know, “Yes, I have an opportunity to hold the office.” They will never go underground for subversion because they will know that after so many years, let us say, after four years, he may get an opportunity to be elected by the voters for a term of four years. So, in order to have a system in Kenya where democracy shall prevail all the time, and where the man with the gun shall never have an idea that it is good to remove a régime by force, we need a change in the present Constitution which is neither the British type of Constitution nor the American type. It is something which was married here and which is not clear.

The other point I want to make is this: we have the experience of the Primary Elections. It is a good thing but there is something wrong somewhere. The previous Parliament, thinking that everything would be done smartly by the Attorney-General and that they were going to be returned to Parliament after accepting the rules without knowing the implications of them, did leave some loopholes namely, “One box one candidate”. That is a mistake. Ballot Papers are not even marked. You just tear them, put the seal and dip them in the box. We have had experience of petitions in the court here that some ballot boxes were stolen from a Government vehicle. How could they be stolen from a Government vehicle?

To avoid this question of stealing the ballot boxes, let there be only one box. If you steal that ballot box, you have stolen the votes of the candidate you want to go through and of the candidate you do not want to win. We have to think of amending the Constitution so that it suits the country but not to suit G. G. Kariuki. We want a Constitution that can benefit the majority of the people but not a few people who can employ agents in the Government to do a job for them. This is corruption. Mr. Deputy Speaker, what I am trying to say is: let us, as far as possible, try to avoid, where possible, corruption. There is corruption in elections.

An hon. Member: What about where it is not possible?

Mr. Gichoya: Where it is not possible, that is human weakness.

So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, before I end my speech, may I suggest that our Government considers the workers in the East African Community who belong to Kenya and who are Kenya citizens to be seconded officers. I say this because today, some of the Ugandans may not be loyal to the existing machinery and yet they are within the Community. My own fellow countrymen here do not know whether they are within an existing Government institution or in the commercial sector.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, all these people are actually civil servants, particularly the ones in the General Fund Services. They are under the same terms and the same conditions of service as the Kenya civil servants. Their loyalty, for that matter, should, therefore, be to the head of our Republic and, of course, to our sister states on a minor scale—not on a big scale. So it is good to second those people from the subordinate staff to the biggest officer. Perhaps, the only man who can be owned by the Community should be the Secretary-General—the eyes of the authority—but the rest ought to be civil servants of their respective states.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have one thing to say on the Agricultural Development Corporation. The Corporation's General Manager, we were told here one day, was to leave after the expiry or the end of his contract. However, we understand, whether correctly or otherwise, that there is a manoeuvre going on to renew his contract when it is within the books here that the General Manager of Agricultural Development Corporation, an institution dealing with agriculture or farming, has no background of farming. He was a mere accountant. It is stated here, if I may quote the words of the hon. Assistant Minister for Agriculture, Mr. Wanjigi, that:—

“The General Manager has not got a professional agricultural training, etc.”

We have also been made to understand, from the same Assistant Minister, that the Deputy General Manager of Agricultural Development Corporation has professional agricultural knowledge. He is an African. However, because he is a black African and the institution—the Agricultural Development Corporation—appears to be so alien to Kenya, then the man who pays the piper must call the tune. Therefore, the British Government has to impose on us—a General Manager of their own choice.

The Minister for Agriculture should consider appointing a black African to the position of general manager, when we can manage the Government departments. The Ministers are all black, if I may say. Even the Speaker, of this House and his Deputy are black men. Why then can the general manager of an agricultural institution not be an African?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order!

Mr. Kassa-Choon: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I also stand to join my colleagues in this important debate. I think a lot of points have been already raised and I do not intend to repeat them.

The point which I think I would like to make just now is firstly that one regarding the Special Rural Development Programme. If you would allow me, I would like to take this opportunity to thank our Government for having selected West Pokot District, and Kapenguria in particular, as one of those areas in Kenya where the Special Rural Development Programme is going to be started.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, as you know, West Pokot is one of those areas of Kenya which were neglected by the Colonial Government. I would, therefore, like to disagree with those Members who say that our Kanu Government has not fulfilled some of the promises made in 1963. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, this is one of them, because during that electioneering campaign of 1963, our party did promise that those areas which had been neglected would be attended to. So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I support the Government and say that this is a step forward. The only thing, Sir, which I do not quite understand is the implementation. For instance, registration of land was to start last July, but up to this moment, nothing has taken place. So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to appeal to the Government to take it very seriously and see that something is done. Sir, I know that under this programme the Government would spend a lot of money on development of roads, schools, hospitals, land registration and so on. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if what I am saying is correct, may I take this opportunity and appeal to the Government that the first priority should be given to the three services which the Government took over from the local authorities. The idea there for Government's take-over of the services was to provide wananchi with better facilities. So, I would like to ask the Government to think about this very seriously. I can see just now a lot of improvements on roads in West Pokot District and I would like to ask other Ministers to do the same.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my other point is about the uniformity of school fees. Sir, the announcement by the Minister for Education gave some parents a shock. You remember that in mzungu Government, there are certain districts which were regarded as special areas and therefore, they got different treatment because of their geographical conditions. These conditions, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, have not changed. In those days, people paid less taxes and also less school fees compared with other areas. So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to appeal again here to the Ministry of Education to look into this very carefully because, in West Pokot, Sigor Division for instance, people cannot afford to pay Sh. 72. The Government should think about this issue. My other point, while on this question of education, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is to appeal to the Minister for Education—you know, Sir, the courtroom in which our President and other freedom fighters were tried, in two classrooms at Chewoyiet Secondary School—to consider building two more classrooms at this secondary school. Sir, these two classrooms are going to be converted into a library which will be known as “Jomo Kenyatta Memorial Library”, so I appeal to the Minister for Education, in conjunction with the Government, to find funds to build two more classrooms so that the former courtroom can be converted into this very important library.

I can see that, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my time is running short and therefore I will come to another point. My next point is the question of Karapokot area. Sir, as other Members know, the Karapokot area is part of Kenya which has been under the Uganda Government administration for more than 40 years. Earlier Government had extended the Special Rural Development Programmes to Kapenguria and I would like to appeal here that this programme should be extended to cover this area because for the last 40 years the Uganda Government has neglected this area. Even if you go there now, Sir, you cannot find anything that anyone can term development, it is exactly 100 per cent nil. There is nothing there, Sir. I want to point these things out, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, and while on this point, I may again ask the Government to create a new Parliamentary constituency. I remember the other day I asked here a question as to whether the Government was considering creating a separate constituency there, so that these people can elect their Member of Parliament to come and represent them here, and also a separate Area Council, but the reply I got from one of the Assistant Ministers here was that this was going to be brought to the attention of the Electoral Commission. Now, this may be in 1974 or 1975. Who, Sir, is going to represent these people until 1974/75? I therefore, appeal to the Government to consider this point.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, another point related to the previous one, and maybe my last one, is about boundaries. Sir, I have been saying here over and over again and also my colleague the Member for Pokot West has raised the issue here—I raised it here during the last Parliament—is about boundaries. You remember, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that I pointed out to the Minister for Foreign Affairs that if we mean business on this sensitive issue, the international boundaries should follow the Carter Commission boundary of 1934, otherwise there is no use, this will be meaningless, in undertaking the transfer of only parts of that area to Kenya. When the hon. Assistant Minister for Home Affairs said here the other day that it was the only part which had been transferred to Kenya—I wondered whether we were not going away from our policy that not an inch of our soil will be surrendered to any country. Why have we, then, surrendered parts of Karapokot to Uganda? For instance, Sir, Amudat, Moroto, and Kadam used to be on the Kenya side. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if you will allow me to quote further the Carter Commission boundary which used to pass in places like Gortek Allam, Atochile, Apedal, Moroto, and Morwasikar—I do not understand why these areas have remained in Uganda. So, Sir, I would like to appeal to our Government to look into this affair.

So, in order to give other hon. Members an opportunity to speak on this Motion, I end by saying that I support the Presidential Speech 100 per cent.

Mr. arap Chumo: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to join my colleagues in congratulating the President for his Speech. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have a few comments to make.

We dealt with the question of relations that exist between hon. Members of this House and the top civil servants. We know, according to the Constitution of Kenya, we have our popularly elected Government but on the other hand, Sir, we find that most of these top civil servants, especially in the administration, have become more Government than hon. Members of this House. We have a situation where you find a fellow like a district officer being able to call a meeting any time anywhere in the country whereas an hon. Member, who is popularly elected, is never given such an opportunity or even a chance. You cannot convene a meeting to address those who elected you without asking for a licence from the district commissioner. Who elected a district commissioner? A Member of Parliament who has been elected has to ask for permission to talk to his people from a district commissioner who has been put there by nomination or appointment; whatever it is.

*[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki)

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) resumed the Chair]

Now, does that make this Government a popularly elected Government? This is the question. If we are the people who are going to represent the Government and who are supposed to present and explain the functions of the Government to the wananchi, then we ought to have that privilege of talking to those people who elected us without being scrutinized or being watched by Special Branch people and what-have-you. Our aim is to have the wananchi develop; and to teach them. Our present policy can only be achieved by development and this is the thing that, we, as politicians, are striving to achieve; to help our people to get jobs; to show our people about how they can get loans for developing their farms and other things like that. However, you find that you are not allowed to do this sort of thing. You are not allowed to address these people. I think there is something to be considered about this point because, unless and until the people who were popularly elected are the ones really representing the people, then we are not developing our nation into a healthy and stable Government.

We have no quarrel with the civil servants as such. Mr. Speaker, Sir, there has been a lot of talk about the Members of Parliament quarrelling with the civil servants, but we are not quarrelling with the civil servants. The trouble, Sir, rests with those top civil servants and especially those in the administration. Why? Because of the authority which has been given to them. I know the hon. Members know the powers that these people have. Some provincial commissioners and even district commissioners, I can assure you, have more power than even the Ministers of this Government. They are, in fact, like kings in their own provinces. And, in fact, if we are going to have the right people without any prejudices and things like that and if we are going to keep these posts of provincial commissioners or district commissioners, these people should be popularly elected like the Members of Parliament. If we think that a provincial commissioner should be in a certain place, then he should be popularly elected by the people. Although, personally, I do not see any need for keeping such posts.

Well, to go to another point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is this land question. We have talked about land. The whole problem in Kenya is with those people who evaluate land in Kenya; those people who put a value on land. We know that immediately after our independence, the Kenya Government allowed too many expatriates—people who had a personal interest in the land—to value and put value on the land. As a result, the value of land has become so distorted and it is no longer realistic. Therefore, people are paying too much money for very little pieces of land. You will find land—open country—and many places bush and yet you are required to pay high sums of money for it. Where there is no development whatsoever, people are asked to pay very high prices for open country—land which somebody came and found there; it was there since the beginning of the beginning. He did not bring it. Therefore, why should people pay such high prices for land which belonged to them a long time ago? We have no objection to buying things like cattle, pans, water pipes and buildings, but not to buy land which has been there always; somebody has cultivated it, took his produce and profits from it and then you come and buy it and you are supposed to pay for it for a period of over 30 years.

The other thing, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is about the education of our nation. The system of our education in Kenya—I know this again has been talked about over and over again and I do not like to dwell too much on it. We are sticking too much to the pattern established by the colonialists; so much that we do not like to move away from it. Many of our chaps seem to be so colonial minded that they do not want to move away from this pattern of colonialism. This should go away. We must train ourselves; we must decolonize our minds; we must try to take on ourselves confidence; we must have confidence in ourselves. This is lacking because you will find some people, and again, here you come to civil servants where you will have top civil servants, qualified people, still relying on advice from the expatriates. Some of these chaps, somehow do not feel secure unless a white face is beside them, even though they might not be doing much work. So, we must plan our education to fit in with the needs of this country. We know there are so many students who qualify or pass the Certificate of Primary Education examination very highly in some areas and yet have nowhere to go. There are too many schools that have been put or centralized in one particular place. The question of classifying schools, having these classes, this is not good and it should go. We should develop our country so that every person has the same opportunity and an equal chance for a good education.

There is also this anomaly of doctors who are qualified. Mr. Speaker, Sir, doctors who qualify from such countries, for example, Russia—and to include all of them—the non-Commonwealth countries—are not recognized. We know many people who are qualified and who have done their internship and yet they are not given recognition: they are not registered. I know a number of doctors who have been told that they would only receive the salary of a Registrar as long as they work with the Government. However, they do not give these people certificates so that they could practise elsewhere. They want them just to remain where they are simply because they come from the non-Commonwealth countries.

Why should we not stop this nonsense of Commonwealth countries?

With those remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Matiko: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I would like also to join the other Members of this House in congratulating His Excellency, Mzee Jomo Kenyatta, for his able statement made in this House.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, many facts have been said in this House through Motions which have been passed here and yet they have not been implemented. Well, the wananchi wonder whether whatever is spoken in this House is implemented. Actually, Mr. Speaker, there are a lot of Motions—very important Motions—which have been passed in this House. Unfortunately, these have not been implemented, and we are wondering whether whatever is said in this House is just like what is said by children who are in a nursery school, because when they leave the nursery school, the following day they come there and find the toys they left there, the day before. Actually, the Government should be criticized for this.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this country is now faced by a very bad enemy—the drought, and every place in Kenya is facing famine and water shortage. We know that when there is war, the army goes there to fight the enemy. Why, Mr. Speaker, can the army not fight this bad enemy, that is paralyzing the whole country? Why does the army and the National Youth Service not take water, through road transport, to drought-stricken areas? Schools have been closed and yet there is no action that the Government is taking. Now, then, where are we heading to, Mr. Speaker? We understand that there are 20 tons of foodstuffs lying somewhere in Nairobi stores for famine relief, and this is only because of lack of transport, to take these foodstuffs to the people who are suffering. Could the army lorries not be used to take this food to the famine-stricken areas? Mr. Speaker, Sir, we urge Government to order the army to take this food to places where there is famine.

Another thing, Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak on is about education. Mr. Speaker, Sir, in the Kanu Manifesto, the wananchi were promised free primary education. Mr. Speaker, Sir, for the last seven years of our independence, the wananchi have been waiting, not really, for free education but for a reduction in the amount of school fees. However, instead of this, the Minister for Education increased the school fees by almost 40 per cent. Now, that surprised the wananchi because when they were expecting—I mean for seven years, expecting to get probably a less amount to pay as school fees, it was increased; why is this so, when the Ministry of Education had the highest Vote for the Financial Year 1970/71, over £19 million? If we find how was — How the Ministry used that money, nobody knows, because the schools have not been maintained; some of the schools have not been renovated for years and years, ever since we attained independence; they have not even opened new primary schools. In most places, particularly in remote areas, you find that most of the schools there are those which were left by the colonialists. Now then, what did the Ministry of Education—to speak the truth—do with this £19 million? Therefore, Mr. Speaker, it is not because we want free education— We cannot get everything free, but the Ministry of Education should consider reducing—instead of increasing—the amount of school fees, because now the country is faced with a very, very serious drought.

Another thing, Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak on is about rumours by foreign newspapers. Mr. Speaker, Sir, a foreign newspaper called the Guardian; this newspaper has, on so many occasions, reported so many things about this country. Now then, I believe, Mr. Speaker, Sir, rumours sometimes seem to be true. However, we are always told that we should not rely on what is reported in the newspapers to be true. Now, some time last year, an hon. Member asked a question about a rumour which appeared in the same newspaper, about somebody understudying another, that is, Dr. Porter. This was refuted in this House, that there was nothing like that. However, how is it today? Rumours are sometimes true— That was not a rumour at all. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask Government, when foreign newspapers report such things, they should repudiate or challenge them, so that they do not leave the wananchi in a state of fear, otherwise, these rumours may be taken as facts.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, another thing I would like to speak on is about army recruitment in this Republic. Mr. Speaker, the army recruitment is actually quite uneconomical. Sir, the army recruitment team goes to every district, let us say, from here to Kisumu, which is a long distance, and only recruits two people or none. From there, they travel to Mombasa or Kwale, and recruit two people or nobody. From there, they may next go to Turkana. Mr. Speaker, these people get night allowances, food and what-not. Is that economical, Mr. Speaker, to the Government, when we know that the control of finance is the first step of controlling the economy? Therefore, Sir, the army recruitment should be done in a certain area, where the expenses of the country should be less.

Another thing, Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak on is about planning in this country. Planning in this country, Mr. Speaker, should be districtwise. Sir, there are some districts in the remote areas, where people have not tasted the fruits of Uhuru, because, of the simple reason that the schools which are there are the same schools which were left by the colonialists; the dispensaries which are there are the same dispensaries which were left there by the colonialists; the water dams, that is, earth dams, water catchments are the same which were left there by the colonialists. Therefore, Sir, those people of course, have not tasted the fruits of Uhuru. Therefore, planning in this country should be districtwise, and, Sir, I urge the Government to form rural development commissions, responsible to a new Ministry—Ministry of Rural Development and Planning.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I beg to support.

Mr. arap Rono: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. While I would like to join hands with those colleagues who have congratulated the President for his Speech, I would like to mention a few points, some of which have repeatedly been mentioned by the speakers here.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to start with the problem of schools. School fees are becoming a problem in this country, especially when wananchi have been promised over and over again that they would receive free primary education. But, as it has been said, instead of Government giving this free education they have increased the fees. This is a mockery, Mr. Speaker, and it is ridiculous. Government should not do this. You find that the parents cannot afford these fees, and there is no education in some areas where the schools are scarce. The parents cannot afford to pay the high fees. Mr. Speaker, this is something that Government should look into very seriously. They should start giving free education in both lower classes and secondary schools.

Three years ago the President started giving free education in the higher forms and wananchi thought this was the beginning of free education. But nothing has gone beyond the two classes which give the free education.

[Mr. arap Rono]

While speaking on the schools, Mr. Speaker, I would like to mention one other thing about Harambee projects in the country. Government on one hand encourage wananchi to start self-help projects—dispensaries, Harambee schools, that is, primary and secondary schools—and along with this encouragement they tell wananchi to keep hoping that Government will take them over and send teachers to schools and give aid to the dispensaries. Now, the people started these projects in great numbers, but they have no medicine in the dispensaries, and they have no trained manpower to work in them. The schools are closing down, both the primary and some of these Harambee schools are closing down because Government has failed to do what they promised the wananchi, that they would take over these schools as soon as they were ready. Taking over 30 or 20 schools every year in the whole country is not enough, Mr. Speaker. These schools should be assisted, either by providing teachers or money, or be taken over and run like any other aided schools.

The other thing I would like to mention, Mr. Speaker, is something within our system of Government. Mr. Speaker, I think we are developing a bad system of Government in this country where the rich continue to be rich and the poor continue to be poor. This is the root of capitalism. We talk of socialism—the African socialism, but what we are developing in this country is not at all socialism. It is capitalism in the real sense.

You will find rich people—Government Ministers, Government employees, those who are big—buying big farms of 5,000 acres, 3,000 acres or even 20,000 acres. Mr. Speaker, there should be a ceiling to these activities.

I would suggest for that matter that no one should be allowed to buy more than 500 acres of land. I see no reason why some people have to buy up to 10,000 or 15,000 acres of land when many people in this country have no land and have nowhere to live.

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): How many acres of land do you have?

Mr. arap Rono: I have 15 acres of land, Bwana.

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): Is that enough?

Mr. arap Rono: That is more than enough. I am willing to share it with some other wananchi, and some of you, gentlemen, should be willing to give away some of your hundreds and thousands of acres of land in order to assist other wananchi.

An hon. Member: Yes.

Mr. arap Rono: We can say “yes”. We talk of assisting wananchi and we talk of helping the poor. Yet it is the same people in this House—the same Government leaders in this House—who own thousands of acres of land. They hear it and they do not want to act. They do not want to appeal to wananchi.

There must be a ceiling, Mr. Speaker, on the buying of farms. Those wananchi who have bought six farms have to be prepared to reduce them. They have to give away some of these farms.

An hon. Member: It requires changing the Constitution.

Mr. arap Rono: It does not require changing the Constitution, but it requires changing the system, to change it systematically.

Along with this, Mr. Speaker, another problem that is cropping up, of course, is unemployment. Government has to devise ways and means of looking after the school-leavers especially. Hundreds of students leave school every year and they wander from town to town. Many of them come to Nairobi as a big town in search of employment. They do not get it and Government keeps quiet. It does not do anything to assist these people. Mr. Speaker, this is the time Government should try and find ways of employing or assisting these youngsters leaving schools.

It is understood clearly that Government cannot find employment for everybody, but there should be some ways—I see no reason why Government cannot say, “Send these fellows on a kind of national service for two or three years.” They should send them into the army and they should increase the National Youth Service intake. Help them to get some kind of employment to get some pocket money, otherwise, Mr. Speaker, you would not get away with this. These people are not fools. They will roam in our towns and time will come when they will move into your big farms and big businesses and they will want to share. Mr. Speaker, I would hate to see that come, but it is going to come unless Government assists in getting some employment for the unemployed.

The other point that I would like to mention is on the detainees. Mr. Speaker, we talk of democracy. We say that we are a democratic nation, yet there are people rotting in the cells of our jails, taken in after being arbitrarily detained.

An hon. Member: Give one example of one so detained.

Mr. arap Rono: There are many examples, Mr. Speaker. One Member says "give examples". There is Mr. Odinga who ought to be released.

Mr. Speaker, with these few remarks, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Moss): Mr. Speaker, Sir, thank you very much for giving me this chance to associate myself with the views that have already been aired by hon. Members of this honourable House.

First of all, the Speech of our Father of the Nation, His Excellency the President is self explanatory, very educative and, indeed, we, in Kenya today are very lucky to have a President of his standing. We are enjoying peace and stability, both politically and very soon we will be going along under our own economic independence. The President has, many a time, in many meetings, stressed the use of unity and I would like to ask our hon. Members, when they air their views, not to forget that they are talking, not for themselves but for the Republic of Kenya. Therefore, unity among our people should be the guiding goal.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, without taking much time of the House, there are a few things I want to stress. One of them is that we have spoken about economic independence and yet there is another question: How are we going to arrive at that? The Government is trying its very best to serve the non-citizens with quit notices. To close down their shops, but yet, wananchi have allowed themselves to be used by those non-citizens to pretend that they are owning those premises. The Asians, who are non-citizens, are using the Asians who are bogus citizens, the paper citizens, to retain the businesses that should have gone to the Africans. I have witnessed this, Mr. Speaker, in many towns of our Republic. Unless, therefore, the Ministry concerned, that is the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, keeps an eye on this, I do not see how we are going to achieve this cherished goal of economic independence. We will remain and continue to remain slaves of foreigners on our own mother soil. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am serious about this point because I know what is happening in the country and I want this House to note this point with seriousness that what we want is economic independence and we want to see it practised and not the Asians to deceive wananchi by telling them: "You are the boss" when, in actual sense he is not. He is only being used to further the aims of the Asians.

Another point that I would like to stress is the declared policy of the Government as far as rural development is concerned. We do not want to become chatter boxes in this House. We want whatever we say, as a Government, to see it materialize in those rural areas. Today, Mr. Speaker, there are some towns which are vital to the country's economy, but if you visit these towns, they are dying a natural death, not because they are bound to die, but because we are trying to be mean, as a Government. We are not implementing our own policy of rural development. There are places like Kitale, Bungoma District, Meru and so many others, I cannot mention them all here, when it comes to the point of industrialization, I do not know what is wrong with those places and why they cannot also get some industries. This is why we are getting all the school-leavers coming straight to Nairobi and they pose a serious situation when they do not get jobs. I am saying this, not to criticize but I am trying to suggest that something should be done in those areas in order to spread the wealth of this country and to make the people of this Republic see that they are free wherever they are.

Another thing to which I would like to draw the attention of the Members of this House and unfortunately this was said by an hon. Member of this House, about a new division which has been created in Bungoma District and this is Mount Elgon. I was surprised to see the hon. Member, instead of giving appreciation to the Government for moving administration nearer to the people, he stands up and opposes the idea of the Government moving administration nearer to the people. There is a new division which has been created, and this is Mount Elgon, comprising two locations: North Malakisi and Elgon locations. These two locations happen to be in my constituency. I do not see how a Member of this House can stand up and challenge the wishes of the people of my constituency. It is ridiculous and madness. I do not interfere with other Member's constituencies, in fact, I assist my fellow Members, but if a Member has no work to do, he should keep quiet and wait for his term of office to expire. I am afraid to say that hon. Mwangale came up with this yesterday in his Presidential Speech. I have it from the HANSARD of yesterday. We want the people of Kenya to live together and we do not want other tribes to be suppressed. We will not be building the country. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I feel very strongly that the hon. Member should apologize to this House that he is trying to discriminate against other tribes, simply because they happen to be a minority.

An hon. Member: Who is he?

The Assistant Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Moss): This is hon. Mwangale as I mentioned. It is contained in his speech and I can lay it on the Table here, what he said yesterday. Mr. Speaker, Sir, without wasting much time, this same hon. Member continued to say that this Mount Elgon Constituency belongs to hon. Munoko. This is misleading the House. It is me who is representing that area and if anybody has any interest in that constituency, he should resign his seat and come and face me, in Mount Elgon Constituency, in a by-election, to test my power.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, having said that, I want now to come back and say something about the University of Nairobi. We know very well that education in this country is the key to everything and I maintain, very strongly, that having created our University of Nairobi, we must have constituent colleges spread out throughout our Republic. We want some to go to Western Kenya, we want some in the Coast Province and we even want the people in the North-Eastern Province to have a constituent college and no one should say that we do not have children to go there. Kenya has children who could go there and study. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is very vital and before I sit down, there is another challenge I would like to pose and this is the stand of Africa as far as other African countries, which are not yet independent, are concerned. I must say openly that the Organization of African Unity has categorically failed. They have been talking and talking, filling reams and reams of papers but there is no action. We must now have some action.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Your time is up, Mr. Moss.

Mr. Muturia: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I hope hon. Members are not going to waste my time. They want to know what sort of thing I am wearing on my head, it represents Ncheke of Meru. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to congratulate His Excellency, Mzee Jomo Kenyatta for his Speech. May I, first of all, Mr. Speaker, draw the attention of this House to the fact that this old man, our Excellency Mzee Jomo Kenyatta has actually done a great deal of work in this country and it is a pity to see that he has been employed only for about ten per cent of his life-time. He has been employed for about eight years only and for the rest of his life, he has been suffering for the independence of this country. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I think he deserves a great deal of respect and for those who may have some ill-feelings towards His Excellency should change their minds and remember the old days when the colonialists used to disturb this country. May I also, Mr. Speaker, Sir, regard His Excellency the President as the man of the century because he is one of the rare people to be found in the last 100 years. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, may I start my points on His Excellency's Speech.

Mr. Speaker, I am trying to avoid repetition of what hon. Members have said. However, I would like to mention something to do with overseas loans. At the present moment, Mr. Speaker, this country is getting a lot of money from overseas to the extent of £6 million and this money is being given to individuals. Mr. Speaker, hon. Members here have mentioned something to do with employment. We are not going to reduce the unemployment as long as we continue giving those who have a lot of money some more money. Mr. Speaker, in this country, you have heard a lot being said about mineral prospecting. There are plenty of minerals in this country and when I say this, I am very frank—they are mainly in Kitui, in Isiolo, in Marsabit and in areas like Meru on the Tharaka side. Mr. Speaker, so many foreign countries are coming to buy these minerals here and when they buy these things very cheaply, they go to their own countries and manufacture rings and so many articles and then bring these things here in the form of gold and we buy the same things that come from Kenya. Mr. Speaker, I think it is time Government does something about this. £60 million could erect a factory to process these minerals here instead of sending raw material to London or to America or any other foreign country which will eventually sell the same things to us. We could have this money spent this way, thereby employing more of our people to process these minerals and at the same time circulating the economy within the Republic of Kenya.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not want to criticize only. I would say in short, therefore, Mr. Speaker, that it is my opinion that development has been made in almost every district. One would be wrong to say nothing has been done by the Government, because there is something which has been done in each district at least, if not in every constituency. Mr. Speaker, we would like Government to look more internally and try to see the areas which are not so well developed and try to develop them.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, let me mention something to do with my own constituency in Meru District. Mr. Speaker, I think it is a shame to find that there is not a single, good road in a place where there is a lot of food, plenty of tea, plenty of miraa, plenty of coffee and everything—ranches and national parks. Mr. Speaker, we would like to have a road connecting Meru Town with Meru National Park and then on to Kitui because we can only walk and there is a problem of the river which prevents Kitui and Meru people from visiting each other in the evenings, let alone driving. Therefore, Mr. Speaker this should be looked into. The other thing, Mr. Speaker, is: in Nyambene as a whole people grow plenty of tea. Mr. Speaker, I am surprised to see that the tea has now dried up and most of the farmers obtained loans to plant this tea. Mr. Speaker, Sir, because of the drought, many farmers have lost their seedlings and, therefore, the Nyambene and the Meru farmers—and others wherever these crops have been affected by the drought—should be given free coffee seedlings and tea stumps for the next rains because the crops have dried up on the land on a big scale and the farmers cannot afford to buy seedlings to fill in all the gaps again.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to mention something about the police. It is surprising to see the department of the police, mileage being reduced from 900 to 600 and some of these places like Maua Police Station covers a district twice as large as Kirinyaga District. Mr. Speaker, in two weeks time, you have the Land-Rovers stationary and, therefore, even if there is a problem somewhere in the division, there is nobody to attend to it. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I am urging the Ministry of Home Affairs to increase the mileage for police because without the police, then we are nowhere. The petrol and the mileage should be increased because without the police, Mr. Speaker, we are going to suffer a lot. Hawa ni watu wa Nairobi tu. They are trying to average things within Nairobi only. There are telephones here, there are good roads, you can travel by taxis, you can travel by anything but the remote areas require these things, and the petrol and mileage should not be based on the Nairobi mileage standard, Mr. Speaker, Sir, and I do not think the hon. Karungaru over there is worried about this.

Mr. Speaker, the other thing I would like to mention is that during the opening of Chogoria Hospital, the Minister for Health suggested that 80 per cent of Chogoria Hospital will be aided by Government. We would like to know what other hospitals will be aided. Let us know about the Mau Hospital as to what percentage Government is going to aid this Hospital. We are very thankful for what Government has done, but we would like to know about the other hospitals too—how much they will be given. We are always given money when there is an emergency or when we are about to close. It was to close last year but one then we were given some money to help ourselves. Now there are training facilities, there is everything and we are waiting to see what is going to happen again.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the other thing which I would like to touch on is about the school girls. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think there is something very awkward which is happening. We have school girls who become pregnant when they are aged between 12 and 14 years. I think Mr. Speaker, this is very serious and I think—

An hon. Member: Where is this happening?

Mr. Muturia: Do not ask me where, you just go to schools and you will see.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we would like to know whether the Ministry of Education would allow these girls, after they have delivered and after their children are about three months old, to continue with school. Where can these girls go, Mr. Speaker? Some of these girls are innocent and it is not their fault that they become pregnant, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to mention very quickly something about land. There are millions of acres of land and I would like to say firmly that the landless people can get land if the Ministry of Lands and Settlement deducted 20 per cent of land from the land of every big man in the country and offer it in the form of some sort of Harambee to the poor people.

With those few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

Mr. Onyulo: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, for according me this opportunity to air my views. I must also thank His Excellency, the President for his very wonderful Speech which he made here at the Official Opening of Parliament.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to mention briefly that the ten minutes given is most unfortunate for a Member to speak on Presidential Speech when he has to talk to the nation over very important facts. Be it what it may, I must proceed to make my observations.

Now, Sir, I would like touch outright on the question of the Salaries Review Commission. We have adopted certain colonial techniques unconsciously. A salary commission is just another way of spending public funds which should have been utilized better. In the private sector, they negotiate for salaries and they have never appointed a commission paid for by anybody. Why should the Public Service, which is a Government employer, have one negotiating team of employees with their staff organizations and Government is represented on the other side. They have their negotiating team and I do not see why they do not settle their affairs there. Why should they waste thousands and thousands of pounds of public money for nothing. We have an Industrial Court which should take care of such matters. This is the advice which is wrongly given to His Excellency the President and I must thank him because he has been very careful not to use blindly the crafty advices that he is given. I hope that we shall not live to see another commission appointed to look into the salaries of civil servants when they already have a machinery to deal with such matters. They have the Industrial Court which was set up by an Act of this House to do the job and yet they spend thousands of pounds to pay some people to visit the whole of Kenya. Why should we do that, Mr. Speaker? I hope that during my time here I will block such a move and I am sure that the Back-benchers will support it.

Now, Mr. Speaker, if we go to this aspect of it, the Salary Commission was appointed as a result of demands by lowly-paid civil servants about whom the Members are very sympathetic. It was not appointed for the top civil servants, Mr. Speaker. This commission was appointed a year ago, it is a year old. These people have been waiting, they have been waiting for three years, but when is the report coming? Are these delaying tactics? Is this what we are going to live with? The top voice, Mr. Speaker, must come to tell. I must say that we would like—and I hope that hon. Members are going to support a Motion or a question which is coming here to find out what the Office of the President is doing about the delay in announcing the findings of this commission because these people who are affected are feeling it. They are affected by the cost of living, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Some parts of the civil servants have had their benefits and I would say that we have also had our share. We have received all this from the same pot and I do not see the reason why these lowly-paid people should not get their share, Mr. Speaker. I think they are justified and they are entitled and the country agreed that they should be paid for what they are doing.

Now, Sir, I would like to go on to this part of the Civil Service work. We have, in the Civil Service and in this House, civil servants who have been attacked. I am sure the attack is termed, so generally, that it is not very easy for an outsider to know what we are talking about. Some civil servants—and, if need be, I may say that my relation with them is that I speak for the civil servants. Some have approached me on the point that clarification needs to be made of the type of civil servants that the Members of Parliament are referring to. I do not suppose that you are referring to the messengers who have been cleaning the offices during the colonial era and still clean, and now clean better. I do not think you have any quarrel with such nor have you any quarrel with junior civil servants. I think you have a quarrel with this group that has created a situation of super human beings. I think it is proper in this country and these people are—I am a politician and I would like to say that in this House I have even heard mentioned statements which almost amounted to complaints against some top civil servants by those people who are supposed to give them orders. Sir, when Ministers and Assistant Ministers come to complain against the civil servants, it is rather surprising. This is a political Government and being a political Government they must be prepared to take decisions; They should allow our politicians to give them the advice. We want them to be courageous and if they are not, let His Excellency get those courageous Ministers who can take decisions and say, "You do this, and no more."

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to say something about the police, in my peri-urban. The police in my constituency, the peri-urban, are committing acts of atrocities. Nobody in the peri-urban area of Manyatta Nyalenda is sleeping safe. At night—even some people have been dragged by their private parts when they are sleeping under the pretext that a raid is going on. This sort of raid has to be stopped. We cannot have this thing in Kenya when we are the people that govern ourselves. Mr. Speaker, Sir, you can have someone committing an offence of assault, you are told to go and report the matter 14 miles away and when they come at night they look for nubian gin. What is wrong with nubian gin, Mr. Speaker. A legislation should be made and nubian gin should be licensed. We do not want this nonsense any more.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to touch on the question of detainees. I think, when we talk of detainees in this House, I would like to say that I am not briefed by the Luo people to speak about it but I would like to speak a little of what I feel should get into the public. We have a leader of this country known as Oginga Odinga. He is a leader and historians will say that. Whether you agree with this or not, it is a fact that he is a leader of this country. He was put under house arrest and it was this House that directed that he be removed and detained. He has been detained. I must congratulate Luo politicians because they have managed to tackle the matter and take it peacefully. The Luo people have accepted it because they are politicians. We are being rather embarrassed. Every time you go to the constituents you are asked, "What are you doing?" I think it is time the advisers around the old man should now make it clear that this old man—Oginga Odinga—is a leader. The rumours are so much and in this country we have no way of checking the rumours. We were told another time that he was dead. This was denied. We were told that he is now out of his senses. What can we tell the people? We are politicians and Mzee Kenyatta, I am sure, is a politician of the first order and he knows the implications of a politician. We have a duty to the people and when we ask that he has never bothered to use this House. I hope that these people will convey and will see about the question of his release is coming up so that this old man— Let us not have him dying or whatever becomes of him while he is in detention because any country where a leader dies in detention is a curse, and people will have to suffer. We do not want our future children to suffer because a leader died in detention.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to say something about the Trade Licensing Act. The Trade Licensing Act is quite good. People seem to be talking about the Constitution and I was sorry to hear the Minister saying that the Constitution devises from that. When the bias was done during colonial era, the people had advantage and established themselves. Now, by the policy of Government, we have used that bias to correct a bias and this is what we are going to do. We do not want to amend the Constitution. This is rubbish. If you go to amend the Constitution they will get it again in another way. You will have law after a law. A bias can only be corrected by another bias. Dawa ya moto ni moto. What else do you want?

I want to say this today: We should look at these things. We have the Goans, we have, in Nyanza Province, one blooming man who says that Kisumu is now the home of Asians. We have a blooming man called Galali and this man buys all the produce from wholesalers—I do not know how they negotiate—and he sells it at his own price and to whom he likes. If this is what we should look at, now, Mr. Speaker, I am telling you that we are going to employ our own method if we are not going to be heard. This is a very serious affair.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that the Minister for Commerce and Industry should this time put in an estimate which will cover the services required and we shall give him our backing. He only has a provincial trade officer in a province and the number of traders in a province is in the thousands. When these people apply for loans—we tell them that there are loans—they always ask you where these loans are whenever you go to your constituency because we have told them there are loans there. They apply from January to December but nobody visits them. Is this fair?

Well, Mr. Speaker, thank, and I beg to support.

Dr. Waiyaki: Well, it is a pleasure to speak last because I think that is the position I should occupy.

Mr. Speaker, throughout this debate, I have listened very carefully to the problems that have been posed by Members of Parliament and as we come towards the end—although not today—of this debate, I think various problems seem to loom rather higher than others and I think possibly the one that seems to be most prominent in the minds of our people, through their Members, is the question of Presidential succession. So, if I speak about that I think I am not going to be too far from the main point.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear! You are right.

Dr. Waiyaki: Although there has been a newspaper report in the Manchester and Guardian which purported to name successors to the Presidency Mr. Speaker, I think possibly, Members should never have been so suspicious and sensitive. It is not a bad thing to be concerned about who should be the next President when the time comes. We do not know when; probably it will be in five or ten years time, so do not be in too much of a hurry. However, the question of succession, I think, is the concern of us all and I thought, from the debates, not enough thought was given to the provisions of our laws. As far as I know, Mr. Speaker, in Chapter 2 of our Constitution, it is clearly laid down how in normal circumstances, as opposed to abnormal circumstances, a man who happens to be a Member of this National Assembly or an outsider can become a President. Now, the Government was so pushed that they had, in fact, to make a statement through the Attorney-General on whether or not there was going to be a change of our Constitution. I know, at the beginning of this Sitting, Members were lobbied extensively in the corridors and outside in rooms, wherever they live in hotels, thinking that probably the President was going to say from the Chair, "We are going to alter the Constitution so that we will have a Prime Minister" and then the Members would wait for whom he was going to nominate as the Prime Minister.

As it is, Mr. Speaker, the facts are that our Constitution provides for straightforward elections by the people. I think we should tell our people from here because a lot of heat has been generated already. It is being said, certainly, in my constituency that unless the President denies that he intends to nominate Dr. Mungai or unless Dr. Mungai himself denies that he intends to run for Prime Ministership, not through elections but through Gatundu, then, Mr. Speaker, these things are facts.

Mr. Speaker, there is a rumour that the Kikuyu, Embu and Meru people are meeting secretly to nominate Dr. Mungai.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear! Shame! Shame!

Dr. Waiyaki: We have not met and as I said, I am quoting that. I must say categorically, as one of them, that I know of no meeting where it has been said that Mzee will nominate Dr. Mungai or any other Kikuyu or Embu or Meru. In any case, as our constitutional position stands surely any man who wants to stand for Presidency must run through the political party of which he is a member. He must be nominated by that political party and after nomination, he must get the support of 1,000 registered voters in order to be able to stand for election as a candidate to this National Assembly. So, why do the Members of this parliament not state this clearly to the people? Why is it necessary to generate heat? It is always easy to blame, of course the Kikuyu, Embu or Meru—except for the Luos who were also attacked yesterday as a result of the Tana River incident. We are going to go in a circle; the next will be the Kamba, the Abaluhya and the Kalenjin.

An hon. Member: If a Luo district officer; not all Luos.

Dr. Waiyaki: Oh yes, it was the Luos who were said to have imported fishermen to Tana River District. What I am trying to get at is this, Mr. Speaker: let us be honest with our people. Let us say that in normal circumstances, in the event of the old man, the Mzee deciding to stand down or in the circumstances—we hope not—where he departs, the Vice-President of this Republic, who is not a Kikuyu, Embu or a Meru, will take over and he will be given three months in which to arrange for elections. Is that not the position Mr. Speaker?

An hon. Member: It is six months.

Dr. Waiyaki: Is it six months now? It is during those six months—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, it is three months.

Dr. Waiyaki: It is three months, I thought I was right. It is during those three months, 90 days, that the hon. Vice-President will have to fight to be nominated by his political party. If any other person, including the Kikuyu, Embu and Meru candidates wish to get support, they must then go and stand and compete. This brings me to the very important position, that if the Kanu Party is not organized we are going to be reduced to the same position as at the time of independence where people came in vikapus as we used to call them during the Kanu days. This is because, here as Members of Parliament, we will be forced to lobby each other and we will become the electing House by forcing our people to accept the hon. Onamu for Presidency, for example. We will then be reduced to a state where the Luo will go and have somebody in mind.

Mr. Migure: Mr. Migure?

Dr. Waiyaki: Possibly, Mr. Migure, as he says. The Kalenjin will—I am sure—I am not sure; I was going to say I am sure—say they have their Mr. arap Moi and the Coast people will name Mr. Ngala. I am just naming some people that have been mentioned in this Chamber and I will not go further because I do not want to move myself into trouble. However, there will be prominent people within this House who will want to stand and will lobby among their tribes first and then a group of tribes and then, maybe among provinces and we will have landed ourselves into a lot of bother. So, I want to appeal here today that the party should be reorganized, as hoped, because in the final analysis it is the annual delegate conference which will nominate a candidate but not the parliamentary group. If we want to do a good job, first we want to have elections so that we have a new mandate. I have acted as the Chairman of my constituency without authority for the last two years.

I do not want to say anything more. All I can do is to support.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

MOTION FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

COMMENCEMENT OF BRAEBURN HOUSE COED PREPARATION SCHOOL

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Will a Minister please move that the House do now adjourn?

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move that the House do now adjourn.

The Assistant Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Onamu) seconded.

(Question proposed)

Mr. Y. Ali: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Following the unsatisfactory answer to Question No. 3 asked by the hon. Member for Parklands, the hon. Kivuitu, I wish to raise this matter here tonight, Mr. Speaker, Sir, so that the Government and the people of this country will be in a position to know exactly what is happening in the country today as far as education is concerned. Mr.

[Mr. Y. Ali]

Speaker, Sir, the question refers to Braeburn Coed Preparatory School. This school is somewhere within Parklands Constituency. It is a highly costly school intended deliberately to cater for sections of certain communities in this country. This is because, Mr. Speaker, if we are to face the facts, the majority of the people of this country—and I repeat the majority—90 per cent of our population—are poor people and they are the masses. Even if you come to the population of Nairobi, the majority of the 500,000 people in this City must be classified as the masses. When we have such a school here built for certain communities or a class of people, we must warn the Government to take action now before it is too late.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this school is called a preparatory school. I think the public must know because we in Kenya have primary schools, secondary schools, high schools and the university here; however, about this preparatory school the Minister should be ready to explain here to the nation. He should be ready to explain what is a preparatory school, or what kind of school this is, or what kind of schools are known as preparatory schools, in this country. He should also tell us whom they are intended to prepare and to go where after being prepared. As far as we are concerned the City Council, as a corporate body and as a local authority is responsible for primary education in this City. The City Council is capable of providing primary schools in this City. Although we have "A", "B" and "C" schools, the City Council is doing its job. We must be told in no uncertain terms why we should have such schools deliberately intended for a particular class of people.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to inform the House that this particular school charges very, very high fees. Children from five to nine years old are paying Sh. 1,100 per term. Children from nine to 12 years old pay Sh. 1,130 per term. Children of 12 years old pay Sh. 1,500 per term, Mr. Speaker. The Minister should be prepared to tell this House, and the nation, the cause and reason or why such a school should exist in this country, or rather in this City where we have a very strong local authority which is leading all the other local authorities in providing services to its citizens? Why should the Minister sit idle and wait to see certain racial forces trying to sabotage and frustrate the good services being provided by the City Council on behalf of the Government. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have a lot of nursery schools here for all communities. We have also very many of these so-called preparatory schools even for primary school children.

Houses are being turned into schools overnight. How they are being allowed to do so according to the City Council's building by-laws, we cannot tell. This is because for an African to go to the City Council to ask to turn his residential house into a school, or into a shop, for that matter, it takes six months or even a year. It is more or less impossible. However, there are people in this City who do things as they like while other citizens are not allowed to do so. Mr. Speaker, Sir, these schools will bring dangers. If Government cannot act today and close these schools, then the future of this country is in jeopardy. Why? This is because such schools, first of all, create classes of people because my child or our children cannot go to such a school. Whatever we are doing today is for our children tomorrow and tomorrow we shall have two classes of children, the super-human and sub-human. Is this why we fought for independence in this country? We fought for independence in order to eradicate racialism, segregation, discrimination in all spheres, Mr. Speaker. Today, Kenya is a free and sovereign state. Why should we have racialism here? Why should racialism be introduced through back doors? Why should foreigners or foreign embassies influence our Government to retain or establish such schools here contrary to our principles and contrary to our Constitution? We demand Government to come out today, or this evening, with a clear-cut statement. If this is the policy, then we should be told and we will know what to do; and if that is not the case, then this school must be closed forthwith.

The Minister contradicted himself here the other day when he said that he did not recognize the school and yet the school is in existence. The school has been operating since last year, unlicensed and illegally. Does this mean that we do not have a Government in this country? This is what it actually amounts to? If we have a Government and illegal things are taking place for over six months, for a year or two years, then this Government is losing its grip. This Government is collapsing. If that is the case, then we are ready to put things right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, at the same time I must take the opportunity of giving an example of such a school which is in Langata Constituency. A Ndege School has been established there and it is a racist school. That school was established just a few 100 yards from the City Council Primary School. As a result, all European teachers moved from the City Council school to that school, and as a result all European children have been removed from the City Council School to the racist school. When we brought this matter to the Minister for Education no action was taken. The owner of that school has taken a very drastic step. The owner of that school is harassing the wananchi and because the Chairman of the City Council School Committee convened a meeting with the parents and told the parents what was happening, he is now being sued in court. Are we here to be sued when we talk about our rights? Is our Government going to sit idle and see the wananchi being harassed by foreigners. I understand that the owner of that school is a citizen, but at the same time I have an unconfirmed report that she approached the British High Commission about the Ndege School—because at first the Minister was ready to close down that school—and because of the approach by the British High Commission some pressure was brought to bear and the Minister, with all due respect, changed the decision from closing down the school completely and now he has given an order reducing the number of students from 100 students to 30 students as originally licensed.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is contrary to our foreign policy. If we, in Kenya, can attack or condemn racialism, apartheid in South Africa, Zimbabwe, Mozambique, Rhodesia and Angola and yet, at home here we shut our eyes and racialists are active here, engineering racialism, planting racist seeds into our young children, then, Mr. Speaker, this Government must tell or this Government should have no right, whatsoever, to condemn racialism or even condemn apartheid because it is being practised right here in our country.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I submit that the Minister for Education, when he stands up here, should tell us what the Government is thinking about this sort of thing. We are duty-bound, and it is common knowledge these days, that whatever we discuss in this House no action is taken to follow it up, or to implement it for that matter. However, we must inform the people of this country that we, as Members of Parliament, will continue to expose those who are trying to wreck the nation and those who are working against the nation. We will tell whoever makes mistakes that he is making mistakes. We will do this for the wananchi to know. It must be put on record.

With these few remarks, I beg to submit.

Mr. Kivuito: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I hope when the Minister stands to reply to this Motion he will not assume that we are motivated by any unacceptable ideas. We are clearly interested in the welfare of this country, particularly because we are still young and we expect to live long. We do not want to be exterminated when the poor begin fighting with the rich. However, those who are old can, of course, practise anything now because they are almost gone.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, my objection to this school was spelled out in the letter which I wrote to the Minister for Education on 20th August 1970. He is, therefore, quite aware of my views about this school because I brought it to his notice.

My main objections are three: One of them is the policy of the school which is spelled out in a certain document which was issued by the lady who started the school entitled, "Braeburn House Coed Preparatory School." In that document she says:—

"Thank you for your inquiry regarding Braeburn House School. This is a modern school following the latest U.K. method of education. The school will be run on modern lines combined with little of the old methods so that children will be able to fit into any type of United Kingdom education and be able to sit for United Kingdom examinations."

So you can see that what the school is aiming at is making British people among the Kenya people. That is one objection because I thought we attained our independence and we must get away from that.

When you look at the subjects they are going to teach, they do not mention any tribal dances but instead they mention the ballet. Ballet is that dance which you dance on your toes. Your toes. You have to stand on your toes. Natives of this country cannot do that kind of thing. Again, Mr. Speaker, you find that in page eight of that document they say:—

"The girls have ballet every Wednesday afternoon and no extra charge is made for the girls of 5 to 9 years", and so on, and so forth.

There is no mention of anything about Africans at all.

Secondly, Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is the question of fees. As the hon. Yunis Ali said, the fees are exorbitant. The lowest fees per term are equal to one-third of a Member of Parliament's salary. Therefore you can see that if you have three children your salary will all be spent. Given the number of wives the Africans have to have in their own social system, you can see how many children you can take to that school.

The fees, as the Minister asks me, stated in page 2 of that document is £55 per term for a child of between 5 and 9 years which is Sh. 1,100 per term per child. For children between 9 and 12 years of age it is Sh. 1,300 per child per term, and for any child of 12 years of age and above, the fee is £75 per child per term.

[Mr. Kivuitu]

Besides that, they say, "A drink of cocoa" I take that to be Cocoa which is produced in Ghana "or squash mid-morning and cooked lunch will cost £6 per term". So, add that to the total fee and you will see what figure you come to.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, that means this school will cater for children of the rich. Now, the victims of—However, when we look at this, and we find that there are so many children in Kenya who cannot attend a nursery school—and the parents of these children are the people who have voted us into power—then we feel this is wrong. These children cannot get nursery school education because they do not have money to pay for their school fees. The charges paid in this primary school are very high and we find that some people can afford to go to send their children there. What classes are we creating in this country when we claim to be a socialist country?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, finally, I must mention that although the Minister refused to clarify the position and said that he had not registered this school, it must be stated that the City Council—it is said on page one of this document—has approved the plans for that school for 12 classrooms. This fellow is going to be very rich when he comes to operate this school; and besides that, the Assistant Minister for Education, hon. C. W. Rubia, received a cheque recently from the children of this school. It is only two days ago and it was in the papers. An Assistant Minister for Education, who was saying that they do not recognize the school, received on behalf of this school a certain cheque for the Freedom from Hunger Campaign. What are we being told now? Mr. Speaker, Sir, I find that there is a lot of evidence that the school is accepted and is existing. It is operating! Are we going to accept this school to go on? As I said, for the young, we are worried. We do not want to be finished.

With these few remarks, Sir, I beg to second.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I will use the rest of the remaining time.

There are two issues, Sir, in connexion with this particular Motion for the Adjournment. There is the question of running a school illegally and, secondly, the question regarding private schools in this country. First of all, I want to explain that this school is not registered, and to say that the City Council has approved the school is different from saying that the school has been registered. Anyone, or any organization in this country, can approve an organization to be a school, but until and unless it is registered by my Ministry, and by me, that school is illegal. So, the City Council, for the information of hon. Members, is not a licensing authority in as far as our schools are concerned. Therefore, we can forget about the approval of the City Council; we can forget about presents given to the Freedom from Hunger Campaign or any other organization from that body because it is not legally registered by me. What I have done, Sir, in connexion with registration is that we have warned that lady who is running that school illegally. We have, in fact, sent letters to her and I am passing the matter to the Attorney-General's Offices for prosecution. They will go and investigate and if they find that according to the Education Act of 1968, section 30, they have a case, it will not be my story any more. That matter, as it is with Attorney-General's Office, is no longer mine and therefore it is shelved as far as I am concerned.

Now, Sir, to come to the problem of private schools, I want us to be very realistic. We claim we want democracy in this country. What is it that we have in mind when we talk about democracy?

When you talk about democracy, that I must be like Mr. Y or I must do what Mr. Y is doing or I must say the same things as Mr. X. These things, to me are not democracy. Democracy means to me this, if I can afford to set up a school of my own, for children who can fill a class, then I go to the Ministry of Education, they look at the conditions, and if I follow the syllabus, then I will register a school and employ a tutor to teach my children. All this, of course, if I can afford to have a tutor.

Mr. Mulwa: Are you following Government policy?

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, I hear shouts from some very good hon. Members on what they call African Socialism but I am sorry to say they cannot see what it is they are talking about.

When it comes to the schools which are run, whether they are nursery schools, preparatory schools, including primary schools—a preparatory school is not only a nursery school, it is higher than a nursery school, it can include up to secondary school—I cannot see any sane person talking democratically and saying, "If there is a Mr. Z who is a permanent resident of Russia, who is here on business, who has enough children who are going to live permanently in Russia later on, yet those children must be taught to speak Kalenjin or Kikuyu or Luo because they are in Kericho District." I would say and I am saying it now, that is not democracy. We must be democratic. People from any country in the world, who have enough children in our country, who can put up a class of their own to teach their children the things they are going to need when they go back to their country—let them go back when they want, they are not our people—we should be democratic and give them the right, being democratic, to educate their children, follow their own syllabus so long as they do not contravene the laws of this country. We are not going to say that those who are in London or—

[The Minister for Education]

Mr. Mulwa: (Inaudible).

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, if the hon. Member would only listen he can speak later on if I give him time.

Those who go abroad, if we send 20 students to Germany, if they are told by the Germans, for example, that they are not going to learn anything about this country, nothing about Kenya and they must live like the Germans, that would be wrong. I am saying we must be democratic. If the Asian community, those who are not Kenya citizens, or even those who are Kenya citizens, want their children to go back to Asia to live there permanently, they should be allowed, democratically, to teach their children those things the children will need once they go back to Asia. I am not going to be a party to anyone who says, "We are going to condition them to live in this country when, at the same time, we are not going to allow them to become Kenya citizens." We must be democratic.

Mr. Mulwa: Where is this democracy you are talking about?

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am talking about a democracy which the hon. Member knows nothing about.

These schools are not racial schools, any child can go there if the parent can afford it. What is this thing you call racialism? Because I cannot afford to send my child to a school I say that school is racial. For the information of the hon. Members of this House, some of these private schools are not getting any money from the Government.

We know that the Government has the responsibility of running all the primary schools in this country, but why should we as Government spend public money when there are some people in this country who can put up schools and can pay for the children to go to those schools. We want them to run the schools and create more room—where we have primary schools—for the children of those who cannot pay high fees. So, Sir, to bring in the problem of high fees and to bring in the problem of racialism, I do not see the point.

The school I am talking about is not run on what we call racial bar, colour bar or any such thing, but the fees are high. Admittedly, yes. If the hon. Member's wish was that we should have the responsibility of running all primary and nursery schools in this country and stopping everybody from financing these schools, I would listen to that. However, that will cost us money and we will have to come back to this very House and say we have extra schools which are being run at the moment on a private basis. We have to cater for them and we have to look for money for these things.

So, Mr. Speaker, I do not and I will not agree that we should stop those who want to finance the education of their own children with the money they have and we, as Government, take over the responsibility of running the schools.

Mr. Mulwa: We do understand your democracy now.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): The hon. Member, Mr. Y. Ali did bring in another school which has been running partly illegally and partly correctly. This particular school was registered and the number of pupils allowed was 30. Then they went on and added to the number because of the demand, and they are now standing at 130. I have written to them to reduce the number from 130 to the 30 that was registered in my office. However, the hon. Member says that no action has been taken. I have taken action and given them four weeks during which time they must get off 100 children. They have to be sent elsewhere and I do not expect that the children must be thrown on the streets because of the mistakes of some of the leaders or people of this country who pretend to know what they do not know.

Mr. Speaker, I have taken action and I took action on my own. I refute, and most emphatically, the allegation by the hon. Member, the misguided allegation when the hon. Member said because of pressure or influence of the British High Commission officers I did something. I have not seen any one of them, I have not telephoned them, they have not seen me, they have not telephoned me, there has been no communication between me and the British High Commission in this connexion. I took action on my own. If the hon. Member has his facts correct I want him to challenge me in this House and to cause me to apologize. The British High Commission has not influenced me and I do not think they can influence me.

My other point is that I am going to allow private schools, including Harambee schools so long as those who manage the schools, the managers, are competent to run the schools and so long as they comply with the rules and the laws of this country. The fees may be Sh. 1 million per child per term, but this is not going to come from the Treasury, it is going to come from the parents of the child. If you are not capable of raising that amount why cry about somebody else's ability?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we want to be democratic but not to look alike. I would like to urge the hon. Members that this problem of stopping this school because it is run by "whites"—Let them run their own schools, let them follow their own syllabus, let them go back to Europe, to their secondary schools there later on. Let them live the life they have learnt from the books they write. Is there any inferiority complex among us? Why should we pull these people to be like us? Why not let them run their own schools?

Mr. ole Marima: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, with all due respect to the Minister is he not confusing the House by telling us at one time that he does not recognize the school and is suing the headmaster and at another point saying, we should allow them to run their own affairs in the way they want?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): There is no confusion there. The school which was referred to has not been registered. That is where the illegality comes in.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, if the other hon. Members were not talking over there, then the hon. Member for Narok would have heard what I was saying.

I said the problem of running the school illegally is now going to be handed to the Attorney-General's Offices for prosecution and necessary action.

I then went on to say we are not going to stop people who want to initiate and run their own schools and pay for such schools. We are not going to stop them from doing so and there is no confusion there. The two issues are entirely separate.

Mr. Speaker, I wish hon. Members will try to raise money and join those schools instead of trying to pull down the standard and tell them to come to our level.

Thank you very much, Sir.

Mr. Mulwa: We are not Europeans.

ADJOURNMENT

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is time now for interruption of business. The House is now adjourned until tomorrow, Thursday, 11th March at 2.30 p.m.

The House rose at Seven o'clock.

The House met at thirty minutes past Two o'clock.

PRAYERS

NOTICES OF MOTIONS

DIVISION OF SOUTH NYANZA DISTRICT

Mr. Mbori: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

THAT in view of the fact that South Nyanza is so large in area and population and noting furthermore, that the Eastern Division of South Nyanza is nearly half the size of the South Nyanza District, this House urges the Government, when funds permit, to split South Nyanza with a view to making the Eastern Division a full district to be known as "Rachuonyo District".

ESTABLISHMENT OF A BRANCH OF KENYA MEAT COMMISSION IN EASTERN PROVINCE

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

THAT in view of the long distance between eastern Kenya and the two Kenya Meat Commission factories at Athi River and Mombasa, this House calls upon the Government to open a branch factory at the boundary of Kitui East, Garissa and Galole Districts.

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Question No. 139 (1447)

PROVINCIAL REPRESENTATION IN STATUTORY BOARDS

Mr. Nthenge asked the Minister of State, President's Office if he would tell the House whether he would reorganize membership of statutory boards to facilitate representation on provincial basis.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Anyone here from the Ministry of State, President's Office?

Next question.

Question No. 121 (1418)

REMOVAL OF ARMY CAMP FROM MOYALE TOWNSHIP

Mr. Araru asked the Minister for Defence if he would tell the House why the Army Camp was removed from Moyale Township in July 1970, and yet there are troubles always in that area.

The Assistant Minister for Defence (Mr. Njeru): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Army Camp was removed from Moyale Township in July 1970, because the security situation had improved greatly and did not warrant an army garrison in the area. Furthermore, the army is not expected to carry out ordinary policing duties, which is the role of the Kenya Police.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, when he said that it was because the security situation had improved, could the Assistant Minister tell us, because Moyale is on the boundary of Kenya and Ethiopia, what would happen if some enemies crossed the boundary and "jumped" over to the town?

Mr. Njeru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sure the enemies will not "jump" to Moyale Town.

Mr. Bonaya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, I remember last year when I did ask, on behalf of Mr. Araru, who was not present, just the same type of question and the Assistant Minister said that there was no camp at all in Moyale or any garrison; I mean, there was no army camp at Moyale. Now, he is agreeing that there was an army which was stationed there previously, but they have been removed. Why is he contradicting himself?

Mr. Njeru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I remember the hon. Member asking that question last year on behalf of my friend, Mr. Araru, but I did not say that there was not an army camp at Moyale.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Assistant Minister tell us why he believes that no enemies can "jump" into Kenya because he told us that he is sure; what makes him so sure?

Hon. Members: They can "jump"!

Mr. Njeru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, although we have no army camp at Moyale at the moment, I do not think there is any threat.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 73 (1315)

MWOLA/YADUME WATER PROJECT

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House why Kitui County Council stopped the water pipe project which had started from Mwola River within Nuu Location which had to end at Yadume, 12 miles away.

The Assistant Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Balala): Mr. Speaker, Sir, on behalf of my colleague, the Minister for Agriculture, I beg to reply. Requests for water projects are channelled to my Ministry through district planning committees. Within such projects, however, some are entirely a responsibility of local authorities and from the words of the hon. Member, I infer that the project mentioned in his question falls under the County Council of Kitui. As it has not been brought to my Ministry through the established machinery, I am sorry I am in the dark about it. Perhaps the hon. Member may wish to find more about it from the county council concerned and if the scheme has the necessary priority attached to it, it will be referred to me.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, according to the Assistant Minister's reply, the project was started by the county council and since the Central Government has taken some duties from the county councils, is the Assistant Minister suggesting that I should go and see the county council? However, the county council has said frequently that—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order! Mr. Kitonga! All you are required to do is to ask a supplementary question and not to make a speech.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since water projects are under the Ministry of Agriculture, why should the Ministry deny its responsibility?

Mr. Balala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, as I have said, there is an established machinery for such projects and therefore, this particular project has to go through the established machinery. I said that I am not aware of this particular project having come to my Ministry. If the hon. Member feels that his project has gone through the proper machinery, then he should go and check with the county council.

Mr. Murgor: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, will he tell this House whether that particular project comes under the county council or the Ministry of Agriculture, and whether they have actually gone to investigate this matter or he is just telling us that he does not know whether it is the county council or the Ministry of Agriculture which is in charge? He is not sure. Have they really gone to dig facts so as to find out whether it comes under either the Ministry of Agriculture or the county council?

Mr. Balala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am very sure about my reply, but I doubt whether the hon. Member who asked the question originally is sure of the information. However, from the information which has been given by the hon. Member it looks as if the project comes under the county council.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Assistant Minister tell this House whether, in fact, he has made any effort to check whether the allegations made here are true or is the information which he is giving to this House just from his head after having done nothing, although the question has been with him for more than 10 days?

Mr. Balala: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have thoroughly investigated this particular project and from the information I have collected such a project has not come to my Ministry—maybe it is still lying with the county council.

Question No. 115 (1411)

PRICE OF AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION FARMS

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House—

(a) whether it was true that Agricultural Development Corporation farms were sold for twice as much as they were bought for; and

(b) if it were so, what were the reasons.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. First of all, the Agricultural Development Corporation, as a general rule, leases rather than sells its own farms. It is not true to say that it sells farms at double the price at which they are purchased. All the Agricultural Development Corporation farms are sold or leased at the price set on them by Government valuer.

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is he not aware that Avondale National Farm was offered for £17,000 by the owner although the Agricultural Development Corporation offered £25,000?

An hon. Member: Shame!

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not aware of such a ridiculous way of buying farms.

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wonder whether you can allow me to challenge the Assistant Minister by going out tomorrow to investigate these facts and lay them on the Table of this House—the truth about the purchase of this particular farm? I was one of the officials of the Agricultural Development Corporation at the time when this particular farm was being bought and the valuer offered £25,000 although the owner had said that he wanted only £17,000.

An hon. Member: Why is he denying the fact?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the information which has been given by the hon. Member, who at that time was a very junior officer, indeed, in the Agricultural Development Corporation, who obviously has had his facts very much distorted, is not true, and therefore, he intends to mislead this House. He does not have even a half of the information regarding that farm.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! What you can do Mr. Mutiso-Muyu is to produce the evidence on which you base what you are saying.

Mr. Komen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Assistant Minister aware that when somebody has planned to buy a farm he finds that the original price differs from the price which one has to pay when he takes over the farm? You will find that when one buys such a farm the price is increased—differing from the original price.

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is the kind of thing which I would have expected. However, there are very good reasons for it because when we buy a farm we have sometimes to incur certain essential expenditures: for example, there may not be adequate water facilities to cater for that farm or maybe certain repairs have been necessary to run an economic unit. It is on this basis that the price has to be slightly higher than the purchase price.

Mr. Kurgat: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Assistant Minister inform this House the reason why farmers who lease Agricultural Development Corporation farms are forced to buy such implements like, rotten tractors of 1901 which they have no use for although they have to buy them? Why are they not leasing only the land and not such rubbish like dead tractors and so forth?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, a lease is based on a functional farm; therefore it is no good saying, for example, that you want to lease the land but you do not want to take the cattle that are there or the tractors that would be necessary to run the farm properly.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, being a Member of the Agricultural Development Corporation—

An hon. Member: Junior or big?

Mr. Muturia: I was a member—just a director, not a senior member.

Being a former member of the Agricultural Development Corporation, and in view of the fact that there is leniency within the Agricultural Development Corporation, would the Assistant Minister investigate thoroughly and see to it that the Agricultural Development Corporation farms and everything else is running properly because we know so many things about the Agricultural Development Corporation?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member for Nyambene North was a member of that board and, therefore, he should accept part of the responsibility if that board was not running correctly.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from one of the answers which have been given by the Assistant Minister, is he convinced that the values arrived at by land valuers, of whom I have every reason to believe are not Africans, are not actually biased?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the valuers are Government servants and we have every reason to believe that they are performing a useful purpose on behalf of the Government.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, does the Assistant Minister know that even some of the members of the Board of Agricultural Development Corporation could hardly improve the situation due to interference from Ministers; and also due to the fact that the executives are so much in touch with the Minister, himself, that the board can hardly control them?

An hon. Member: You are right!

An hon. Member: That is very possible!

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the board has very definite powers which have been given to it by this House and unless it does not know its own functions given to it by this Parliament it can run properly.

Question No. 136 (1439)SIZE OF KENYA'S ONE HUNDRED SHILLINGS NOTE

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Mulwa. Not here?

Question No. 132 (1431)SETTLEMENT OF SQUATTERS IN MURANG'A

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Lands and Settlement if he would tell the House—

(a) how many squatters had been settled from Makuyu, Kinyangi and Mitubiri locations of Murang'a District;

(b) in view of the fact that there were very many squatters in the above locations, if the Minister could allow the District Officer, Makuyu, to forward a list of all the squatters to his office for consideration and open registration of squatters in the said locations.

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) A total of 899 squatters have been settled from Makuyu Location of Murang'a District.

On the other hand, no squatters have been settled from Kinyangi and Mitubiri since none were registered from these two locations.

[The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement]

(b) It is very puzzling to see that all of a sudden "very many squatters" have turned up in these locations since they did not register themselves at the appropriate time.

For the time being, we are still trying to settle all the genuine cases of registered squatters and unless the Government changes its policy and thus reopens registration for the whole country, there is no reason why the above locations should be given preferential treatment.

Mr. Wachira: Will the Assistant Minister agree with me that I had invited him to these two locations to see things for himself and that after confirming in writing he never showed up?

An hon. Member: You see!

An hon. Member: Shame!

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not think this was the question. The question is whether the squatters are being settled.

Whether the Assistant Minister visited the area or not is irrelevant but can be dealt with when the question is asked.

Mr. Kahengeri: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's answer, could he possibly tell us what has happened to the registered squatters who were displaced at Right Range in Kinyangi Location?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have just said that the squatters were not registered in Kinyangi Location because they did not turn up at the appropriate time.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that certain squatters who had been allocated plots have not moved to their respective plots—and I can substantiate that—what will the Minister do with the empty plots which have not been occupied up to now?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, the Ministry will be very grateful to receive the people the hon. Member is talking about. Our office is open and we shall deal with the case when it is properly reported to us.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): That is quite a different question.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that there are 600 people who have been discharged from Kakuzi Fibrelands because of the lack of sisal markets, will the Assistant Minister tell me what he is going to do with these people, since they were born there and they have no other homes? Will he register them and give them plots?

Mr. G. G. Kariuki: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon.

Member has been complaining about the registered squatters, those who have not been settled. At the same time he is asking us to register some more. It would be fair if we are given a chance to settle those who have been registered first. We have what we call a gentleman's agreement, that the squatters will not be victimized by the land-owners before the matter is referred to us.

Question No. 134 (1436)

NUTRITIONAL CENTRE AT MUMIAS
CATHOLIC MISSION

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House when the Minister would consider establishing a nutrition centre at the Mumias Catholic Mission where premises were available.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Due to shortage of trained staff it will not be possible to establish a nutrition centre at Mumias, but when staff does become available, the establishment of nutrition centres in Kakamega District and other places will be considered.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the reply by Mr. Jahazi, can he now tell this House how many people are undergoing training in the Ministry of Health from that particular province?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I cannot tell him that off-hand but we have some. In fact, we are changing the whole system of training this cadre in the Ministry of Health because at the moment we have nurses who have to train as nurses first and then join the nutrition school at Karen. At the moment we are about to start a course for girls who will go straight to study nutrition. That will be at Karen College which was handed over to us by the Danish Government early this month.

I cannot answer the first part of the question and I hope the Member, when he sees our advertisement for girls to come forward for this particular course, he will encourage the people of his area.

I have toured his constituency and noted that the situation there is serious. It is because so many mothers are feeding their babies with cassava only. That is why the position is very serious. But we will do something about that.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the second reply of the Assistant Minister, we know this particular school is going to be established, but before this particular school is established would the Assistant Minister provide one or two nurses during this current year to get the things going? The premises are there and we do not want them to be given up.

Mr. Jahazi: Sir, that can be considered, but whether we consider it or not does not matter if there are no people available because I do not know how consideration will produce them.

Question No. 142 (1454)

OUT-PATIENTS' WING: BUSIA DISTRICT
HOSPITAL

Mr. Ebu asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House, in view of the fact that the wananchi of Busia had been scourged by disease for a long time due to the fact that they had a relatively small number of health facilities, if the Minister would consider opening the out-patients' wing of the district hospital. What had delayed the completion and subsequent opening of the hospital.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The opening of the out-patients' section of the new hospital at Busia will be considered as soon as this section of the hospital is ready. There are still some final touches to be completed, including sewage disposal and equipment. I am satisfied that so far the work is going within schedule. As soon as it is ready we will open the out-patients' department.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is he aware that this hospital was scheduled to be opened two years ago and up to now the work seems to be moving at a snail's pace?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, two years ago the hospital had not even started to be built. So how it could have been ready two years ago, I do not know.

However, according to the plan in the Ministry of Health, the job is going according to schedule.

Mr. Masibayi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister tell this House why this big, beautiful hospital mentioned in the question did not have plans for sewage disposal included at the time of building?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, no hospital could be planned without a plan for sewage disposal; it would be a very queer plan, indeed.

It is not the Ministry of Health that really goes to dig the ground for this, it is the Ministry of Works.

The original plans for this ran into a little technical trouble and I think the Ministry of Works' people are on the site now and they are doing something in order to have the sewage disposal works completed.

Mr. Masibayi: Mr. Speaker, is the Assistant

Minister trying to mislead the House by telling this House here, now that sewage disposal has already been planned when it has not been planned for until this particular juncture?

Mr. Jahazi: As far as I know, Sir, the sewage disposal was planned. The only thing is that it has not been constructed. If the hon. Member would come to our Ministry we will show him a very good plan of this particular item.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Assistant Minister, so far as I am concerned, has not refuted the allegation. Is it true that even his provincial officer knows very well that the delay in opening this hospital is due to the fact that somebody who is trying to introduce delaying tactics did not include the sewage system in the plan at the beginning? The hospital itself is complete but the sewage system is not complete yet.

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I was at the site last year and I was shown where the whole thing is going to be constructed. That was in April last year. So it cannot be that nobody has planned for this. The Ministry of Health would not construct such a big hospital if there had been such a big oversight. If this had been forgotten surely we would have reminded the person concerned. As I said, this thing developed some technical difficulties here and there—from the Ministry of Works—but we are behind them trying to make them work as hard as possible so that we can provide facilities for the wananchi there.

I think the Member will help us to tell the hon. Minister concerned with this particular job also to try to push his people faster so that the out-patients' department can be opened. Otherwise, we are ready to open.

Question No. 129 (1428)

CONTROL OF POACHING IN THE COUNTRY

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Magugu. Not here?

We come back to Mr. Nthenge's question.

(Written reply to be issued)

Question No. 139 (1447)

PROVINCIAL REPRESENTATION IN STATUTORY BOARDS

Mr. Nthenge asked the Minister of State, President's Office if he would tell the House if he would reorganize membership of statutory boards to facilitate representation on provincial basis.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Nobody from the President's Office to answer this question?

(Question deferred)

Question No. 136 (1439)

SIZE OF KENYA'S ONE HUNDRED SHILLINGS NOTE

Mr. Mulwa asked the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning if he would tell the House if he was aware that the Kenya One Hundred Shilling Note was very inconvenient to carry owing to its large size.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, I apologize for being late.

The Assistant Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Cheron): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The various sizes of the notes were decided upon not only to distinguish between the denominations but also in order to maintain similarity with the old East African Currency Board notes. However, I do agree with the Member that the Sh. 100 note is rather large and I can assure him that the matter is being seriously considered by my Ministry in consultation with the Central Bank of Kenya.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, can the Assistant Minister tell us how long, in a matter of weeks, days or years, this will remain under consideration?

Mr. Cheron: As soon as possible.

*Question No. 138 (1441)*ADJUSTMENT OF SALARIES OF SOUTH NYANZA
TEACHERS

Mr. Mbori asked the Minister for Education if he would tell the House why there had been no adjustment to salaries of South Nyanza teachers who had passed public examinations in 1969 like in-service courses in respect of the Kenya Junior Secondary Examination and East African Certificate of Education.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Rubia): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. In view of the fact that results for public examinations are received at the district education offices by either late March or mid-April, payment of increased salaries following promotion is not effected until June. However, immediately the results reach the district education officer, it is then his responsibility to forward details affecting the teachers and their salaries in his district to the Teachers' Service Commission. The Teachers' Service Commission then arranges for the payment of the increased salary plus any arrears due.

As far as South Nyanza teachers are concerned, this has already been done.

Mr. Mbori: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister agree with me that there was delay in as far as South Nyanza teachers were concerned because I obtained this information in July 1970. So already there was delay and this kind of thing discourages teachers. Would he, in future, undertake to plan things in such a way that as soon as results come out the teachers' salaries are adjusted accordingly.

Also, following his reply, could he tell us how many teachers were involved in South Nyanza, and their breakdown per division?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, if there were some delays, I cannot confirm or deny that. However, if there were delays, then I am sure the payments were made up to date later. If it is a question of trying to avoid such delays, this is an administrative matter which need not come here.

Mr. Mbori: Mr. Speaker, the Assistant Minister has not answered the other questions.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You can only ask one question at a time.

Mr. Mbori: Mr. Speaker, will the Assistant Minister tell us how many teachers were involved in South Nyanza in passing these exams and the breakdown per division?

Mr. Rubia: Mr. Speaker, I need notice of that question to do some research.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It will be on the Order Paper again.

QUESTIONS BY PRIVATE NOTICE

REPORTS ON PLANS TO OVERTHROW KENYA GOVERNMENT

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Foreign Affairs the following Question by Private Notice:—

In view of the fact that there were reports coming from Uganda to the effect that there are plans going on in Tanzania to overthrow the Kenya Government, and since this is a very serious matter which cannot be left without being seriously questioned, whether there is any truth or not, and since it was also reported that the Minister for Foreign Affairs had been to see His Excellency the President of Uganda General Idi Amin, would the Minister tell the House and the nation—

- (a) what steps have been taken to verify the above-mentioned allegations; and
- (b) what our Government is doing to ensure that the cordial relationship which is existing at the moment between Kenya and Tanzania is not disrupted by the events in Uganda?

The Minister for Foreign Affairs (Dr. Mungai): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Government of Kenya has no knowledge of any subversive activities being organized against Kenya in

[The Minister for Foreign Affairs]

Tanzania. This question, to me looks slightly irresponsible and dangerous. Mentioning a very friendly country and a neighbouring State in this manner, of which nothing of the kind has been brought to the Government, I would have thought that the hon. Member should have notified the arm of the Government that deals with security or even Foreign Affairs because Government has no knowledge of such activities from any source in Tanzania. I must also say, rumours could start unnecessary friction in inter-State relations which will be very difficult to cure in the future. However, I must also mention here that it is well understood by all that any threats to the sovereignty, territorial integrity or political independence of Kenya will be dealt with properly to safeguard Kenya's interest.

Relations between Kenya, the peoples of Kenya on one hand, the peoples of Uganda and the peoples of Tanzania on the other hand has always been, and continues to be cordial and fraternal. We are members of the East African Community, we have instituted common services; we share a communication network, and we have flourishing inter-State trade and cultural exchanges. We have always shared a feeling of being one people in this region. This feeling has been enhanced progressively through contact established between the leaders of the people in these countries. Unity of our people has always been our aim.

I visited Uganda briefly, recently. My visit was prompted interest of hundreds of thousands of Kenya citizens who work in Uganda.

Hon. Members: No, no. Shame! Shame!

Dr. Mungai: If you kept quiet, maybe you will get to know what you want to know.

At the moment of the internal crisis in Uganda, it was only natural for Kenya Government to take an interest in the welfare and security of our nationals and to exchange views with the Uganda authorities on this subject. I was assured that Kenyans in Uganda are safe and they will be allowed to continue to work in Uganda.

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir. I would like to know, from you, whether it is, actually, allowed and parliamentary, for a question tabled in this House and which, in fact, is based on reports which are factual and have been printed in the papers, for the Minister to describe it as "an irresponsible question from the hon. Member"?

Mr. Mulwa: He ought to apologize to the House.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): For one thing, every question is supposed to have been approved by the Speaker; unless you intend to say that the Speaker was irresponsible you cannot say—

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! There is a difference between "irresponsibility" and "inaccuracy"— Order! It was possible that the Member asking this question made an error in what he alleged. But that does not mean that he was irresponsible. So, to that extent, the Minister was definitely out of order in alleging that the question was irresponsible.

Hon. Members: He must apologize to the House.

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would not be in the group that will call our Speaker, "irresponsible", certainly, not. However, Mr. Speaker, I want to look at this question clearly; it states that:

"... In view of the fact that there are reports coming from Uganda to the effect that there are plans going on in Tanzania to overthrow the Kenya Government, and . . ."

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I know of no such reports coming from Uganda, and if there is anybody who knows or has read it anywhere in the newspapers, I would like to see that paper so that I know that there is such a paper.

Hon. Members: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us have order. Order! We are dealing with another point of order.

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, if there was any way or any reference that I have said that the Speaker is irresponsible, for that, I am willing to apologize.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am seeking your guidance. In view of the fact that—although the Minister has withdrawn the allegation he made—there were allegations in our papers here stating clearly, and on the front pages, that there were reports to this effect, is he still in order to insist that I did not ask this question correctly? If he was out of the country that is not my fault.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us have supplementary questions, if you have any. That is not a point of order.

Mr. Tsuma.

Mr. Tsuma: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Minister tell us the truth about the reports that were in the Nation and the East African Standard regarding so much ammunition found near Lake Kioga with a clear plan for invading Kenya? I have the paper to bring to him if he wants.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I was not able to hear Mr. Tsuma's question.

Mr. Tsuma: My question, Sir, was: what could the Minister tell the House in connexion with the report that was in the newspapers, the Nation and the East African Standard, regarding ammunition? This was a report emanating from the President of Uganda, that there was some ammunition found near Lake Kioga and the intention was to mount an invasion on this country from Uganda.

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, this changes the question because to my knowledge Lake Kioga is not in Tanzania, it is in Uganda. The question here refers to Tanzania, which is a friendly country and of which I have read no report in any of the newspapers mentioned, that Tanzania or anybody being trained in Tanzania was to come to overthrow the Government of Kenya.

Mr. Karungaru: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we also did read the same papers and we did not come across anything like Tanzania. The matter was in connexion with the former Government of Uganda which was led by Dr. Obote. Now, the confusion here, which has been cooked, is that we are now trying to bring the Tanzania Government into this matter perhaps with a motive to cause the same confusion so that Tanzania Government may think that Kenya Government is their enemy.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): The problem here is that the question alleges that there was a plot being hatched in Tanzania. That is the problem because that is what the question alleges, and this is why the Minister is saying he knows nothing of any such plan in Tanzania; but that is a new issue now being introduced about Uganda, which is not contained in the question here.

Mr. Karungaru: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, what are we going to do now with this particular issue of Tanzania? Perhaps it has never been the intention of the Member to involve us in this confusion, but now it is the intention of the Member because it is what we are discussing and we are not supposed to discuss it. What do we do with the Member who has alleged that, Mr. Speaker?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You see the position is that every Member is responsible for the accuracy of whatever he alleges here. You cannot expect the Speaker, for instance, to know all the facts so that he does the school teacher's business of correcting the facts and so on. That is not his business at all. You are responsible for what you put in your question, and if it is inaccurate, you take it. So, this is what is happening now.

An hon. Member: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Now, let us not waste time.

Mr. Mwangale.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the answer given by the Minister, would he tell us exactly why he went to Uganda and, secondly, whether or not there was any truth in the allegation of the hon. President of Uganda to the effect that the former Uganda Government was planning to overthrow our Government? Can he tell us that, Mr. Speaker?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have said it very clearly why I went to Uganda and if the hon. Member wants me to repeat it I will. There is no need for any Member here saying that was not the reason. If he knows of any other reason, he is quite free to tell this House. That is the first—

Mr. Mwangale: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, I think you had better wait until you have heard what the Minister is going to say. Now, will you please sit down?

Dr. Mungai: That is the first part of it. The second part of it, I have also read some reports in the newspaper and Kenya Government does not only deal with newspaper reports. They have their official contacts in handling such sensitive matters and those will have to be left to the official businesses to be conducted in the official manner but not publicly in the newspapers.

Mr. Mwangale: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is it in order for the Minister to mislead the House when, in fact, it is well known that when the Minister left from Kenya he was not going to Uganda because he had a ticket to go to the United Kingdom and he just alighted in Entebbe? Is this true?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would challenge the hon. Member to produce that ticket in this House.

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the Minister's reply, that the main reason of his going to Uganda was because of the Kenya employees who are there in Uganda, may we know whether he is the Minister responsible for employees or the Minister responsible is Mr. Mwendwa? Have you taken over from him?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Government of Kenya works on collective responsibility. On this matter it is not only labour that was concerned. There are international relations that are concerned and not only employment. It is the security and safety of these people and not their employment alone.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sure I might have misunderstood the Minister, but I want to know whether you heard him better than I did.

[Mr. Ayah]

The Minister, according to my understanding, did say that there are certain things that should be left to the official line of communication, or something to that effect. Is it in order, Mr. Speaker, for the Minister to imply that in dealing with matters between Kenya and a foreign country there is anything that cannot be dealt with in this House and can be dealt with by any other official line above this National Assembly? Is that what the Minister was trying to say?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I said that some of the things have to be left for official communications and channels and when the time comes to announce them, they can be announced. However, you just cannot announce everything before you even have your own facts.

Mr. ole Marima: Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are a lot of things we read in the newspapers and one of them is what has been brought to this House. We also had seen in the newspapers that our Minister for Foreign Affairs had met Major-General Amin, who is the present President of Uganda. Could he deny or accept this?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! No. May I just remind hon. Members that it is against our Standing Orders to question whether something you have seen in a newspapers is true or false. You cannot do that. It is assumed, of course, that you know more than what you have just read and that is why I have tended to allow you to carry on with this sort of questioning, otherwise I would have stopped you because you are not allowed to ask anybody whether what appeared in the papers was true or false.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Minister's earlier reply, whereby he said that he had gone to Uganda because of some Kenyans who are working there, and that he found them all right, could he tell us which union of those Kenya employees working there he met?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not hear the question. Could the hon. Member repeat it?

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am going to repeat it because I want the Minister to hear clearly.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I said that when the Minister replied earlier to this question he said that he went to Uganda and met some citizens of Kenya who are working there and found that they were doing very well under the new régime. Can the Minister tell us which union of those Kenya employees he met and at what place?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I did not say that I met Kenyans. I said that I met Uganda authorities and they assured me of what I have told the House.

Mr. Abubakar-Madhbuti: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Minister has just told us to be very careful with rumours, but sometimes these rumours could be true. What step is the Minister taking to protect our territorial integrity because leaders of the former Zanzibar Government ignored rumours and next morning they found themselves behind the bars?

Dr. Mungai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I deal with international affairs and foreign affairs. We have the Kenya Army, we have the police—we have security forces in Kenya who are sure of Kenya's integrity and we must have faith in them and in their ability to handle these problems if they ever come up.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question. Mr. Cheptai.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I have already called up the next question. Will you sit down please?

MARRIAGE CERTIFICATES: WIVES OF DECEASED
CIVIL SERVANTS

Mr. Cheptai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister of State, President's Office the following Question by Private Notice:—

(a) Since Africans did not and still do not, in the majority, register their marriages, why were the wives of the three civil servants, namely, Chief Thomas Lokwari Lokontal, Sub-chief Losutan Akanichom, and Sub-chief Loriwo Loyong'ole, who died last year, required to produce marriage certificates before they could be given benefits due to them?

(b) Is this procedure justifiable?

The Attorney-General (Mr. Njonjo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply.

Hon. Members: Where have you been?

The Attorney-General (Mr. Njonjo): I have just come from Uganda.

Mr. Speaker, I should say that the reason was that these widows wanted to get birth certificates.

Hon. Members: What!

The Attorney-General (Mr. Njonjo): I beg your pardon, I meant marriage certificates.

Mr. Muturia: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

Mr. Cheptai: But it is my turn, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, Order Mr. Muturia, I have already called on Mr. Cheptai to ask his question.

Mr. Muturia: I thought the hon. Member did not hear the Attorney-General's answer because the microphone had something wrong with it.

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, I have been asked the question why the wives of certain chiefs who died were required to produce marriage certificates and my reply is: perhaps the widows wanted to have marriage certificates.

Mr. Cheptai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have been paying quite a reasonable attention to the Attorney-General's reply about these marriage certificates. However, although my question was directed to the Minister of State in the President's Office, the Attorney-General replied to it quite well and I fully agree with him. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to know why the wives of the three civil servants from the Pokot tribe were asked to produce marriage certificates while we know very well that according to the African tradition marriage certificates are not required. My mother does not have a marriage certificate. Could the Attorney-General tell this House why these women were asked to produce marriage certificates?

Mr. Njonjo: First of all, Mr. Speaker, Sir, why this question was transferred to my office is because I deal with the registration of marriages, deaths and births and I think I am more qualified, although I am biased towards registering these occasions. However, Mr. Speaker, the point is: first of all, I cannot read the minds of these widows and the only way I can answer this question is by simply saying that perhaps these women want to get married again and they wanted a marriage certificate.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order! You sit down first. I do not know why the Attorney-General takes the line he is taking. However, the question is quite clear. Why were these women required to produce marriage certificates? There is no question of them asking for the marriage certificates.

Mr. Migure: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! I am dealing with a point.

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, I bow to your interpretation of the question. However, it is difficult because, first of all, the Chamber is very hot, and—

Hon. Members: So what?

Mr. Njonjo: The other point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is that we have had a very short notice to find out about this. First of all we are not told who asked these women to produce marriage certificates, and one can only conjecture why they were asked to produce these marriage certificates. However, Mr. Speaker, I did not ask them to produce the marriage certificates.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! I do not know whether the Attorney-General has a copy of the question itself or not because that might help him. The question is actually referring to certain civil servants who are said to have died and asks why the wives of these civil servants were asked to produce marriage certificates before they could be given benefits due to them. Surely it is understood who was supposed to give these benefits.

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, I am much obliged to your bringing this to my notice. The reason why these women were required to produce marriage certificates is to give proof that they were married to these gentlemen.

Mr. Cheptai: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, could you ask your question, Mr. Cheptai?

Mr. Cheptai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I quite agree with the Attorney-General that nowadays the proof of marriage is only by marriage certificates. However, Mr. Speaker, could the Attorney-General tell this House whether his father or mother can produce a marriage certificate today?

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I cannot produce a marriage certificate because I am not married.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, do we understand, from what the Attorney-General has already said—although he might not have been very conversant with this particular case now—that those people in Kenya who have been married and do not have marriage certificates will not get benefits? That is, their widows will not be getting benefits? This seems to the case according to the reply to the question.

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, I do not think this is the case. If a husband dies and leaves a widow, the widow does not have to produce a marriage certificate in order to get her benefits. However, there are certain cases where there are complications in that there are so many people wanting to inherit the property and we must be satisfied that the property goes to the right widow—the mother and the children, so that it is not—

An hon. Member: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We had better hear the reply first.

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, I think the House would like the widows and the children left behind to enjoy the property of the deceased husband and not that the property should go to the brothers and other people—the pretenders. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, it is necessary, if my friend dies, that his property goes to—

An hon. Member: Where will your property go when you die?

Mr. Njonjo: If I die, my property will go to Dr. Barnado's Home.

Mr. Migure: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the reply given by the Attorney-General, do we understand from him that there were no other means of getting any justification on this matter, either from the district officer or district commissioner concerned or from the chiefs which could enable Government to ask these people to produce marriage certificates? We also know that it is not the policy of the Kenya Government that when somebody dies his widow is supposed to produce a marriage certificate.

Mr. Njonjo: This is the simplest thing because the alternative is to go to court and produce evidence that you are the rightful heir to the property, and that is more complicated. My advice to hon. Members and our people in the country is to register their marriages; the other thing which I think is more important, Mr. Speaker—

An hon. Member: Have you registered yours?

Mr. Njonjo: No. Mr. Speaker, what I think is more important, if hon. Members want to safeguard their wives, is to make a will.

Mr. Mulwa: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am seeking your guidance here. In view of the fact that in practice what we usually require is the chief or the district officer or the district commissioner to produce a letter to that effect, is it not in order that my learned friend here should make that quite clear rather than misleading us that we can advise our people to register the marriages whereas the law does not allow that?

Mr. Nthenge: Especially where you have three wives.

Mr. Njonjo: Mr. Speaker, I concur with my learned friend's view; but I think he will also agree with me that if our people did make wills we would not even have to refer this matter to the district commissioners, chiefs and others because sometimes these chiefs and the district commissioners are influenced and the wrong person gets the property instead of the widow and the children.

Mr. Migure: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): What is your point of order?

Mr. Migure: Do we understand from the Attorney-General that the district commissioners and the chiefs had made mistakes? He says that some of the district commissioners have been influenced to give wrong decisions in this matter. Do we understand that they have made mistakes? Who are these district commissioners that have made mistakes?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): That, obviously, could happen.

Next question.

SUSPENSION OF ROAD CONSTRUCTION WORK AT NANDI HILLS

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I understand Mr. Seroney's question will be replied to probably tomorrow. The reply is not ready now.

(Question deferred)

BUKURA AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL: RIGHTS OF LANDOWNERS

Mr. Tsuma: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to ask the Minister for Agriculture the following Question by Private Notice:—

In view of the fact that the people whose land was taken by the Government at Bukura for an agricultural school had already ploughed their shambas, could the Minister tell this House whether these people will be allowed to plant crops where they had ploughed for this season?

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Khaoya): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. In normal circumstances, once compensation for land obtained from the people has been paid by Government, that land henceforth becomes the property of Government and there can be no question of the former owner being allowed to use it again. This is actually the case with the land in question, for which compensation has been fully paid.

However, if there are any genuine desperate cases among the farmers whose land has been so purchased but have not yet found alternative farms on which to grow food, Government is ready to consider their cases on a very, very temporary basis; in which case, I would advise such farmers to see the District Commissioner, Kakamega.

Mr. Tsuma: In view of the fact, that the Assistant Minister has said consideration can be given, and considering the fact that the farmers at Bukura were only paid compensation three or four weeks ago, after they had already cultivated the land and were ready to plant, so that if there was rain they would have already planted, can the Assistant Minister, please, therefore, allow these farmers—it was not their own mistake—to plant the crop for this season?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is no mistake here. Government wanted 200 acres for the expansion of Bukura College and we now have this acreage and have paid for it. All that we are saying is that if there is some hardship due to the transition we are prepared to listen to them. It was only this morning when I was discussing this with the District Commissioner, Kakamega, on the telephone, and we think that if the hon. Member could approach him with the farmers he thinks have some genuine problems we would be able to help them. But as I have said it will be on a very temporary basis because the land does not belong to them now. It is Government land.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that the Ministry of Agriculture allowed these people to plough the land, which is now in the hands of Bukura Farmers Training Centre, and in view of the fact that the same Ministry knows only too well when to plough and when to plant, and they only ignore this fact so as to get the land prepared for them, would the Ministry now pay these people disturbance allowance?

Mr. Khaoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the question of compensation was dealt with in this House a few months ago when the question of disturbance—the actual crops, the trees, sugar-cane and so on, (the amount of the compensation)—was dealt with. Today we are dealing with a different question, and Government has extended an understanding which it need not necessarily do. But because these are our people we think if they have genuine cases we should help them. Therefore, I do not see how the question of my hon. colleague arises here.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

I understand the reply is not ready, so it will appear again on the Order Paper.

Next Order.

MINISTERIAL STATEMENT FOOD SITUATION IN THE COUNTRY

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to make a short statement on the current food situation in the country, with your permission, Sir.

Hon. Members: Which one?

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): I said the current food situation in the country.

At the outset, Mr. Speaker, I would like to thank you for allowing me to make this statement to the House to ease the minds of wananchi and assure them that the food situation in the country is under control.

Hon. Members: Ah, ah!

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): I think hon. Members should be patient and listen. If they want to question the authenticity of what I am saying they can do so later on.

A great deal has already been said in this House, in the Press and in other quarters. I do not wish to question the authenticity and the accuracy of the statements made here by hon. Members or of the Press reports, but I might say that many of them are over-exaggerated. Let me not be misunderstood. I am not denying that we are currently going through an extremely difficult period in so far as food supplies are concerned. If it were not so we would not have mobilized Government machinery, ably aided by voluntary aid agencies, to expedite relief supplies to our famine-stricken areas and to our brethren, particularly in the North-Eastern, Eastern and parts of the Rift Valley provinces. The past 18 months or so have been relatively dry. Most parts of the country have had insufficient rains and, consequently, most crops and livestock have suffered from a shortage of water.

This, in combination with periodic abnormalities in demand, like the current one, has from time to time placed severe constraints on available food resources.

Government recognizes this and is doing everything in its power to ensure that adequate supplies of food reach the needy wananchi.

I should, however, state with respect to all my colleagues in this House, the Press and organizations and individuals who have from time to time rushed to the Press and other mass-communication media, that incomplete and at times obviously emotional statements and reports have over-exaggerated the nature and magnitude of the problem and caused unnecessary state of panic.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I now wish to speak very briefly on some of the most important food commodities. To begin with, maize forms the staple diet for most wananchi. Like others, the 1970-planted maize crop has suffered the vicissitudes of inclement weather and, as a result, marketings are expected to be smaller than anticipated at the time of planting when we expected to get 3 million bags.

Nevertheless, we estimate that the Maize and Produce Board will buy slightly more than 2.6

million bags from this crop. In fact, purchases as of yesterday, 10th March 1971, amounted to 2.3 million bags, and the stocks nearly 1.6 million bags. The balance of the crop is expected to be delivered by mid-April. Unfortunately, the demand for Maize and Produce Board stock has been rising steadily in the past six months, and the following figures will illustrate this point: In November, Sir, last year, a total of 177,700 bags were sold; in December, 182,700 bags; in January this year, a total of 236,900 bags, and at the end of last month—of only 28 days—the number of bags drawn from the stores were 244,000 bags. The February figure represents an increase of 62 per cent on the monthly average demand of 150,000 bags in normal years.

We expect this trend to continue and have provided accordingly in our projections. For instance, the off-take in March and April could be 280,000 and 300,000 bags respectively. I wish to emphasize, Mr. Speaker, that despite this abnormally high demand on Maize and Produce Board stocks, there should be no difficulty in respect of maize supplies even if the long rains are not adequate, until the tail-end of the year. Accordingly, unlike some statements in this House and Press reports, we have not rationed, and do not plan to ration maize supplies. If anybody tells you otherwise, take it from me that he is not telling the truth.

As for the crop—

An hon. Member: Nonsense!

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): He may call it nonsense, Mr. Speaker, whoever says so— Mr. Mutiso, the hon. Member for— All right, I will come to that one, Mr. Speaker.

As for the crop that we are now going to plant, our target is to help the wananchi to plant 500,000 acres of hybrid maize. The required quantities of hybrid and Katumani seed and fertilizers are already in strategic positions, for the wananchi to buy or to take. The Agricultural Finance Corporation has also been instructed to expedite the processing of Guaranteed Minimum Returns applications, and it expects to clear the bulk of them by the end of this month so that wakulima can obtain their requirements promptly. The Extension Service of the Ministry is also on the alert and is continuously urging wakulima to plant more hybrid and Katumani maize in readiness for the rains. I should hope, therefore, that there will not be any difficulty in respect of maize supplies, even towards the end of this year and in the next. However, everything depends on the rains, and in this respect, all I can do is to join all wananchi in their prayers, for their speedy coming.

Before I go on to the other crops, Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak very briefly, again, about deliveries of maize from farms to board depots, and from up-country stores to areas of consumption. I concede that previously there were some difficulties in these two areas, but I would like to assure this House that these have now been overcome. The board is willing and able to receive any quantities delivered to its stores by farmers. Deliveries from up-country stores to deficit areas have also been expedited with the co-operation of the Railways. Currently, we are also planning to use road transport to take maize not to rail-head depots only, but also into the interior of such deficit areas as Kitui, Machakos, parts of Taita/Taveta, Kilifi and Kwale, and some hard-hit districts of the Rift Valley Province. The scheme is costly, but the board is prepared to incur any expenditure to take food to the wananchi and I am confident that if the scheme now under consideration works well, it will considerably ease the food situation in these areas in a matter of a few weeks.

Hand-in-hand with the maize campaign goes our appeal to wakulima to plant more quick-growing crops like beans, peas and fresh vegetables, which have also been in short supply in recent months, causing increased pressure on our maize stocks.

As regards maize meal, Mr. Speaker, Sir, which I think is a subject of great concern, as far as we can assess, the current situation is largely due to an abnormal increase in demand for the product, arising from the inadequate availability of other foodstuffs like beans, fresh vegetables, meat and milk and partly from a psychological fear on the part of consumers, of a shortage of maize.

As regards meat, as is generally well known, our main source of beef cattle is the North-Eastern Province. It is equally well known that this part of the country is suffering an acute shortage of water, both for human and livestock consumption. Lack of rain has adversely affected the over-stocked grazing areas. Consequently, the cattle are in very poor condition. Lack of water along stock routes has also slowed down deliveries of cattle to Kenya Meat Commission abattoirs. In addition, there is the problem of Foot-and-Mouth disease, which has reduced the supply to the Kenya Meat Commission considerably. The Government is actively considering a scheme to purchase cattle for local slaughter, at county council points, that will put money into the pockets of the cattle owners, help destock the over-grazed areas, save the cattle the torture of long thirsty journeys to urban abattoirs, and at the same time provide meat to our famine-stricken brethren, particularly in the North-Eastern Province.

[The Minister for Agriculture]

The dry conditions have also affected the yields of dairy cattle, and at the same time the demand for liquid milk has increased abnormally. Consequently, the availability of liquid milk for manufacturing has decreased. As an example, Mr. Speaker, the Kenya Co-operative Creameries' output of 1,100 tons of powder milk per month, in normal times, has now been reduced to 10 tons.

I do not wish to go into the details of meat and milk supply and demand, in this statement as we are still studying them. The intention of mentioning them here was merely to show their relevance to the increased demand for maize meal.

To go back to it, and the psychological fear mentioned by me earlier, I would like to emphasize that this fear is unjustified. In fact, it was for this reason that I dwelt at length earlier, on the whole maize supply, demand and stock positions. I might reiterate that wananchi need not fear an imminent shortage of maize, and rush into hoarding of either maize or maize meal.

Another reason for increased demand for maize meal may, in my opinion, be the reductions that came into effect at the beginning of February, this year, in the prices of sifted maize meal. Wananchi are now getting what they consider to be a better product than granulated maize meal at a considerably reduced price. Consequently—

An hon. Member: Who wrote that statement?

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): I wrote it.

Consequently, there has been a qualitative shift in demand from granulated ordinary posho to sifted maize meal. The difficulty here is that sifted maize meal is a product of roller-mill process, for which granulated maize meal is a by-product, and the capacity of which is limited. What I wish to emphasize here is that for instance, an inadequate supply of Jogoo, Simba, Bendera or some other brands in one or two kilo pockets, does not necessarily mean an overall shortage of maize meal. I can tell from a personal examination that sifted maize meal Grade II is available in adequate quantities. Only yesterday I paid an unannounced visit to two large mills in Nairobi, following a similar visit I made to a mill in Eldoret about a fortnight ago and examined their production and sales records from 1966 to February this year. I was satisfied that these were operating at maximum capacities as per their record. An examination of their weekly returns that we get from all other millers showed that they, too, were operating at maximum capacity. To summarize this point, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I know hon. Members would like to question this, I am satisfied that the millers, according to their records, have so far been co-operative.

Hon. Members: No! No!

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): I wish to appeal to them to continue this co-operation. They are one of most important links between maize producers and consumers and they would be failing in their duty to the nation if they did not meet wananchi's demand for maize meal as long as they obtained their requirements of whole maize from the board. I know that some of them are planning to install additional or new rolling-mills so as to produce more sifted maize meal and I would advise them to do this as quickly as possible because the shift in demand from granulated to a sifted maize meal is likely to be permanent. Localized and a temporary shortage may also have occurred owing to insufficient availability of transport. For example, one of the larger mills in Eldoret for a few days, did not get sufficient railway wagons to move its manufactured maize meal to Nairobi. This, I am glad, has now been rectified.

Finally, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to state that some of the inconvenience suffered by consumers in respect of maize meal supplies may be due to a slight change in the distribution system. Until recently, even the smallest shopkeeper could obtain his supplies direct from a miller or his agent. While this system worked well in normal terms, in a period of abnormal demand, like at present, it highlighted numerous shortcomings. For example, with maize meal being distributed by all and sundry, neither the millers nor the Board nor the Government could tell where it was actually going. We have, therefore, introduced a system under which only bona fide wholesalers holding a card issued by the board can obtain maize meal direct from millers. These wholesalers will in turn sell to retailers. The system is intended to rationalize the distribution workload, permit a reasonable turnover to bona fide African wholesalers and also assist the board and Government to keep a check on actual distribution. It is possible that some retailers, previously obtaining their supplies from a miller or his agent are not on the list of bona fide wholesalers. Therefore, they are not now obtaining their supplies as previously. If they say "no maize meal" because a miller, not a wholesaler, declines supplies, they are not giving the correct picture. I would urge such traders not to insist on going direct to the millers but instead to go to the wholesalers. Should they have any cause to complain, I would examine their grievances very carefully and take all possible measures against unscrupulous wholesalers. I warn them that if they are caught indulging in anti-social activities, they will pay dearly.

[The Minister for Agriculture]

I would also take this opportunity to refute suggestions in the Press that we, in the Government, are "sitting on our cushions and not on the ball", as they say. The fact that we do not go on singing all about the famine and drought conditions does not mean that the Government is not aware, nor that the Government is not doing anything about the problem. The board, its agents and the millers have now been instructed to submit weekly, instead of monthly as previously, returns of purchases, sales, and stocks both of whole maize and maize meal. As a matter of fact, Mr. Speaker, this afternoon I summoned all maize-millers to my office to give them these instructions. These results are analysed carefully, checked for accuracy, sometimes by an unannounced on-the-spot check visits like the one I paid yesterday and other visits made from time to time, even during the night, since last week by my officers in the Ministry and the Maize and Produce Board and the necessary steps are taken immediately to avert any potential undesirable condition.

An hon. Member: The statement is too long?

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): Yes, it is long because it is a serious matter.

I have earlier given an account of some of the specific measures already taken. It will be appreciated, however, that some measures do necessarily take some time to be effectively implemented. For example, the installation of an additional rolling mill capacity cannot be done overnight, nor can major mechanical breakdowns be rectified in a matter of hours. Sir, mechanical breakdowns are more frequent when a machine is pushed beyond its capacity, such as some are doing today, working almost 24 hours a day. Such occurrences do raise some problems from time to time and we cannot rush to the Press every now and then to explain. We believe in action and not in words.

In conclusion, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

An hon. Member: Where is it?

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): I am coming to an end, now. I would like to assure this House, hon. House, and wananchi generally that, (a) there are adequate stocks of maize in the country to meet our requirements until the next harvest; (b) the milling industry is working at maximum capacity and should be able to cope with the overall demand for maize meal although branded meal may be relatively scarce from time to time; and, (c) the Government is keeping the food situation under constant review and all possible measures are being taken to avert any potentially undesirable situation.

After having said this, I hope the House and the country at large will rest assured that the whole matter is under control and that Government keeps a very vigilant eye to see that its efforts to keep wananchi fed are not sabotaged or thwarted by any unscrupulous individual or group of individuals who enjoy causing panic and for selfish motives would indulge in unsocial practices of food commodity hoarding. Both the Ministry of Home Affairs and members of the Provincial Administration are fully co-operating in this. I would also appeal to the hon. Members here to do the same in their areas and report anyone found indulging in such practices. The Government would not hesitate to withdraw or cancel their licences.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I pity the hon. gentleman. No Asian or European miller could have spoken so eloquently. Anyway, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to seek your guidance on this. What protection does this House have from a Minister who obviously has no information to give the House, but is using this House as a press conference room and making a statement which has no foundation, in fact, but just passing on opinions of civil servants and presumably, Asian and European millers? What protection do we have? Do we just have to listen?

Sir, I assumed that when the Minister wanted to make a Ministerial Statement he was going to give us certain brief facts about the situation. However, we are being subjected to an obvious propaganda statement which is not written for the benefit of this House at all.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, what you are doing, Mr. Ayah is that you are disagreeing with the Minister under the guise of raising this on a point of order. You do not have to agree with whatever is said here. However, if you do not agree, then, you can say why you do not agree; but it is no use condemning the whole statement as being propaganda for some other people. That is imputing an improper motive, which you are not allowed to do. However, the weight which you put on the statement is your own business. The Minister has done his duty and that is all.

Hon. Members: Point of order?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Now, let us not have points of order. If anybody wants any clarification that is all we are going to entertain.

Mr. Karungaru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from what the Minister for Agriculture has told this House, would he be clear and specific enough in telling this House why in Nairobi there is no maize meal for our residents' consumption?

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): First of all, Mr. Speaker, thank you very much for coming to my aid from my hon. friend, the Member for Kisumu Rural, Mr. Ayah. I can assure him that I have a little brain that can work beyond the civil servant's propaganda. The Statement was prepared with my fullest co-operation. I have personally gone round and visited maize mills in Eldoret and Nairobi. Just about this time, all the millers from Nairobi are waiting for my office to give them specific instructions to go full speed.

I know the gravity of the situation and, as a matter of fact, Mr. Speaker, we are going to use road transport to collect maize and, if need be, maize meal from the areas with plenty of maize and take it direct to places like Mutito, Mutomo and all those far away places in Samburu so that the people can get it. Therefore, that cannot be propaganda.

An hon. Member: From where?

Mr. Nyagah: From the granary.

The question which has been asked by my friend, Bwana Karungaru, is a very interesting one. Towards the end of my statement, I said that we are receiving the co-operation of the Ministry of Home Affairs and the provincial administration in our endeavour to find out where the breakdown is, between the board; the millers and the consumers, because there may be somebody in between who is side-tracking the product. Whoever is side-tracking the product or trying to cause panic by stopping the product from reaching the mouth of the consumer, as I said in my statement which was referred to by my friend as propaganda, will be dealt with and, if need be, his licence will be cancelled.

Mr. Komen: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Could we be told by the Minister why a certain percentage of people within the country are given licences to buy maize locally from the farmers in the forest areas? These people come through—they go to various places like Nairobi here—Kijabe Road. However, we do not see people from such places as Turkana trading in maize through other roads like Kitale Road to places like Baringo. I want the Minister to tell us what qualifications make him give them these licences.

Mr. Nyagah: Mr. Speaker, my statement dealt with the food situation in the country.

Mr. Kadir: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Minister tell the House— In fact, in his statement, the Minister never mentioned anything to do with Isiolo, Marsabit or Moyale. Since Isiolo, Marsabit and Moyale districts are in the same difficulties getting food, and since the Minister has said that there is an adequate stock of maize, which would enable us to go on even up to next year, would he tell the House why the people of Isiolo are still suffering while we have maize in the stores? What is he going to do about it?

Mr. Nyagah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if the hon. Member had listened carefully, he would have heard me say that the areas we are dealing with are North-Eastern Province, Rift Valley—

Mr. Kadir: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Will you sit down and listen?

Mr. Nyagah: —and parts of the Eastern Province—these parts of the Eastern Province are Marsabit and Isiolo districts. If at the time the hon. Member left his home district these things had not reached there, let him be assured that the matter has reached us and we are doing what we can.

There is another thing, Mr. Speaker, that must be said here for the hon. Members to help us. Some of the people who claim to be starving are not prepared to slaughter even a goat for their meal. They claim they are hungry, and wait for the Government to supply them with food, but they do not even sell their goats or kill their goats for eating.

Mr. Araru: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir, for giving me this chance.

Mr. Speaker, we have listened very carefully to what our hon. Minister has stated in this House. However, this statement cannot help the citizens of this country. Most of them, and some are ladies, are lining up outside some shops, outside this Parliament of ours in the City, to buy food. Let us face the facts, Mr. Speaker. I, myself, on behalf of the Moyale Consumers Agents who were here last week, went to Maida Limited and asked them what the problem was because we were told by the Government there was plenty of maize and still my people were coming to me for help. I told them that I am the Member of Parliament for the area and asked them why the agent from my area, although he was there for two days with his lorries, which had come from 600 miles away, was not able to get anything. Furthermore, I asked them why they were specially supplying the Government agents such as the police, prisons and the hospitals.

I was told by the maize miller—and we were given an assurance by the Minister in this House that everybody will get maize meal—I was told by Mr. Patel that the factory was built in 1968, or 1966 when the consumers were few and concentrated around the Nairobi area. Consumption of maize meal did not involve the whole population of Kenya then, as far as Moyale. Therefore, the factory is not competent to supply enough maize meal. What is the truth—what the Minister has stated in this House or what I was told? That is what I was told and it is true. Also, we read, and I think the newspapers in this country—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order, Mr. Araru! This is not an opportunity to make a speech.

Mr. Araru: Let me finish.

The newspapers give us clear photographs of things which I have personally seen at Eastleigh. I have seen, with my own eyes, people lining up for maize meal from morning to evening.

Mr. Nyagah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad that the hon. Member for Moyale has raised this matter. It was only yesterday when I was having an on-the-spot check in the Bazaar in the shops where people queue. While doing this on-the-spot check, I met three gentlemen from Moyale who had come and tried in vain to get the stuff he is talking about. I directed the Maize Board to make sure that these people get their maize and the flour they want urgently, to take it back to Moyale. I did this yesterday at about 10 or 11 o'clock.

Mr. Kanja: Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

With all due respect to the hon. Minister, whom I take to be a very honest and devoted Minister, would he agree with me that while he has mentioned each and every other place, his Ministry has not taken into consideration the people who live in villages and who have been entirely dependent on cultivating for other people, and as a result of the drought, because they have no employment and the other people have no work to engage these people on, and the fact that they have no land of their own, are also starving and need this Government's help as far as food is concerned?

Secondly, Mr. Speaker, if you will allow me, many a time, this Government of us has issued strong statements—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): This is not an opportunity to make a speech. You have already made your point.

Mr. Kanja: There is a question which I am trying to come to, Mr. Speaker.

Having known that many times the foreigners take this Government to be a toothless bulldog, which will never bite, which shall we bite—

Mr. Nyagah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if any foreigner takes this Government as a toothless bulldog, he is mistaken. Right now, most of the registered wholesale distributors are Africans.

An hon. Member: That is very healthy.

Mr. Nyagah: Very what?

Secondly, Mr. Speaker, the question of the landless in the villages is within the purview of the Office of the President. As a matter of fact, there is a Vote in the President's Office for Famine Relief and they keep a vigilant eye on this. If anybody has specific areas which he wants to be taken care of, like Makuyu or the villages we have been talking about, just let the district commissioner know and through that channel they will get relief, if need be.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We must go on now. Next Order.

POINT OF ORDER

WITHDRAWAL OF ALLEGATION—ON FAILING TO SUBSTANTIATE

Mr. Muthamia: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—this does not concern the maize shortage—on Tuesday in a supplementary question to a Question by Private Notice, hon. Mutiso alleged that there is tribalism in the City Council of Nairobi and that some of the councillors are coming up. Sir, when he was asked by hon. Mr. Shikuku, the Member for Butere, to substantiate, he said; and I quote:

“Sir, this is a fact which is very well known, that the 11 councillors who voted against the creation of this particular post were Kamba, Luo and Baluhya, and the rest who voted in favour of this were Kikuyu and Meru. Can they deny that?”

That is what he asked. Sir, in today's, Daily Nation in the commentary, they repeated the same thing and said, “Meru and Kikuyu councillors are coming up.” Mr. Speaker, this is a very serious allegation. I know there is no Mumeru in the City Council of Nairobi. There was one in the previous council and he was kicked away. Now, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Mutiso says there are Meru and Kikuyu councillors. Can he substantiate that because it gives a very bad impression of Meru people?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Now, as far as the report you refer to in the Daily Nation is concerned, it is not really our concern if the Daily Nation writes about another body. That is between the body and the Daily Nation so long as it does not refer to what goes on here. However, if Mr. Mutiso had no grounds to believe that there was a Mumeru among the councillors he referred to, then, he should withdraw the remark.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, first of all I would like to state that the point that I wanted to drive home was that among the 28 councillors there were— I am glad that the hon. Member rose on this particular point so that it can be clarified—the Kikuyu and their allies who, in fact, Mr. Speaker, include Meru and Embu. Here, in actual fact, Sir, there is no Meru councillor but there is an Embu councillor who, by the name, is Mr. Njoku and comes from Mbere Location in Embu District.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Mutiso, we are talking about Meru.

Mr. Mutiso: That is the truth, Mr. Speaker, Sir, and so what I want to say is that I wanted to indicate that this is a group—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): If you do not know of any Meru councillor, will you withdraw what you said!

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I withdraw.

Mr. Koigi: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, Mr. Koigi, we are not going to argue on that; that is finished now. Next Order.

MOTION

THANKS FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

(Seventh and Final Day)

THAT the thanks of this House be recorded for the exposition of public policy contained in His Excellency's Presidential Address from the Chair on 23rd February 1971.

(The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs on 25th February 1971)

(Resumption of debate interrupted on 10th March 1971)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I think Dr. Waiyaki had still four minutes to go.

Dr. Waiyaki: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I want to use up these four minutes—

An hon. Member: Thank you very much for your catching the Speaker's eye.

Dr. Waiyaki: Order!

Mr. Migire: Do you think you are on the Chair?

Dr. Waiyaki: I beg your pardon. I want to use up these four minutes to make an appeal to the Government and to the House on the question of the shanty dwellers— I am glad that the Vice-President has come in because I would like him to take a personal interest in the matter of the demolition of the shanties in Nairobi. Towards the end of last year, I brought a Motion here concerning the demolitions in Eastleigh. The House expressed its being against that kind of demolition without providing alternatives. The demolitions have continued and as of yesterday and today they are continuing, particularly in my own Constituency of Mathare and also in Embakasi Constituency and I believe also in Starehe Constituency.

Mr. Speaker, they are creating more problems than they are solving. A lot of hatred, a lot of frustration and a lot of disenchantment is being created among the people. Some of the houses called "shanties" are better than the Criminal Investigation Department Headquarters.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

Dr. Waiyaki: They are even better than some of the huts occupied by the police in various posts of this country.

Mr. Karungaru: Even the General Service Unit Camp at Embakasi.

Dr. Waiyaki: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I said that I want to advise the Vice-President who, is now here, and so I am doing what I can. Sir, I honestly feel that we are doing the wrong thing. Nearly 10,000 people or more are now homeless. The City Council of Nairobi claim that they are clearing the city. In fact they are only clearing one part of the city. It cannot be that they are only interested in one part of the city. In any case, I would like the Government to refute the fact that houses belonging to the Deputy Mayor and the Mayor herself which could be classified similarly as shanties have not been demolished.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear! Shame! Shame! Go on.

Dr. Waiyaki: They are tycoons. I would also like to urge the Vice-President along with the Minister for Local Government, the Minister for Health and especially the Minister for Housing who has gone and appeared on the Television twice, on the radio and in the papers three times, to tour these areas and see for themselves because I know they do not know what the situation is. Of what value can it be, Sir, for our Government to make people homeless when they are not providing alternative accommodation, worse or better? Of what value can it be to our health if the children of these people catch pneumonia and die of it?

Mr. Migire: Talk like a doctor now. Tell them!

Dr. Waiyaki: I feel that we are trying to exhibit a whited sepulchre. Mr. Speaker, the problem is like this: there are shanties all over this world. At the end of 1971 there will be 13 million more people living in cities and three quarters of these people will be living in shanties; in this country, in Asia, in South and North America, in Europe and in all the countries all over the world. In fact, they are in plenty. I am convinced that some kind of effort must be made to study this problem in Kenya; to study what other people are doing, for example, in Singapore, where they are putting up houses first instead of merely demolishing these shanties. I would like the House to be interested in this because this is a national problem. The Members of Parliament in this House have people from their own areas in every part of this city, so, it is not Dr. Waiyaki's, or Mr. Karungaru's or Mr. Rubia's problem; this is the hon. Members' problem. I hope that, Sir, a select committee can be set up to report, within two months, specifically on the problem of demolition of shanties in this City.

[The Deputy Speaker]

This is my appeal to the Vice-President. Thank you very much.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

The Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Omamo): Thank you Mr. Speaker. First of all, I would like to express my thanks to His Excellency the President for his very clear exposition of Government Policy especially as it is likely to apply during this Session of Parliament. Very often, Sir, people do wonder, when a Minister makes a statement, whether he speaks as a constituency Member or as a Minister in the Government. I would like to make it clear right from the beginning that I am viewing these matters as the Member for Bondo and also as a Minister in the Government both combined.

In his address to the House, His Excellency, the President appealed to the Members that business in the House, and affairs of the nation should be discussed in a business-like manner. Mr. Speaker, Sir, talking about a business-like manner of discussing public affairs I am reminded of biological association—a business that is conducted where one party benefits and the other party does not benefit. That sort of business is called parasitism in biology. Parasitism—one is a parasite of the other. I am sure we do not want parasitism in this House.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is also another association where two parties benefit from a particular business or association and in biology this is called symbiosis. Here two organisms benefit. This House is too large to form an association that can be referred to as symbiotic.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is another association where more than two organisms benefit from the same table. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is known as commensalism, in other words eating on the same table. You can then eat in such a way that if one is having a plateful, you can see it. If one is having the lion's share you also see it. I take it, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that the association and the business-like manner that should be conducted in this House should be commensalic. We are on the same table for the good of the nation so that if there is anything to share, if it is a road we can definitely see that on the plate of Kitui East there is something, on the plate of Nyambene North there is something as well as the plate of Bondo.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) left the Chair]

[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki) took the Chair]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, His Excellency the President drew the attention of the House to the importance of land adjudication. I am sure, myself, that the hon. Members appreciate that land adjudication, which starts with land consolidation, and issuing of title-deeds is one way of improving the environment of rural Kenya. It improves the environment in two ways: first it brings economic benefits because it helps production. Secondly, it helps in organizing and enriching living in the rural areas.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are aware of the problem of unemployment. Why can we not make our rural Kenya attractive enough for us to go and live in. I am sure that if land adjudication is done properly and if during the process of land consolidation we know where the schools will be, we know where the nursery schools will be, we know where health centres will be, we know where the roads will be, it will help. The present practice where some people are anxious to register the land without taking into consideration these basic social amenities is not good enough.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, a lot has been said in this House about detainees. I feel, that as a Member for Bondo, who always discusses a detainee matter, I should say something about detainees. It is true that in the continent of Africa, particularly, in the developing nations, in the young democracies in Africa, this nation, Kenya can boast of being the country which has the least number of political detainees. It is also the only country, I know, where citizens have not run away because law and order has broken down or because justice is not meted out to the citizens. I would like to thank the hon. Members of this House who have pleaded for the release of the detainees. This means that this House is sympathetic and resonant to the needs of wananchi. I would like to thank the Government of which I am a party, for having released a number of detainees. This proves that our Government is fair. I would also like to extend my thanks to the President for having taken this initiative, as the Head of State, for seeing that these detainees are released. It shows, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that our President is human. The prophets of old said that to err is human and that to forgive is divine. The fact that our President, despite the bitter experience of the past, is doing exactly what the nation wants by releasing these detainees, I think this House should express a special "Thank You" to His Excellency the President.

I would like to add also that we do not just end with detainees. There are the ex-detainees and, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to appeal to the hon. Members and also to the private sector to realize that when the Government of this Republic release detainees it means that the Government is convinced that they are ripe to come back and join the free society and join the business world. It is not fair for the private sector to consider that the fact that one has been detained that that should be taken as a disqualification for getting jobs in the private sector. I would like to make it quite clear that the Government has no grudge against any ex-detainee and I would like the private sector to help the Government in absorbing any ex-detainee that qualifies for any particular job that has been advertised in the local Press.

Finally, Sir, I would like to refer to the economic aspect of the President's Speech and here I would like to restrict my remarks to my own Ministry because this is the only Ministry of which facts I am 100 per cent sure. The President appeals, to the nation, to take natural resources seriously. The Ministry of Natural Resources during this Session of Parliament will endeavour to deliver the goods king size. It is true that due to forest fires we have lost quite a bit of forest but we shall endeavour to deliver more forest trees to as many people as possible. Would the hon. Members please take note that we are launching rural afforestation, and please take maximum advantage of the scheme.

With these few remarks, Sir, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife (Mr. J. M. Kariuki): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, first of all I would like to say that we do not need to worry very much since some of us know very well that every ten years we either have a drought or too much rain. We had drought in 1931, the same in 1941, we had a very big drought in 1951, there was plenty of rain in 1961 and now in 1971 we have the drought once again. So, I am sure God will deliver us from these problems.

I would now like to point out that His Excellency the President made some very important remarks when he mentioned about the loans from the World Bank. The Ministers who are concerned with this are here, and I would like to say that although I do not refute or I do not have the power to suggest that we should not always become beggars to borrow money from foreign governments, I would like to make this appeal to our Government. We have £24 million now lying idle in our own Republic. The Ministry and the Treasury are aware of that. What is the use of us going to the World Bank, looking for more money when we have so much money in this country, and this very money is lying idle? Some people who read the reports of the Central Bank of Kenya will be able to bear with me that we have £24 million untouched and we still go out looking for more money for our projects. Why cannot we use the local resources before we go to borrow money from outside? In fact, this is something I would like the Ministry to consider seriously. The banks in this country and the Members of this House have been crying that loans are not made available to the people. Why is it that we, as a Government, cannot act and go ahead and tell the banks to take these £24 million from the Central Bank of Kenya and loan this to African farmers and businessmen? I wonder whether there is any Minister in the Government who can argue about that? This money is still there and I do not see any reason why we do not utilize our own resources. All we are interested in is to mortgage this country so that our children will suffer in the future. I give a warning to this nation: that is if this is what we are up to, I would like completely to dissociate myself from anybody who would like to make this country a beggar all the time. Why not ask the co-operative societies to give more money so that we can do whatever we can, implement quite a lot of projects with our own local resources. If we can do these things we should do so without waiting. This is what I would like the Government to do. I am not saying that the Ministry should not go out and borrow money when necessary, but let us, first of all, utilize what we have here.

The other point, Sir, is in connexion with taxation. At the moment the Treasury has £6 million as a result of taxation. Sir, would it not be advisable for the Treasury and the Government as a whole to try and reconsider this taxation system? Some of these Members from the Cabinet are doctors. How can a doctor plan what he will get in three months' time? Mr. Deputy Speaker, you are a doctor. How can you tell what you will get in three months' time? How do you know the number of patients you will treat in three months' time so that you can pay income tax on that amount of income? How can a lawyer tell how [The Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife] many cases he will defend so that he can pay tax? How can a farmer plan and say how many bags of maize he will get so that he can pay tax? What should be done is to look into the possibilities of changing this. If it has succeeded very well in other countries it does not mean that necessarily it must succeed in Kenya. This is something which I would like the Ministry to think about.

Sir, we have spoken about tribalism, but I would like to say that the biggest tribalists of all are ourselves, the leaders. We are the number one tribalists. It is no use for me to come to this House and speak on tribalism and the moment I go outside I am the number one person to speak only to my own tribe and not be interested in what other tribes are saying. This is what is killing this nation. Children who are schooling together, children of all tribes, do not know this thing called tribalism. We are the preachers, number one, of tribalism. We are the carriers of tribalism as the anopheles mosquito that carries malaria. If we do not preach tribalism in our own small societies, if we do not go back to our small organizations in our own tribes, trying to say that we are the only people who know the problems, how can we eliminate tribalism? It is no use for us talking about it if we cannot kill it first.

I would like to remind this House that the rural development of this country, as the hon. Minister just said when he gave an example of three people eating from the same table, is not going to benefit only one section of the community. We should try to expand development in all areas of our Republic. I have in mind that if we can expand the University of Nairobi to cater for Kenyatta College, then I do not see the reason why the same University of Nairobi cannot be expanded to Maseno and Machakos and other areas? Sir, it is known that at first the Oxford University was the University of England. It is now so many miles large. Why can the same not be done in this Republic? I appeal to the Government to see to it that we also expand other sources of our Government—I have mentioned only one example—to other areas in our Republic. We should not confine these to only one or two areas, or three areas for that matter. You do not leave your small little baby, your last born, because he is the last born. You do not ignore him while you take care of all the other children. You should also try to take care of this last little one.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, hon. Members have raised a number of important points in this House. I have been following them. The biggest question I want to ask is this: are these things going to be implemented? Or are they going to be left there?

Are the members of the public going to keep on asking, "Hon. Member from my area said this and that. Why is it not done?" I believe that the biggest burden lies with the Government and that all the views aired by the Members in this House should be considered by a special group of people so that they can be implemented. If they cannot, then hon. Members should be informed why not so that hon. Members can tell their constituents the reasons why such things have not been implemented. Leaving them as they are now, means we are letting ourselves down as a Government and, at the same time, hon. Members are also let down.

The hon. Minister, Mr. Omamo spoke about the detainees. I would like to say I was detained and I hate detention, no matter in what form. But that does not mean I cannot be detained. I would like to say that in Africa today Members of Parliament have been making laws just because they are in the position where they can make laws, thinking they are making laws for other people. But they end up being the victims of those very laws. This law about detention, it is high time the Government thought how best it could be reviewed because I do not think that just because we are in power today we can make these laws. Who knows what will happen in the future? We might end up being the victim of these very laws. This does not mean that I cannot be detained, and I would like to warn that detention without trial in whatever form is a wrong thing. It is high time that we should try to review our laws of detention.

The civil servants and politicians have been mentioned in this House. It is not true to say that all civil servants are bad, but where there is smoke there is a fire. It is high time now we held a seminar for all civil servants and politicians. In fact we should sort out all our differences in a seminar where all of them will be called, especially the policymakers. If we allow this Government to continue as it is, and I have been subjected to very bad humiliation by a civil servant, then we will suffer. Just because I am what I am, J. M., nobody could come to my rescue, and this was because of a direction from some people at the top. Sir, I can assure you that what we are breeding, thinking it is being bred for J.M., might affect another person in the future. It is high time we meet with the civil servants and the Government, right from the President, and we air these differences rather than coming here to wash our dirty linen. We do not want to wash the dirty linen about ourselves and the Government in this Chamber.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, these are the suggestions which I would like the Government to think seriously about because there are some civil servants who think that Ministers can only come to the House and answer exactly what they have given him, that the Minister has no power to do anything else. This is rather serious and, I think, we should actually consider these things very seriously in the light of development.

I do not want to waste the time of the House and I would like to say finally that he who lives for fears must die below. We need unity. It is up to us to unite in the real sense. It is not that I must say that because of what I am, I think, we must unite and all the others must unite behind me. There is no such kind of unity. If this is the type of unity some people are looking for, then I am not for such type of unity.

Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. ole Leken: Sir, I note that Sessional Paper No. 6 was referred to in the Speech of the President. I have always been perturbed about the way of handling the process of land registration and land consolidation which has been undertaken since 1966 when the Lawrence Commission submitted its report. In fact, it ended with a certain chapter which talked about acceptees in certain areas. These areas where they have acceptees, registration of land was suspended purposely until such time that the dominant tribes in those areas have given way to the acceptees. Why should this be so? If I have an uncle, it might be the Member for Laikipia who is looking at me with a keen eye, I can give him a piece of my land. If I have his daughter or sister, let him give me a piece of his land, but not other people's land.

Even this question of suspension, up to this time now that consolidation is taking place in other areas, is absolutely suppression. This is very bad. It means that they have been treated as second-class citizens. This ought to have been a shame all over the country, to have certain areas to be suspended and keep them without land consolidation. This is why they cannot have titles, this is why we cannot have the opportunity today, have the facilities of borrowing from a bank, and so so. These people will remain poor, living under very difficult conditions. Though this matter is coming up to the National Assembly, Sir, I think it is very wrong, indeed, to accept this report as such.

The other thing which I want to discuss on this issue is that, I think, there has been a row by politicians about civil servants and the rest. Surely, I do agree that there might be a few civil servants who are bad but it is absolutely wrong to generalize the whole thing. That attitude is very short-sighted. I do not think, we the representatives here, are 100 per cent right in doing the job that the nation requires us to do. There might be a few black sheep amongst us as in the Civil Service. I agree with the hon. Member who spoke a few minutes ago, that the gap is growing bigger and this must be bridged. We must do this because we know the events of history. Forget about European history, take Africa as it is. We know what has happened in West Africa, we know what has taken place just a few miles from here. This is just because we do not want to compromise, just because some fellows are drunk with power. That kind of development is very wrong indeed and it can lead them to exchange the present for the gates of prison. You send one in today, he comes out tomorrow and you are sent in. That is why I say this talk about civil servants and politicians must come to an end and the Government must, definitely, bring the matter to a clear position where the civil servants and the politicians each understand their own role but work in conjunction for the benefit of the nation. I know why this has happened. It is because some politicians have been harassed. Some of you have also harassed the civil servants. So we must have peace together, we must have something to make sure that we are all working for the same Government.

I note also that mining has been one of the topics in the Presidential Address. Sir, I talk about Kajiado because I know more about this area. There are quite a number of minerals which if exploited, will boost our markets in the mining industry. These industries must be distributed accordingly. In fact, they should normally consider having an industry there so as to balance employment all over the country, except in case where we do not have transportation, communications, roads and such things, perhaps electricity which is very much required. In areas where these things are available, where we have the facilities, industries must be distributed accordingly.

I would like to say a few words on the meat industry. It is a pity that the Minister for Agriculture has just walked out. I do not know whether he was annoyed but I hope— The meat industry is suffering a lot because of Foot-and-Mouth Disease. It is high time that Foot-and-Mouth vaccine was introduced compulsorily all over the country because movement of cattle by illegal traders and the like has prevented the cattle being inspected now and again. In Kajiado particularly there is an outbreak nearly every four months and this area is potential for cattle. Kajiado at present is supplying nearly one-third of all the cattle taken to the Kenya Meat Commission. This is a very important issue. I feel Foot-and-Mouth vaccine should now be made compulsory, particularly in those districts where we have large herds of animals. We want this to be introduced as a compulsory measure, and the Government must be ready to subsidize.

As the Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife has just said, why have all this money lying in the bank idle, if we can do something useful with it? It is surprising. If we cannot help the people when there is money, then what is this money for? Why do we have the money? We have the money to better ourselves, introduce some compulsory services, especially the Foot-and-Mouth vaccine.

I should like also, Mr. Deputy Speaker, to touch on the question of shortage of food which is facing us right now. Surely, this is a confused state of affairs; very confused and disorganized. If we are told that there is enough maize, then why is it that people in Mombasa, for the last four weeks have had no maize meal? Why should people in Nairobi here line up in front of shops if there is enough maize meal? We are being paid with what we call "lip service" and little is being done. I think this lip service has got to stop. This is a time or realities. We are fed up with promises. What we want is reality; something which is done. If people require something at a certain place, then we want that thing done. It is not a question of promises. Promises and promises; empty ones. That time is gone.

An hon. Member: (Inaudible.).

Mr. ole Leken: I will one day be!

The question of detention—I do not know what my friend, the Member for Laikipia West, Mr. G. G. Kariuki, had in mind because he is too far away from me and I will not stand in his place.

The question of detention, surely, it is high time that Kenyans and we, as Members of the National Assembly, had a national outlook on this matter. We should try and look at what is justice. There is no point in just arresting somebody and sending him to jail. This is, in fact, a return to the law of the jungle and it is good that we have many lawyers in this House. Sending a man to prison without trial is a law of the jungle.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! You time is up.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Khaoya): Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir.

First, I must say that I am happy in the way His Excellency delivered his very, very important Speech on 23rd February 1971. It was a noble Speech; it was a fatherly Speech. In fact, I thought it was a very fatherly and inspiring Speech. And, for these, I wish to say—

Mr. ole Marima: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, do we have two debates in this House or just one?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): One!

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Khaoya): And, for that reason, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I wish to say that we have to thank His Excellency for the way he has led the nation for the last seven, eight years because, in him, we have had stability and peace. These are the conditions under which we can get economic progress.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, when one looks at this sort of state of affairs and then finds quite a number of people, both in Kenya and outside Kenya, worrying themselves, going around asking questions as "who would be next" or even provoking some other people to ask them "who would be next"; I think this is a very dangerous situation and we have to deal with it here because whoever does so is the enemy of this nation. We know from experience that a post is never advertised until it is vacant. However, for sure we know that the post of the Presidency is not vacant. So, if anybody asks any one in Kenya or outside Kenya as "who would be next", tell him, "Sorry, but the post is filled, therefore, the question does not arise". However, for those who are ambitious, we have had very clear lessons from William Shakespeare, who, through the mouth of Julius Caesar, analysed what could happen to those who are ambitious; what surrounds ambition and what is the net result to those who are ambitious. If we are not satisfied with that lesson, we have heard of the story of the hyena and a strong man walking in a Johnnie Walker style. History has been told and retold, that a hyena was lying in wait; he saw a man strolling very energetically—left and right—and all the time the hyena was under the impression that at some particular moment, one arm might drop down, therefore, the hyena might get his meal. From what we know, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the hyena is still waiting; the arm has never dropped down. So, we had better take note of that story also because we can learn a great deal from such stories.

However, for those especially who might attempt to forecast what is in store for Kenya, in fact, who try to forecast the things to come in Kenya—I am referring in particular to those who are in European countries. Of late, we have heard of a London Paper—I think Guardian by name—where the journalist attempted to forecast as to “who would be who” in tomorrow’s Kenya. But, all I can say is only to refer them to another European saying—there is European airline called “Quantas Airlines” and the Quantas Airlines have a saying that if you wanted to go to Australia and unfortunately you did not know the difference between an opossum from a pandanuse, the only thing and the wisest thing to do is to ask the people who know the difference and, in that particular case, you ask those people who go to Australia everyday.

I think, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I should say the same thing to those people in countries like Europe who try to assess or forecast who should be the next leader in Kenya. This is a matter for Kenyans. For instance, that gentleman went on listing a whole range of names. He went on even to get a short list of the names and from what I read, I could just laugh at him because, surely, some Europeans do not know even where Kenya is. So, when they talk of names, perhaps they might look at Murang’a or Kiambu and think that is Kenya.

When the time of reckoning comes, I believe the people of Kenya shall then, and only then, be in a position to look for their leader. At that time, it may so happen that those names that are appearing now and then may not even be on the short list. So, why should we worry and waste our time now? Our Holy Scripture has given us a guidance that for the matter of tomorrow, let tomorrow look after itself; let us concern ourselves with immediate business. That is the business of today. For that, we know that we have a leader and all that we can do is unite behind our President and help him to get our economic development. That is a noble advice which I wish to submit and voluntarily give to this noble House. So, in short, I say that there is no vacancy for the post of a President at the moment because it is still occupied; secondly, tomorrow should look after itself; and, thirdly, that we would do better if we could pay our loyalty to His Excellency.

My next point, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, which I would like to deal with is the question of fire in the country. The Minister for Natural Resources only a few days ago appealed to the nation to take care of the fires and I am only repeating today that the situation is getting worse and worse everyday. Over the weekend, I visited Kitale area and only to find that one of the farmers had 40 acres, all under maize burnt down by fire that started from nowhere. In my own farm when I went home, all the grass that I had spared for my cattle was gone because of fire that was almost from nowhere because these culprits are never known. Passing through Gilgil and Naivasha every weekend and especially in the evenings, you will find that the whole area is lit with fire. The question one asks himself is: with all this drought which has given us such a big problem, is it not enough; is it not just enough so that we just stop there; must we add on other problems by burning whatever little grass we have; by burning whatever forest we have and by burning whatever crops we have? I am appealing to the nation through this hon. House that all Kenyans, be they women, men or children to take care wherever there is fire. Put it off if you can. But, for heaven’s sake, do not start one because all you would be doing is to aggravate the situation which is already extremely serious.

My third point is in connexion with tax assessments with respect to graduated personal tax. We have already discussed this issue in this House many a time. The Government has very rightly given directives as to what should happen to people without property; and we have even gone as far as saying that people whose income is below a certain mark should not be assessed to pay anything. I would like to appeal to the Civil Service—those are the arms of the Government—that when they are dealing with this assessment they should examine the law exactly and apply it in the correct manner. There are cases where we are confronted with a situation where people are not paying tax because the assessment has been unjustly done or it was done grudgingly. If any civil servant, and particularly chiefs and sub-chiefs— For your information, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am a real ex-chief though I am not a chief now because I threw away this title together with colonialism; and I had ten years service and for my people to elect me I must have been right on the mark. Now, I can only appeal to my fellow chiefs and sub-chiefs who are still behind that they can do best if they can apply the law correctly because unless they do this all the time they are going to bring a mockery and the people will ask, “What is it that His Excellency meant when he said that those people who pay Sh. 24 are exempted only to find that instead they are paying Sh. 48”? This is a matter of serious concern and I would like to appeal again and again to the civil servants to examine themselves whether or not they are applying this to the “Letter” because without it they may find themselves in trouble.

Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

The Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Kibaki): Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. I would like to join the Members that have spoken in congratulating the President of Kenya for the way in which he delivered his speech to us and, in particular, for the appeal that he made to this House: to give the lead to the country in the search for unity. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we are uniquely placed to do that job and I am sure we have done it infinitely better if in the debates that have taken place here we were less selfish in our attacks on those that are not able to speak in this House. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am saying this in all honesty and I know that the Member for Embakasi will bear with me because if we are given a platform and we are able to speak without the possibility of being replied to by those whom we attack, we have a duty; and I am saying this knowing well that we are regularly getting into certain problems in the Civil Service, in the Government and in other various sections. However, if we did not have problems we would not be a living society and we would be dead. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as a living society there is bound to be conflict some of which are nothing but personal and personality conflicts. I do not want to say that we do not have these conflicts; but I would like to say, and I will say it that in this country—Kenya—we have a Civil Service which has an integrity and efficiency as good as any other in the whole of this African continent. Let us not beat about the bush. We must give some credit where it is due—it is not condescension or humility but merely recognizing facts. I would like to say that we are less than fair if all that is heard from this national House is criticism because I, Mwai Kibaki, for example, quarrelled with a district commissioner somewhere.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we are lawmakers and we pass plans and projects yet we do expect that they shall be implemented. However, in the same breath we are the first people to degenerate the people we expect to implement those projects. I am saying in all seriousness that we are expecting some people to be other than human because if they are human beings, as we all are, and they are attacked as being useless characters and still they are expected to perform certain duties towards the same persons that attack them, it is not difficult to put two and two together and see what will come out of it. Therefore, in all seriousness, I would like to say that we must have criticisms but seriously, we are not going to be able as leaders to force the question of what status we are given in the country because we will be given it because we earn it and we have to be taken as being responsible people.

There are three points that have been mentioned and which I would like to make straight. Some speakers in this debate have found another new salvation to the "Poor" of Kenya: millions of pounds lying in various places which the Government has only to seize and utilize and distribute and save the country from being mortgaged to foreigners—those were the words which were used. I would like to be quite blunt about it because in this country we run a banking system which has moneys a 100 per cent of which are deposits from you, I and the poorest person in this country. It is a fact that these moneys are savings of ordinary Kenyans. I would like to suggest that we are being absolutely ridiculous if we are to suggest that there should be a system of utilizing that money which could jeopardize the viability of a bank because we would all crash if it did crash! Let us face the fact because it has happened in many countries and recently it happened in one place which we know of—in the Middle East. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, are we, in all honest, suggesting that in a country like Kenya in which there are people conducting private businesses and their own affairs, we should have a system in which the Government as one of the institutions should borrow all the money that is available from the banking system? What will then happen to the rest of the enterprises? Let us be frank: there must be, in an economy such as ours, a banking system which gives room for Government to borrow and for the private individual also to borrow. I believe we here, in fact, are all borrowers—most of us anyway—because we have little overdrafts here and there. Let us not pretend that the commercial banks as claimed are holding large sums of money with the Central Bank. It is within the law passed by this Parliament that commercial banks, for the sake of protecting the viability of the bank, must have a certain minimum cash reserve—working reserve—that must be held by the Central Bank to ensure that when you go to a bank that bank on a short-term basis is permanently liquid and viable such that you will be able to cash your cheque if you have an account—a good account—without question. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we must have those working balances and it is, therefore, absolute nonsense for people to pretend that it can be otherwise because it cannot be so in any system.

Secondly, the banks in Kenya, and this is the point I would like to make, offer the short terms because of the changes which have come in the economic structure. A number of banks have certain balances that are not lent, which is stipulated in the report which we have from the Central Bank and which is distributed to Members the figures are given in figures.

We in this House passed in the last sitting a new law authorizing the Government to double its internal borrowing in Kenya and we are going to use those borrowing powers; and already we have borrowed £5 million, and we will use those powers as we were given by this House. That is all that I want to say: we will utilize it. Let us not pretend that there is some money lying somewhere which needs merely to be grabbed and distributed. This is not the way the system works, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I want to say this, about loans: every country in the world, and I would like anybody to say what country—All countries in the world in whatever economic system, are borrowing from each other. There is not too much in any borrowing where, as I have said a million times before, if we borrow, as we are likely to borrow right now, some money to build a new power station at Kiburi next to Kindaruma, and use that for electricity development, recover the money and then repay the loan, we are left with the asset which is profitable. Mr. Deputy Speaker, there is no mortgage to anybody, there is no mortgage to anybody's future. Far from it, it is an additional asset, profitable and promoting development. The only way the country could be mortgaged is, if anybody was to borrow money and spend it to have a good party, because then there is no productive asset created for repayment. That is the only way; there is absolutely, no other way.

The pretence that we are mortgaging the future because we are borrowing, this is an expression of the fact of being absolutely ignorant of how the world is run. This is because, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we have just read, for instance, China is to borrow from Britain and America loans for new aeroplanes. That is commerce; they will borrow and repay the money when they have made it from trade. This is what we are doing in this country. Every loan that is processed, a report is laid, according to the rules, on the table of this House and copies are circulated to the Members of this House. Let us therefore, if we must have popular platforms, search for them because they are very many. Let us not thrive on half-truths.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, finally, I would like to say this very seriously: we have—

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Your time is up.

The Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Kibaki): Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Thank you, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for giving me this opportunity to make a few comments on the Presidential Address. While I would like to make some very important repetitions, I would also like to make my own observation before doing that.

Today I see there are some important Members of Government in the Front Bench; yesterday there was none, and I would like to make an important call and this call, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is to call upon our Government to be bold enough to nationalize all the milling industries in Kenya. They should make a bold statement to nationalize all the milling industries in Kenya. This is because you cannot entrust the national responsibility of feeding our people to private and foreign millers. If our Government is a truly representative Government of our people, I would urge them to take a bold step and nationalize all the milling industries. Year after year, our people have gone without food; a crisis of food, shortage of food and yet we grow enough food and we are praised on every platform, locally and internationally, that Kenya is an agricultural country, and yet we are unable to feed our people all the time. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think this is important. This is not politics, it is a national responsibility that we must see that our people have food at all times. We are fed up with the manipulations by foreigners, the foreign millers manipulating with the food with which we feed our nation. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I repeat, if our Government is a true representative Government, it should take this bold step to nationalize all the milling industries so that we can be sure that all the time our people have food.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, my second point is: there can never be a true political government unless there is a well and fully organized political party.

The Assistant Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Ochwada): Do not we have one?

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: We do not have one, it is dead.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I call again upon the national party and Government to make an immediate revival of our political party, Kanu, whose machinery is dead. We shall continue saying that we are politically governed; we have a political Government, but we will be cheating ourselves. Any political government must have a well-organized political party. Therefore, in Kenya we lack that party; a well organized political party which must discipline every politician who subscribes to that party. It is high time, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we stopped cheating the public and ourselves that we are all members of Kanu and that there is a Kanu political party. The party is there by name. We do not see it. A party which never meets; a party which never meets to formulate political philosophy, is not worthy to be called a political party. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, to end this point, there can never be a truly organized political government unless there is a well-organized political party.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I come to my third point. When the Vice-President was opening this Presidential Address, he praised our President, I have no quarrel about that, because we have enjoyed stability and peace. However, I wish to question that stability and peace.

Stability which we have been enjoying here is a stability of confusion. The masses do not know where they are going; they do not know who is who and so that is not stability. We were told that we have been enjoying peace. What peace is there when our banks are being robbed by daylight robbers using machine guns and yet we are not told where these machine guns come from? Who knows tomorrow if tanks are not going to be lined up to rob all these banks? Is that peace? That is not peace. We must be told exactly that there is security and stability in the proper sense of these words. There is no need and there is no question of hiding the facts. There are robbers with violence. We have unemployment in this country, is this stability? Is this peace? Having more than 50 per cent without employment, is that stability? Is that peace? When the investors and wealthy people are not sure whether they are going to be robbed of tomorrow, is that peace? That is not peace, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. That is why I said that I am going to question these words that we have enjoyed stability and peace. The peace and stability that we are enjoying is that every citizen of this country has loyalty to our President and no more. There is no stability and peace in this country, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. People are going hungry, there is food shortage every year, masses of our people are unemployed and yet we are told there is peace and stability. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I question that peace and stability.

I will now come to my last point, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, and this is where I said that I am going to make an important petition. I support all the hon. Members who have spoken that there is an immediate need for amending our Constitution to set it out clearly and let every citizen in this country know the mode of electing our President. We must have an immediate amendment. This is because, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we have a President in whom every citizen in this country has loyalty. But, we do not know what will happen tomorrow. We hear rumours, some hot winds, about succession and imposed prime ministers. We must spell out these rumours by setting out the mode of electing a President clearly. This will enable us to cut off all these over-ambitious politicians. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I said that I am going to make an important petition. Every politician and every citizen in this country has no quarrel with our President. But, a good man of such virtue is difficult to be found in every person or in every individual. We are lucky to have an individual with the many virtues in our President. But, tomorrow, I may be the President and I do not have all those virtues. What will happen in such circumstances, Mr. Deputy Speaker? Therefore, it is time—because we are charged with a national responsibility to give security and peace which we have been talking about to our nation. We should feed our people, clothe them and see that they prosper. It is fair that when they wake up in the morning they know where they are, they know where to go and they know who is who, but it is not the question of feeding them with rumours.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, in my conclusion, I say that it is important that we have an amendment to our Constitution limiting the duration of a President to only two consecutive terms of office and no more because we do not know whether we can get another Kenyatta.

The other point—finishing up my speech—is that there can be no well organized political government without a well-organized political party.

Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

Mr. ole Marima: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, for giving me this chance.

Like all others who have spoken before me I would like to pour my congratulations to His Excellency the President, for his ability to present to us his Speech at the State Opening of this new Session of Parliament.

Of particular importance to me, Mr. Deputy Speaker, are his references to the question of land consolidation and registration. I am sure we will have time to discuss this when we have the Sessional Paper No. 6 laid here and discussed. We hope, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that there shall be no bias or showing of greed from any section, from anybody strong or from any powerful section of the country who may want to harm those who are not as strong as they are or as fortunate as they are.

[Mr. ole Marima]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, His Excellency the President did talk something about the mining industry and wildlife conservation. I welcome this but I would have liked to hear the President say that these are going to be developed to the very best to benefit our own people. At the moment, in the wildlife conservation, the tourist industry is solely in the hands of foreigners and we get a very minimal amount of the profits that come from it. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, whatever money we have in the Kenya Tourist Development Corporation must indeed be given to our citizens to open up lodges, to open up tourist firms and to help foreigners. The mining industry, if it is going to be organized—and we hope that it is going to be organized—must also be geared to help our own people. Loan facilities and other facilities must be availed to our own citizens.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to refer to a matter which has already been referred to in this House by many hon. Members. We have sat in this House—some of us a little over a year now—we have passed Motions here, we have asked questions here, we have appointed Select Committee to look into certain things, and these Select Committees have done their job and submitted their reports, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir. What is the sense of spending public money on Select Committees when their reports are just looked at, laughed at and kicked and thrown into the dustbins by the Ministers concerned? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I happen to have been in the Select Committee on Unemployment which spent a lot of public money. This Committee was charged with a responsibility by this House of suggesting ways and means through which unemployment could be lessened in this country. No sooner did we bring a report in this House, Mr. Deputy Speaker, than the Minister for Labour laughed and said that it is not going to be implemented. Why did we agree in the first instance that this Committee should be set up? This goes for all the Motions, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki) left the Chair]

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) resumed the Chair]

I have yet here to see any Motion passed in this House being implemented.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, to be a little more specific, the whole question of stability in this country revolves around our own very concern of being responsible and unselfish regardless of whether we are Ministers, senior civil servants, Members of Parliament of whether we are any other persons in this country. I think we should genuinely be considering to work together in this country. We cannot be cheating ourselves that stability is being achieved when a Cabinet Minister or a Permanent Secretary or a Member of Parliament or any other known person goes on ruining institutions of this country by getting all the loans he applies for. All what the poor actually needs is food and clothing let alone a luxurious house with a swimming pool and a Mercedes car on top of a Land-Rover or something else. He does not need all these facilities. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we cannot deceive ourselves that when we go round, we can achieve this. I can, if I am in a position to, give all my brothers, sisters and aunts all the jobs that are in my Ministry. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that I am tired as an elected Member of having my constituents—not that I am tired of them—following me in and out of this House, in and out of my house, in and out of anywhere else because they want a short letter from me as an hon. Member saying, “I know this person, please give him a job”. This is a pathetic situation. Why can we not establish a system where nobody needs to go to a Minister, to a Permanent Secretary or to a Member of Parliament or to any influential person for introductory letter to get employment.

The Assistant Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Ochwada): Have you been in a position to get them employment?

Mr. ole Marima: I have not been in a position to do that although you have been able to do so, Mr. Ochwada.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to dwell a little on agriculture. Mr. Speaker, it is true that Kenya is an agricultural country and it is equally true that Kenya is a potential country for cash crops, consumable crops and for beef and other livestock industries. Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are a few things that we need to do. The first I would like to mention concerns the way in which we give loans. Mr. Speaker, it is pathetic that we should give loans to anybody if we do not know whether it is possible for Government to extend technical services so as to be able to grow crops well. It is not proper to give anybody a loan if after spending that loan growing a particular crop on a thousand acres of land, that person cannot move the yield of his crop off the land. I do not think it is proper for Government to give anybody a loan to grow a certain crop if that crop cannot get a market. Mr. Speaker, Sir, by saying this, I am merely suggesting that the marketing system in our country must be organized now. Mr. Speaker, we have to organize our marketing system because we have a lot of vegetable rotting on shambas at Kinangop, Mau Narok, Kisii and what-have-you. We still get bananas from Uganda when our own bananas cannot get a market locally. Why should this happen? We have a vegetable industry established around Naivasha which cannot cater for the Africans around Kinangop but only caters for the few Europeans who have the privilege to do irrigation around Lake Naivasha. Mr. Speaker, this industry was established to help everybody. They have vehicles to go and dig up these vegetables but they do not go up to the Kinangop because roads are bad and wet and they cannot risk going for many miles to collect potatoes or vegetables from Africans. Mr. Speaker, I think we ought to have properly organized marketing system so that whatever we grow by the spirit of Harambee of going back to the land—and our people are still going back to the land and working hard—must be paid for well.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, with these few remarks, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Munyi): Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, for giving me this opportunity to say something on the Presidential Speech. Mr. Speaker, it is a coincidence because His Excellency the President delivered his heroic speech on 23rd of last month and on 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th of this month he made an official visit to both Embu and Meru Districts. Mr. Speaker, I must take this opportunity to thank His Excellency the President for having delivered that wonderful speech and secondly for having made an official visit to both Embu and Meru Districts during which time he performed very important functions. However, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to come to some of the very important points and what I want to say is something in connexion with the most important services which can be given to the wananchi. Such services, Mr. Speaker, are not only important, but they are services which can make every mwananchi in the Republic of Kenya very happy. One of these services, Mr. Speaker, is education.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, in our Kanu Manifesto, it is stated very clearly that Kanu, as the ruling party will give free education to our people. Mr. Speaker, coming to the question of free education, although at this time Government cannot take immediate action to give free education—I would like to appeal to our Government to see that free education is given in stages. To start with, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we should start giving free education to our children in Standards I and II. This, Mr. Speaker, will not cost us a lot of money. It may cost us something running up to £2 million or anything round about there, and this is not too much money. One of the ways of getting this money, that is, something between £2 million and £4 million so as to give free education in stages is: we should start a fund by the name of "Education Fund". We have the Hospital Insurance Fund and I do not know why we should not start a fund by the name Education Fund in this country, and I am sure that hon. Members of Parliament can contribute every month to this Fund, to the tune of Sh. 100 every month. Mr. Speaker, I know they would do it voluntarily.

Mr. Speaker, another way of raising money for such a fund is by increasing prices of consumable goods. We have things like beer, that is Tusker, Pilsner and the rest of them and if we can increase prices on these things—and it is very good that the Minister for Finance is in this House this afternoon— If we can increase by at least five cents every bottle of Tusker we take, I am sure we are going to get a lot of money and the people will not experience any change whatsoever. This money will go to the Education Fund. We have people who take whisky, Mr. Speaker, and if we can increase by a few cents every bottle of whisky to about Sh. 3, the additional money would go to the Education Fund and this is reasonable and it would be one of the ways of tackling this problem. At the same time, Mr. Speaker, we have ladies who wear artificial decorations, that is, things like wigs, and on these we could increase the price by 100 per cent for each article that is used in this way. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am saying this because we know these things are not necessary and they are artificial. Why should we use wigs? I understand that some of these wigs are made from the dead horses and other dead animals. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we can tax such things 100 per cent. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, before I come to another point, I would like to say that this can be practical so that we could give free education in stages and our people will be happier.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, another point which is also very important is that we must have a way of supplying water to the wananchi throughout the Republic of Kenya. I know there are areas—

An hon. Member: Can you do it?

The Assistant Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Munyi): Yes. We can do that through indirect taxation and no one will feel that he has been hurt. We can give water to our people, Mr. Speaker. It was just last week when His Excellency the President performed the opening of one of the first pilot water scheme in my place and the people there—the wananchi—Mr. Speaker, Sir, were so happy. There is nothing else which is taken so seriously and which can make our people be happier, than water. Now the people are getting water in their houses. This is a pilot scheme which was opened. You may

[The Assistant Minister of State, President's Office]

put up two-storey buildings but the wananchi cannot take it very seriously because they do not benefit individually from the building. All they want, Mr. Speaker, Sir, are simple things—water is one of them. If we can find a way of supplying water to wananchi—I have suggested the ways of doing it clearly, that is, through indirect taxation—

To come to another point which has been mentioned by most of the hon. Members, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is that because there are so many school-leavers who are roaming about from one place to another, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we should start something in the form of a builders' brigade for them. Where will they go? There are many who have already completed their School Certificate. Where are they going to work, Mr. Speaker, Sir, The results are going to be out next week. Where are they going to work?

The other point is about the commission on the salaries for the civil servants. I would like this report to be out as soon as practicably possible because the wananchi are waiting for it.

The other thing which I want to mention—and this one should not be ignored—is on the complaints made against some civil servants, but I cannot say the civil servants as such. There is a number of arrogant—I very fully agree. There are individual arrogant administrative officers who are misusing their powers. I call them individual arrogant administrative officers. They misuse their powers. They should listen to the call and follow the advice of His Excellency the President, Mr. Speaker, Sir, which they have been told. When a person has been given madaraka he should not misuse his powers. He should not harass wananchi but he should use his powers to treat wananchi in a good way. But there are others who are misusing that power, Mr. Speaker, Sir, and I would like to warn them that a time will come when Government will take the most drastic action to see that they are sacked and moved away, Mr. Speaker, Sir. These are individuals who are trying to spoil the good name of our Government, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

When most of the Members of Parliament come into this House they say there are some individual arrogant administrative officers who are misusing their powers, Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is truth in it because where you find some smoke you must find fire underneath.

It is very unfortunate, but I understand the Ministry of Education has removed the Members of Parliament who used to be members of Central Selection Board. I now understand that they have all been removed. I do not know the reasons, Mr. Speaker. I would like the Members of Parliament to continue to serve on the Central Selection Board to deal with scholarship matters because they know what is happening in the provinces. If you only appoint the people who are not politicians—I also understand that there is another move of trying to deprive the Members of Parliament of their right to be the chairmen of boards of governors. This is very wrong, Mr. Speaker, Sir, and such things are not good. Therefore, I would like to advise the Minister for Education not to take such action.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to support His Excellency the Vice-President when he said recently that any affairs to do with citizenship should be left with Britain. We are not going to tolerate the British citizens. They should go to Britain. They should not stay here.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to support the Motion very highly.

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, though there may be some minutes left for some hon. Members to speak, all the hon. Members whom I have heard speaking have been mentioning almost the same thing all the way through. There were only a few isolated cases.

Mr. Speaker, when I moved the Motion I stated that hon. Members ought to rise above their constituencies and above petty matters and put genuine criticisms to Government. I would like to assure the House that I have noted those genuine criticisms, but never noted those which I felt were not genuine.

Mr. Speaker, first of all, I should like to dwell on the views of the Member for Mbita. He stated that Government has made many mistakes. He went on to say that the Colonial Government was better than this one. He even went on saying that there was a danger of revolution.

Mr. Speaker, I have stated more than once that irresponsible utterances of hon. Members could be taken seriously by the ordinary person in the country-side. If Members paint a bad picture about Government on things which are not realistic, naturally the people will tend to believe them because these are hon. Members.

I can understand the Member for Mathare Valley, and his anxiety is genuine which could be looked into in a manner which can be understood by both sides. I fully sympathize with his case.

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

[The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs]

However, I do not really believe in referring to personalities. The best thing is to go straight into the points and the actual and factual information.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member for Mbita said—

An hon. Member: (Inaudible.)

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Oh, yes. He said Government has made many mistakes. I would like to ask; did Government make any mistake in building a police divisional centre in Homa Bay worth Sh. 1,200,000? Did Government make any mistake in building a 200-bed hospital in Homa Bay, such as I do not have in my constituency? Did Government make any mistake in building a 200-bed hospital in Kisumu? Was there any mistake in starting (1) Ahero Rice Scheme, (2) Karachuonyo Water Scheme, (3) Uyoma Water Scheme, (4) Sugar industries, and (5) two extra mills, Miwani and Chemelil Sugar Mills, (6) Settlement Schemes in Muhoroni and Koru, the reclamation of Yala Swamp Phase I of which has been completed and Government is now moving into the second phase? What of the tarmacking of the road from Ahero through Kisii to Tanzania? The Government is also tarmacking the Kisumu Yala Road, the road to Kisumu Cotton Mills, and many others which I cannot mention. The Government has also put up a farmers' training centre in Homa Bay, and also the Migori Rural Development Centre, around Migori. Now, what were these mistakes made by Government?

Hon. Members: Hear! Hear!

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): If Government—this I would like to tell the people of South Nyanza—made any mistakes, then I think we should put a brake on this, that is if Government made any mistakes. There are many areas of Kenya, where there are many things to be done and therefore, that is why I say I cannot take note of things which are imaginary. If we are coming to this House, Mr. Speaker, to turn it into a platform to make ourselves popular throughout the country, this will not build anyone. The wananchi will always follow what you say, and if geometry is proved to be wrong, then you will not be able to correct it; it will be difficult to recorrect it.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Member— I could have referred to many Members, including the Member for Migori. There is one secondary school which has just been taken over by the Government— Tom Mboya Secondary School, and also a Form V class there.

An hon. Member: Which one?

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): I think he knows.

I think, if the Member said that he thought the Government made a mistake by doing this, then I regret this mistake.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like also, to reply to Mr. Mutiso, who said that he has confidence—not hon. Mutiso, the Member for Yatta, but hon. Mutiso-Muyu—in the President, but he has no confidence in what Government does. He further said that there was confusion in the Government; Mr. Speaker, Sir, I say there must be confusion in his own mind, and when he said that there was instability in the country, I just take it that there is instability in his own mind, and not throughout the country. Mr. Speaker, how come that he has confidence in the President but not in his Government, not even in his policies; what he stands for, and what he has done for this country?

Mr. Speaker, there were also a number of complaints made, to the effect that implementation of Government policy sometimes gets stuck somewhere. Well, this is taken note of, but again, I would like to ask the hon. Members to be realistic because they see all along, and I have said this before. Mr. Speaker, everybody blames Government, including Ministers and Assistant Ministers. Now, where is this Government? Each Minister, Mr. Speaker, and each Assistant Minister knows the amount of money voted in this House for every Ministry, and the purpose for which that money is voted, and again to come here and say the Government ought to do this and that, knowing fully well the amount of money voted for, is rather mysterious.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we all would like to see, at least that, some improvement on primary education is done. However, I would like to say that if the ordinary man says that if each hon. Member pays Sh. 100, the money will be enough to provide free education, I find it difficult to swallow. Mr. Speaker, we have 5,000 primary schools; let us take— To pay two teachers in each of these schools would cost nearly £2 million. Now, it is much better to get factual information rather than say things in this responsible House, which would make the wananchi feel that Government is spending money in the right way, on the things they want.

Again, some Members felt that our university here is meant to serve just one section. It should be understood, and this is a point I always stress, it should— Previously, we have the East African University, which served the three countries. It is only last year, that we started having our own

[The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs]

National University. I agree that there are other schools which could be converted into constituent colleges of the university; then who will object to this? Our university here, and Kenyatta College, which is going to be part of our university, will serve all students, and some hon. Members, Mr. Speaker, sometimes think that this university is going to serve one tribe alone.

An hon. Member: How many Kalenjins are there?

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Well, we have a good number there, but we rely on merit and ability.

Mr. Speaker, I think, if we are relying on professors, some professors from one tribe may be more than the others, and if we think they will do wrong, then we are not doing any justice to those teachers teaching at the university; professors, lecturers and the rest. I think what we should do, Mr. Speaker, is to build a sense of national pride and not to go on preaching sectionalism all the time. I believe, if there were a constituent college at Siriba, it would serve any student; if Egerton College at Nakuru could become one of the agricultural constituent colleges, why should we object to this? Mr. Speaker, Sir, some hon. Members or some people think of tribalism and that kind of thing, but as I have said time and again, it is we in this House who can think like nationalists while we are helping people in our constituencies. It does not harm any hon. Member if he goes to see a district commissioner and tells him that we want to do this and that together with the chiefs. If we do this, things will move. I do not talk, complain to anyone nor has my area been favoured because I am the Vice-President. Sir, I say "No." The things I have done for my people, I have done them on my own to help my constituents. I have not used my position to help my constituents. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we should think afresh.

When I listened to all the complaints made in this House, I find them ridiculous. For example, the Member for Kwale, Mr. Mwamzandi—

Hon. Members: He is "honourable" Mr. Mwamzandi.

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Yes, hon. Mr. Mwamzandi. Now, he stated that water is provided for tourists. I wonder what amenities he wants. His Excellency the President opened one of the biggest hospitals in Kwale in recent months. Sir, was this hospital for tourists? Furthermore Sir, the settlement scheme in Shimba Hills is in Kwale, there is a mining company in Kwale and I wish some of us had that advantage. The hon. Member is abusing that advantage he has. I know what happens in each of each hon. Member's constituency and in future, Sir, if he wants, say during Parliamentary Group Meetings or some other meetings, to know what is being done in his constituency or his particular district I shall be able to inform him so that he is better informed. When somebody says that this Government has done nothing, I often wonder what he means. We have done 600 miles of tarmac road. Is that not really something for pride? These roads are beautiful and I advise hon. Members to drive slowly because these roads are beautiful and smooth.

At this point, Sir, I would like to advise hon. Members to advise their constituents that people who are in high positions should employ drivers because through my own investigations, I have discovered that accidents which occur, usually, happen because those in responsible positions happen to be driving at the material time of such accident—In some cases he may have been influenced by drink, or may be thinking of the many problems he has. Therefore, Sir, he finds himself driving on an imaginary road and by so doing he collides with another car. I am not saying that only those in high positions should employ drivers. In fact, all people having cars should employ drivers so that even if they are thinking about their difficult problems, they sit quietly at the back of the car and ponder about them instead of struggling with the steering wheel.

Mr. Kitonga: What about Kitui East?

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, in Kitui, the Government is doing all it can to provide water in catchment areas on rocks and I think the hon. Member ought to thank the Government. We are doing all we can. Also, he should be grateful for electricity being provided there and the road leading to Kitui Town together with bridges which are now being completed. This is what has been done by our Kanu Government. One hon. Member, Mr. Ayah, said that we should not sing "Kanu yajenga inchi", but Sir, then what shall we have? Mr. Speaker, Sir, let us not all the time dwell on attacking provincial commissioners, district commissioners district officers and other members of the Civil Service. We can correct mistakes by talking to them and not merely— Is that hon. Member waking up?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there was also a remark made by a hon. Member that there is importation of teachers from outside. Now, let me put this point-blank, if the Minister for Education issues instructions that he needs to employ School Certificate teachers to be employed in a certain area but it then turns out to be that in that particular area, there are no School Certificate holders from that area, why then should one complain about teachers from elsewhere? Therefore, it is only when you have insufficient School Certificate teachers that some are sent there from elsewhere. Now, if you want to have better education in an area, you have to employ better teachers.

Sir, Mheshimiwa Bwana, Gatuguta complained of the implementation. I think and as I said all that has been noted, and we will look into some of these things. Again, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I expected most of hon. Members, if not all of them, to thank His Excellency the President in his Speech.

An hon. Member: We did!

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, an hon. Member is saying "We did." It is interesting to note that hon. Members first start with thanking the President and then later on they start attacking the Speech and in the end they say "I support" and no more. None, Mr. Speaker, Sir, has given constructive suggestions. I would like, in future, hon. Members to mention the good things the Government has done and other things which the Government should do. However, they should not dismiss everything which the Government has done.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like—

Mr. Araru: What about Moyale?

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member, Mr. Araru, did say that there is a lack of initiative on the part of civil servants who should have taken food to areas where there is lack of food. In this I would like to say, Sir, the Government is doing all it can to see that people who lack food, because of drought, are fed. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member referred to the question of transport in regard to transporting food to the areas affected. However, let me tell you, Sir, the secret. You find that an hon. Member goes to a Ministry and asks what the Government is doing about the situation and he is told that this or that has been done. Thereafter, he comes to this House and accuses the Government although he has been told what the Government is doing. This, Sir, is very wrong. I would like to say that the Police, the Army and everybody else have been doing all they can in 16 pp.—H 23 transporting food to these areas, but hon. Members do not thank the Government for these measures that have been taken.

Regarding the question of maize, the Government is doing all it can through the Ministry of Agriculture and we recognize this position. Those who have been given the responsibility to feed wananchi, particularly millers, must do their work. If they fail, their licences will be given to other people. I hope this situation will be rectified and the people will have what they want. We have plenty of maize all over the country and wananchi should not suffer from lack of it.

Mr. Speaker, I thank all the hon. Members and hope that in future they will not repeat some of the things which were— I will not call them nonsensical, Mr. Speaker, because you have ruled that we should not say such a thing. However, they were imaginary things. I am grateful to those who put their cases clearly. If the Member for Mathare comes to my office then we can discuss his matter together with others without going to the Press—I would like to say, also, this: that the Press, and they should be thankful I do not know to who their intention is to divide us and because we do not realize this, we become victims. It is time the Press put constructive criticisms to wananchi.

Mr. Speaker, any country which is governed and guided by columns of the newspapers is not fit to govern. If we are guided by what the Press is saying, then, Mr. Speaker, one day, one will collapse on the road because of the rumours which are going on. I think that we should not be feeding some of these foreign journalists. This is the source— Do not blame the Press because it is those who are in this House and others who sit at a drinking party who give out some of these things. I, therefore, hope, Mr. Speaker, no one will repeat things about succession and others. We say that we have confidence in our President and then we again ask who is going to— Are we true to God? Do we believe that— Mr. Speaker, has anybody had an appointment with God to know what will happen tomorrow or the day after tomorrow? Each one of us should pray that should be kept kicking, otherwise you may collapse while thinking about somebody else. The only advice I can give is: let us build the nation. Let us help our President to lead this country because he is capable of leading this country and of guiding this nation.

With these few observations, I beg to move.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I will now put the question.

(Question put and agreed to)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us go to the next Order.

MOTION

EXEMPTION FROM INCOME TAX: TANA RIVER DEVELOPMENT COMPANY

The Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Kibaki): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

THAT, this House approves that the income of the Tana River Development Company shall be exempt from tax in accordance with Section 12 (2) of the East African Income Tax (Management) Act.

Mr. Speaker, the Tana River Development Company is the company that has developed already the present hydro-electric station at Kindaruma to produce electricity for the needs of Kenya. That station, as Members will know, is now fully operational. However, even though it is fully operational, it is estimated that in another two to three years time, it will not be generating enough electricity to cope with the expansion in the demand for electricity in Kenya because the demand is growing very, very fast.

Now, Members will also know that we still import a certain amount of electricity from Uganda every year and this amounts to about 30 megawatts. That is a long term agreement, but, Sir, in our Development Plan we have visualized that we should build—at a point just below the present station a project to make this country self-sufficient until 1995. Mr. Speaker, we have, therefore, been negotiating for finance for that second development of hydro-electricity on Tana River at a place called Kamburu. Mr. Speaker, the loan applications have gone to the World Bank and to the Swedish International Development Agency feeder. We shall be raising from those two sources about £8 million. Mr. Speaker, we will be able to construct this station and be able, therefore, to supply enough electricity to make ourselves self-sufficient. It has also been agreed that the plant for the supply of the rural towns—what is described as rural towns for want of a better word because it means smaller towns, not to mix them with bigger towns. We shall be able to supply those towns with electricity when the new station is completed. Now, part of the condition for our being able to do so is that the profits made on the supply to the bigger towns should be retained in a reserve fund for the development of the rural areas. It has been agreed equally that in order to facilitate that programme of rural electrification the loans from the Swedish International Development Agency will bear the least interest rate which is at 2 per cent so as to enable that margin of profit made to be ploughed back and be used for this rural electrification.

Now, Sir, as a quid pro quo on the side of the Government; what contribution we will make, it has been agreed that we will contribute to that reserve fund by not insisting on collecting Income Tax from the profits or revenue that will be made by the Tana River Development Company.

Now, Mr. Speaker, another new thing has, of course, come up since this matter started; that last year the Government acquired the controlling interest of the East African Power and Lighting Company. We also acquired 100 per cent ownership of the Tana River Development Company so that it is now wholly owned by the State. Mr. Speaker, Sir, it would therefore, be logical now for us, instead of collecting the tax and voting it back to the company, to insist merely, that they submit their accounts and they are audited by the Controller and Auditor-General and that the profits are retained for further development because we would have to put it back, anyway, and there would be no point, in fact, collecting it and putting it back. Therefore, it is necessary for us to say that we exempt the Tana River Development Company from income tax.

It is for those two reasons, Mr. Speaker, that it is necessary to have this Motion. The Motion is necessary because no one can do the exemption without the authorization of this Parliament. In the matter of the control of finance Parliament has the sovereign authority and it is for that reason, Mr. Speaker, that we are seeking authorization of Parliament to exempt the income of the Tana River Development Company from tax. I want to make sure there is no misunderstanding about the tax which will be ploughed back then to further development of the rural areas. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, it looks to us a logical thing to do.

Now, let me say that this is not the only amount of money that will be spent on the rural development. In the Estimates which are being prepared now for the new Financial Year we have items to include moneys for rural electrification which is absolutely necessary for the development of industries. This will be another force—the one I am mentioning here. So, it is really for those reasons, Mr. Speaker, that we want the Tana River Development Company to be exempt from tax.

Just in case someone mixes the two, the Tana River Development Company was formed for the development of electricity on Tana River itself.

{The Minister for Finance and Economic Planning}

There is an older company, The Kenya Power Company which had been formed some 20 years ago for the purpose of administering the agreement with Uganda to build a transmission line and import 30 megawatts every year for use in Kenya. That company, also—is of course now 100 per cent owned by the State since last year. There is no change there, except that we are working to integrate it with the East African Power and Lighting so that we shall have only one organization being in charge of electricity and not a duplicate.

So, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I thought I would clear that particular point before I move.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to Move.

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah) seconded.

(Question proposed)

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House, since Government was unable to post a resident doctor to Mumias Catholic Mission, whether it would consider giving financial help to the people of Mumias who badly needed the services of a qualified private medical practitioner.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): There is nobody from the Ministry of Health here.

Is anyone ready to answer Mr. arap Saina's question?

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): He is also not in himself.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Wachira? Anybody to answer his question?

Then let us go to Mr. Araru's question.

Question No. 122 (1419)

CHARGES OF MOYALE/NAIROBI RADIO CALLS

Mr. Araru asked the Minister for Power and Communications if he would tell the House why the charges of local radio calls between Moyale and Nairobi were always disputed by the operators and the Nairobi Control.

Mr. Araru: There is no Minister. Where are the Ministers?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Let us go to the Questions by Private Notice.

QUESTIONS BY PRIVATE NOTICEHARASSMENT OF BRITISH CITIZENS BY POLICE

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Why are the British citizens of Asian origin who have been waiting for their vouchers outside the British Passport Office at Wabera Street being constantly harassed by the Kenya Police?
- (b) Is the Minister aware that the British High Commissioner in Kenya asserts that it is the Kenya Government which is to blame for the fate of these British citizens?

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) We have not interfered with the British citizens at the British High Commission Office, but we have been called to remove them. We did that.

(b) Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not agree with the hon. Member.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that reply from the Assistant Minister, is he not aware that the British High Commission tells these British citizens that the reason why they cannot give them entry to Britain is because the Kenya Government is to blame in that they have refused to employ them, and therefore they cannot grant them permission to enter Britain?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, the hon. Member knows the reply to that. We are an independent state, and we are only responsible for our citizens. These are British citizens and we have nothing to do with them at all. All we did was to remove them when we were asked to do so because they were interfering with the normal duties of the High Commission. But as far as the responsibility is concerned, they are British, and they will remain British, and we have nothing to do with them at all.

Mr. Kanja: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Would the Assistant Minister agree with me that by employing our own police force to keep watch on those British subjects, and by driving them from here to Embakasi, Kahawa and other places the Government is incurring expenses on public funds whereas we are not concerned in this game of theirs?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think I agree with the hon. Member. But the officer in charge at that given moment thought the only solution to the situation was to remove these fellows to various parts with the hope—in this case he hoped against hope—that they would not come back. But we in actual fact we have a responsibility, like any other independent state, to protect any embassy whenever they call upon us to do so. We also expect them to do the same to our ambassadors wherever they are. But in this case we were only concerned with removing them, and since it stated that they only wanted them to make a passage for people to get into the High Commission offices, that we felt our policemen could help in that; nothing beyond that.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. Arising from the Assistant Minister's answer, when he said that he was just helping the High Commission to remove them to where was he moving them since they have no entry permits to enable them to leave this country and enter Britain? To where was he moving them? Why can he not deport them to Britain, because that is where they belong?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, I agree with the hon. Member's sentiments, but the point is that these are British citizens who want to go home, and they want passages to go home. The question of passage is the responsibility of the British High Commissioner, it is up to him to make sure that British citizens go home.

As far as deportation is concerned, we only deport somebody when he has committed something which is contrary to the laws of our state. If we have to deport all the British citizens in this country it will cost us a fortune, and I am sure hon. Members will agree with me that we need that money rather than spending it that way because deporting them means that you pay for the passage.

Mr. Araru: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, when the Assistant Minister explains that if he deports these people it will cost us a lot of money, is it not in the international regulations that if any citizen of any government has no permit or anywhere to live in another country he will have to be deported and the expense will have to be met by his country? Is there no such a law? If so why not use it?

Mr. Shikuku: There is no point of order there, Mr. Speaker. At the same time, the Member is completely misleading the House. It is the responsibility of any government, whenever it deports any individual or individuals, to pay for the passage. It does not require the country from which that individual comes to pay for the passage. That is not the thing.

If we deport somebody, and whenever we deport somebody, we always pay the transport.

Mr. ole Leken: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we know that these Asians have been British subjects for quite a long time; since the time they were given the chance to apply for citizenship in this country and refused because they felt this was not their home. We also know that they did want to say here in any way and therefore accepted to be British citizens. Now, why does the British Government not take these people and deal with them when they are in Britain instead of causing a hell of a lot of trouble here? In fact they are giving us a very bad name abroad.

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not think we are getting a bad name abroad. The bad name is on the British because they have failed hopelessly to meet the needs of their own citizens. It is shame on them not on us.

Dr. Munene: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is he aware that there are quite a number of British Asians here who are rich enough to pay for the whole lot if he is only fearing to deport these people because the Kenya Government does not have enough money to meet their fares? Would he accept to deport these people and ask that their fare be paid by their fellow Asians who are prepared to pay for it?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, this is quite the thing some of us have been thinking about because some of them are prepared to pay for their air passages. The law provides that whenever you deport any person, then you must pay for the transport. So, unless that law is amended we cannot ask them to pay for their own transport. If we deport them we must pay for their fares.

Mr. Amayo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, would he agree, or deny, that the Kenya Government has never reimbursed any government for any person deported to Kenya?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, I did not quite catch the question, but if the hon. Member repeated it I could, perhaps, be able to get it.

Mr. Amayo: Would the Assistant Minister agree or disagree that if any country deports a Kenya citizen to this country our Government does reimburse the expenses of deporting? Would he deny that the Kenya Government has not done so?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will not deny or accept that, but I know that the usual thing is that when one is deported, the government deporting him has to pay for his transport. I do not recall, or I do not know, any case where a certain country deported a Kenya citizen and the Kenya Government reimbursed that given government.

Mr. Mutiso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that these are British citizens, and as such they should abide with the laws of Britain, would the Assistant Minister agree with me that in future the Kenya Government will not interfere with the demonstrations of these people near the British High Commission offices, because that is actually part of the British territory; he should allow them to demonstrate to their Government peacefully.

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are aware that peaceful demonstrations are allowed. All we are trying to do, Sir, is to ensure there is no obstruction; we are not interfering with them at all. We are only going there on call by the British High Commissioner. Sir, hon. Members must remember that when there are demonstrations, it so happens, at times, that they result into violence. For example, Sir, the latest incident was when these chaps started being funny; they have already been charged and the case is in court. We are, therefore, only there to protect the High Commission. In the event of any misbehaviour or any dangerous moves we come in to protect the High Commission, but we are not interfering with them at all.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Assistant Minister tell us what further action he took when he removed these people who are British citizens from the British Ambassador's Office? Where did he take them, in Kenya, since they are not our citizens and they were at home when he interfered with them? Where does he take them? Do they become our citizens so as to be removed to another place in our country?

Mr. Shikuku: Mr. Speaker, there is a British High Commissioner and there are British citizens here. The British citizens do not sleep in the British High Commissioner's office; even the High Commissioner himself does not live in his offices. These British citizens have their own houses elsewhere and not in the British High Commissioner's offices. So, we can only remove them to the houses where they came from.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question, Mr. Mutiso-Muyu.

RENEWAL OF CONTRACT: GENERAL MANAGER OF AGRICULTURAL DEVELOPMENT CORPORATION

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Agriculture the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Why is the Agricultural Development Corporation General Manager's contract being renewed or extended in order to run from 1st November 1971 to 31st October 1972 while on 13th May 1970, the Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi) told this House that the Deputy General Manager was a university graduate with ten years' administrative and commercial experience as an Agricultural Manager, and would take over as soon as the contract of the present General Manager expired?
- (b) Is the Minister aware that the General Manager is carrying on a campaign in the Ministry in order that his application for extension or renewal of the contract is accepted, and as a result the Agricultural Development Corporation Board Staff Committee is being summoned on 24th March 1971, so that it may approve the application?

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I am glad that the matter has been brought to my notice, but the contract of this man has not expired yet, and whether he is campaigning or not is a different thing from being reappointed.

Mr. Kanja: Thank you Mr. Speaker, Sir. Can the hon. Minister categorically tell this House that this man's contract will not be renewed in view of the fact that we have a Deputy General Manager—a black African—who is quite capable of taking over the duties of the Agricultural Development Corporation?

Mr. Nyagah: The responsibility for appointment to this post of the General Managership rests on the members of the Board. If the members of the Board are satisfied that the Deputy

[The Minister for Agriculture]

Manager is doing his work well and that he is capable of taking over, I think there is no reason why that African cannot take over.

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Minister tell this House—as he says he does not know whether this gentleman is carrying on a campaign—that this meeting of the Board's Staff Committee is not going to discuss the extension or renewal of this man's contract?

Mr. Nyagah: I am afraid, Mr. Speaker, I do not know the agenda of this Committee and I do not even know that this Committee is sitting on this particular date, but now that I am aware, I will do whatever I can to see that nothing detrimental to the Kenyanization cause is done.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir—

Hon. Members: He has answered that and it is finished.

Mr. Muturia: Thank you very much.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

METHOD OF COLLECTION OF UNGA BY TRADERS IN MOMBASA

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Agriculture the following question by Private Notice—

Since the adopted new method of carding traders in Mombasa for collection of Unga from millers is impracticable, unsuitable and biased, will the Minister—

- (a) suggest urgently another method suitable to all traders; and
- (b) see to it that the consumers are not exploited by some of the unscrupulous traders.

The Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Nyagah): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The answer to the first part of the question, Sir, is that the method was introduced after consultation with those people concerned with the welfare of the residents: the district commissioner, members of the Chamber of Commerce and also some traders. It was expected that the method would work well. If there is any hindrance in the method and it is believed to be full proof, the Minister will be quite happy and quite willing to re-examine the situation and put it right.

The answer to the second part, Sir, is: Yes, Sir.

Mr. Masibayi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Minister aware that there has been a shortage of maize meal throughout the country here and yet the millers are, in fact, in the process of producing more than they used to do? Can the Minister tell us how this particular maize meal is distributed to the consumers?

Mr. Nyagah: (Inaudible.).

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Mr. Speaker, Sir, while I accept the last answer given by the Minister that he does not think it is proof or that there has been a failure as in the first answer to the first part of the question, I wonder whether the Minister will tell me whether this exercise of one trader getting 10 bales and another trader getting 50 bales is not a biased system and whether this is not proof that the system is not right?

Mr. Nyagah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, when we introduced this system we were guided by one factor: that the mwananchi should get his maize meal. Basing it on this factor we thought that if we appointed a wholesaler to cover a certain area fairly, he will be serving the people in his own vicinity. This, therefore, means that every trader will not get the same amount. Some traders are representatives of areas where the population is bigger and therefore they are entitled to a bigger share. If, however, the hon. Member has cause to believe that some unfair and unscrupulous methods are being used by some of the registered traders, we will be quite happy to take up the matter as I said yesterday.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 140 (1451)

IMPROVEMENT OF MURANG'A/TANA POWER STATION ROAD

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Works to tell the House, in view of the fact that there was only one road to Gikindu (Location 20 Murang'a) and that this road was not passable during rainy seasons, whether the Minister would, as a matter of urgency put murram from the Murang'a/Nairobi main road via Kimbirwa and Mirira Market to Lower Tana Power Station.

[Mr. Wachira]

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Ministry of Works not here? Next question.

(Deferred to another day)

Question No. 122 (1419)

CHARGES OF MOYALE/NAIROBI RADIO CALLS

Mr. Araru asked the Minister for Power and Communications to tell the House why charges of radio calls between Moyale and Nairobi were always disputed by the operators and the Nairobi Control.

The Assistant Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Onamu): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. First of all, I want to apologize. However I wish to inform the hon. Member that all calls to and from radio call operators are controlled by the respective radio control centres. In this case radio calls to and from Moyale are controlled by the Nairobi control operator. It will, therefore, be seen that the question of differing charges should not arise since Moyale operator should not charge any calls but simply quote the charge given to him by the Nairobi operator for any particular call.

The minimum charge for a call from Moyale to Nairobi is Sh. 12 for three minutes and Sh. 3 for each additional minute.

Mr. Araru: Arising from the Assistant Ministers reply, it is true these radio calls from Moyale are controlled here in Nairobi. However, what happens is that the Moyale controller has his own watch and starts counting time when he puts somebody through. Since this takes some time, the Nairobi controller will indicate that the person speaking speaks for nine minutes while the Moyale controller will actually indicate that the person spoke for only three minutes. Nairobi controller will, therefore, charge the caller Sh. 30 when he is supposed to pay only Sh. 12. I remember when I make these radio calls from Moyale to Nairobi I am charged this amount of money when I speak for only a few minutes and then I wonder what the public is expected to do. I have noticed that in most cases the Nairobi controller accepts the charges suggested to him by the Moyale controller, and therefore we do not know who is controlling these radio calls. Could the Assistant Minister tell us who, of these two controllers, is supposed to control the charges?

Mr. Onamu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, Nairobi controller starts charging the customer as soon as that customer comes to the box and starts speaking. Therefore, as soon as you start speaking, Mr. Araru, you are charged.

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from that reply by the Assistant Minister, when he said that as soon as I start speaking I am charged—yes, I agree, but sometimes these Nairobi people forget and start doing something else and when a person speaks for only three minutes he says nine minutes. That is where the misunderstanding comes in. In most cases the customer does not agree to pay this money because the controller at Moyale says the caller spoke for only three minutes while the Nairobi controller says nine minutes. Could the Assistant Minister tell us what is happening and what do we do in such cases?

Mr. Onamu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the call must be controlled from one side and all calls are controlled from Nairobi.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will speak on what I have experienced. Is the Assistant Minister aware that I spoke for three minutes from Garissa and I was charged Sh. 40 because somebody somewhere had neglected the whole system and I was left unattended and the metres kept running, as a result of which I was made to pay Sh. 40 instead of Sh. 12 which is charged for a three minutes call?

Mr. Onamu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if, instead of talking straight, you start saying jambo and other things, you are charged more for that. You should not blame my people.

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that where there is smoke there is fire, would the Assistant Minister accept that there is something wrong somewhere and, therefore, he should undertake to rectify this mistake because the public should not pay for services they have not been given?

Mr. Onamu: I cannot accept there is a mistake somewhere, but I would assure the hon. Member that we will go into the whole affair and see whether there is anything that we can do to help.

Question No. 135 (1437)

PRIVATE MEDICAL PRACTITIONER: MUMIAS
CATHOLIC MISSION

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Health to tell the House whether, since the Government was unable to post a resident doctor to Mumias Catholic Mission, he would consider giving financial help to the people of Mumias who badly need the services of a qualified private medical practitioner.

An hon. Member: You should apologize.

Mr. O'Washika: I do not need to, I have been here all the time.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Ministry of Health not here? We will go on now.

(Question deferred to another day)

NOTICES OF MOTIONS FOR THE ADJOURNMENT

DISPLACEMENT OF LANDOWNERS AND PAYMENT OF COMPENSATION IN MURANG'A DISTRICT

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I have received a written Notice from Mr. Wachira, Member for Makuyu, of his intention to raise, on a Motion for the Adjournment on a matter contained in a reply received to Question No. 95, concerning displacement of landowners and payment of compensation in Murang'a District forest areas. I shall call for the Motion for the Adjournment, on Tuesday, 16th March, 1971, at the time of interruption of business.

EVICITION OF SQUATTERS

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I have also received a written Notice from Mr. Seroney, Member for Tinderet, of his intention to raise on a Motion for the Adjournment on a matter contained in a reply received to Question No. 42, concerning the eviction of squatters from farms which are sold. I shall call for the Motion for the Adjournment at the time of interruption of business on Wednesday, 17th March 1971.

POINTS OF ORDER

ABSENCE OF MINISTERS TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, since we know for certain that there is a Government's collective responsibility and in view of the fact that we have seen this morning that the Government Front Bench is full of Ministers and yet there are several questions which have not been answered, do we take it that this responsibility has ceased to be collective or what does the House do now?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No. I do not think so. Unless a Minister makes sure that somebody else will reply, on his behalf, it is difficult for any Minister who is not concerned to know what the reply is. It is true we do get copies of replies and any Minister can jump forward and pick up the reply from the Clerk and reply on the spot. However, today, it is not only the Ministers who are to blame. This collective responsibility applies to Members too. If Members know they will not be present to ask their questions, they should make arrangements to see that somebody else asks on their behalf. We have a number of questions which were not asked because nobody took the trouble to brief another Member to do it on their behalf. Therefore, you cannot blame the Ministers only.

The Minister for Power and Communications (Mr. Ngala): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, my point of order is that I think I owe an apology to the House for not having been here when the question I was supposed to answer was called. For some reasons, the Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms called me to attend to something urgent hoping that I would come back to attend to my question, but when I came back I found that you had already called it. I think the House ought to have this explanation. I am very sorry.

SUBSTANTIATION OF ALLEGATIONS CONTAINED IN A QUESTION REQUIRED

Mr. Karungaru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, as you are aware, the hon. Member for Makueni, Mr. Mulwa, yesterday asked a question by Private Notice here and went as far as quoting what was reported in the papers and I have read all the papers, Sunday Nation, Sunday Post and all other papers and I have not come across any report of that nature. Am I not, therefore, entitled to ask the hon. Member in question to substantiate his allegation regarding his yesterday's question by Private Notice because if this does not happen, it means that this House is the one concerning with circulation of rumours and it will be taken to be very irresponsible by the public.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I do not see Mr. Mulwa around but what Mr. Karungaru says is true in the sense that Mr. Mulwa alleged quite definitely that some plot was being hatched in Tanzania. If we go by what we have read, I, personally, cannot remember anybody else saying such a thing anywhere.

As I said yesterday, Members are responsible for the accuracy of what they allege in this House. It is left to them to justify their allegations or statements of fact. If Mr. Mulwa were here I would have asked him to clarify whether he just made an error or whether he had any information to justify what he alleged. As Mr. Karungaru says, we must never allow this House to be used for propagating rumours. Our responsibility is to the contrary. I hope that Mr. Mulwa will perhaps, maybe when we meet next, be able to explain this so that we clear the air. There must be no misunderstanding at all; there was no question of this House having been debating any issue connected with Tanzania.

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether I will be in order to quote a reference which connects with what, on which, in my view, the hon. Member may have based his arguments.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order. We are not going to speculate. We shall wait until Mr. Mulwa himself explains the position.

Mr. arap Saina: Mr. Speaker, Sir, may I apologize for being late this morning.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Yes, you may. However, I am afraid you are too late and cannot ask your question now.

Next Order.

MOTION

✓ AFFAIRS OF UNIVERSITY OF NAIROBI

THAT, in view of the fact that the University of Nairobi which was established in July last year started on an unsound and improper footing, and in view of recent events indicating inefficiency and poor administration which have created unnecessary frustrations and animosity, this House urges the Government—

- (a) to dissolve the present University Council and appoint a new one with membership on a provincial basis;
- (b) to appoint a Commission to inquire into the affairs of the University with a view to making recommendations for its smooth and efficient running;
- (c) to establish more constituent colleges which are geographically dispersed throughout our Republic.

(Mr. Mwangale on 5th March 1971)

(Resumption of debate interrupted on 5th March 1971)

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, what are we on now?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): The Clerk has called the next Order, which is Order No. 5, Motion.

This is Mr. Mwangale's Motion, but it appears as if nobody wishes to speak, in which case I will put the question if that is the wish of the House.

Mr. Nthenge: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, supposing some person wishes to speak and we want to continue with Mr. Mwangale's Motion, what is the position? Was nobody speaking at the time of adjournment?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): The Motion was moved and seconded by Mr. arap Chumo who concluded his speech. The question was then proposed.

Mr. Nthenge: In that case, Sir, I wish to speak.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sorry to have given the impression in the first place that I did not want to speak on the Motion. My understanding was that somebody was still to continue with his speech.

Sir, this Motion is one of national importance. Although many other Motions are too, this one is very important. In the present world which is becoming very small, in fact, it is becoming as small as one country, education is something so important that it cannot be ignored, and it is the duty of every person living in this country to make sure that he educates his children properly. Everybody must get the fruits of education so that in the world he or she fits in properly. Sir, it would be very wrong for us to educate only some of our people, certain sections of our people and leave out the rest. That would be very, very unfortunate. It would be more or less like a parent who has five children but feeds only two and leaves three unfed. A Government like ours has responsibility for the whole of Kenya, for every section of Kenya. It does not really matter where a Minister comes from. Once a Minister is a Minister he is a Minister for the whole of Kenya; he is supposed to cater and care for the whole of Kenya. We must, therefore, have a system whereby we make sure that everybody in Kenya receives education.

Now, Mr. Speaker, higher education, higher learning is very important and it should, therefore, never be confined to the University Council, for example. This Council definitely, should be a Council of Kenya and for Kenya in the Ministry of Education, it is a Council for high learning in Kenya. It should never give the impression that it is a Council for a part of Kenya only.

The other day I was looking at one of the papers which was in my pigeon-hole; I do not remember the name. It looks odd when you see the people at the university, A, B, C and D all coming from one area, they are the top boys at the university. Is this really right? One wonders whether this is because we could not get people from elsewhere. Mr. Speaker, I believe in regionalism in many cases. We ought to have regionalism so that we can all participate in the affairs of the country. In the council we should have people from all over Kenya, except where we cannot get somebody. We should not concentrate on one special section.

Mr. Speaker, if you read (a) of the Motion, it says—

[Mr. Nthenge]

"to dissolve the present University Council and appoint a new one with membership on a provincial basis:"

Now, what is wrong with having members in the Council from every province? What is wrong with that?

An hon. Member: Nothing.

Mr. Nthenge: What is the idea of having people from one special group? That is a result of this, to err is human, and blood is thicker than water. This is what they say in English. If the Council is composed of people from one section, being human beings they are likely to forget or to ignore the other areas. However, if the Council is provincially based, and somebody comes from Rift Valley, and he feels the students from Rift Valley are being ignored or forgotten, he will feel, being a human being, that he has to suggest, "What about Rift Valley?" He will remind the Council. That is why people should come from all over. I do not blame the Council as such. The people forming the Council are not wrong but the person who was responsible for the composition of the Council I think made a mistake. All we are doing here is to say, "Rectify this mistake". One has a tendency to forget and once you make a mistake and nobody talks about it, you think you are right. But the whole thing is wrong. On the Council there should be, maybe, two people from Nyanza, two people from Rift Valley, two people from Eastern Province, two people from each of the provinces. In this way you make up the Council. In this way we will ensure that we get personnel who are fit to form the Council, people from all over the place. Also, Sir, when they come from one province, they should not come from one district only. If we take Central Province, then we should have somebody from Kiambu, another from Nyeri, and so on. There should be no concentration of people from one area as though it were a locational council. This is a Council of the University and the University belongs to Kenya. Therefore, it should reflect Kenya.

Let us take (b) which says,

"to appoint a Commission to inquire into the affairs of the university with a view to making recommendations for its smooth and efficient running:"

Up to now, Sir, there have been complaints coming from all over the place, that the university is not running well, boys and girls are being admitted from only one area. This is something that should be looked into. If we do not go into these things quickly and rectify the position before a lot of harm is done, then it may be too late. Human beings are such, history has taught us, that they can tolerate a mistake to a certain extent and beyond that when they start correcting the situation, they correct with bad results. Sometimes by bloodshed, which is not good. That is why this Motion asks for a Commission to inquire into these things and correct the mistakes. You can educate 3,000 people and leave three million uneducated. Once they get annoyed they will say, "Come on, let us see who are in the majority. Let us kill them all and we become even". What happens? We have lost. We should appoint a Commission now to look into the position and rectify matters in advance. Human beings are what they are and they can only wait up to a certain period. Beyond that they take drastic action. And, Mr. Speaker, it is our duty as leaders of this country to try to rectify things before the masses get furious and annoyed.

I come now to (c).

"to establish more constituent colleges which are geographically dispersed throughout our Republic".

What could be better than that? What is wrong with having a college around Kisumu, maybe at Siriba or some such place? Why not have another one at Mombasa, at the Technical something or other. Let us have them at various places so that the university, as it were, grows from all directions. What is wrong with that?

Hon. Member: Nothing wrong at all.

Mr. Nthenge: Within a short time the Murang'a college can be graded if it is worth being taken in and become a part of the university. There is nothing wrong with that. Recently I heard somebody say, why allow another school at Murang'a, let these things be here. This is cheap and low thinking and it is these people who have this low type of thinking who will cause trouble in Kenya. As a matter of fact this came from a person who is supposed to be very, very responsible. However, instead of being responsible, he was so irresponsible that he did not want to see any other good thing. He believes in everything being parochial, just near his house, only a matter of miles!

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, the hon. Member is leading us to believe that there is somebody who does not want to see these things being decentralized. Would he be kind enough to disclose to this House who this person is so that we know his thinking?

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, there is no need to do so at this stage, but when we have a similar debate for a longer time—and we are not required to summarize things—I will go into these details to the satisfaction of the hon. Member. I will go into the details then but cannot do so now because I have only about one minute left.

The last point I want to make is this. We must all accept that we come from Kenya and we must develop a feeling of unity, a feeling of oneness. This can only come about by having various colleges connected with the university, as part of the university. These should be all over the place so that when you are at Mombasa you can feel this college is a part of the university, another college somewhere else, maybe at Kisumu, is a part of the university, even at Isiolo, and Moyale. You have a feeling of oneness.

Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad to get this opportunity to speak on this very important Motion. With all due respect to my friends, university education has to be a university education if it is going to be accepted in this world.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are people who speak in this House purely for emotion's sake and they mix up a lot of things. This, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am afraid to say, has become a platform of racialism, tribalism and all sorts of things even when we are talking of an important issue like university education. I would request the Minister for Education, when he comes to reply to this Motion, to read out the names of various places where these people come from, with their districts or sub-districts, their professions when it comes to the cultural as well as academic education. This will shame some of the fellows here who are alleging things without any foundation.

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the hon. Dr. Munene in order to describe hon. Members of this House as "fellows"?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): That is out of order, Dr. Munene.

Dr. Munene: I am afraid there, Mr. Speaker, you can see some signs of emotions of people who really want their own views to be heard and they do not want other people's views to be heard. I am also a fellow, and in case the Minister does not know what a "fellow" means, he should go to the university and learn to be a fellow.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order, Dr. Munene. There are no "fellows" in this House.

Dr. Munene: Okay, for the sake of the Member who does not know what the "university fellow" means—I agree there are no fellows in this House and I will refer to them as hon. Members.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am speaking on university education. If we have to get university education and we have to get a university council, and a council consisting of people, you will not have to fetch people right from the bush to come and become the members of the council. You will get somebody with understanding. This is not a parliamentary group where—

Mr. Nthenge: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is it not out of order for the hon. Member speaking to give the impression that I have asked people to come from the bush? What does he particularly mean? Does he mean that some parts of Kenya are just bush?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, that is a matter of opinion, Mr. Nthenge.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am afraid some of these hon. Members accept that some of the places in Kenya have forests and others—

Mr. Kitonga: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Mr. Kitonga, will you sit down please.

Dr. Munene: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sorry I am not going to speak to please some of the hon. Members who just want to be pleased so that they may not stand on a point of order. I have my views and my views have to be respected by the House just as I respect the other Members' views.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, on this issue of the university, as far as part (a) of the Motion is concerned, I said and I am convinced—I am satisfied—that the members of the university council, as they stand today, are representative of our country, and if anybody is afraid he can contact the Minister for Education and he will be told how they are appointed. If he wants to recommend a name, please, would he go back to his own home area and recommend a capable person who is going to— There is a good channel for doing it instead of bringing it to the Floor of this House.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, as far as part (b) of the Motion is concerned, which calls upon Government to appoint a commission of inquiry to look into this matter, I would like to say that this university officially came into being on the 1st of July, last year or, to be more specific at the beginning of this year. Therefore, how can you start spotting messes within six months only? Unless you want to get a commission—

An hon. Member: We can! We can!

Dr. Munene: Can I have my views heard? You can stand up when I sit down. If you are considering yourself an hon. Member, you should give the other hon. Member a chance to say what he feels. The hon. Members are not speaking to the Chair. They will speak to the House.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am afraid if somebody was dissatisfied by the previous administration of the University of Nairobi, then he can request that a commission of inquiry be appointed to look into what happened in those years when the university was controlled from Kampala and not Nairobi. But for the present university, which is controlled in Nairobi, you must give these people some time and then you can ask for a commission of inquiry having tangible things. You should not quote funny things, such as that some girls were expelled from the university when we know they were expelled legally. Legal matters have been processed on such occasions, Mr. Speaker. So, if you quote some mere things on which you have nothing to give to the commission, why appoint it? Government does not have so much money to waste.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, as far as the university's constituent colleges are concerned, I agree with whoever proposed this, but as I have already said, it is too early, Mr. Speaker. The university has just been founded and just cannot come up tomorrow and have a constituent college in such-and-such a place. We have to get these constituent colleges established and moving slowly just as we are having our secondary schools coming up before they get to Form V and Form VI classes and the like. You just cannot start a constituent college tomorrow just because there is no constituent college in Nairobi. You cannot start a constituent college in Garissa just for the sake of starting it. We have to honour our university education; and if we have to maintain a high standard, which is definitely the cream of the future of this nation of ours, we have to give our university time to grow up. But, as a recommendation, I endorse it very vehemently that we should have as many constituent colleges as possible and we should always bear this in mind when we think of grading our colleges.

Mr Speaker, Sir, as I said right from the beginning, at the opening of my speech, I would request hon. Members to be honourable, not only here, but even outside. Some of the speeches we make in this House are actually making the public doubtful as to whether we really have faith in our own public. This is because, if you repeat a word every day that there is tribalism, there is this and there is that, and you yourself are not suggesting the means and ways of fighting it, it means you are the most top tribalist. If you really want to help, you cannot assume that two or three fellows, because they are in Government— We all cannot be, Mr. Speaker—

Mr. Nthenge: Conclude your speech.

Dr. Munene: You speak to the Chair if you want to speak, Mr. Nthenge.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would ask hon. Members to be sincere. If somebody wants to be a Speaker, let him campaign against the hon. Mr. Mati; he should not speak against the whole of the Kamba people. If somebody wants to be a Minister for such-and-such a Ministry, let him campaign against that particular man but he should not bring his tribe in. This is because the moment you come and mention tribes here, you hurt quite a number of people who do not enjoy the same thing which is enjoyed by that particular individual. So, if you want to speak about any tribalistic affair in this House, please mention individual names and forget about individual tribes because not all the people in such a tribe get what you think they get.

With those few words, I beg to support.

Mr. Seroney: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I arise to support this Motion and I would like to say that there is no need for anybody to be unduly sensitive whenever such delicate matters are raised in this particular House.

There are certain things which are obscure about the University of Nairobi. In his speech His Excellency referred to the formal inauguration of Kenyatta College, and this was repeated by the Leader of Government Business when he was speaking yesterday. Now, I am wondering, Mr. Speaker, as to what meaning is attached to the Act which was steamrolled through this House. This Act states quite categorically that Kenyatta College shall be a constituent part of the University of Nairobi. Therefore, I would have thought that the moment the university was inaugurated all the constituent colleges at that time were also inaugurated so that there is no longer any necessity to have a separate ceremony for Kenyatta College. I hope that the Minister for Education will clear this confusion when he comes to reply to this Motion and give us the Government thinking on this matter. There are also certain features which are unsatisfactory with regard to this college being a constituent part of the university. We do not know up to now whether the university itself accepts Kenyatta College as a constituent college or not. We do not know whether there is any resistance, as we have been given to understand that there was originally a resistance which I would have thought would have come to an end at the moment an Act of Parliament said categorically that Kenyatta College was part of the university. We would like to know whether there are any difficulties which are being encountered and what courses or degrees, if any, are going to be offered, by Kenyatta College. These are some of the things, if there is confusion, which could be cleared by a commission. One might argue that the Act which was passed last year provided the method of creating the university council. This Act also, under the schedule, did provide that the old council will continue until, probably, a new one is appointed. Therefore, if Government wants to be reasonable in this, this opportunity can be used to carry out the wishes of this Motion. This is because if no changes have been made in this council, then this would be the correct time to appoint the new council on the basis indicated in this particular Motion in order to make the council broadly representative.

I know the Act does not say that the council must be provincially representative, but the powers given to the Government to appoint representatives in the council can be used to make sure that representatives come from all over the Republic. After all, Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is a Motion in this House which generally asks that in all statutory boards all provinces should be represented, and I am sure that the university council is one form of statutory board. Therefore, there is nothing new in this particular Motion in requesting Government to ensure that all provinces are represented.

The Government can advise the Chancellor to carry out or use his powers—which are extremely wide if one cares to read the Act—to look into the complaints which have been raised and also use his powers of intervention and visitation to, in fact, carry out the wishes of this particular House. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we can pretend that there is nothing wrong and that our university has just started. We cannot deceive ourselves about the current situation. We know that a lot of mysteries were attached to the inauguration of this University; we all know that there was some funny business about the appointment of the first principal, who afterwards became the first Vice-Chancellor. We cannot pretend that we have not noted all the disturbances that have been taking place and we cannot assume that all is well. This Motion regrets that the University did not start on a proper footing and, therefore, asks Government to do something. I think we would be helping both the country and this House if we adopted a more co-operative attitude towards this Motion than adopted by the previous speaker.

A true university should be “a haven of peace and harmony”. We would like to see that there was at least a place in Kenya where students from all over the country could meet in the pursuit of knowledge without consideration of their origin, or where they came from. It is a pity that certain sections want to dominate the university, probably with a view to having more qualified people so as to have a larger share in the public services and also in employment in the private sector. It is not very well for Government to start what the colonialists used to do. There was a time when we were told, Mr. Speaker, that you could not become a district officer unless you were from the University of Oxford or Cambridge. When there was enough pressure from the wananchi, this was reverted. However, the same process is already beginning. We hear now that more and more qualifications are required if one is to have a particular job. This aspect, coupled with determination on the part of certain sections in this country to have more of their students in the College than other tribes, shows that this is an attempt to use the university as an instrument of domination.

It is regrettable that such a high percentage of the university students should come from one small section of the community. This is because last year we were told that at least 70 per cent of the students admitted in the university came from one tribe. I do not know what the position is now; if it has improved, perhaps the Minister will be able to tell us. However, to have such percentages in Kenya is very unhealthy and undesirable. These are the sort of things which should be looked into. We would like to know why the student body and the university administration do not seem to be getting on well. All these things, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think, should be looked into and I think a commission appointed by Government will be able to deal with all these matters. I am sure that if a commission was appointed and it looked into the affairs of the university, it cannot come back and report that all is well because we know that all is not well in the university.

However, even if all was well, then the suspicion and fears of the wananchi should be dispersed. I would strongly urge that Government should not resist the appointment of a commission; it should not resist regional or provincial representation in the University Council; and it should not also resist establishment of constituent colleges other than when they are ready and are recognized by the university in accordance with the Act.

[Mr. Seroney]

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to support the Motion.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I will not take a very long time—longer than necessary—to answer and speak on this very interesting Motion which I think is very premature.

Sir, we are asked by the hon. Mwangale, several things—three items—and I am glad the hon. Member has just come in because I was going to attack him in his absence if he did not come in before I spoke. He has asked us to dissolve the present University Council and appoint a new one with membership on a provincial basis.

May I inform the hon. Member that in the Act there is no provision for anyone to dissolve the University Council. Nobody, Sir, is empowered to—I am sorry, if the hon. Member did not see it when the Act was going through, nobody is empowered to dissolve the University Council. Therefore, I would advise the hon. Member to start thinking in terms of amending the Act to include powers to authorise persons to be able to dissolve the University Council when the need arises. That is my first point.

He wants the University Council dissolved because he alleges, out of non-awareness, that—

An hon. Member: Ignorance.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): We cannot call it “ignorance”, we call it “non-awareness”. He says it is because the council is not represented on a provincial basis. Briefly, Sir, six provinces, and Nairobi, are represented in the present University Council. In a few moments I will give the hon. Member for his formal education, the names of the members of the council. The only province that is not represented at the moment is the North-Eastern Province.

Hon. Members: Why? Why?

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, the “whys” and innuendoes are over—and so may I continue. For the information of hon. Members, these are the persons who are in the University Council—I know they know who the Chairman is—

Hon. Members: No, let us know who he is!

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. B. M. Gegega is the Chairman of the Council, Sir. Mr. Speaker, Sir, Mr. Gecaga has no wish of being there longer than he would need to be there if the President, today, says that he should not continue. He has no wish of being there longer than one hour.

Hon. Members: Ask him to resign.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, there are some hon. Members who are saying I should go and ask him to resign. Now, may I send them to go and ask him to resign.

Mr. Mbori: A change is necessary!

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): The Vice-Chairman, Sir, is the hon. Mr. Lugonzo who is a Member of this House and as you very well know is a very reputable Member, as being an ex-Mayor of the City of Nairobi, is a competent Vice-Chairman in the Council.

In the Act, Sir, the President is empowered to appoint an honorary Treasurer, and the present holder of this post is Mr. Duncan Nderitu Ndegwa, and as you very well know he is an expert in financial matters and he is there as an honorary treasurer to advise the councillors when they sit to discuss financial matters which emanate from my Ministry. The Vice-Chancellor, as you very well know, Sir, is Dr. J. N. Karanja, and in connexion with this I must thank hon. Mwangale who said that he should be given time. Sir, given the time, he can, as Vice-Chancellor, make it. However, I must say that it is not fair sometimes to attack those who are outside this House and who have no chance at all to stand up and defend themselves. The hon. Mr. Mwangale did point out, probably, one or two things which he said the Vice-Chancellor should do and that he did not appear full of courage to go and face the President, the Chancellor of the University, and I am sure the hon. Mr. Mwangale would be in the same position if he were to go and face the Chancellor of the University who is also the President of this country.

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. G. G. Kariuki): He is a coward.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Deputy Vice-Chancellor appointed by the council, the current holder is Professor B. A. Ogot. You all know him and I think you should approve of his holding that particular seat. The Principal of Kenyatta College is also a member of the council, and currently the Acting Principal, Mr. Evans, is the holder of the seat.

The hon. Member for Tinderet, Mr. Seroney, said that His Excellency mentioned, in his Speech, that we were going to establish Kenyatta College to become a constituent college of the University of Nairobi. Yes, the President said “Formally establish Kenyatta College.” I would like to say that Kenyatta College is legally established, and all we are going to do is to formally establish it.

[The Minister for Education]

The ten members who, as provided in the Act, are appointed by His Excellency the President of the Republic of Kenya are as follows: the Permanent Secretary to the Ministry of Education—

An hon. Member: Who is he? Tell us!

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, if hon. Members of this House do not know who my Permanent Secretary is, then I am sorry I do not know what to say. The next one, Sir, is the Permanent Secretary to the Ministry of Finance and Economic Planning; the third one is Mr. Titus Mbathi. You can interpret the names for yourself because I am ignorant of their nomenclatures; I do not know whether these names are Kamba, Kikuyu, Meru or what? So—

Mr. Mutiso: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Minister is trying to read certain names and refuses to read others. If he decides to read can he read all the names so that we know them properly?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): That is what he was doing.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, the appointment of Permanent Secretary from a Ministry, say, education, is only by the name of the holder. When my present Permanent Secretary will be changed, somebody else will be sitting on the council. So, there is no need for me to mention Mr. Gachathi, my present Permanent Secretary. It is the Permanent Secretary to the Ministry and not the name of the holder of that office in the Ministry.

I had just mentioned the name of Mr. Titus Mbathi. Sir, other members are: Mr. G. G. Maina; Mr. G. T. Opondo; the Rev. J. Mpaayei; Miss S. Nolega; Miss E. M. Githae; Mr. T. Mwangola; and there is one vacancy at the moment which is to be filled.

Four members who are appointed by the Senate include the following: Professor S. H. Ominde; Professor J. M. Mungai; Professor M. Hyder; and Professor D. P. S. Wasawo.

One person appointed by the Gandhi Memorial Academy Society—it is provided for in the Act—is Mr. J. N. Nazareth, Q.C.

Also, Sir, there is a provision for one member appointed by the Tanzania Government and one other member appointed by the Uganda Government. The present holder of the seat from Tanzania is Mr. P. Msekwa, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Dar es Salaam, appointed by the Tanzania Government. From Uganda, Sir, we have the Permanent Secretary of the Ministry of Education, Uganda, appointed by the Uganda Government.

One member to the council appointed by the Staff Association of the university is Dr. Ileri. Two members co-opted by the university council also sit on this council. The current holders are: Mr. S. Mbogua, and there is one vacancy. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the council, under the Act, is empowered to co-opt two members to the council and I have no power over them. It is under the Act. The Students' Union is also represented in the council by two members from amongst students. The current holders are Mr. J. Teka—President of the Students' Union—and Mr. M. Kamuti. Two persons are appointed by the Convocation of the University to sit on the council. The two seats are vacant, at the moment, because the Convocation is still to meet. The Secretary to the Council is Mr. S. W. Karanja, who is the Registrar of the University of Nairobi. Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is the situation of the council at the moment. I do not want to touch on the Senate because this was not under direct attack from the hon. Member who moved this Motion.

Now, Sir, a lot has been said about tribalism—may I now give, briefly, the names of heads of different faculties or the big people in the university. There are 56 teaching departments in the University of Nairobi which is organized into 10 faculties, three institutes, and a school of journalism. Each of the faculties is headed by a dean and the departments therein are headed by deans of departments and the details are as follows—this will enable us to find out whether there is tribalism: Faculty of Arts: Dean—Professor Ominde; Departmental Heads: Literature—Professor Gurr—do not confuse him for a Luo—Agar; Linguistic and African languages—Mr. Abdulaziz; Philosophy and Religious studies—Bishop S. C. Neill; History—Professor B. A. Ogot; Economics—Dr. J. K. Maitha; Government—Dr. J. Okumu; Geography—Professor S. H. Ominde; Sociology—Dr. K. Ndeti.

That is the end of the list of the personnel in the Faculty of Arts.

Faculty of Science: Dean—Professor D. P. S. Wasawo; Departmental Heads: Mathematics—Mr. M. Alala; Botany—Dr. R. Olembo; Chemistry—Professor P. A. Robins; Geology—Professor I. S. Loupeki; Physics—Professor J. Skinner; Zoology—Professor D. P. S. Wasawo.

Mr. Mwithaga: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, do you not agree with me that it becomes boring when the Minister has to read all the names of the staff of the University of Nairobi instead of giving us a direct answer? If he gave us the names, I believe that would have saved other than reading all the names—the whole nomenclature!

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order! We are dealing with another point of order, Mr. Koigi.

The purpose is to prove that what was alleged was not true; and he has chosen to do it that way.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, when people want to be told the truth and at the same time do not want to listen to the truth what are we supposed to do?

Faculty of Science: Department Head: Meteorology—Professor I. Oredsson; Faculty of Architecture, Design and Development: Dean—Mr. R. H. Nelms; Departmental Heads: Architecture—Mr. Jorgenson; Fine Art—Mr. G. Maloba; Design—Professor N. Shapira; Land Development—Mr. R. H. Nelms; Housing Research Unit—Mr. J. Skakke. Faculty of Commerce: Dean—Dr. J. K. Maitha. Departmental Heads: Business Administration—Mr. J. Greaves; Accounting—Mr. R. Dinman. Faculty of Law: Dean—Mrs. M. Rogers; Departmental Heads: Law and Jurisprudence—Professor D. Hill; Commercial Law—Mr. G. S. Munori; Public and Comparative Law—Vacant. Faculty of Engineering: Dean—Professor W. B. Palmer; Departmental Heads: Civil Engineering—Professor R. Jones; Mechanical Engineering—Professor W. B. Palmer; Electrical Engineering—Professor J. Sletbak; Surveying and Photogrammetry—Professor L. P. Adams Computing Centre—Mr. J. Scott.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I can see the warning light. May I, therefore, lay this on the Table so that the hon. Members can read it later on.

(The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett) laid the paper on the Table)

Mr. Speaker, Sir, there is no justification to say that the appointments of heads are made on a tribal basis. When you study that document, come back with questions and I will answer them.

The next point, Sir, is that this question of appointing a commission to look into the affairs of the University of Nairobi is not justified by the ripeness of time because we have not even completed a year in the experimentation of the development of this university. I do not want to make it sound very homely, but I would like to say that it is not even nine months old—it is of course less than nine months old!

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I was about to say that the hon. Member, Mr. Mwangale, said that there were commissions in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania and also in Uganda. However, he did not tell us the findings of these commissions—he did not spell out the findings and the goods of these commissions. The University of Makerere is where it was when I was there in 1948 and if a commission was set to look into its affairs, it is still where it was and I have not seen the changes. The University of Dar es Salaam was a new university and they are lucky that they have their present site; but the University of Nairobi is a city university and we cannot aim, at any time from now until eternity, to change it into a rural university. We are going to keep the University of Nairobi a city university. The University of London, for example, has no campus whatsoever! I do not think the hon. Member has ever been there, and if he has ever been there he should have noticed that it has no campus though it is one of the world's leading universities. In the same way, the University of Nairobi will grow as a city university and we shall have it scattered all over, and sooner or later I will get the students living actually outside the university because we are short of room—we are going to have them out so that they may find their own accommodation and attend their lectures in the daytime so that we can provide more education for the young people of this country.

An hon. Member: You are right!

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like to come to the problem of "Admission" which was referred to by the hon. Member for Tinderet, Mr. Seroney. Admission into the university is not our problem; and I have already said that all those who pass-up to a certain level are all admitted into the university.

An hon. Member: They are not!

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): They are, Sir, if the hon. Members had done their homework they would have noted that 1,109 students have qualified to go to the university—we shall give them university education whether here, Uganda, Dar es Salaam or outside East African countries. We shall give them a university education because this is the commitment of my Ministry and of the Government of this country. So, those who have passed will go to the university. Those who have not passed if, say, they come from the hon. Member's area—Tinderet—do not constitute my problem because they have been to school. There is discrimination—but when they pass they will go to the university.

[The Minister for Education]

The hon. Nthenge, and everybody, of course, said that colleges should be spread all over the country. I agree with this but the next one could be Murang'a College of Technology. People are working and collecting money in order to put up colleges when others are asleep. You think we shall stand here and say, "You here start a college tomorrow?" Colleges go where there are efforts, and when there are no efforts, say in my area, you think the Government is going to take the money over there and create a college in Kipsigis area? It will not! Colleges will go to places where people are sweating and are putting in efforts in labour and money. So, for the information of the hon. Member, we shall not consider Kisumu or Mombasa if there are no buildings and leave out, for example, Murang'a College of Technology when it is ready after people have put it up and there is accommodation—we shall take over such college. So, this is the system. Just go home and tell the people to put up colleges in the local areas because it is the one way in which we shall be able to build up this country.

Sir, I am not going to accept this Motion and therefore I oppose it.

Mr. Masibayi: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is the Minister trying to imply that the poor areas like Turkana, Karamojong and so forth, if they cannot raise money like Murang'a, will never develop?

An hon. Member: Tell us.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): It is the time for the Mover to reply.

Mr. Karungaru: On a point of order, in view of the fact that this Motion is very important, and in view of the fact that Members would like to contribute towards it, could it be accepted to extend the time if the House consented to it?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): That, of course, means that you will take up somebody else's time. It is up to the House to agree whether they will extend the time.

Hon. Members: No!

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Well, there seems to be some objections, and therefore we will stick to the ordinary rules.

Mr. Mwangale.

Mr. Koigi: May I say something?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No, thank you.

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is unfortunate that this Motion has been driven into some kind of tribal discussion, tribal Motion and what-have-you. It is also unfortunate, Mr. Speaker, that since the Minister for Education took over that job last year—I think I will be right in saying that he is unfit to hold that Ministry.

An hon. Member: He is too short to see far.

Mr. Mwangale: I am being very sincere. I think it is better for the Minister to hold a Ministry such as that of Co-operatives and Social Services or something like that. This is because I do not think he understands the magnitude of the problems of education, let alone even the philosophy of education. This drives us into a lot of problems and I think that Kenya as a country has been unfortunate for about three or four years now. This is because, continuously, since the end of 1967, we have had Ministers, who had been either so tribal that they do not understand the directions and policies which this Government should pursue in the field of education, or who have been simply unfit for the job.

An hon. Member: Terrible!

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not going to dwell on this subject because it is really a pity. First of all, I think that every one of us in this Chamber and the nation agrees that students who have qualified from every corner of the nation must be given a chance to go to that university. We all agree.

An hon. Member: In principle.

Mr. Mwangale: We all agree that that university should grow up as a great international university but not as a modified glorified high school. All of us agree with that. Mr. Speaker, we also agree that every province in this country must have a chance to have a provincial technical college or a university, for that matter. We all agree.

An hon. Member: That is the thing!

Mr. Mwangale: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we also all agree that our university is young. However, somehow, we are driven into tribal considerations. We have brought a Motion which is straightforward and which examines the university as it is today—the contribution towards the nation. However, instead of looking at it fairly, we have now come here to list down names to show that it consists of equal representation on a tribal basis. Of course, let us agree that this nation happens to be that from diversity. The diversity in terms of tribes, geography and everything—social, economic and whatever factor you consider, we happen to have it. We cannot, therefore, divorce ourselves from considerations whether tribal considerations, if you take them or whether they are geographical diversities or anything else.

[Mr. Mwangale]

We have to accept this fact. There is no point somebody coming here and reading the names of the members of the council. It is the principle of it. I know the Act. I argued on that Act, by the way and the Minister could not, in fact, present the Act in the first place.

Let us face it. Our aim is to develop this university not because we happen to have a Vice-Chancellor who is a Kikuyu by tribe. What we want is to have that university developed as a university that is dynamic and representative of the diversity of this nation. The university which we have in this country must, of all necessity, be responsive to the needs of this nation. Whether the need is in the Coast Province, Western, or North-Eastern Province, it must respond to that need.

An hon. Member: That is the thing.

Mr. Mwangale: I pointed that out very clearly, but unfortunately the Minister did not understand, that when you look at the physical development of that university, we do not know where we are going. I already know, by the way, for your information, that London University is a State University and that it has 20 colleges. These colleges are not all crowded in one area. They are scattered. They had at least a plan on how to diversify the college and how to distribute those colleges.

What have we done in this country? In this country, as far as education is concerned, we have left the entire planning of education to the Minister and the Permanent Secretary. We have an arbitrary selection of colleges. Who told you that Kenyatta College was the best college? Who told you that? Who told you that the Kenya Science Teachers College was not the best college in the country? The fact is that we have no co-ordination and no machinery to plan education at all. It is a matter of the Minister deciding that now we are going to take Bungoma Secondary School for Higher School Certificate—there is no plan at all—we are going to take Kenya Science Teachers' College to be a constituent college of the university because they have no planning at all. What we want is the machinery or some commission like the Professor Ominde's Commission, if you have ever read it at all. That Commission has dealt in detail about the education in this country. I can assure you that even the Minister has not, probably, read it and he does not know where we are going.

An hon. Member: You see; that is the trouble.

Mr. Mwangale: We have to begin to think straight.

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): Do not challenge me.

Mr. Mwangale: You challenge me if you want and I will question you on the chapters of that Commission's Report.

I am getting fed up, Mr. Speaker, with arguments that have no relevance at all. I have pointed out that in the council itself already, as he said, there is only one province which is not represented. I know that, and I even told you. I know that in principle, the Chancellor of this University, or the President of this country, can appoint people. All I am saying is that that Act was wrong. We all agree it was wrong. However because some of you had to sit and shout and stand up and say "Yes"—

An hon. Member: That is where we went wrong.

Mr. Mwangale: I know there are problems. I appreciate that there are problems in that university because we have to develop departments which have not been developed. I also know that there are so many loopholes in the so-called Appointment Committee and in the whole of that university today.

The Minister for Education: On a point of order. My point of order is this, Sir: is the hon. Member in order to misinform the House by saying that I have no plans when I have printed plans and he should have a copy of the plans? Is he in order? I have printed the plans for up to 1974.

Mr. Mwangale: I want him to tell me who planned that. He himself with the Permanent Secretary—

The Minister for Education (Mr. Towett): No!

Mr. Mwangale: —when he does not have anything to do with education but philosophy?

Now, look at the development: by the way, Mr. Speaker, the structure and the delegation of powers in that university—nobody has come out to say, "We have so many departments, we have so many professors and the young men who are now graduating and joining that university will have an opportunity to be promoted". Of course, I agree with you that because we are establishing these constituent colleges at least those young men who are now senior lecturers or readers or something like that, will have an opportunity to be promoted to something else. I also agree, that our university, compared to the other two universities is better off in terms of the quality of academicians. That is agreed and it is true that internationally, our university is more known than the other two universities. You can go to Makerere University—our university by the way— All those people who are here, some of them were at Makerere. They are the ones who made Makerere University to be what it is. However, at the moment there is a lot of confusion. We do not know where we are going.

We want somebody to sit down—it may be the Permanent Secretary if you like—plus other people who know what education is, and plan the university as it should develop in this country in terms of where our priorities are. Today, you have taken Kenyatta College as I told you before. Supposing that college was not called Kenyatta College but was called Mwangale College, would it have been taken? That is the question. In any case we took it; that is fine and well. However, in your own Development Plan, even in the University's Development Plan, they say we need science graduates today. If we can get science for the country, the Government requires science graduates and those people who can manage a science department. However, today we have gone and taken Kenyatta as a constituent college, which is developing as if it is a high school and has no connexion or links with the university nothing related, at all. However, you have said that it was established legally. What legality. If it is enacting a law here; it is true we did enact a law; however, it is developing as nothing but a separate unit.

Now, let us face it. We have Kenya Science Teachers' College, Egerton College and other colleges. What I am trying to propose here is that there should be a commission or whatever you call it to look into the whole development of university education in this country. Let us identify our priorities and be able to say, "Look, in this regard we are going to put a college—." It is necessary because, as I pointed out, of the diversity of this nation, to even start a college in the North-Eastern Province; irrespective of whether it is there today or not.

I beg to move.

MOTIONDIVISION OF MERU DISTRICT INTO THREE DISTRICTS

Mr. Muthamia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

THAT, in view of the fact that the Meru Administrative District covers an area of roughly 4,000 square miles with a population of over 590,000 people who are evenly distributed throughout the district, and in view of the administrative, developmental and social problems that afflict the area as a result of inadequate facilities and means of traverse long distances for the purpose of communicating with the District Headquarters in addition to the diversity of interests and needs that exist throughout the district, this House urges the Government—

- (a) as a matter of urgency, to initiate measures to divide Meru District into three districts which will consist of North, Central and South Meru; and
- (b) to establish a commission to investigate and recommend the boundaries of the three districts after consulting the Meru Njuri Nceke and Meru people as a whole.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this Motion, asking for division of Meru into three districts, was first brought in this House in 1966; that was on 27th May 1966. The second Motion, Mr. Speaker, was brought here in this House on 6th December 1968. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is the third time this Motion has been brought here and it has the consent of all Meru people, all elected hon. Members and the supreme authority of Meru which is known as Njuri Nceke. This is composed of all leaders in Meru.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, previously it was brought by a section of the people but this time it has been brought by a unanimous mandate of Meru people. Mr. Speaker, Sir, for the benefit of those people who do not know what Njuri Nceke is, Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform them that it was a party which used to govern Meru before the white man came. Even after the white man came the Meru people continued with that supreme authority and even at the moment Meru people respect the views of Njuri Nceke.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think in order to have a political Government which is democratic it is necessary to have a Government which has the support of those who are governed. In order to obtain this, Mr. Speaker, it is necessary for the Government to listen to the wishes of these people. I am glad, Mr. Speaker, to say that this is the wish of Meru people as a whole, and it is their democratic right that their complaints should be listened to and their wishes or desires be met.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, Meru District—for those who do not know the geography of the area—extends on the western side, to Nanyuki, Isiolo, Garba Tula, Tana River, Kitui—borders with Kitui District, it then borders with Embu District; it also extends to the peak of Mount Kenya where it borders with Nyeri District. Mr. Speaker, Sir, this in an area of 14,600 square kilometres or at least, 4,000 square miles. Mr. Speaker, Meru

[Mr. Muthamia]

District has a population of over 600,000 people at the moment.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the District Commissioner's office is situated about 54 miles from Nanyuki and it is about 60 miles from the furthest corner beyond Maua. If you go across towards Embu, it is exactly 68 miles to the Meru-Embu border, which is at River Thuchi. Mr. Speaker, Sir, that means that even the administrators who are in the district at the moment find it very difficult to administer the district because it is a vast area with a very big population.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, today when education, health, agriculture and special problems have increased with progress it is difficult for one administrator to be able to manage the district and tackle day-to-day problems. Mr. Speaker, Sir, for the benefit of those who do not know how Meru is administered, we have one district commissioner just like other places and we have one District Officer I, one District Officer II and one Special District Officer. Those four officers are in the District Headquarters. We have, Mr. Speaker, other district officers posted in various divisions. We have 26 chiefs in the district and 125 sub-chiefs. That means that we have 125 sub-locations in the district. Mr. Speaker, this shows that the population is really high and is scattered over a very, very big area. Mr. Speaker, Sir, to give you an example of an hon. Member here or a few hon. Members of this House who come from Meru, a Member like hon. Muturia, who comes from Nyambene North, represents 124,000 people, the other hon. Member, Mr. Mutua, represents 102,000 people. Mr. Mwongo represents 101,000 people. Mr. Speaker, Sir, very many districts in this country have more than 22,000 people. For example, if you take Lamu, there are 22,000 people; if you take Tana River, there are 50,000 people; if you take Laikipia there are 66,000 people; and in Marsabit District 61,000 people. They go on like that. Mr. Speaker, Sir, that shows that it is vast area. Isiolo District itself has exactly 30,135 people. Those people occupy one district. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the means of transport in the district is really very poor. It becomes very difficult for one administrator to administer the whole district. Let me take, for example, the agriculture officer, who is in charge of everything in the district which is very potential in coffee which is bringing in over Sh. 44,000,000 every year. This is a potential district which grows first class tea in the whole world. This crop brings in Sh. 4,000,000 every year. Cotton brings in do so.

Sh. 3,000,000, every year. Pyrethrum at the moment, Mr. Speaker, Sir, brings quite a lot of money into the district. For the information of the hon. Members in this House though there is no quantity of pyrethrum in the district but there is quality. This is because for the last three years Meru District has been holding the Farmers' Cup which is given by the Agricultural Society of Kenya. Meru District should be congratulated for this. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the best tea in the world at the moment comes from Meru. The best tea comes from Africa, but when we look where it comes from in Africa, we find that it comes from East Africa. When you look for where it comes from in East Africa you find that it comes from Kenya. When you go further, you see that it comes from Meru District. Therefore, tea grown in Meru is the first tea in the world. For that matter, Mr. Speaker, Sir, an agriculture officer or a district officer who is catering for all this finds it very difficult to do so. The dairy industry, where Meru people have come up, is because they have sold their former cattle and they have now turned to grade cattle. They are supplying a lot of milk at the moment to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries. When it is very dry in other places, at the moment on the slopes of Mount Kenya, it is not dry. Mr. Speaker, Sir, Meru people are feeding many people because they supply the Kenya Co-operative Creameries with milk. When it is very dry as it is at the moment, it is not dry on slopes of Mount Kenya and we are supplying milk to the Kenya Co-operative Creameries. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, the agricultural officer in the whole district, as it is, now cannot do much. Therefore, we want this district, Mr. Speaker, Sir, to be divided into three districts.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the veterinary officer who is stationed at the headquarters finds it very difficult to cover the whole area. When someone comes to report he has to travel 68 miles from the border between Chuka and Embu where they have very good grade cattle. Maybe his animal is suffering from milk fever. If an animal is not vaccinated within 12 and 18 hours, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it dies from milk fever. Mr. Speaker, Sir, most of our people have lost very good cattle because of the milk fever. This is because the veterinary officer is really too far away. He is one of the hard working people. He is a person who is devoted to help Meru people. However, he cannot do that. Mr. Speaker, because he covers a very vast area over which even if he is forced to do so with a rifle or a revolver he cannot

[Mr. Muthamia]

Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is the time our people need education. Children who sat for Certificate of Primary Education examination in Meru were 14,000. There is one county education officer who covers the whole area. How can this county education officer really supervise all these schools which are scattered all over the place occupying 14,600 square kilometres? Mr. Speaker, Sir, this is really very difficult. No matter how the education officer tries to help people, he cannot do it all. It is really very difficult. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have very good Government officers in the district who are trying their best, but Meru people want a senior man near the farmer, near the local person. This is why we want this district. Mr. Speaker, Sir, to be divided into three districts.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is my contention that at the moment, the planning of this country is based on a district basis and the smaller the district is, the better the chances for development are. Mr. Speaker, Sir, you compare a district of 100,000 people with another district like Isiolo District with 30,000 people or with another district 600,000 people like Meru. The Government gives priority to all the districts equally. However, it does not concern itself with the fact whether a district has more population or whether it has less population, Mr. Speaker. When I come to population, Mr. Speaker, Sir, Machakos at the moment as a district covers an area of 14,700 square kilometres and the inhabitants of that area are 787,000 people. Meru people number about that, but I have already mentioned that. Kakamega comes second. There are very many people in Kakamega, but they are congested together. One square kilometre in Kakamega is occupied by 220 people because the area is very small. The area itself is 3,600 square kilometres. Mr. Speaker, Sir, when we come to Kisii District, we find that it is the most highly populated district in the country with approximately 675,000 people spread over an area of 2,200 square kilometres, and that is an average population of 304 people per square kilometre. Mr. Speaker, Sir, if we take Central Province as a whole, we find that it is about 13,000 square kilometres, while Meru District alone is about 10,000 square kilometres. The whole of Nyanza Province, Mr. Speaker, is 12,000 square kilometres when Meru District is 10,000 square kilometres. Mr. Speaker, Sir, Western Province as a whole is smaller than Meru District. The whole province is only 8,000 square kilometres while Meru District is 10,000 square kilometres and it is merely a district. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I do not see why Government should refuse to see this. These are facts and you can find them,

Mr. Speaker, in the census which was carried out in 1969. Mr. Speaker, Sir, Kirinyaga District has a population of about 216,000 people in an area of 1,000 square kilometres. Nyandarua District, Mr. Speaker, which has a population of 176 less than the people represented by the hon. Muturia in 3,000 square kilometres. Embu District, Mr. Speaker, has 178,000 people in an area of 2,800 square kilometres. Trans Nzoia, Mr. Speaker, Sir, has 124,000 people in an area of 2,000 square kilometres. Elgeyo-Marakwet has a population of 159,000 people spread over an area of 2,000 square kilometres. Uasin Gishu has a population of 191,000 people spread over an area of 3,000 square kilometres. Nandi District, Mr. Speaker, has a population of 269,000 people spread over an area of 2,000 square kilometres. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, Sir, why can Meru District not be divided into three districts if it has enough people to justify this? This is really very wrong, Mr. Speaker, and very much so if Government is not going to accept this Motion.

Mr. Speaker. Government at the moment might argue about the building of offices. As you know, Meru people— As I have already said, Mr. Speaker. Meru District has a great deal of potentiality and the Meru people are prepared to build these offices if Government is going to contribute something towards this.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to move, and Mr. Muturia is going to second my Motion.

Mr. Muturia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I rise to support this wonderful Motion moved by my hon. colleague, the hon. Muthamia and without wasting time for my other colleagues so that they may have a chance to air their views, I am going to be very brief. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am sure that the hon. Minister and his Assistant Minister who are very keen to understand the problem, and it is good because they seem to note something down about this. I can also see them smiling and this means they understand the problems of this district. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would simply call Meru District by a very simple term, that is: a mother district in this Republic. I am not saying this because other districts in the Republic are not good, but what I mean is that Meru District is a mother district to the rest of other districts in the country because of the following facts:

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is only Meru District which is a multi-purpose district combining everything found in Kenya except copper which is found in Ghana and there is no copper anywhere in Kenya. However, anything else we have in Kenya is found in Meru and that means Meru can stand on its own economically, socially and politically. Mr. Speaker, we have ten industries with very good shares in Meru District—

An hon. Member: Do you want secession?

Mr. Muturia: No, Sir. We want to be in Kenya but we should have three districts in Meru. Mr. Speaker, we have ten main industries which are doing very well in Meru better than in any other place. Take for example—and I want to go quickly to the dairy industry and the hon. Minister and the Assistant Minister should go on noting this down although they have some other records on this. Mr. Speaker, Meru District is going to lead in the dairy industry and there is no exaggeration about this and you can ask the agricultural experts. When we come to the tea industry, Meru District is almost leading and only headed by Kericho, but even though, the quality of tea in Meru District is wonderful. When we come to the coffee industry, again, Mr. Speaker, we are leading. Let us move on to the cotton industry. We are not doing very well and I think we are number three and it is only that the Ministry of Agriculture is not accelerating the development of the cotton industry while we have given them a lot of acreage to plant the nucleus of cotton. Mr. Speaker, when you come to the timber industry, you find that lorries and trailers are continually going slowly to Meru because the road from Meru up to here is tarmacked and you see them bringing timber this way. We have a great deal of timber in Meru. Mr. Speaker, when we come to the tourism industry, we have the best in this country and, I think, in East Africa.

An hon. Member: What have you?

Mr. Muturia: We have the Meru National Park where the famous film "Born Free" came from, a film which has gone all over the world, Mr. Speaker, let us go to the maize industry. The maize from Meru District feeds the whole of the Central Province, although we are now sharing this with Kakamega District because we are half-way. We supply maize northwards and Kakamega District supplies maize westwards, but all the same, I think, we have a good position as far as the maize industry is concerned.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, when we come to the miraa industry, we find the situation is rather funny. There is no other place where we have miraa which brings in a lot of money in million of shillings to this country as Meru District. Apart from Ethiopia, Meru District produces most of the miraa in the world. However, Ethiopia does not produce as high a quality miraa as Meru District does. Mr. Speaker, when we come to the beef industry, we find that the Meru people have cattle enough to feed the entire population of Meru as well as other parts of Kenya. Due to the population of beef in Meru, the Meru people decided to set aside one section of their district which we call the northern grazing area to keep cattle for no other purpose but the beef industry, for both local and overseas supply. Mr. Speaker, you can see lorries and trains from Nanyuki carrying beef to the Kenya Meat Commission.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, let us go to number ten industry—the mining industry. You have heard recently the Minister for Natural Resources sending the General Service Unit to sack somebody who played about with minerals somewhere in that district. There are plenty of minerals at Tharaka as well as in the whole northern side of my constituency, that includes Kina, near my friends' areas, the hon. Bonaya and Kadir who are my neighbours. Mr. Speaker, Sir, the whole of Meru District has a lot of prospective minerals. There are many prospectors who are going there individually, after having licences from the Kenya Government and therefore, you see the mining industry is good for that area.

Mr. Speaker, we have six or even organized area councils and very soon, we the Meru people, are going to be rather sorry in that we have some of the area councils organized in such a way that they are stronger than most of the county councils in the Republic. Mr. Speaker, out of these seven organized area councils, Government can easily select only three so that we may have them to stand as county councils for each district, that is, north, central and south. I am saying this because we have several area councils on one side and others on the other side. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, there is no problem. It cannot be as much of a problem as was with Kisumu District, where the people were to build new offices for the county councils and all this. We have them ready and the Minister knows that, especially Mr. Kamwithi Munyi. Mr. Koinange also knows this place very well, and Mr. Rubia is our witness. He has often been to Meru. He will speak on this Motion.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we want loan facilities. When the Kenya Government makes an allocation of loans a small district is given an equal amount of money as that given to Meru. Mr. Speaker, we might die of hunger because the place which is served—you know our tummy is bigger—and you cannot feed a big man on a small plate like a small child. You make the big man suffer. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, we want three districts so that when there is something to do with loan considerations, we shall have three sections.

[Mr. Muturia]

Mr. Speaker, communications is one of these items which, I think, forces the Meru people to feel that we should have three districts so that they may have proper communications not only for Members but also for the administrative purposes, because the administration is finding it very difficult, and if you ask any district commissioner, or district officer or any officer in Meru District right now, he will tell you, "My friend, we are really dying. It is too much and we cannot make it". But they are trying very hard, Mr. Speaker. If it were in my power, all the officers working in Meru District could be promoted in a matter of two years because they are really working under difficulties.

Mr. Speaker, when we go to the question of hospitals, we are not going to cry in Meru when we have three districts that you should build us each a district hospital. We have several hospitals. We have Chogoria, which His Excellency opened. That can stand for Meru South. We have Nkubu and Meru Town which could stand for Meru Central. We have Maua and Muthara coming soon which could serve Meru North. You see, there is no problem. There are facilities plenty of health centres and dispensaries.

When we look back at the colonial times there used to be a district divisional officer, district officers, district assistants and a special district officer, as Bwana Muthamia has said. That was so because the divisions were too big, but, Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is only one district now.

Mr. Speaker, with those few words I beg to support and ask the Minister to consider this Motion.

(Question proposed)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I do not know whether you would like to speak at this stage, Mr. Koinange. You will be replying, will you not?

The Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Koinange): I want to propose an amendment and afterwards I shall reply because there is not too much to question.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): What that means is that you will not have any other opportunity to speak. So I do not know whether you would like to speak now.

The Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Koinange): Well, I would allow another Member to speak before I speak.

Mr. Nyaga: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. While supporting this Motion I shall add a few words to what has been spoken by the previous speakers.

As the two Members have put their case, that district is too large to be administered properly. I know it. I do not come from there, but I have lived there. It is so large that moving from one end to the other—from Embu South to the northernmost point, it would take almost the whole day. From the other side, that is, from west to east it will take another day. So the case is serious. When you have such a huge district we know very well that the progress will be hindered if there are difficulties in administration, trade, education and the other things.

Government should consider this case very seriously, and if they cannot divide this into three at all then let them at least—

An hon. Member: No. It had better remain as it is rather than dividing it into two districts only.

Mr. Nyaga: Let them divide it into two, if it is possible. That is my opinion.

Alternatively, as we Embu people—as a smaller district—are neighbouring you if you do not mind probably you would give us one part as a share. In the old days part of that Meru District used to belong to Embu. We would not mind at all if that part were added to Embu. We shall do quite a lot in the development of our new district. Formerly, the part of adjacent to Embu, that is, Chuka and Mwembe, which is developed—

An hon. Member: You are spoiling your case now.

Mr. Nyaga: Well, it is very attractive to us. If they are willing, and if they are keen— We are also related to them, but it is up to them to make up their minds. That is just a suggestion. If their idea is to remain I support them wholly.

Hon. Members: Very good.

Mr. Nyaga: The administrators, the district officers and the others under them are covering such huge areas and these parts may lag behind because of the difficulties of transport. When it rains it is so difficult for them to see what is happening in the areas they administer.

During the dry season there are problems of travelling around. They do not use Government vehicles extensively as they are not allowed to do so, in which case this calls for smaller areas to be covered. Generally these Government officers are overworked. You find a divisional education officer covering a big area, as large of some of the districts we have in Kenya. In this case he will not be able to do the job properly. He would like to do the job, but, Mr. Speaker, there are the obstacles of distances and all the rest.

[Mr. Nyaga]

If you consider the people who live in this district, it is as if there are several tribes. From one end which is next to Embu to the other end, Igembe side, you may think that they speak different languages. An outsider who knows a person who comes from Chuka or Mwembe, or a person coming from Meru, he may be mistaken that he comes from Embu. This means that because of this great difference the distances are great. There would not have been such differences in the dialect unless the distances between these groups of people were less.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) left the Chair]

[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki) took the Chair]

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if the Government accepts this Motion which I hope they are going to accept and thus divide the district into three parts, it will also bring about economic progress. It takes a trader, from this end to travel 60 miles to Meru to buy his goods and this distance of 60 miles makes 120 miles on a return journey. Such a trader will be so much discouraged because of the distance covered. Even if he is a small trader, he may have to hire a vehicle but there are not many traders who can afford that luxury of travelling 120 miles to get their goods from the headquarters they now have in Meru Town. So, if we have three such headquarters we know very well that those headquarters will also grow into large trading centres and instead you will find a trader covering only 30 miles return journey to get his goods. It will then assist the traders, it will assist travellers, it will assist those who have to travel 120 miles to meet the District Commissioner at Meru Town. The other day, Sir, there was the question of people travelling all that distance to get identity cards and others to get application forms for loans. There cannot be so many people; if not getting good service it will not be attractive to travel all that far. Usually when you go to Government offices and your requirement is not fulfilled, you may have to travel there several times. Where will the common man get the money to travel all that distance trying to meet the district commissioner. So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, on this side of the matter, it is a hindrance. Some people may live for years without even considering to see their own headquarters because the distance is just too great.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, one of the speakers, suggested that because these people are rich, they are prepared even to put in some of their own money in order to assist the Government to put up two new headquarters. It is very encouraging that there are such people in this country who are prepared to assist, with their own money, to put up more headquarters in one of the places where the Government may be considering. As we were told, that these people are wealthy—they have coffee—they have the most money and they even take the trouble to travel all the way to Embu to get their goods and with all this money they will help a lot in developing this district so as to have smaller ones which will serve peoples' purpose. They have all the wealth as we were told.

There are minerals that have not yet been exploited—I have seen a few of them—and with the minerals they have on the Tharaka side, I suppose, Sir, if they are exploited fully, they will be able to build these headquarters and there will be no problem of headquarters for them. We have the manpower, we have the people to look after these districts. It is not the same case as with the medical service where we are told we have no medical personnel. We have people who can be appointed as district commissioners, district officers and so on; so lack of personnel is not the question. At the moment, these other two places which will have to have their own headquarters have a nucleus of their headquarters; they have a few offices here and there. So, it is the question of using a little money to see that these centres are built into proper districts headquarters. I will not add anything more to this because the case is quite self explanatory, and as have been told by the previous speaker there is a great demand for this district to be split into three.

With these few remarks, I beg to support.

Mr. Mwongo: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to support the Motion. Being one of the Meru people, if the Mover of this Motion could bring this Motion as demanding the Government to split Meru District into four districts, I think that could sound better. This would also benefit the Meru people more than when it is split into three districts because of the vastness of the Meru District. However, because the Motion was brought requesting the Government to split Meru into three districts, I beg to fully support the Motion.

The reason for saying this is that Meru District is so large that development is very slow. If we compare Meru with the other districts, which are comparatively very small, there are 17 districts within the Republic which have less population than Meru population divided by three. There are about five districts, among the 17, which, if they are formed into one district, would not amount to the population of Meru alone. These districts are, if I may mention, Kwale, Lamu,

[Mr. Mwango]

Taita, Tana River and Nyandarua. If these five districts are joined together, they will make a population of 560,000 people while Meru alone has 590,000 people or about 600,000 people. If I go further and divide the 17 districts which I mentioned earlier, Isiolo is another one and this has a population of 30,000 people. If I should try to avoid what the Mover had already said, these districts are, Isiolo, Marsabit, Garissa, Mandera and Wajir. If these other districts are joined together, their population would be less than that of Meru alone. The population of these five districts is 330,000 people. That is a half of the population of Meru District at the moment.

Further, I do not know what reasons the Government would give to this House should they refuse to split Meru District as requested. Meru District is highly potential and so large that about a half of it is not developed. However, by requesting to have three districts instead of one, we feel that our people will be better served by the Government and Meru will develop faster than it is doing now and this will also create employment within the Meru District itself.

I wish to draw the attention of the Minister to the fact that if Meru was split into three districts, as we have surveyed already and seen that if specialists are sent there, and if they could divide the district according to how we view the division should go, how people could live socially, each district could have a potential area which can be planted with tea, pyrethrum, coffee and cotton.

Therefore, these potential areas which I have already mentioned would be catered for within each district, if this proposal is accepted.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, coming to Embu District which is our sister district, we have a common boundary, if you compare that district, you will find it has a population of about 180,000. Embu's population is one-third of Meru District. Therefore, the reasons which made our hon. Government to make Embu District as one district, I hope will be the same for splitting Meru into three districts. By referring to agricultural potential of Embu, it is almost equivalent to Meru District. They have places where they can plant cotton, tea, coffee and pyrethrum.

I would like to draw the attention of the Government to the fact that we are not requesting that Meru District be split into three for the sake of prestige. Our aim is to try to extend development within the rural areas. Already I have mentioned that about half the district is not developed. I wish one of these days some of the Members of Parliament—next week or so—will fly or come to Meru to see things for themselves. I am sure they will realize that what we are saying is quite correct.

Unless our Government intervenes and helps us to split Meru into three districts, the area will never develop quickly, it will take more than 20 years to have development.

If you go to some places you will find people have never seen cars, vehicles of any kind, not even lorries. Many Members may think I am exaggerating but this is not so. In January we went with the new district officer to Kunati where our people were surprised to see a Land-Rover. This is a very remote area, the remotest area of this district. We met a Catholic priest who had paid the school fees for 25 children but the children refused to go to school because they did not understand what a school was for. Our Government should look at those areas which are lagging behind, I do not mean Meru alone. There are such places in Ukambani, in Masailand, Samburu and the North-Eastern Province which are lagging behind.

These are the reasons for our request to split Meru District, there are no other reasons. We are honest people of Meru. We would like the Government to listen to us and try to divide Meru into three districts as quickly as possible.

During the colonial times when we had no division, there were no roads there. When we told the colonialists to move out of our country so that we could get a chance to develop our areas, our Government added more divisions. We want, at present, to see that development is extended to our divisional headquarters. However, we are told that electric power cannot be supplied to the remote areas.

Our Government has already added other two divisions within my constituency, and I feel very bad about it. The people of Tigania in Nyambene South are thankful to the Government. The same applies to Tharaka which has about six divisions within the district. If you compare Tharaka today with the previous years, 1965 and 1966, you will see tremendous development in the services rendered to the people.

With those few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to support.

Mr. Kadir: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I stand to support the Motion and I do not see the reason why the Government should not agree with the hon. Members' request. In fact, if the Government is for the people and wants to help them, then this is a genuine case where the Government should help. It should look into this request. If districts are based on population, then Meru is well populated. If it is a matter of distance, then the area is so vast that one administrative officer cannot, in fact, administer the whole area effectively. So it is high time the Government saw to it that the whole country is developed.

If you go to Meru today you will find, as the hon. Member has stated, that there are people who have never seen cars. I would like to say there are some people in Meru District—I have been in Meru District and I have been visiting that area—who do not know which Government is in power today. They do not know whether this is a Colonial Government or whether this is their own Government. This is true because if you go to the reserves you will find that there are people who do not know which is the present Government.

It is better for the Government to accept this Motion. The Motion only is asking for division of the district into three for the quicker development of the area.

I do not want to say much on this Motion and I beg to support this Motion and, at the same time, ask Government to accept it.

The Minister of State, President's Office (Mr. Koinange): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I want to take this opportunity to express gratitude to the Mover and the Seconder of this Motion because of their attitude and their approach which covered many of the points I wanted to put forward. The few errors which I want to correct because I do not want to oppose are these: First of all, for instance, in part (b) of the Motion, if we have a commission appointed for Meru, Machakos, and Gusii or for these, at least five, which the hon. Mover mentioned that are really serious and he was good enough to give the numbers and the figures which I was also preparing to quote, then if the money will go to the commission to investigate something which could be given almost at once in one cover, I, therefore, think it is not necessary to establish a commission. There is some other way to do this, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

The second point is this, Mr. Deputy Speaker. The question of Meru as the hon. Member suggested in part (b) of the Motion that people as a whole are consulted, then the Meru Njuri Ncheke are equally consulted. This is because they are not one part and the people of Meru, as a whole, another. Therefore, there are some minor points that are covered. If the population of Meru is covered, then the rest are covered.

Now, what I am interested to show, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is this. Recently we had a Motion which was passed last year by this House regarding Machakos and it was accepted. This one is also going to be accepted with certain amendments. But, the point is this: If we accept every Motion of this kind which is tabled in the office of the administration and some other Motions come and no real action is taken to implement them, then the House will say that we have been passing Motions here and nothing has happened which we believe would be taken as a bad name for the Office of the President. Now what we have suggested is this.

I was in Meru not long ago—last weekend—and I found that from the point of view of the organization it was superb and wonderful. The whole country almost collected together and the activities of police were almost negligible. People at Chogoria were totally peaceful. Those who were on the way to meet the President did not need any police officers. So, when the Mover of the Motion says that the questions of administration in that area is bad, with all due respect to him I do not agree with him on that. This is because of that pride which we saw when we were there.

The second point, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, is this. I agree with him, and even with his supporters, when he says that Meru has been the backbone of the economy of the country. I can add Gusii also, Mr. Speaker. This is because when the country—Kenya—was not allowed to plant coffee in years past, it was only in Meru and Gusii that coffee was planted. It was only in those two areas, Mr. Deputy Speaker. The quality of production has been there, Mr. Deputy Speaker. The only question that I would really ask is this: If it is a mother district and you ask this House to take the scissors and cut into various parts, is it for the question that the father asks. This House and the President—Mzee Kenyatta—and the country is the father, not only of Meru but of every district and every province in Kenya. That father has to think twice whether the divisions requested are really for the consolidation and for the proper development, or it is to necessitate an unnecessary split. Yes, divisions will come and they are necessary for our economy but the number required has to be consolidated between the father and the mother to find what areas or what parts should be divided. I want to take this opportunity, Mr. Deputy Speaker, to ask Members to listen to me on one particular appeal only. These questions are very urgent and are seriously considered by your office of administration and I am saying this with the utmost sincerity. However, I want to put one big appeal to the hon. Members. His Excellency the President, in his opening of Kyeni Water Supply announced the national policy of water development throughout Kenya. He said that throughout the country, he wants the country to take an active part so that water was in every place, be it Kakamega, Kisii, Masai or Meru, people will have water. He requested that we should tighten our belts so that this question of supplying the country with water takes the first priority.

I am asking you, brothers, if you have to implement this tomorrow, it would mean this: the money for building or putting up a building for a separate administration and the staff required in these five places, will be a lot. All that I am asking hon. Members, through the Speaker, is this: can we tighten our belts and be a little more patient—I am not suggesting that we delay this—but we must give the first priority to water supply in the country; not a substitute of this, but including this. This is because water is the life of this country. It is life for every mother, every father and every child and that is why our President is very anxious. Therefore, as a result, Government accepts this Motion with this amendment: delete all the words after the word, "District" in the eleventh line, and add the words, "any other districts in Kenya where it is justified for rapid economic advancement of the country; after the word, "and", in the twelfth line; delete all the words in part (b) of the Motion.

Therefore, the Motion reads as follows:—

"THAT, in view of the fact that Meru Administrative District covers an area of roughly 4,000 square miles with a population of over 590,000 people who are evenly distributed throughout the district, and in view of the administrative, development and sociological problems that afflict the area as a result of inadequate facilities and means to traverse long distances for the purpose of communicating with the District Headquarters in addition to the diversity of interests and needs that exist throughout the district, this House urges the Government as a matter of urgency; to initiate measures to divide Meru District and any other districts in Kenya where it is justified for rapid economic advancement of the country."

If hon. Members accept that amendment, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the Government accepts the Motion and we are very happy that the Member moved that Motion.

The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Anyieni): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I wish to thank the hon. Member, the Mover of this Motion, the Seconder, and everyone who has supported it and I wish even more, Sir, in seconding this amendment to support the Minister of State in the President's Office in the manner he has accepted this Motion and also for accepting the responsibility that whereas the people of Meru have a problem, there are many other people in Kenya who may be having similar problems.

I think, the amendment by the Minister will save this House some time because the next Motion to this one, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, also demands that South Nyanza be divided. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, if we had time, we would have put Kisii District to be the next one and maybe Machakos District, too, may bring another Motion. Nyeri District may also bring similar Motion. I think what the Minister of State in the President's Office has done is good because there would be no need, therefore, for such repetitive Motions.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, a father who produces children must at one stage accept the age of his children when they need to have their own houses. If a father refuse to recognize that his sons or daughters are old enough to have their own houses to live in and instead lived with them it would be culturally wrong. In the same way, Sir, this Government which is in charge of all districts should not refuse to review these districts with a view of dividing them if they have become too big, either in population, or in areas. Sir, in dividing these districts, I think several points should be taken into account. An area itself should not be a criteria of diving a district. For, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, there are certain areas—here, Sir, I may declare my interest—there are districts like Kisii District which have very a high population although the area is small. Kisii District has a small area but the population there is very big and when you have people crammed up together as they are now in Kisii, administratively, it also becomes a bit difficult for whoever the administrator may be. I am confident that when my Ministry was mentioning five districts, I am sure that the Minister was taking into account Kisii District as one of the districts which need division. I am very pleased, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, to see that a Minister has indicated that this is actually what he was saying.

We do not, Sir, want districts to be divided because we do not like each other. If this were the case, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it would then be said that you are not living with your brother in the same house because you do not like each other! It is just because you cannot do that—

An hon. Member: On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the hon. Member now speaking is saying that the reasons of splitting the districts are because we want to hate one another. That was not the issue and nobody has mentioned that. Even the Mover did not mention that point?

[An hon. Member]

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): That is not a point of order.

The Assistant Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Anyieni): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think the hon. Member is misunderstanding me. I have said that, for example, the Meru people do not want to be divided into districts because they hate one another. They want to be divided because they are too many to be in one district; one house! Nobody should demand division just because people have disagreed.

I am therefore, Sir, in seconding this Motion, hoping and confident that the Minister of State in the President's Office, as he has said that he will take urgent steps, will not take a lot of time to implement the urgent steps he has talked about. I think the people of the areas concerned, which he has shown me, need to be divided—urgently—into more than one district. In dividing a district, Government must see to it that the new district is viable because a district which cannot survive economically cannot be divided, because I know the Government would have a lot of difficulties in dividing it. However, I am sure that the districts which the Minister has mentioned are districts which are economically viable and which even if they are divided into three would be able to survive and not be beggars from the Central Government.

With those few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I wish to second the amendment because I know there are many Members who want to speak.

(Question of the amendment proposed)

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I promised Mr. Mbori that he will speak so as to cover his "South Nyanza Motion".

Mr. Mbori: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I would like to record my thanks for having been given this chance to air my views with regard to my Motion which I had already proposed and brought here. Basing my statistics on the 1969 census South Nyanza has a population of nearly 700,000 people and to the best of my knowledge these people are not all Luo because we have at the southern corner the Kuria people who are actually represented here in this Parliament and they too constitute a big proportion of the population of South Nyanza, and they have their interests, their problems and plans for social and economic development. Therefore, it would not be fair to keep tying them to South Nyanza, whose headquarters, at present, is at Homa Bay. South Nyanza, has a population which is so vast and presents problems which could best be solved if there were closer administration which calls for the splitting of the district so that these problems could be given closer attention so that the people can advance faster than they are doing right now. As I have said, the district is vast, covering an area of 2,250 square miles. This is so vast as you many recall that South Nyanza extends the whole way from Metainie Island in Lake Victoria up to the Highlands of Kisii and borders the Kipsigis Highlands as well, extending as far north as Lake Victoria and River Miriu where it borders Central Nyanza—the present Kisumu county. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, South Nyanza with this vast area and with a vast population cannot actually be developed faster in any other way other than by splitting it. To bring my point home, at the moment, we lack roads which could penetrate inwardly and wake up the areas which are away from the centre of development. Some areas do not even have footpaths where one could ride a bicycle. If we are going to live in areas where even bicycles can hardly be ridden, how do you expect to say that in an independent Kenya the people themselves are advanced? The people themselves claim that they have gone ahead—educationally, politically, economically and otherwise. I think at the moment the provisions which the Government has already made—I should not say they are limited—are satisfactory, and at least the Government has tried, except that the district is so vast and the people are so many. I would like to point out that this requires closer administration: we require many more locations and, more districts. I come from an area which is known as Eastern Division which has a population of more than 200,000 people and it is nearly half the whole of South Nyanza. The people of the Eastern Division had demanded this thing as far back as 1963. This was recorded with the county council when there was trouble in the county council due to difference of culture from various areas. South Nyanza people, particularly those in the Eastern Division had indicated a wish to get themselves a district. That same wish is still spoken of; that same wish is still being called for; that same wish is a demand that people of South Nyanza require and they can only speak about that through their Members of Parliament of whom, my hon. friend, Mr. Amayo is not here. However, I think I am speaking with the voice of Karachuonyo people that they require a district because they consider themselves a recognizable entity. This would be best expressed if the Government could implement my Motion now by which a district could be created so that they have their own district. Whenever people have something that they are proud of as their own, you will agree with me that their patriotism is not really demanded of them. They just give it as a corollary.

I would like the Government to take this into consideration because the Eastern Division of South Nyanza would not present any administrative problem. At the moment, there are enough buildings, such as those at Kendu Bay and those at Oyugis, which is the existing divisional headquarters at the moment and, therefore, it has the necessary equipment. If the Government would see it fit and look at it when the funds do permit, we would appreciate the effort to create the Eastern Division into a district. That would cater for the welfare of the people of the Eastern Division or district which will be named Karachuonyo.

I am not trying to say that South Nyanza should consist of two districts only. As I have indicated, an area of 2,250 square miles of land with a population of 700,000 people is too vast for a single administrative district headquarters. At the moment, the existing district officers and district commissioners and all the other staff find it rather too difficult for them to administer this vast district.

You will believe me that the immediate solution to some of these problems is in the creation of a district or two being created so that the problems that arise far away from the district headquarters can be given immediate attention.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, things like schools, and tarmac roads are required in the existing South Nyanza District. However, they would be speeded up more quickly if each district had its own plans to look at and its own development committee; and if each district had its own administrative staff to look into the problems that affect a place like South Nyanza. I am speaking the voice of my people. Eastern Division has everything to support this idea. Fees run into millions of shillings which turn up pretty quickly. This could support the educational system in the area. The tax returns are so favourable and so healthy in the area that the work would be carried on pretty quickly.

We have the manpower to carry on the administration of the Eastern Division if it is made into a district. I am sure the other areas in South Nyanza could give the same views.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, South Nyanza has remained so long, compared to the other places, lagging behind in development. This has been due to the fact that it has never been given closer administration.

The existing trend of saying that when you create a district you tend to deter development, to me, is not a good argument. I would rather we created many of these districts when the funds permit and where conditions do really favour it. We should create many of these districts so that the country as a whole advances. I hope the hon. Members will support me in this and the Government will do something.

EXTENSION OF TIME

(With leave of the House)

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order, perhaps I should explain that the Mover is due to reply now but if it is the wish of the House since we do not have any other Business thereafter, we could, possibly, extend the Motion to half past twelve. That is if it is the wish of the House. Is that the wish of the House?

Hon. Members: Yes.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): In which case the Mover will be called upon to reply at twenty minutes past twelve, instead of now. This gives an opportunity to other hon. Members to speak.

(Resumption of Debate on Motion)

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am standing to support this Motion and oppose an element of the amendment. The amendment is making the whole Motion terribly vague. This vagueness, Mr. Deputy Speaker, is something I do not accept. A leader is like a doctor and a doctor must decide that he is treating either malaria or pneumonia. The leaders of this district, have sat down, discussed and agreed that the best way of doing it is to have three districts. Once they feel that it should be three districts—the details of which location goes to which district can be worked out later. But the principle discussed and agreed by the people who live in that particular country, not only the people but also the leaders—because there is no other spokesman for a district other than the people elected by the people who live there—this is a Motion and you can see that the way in which it is framed it says all Meru; hon. Members accept that there should be three districts. You can change the other details which are necessary but the word “three” is very necessary and should remain there because it has been discussed. In any case if at the end Government officials can sit down with the hon.

[Mr. Nthenge]

Members and convince them to divide the district into two or four districts, this can be done but at least the word “three” is so necessary that if we pass it as it is, an argument might develop later on. That, actually, as it is let it remain and we will be dividing later.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the Motion could also have asked in specified terms—we accept the Government should amend, particularly, the last part of the Motion, part (b)—for example—it is all right if we leave (b) of the Motion. You see when you omit the words “into three districts” you alter it so much that it will bring another confusion and it will mean longer discussion Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am well informed that Meru District has six divisions. It is, more or less, a grouping of two and making it into three districts. Now, my argument is this: if you make, for example two districts and start developing two towns as district headquarters, within a short time the districts will become too big and there will be confusion of division. If you prefer growth and have the three districts, you are sure of not interfering with them for many, many years to come. Those are the things taken into consideration in this Motion, in advance. In watering it down, so much, I think it is wrong, Mr. Deputy Speaker. There is a purpose and the purpose is to divide if Government agrees on that. To how many districts? To three. If the Minister amending the Motion told us what was wrong with three districts, he might have convinced us but he tended to accept the Motion but the basic word which is “three” tended to disappear.

The Minister for State, President’s Office (Mr. Koinange): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker. I actually did not say that I am confusing. I was not confusing. I said I used these two words—I used the phrase used by the Seconder when he said that Meru was a mother and I said that Government was also the “father”. I also said then, if they listened well that the consultation of the two—the principle of dividing is what we agreed on and since I am saying “for five districts” I did not want the five districts which are Meru, Machakos, Gusii, Kakamega and South Nyanza—I will not set the principle here and remove the conversations which ought to be carried on by the people who will negotiate according to the area. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I did not accept the word “Three” and I will not accept it but I will reserve that to be discussed by the people when they are negotiating.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! That was not a point of order, but a point of argument. I allowed it in order to facilitate our discussion because I think that was the matter and we did not want a breakdown of a minor point.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I was continuing and I said that I know that this Motion intends to co-opt, the other one which I had the honour of being asked to second, that is Motion which will be moved by hon. Mbori which also wants a division. I agree with the principle of dividing the district, but there is an element which must be considered in detail. I do not think this is a minor issue, but it is a very important issue particularly for the Meru people. They know probably that some of the civil servants want to divide it into two divisions for a purpose. But the Meru leaders— Mr. Deputy Speaker, here is where I stress who is a leader. Who is a leader? Why is he acceptable to his people? He is acceptable to his people. Therefore, when he talks he does not speak like an individual, but is speaking for the group of people which elected him. The group of people who elected him is the one which is saying this. All the six hon. Members from the same area including the many other hon. Members here are interested in the division of Meru into three districts. Therefore, why should you kill their ideas which they have considered for years to suit a particular advisor who is misadvising us with a purpose. I am already informed, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, that the idea is to try to belittle a certain Minister from Meru by dividing his division into several parts. There is a political purpose behind this. When things develop to such an extent this is the time we should object to them. Hon. Members from Meru know the right thing which should be done. We agree with the other part of the amendment which says that the same thing should be done in other districts. However, Meru District should be divided into three districts, the other, is something that can be agreed upon. The Motion was talking of a specific number, but the amended Motion talks of the district being split into districts. Therefore, once that is done, you cannot do otherwise. However, where there are three districts, you can consolidate them into two and cause less inconveniences than when it is one district. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to oppose this amendment unless it includes the word “three”. This is because I have explained why we are objecting to it. It is simply because there is a bad motive which we do not like. I am sure the Minister has been briefed about the whole thing and maybe he is thinking that some men have something else behind the move. This is wrong. We do not want these ulterior motives to exist, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

[Mr. Nthenge]

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to oppose the amendment entirely unless it includes the word "three".

(Question that the first part of the amendment in (a) that the words to be left out, be left out put and negated)

(Question that the second part of the amendment in (a) that the words to be added be added put and agreed to)

(The question that all the words in part (b) be deleted put agreed to)

(Question of the Motion as amended proposed)

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): There is still time for one more hon. Member to speak.

Mr. Murgor: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker. Sometimes it seems Ministers move amendments here to probably kill the intentions of hon. Members. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I stand to support the Motion and as I have said here before, one wonders what happens after we bring Motions here and pass them in this House. Mr. Speaker, Sir, last year, we discussed about the division of Machakos District and the Motion was passed in this House and so far nothing seems to have taken place. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, as far as Meru District is concerned, and I know about this because I have served in that district, the division of Meru District is long overdue. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Meru District is very big in area, the population is dense and the geography of Meru District—if anybody has been there will know—is very difficult, even with that long road from Embu through Ngumbu to Mutindua. You take a long time to travel around because of the rivers that you will have to cross on the way. Mr. Deputy Speaker, it is very difficult for administration purposes and I do not know why this has not been noticed long before by the Office of the President, that it is very difficult for Meru District to be administered by one district commissioner or one district agricultural officer because of the difficulties in travelling, because of rivers, hills and what-have-you. Meru District is a very highly potential agricultural area and should have been developed much more than it is today. However, because you have only one district commissioner, one veterinary officer, one district agricultural officer, one senior officer only for every department, progress is slow. To travel to every part of the district is very difficult and, therefore, the development of Meru has been hindered because of not having had it divided into three areas. Meru District needs to be divided into three. Some people, sometimes, think that when you talk of dividing a place it means you are dividing the people. You never divide the people but rather you give the people more services, more development, and that is what we want in this country.

The population is so large that—I have said before that there are other districts too which require to be divided. I said Meru should be divided into three. Kakamega into two. South Nyanza into two and—

Hon. Members: Into three.

Mr. Murgor: I might have said three. All right, three. Baringo also should be divided. Some other districts, too. This is all because the geographical conditions of the various areas calls for this division. Some people want me to say Kisii should be divided as well. Kisii has nearly one million people. Of course, you will need to have more officers to serve these people so that these officers can go into the areas to see what is happening, go into the affairs. However, Mr. Deputy Speaker, when you have one person only dealing with all problems, those problems can never be solved.

We should have more divisions in these districts. Sometimes when people come to Nairobi they forget all about the field, they never even go out to see what is happening back there. We have the Minister here and his Assistant Minister, they do not know about what is happening outside because they never go out there. We say things here but I would like to tell you this. It is good to rely on information given to you but it is always better to go out and see for yourself. In this way, the information you are given is additional to what you know. We talk here, we want these things to be done and nobody pays attention. There are only papers written and this how you get the information.

Sir, for the development of this country we need to split. This division business is not only for closer administration. Many people are now talking about getting provincial administration probably wiped out but the time for this may not yet have come. This question of splitting the districts is mainly for development, the development which is much more important than any other thing. If we can develop this country, well and good.

Meru should not be confused with other places. As we have said before, let Meru and Ukambani be divided.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order. Once the red light comes on hon. Members must desist from continuing to speak.

It is now time for the Mover to reply.

Mr. Muthamia: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am very grateful to hon. Members who have contributed to this Motion and for what they have said.

This Motion has been brought here through pressure from our people in Meru. It was initiated by Njuri Neeke mainly. When I say Meru people it includes all the Members in this House who are representatives of 600,000 people. They are the ones who brought this Motion here, together with their leaders, who met on 17th September, 1970. So I cannot see the reason why an officer in the field, sitting in an office, can deny the people of Meru their rights. The people say they want this, but they are told by an officer sitting in the office that they cannot have it. This is the thing which is very destructive. If we want unity we must show clearly that we want unity.

The facts which have been given by hon. Members in this House, Sir, are known and they are self-explanatory. I was very disturbed— The Vice-President, sitting here, is telling me there is no money. Where is the district commissioner living now, Sir? Can you tell me where he is now?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order. Address the Chair.

Mr. Muthamia: Sir, can the Vice-President tell me where the district officer in Nithi is living? The people of Meru are ready to contribute towards the building of the headquarters. Only two headquarters are needed. We do not want to build a big mansion for the sake of prestige.

When the provincial commissioner wanted some Harambee projects started in Chogoria, we contributed Sh. 3 million in a very short time. Why cannot we contribute today for the betterment of the Meru people? The Vice-President is the No. 2 in this country and he does not know whether or not we contributed Sh. 3 million. This is really shocking—

The Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. arap Moi): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I wonder whether the hon. Member is in order when I have not said anything to dispute the fact. We also know that other people also have contributed towards Harambee projects.

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): Order! Order! I must ask the House not to use a point of order to make a point of explanation or information. A point of order must be put to the Chair to decide whether the Member speaking is in order or not.

Mr. Muthamia: Sir, the district where the Vice-President comes from has over 161,000 people and when they are given priorities in the development of this country it is regarded the same as Meru which has a population of 600,000. Four times as much. This is very bad indeed, Sir. For a leader to say that these people must stay where they are until we develop and we will remember them when the time comes, is wrong. What time? Now is the time to divide Meru into three districts.

I want to touch on a few points which I did not deal with. The first one is about area councils. Some of the area councils in Meru have a budget which is as big that of some of the county councils in Kenya. This is a well-known fact. If these area councils are joined together they will make a very good county council, one which will cater for the needs of a district.

Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I do not see the point in refusing three districts for Meru. If we divided this district into three, north south and central. One district, the one in the centre, should consist of 220,000 people; the other one should have 220,000 people too and the third one should have 160,000 people. What is wrong with doing that? What is the idea in refusing something whereby the wananchi will get the fruits of this independence?

Meru politically has done well. Meru people started the Kenya African Union, the Mau Mau movement which fought for the coming of this Government—together with the Kikuyu—and it will be very bad to deny these people their rights.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, I do not want to tire the House any longer. All I would like to do is to ask the Government, because this is a genuine request, to divide Meru into three districts.

Sir, I beg to move.

(Question of the Motion as amended put and agreed to)

Resolved accordingly:

THAT in view of the fact that the Meru Administrative District covers an area of roughly 4,000 square miles with a population of over 590,000 people who are evenly distributed throughout the district, and in view of the administrative, developmental and sociological problems that afflict the area as a result of inadequate facilities and means to traverse long distances for the purpose of communicating with the district headquarters in addition to the diversity of interests and needs that exist

[Mr. Muthamia]

throughout the districts, this House urges the Government as a matter of urgency to initiate measures to divide Meru District into three districts which will consist of north, central and south Meru and any other districts in Kenya where it is justified for rapid economic advancement of the country.

ADJOURNMENT

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): It is time now for interruption of business. The House is therefore adjourned until Tuesday, 16th March, at 2.30 p.m.

PRAYERSNOTICE OF MOTION*DEMARICATION AND ALLOCATION OF LAND IN MERU

Mr. Mwongo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to give notice of the following Motion:—

THAT, noting that demarcation of land in the northern grazing area of Meru District formerly held by Meru County Council is continuing and noting that the area had been divided between Igembe, Tigania and North Imenti Divisions, and noting further that the Minister for Lands and Settlement has taken upon himself to complete and has completed, demarcation and allocation of land in North Imenti Division which is in his constituency, and is now arbitrarily demarcating land outside his constituency in Tigania Division and has allocated land in part of the division to 300 persons from his constituency without further reference to Tigania Land Demarcation Committee, this House as a matter of urgency, requests the Government—

- (a) to cancel and revoke the said illegal act of the Ministry;
- (b) to take steps to ensure that the Minister in question ceases to use up the functions of the duly constituted committee; and
- (c) to demarcate the boundary on the ground as agreed on 25th April 1970.

ORAL ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS*Question No. 74 (1316)WATER SUPPLY IN NYAANI MARKET

Mr. Kitonga asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House whether the Government was aware of the problem of Nyaani Market within Nuu Location where residents had no water.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. As I have said before, in this honourable House the procedure for introducing any water problems and schemes in any part of Kenya for consideration by Government is through the District Committees which the Members of this honourable House are always invited. The district determines the priorities of a particular project in relation to other projects of the district but does not forward it to my Ministry unless it considers, it has an adequate priority.

The case of Nyaani Market has not been brought up to my Ministry and I have a suspicion, therefore, that it is a project whose priority is not high as it has not been referred to us. I would, therefore, Mr. Speaker, through you, advise the hon. Member to take up the matter with his own District Development Committee.

Mr. Kitonga: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is he not aware that this has been delayed by the District Development Committee for about three years; if that is the case, why is the Assistant Minister saying that this has never been brought to his Ministry?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the truth is what I have said, that this scheme has not been referred to my Ministry.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from one of the Assistant Minister's replies, that probably the scheme does not have an adequate priority, could he elaborate to the House what he means by that because I am sure there are some schemes which have been given priorities but his Ministry has done nothing to implement them?

Mr. Wanjigi: This is absolutely correct. When a district determines its own priority, then, of course, it is upon Government to decide its own priorities in terms of the country at large. Therefore, a particular district may come, first, third or even fourth priority, in terms of the water development programmes.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, in view of the fact that he confesses this scheme has not been referred to his Ministry; can he now undertake to find out from the District Development Committee why this scheme was not referred to his Ministry?

Mr. Wanjigi: No, I cannot undertake to do that because, as I said, this is a democracy of the people and I think the people should decide which projects have the highest priorities and which would be referred to Government.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question, Mr. Nthenge.

*Question No. 139 (1447)PROVINCIAL REPRESENTATION IN STATUTORY BOARDS

Mr. Nthenge asked the Minister for Agriculture if he would tell the House whether he would reorganize membership of statutory boards to facilitate representation on provincial basis.

The Assistant Minister for Agriculture (Mr. Wanjigi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Appointments to our statutory boards are made for a specific period and published in the Kenya Gazette. It would not be in the interests of the country to terminate any of these appointments before that time, and certainly not without good reasons.

For the interest of this House, may I outline the two important criteria taken into consideration in the appointment of members to the statutory boards of my Ministry. First of all, the role a particular appointee is likely to play because of his professional, technical or practical experience to the aid of the running of such a board. Secondly, the role such a member may play as a representative of farmers affected by the activities of such a board.

Members are, therefore, appointed either because they have certain skills and knowledge required by a board or because they come from areas which have considerable numbers of farmers affected by the board and are considered, as useful representatives of such farmers. Consideration of provinces are, however, on whole, not disregarded or ignored. In some cases, it is true, representatives of provincial administration, usually in the form of provincial commissioners, who know very well the interests of their provinces, are also made. I do, however, assure this House, Mr. Speaker, that I will always endeavour as far as possible to see that the interests of the provinces are taken care of.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, is it not correct that people with a lot of know how could be found in provinces and therefore appointment on a provincial basis would be quite possible, taking the points the Assistant Minister has mentioned into account?

Mr. Wanjigi: It is true that you generally find qualified people in almost every province, but I think the over-riding criteria here—and I want to emphasize this—will not be on the basis of the province, because he is not, in any case going to represent that province, but maybe he is appointed because of his professional qualifications. I think it is in the interests of the country that he should think nationally.

Mr. Umuro: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Since this country's economy depends mostly on agriculture, and since every province is trying to do some farming, would it not be possible for the Assistant Minister to appoint the members of these boards from every province, so that every province will have a representative?

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, we cannot guarantee that; although, in fact, the country is by and large agriculturally based, there are crops which are predominantly grown in certain specified provinces. For example, the hon. Member who has just spoken does not grow pyrethrum, Sir, and there would be no purpose, in getting a person from North-Eastern Province, where pyrethrum does not grow, to be a member of the Pyrethrum Board.

Mr. D. M. Kioko: Mr. Speaker, according to one part of the Assistant Minister's reply, is he implying that we could have representation on these statutory boards, by people who have no merits, simply because the people in their areas are better farmers than people from other parts?

Mr. Wanjigi: I have not heard part of hon. Kioko's question; but, Mr. Speaker, I think one would say that all the members of our boards are men of high reputation, and merit their appointment.

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, would the hon. Assistant Minister tell this House why you find one Member sitting on several boards, as though we lack reputable people, who can also represent those other areas, instead of one Member being clamped up with so many boards, whereas other people can do the same job?

Mr. Wanjigi: I think that, Mr. Speaker, is a general question, and I would need a specific case—then I would be able to answer.

Mr. Koigi: Could it be that the Assistant Minister knows that there are individuals in this House, the hon. Members, who are members of more than five boards? That is why we are asking—No, he knows! He knows! You see—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! You have already asked your question, Mr. Koigi; you may sit down.

Mr. Koigi: He is only pretending that he does not know these people.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! Order!

Mr. Wanjigi: Mr. Speaker, I am sure there is no Member of this House, other than a Minister, for example, who can attend all those board meetings; there is no Member of this House who is on more than five boards in my Ministry.

Mr. Koigi: I think I will see the Assistant Minister on this in privacy because we do not want to mention people's names here.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question, Mr. Wachira.

*Question No. 141 (1452)*ASSISTANCE TO LANDLESS PEOPLE LIVING IN ITHANGA SETTLEMENT SCHEME

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Lands and Settlement if he would tell the House, in view of the fact that landless people living at Mithi-ini in Ithanga Settlement Scheme had assisted in clearing the bush for the survey team which had marked the boundary of settlement plots—

- (a) when these people would be settled; and
(b) whether he would arrange to supply them with food.

The Assistant Minister for Lands and Settlement (Mr. Amin): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I am not aware of a place called Mithi-ini in Ithanga Settlement Scheme, Central Province.

There is, however, a place in Machakos District, Eastern Province, called Ndithini, where this Department is to establish an ex-squatter settlement scheme as soon as the surveying and demarcation of plots is completed.

(a) The people resident at Ndithini have been organized by the Department of Squatter Settlement to assist the surveyors in carrying out their work and when the plots are ready for allocation, these squatters will be given first preference.

(b) There is no provision in my estimates for the feeding of squatters. This is normally done by the provincial administration, if necessary.

Mr. Kahengeri: Arising from the Assistant Minister's answer, what reason has the Ministry of Lands and Settlement to offer for keeping people who have been taken to a place like Mithi-ini waiting for years and years before they get their portion of land?

Mr. Amin: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we have taken these fellows down there so that we can be able to settle them; this is why they are there now.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, what does the Assistant Minister mean when he says that he does not know of any place called Mithi-ini, when just last month we employed a sub-chief for that area? What does he mean by telling us there is no Mithi-ini in Ithanga?

An hon. Member: He does not know his geography!

Mr. Wachira: He does not know the place!

Mr. Amin: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I can only repeat what I said earlier on; I do not know a place called Mithi-ini; in fact, it is not in Central Province, to begin with; it is in Eastern Province, and its real name should have been Ndithini and not Mithi-ini.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the Assistant Minister is confusing the issue; these are two different places. There is Mithi-ini in Ithanga and Ndithini in Eastern Province; the latter is in hon. Mutiso's area. I am referring to Mithi-ini, and not Ndithini.

Mr. Amin: Well, in fact, they all look alike when I look at Ndithini and Mithi-ini. However, as far as I am concerned, Sir, these settlement scheme fellows are in Ndithini in Machakos District.

Mr. Wachira: Mr. Speaker, Sir, further to the answer to part (b) of my question, what is the Ministry doing because these people are dying of hunger these days? I have been forced to go around asking for donations to feed these people—So, what is the Ministry doing instead of letting these people die there, why do they not settle them?

Mr. Amin: This seems to be quite a new story to me Sir, but if this is true, then I will investigate.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Wachira, your next question.

*Question No. 140 (1451)*IMPROVEMENT OF MURANG'A/TANA POWER STATION ROAD

Mr. Wachira asked the Minister for Works if he would tell the House whether in view of the fact that there was only one main road to Gikindu—Location 20, Murang'a—and that this road was not passable during rainy seasons, he would, as a matter of urgency, put murrum from the Murang'a/Nairobi main road via Kambirwa and Mirira Markets to Lower Tana—Power Station.

The Assistant Minister for Works (Mr. Keen): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Tana River Power Station area is served by Trunk Road A2, from Makutano to Sagana; Secondary Road D245 to the Murang'a/Nairobi road and Secondary Road D246 which, together with minor road E534, form a second link with the Murang'a/Nairobi Road, passing through Kambirwa and Mirira Markets.

My Ministry would like to have all roads brought up to high murrum standard or high gravel standard, but unfortunately the funds at our disposal are very limited and it has not been possible to include the Kambirwa/Tana River Station Road, in this year's programme. Let us pray it will be included, probably next year.

Mr. Wachira: Does the Assistant Minister agree with me that the people of Kambirwa in Location 20 of Murang'a do not even go to hospital during the rainy season because they cannot travel on that road?

Mr. Keen: I entirely appreciate the sentiments expressed by the hon. Member; but as I have already said, funds at our disposal at the moment would not permit us to do this.

Mr. Koigi: Is the Assistant Minister aware that most roads in those areas, including those in my division, are well constructed and all we are asking the Ministry to do is to put murrum on these roads?

Mr. Keen: I have nothing to add to what I have already said; I said we do not have funds for this year and, probably, if the hon. Member would care to Press this matter very hard, we may consider putting it into next year's programme. However, as far as 1971 is concerned, we do not have any unallocated funds.

Mr. Umuro: Mr. Speaker, Sir, since the start of this new Parliament, in 1970, the Ministry of Works has been promising to bitumenize all roads in Kenya: but up to now these promises have not been fulfilled in the rural areas: when will these promises be fulfilled? I think you ought to fulfil it, because it is quite a long time now.

Mr. Keen: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I have been in this Parliament for the last 13 months and I do not remember, at all, that at any place we promised or gave an undertaking that we are going to bitumenize all roads in Kenya: they total about 100,000 miles altogether, and that would require the entire revenue of this country for the next 20 years, if we are going to do so. Therefore, as far as we are concerned, we are trying to do everything possible so as to satisfy wananchi as far as road construction is concerned. For your information, before independence we had only 900 miles of bitumenized roads. Since independence another 600 miles have been constructed and we have another 300 miles under construction—in a period of seven years only.

An hon. Member: Where are these roads?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 148 (1469)

CONSTRUCTION OF KAPSABET/ELDORET ROAD

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. arap Saina not here? We will leave his question until the end then.

Question No. 128 (1427)

AGENCIES OF KENYA NATIONAL TRADING CORPORATION

Mr. arap Cheboiwo asked the Minister for Commerce and Industry if he would tell the House—

(a) whether it was true that the Kenya National Trading Corporation had agencies all over the Republic and how many they were; and

(b) whether he could give a district breakdown of Kenya National Trading Corporation agencies in the Rift Valley Province.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry (Mr. Osogo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. It is true that the Kenya National Trading Corporation has agencies all over the Republic and the total number in the Rift Valley Province is 1,050.

Breaking them down according to districts, in answer to the second part of the question, Mr. Speaker, Sir, they are as follows—

Nakuru	49
Uasin Gishu	49
Kericho	23
Trans Nzoia	19
Laikipia	14
Nandi	11
Kajiado	10
Narok	6
Baringo	6
Samburu	4
West Pokot	3
Elgeyo-Marakwet	2
Turkana	2
Total	191

Mr. Mutiso-Muyu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Minister tell us—I have heard him mentioning these places—why he did not mention Machakos?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Machakos is not in the Rift Valley Province!

Mr. Kanja: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the hon. Minister tell this House how long the Kenya National Trading Corporation has to continue being a middleman whereas our own people can handle what the Kenya National Trading Corporation is handling at the present?

Mr. Osogo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, as long as the Kenya National Trading Corporation is required.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, if I may give a brief explanation of why the Kenya National Trading Corporation was started—it was because we wanted to break through the big traders that have money and with whom Africans would not be able to compete. Therefore, the Kenya National Trading Corporation was created to come in the middle and take over all the business that was being done by the big traders so that Africans might benefit. Now, so long as that is still required, and so long as we schedule some items to be confined only to Africans, the Kenya National Trading Corporation will be in operation.

Mr. arap Cheboiwo: Arising from the Minister's reply, Mr. Speaker, Sir, that there are two agencies in some places, why is it that in some districts, for example Turkana, where there are still less developed areas, these agencies are very, very few? Is it because they do not supply some things or what would make them have a bigger number than that?

Mr. Osogo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the purchasing power of Turkana is very, very low and that is why there are only two distributors there.

Mr. Araru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir.

Arising from the Minister's reply, could he go further and say whether all these agencies for Kenya National Trading Corporation are for sugar only or are mixed agencies; and, if that is so, how many Kenya National Trading Corporation agencies are for sugar only?

Mr. Osogo: The question, Mr. Speaker, Sir, was about Kenya National Trading Corporation agencies of every type of commodity. If the hon. Member wants to know specific numbers of sugar agencies, then I would need notice of that question. However, I would like to inform the hon. Member that agents of sugar are also agents of some other commodities and it would not be true to say that they are agents for sugar, specifically, and sell sugar only. They distribute other commodities which come through the Kenya National Trading Corporation.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that the Kenya National Trading Corporation's main purpose is to put business in the hands of Africans, would the Minister agree with me that it would be advisable and, indeed more economical, I think, to spread business in the hands of Africans by making sure that the Kenya National Trading Corporation agencies—African agencies—only deal with one item?

Mr. Osogo: That is a very, very good suggestion, Mr. Speaker, Sir, and if the hon. Member could wait, as I think he knows the exercise which the Kenya National Trading Corporation is doing at this time, when we finish the exercise, the result of it might be what he has suggested.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 135 (1437)

PRIVATE MEDICAL PRACTITIONER: MUMIAS
CATHOLIC MISSION

Mr. O'Washika asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House whether since the Government was unable to post a resident doctor to Mumias Catholic Mission, he would consider giving financial help to the people of Mumias who badly need the services of a qualified private medical practitioner.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, before replying to this question, I would like to beg the House's apology for being absent on Friday because the circumstances that led all of us to be absent were unavoidable and we hope that we will avoid this situation in the future.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, now I beg to reply.

The employment of doctors for church hospitals is done by the church organization concerned and as such the question of posting a doctor to Mumias Catholic Mission by the Ministry of Health does not arise.

Church hospitals are given grants by the Ministry of Health after considering various factors that exist in the entire Republic and before that is done certain conditions have to be fulfilled by the church hospitals concerned.

Mr. O'Washika: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising out of the reply by my friend, Mr. Jahazi, is he not aware that we have a mission doctor stationed at a place called Mukumu Mission Hospital who goes to Mumias twice in a week—Tuesday and Friday—and this man is employed by the Government; and if that is the case, why can the Ministry of Health not give a directive that this man should be retained in Mumias Mission Hospital permanently?

Mr. Jahazi: Now, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we do not direct the missionaries as to where they should put the doctors whom they recruited themselves, but for the guidance of the Member, I would like to say that if this particular hospital wants to qualify for the Ministry of Health's grants, it should at least have this doctor residing there and employed for this hospital and, secondly, it should also have para-medical staff needed to run the hospital—I think they have that at the moment—and if the Mumias Mission Hospital can fulfil these conditions, then the Government will be prepared to consider making a grant to Mumias Mission Hospital as well as other hospitals. So, I would request the Member to go and see the head of the Mission Hospital in that and then we can talk it over in the Ministry after these conditions are fulfilled.

Mr. ole Marima: Mr. Speaker, Sir, knowing that the Government gives money to these missionary hospitals to help them, is it not envisaged that where we put money we can also direct that services be given to the wananchi?

Mr. Jahazi: I think the Member misunderstood the question. The money is paid where this present doctor is at the moment, but not at Mumias Hospital, although he does the rounds. So, in order for Mumias Mission Hospital and such to qualify for these grants, they have to employ a doctor who would be specially for Mumias Mission Hospital and then we would get this money. However, where they employ the doctors themselves, they can send them anywhere as long as they do not demand any grants from our Ministry for that.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next question.

Question No. 143 (1455)

DEATHS RESULTING FROM SELF-MEDICATION

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, before I ask this question, there is an error I would like to correct. The last word in the first line is "Pre-natal" and not "pre-matal".

Mr. Ebu asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House how many known deaths, abortions and pre-natal deformities in Kenya, to-date, were attributable to self-medication.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Minister for Health is aware that there is an illegal sale and buying of drugs—

Mr. Ebu: No! Not that one.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): I am sorry. Is it the other one?

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. Sorry for the little confusion.

No records are kept in the Ministry of Health of statistics regarding deaths, abortions or congenital deformities attributable to self-medication. In any case, any statistics produced would be quite unreliable as correct information regarding self-medication can hardly be expected because, Mr. Speaker, Sir, to add to that, these people hide away somewhere and they tend to make it very private and confidential. Therefore, we cannot have valid information to give to the Member.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, arising from the reply given to the House by the Assistant Minister is he implying that the Ministry of Health does not view this situation seriously because, apparently, according to him they have not taken any trouble to find out whether there is a serious situation in the country?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Member may know of these cases going on every night to the extent that he views them as serious. I hope he reports to us what is taking place now, what took place yesterday and last month and, then, perhaps, we can go into the matter. However, as far as we are concerned, we do not know of these cases and we have no means of going round, inspecting private places at night to see whether something is going on there. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, the Member would help us a little by giving us a few of the cases that he knows about.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, I think the Assistant Minister is trying to evade the question. Or is he trying to tell us that the Ministry does not have the facilities? If the Ministry was interested in such a situation it would have taken the trouble to investigate. I do not see why they should not do their own work and expect me to do their work for them.

Mr. Karungaru: Arising from one of the replies by the Assistant Minister, would he deny that most of these cases take place outside Government hospitals simply because Government has already admitted that some cases, say abortion cases, are not detectable? In effect therefore, the Government allows these cases to take place since it cannot control them.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I do not see the connexion between what Mr. Karungaru is saying and the question. The question asks about death, abortion and pre-natal deformities as a result of self-medication. There is nothing here to do with illegal abortions and so on.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, Sir, would the Assistant Minister tell us why these things occur so much? What, in their opinion, is the cause?

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, arising from the Assistant Minister's replies will he tell us whether there are any cases they are aware of, of death, abortion and pre-natal deformities occurring as alleged in the question, and if so, what steps are they taking to stop them?

Mr. Jahazi: I said we are not aware of them. There might have been one or two, and some of these cases have even appeared in the court, about illegal abortion or private abortion. However, we are not aware of any case, recently, to warrant calling the situation very serious. We are not aware. Sir, we would welcome any information from any ordinary citizen, from any Member who seems to know what is going on.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I think Mr. Jahazi has the same difficulty as Mr. Karungaru. Here we have the question of self-medication. That is all what the question asks for.

Mr. Jahazi: Self-medication?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Drugs which you decide on and administer to yourself, not because they have been prescribed by a doctor.

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, how would we know that. Anybody can go to the chemist and buy something there. However, we do not know of any case and we welcome information about any case that has resulted in this, if there is any.

Question No. 144 (1456)

CURBING ILLICIT SALE OF DANGEROUS DRUGS

Mr. Ebu asked the Minister for Health if he would tell the House if he was aware that a lot of dangerous drugs such as achromycin, streptomycin, Suta and the sulphonamides were being sold throughout the Republic particularly at the bus parks in Nairobi and Kisumu and on the Nairobi/Mombasa train—

- (a) if those involved in this business were not licensed to do so, what action the Ministry intended to take to control, if not to eliminate, this illegal trade;
- (b) since the introduction of the Dangerous Drugs Act, how many cases had appeared in Court and what the charges were.

The Assistant Minister for Health (Mr. Jahazi): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. The Ministry of Health is aware that there is illegal sale and buying of drugs which are grouped either as poisons or as dangerous drugs but the extent to which this illegal practice goes on is difficult to state accurately.

(a) It is illegal for unauthorized persons to be in possession of the drugs mentioned by the hon. Member. Those who are not licensed to possess such drugs are, therefore, liable to be prosecuted before the courts if found in illegal possession of the drugs. The law cannot be effective unless the public are co-operative and ready to report such offenders to the police. This is one of the factors which make total elimination of this practice difficult.

(b) The records of the people who have appeared in court under the Dangerous Drugs Act are with the police, for any hon. Member to go and check.

Mrs. Onyango: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister prove to the House that there has been any arrest to show that Kisumu and Nairobi people are selling this thing illegally? If he is aware that people are selling this thing illegally, could he prove to us?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know whether the hon. Member denies that she has never read anywhere about anybody being charged for stealing drugs or something like that. However, there have been cases and that is why we thought that if any Member cares to check with the police he will be told exactly how many cases have been taken to court.

What I would like to say is that the task of putting the police on to this is not our job; we have the law and we control the possession of such drugs. These drugs are imported, they could be stolen from the chemist, they could be sold by the chemist, these people could get them anywhere. They could even be stolen from the hospitals. It is the duty of the police to see that if somebody is selling these drugs in Makadara or by the Railways station, they arrest these people and ask them where they obtained the drugs from, and whether they have licence to sell these drugs, which I am sure they do not have.

Mr. Abubakar-Madhbuti: Mr. Speaker, Sir, can the Assistant Minister tell this House why Government should restrict the selling of these drugs if they are beneficial to the wananchi?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not think the hon. Member would be happy to go anywhere, for instance, to be given an injection, by anyone on the street. I am sure he would prefer only a qualified doctor.

What we say is that these drugs are not restricted to those people who are authorized: they are only restricted to those fellows who just pick them up and try to distribute them without even knowing what these drugs are.

Mr. Kahengeri: Mr. Speaker, Sir, from the arrests that the police have made and, perhaps, the Medical Department have made analysis of, have they found that some of the Sutas alleged to have been sold in Kisumu and Mombasa have been only imitation rather than the original Suta that we know?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, those who have been charged with possession of these drugs, including Suta, really cannot have been in possession of the imitation stuff. It is imitation they would have been charged with trying to cheat people, or some other charges. This was a real charge of possessing dangerous drugs.

Mr. Ebu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am most dissatisfied with the answer given by the Assistant Minister. I thought he should have given us—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Ask your question, Mr. Ebu.

Mr. Ebu: Arising from the answer he has given, will he give us the number of people who have already been charged under this Act because I do think his Ministry is responsible?

Mr. Jahazi: No, Sir, we are not really responsible for the arrest of these people. It is up to the police. They know the law, they know who should have and handle these dangerous drugs and, therefore, like for people who sell makadara bhang somewhere, we are not interested in actually prosecuting because we are not prosecutors. The law clearly states that it is not we who should arrest and prosecute these people. If the hon. Member is really interested—the cases were dealt with in a court of law—all he has to do is to see the hon. Martin Shikuku or any person dealing with the Police Department and he will get the full records of the proceedings in court.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, will he not agree with me that these drugs find markets because Government hospitals and Harambee hospitals cannot provide these kinds of drugs which are quite effective to our diseased wananchi and as a result people go for them everywhere rather than go to the Government or Harambee hospitals where they only get aspirin?

Mr. Jahazi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not agree that these drugs are not available in Government hospitals; maybe they are not in the Harambee hospitals, I do not know. They are certainly available in the Government hospitals.

All I would say is that the wananchi should not buy these drugs because they are dangerous drugs, as any doctor in this House would agree, and they have time limits. If they continue buying drugs from these people they may end buying their own poison and making these cases taken to Government hospitals as very serious cases of taking wrong drugs or drugs whose dates have expired.

So, Sir, I would like to tell the wananchi through the hon. Members here to discourage this habit of buying drugs from these pedlars in the back streets and instead to go to the hospitals when they are sick. They should not hide the type of disease they are suffering from.

Question No. 12 (1201)

HOUSING FACILITIES FOR EMPLOYEES OF UNIVERSITY OF NAIROBI

Mr. Kivuitu asked the Minister for Education if he would tell the House—

- (a) the number of African employees of the University of Nairobi employed on non-teaching duties were provided with housing facilities by the University and how many were not;
- (b) whether non-African employees of the University of Nairobi employed on non-teaching duties were provided with housing facilities by the University and how many were not;

- (c) how many women employees of the University who were married to persons who were employed elsewhere were provided with housing facilities by the University.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Rubia): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) Of the Africans employed at the University of Nairobi on non-teaching duties, 123 are provided with housing facilities and 1,235 are not. Those who are not housed get housing allowance, or a consolidated salary which includes housing allowance element.

(b) Of non-African employees of the University of Nairobi on non-teaching duties, 26 are provided with housing facilities by the University and 90 are not. These unhoused employees receive housing allowance.

Twenty married women employees of the University are provided with housing facilities.

Question No. 148 (1469)

CONSTRUCTION OF KAPSABET/ELDORET ROAD

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): We come back now to Mr. arap Saina's question. Not here?

QUESTIONS BY PRIVATE NOTICE

ARMED ROBBERY GANGSTERS

Mr. Kivuitu: Mr. Speaker, Sir, on behalf of Mr. Mulwa, I beg to ask the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) How many of the gangsters terrorizing the country through armed robbery have been apprehended and jailed, particularly the planners of these crimes?
- (b) How many guns have so far been recovered by the police from these gangsters and where were these guns obtained from originally?

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Matano): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. (a) During 1970 and up to 28th February, 1971 a total of 33 persons were convicted for armed robbery in Nairobi. Of these it is impossible to give a breakdown of the planners and others. Furthermore, very severe sentences of imprisonment have been imposed on the gangsters who have been convicted of these robberies in Nairobi.

(b) So far 7 firearms have been recovered during this period. It is not in the interest of the country to reveal to the House where these guns were obtained from originally.

The hon. Member can be assured that the police continue to do everything within their power to prevent and check these crimes. A very close liaison is being maintained with very many banks and other bodies who have custody of large amounts of cash. It should be appreciated that it is not in the public interest to disclose fully the measures being taken to combat these crimes.

Mr. Kivuitu: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, could he tell this House whether, in view of the nature and extent of the commission of these crimes, any inquiries have been carried out on a national level to find out and establish whether these have any national or particular planning, or are the investigations only carried out with respect to a particular crime with regard to getting a conviction in regard to that particular crime?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if the hon. Member is thinking of a public inquiry the answer is, "No, there is no public inquiry." However, if he means investigation by the Police Department the answer is, "Yes, the Police Department is considering the matter. They have made enough inquiries and we know what is going on. We are following it up."

Mr. Munyasia: Mr. Speaker, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply that 33 persons are convicted, could we know who are these 33? From which tribes do these 33 come? Are they from anywhere or do they come from one particular tribe?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the answer is, "These people were criminals and criminals have no respect for tribes."

Mr. Speaker, Sir, in each tribe there are criminals and we are after them.

Mr. ole Marima: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Assistant Minister agree with me that by not telling us the original source of these firearms we are actually encouraging these thieves to continue bringing these firearms and we will never be watchful about them?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would like the House to believe in what I said. If I come here to disclose exactly how these people get these arms, then we may be in a position to educate others who will do exactly the same. Therefore, the best thing for us is not to disclose this but rather try to follow it up and try to make sure that these things do not happen again.

Mr. Nthenge: Mr. Speaker, can we know from the Assistant Minister whether these robberies are not an activity of a special brain which is working behind them? Is there not one person or a group of intellectuals behind them, planning for all of them?

Mr. Matano: Sir, well, some of the raids that took place, particularly in Nairobi, were very well planned. There is no question about that. This shows that the people behind it were intelligent people, they were not fools.

However, Sir, it will be wrong to assume that there is a particular pattern in all this planning. There is no particular pattern and, therefore, we do not think there is any good organization behind these raids.

Mr. Araru: Mr. Speaker, arising from the Assistant Minister's reply when he said he could not reveal where the guns had come from, is it true that for the robbery which took place in the Bank of Baroda last month, the robbers used machine guns? Where did these machine guns come from? Did they buy them from somebody and return them after the robbery?

Mr. Matano: The Press reports say there were machine guns, and, therefore, we have no reason to disbelieve that there were machine guns. Yes, there were machine guns.

As to where they come from, I am sorry, Sir, I cannot say.

Mr. Miguru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in view of the fact that robbery and violence in this country has become a very big problem to the public of Kenya, would the Minister for Home Affairs consider picking one by one these planners and the people concerned and send them to detention camps because leaving them about would be a serious danger to the people of this country? Would you mind detaining them?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are not detaining them, we are imprisoning them. In fact, we are imprisoning them and caning them. This is more serious than just detaining them. We are more severe in our action and I think the action is satisfactory. We do not like this type of thing to carry on and as I said earlier we are trying every way possible to try to curb this. Very heavy sentences are imposed on these people and we feel we are taking enough steps to create a deterrent.

ASSISTANCE TO ORPHANS IN EAST POKOT

Mr. Cheptai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Vice-President and Minister for Home Affairs the following question by Private Notice—

- (a) when will the Government help the orphans whose parents were killed by armed Ng'oroko in East Pokot;
- (b) could the Minister state the number of people who were rendered helpless as a result of their property being taken away by the Ng'oroko.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Matano): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. I have not been unable to determine the incident to which the hon. Member is referring to as he has not given any details as to the time and exact place and type of incident. If the hon. Member would be good enough to give me some information, I should then be in a position to give him a more appropriate answer.

Mr. Cheptai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Assistant Minister wants more details in regard to my question. I will tell him now that early in 1967 the Ng'oroko kept arms in the country, they were killing the Pokot up to 1969. There were many, many orphans left in the country because their parents were killed. The old people were left uncared for because their sons who were looking after them were killed by the Ng'oroko. This is known in the Republic.

Again, Sir, we as a nomadic tribe—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Order! You have already made your point. That is sufficient.

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, just to inform the House exactly what Ng'oroko are, the Ng'oroko are just ordinary gangsters who are, actually cattle raiders. This is something which has been going on from time immemorial. As regards the hon. Member's question, as to how many orphans there are who are victims of Ng'oroko, Mr. Speaker, it is very hard for me to give the exact figure. It would have helped very much if he had asked exactly which period or in which area this happens because this is widely spread over a large area and it is very hard to pin down and say exactly that there are so many people who are victims of Ng'oroko. These are cattle raiders who have been doing it since time immemorial. We hope they will stop doing this soon with the help of the hon. Member when he goes back and tries to educate them.

Mr. Cheptai: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think it is quite clear that East Pokot is a vast area, as indicated in the question. I want to know the steps Government intends to take to see that these orphans are helped in getting food. Where will they get their education from because they do not have parents to educate them. Who will guarantee that they are not left behind educationally?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I believe that the answer is, "no" as regards offering food to the orphans who are the victims of Ng'oroko; but the answer to the whole question is a matter of education. These people who keep on raiding other people's cattle, need to be educated, and I have always been saying this here; it has been repeated so many times that that is the only solution.

Mr. Lentaya: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I think the Assistant Minister is trying to confuse the House by saying that the solution is to educate these people. How can we, Mr. Speaker, educate people who are living in the bush? How can we educate the Ng'oroko who are living in the bush when we do not even know where they are? The only time we see them is the time they come out to kill people

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, by saying "educating them" I do not mean we should have the Ng'oroko in a classroom in front of someone with a piece of chalk trying to educate them; what I mean is that the hon. Members of Parliament from that area should keep on preaching good neighbourhood, how to start living together and about the badness of crimes, such as stealing. We know that other people have done it, for example along the border of Masai and Wakamba where hon. Members representing those places have tried hard to educate their people. As a result these raids are not there now. If other people can do it, I do not see the reason why the hon. Members from Pokot cannot do the same to their people by telling them that education is needed.

Mr. Kadir: Mr. Speaker, Sir, will the Assistant Minister tell the House why he does not know how many innocent people from Pokot have been victimized? Why does he not know how many innocent Kenyans have been killed? Instead of asking the hon. Member for the area how many people have been victimized and how many people have been left behind, why does he not try to find out how many people have been killed and how many people deserve help? Why does he not tell us that?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not know because the information is not available.

Mr. Lotodo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if the Member for Pokot East, that is in Baringo District, the hon. Cheptai brings a list of the names of these orphans, is the Assistant Minister prepared to do something for them?

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, that is a different question altogether; but when the case comes up, of course, it will be considered on its own merits.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): No. Mr. Matano, it is not. It is the first part of the question.

Mr. Matano: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the first part of this question talks about the orphans who are left as victims of Ng'oroko raids. The question is whether the Government is prepared to help in feeding them or something of that kind. If that is the case, then I feel it is a different question, and at the moment I cannot answer that. However, as soon as we get this list and we know the circumstances about how this happened, of course this will be considered on its own merit. The Government, of course, will find a way of solving the problem.

SUSPENSION OF ROAD CONSTRUCTION AT NANDI HILLS

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Works the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Is the Minister aware that with a view to collecting substantial compensation Nandi Tea Estates at Nandi Hills have conspired with Daraja Mbili-Kapsabet Road contractors to have the road now being constructed avoid the originally proposed route through (Nandi Hills) Township and instead go through Taito Primary School—the best school in the area catering for more than 300 children—without having cared to make any alternative provisions for the children concerned?
- (b) Will the Minister order the immediate suspension of the work in question pending satisfactory arrangements to realign the new road to avoid the school by at least 400 metres or to arrange for sufficient compensation to put up an alternative school of similar standards within the Nandi Township boundaries?

The Minister for Works (Mr. Nyamweya): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. First of all, Sir, I would like to say that it is not true that there was conspiracy between the road contractor and the Tea Estates Authority to collect substantial compensation from the Government. I would like to point out that the choice of road realignment rests with the Ministry of Works, not with the contractor or the Consulting Engineers who may be commissioned. In this instance the realignment was chosen by a firm of consulting engineers working on behalf of the Ministry of Works, that is the Kenya Government. The realignment was discussed and approved by my Ministry as being the best in 1968.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is rather too late to suspend the construction operations around the school in question. The necessary compensation has been paid; but if there is doubt as to whether compensation has been paid, this could be investigated and the matter be rectified.

I am further advised by my technical officers that it is possible to construct an underpath to enable the children and whoever needs to have access to the school to do so. If this is not acceptable, then actually the school will have to move to an alternative site.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, leaving aside the question of conspiracy about which I do not agree with Minister, what is he prepared to do now, at this particular moment, to suspend work alongside the school while all these problems he has indicated are dealt with? Is he aware that children cannot study because of the noise of road construction which is going on a few feet from the classrooms?

Mr. Nyamweya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, if we agree that both the school and the road are going to co-exist in the future, naturally some construction work will have to continue. It is a good sign, however, that the school vacation is due in the next two weeks and work could perhaps be suspended during the next two weeks and when the school goes into vacation, work should commence and possibly construct an underpath. I do not know exactly how long this will take, but if we find the acceptable compromise is to construct an underpath at the school to enable the children and other users of this road in this particular place to make use of the underpath, I suggest that these two things will have to be done during the vacation.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, in his earlier reply, the Minister said that compensation has already been paid. May I ask how much this compensation was, to whom it was paid and why some of this compensation cannot be used to put up an alternative school in the township?

Mr. Nyamweya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am glad that the hon. Member has raised this question. I am told that this Taito Primary School, as it is called, was established by East African Tea Estates Limited, who are the owners of the Nandi Tea Estates, and it was not until last year that the Ministry of Education assumed responsibility over this school. I cannot, at the moment, say exactly to whom compensation was paid. It is not the responsibility of my Ministry to pay the compensation. Naturally, we work out how much compensation needs to be paid out in any road project. Once this is done, in order to be on the safe side, the provincial administration ensures, or at least checks to know who are the right people to receive the compensation. If the hon.

[The Minister for Works]

Member for Tinderet wishes to have more information on the question as to who was given the compensation, this information is available; it is obtainable from the Provincial Administration and perhaps the District Commissioner at Kapsabet.

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Speaker, Sir, why does the Minister consider it too late to alter the state of affairs, and does he realize that the consequences are disastrous for the children concerned? Why can he not suspend that work now, instead of asking that it continues and then be suspended during the vacation?

Mr. Nyamweya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am in a rather difficult position because if the road is to pass near the school, we agreed that we shall have to construct an underpath to enable the children, and the other people, to have an access to the school through this underpath. Naturally, we cannot, then, suspend the work because, in any event, we are going to construct this underpath. We can only suspend the construction if we agree that the road is going to pass far away from the school. I have not been convinced up to this moment that the decision to suspend the construction and then have another road alignment away from the school would be the best answer to the problem. I do think that the best answer to the problem, and perhaps which would be cheaper, is to construct a school on an alternative site, which I am informed, could easily be made available. The Ministry of Education is looking into this. Otherwise, if we cannot do that, Mr. Speaker, then we will have no alternative except to spend a little more money to provide necessary secure means of access to the school.

Mr. Seroney: On a point of order, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to raise this question on a Motion for the Adjournment because of that most unsatisfactory answer.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): You do not have to say that, Mr. Seroney.

AGREEMENT ON FLUORSPAR MINING IN KERIO VALLEY

Mr. Kurgat: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Natural Resources the following Question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Will the Minister make available to the House the full text of the promotion agreement (to provide the basis of fluorspar mining in Kerio Valley) signed on Monday the 8th March 1971 between the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation, Bamburi Portland Cement Company Limited, and the Continental Ore Corporation?

- (b) Why has the participation of the local people not been incorporated into the agreement whereas they had been promised 10 per cent of the shares?

The Minister for Natural Resources (Mr. Omamo): Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to reply. It is not normal practice for this House to be provided with the full text of any agreement signed by the Government or its statutory corporations. I am happy, however, to let the House know that the full text of the promotion agreement is available. The document is with the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation and it is a 78-page document.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would, however, like, for the benefit of the hon. Kurgat, to let the House know the salient features of the Promotion Agreement. The Promotion Agreement is for the exploitation of fluorspar deposit in the Kerio Valley and was signed by the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation, on behalf of the Kenya Government, Bamburi Portland Cement Company Limited and Continental Ore Corporation.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation will have a shareholding of 51 per cent while Bamburi Portland Cement Company Limited and Continental Ore Corporation will each have 24½ per cent share holding in the company. It has also been agreed that the Continental Ore Corporation will be the managing agent, as they have the necessary experience and expertise in the exploitation and processing of this mineral. Continental Ore Corporation will also be the sales agent for the company for all the sales conducted outside East African countries. The Bamburi Portland Cement Company Limited will be responsible for handling of the mineral through the port of Mombasa. This company has a mechanized bulk handling system at Mombasa. The Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation will have the majority of directors on the board.

- (b) Mr. Speaker, Sir, it is not true that the participation of local people has not been incorporated into the agreement. In fact, the agreement stipulates as follows:—

“That the promoters shall procure that the company shall, when it shall deem it appropriate to do so, issue a prospectus offering to the public in Kenya at par, 30,000 shares of Sh. 20 each in the capital of the company”.

[The Minister for Natural Resources]

As the issued capital of the company will be £300,000, the 30,000 shares, which will be sold to the public, will comprise 10 per cent of the shares. It is not considered advisable that these shares should be sold to the local people at present as it is not yet certain, at this stage, how long it will take the company to be able to realize profits. However, when the company is in proper and full production, it will be the right time to sell 10 per cent of the shares to the local people, who will at that time expect a quick return.

Mr. Kurgat: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the agreement was signed in Nairobi here and the Minister has informed the House that the local participation is being considered. I wonder whether the Minister knows that there are some people living in the place where this fluor spar—is found—where are they going to be moved to?

Mr. Omamo: There is a procedure of moving people in case they have to be moved. These will not be the first people to be moved and I hope not the last. If compensation is to be paid, it will be a fair compensation.

Mr. Seroney: Is the Minister aware that although the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation has the lions' share it will, in fact, be impotent by virtue of the fact that the Continental Ore is made the managing agent? Could he not make a different arrangement for marketing of the product to ensure efficient exploitation of fluorite from the area?

Mr. Omamo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the question of mining, management of the production and the sale of the product has been gone into in great detail. The arrangement whereby the Continental Ore has been given the responsibility for mining and then the sale, is the best, in our opinion. They have the expertise not only to produce but also to sell all over the world at prices which are considered to be in the best interests of this country.

Mr. Boy: Arising from the Minister's reply where he said that the Continental Ore was given the agency of selling such products throughout the world, is he aware that the Continental Ore has interests outside this country? Will they not exploit this right of selling the product by selling it at a cheaper price and trying to get a good market for their own products produced in other countries?

Mr. Omamo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Government is aware of the experience and the extensive knowledge of the Continental Ore with regard to fluor spar trade in the world. The new company, however, is to be controlled by the Government which will have 51 per cent of the shares. Also, of the nine directors, the Government will have five. If at any time the Continental Ore, as the agent, is proved to have used any unscrupulous method, the Government will lay its hands on the Continental Ore because we have the full control.

Mr. Komen: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker.

In view of the fact that the local people want to participate in buying shares, and the fact that the Government are in favour of giving foreigners a certain percentage of shares in this company, could it not be in order for the Industrial and Commercial Development Corporation to hand over a few of the shares which they were allocated to the local people, or the people from the area, so that they can participate in the running of the company rather than giving the shares to the foreigners?

Mr. Omamo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, minerals belong to the Government, to the nation and to the Republic. The Republic will have 51 per cent of the shares. The local people and the public at large will be offered 30,000 shares of Sh. 20, which will bring in a total of KSh. 600,000. I think this is a fair share. Mr. Speaker, Sir, and the fact that my Ministry has made these arrangements and stipulated that the production of the marketable product overseas will contain 97.5 per cent of the concentrate, is something which is worth appreciation. The total investment will be nearly K£1 million. This undertaking is one which is new and one which we would like to encourage. I would, therefore, like to appeal to the Members to appreciate the trouble which the Ministry has taken to come to this sort of agreement because it will prove to be to the best advantage to the country.

EQUIPMENT FOR SCHOOLS IN WESTERN PROVINCE

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to ask the Minister for Education the following question by Private Notice:—

- (a) Is the Minister aware that schools in Western Province have not received their equipment for this year including very necessary equipment such as registers;
- (b) If the answer is in the affirmative, what steps is he taking to rectify the situation.

The Assistant Minister for Education (Mr. Mbai): Mr. Speaker Sir, I beg to give the following reply. I wish to inform the hon. Member for Ikolomani that primary schools in Western Province have been supplied with all the essential equipment for 1971. Class registers, however, ran out of stock before they were fully supplied. A supplementary order was placed and these have been received from suppliers. All the requirements for Kakamega were dispersed on the 3rd March 1971 and arrangements are underway to supply Busia and Bungoma districts with the requirements within the next few days.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: Arising from the Assistant Minister's reply, I would like to know whether he is aware that supplying schools with their equipment was done locally a few years ago and that it was so efficient that there was no such delay in getting school equipment like registers to the schools? Could we be told why all of a sudden the supplying of school equipment was centralized, thereby bringing all the money from the districts to Nairobi which would otherwise be spent in—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): That is a different question Mr. Lugonzo. It has nothing to do with your original question.

Mr. Gichoya.

Mr. S. Lugonzo: On a point of order—

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): I said it is a different question which does not arise from your original question.

Mr. Gichoya: Arising from what the Assistant Minister has informed this House, that the equipment was sent just a few days ago, would he agree with me that the present method of supplying equipment to schools is far more unsatisfactory than the previous one and therefore, we should go back to the original system whereby each county council was responsible for supplying the equipment to the schools around it?

Mr. Mbatia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I do not agree with that view. What happened was that we did not start supplying or despatching the requirements to schools early enough. This year, we will make sure that we will start despatching these items to various distant districts early enough so that there will be no schools lacking the necessary equipment when they start their first term.

Mr. ole Nampaso: Mr. Speaker, Sir, could the Assistant Minister tell the House whether it was only the Western Province which had a shortage of school equipment or there was another province which had the same problem?

Mr. Mbatia: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I am not aware of any other province which has the same complaints. However, I have informed the House and the hon. Questioner that we ran out of stock of some of the essential equipment when we started supplying the schools with equipment, from November, last year. Therefore, we had to put in a supplementary order to suppliers to give us what we needed in addition, and we started making arrangements, as soon as we received them, to despatch them to various schools. I have also assured him that arrangements for requirements to be sent to Busia and Bungoma districts are now underway and they will be reaching their destinations very shortly.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Next Order.

POINTS OF ORDER

METHOD OF FOLLOWING UP A MATTER UNDER INVESTIGATION BY GOVERNMENT

Mr. Migire: On a point of order, the hon. Marita raised a question in this House about two weeks ago about the arrest of the Clerk to Gusii County Council. You ruled that it could be brought up at a later stage after investigation of the matter were completed. Now, Mr. Speaker, Sir, could I know from the Chair up to what stage we should await the investigations so that we can bring the matter up in this House? Sir, up to this time nothing has been done about the matter and it is the wish of certain hon. Members of this House, particularly from Nyanza Province, that this matter should be brought up in this House. Now, my question is: up to what stage should we await the report regarding the investigations from the Government? Should it be, say, two weeks' time, three weeks' time, or one month's time that we should await the report. This, Sir, is exactly what I am interested to know.

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Mr. Marita has not complained about nothing having been done and therefore there is nothing we can do until somebody takes the initiative to point out what has or was not been done. If he feels that nothing has been done, he can come up and we can discuss the matter.

REASON FOR DELAY IN GIVING REQUIRED SUBSTANTIATION

Mr. Karungaru: Thank you very much, Mr. Speaker, Sir. You may remember, Sir, I raised the question of a substantiation last week from an hon. Member, Mr. Mulwa, but unfortunately I cannot see him in the House. Now, Sir, what would be the position about the substantiation?

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Yes, I understand he could not come. In fact, he has written to say he would not be in this afternoon. He is engaged somewhere else, but we will follow him up.

Next Order.

MOTION

EXEMPTION FROM INCOME TAX: TANA RIVER DEVELOPMENT COMPANY

THAT this House approves that the income of Tana River Development Company shall be exempt from tax in accordance with section 12 (2) of the East African Income Tax (Management) Act.

[The Speaker]

(The Minister for Finance and Economic Planning on 11th March 1971)

(Resumption of Debate interrupted on 11th March 1971)

The Speaker (Mr. Mati): Now, this is Mr. Kibaki's Motion. Mr. Kibaki moved it and it was seconded informally by Mr. Nyagah and I proposed the question; so we continue from there.

Mr. Gichoya: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, Sir. Although this appears to be a kind of procedural arrangement in this House, that a company applies here for exemption from income tax and we have to agree in order to encourage foreign investment in Kenya so that our unemployment problem could be solved in one way or the other, it appears to me that the operation of this company, plus the East African Power and Lighting Company and other companies that are operating in Kenya today, is really meant for profit-making purposes.

This being the case, Sir, the purposes which are meant to benefit the Republic, that is the common man, is not what is forthcoming because profit motives appear to be the cardinal principle guiding any private enterprise. Now, in this respect, Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are not benefiting very much from the Tana River Development Company because in an area like Embu District, where the Kindaruma Electrical Power is situated, not every town is having electricity apart from the provincial commissioner's compound, that is in the Municipality of Embu which was upgraded a few days back. Secondly, Sir, divisional headquarters do not, in Embu District, have electricity and yet electricity is coming right from there! Also, Sir, Kirinyaga District, which is just adjacent to the same area, cannot get electricity because the firm that deals with electricity, that is the Tana River Development Company and the East African Power and Lighting Company, do not consider the services to be rendered to the public; they only consider their own profit interests although we are told that we have a certain percentage of interest in it—we, as a Government.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we are trying to establish small industries in rural areas so that the common man may think of staying at home instead of coming to stay here in Nairobi. The school-leavers may, as a result of these industries, stay in the rural communities rather than come here to look for jobs. However, this, Sir, is not possible unless and until electricity is made cheaper so that small industries could be established by people with small incomes in the villages or in small towns in the rural areas. Now, unless the Minister for Power and Communications comes forward and tells us that he is not considering Nairobi as the only area that requires electricity day and night but also the districts outlying the area where the source of electricity is, then, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I would find it difficult to support him. For ages and ages, Sir, we have been developing big towns but this Tana River—

The Assistant Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Cheron): Talk about the Tana River Development Company.

Mr. Gichoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I can hear the Assistant Minister for Finance and Economic Planning asking me to talk about the Tana River Development Company, of which the Kenya Government is having very little share. He, himself, apparently does not know that if electricity is made cheap it can even go to Wajir Town where there is no electricity.

The Assistant Minister for Housing (Mr. Khalif): Wajir Town is not the point of discussion.

Mr. Gichoya: Mr. Speaker, Sir, the Member from Wajir does not know what the point under discussion is because he does not require electricity.

Hon. Members: Why? Why?

Mr. Gichoya: "Why?" It is because he is mentally retarded.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, what we would like the Government to do now is to have a declared deliberate policy of rural electrification, so as to make it cheaper for the common man in the rural areas to have electricity even in his own house if he can afford it. However, we are told that everything must be on profit basis. Now, on the profit basis we shall benefit only a few. Therefore, Sir, are we to benefit a few only or are we to work for the majority? The greater number of our population, Sir, is the poor group. The common man requires electricity just as much as a well-to-do man like Mr. Gichoya or the hon. Khalif. So, what is the effect of exemption of income tax? This means that the Kenya Government would have benefited through taxation but will not now get any profit since we are not going to tax the company. It is only the foreign company that operates the exercise that is going to benefit. I would, therefore, suggest that this company should become a Kenya wholly-owned company so that we can exempt it knowing very well that we are exempting a department of the

[Mr. Gichoya]

Kenya Government for our own good. Whatever accrues out of the company's activities comes to cater for or to serve the Republic.

So, with those few words, Mr. Speaker, Sir, I still support the Minister, but he must come forward and state clearly that sooner or later this company is going to be wholly owned by the Kenya Government.

Mr. Karungaru: Mr. Speaker, Sir, thank you very much for giving me an opportunity to contribute to this particular Motion.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, during the course of the time, the Minister who is in charge of the Motion and who in fact moved it, I noted that—among other things—he did not speak about the question of how much money, in the form of income tax, was involved so that when he is asking the House to get an exemption from that particular tax, the House may be aware of the money involved. If he does not say anything about this aspect of the Motion, we are—otherwise—being asked to give him a blank cheque so that he could go and accrue any amount of money in that concern. Why I am asking this, Mr. Speaker, Sir, is because it may not be for the interest and benefit of the entire nation for us to exempt this particular company from paying income tax. It may be to the disadvantages of the entire nation and it is only fair that the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning makes it clear rather than leaving it so vague that way and in the manner it is now because we do not understand it.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, we know pretty well that Tana River Development Company is a new company. We would like to have a self-sufficient supply of electricity from this company but we are not going to be told that we can only have a self-sufficient supply of electricity from this company by allowing the company to get away with income tax. After all, Sir, it is out of income tax that you can expect other developments to take place. Without getting money, we cannot make any progress. If then, it is for the sake of development, it is only fair that the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning should tell us an alternative of finding out where we can get the anticipated money that we used to get from that company.

Mr. Speaker, we would not like to be at loggerheads with the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning but at times we find ourselves in a very awkward position and unable to accept some of the Motions that the Minister for Finance and other Ministers move in this House. Sir, during the course of the time the Minister for Finance was moving his Motion, he did not tell the House how far the electricity has been made use of in the rural areas and how much electricity is required in the rural areas so as to have the necessary development which is in keeping with our development plans. It is common knowledge, Sir, that we cannot expect development in the rural areas unless we have sufficient electricity in the areas in question. This can never be done unless we know the amount of electricity that we can expect between now and 1974.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, all of us know that the term of our office will expire in 1974. It will indeed become difficult, Sir, for us to go and say, "We have been able to establish this and that" without going into the details of what we have done, what we have not done and what we expect to do.

Sir, there is no one today—unless he is pretending—who does not understand that Nairobi, Mombasa, Nakuru and other urban areas, if not cosmopolitan areas, are developed because facilities such as electricity do exist. If we want to do away with this question of the influx of people from rural areas to urban areas, surely we cannot do it otherwise other than by trying to make rural areas attractive. It is only out of this, Sir, that we can avoid coming across the unemployment situation being concentrated in the urban areas.

Sir, I know the Minister is an economist, but he should at the same time understand that we, who happen to be bush economists, do also understand the problems and we would like to advise him—beyond any doubt—on matters that concern our own people. It is only by this, Sir, that we can get somewhere. Mr. Speaker, Sir, I know that the Minister concerned is a Minister who, when advised, can easily and promptly act and I hope he is going to act on all those advices he is getting from the bush economists and give us a positive development.

Mr. Speaker, Sir, in regard to what amount of electricity we are getting from Uganda, for the sake of economic growth, it will be fair for the Minister concerned to tell us how soon we are going to stop the importation of this electricity. He cannot tell us about that until he has already worked it out in detail and found out how best Kenya can have a self-sufficient amount of electricity in this country. Mr. Speaker, Sir, we pretty well know that at the place where that particular Development Company is developing, the areas around it have no electricity in the houses; you cannot see any light, not even in the small towns. Are we going to believe that we are surely going to get anywhere or we are getting anywhere without having seen any signs. You know, Sir, seeing is more believable than being told or hearing. We do not want to hear; we want to see. It is only through seeing that we can believe.

[The Speaker (Mr. Mati) left the Chair]

[The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki) took the Chair]

Mr. Speaker, if the Minister can make his position clear to this House, and indeed to the whole nation—surely, no one can point a finger at the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning and say that he is not doing his best to make sure that we get proper development in this country. It so happens, Sir, that the same Minister is in charge of the Economic Planning and it will be now fair for the same Minister to come and tell this House—during the time he will be replying to this Motion—that he has a well-drawn plan for electrification throughout the country. This cannot be done unless we surely come across something very concrete and specific in the form of development. That is when the country can rest assured that, surely, the development is going to be geared, throughout the country, on the basis of how that particular Development Plan is being organized. Unfortunately, Sir, it so happens that he was not the Minister in charge of development until recently. Now that he is, we ask him to do his best to try and convince his team planning beyond any doubt on this question of electricity because it is only through knowing what amount of electricity is going to be used in places like Murang'a, Embu, Nyeri, Masaku, Kitui, Masailand and other places that we can be successful. Unless we know in advance everything regarding the time scheduled for that particular amount of electricity to be sent there, surely we cannot be certain of what the Minister concerned is doing. It is true, Sir, that the Minister is trying his level best to solve the problem but we at the same time know that he has many other problems to solve. We, however, hope that at this juncture, the Minister is not going to sit idle—I hope he does not sit idle—as regards this particular matter. One of these Fridays, he is going to tell this nation how best the electricity can be spread throughout the country.

With these few remarks, Mr. Speaker, I support the intentions of the Minister for Finance and Economic Planning.

Mr. Komen: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, for giving me this chance to join my colleagues in supporting this Motion. But before I continue, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I have a few points to make.

First of all, Mr. Deputy Speaker, the Minister himself has not convinced us, actually, for what purpose we should exempt this company from paying tax. If we accept this thing, will it not be a chance for them to ignore, or rather, are we not encouraging the Minister so that he may be bringing other Motions of this nature next time? Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, the Minister has not actually told us the reason behind this move; he has not even assured us that if we exempt this company it will be enough when the time comes to expand this power station. Will this money be enough to expand it so that no other money will be needed from somewhere else to enable them to continue?

Furthermore, he has not told us the reasons why they have decided on these things because I do not see any reason, or nobody is convinced—I am not myself—that this money will actually be of any benefit to the local man who pays the tax. If we are going to accept this, what are we going to tell the other people who actually need this exemption because they will say that there are some companies which are favoured while all companies should be treated in the same way?

The other point is, I wonder why the Minister, who is of such calibre, should come and tell us that we should exempt them yet we are not broke. I do not think the Treasury is broke so that we can exempt them and say, "Could you please save us a little money so that when we become broke, or something like that, you can help us." I think the best thing to do is to collect that money for the Treasury so that the people may get a lot of work out of this transaction. When this money goes to the Treasury, someone will do some accounts and make it circulate among our people. That is a way of creating jobs for our people. We should not leave all the money to lie in the bank for about 10 years because this means only Asians will benefit out of our money. This money will only lie in the bank for about 10 years, and then we will decide to go and remove it, not knowing that Asians have already made use of it. Mr. Deputy Speaker, I see no reason for us to exempt that company from paying tax. If the Ministry want the Tana River Development Company to expand, there are many ways of making money locally without exempting them from paying tax. We have so many places in Kenya from where we can get power. I do not think that the ordinary people, or ordinary farmers, who are the majority in Kenya, will benefit out of these things. I do not think the power which we shall get from that place is enough to serve the country as a whole. I know that after it has been established, even the few people who live around that area will not benefit. At the moment, although we have power in this town of ours, you still find people in Makadara buying charcoal, hurricane lamps and such things. Why can we not decide that every house in this country should be provided with electricity so that we may make our people's lives comfortable?

Again, we have not considered that there are farmers who produce a lot in this country, and yet the Minister—I am really happy that the Minister concerned with this Ministry is also the Minister for Planning. There are farmers who need these things. You find that some have about four generators, lighting plants, and you find that they have to buy about four engines to make their work run well. We know it will cost us a very big amount of money to install these lights because the poles are very expensive. You find that the price of a pole is about Sh. 300. How can the present farmer—we talk of the rural development, yet we still do not help our rural areas. The tax is there, and all these other things are there. How can an ordinary African in the farming area afford buying poles for the installation of electricity from about 50 yards away at a price of Sh. 300 per pole to his house?

I think the Ministry should think of a way whereby we should only use Government surveyors and then employ our people to put all the posts to various houses so that the cost may be cheap. I think that is the best thing to do. We know where to buy them—at Gilgil. We can buy them much cheaper than the company itself.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I do not think I have much to say on this, but I beg to support, lightly for now, hoping that next time the Minister will not bring such nonsense here.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): On a point of order, Mr. Deputy Speaker, in view of the fact that we have heard quite a good deal on this Motion, and considering the fact that many of the Members are supporting it, being straightforward, is it not time we called upon the Mover to reply?

The Deputy Speaker (Dr. Waiyaki): I will put it to the House to decide.

(Question that the Mover be now called upon to reply, put and agreed to)

The Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Kibaki): Mr. Deputy Speaker, it is quite clear that some gentlemen who spoke were not here when the Motion was first moved because the things they have said were very fully explained when the Motion was moved.

There is only one reason—there are not many reasons, and I do not know why people are looking for many reasons—why the exemption from the income tax is to be given. It is that Government has taken over this company.

An hon. Member: Has it taken over 50 per cent of its shares?

The Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Kibaki): No. Not 50 per cent, but we are the sole owners—put it that way—of the Tana River Development Corporation. There are no other shareholders.

Therefore, because this company had been registered as any other company, under the Companies Act, Tax Law and so on, it would have to pay income tax. But now that we own it, as a Government, there would be no sense at all in taking the profits from this company and then holding it back for electricity development. We are all agreed—and I know that Members agree with us—that profit earned by the sale of electricity in the urban areas—One Member is complaining that we are selling only in urban areas, but it is profitable there. But the profits earned in that operation—in marketing electricity in the urban areas—should be ploughed back and used to help expand in areas where we cannot earn profit. This is the whole purpose of the thing, and now that we own the company there will be no point in our taking the profits in the form of tax—40 per cent of the profits because that is the level of Corporation Tax—and then handing it back to the same company. So, whereas the accounts of this company will be audited in the normal manner, the profits earned will be retained in the company for the purpose of expansion. That is the only purpose. Later on, Mr. Deputy Speaker, when this company and the East African Power and Lighting Company and the Kenya Power Company will be amalgamated into one statutory corporation for the development of electricity, we will not need a Motion for exemption like this one because it will be included in the Articles that they are exempt from tax in the normal way. This is one and the only reason why we need to do that at this particular time.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, the point made by Mr. Gichoya—he was quite wrong because he claimed that this company is owned by some foreigners whom he did not know. I think I will put him right there. He is equally claiming that electricity could be cheaper in towns. Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, we cannot have this thing both ways. If we want to expand we must be able to sell electricity in certain parts of Kenya at a price which our people can afford. They must be able to pay a reasonable economic price so that parts which cannot afford so much can be subsidized. We could not have it both ways, otherwise we would have to subsidize this company from the general revenue of the country and this would be quite wrong. So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I think that we can give him more details so that he can be quite satisfied.

Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, there is Mr. Karungaru who is worried about the importation of electricity from Uganda. It is true we still import 30 megawatts from Jinja each year. There is a long-term agreement which extends into the next century for the importation of that electricity. I do not think there is so much danger of the import as the hon. Member says. We are aiming, as much as he is, to self-sufficiency but until it comes we have to import this electricity and we cannot do anything else, Mr. Deputy Speaker.

So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, without very much more query, I beg to move.

(Question put and agreed to)

MOTION

UTILIZATION OF LOANS FOR LIVESTOCK DEVELOPMENT

Mr. Seroney: Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to move the following Motion:—

THAT noting that Kenya Government had during September 1968, signed two Agreements with the Swedish Government and the International Development Association to borrow the total of K£2,785,714 for the financing of the Livestock Development Project as indicated in the Reports No. 17 and 17A laid on the Table of this House on Tuesday, the 15th December 1970, this House requests the Government to give a detailed breakdown of how and where these loans will be utilized.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I am doing this under our Standing Orders which enable any hon. Member of this House to raise discussions on any Papers Laid in this House. The Papers in question are, namely: Report Number 17 and 17A. Hon. Members will remember that these Papers were laid on the Table on the 15th December 1970.

These Papers, Mr. Deputy Speaker, do not give us much detail. All they tell us is that certain amounts had been borrowed for financing livestock development projects. I do not know, nor do I know whether any hon. Member of this House knows, anything about this livestock development project. I would like the Minister, when replying, to define, exactly, for us this livestock development project and where it is intended to operate.

I note, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that these are very easy loans which we will not have to start repaying until many of us will be out of politics. The repayment in both cases of the agreement, with the Swedish Government and the International Development Association, starts on 1st September, 1978 and ends 1st March 2018. Now, this is very comfortable because we would not have to start worrying about the repayment very soon. I would like to refer, Mr. Deputy Speaker, all hon. Members to those words of Shakespeare about borrowing. I think Shakespeare said "Neither a borrower nor a lender be for borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry and borrowing loses friends also". Now, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is true that we cannot avoid borrowing, but since the people who are to repay this money are the tax-payers, namely, the wananchi as a whole, this House would like to be assured that this money, generously loaned by these two external bodies, will be properly spent and will not be squandered in the way that some money spent by statutory bodies is squandered.

It is very easy, with borrowed money—I can think of other cases where the Agricultural Development Corporation is involved—to incur unnecessarily high overheads so that a few people can ponda mali as they want. That is why I would like the Minister to give us a really detailed explanation. First of all he should define the project and to give a detailed breakdown of how and where these loans will be utilized. It appears, on the agreement, that they were both signed on 26th September 1968 but they were not laid on the Table of this House until after the dissolution of that particular Parliament, namely, the first Parliament of independent Kenya. Although they were signed during that Parliament they were only laid on the Table of the Second Parliament on 15th December 1970.

I do not know what has been happening since those agreements were signed, whether the project was going on or it was held-up, and whether it has already started or is intended to be started.

I hope the Minister will take the House into his confidence. All that the House is asking for is full information so that we may be assured that the money so borrowed will be well spent and that it may not either be squandered or may not remain in the bank unspent even though we will have to start to repay it in 1978.

[Mr. Seroney]

So, with these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to move.

Mr. Mwamzandi: Mr. Speaker, Sir, I beg to second this Motion. It is quite true, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that most of our statutory boards were depending entirely on loans from overseas. Here, Mr. Deputy Speaker, we should not be addicted to recommending loans, when we do not know how and where these loans will be used. It is said here that the loans are for financing livestock development, but we are worried and we would like to know if these loans will be distributed throughout the country other than recommending loans and then we find that they are only given to a few personalities.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, what we want here is to be given a detailed breakdown of where these loans will be used. We want to know here, how many people among those who keep cattle at Kwale District have been earmarked to get money out of these loans. We also want to know how many people from Kisii, will get money from these loans. We do not want to sit here only to find later that the loan had been shared by a few individuals, for example, Kariuki, Mwamzandi etc.; but we want to know and ensure that it is being used for particular reasons that Parliament found really reasonable and recommended.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, again I think we have enough cash in this Republic and we should not, therefore, addict ourselves to borrowing. However, we should borrow only when it is entirely necessary. We should avoid borrowing because whenever we borrow some other countries think that we are living entirely on loans as one of our neighbours rightly put it a few months ago: we are living entirely on loans.

We would like the Minister to give us a detailed breakdown so that we can know whether this money is going to be utilized in a proper manner.

With these few remarks, I beg to second.

(Question proposed)

Mr. Kanja: Thank you very much, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I rise to support this Motion; and in supporting this particular Motion I have only a few observations to make because I take it to be a very straightforward Motion because all that it is asking the Government is to give us a breakdown so that we can remain in no doubt whatsoever as to how this money has been spent, is being spent or is intended to be spent. It seems to me, the Mover and many other hon. Members of this House are in doubt as to how some of the money that has already been borrowed is being spent. As the Mover has ably put it, the money that we borrow has to be repaid with interest with money that we collect from the wananchi. Therefore, we have to make sure that the money is spent and put in a good cause for the benefit of those who voted us to this hon. House. Therefore, my very humble submission to the Minister or the Ministry responsible for this money is that we should be told how this money is going to benefit the country, particularly the people of Nyeri, the people of Masai, the people of Kerio, or Pokot. Therefore, I honestly request the Ministry of Agriculture or for that matter the Ministry of Finance and Economic Planning to tell us very clearly, and leave us in no doubt whatsoever, how this money has been spent—if it has been spent—and how it is going to benefit the people of this country.

With these very few words, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Housing (Mr. Khalif): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I also beg to support this Motion in my personal capacity as the Member for Wajir East.

I would like to submit, for the consideration of this hon. Parliament, that in future loans which will be borrowed by the Kenya Government should not be spent—not a single cent shall be spent—without the authority of Parliament.

Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, it is only too easy to go and sign a few documents binding the Kenya Government to repay a loan of Sh. 55,714,280. However, when prior authority of Parliament is not sought, although this money is loaned for spending, then, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think there is something wrong somewhere. I think it should be entrenched in our Standing Orders, and in the Kenya Constitution, that all the money which is borrowed by the Kenya Government shall not be spent without prior authority of Parliament. It is not enough to lay a paper or a report on the table. I note that in laying a paper all that a Minister does is just to place it on the Table and then sit down, although there could be great implications: the future leaders of this country will be expected to honour the obligations. Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, any agreement which the Kenya Government enters into any time will have to be honoured in future. Therefore, in this connexion I think it is only fair that the Government should come out—I do not think there is anything ulterior about this Motion—and say very clearly how it intends to spend this money, and if it has spent all the money or some of it how it has spent it.

On the question of livestock, I would like to say that I come from an area where we do not have shambas and where the only source of income is livestock. People in the North-Eastern Province are predominantly livestock owners. If all this money has been spent, I will be surprised and perturbed because nothing—not even a pound of this money in terms of developing livestock—was spent in the North-Eastern Province or in Wajir District for that matter. It is only fair that the Government should let the House know how it intends to spend this money because even some of us who are in the Government do not know how this money is intended to be spent. So, if we who are in the Government have not been told how this money is going to be spent, or if the Minister did not have the courtesy to inform us—we, who are in the Government—how this money is going to be spent, it makes me agree with the hon. Member that something must have been wrong somewhere.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife (Mr. J. M. Kariuki): Mr. Deputy Speaker, Sir, I think there is nobody in the Government who would disagree with the question of the papers being laid on the Table so that we may know how the money will be spent when it comes to the Republic. This is exactly what we, who are in the Government and the public, would like to see. Any money coming to this country for a particular project should be used in the right way and in almost every corner of our Republic.

The other day, Sir, when I was speaking in this House I said that we should, in fact, as a Government, whenever we want to spend money for development, try to look for our own resources in the Republic and see whether we can raise sufficient money so that we can meet expenses of our own local projects as well as our own demands. I would like to say that there were some remarks which were made and which were given very wide publicity by a certain newspaper in the Republic implying that when the Minister was replying he said that I was aiming at telling the Government to grab public money. I have checked this with the Minister and there was not a single place where the Minister ever used the word “grabbing” when he was making a statement. Sir, what I was referring to is what the Governor of the Central Bank referred to in his article, “African Development” which I would like to lay on the Table for the information of the hon. Members. When I spoke of £24 million lying idle in this Republic I was referring to this. Sir, I have checked this and, in fact, in one of his quotations he says, “... bank lending picked up but had since declined by something like 6 per cent, leaving the Commercial Bank with more than £30 million in their hands earning a zero return.”

Sir, this is all I was referring to, and to imply that what I was trying to say is to ask the Government to grab some money and give it to the poor African farmers, is not true. I hope that whenever we want to spend some money for a development project like this one, which is only £2 million, we can go back to our own resources and see whether we can utilize a bit of money from here.

This paper goes as far as explaining to the nation that the amount of money which has been lent to the farmers, the African farmers in this Republic, is not more than 10 per cent. In other words, we are not allowing our people in the rural areas to get sufficient money for their own farming industry. If only 10 per cent of all lending in the Republic amounts to £140 million, is given to the farmers, then I think this is very serious indeed. Sir, in this way we are not giving our people a chance to develop.

That is why I feel, Mr. Deputy Speaker, that whenever we have a very big loan from any Government, this should be made quite clear to the Members. It should also be analysed how that money is going to be spent so that we can see what project is going to benefit from such amount of money. In future, when we get some more money from other boards, other bodies, then we will know how that money will be spent in other areas of the Republic instead of concentrating all the money in one particular area.

What the hon. Member is asking here is quite all right and I do not think we in the Government should argue with him over this. I do not think he is asking for unnecessary things. What he is asking the Government to do, is that a breakdown should be given in order to avoid some feeling that this amount of money, maybe, has been spent in a particular area where perhaps the farmers in that area who are going to benefit are people only of one race or one community, and it does not help many of the Africans in the rural areas. Sir, there is a tendency that any time when a loan is borrowed from a foreign Government, the people who benefit from this are the same people who have given the loan. On the one hand they bring it and on the other they get something. So I feel what the hon. Member is asking for is absolutely important, and possibly, necessary.

So, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I support this Motion and hope that the Government will also support it because it is not asking for something unnecessary.

At the same time I would like to repeat what I said the other day: before we move for more and more loans from outside we should try to find out what is in our own resources so that we can utilize that money. I never at any one time said or suggested that we should not go to the foreign governments to ask for money. However, Sir, we should always try to utilize what we have in the country, locally, before we borrow money from abroad.

[The Assistant Minister for Tourism and Wildlife]

The idea given by a certain newspaper that there has been a confrontation between myself and the Minister for Finance, is complete nonsense because there was nothing of the sort. There was not a single place where the Minister ever referred to my speech as "rubbish" as stated by a newspaper. What I was actually doing, Sir, was to refer to exactly what the Governor of the Central Bank told us. We, as Ministers, are interested to know what is happening in the money world of our own Republic. Many of us would like to know what is the circulation of our own currency so that we can improve the financing of our own people by giving them what we feel is right for them to have and to develop.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to support.

(The Hon. J. M. Kariuki laid the magazine on the Table)

Mr. Owala-Orwa: Mr. Deputy Speaker: I would like to support the Motion not for the sake of supporting it but because I am personally interested. Now, I am interested because, as hon. Khalif said, my area is a semi-pastoral area. In 1961 South Nyanza provided one-eighth of the cattle of the whole of the Republic. One-eighth! We from South Nyanza provide the greatest part of West Kenya with cattle for meat consumption. Also, Sir, South Nyanza is the greatest ghee producer in Kenya.

So we are thoroughly concerned about the prices of our cattle and how they are taken, without food to Lumbwa Station, loaded on the train, and taken to the Kenya Meat Commission where they feed them for two months. When these cattle are very fat, then they slaughter them and get a lot of money. All this to our disadvantage, Sir.

Therefore, we in South Nyanza have been interested in livestock development and possible establishment of an abattoir, perhaps around Macalder where there are about 10 square miles of open land. This used to be a mining area but now because the miners have left and the area is being taken over for rural development, we feel that this should be one of the major items. Therefore, Sir, we would be very interested in knowing whether part of this money will be coming to South Nyanza to develop the livestock industry.

We would like a clear statement on utilization of this money, whether the person who plans how to make use of this money has gone round to Masailand and seen the potentialities there, into South Nyanza, into North-Eastern Province and seen the potentialities, and then planned for livestock development for the whole of Kenya, or whether he has merely done this exercise by sitting in his chair, reading reports and then making plans. Therefore, a statement by the Minister is going to clear the doubts that exist in our minds, on how this money is going to be utilized. There have been rumours that part of it has been used, already, maybe for Amboseli or Tsavo area. We should be told whether this is true or not.

The Minister for Finance and Economic Planning (Mr. Kibaki): This is for livestock.

Mr. Owala-Orwa: Livestock, yes. Tsavo area was to be opened for livestock breeding, and then pipe water from Tsavo River, and so on. We would like to know whether this rumour is true and part of this money is to be used for that, or whether it is for rural development.

With these few remarks, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I beg to support.

The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs (Mr. Shikuku): Sir, as the Motion stands, we could summarize it to question form. If a question had been tabled, then the Minister concerned could give the breakdown where this money is to be spent.

Also, Sir, if you look at the Development Plan, you will get the answer. The only problem is that there are no details in the Development Plan, details which could be revealed as compared to the fact that this could be done if a question was tabled.

There is nothing that we need to hide here, we can give the people information at any time. I am sure the Minister concerned, when he comes to reply, will give this information.

The only problem in this Motion is that one would wonder whether it is worthwhile having to borrow this money. This is the question. Is it worthwhile borrowing the money? Is it worthwhile encroaching upon the freedom of the people of this country? Once you are in debt, Sir, your freedom is encroached upon, you do not have any backbone at all. Strictly speaking, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I sometimes feel quite free because I can do anything I like, I can say anything I like here because I am not in anybody's pocket. I live within my means. That is why I can say anything I like here and I can afford telling anybody anything, any time, anywhere. I do not owe anybody anything.

[The Assistant Minister, Vice-President's Office and Ministry of Home Affairs]

The same thing, Mr. Deputy Speaker, applies to a nation where, if you are in debt, the freedom of the people, or the freedom of the country is encroached upon. Sir, you must always guard your words. The foreign Press will always breathe down your neck and immediately you say anything they will come in with their editorials, letters and God alone knows what. However, if you are a good boy and say, "Yes." all the time they will say how wonderful you are. When you are not praised, as the hon. Ayah said, we should not worry what the other fellows say about you because what they say really means, "I am really all right"; but when they start telling me that I am all right I should know I am not all right. I am, therefore, proud to say that the question at issue here is: Is it worthwhile?

From the document which has been read to us by our hon. brother, where he was talking of £24 million, that is not so. It is now in black and white that it is over £30 million. Here we have roughly about £2½ million, let us call it £3 million. What is that compared to the amount we have in this country? Do we take pleasure or find prestige in borrowing? This is the question one should ask oneself. We should not take pride in borrowing, we should live within our means where possible and where we cannot afford getting something here, only then we should go to our neighbours or other people to borrow. We should not make a habit of borrowing.

Sir, borrowing is not an evil. It was here even during those days of Jesus; people borrowed at that time too. Even now they still borrow. According to African Socialism we also borrow. Sometimes you may have a bad harvest and you go to hon. Waiyaki and say, "I had a bad year, could you give me some bags of maize. When I have a good harvest I will return this." Such things are always there but we should not make a habit of it. I should not have enough and yet go to hon. Waiyaki to borrow. He will ask me, "What is wrong with you? You have enough. What do you want to borrow for?" Since borrowing is based on interest—Sir, what is killing the development of this country is the borrowing because the percentage on this money is so killing that our people do not profit from it at all. Take the Agricultural Finance Corporation loans, they kill you. The percentage of these loans is killing. You have borrowed once but you will never go back again for this. Take the Guaranteed Minimum Return, and the Minimum Financial Return where they charge you so many cents a day. By the time you harvest your crops you find that your interest has gone up so high that all the money you get from the crops will all go to the Guaranteed Minimum Return and the Minimum Financial Return. Mr. Deputy Speaker, some of us who have suffered from this sort of thing now refuse to borrow any money. We go to Jesus only to help us so that our crops can go through. Personally, Sir, I do not go in for the Guaranteed Minimum Return or the Minimum Financial Return because of the interest. I buy the seeds, plant them, pray to Jesus that there will be no hailstones. I have a good harvest and sell that to the Kenya Farmers' Association. That is the way I live, Sir. Therefore, Sir, Jesus is with me always.

The Minister for Commerce and Industry is telling me to pray to Moses. He should know from the Christian teachers he has had that Jesus is at the top, Moses was just one person to tell the people that there would be a time when Jesus would come. So who is the boss? Jesus, of course. Therefore, Mr. Deputy Speaker, I pray to Jesus, not to Moses.

Having said that I wish to appeal to our people concerned with borrowing to refrain as much as possible from doing this. We can never be self-sufficient, we can never be independent in the true sense once we lean on somebody else for our livelihood. With a little quarrel he will tell you, "Look here, Sir, I have given you so much. Next time I will not do so because your mouth is getting too big. You are getting too big for your boots." We must try and avoid this. Right from ourselves as individuals to the nation as a whole we should try and live within our means, and we should only borrow when it is absolutely necessary, not otherwise.

With these few remarks, Sir, I beg to support.

Mr. Ayah: Mr. Deputy Speaker, I have no intention of making a long speech on this because I think it is a rather straightforward question. As the Member for Butere said, I would rather have had this come as a question than a Motion.
